Statement on the Vehicular Attack on a Christmas Market in Magdeburg, Germany
December 21, 2024

The United States extends our deepest condolences to the people of Germany grieving the terrible attack at a Christmas market yesterday in Magdeburg, Germany. No community—and no family—should have to endure such a despicable and dark event, especially just days before a holiday of joy and peace. My team has been in close touch with German officials. We've made it clear that the United States stands ready to offer all available resources and assistance if needed. And while this situation remains under investigation, make no mistake: The United States will always stand with our allies against violent terror. In the coming days, we will keep all those injured or killed—and their beloved families—close in our hearts.
