construction and/or manufacture of any complete naval vessel or portion thereof, and in excess of 12 per centum of the total contract price for the construction and/or manufacture of any complete aircraft or portion thereof; by inserting in the first proviso after the words "thereof completed by the particular contractor or subcontractor within any income-taxable years, such net loss or deficiency in profit shall be allowed as a credit in determining the excess profit, if any, during the next succeeding income-taxable year, in excess of 12 per centum of the total contract price, the cost of particular parts thereof, or any portion thereof, to the United States in consequence hereof, shall be determined by the Secretary of the Navy and made available to the public. The method initially fixed upon shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for consideration in connection with the Federal income tax returns of the contracting party's net income for the taxable year for which such return is rendered, and the Secretary of the Treasury shall allow for the Federal income tax purposes, as amended by the Act of April 3, 1939, as amended, the following provisions of the Act:

§ 16.1 Definitions. As used in these regulations the term—

(b) Section 3 of the Act entitled "An Act to establish the composition of the United States Navy with respect to the cataract vessels, or any portion thereof, and for other purposes," approved March 27, 1934, 48 Stat. 505 (34 U.S.C. 496), as amended by the Act of June 25, 1934, 48 Stat. 505 (34 U.S.C. 496) and as further amended by the Act of April 3, 1939 (Public, No. 18, 76th Cong., 1st sess.; I.R.B. 1939-20, 13).

(c) To make no subdivisions of any contracts or subcontracts contained in the same article or articles for the purpose of evading the provisions of this Act, but any subdivision of any contract or contracts involving an amount in excess of $10,000 shall be subject to the provisions prescribed.

(d) That the manufacturing spaces and books of both plant, affiliates, and subcontractors shall be subject to inspection and audit by any person designated by the Secretary of the Navy, the Secretary of the Treasury, and/or by a duly authorized committee of Congress.

(e) To make no subcontract unless the subcontractor agrees to the foregoing conditions.

The report shall be in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall state the total contract price, the cost of performing the contract, the net income, and the amount of excess profits to be paid to the United States. A copy of such report shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury with the Federal income tax returns of the contractor for the taxable year or years concerned.

The method of ascertaining the amount of excess profit to be paid into the Treasury shall be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury in agreement with the Secretary of the Navy and made available to the public. The method initially fixed upon shall be so determined as to discharge the liability of the liability of the contractor and the Secretary of the Treasury, and by the provisions relating to the assessment, collection, payment, or refunding of excess profits to or by the Treasury shall be retroactive to March 27, 1934.

The contract or subcontracts referred to herein are limited to those where the award exceeds $10,000.

(b) Person includes an individual, a company, partnership, trust, estate, a joint-stock company, an association, or a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture or other unincorporated organization or group, through or by means of which any business, financial operation or venture is carried on or conducted.

(c) Contract means an agreement made by authority of the Secretary of War for the construction or manufacture of any complete aircraft or any portion thereof for the Army.

(d) Contractor means a person entering into a direct contract with the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative.

(e) Subcontract means an agreement entered into by one person with another person for the construction or manufacture of any complete aircraft or any portion thereof for the Army.

(f) Subcontractor means any person other than a contractor entering into a subcontract as the case may be.

(g) Contracting party means a contractor or subcontractor as the case may be.

(h) Contract price or total contract price means the amount or total amount to be received under a contract or subcontract as the case may be.

(i) Income-taxable year means the calendar year, the fiscal year ending during such calendar year, or the fractional part of such calendar or fiscal year, upon the basis of which the contracting party's net income is computed and for which its income tax returns are made for Federal income tax purposes.
The second step is to ascertain the cost of performing such contracts and subcontracts and to deduct such cost from the total contract price of such contracts and subcontracts as computed in the first step. See section 16.8 of these regulations.

The amount remaining after such subtraction is the amount of net profit or net loss upon the contracts and subcontracts completed within the income-taxable year.

The third step, in case there is a net profit upon such contracts and subcontracts, is to subtract from the amount of such net profit as computed in the second step the sum of—

1. An amount equal to 12 percent of the total contract prices of the contracts and subcontracts completed within the income-taxable year; and

2. The amount of any net loss sustained in a prior income-taxable year and allowable as a credit in determining the excess profit for the income-taxable year (see section 16.9 of these regulations); and

3. The amount of any deficiency in profit sustained in a prior income-taxable year and allowable as a credit in determining the excess profit for the income-taxable year (see section 16.9 of these regulations).

The amount remaining after such subtraction is the amount of excess profit for the income-taxable year.

The fourth step is to ascertain the amount of credit allowed for Federal income taxes paid or remaining to be paid upon the amount of such excess profit (see section 16.10 of these regulations) and then subtract from the amount of such excess profit the amount of credit for Federal income taxes.

The amount remaining after such subtraction is the excess profit to be paid to the United States by the contracting party for the income-taxable year by the contracting party for the income-taxable year.

§ 16.5 Manner of determining liability. The first step in the determination of the excess profit liability is to ascertain the total contract prices of all contracts and subcontracts completed by the contracting party within the income-taxable year. As to total contract prices, see section 16.7 of these regulations.

The total contract price of a particular contract or subcontract shall be the sum of (1) the direct costs, including therein expenditures for materials, direct labor and direct expenses, incurred by the contracting party in performing the contract or subcontract; and (2) the proper proportion of any indirect costs (including therein a reasonable proportion of management expenses) incident to and necessary for the performance of the contract or subcontract.

(b) Elements of cost. No definitions of the elements of cost may be stated which are of invariable application to all contractors and subcontractors. In general, the elements of cost may be defined for purposes of the Act as follows:
(1) Manufacturing cost, which is the sum of factory cost (see paragraph (c) of this section), and subcontract manufacturing cost (see paragraph (d) of this section); (2) Miscellaneous direct expenses (see paragraph (e) of this section); (3) General expenses, which are the sum of indirect engineering expenses, usually termed "engineering overhead," and expenses of distribution, servicing and administration (see paragraph (g) of this section); and (4) Guarantee expenses (see paragraph (h) of this section).

(c) Factory cost. Factory cost is the sum of the following:

(1) Direct materials. Materials, such as those purchased for stock and subsequently issued for contract operations and those acquired under subcontracts, which become a component part of the finished product or which are used directly in fabricating, converting or processing such materials or parts.

(2) Direct productive labor. Productive labor, usually termed "shop labor," which is performed on and is properly chargeable directly to the article manufactured or constructed pursuant to the contract or subcontract, but which ordinarily does not include direct engineering labor (see subparagraph (3) of this paragraph).

(3) Direct engineering labor. The compensation of professional engineers and other technicists (including reasonable advisory fees), and of draftsmen, properly chargeable directly to the cost of the contract or subcontract.

(4) Miscellaneous direct factory charges. Items which are properly chargeable directly to the factory cost of performing the contract or subcontract but which do not come within the classifications in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph, as for example, compensation of personnel which the contractor pays to another party and which are properly chargeable to the cost of performing the contract or subcontract (but see paragraph (d) of this section).

(5) Indirect factory expenses. Items, usually termed "factory overhead," which are not directly chargeable to the factory cost of performing the contract or subcontract but which are properly chargeable to the performance of the contract or subcontract and consist of the following:

(A) Labor. Amounts expended for factory labor, such as supervision and inspection, clerical labor, timekeeping, packaging, shipment, stores supply, services of tool crib attendants, and services in the factory employment bureau, which are not chargeable directly to productive labor of the contract or subcontract.

(B) Materials and supplies. The cost of materials and supplies for general use in the factory in current operations, such as shop fuel, lubricants, heat-treating, plating, cleaning and anodizing supplies, nondurable tools and gauges, stationery (such as time tickets and other forms), and boxing and wrapping materials.

(C) Factory expenses. Factory expenses of a general nature, such as those for power, heat and light (whether purchased or produced), ventilation and air-conditioning and operation and maintenance of general plant assets and facilities.

(D) Fixed charges and obsolescence. Recurring charges with respect to property used for manufacturing purposes of the contract or subcontract, such as premiums for fire and elevator insurance, property taxes, rentals and allowances for depreciation of such property, including maintenance and depreciation of reasonable stand-by equipment; and depreciation and obsolescence of special equipment and facilities necessarily acquired primarily for the performance of the contract or subcontract. In making allowances for depreciation, consideration shall be given to the number and length of shifts.

(E) Miscellaneous indirect factory expenses. Miscellaneous factory expenses not directly chargeable to the factory cost of performing the contract or subcontract, such as purchasing expenses; ordinary and necessary expenses of rearranging facilities within a department or plant; employees' welfare expenses; premiums or dues on compensation insurance; employers' payments to employees or officers; pensions and retirement payments to factory employees; factory accident compensation (as to self-insurance, see paragraph (g) of this section); but not including any amounts which are not incident to servicing, operating equipment or facilities involved in the performance of the contract or subcontract.

(d) Other manufacturing cost. Other manufacturing cost as used in paragraph (b) of this section includes items of manufacturing costs which are not properly or satisfactorily chargeable to factory costs (see paragraph (c) of this section) but which upon a complete showing of all pertinent facts are properly to be included as a cost of performing the contract or subcontract, as for instance, payments of royalties and amortization of the cost of designs purchased and patent rights over their useful life; and "deferred" or "unliquidated" experimental and development charges. For example, in case experimental and development costs have been properly deferred or capitalized and are amortized in accordance with a reasonably consistent plan, a proper portion of the current charge, determined by a ratable allocation which is reasonable in consideration of pertinent facts, may be treated as a cost of performing the contract or subcontract. In the case of general experimental and development expenses which may be charged off currently, a reasonable portion thereof may be allocated to the cost of performing the contract or subcontract. If a special experimental or development project is carried on in pursuance of a contract, or in anticipation of a contract which is later entered into, and the expense is not treated as a part of general experimental and development expenses or is not otherwise included in a contract or subcontract, there clearly appearing no reasonable prospect of an additional contract for the type of article involved, the entire cost of such project may be allowed as a part of the cost of performing the contract or subcontract.

(e) Miscellaneous direct expenses. Miscellaneous direct expenses as used in paragraph (b) of this section include:

(1) Cost of installation and construction. Cost of installation and construction includes the cost of materials, labor, and expenses necessary for the erection and installation of the work required under the contract or subcontract and after the delivery of the product or material manufactured or constructed pursuant to the contract or subcontract.

(2) Sundry direct expenses. Items of expenses which are properly chargeable directly to the cost of performing a contract or subcontract and which do not constitute guarantee expenses (see paragraph (h) of this section) or direct costs classified as factory cost or other manufacturing cost (see paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section), such as premiums on performance or other bonds required under the contract or subcontract; State sales taxes imposed on the contracting party; freight on outgoing shipments; fees paid for wind tunnel and model basin tests; demonstration and test expenses; crash insurance premiums; traveling expenses. In order for any such item to be allowed as a charge directly to the cost of performing a contract or subcontract, the amount thereof shall be kept by the contracting party of all items of a similar character, and (2) no item of a similar character which is properly a direct charge to other work shall be allowed as a part of any indirect expenses in determining the proper proportion thereof chargeable to the cost of performing the contract or subcontract. As to allowable indirect expenses, see paragraphs (e), (f), (g), and (h) of this section.

(1) Indirect engineering expenses. Indirect engineering expenses, usually termed "engineering overhead," which are treated in this section as a part of general expenses in determining the cost of performing a contract or subcontract (see paragraph (b) of this section), comprise the general engineering expenses which are incident to and necessary for the performance of the contract or subcontract, such as the following:

(1) Labor. Reasonable fees of engineers employed in a general consulting capacity, and compensation of employees for personal services to the engineering department, such as supervision, which is properly chargeable to the contract or subcontract, but which is not chargeable as direct engineering labor to the paragraph (e) (3) of this section).

(2) Material. Supplies for the engineering department, such as paper and ink for drafting and similar supplies.

(3) Miscellaneous expenses. Expenses of the engineering department, such as (A) maintenance and repair of engineering equipment; (B) services purchased outside of the engineering department for blue printing, drawing, computing, and like purposes.

(g) Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration. Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration, which are treated in this section as a part of general expenses in determining the cost of performing a contract or subcontract (see paragraph (b) of this section), comprehend the expenses incident to and necessary for the performance of the contract or subcontract, which are not included as a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract.

(2) Bidding and general selling expenses. Bidding and general selling expenses which by reference to all the pertinent facts and circumstances reasonably constitute a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract and which are incident to delivering or installing articles and are due to ordinary adjustments or minor defects; but including no items which are treated as a part of direct expenses, which are considered in determining such cost, are the following: Entertainment expenses; expenses of placing and maintaining contracts subject to the Act will be allowed.

(3) General servicing expenses. Expenses which by reference to all the pertinent facts and circumstances reasonably constitute a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract and which are incident to delivering or installing articles and are due to ordinary adjustments or minor defects; but including no items which are treated as a part of direct expenses, which are considered in determining such cost, are the following: Entertainment expenses; expenses of placing and maintaining contracts subject to the Act will be allowed.

(4) Other expenses. Miscellaneous office and administrative expenses, such as depreciation of office supplies; postage; repair and depreciation of office equipment; contributions to local charitable or community organizations to the extent constituting ordinary and necessary business expenses; employees' welfare expenses; premiums and dues on compensation insurance policies to cover unemployment, old age and social security; Federal and State funds not including payments deducted from or chargeable to employees or officers; pensions and retirement payments to administrative office employees and accountants; compensation to office employees (as to self-insurance, see the following subparagraph).

Subject to the exception stated in this subparagraph, in cases where a contracting party assumes its own insurable risks (usually termed "self-insurance"), expenses for such insurance, reduced by amounts representing the acquisition of insurance, see the following subparagraph.

Expenses of distribution and general servicing of the contracting party's products and the general administration of the business, such as—

(1) Compensation for personal services of employees. The salaries of the corporate and general executive officers and the salaries and wages of administrative clerical employees and of the office services employees such as telephone operators, janitors, cleaners, watchmen and office equipment repairmen.

(2) Bidding and general selling expenses. Bidding and general selling expenses which by reference to all the pertinent facts and circumstances reasonably constitute a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract and which are incident to delivering or installing articles and are due to ordinary adjustments or minor defects; but including no items which are treated as a part of direct expenses, which are considered in determining such cost, are the following: Entertainment expenses; expenses of placing and maintaining contracts subject to the Act will be allowed.

Allocation of interest on invested capital are not allowable as costs of performing a contract or subcontract. If the amount of guarantee expenses actually incurred is greater than the amount of guarantee expenses actually charged to or included in such cost, the additional amount shall accompany the report; if the amount of guarantee expenses actually incurred is less than the amount of guarantee expenses actually charged to or included in such cost, the additional amount shall be assessed and paid in accordance with the provisions of section 16.18 of these regulations. If the amount of guarantee expenses actually charged to or included in such cost is less than the amount actually incurred, the additional amount shall be assessed and paid in accordance with the provisions of section 16.18 of these regulations. If the amount of guarantee expenses actually charged to or included in such cost is greater than the amount actually incurred, the additional amount shall be assessed and paid in accordance with the provisions of section 16.18 of these regulations.

Unreasonable compensation. The salaries and compensation for services which are treated as a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract include reasonable payments for salaries, bonuses, or other compensation for services which are attributable to employees (and not to officers) in pursuance of a regularly established incentive bonus system may be allowed.
as a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract.

The test of allowability is whether the amount so paid to an individual is for services actually rendered incident to, and necessary for, the performance of the contract or subcontract, and is reasonable. Excessive or unreasonable payments, whether in cash, property, or as compensation for services shall not be included in the cost of performing a contract or subcontract.

(1) Allocation of indirect costs. No general rule applicable to all cases may be stated for ascertaining the proper proportion of the indirect costs to be allocated to the cost of performing a particular contract or subcontract. Such proper proportion depends upon all the facts and circumstances relating to the performance of the particular contract or subcontract. Subject to a requirement that all items which have no relation to the performance of the contract or subcontract shall be eliminated from the allowable expenses, the following methods of allocation are outlined as acceptable in a majority of cases:

(1) Factory indirect expenses. The allowable indirect factory expenses (see paragraph (c) of this section) shall ordinarily be allocated or "distributed" to the cost of the contract or subcontract on the basis of the proportion which the direct productive labor (see paragraph (c) of this section) bears to the total direct productive labor of the production department or particular section thereof during the period within which the contract or subcontract is performed, except that if the indirect factory expenses are incurred in different amounts and in different proportions by the various producing departments, they shall be apportioned to such circumstances to the extent necessary to make a fair and reasonable determination of the true profit and excess profit.

(2) Engineering indirect expenses. The allowable indirect engineering expenses (see paragraph (f) of this section) shall ordinarily be allocated or "distributed" to the cost of the contract or subcontract on the basis of the proportion which the direct engineering labor (see paragraph (c) of this section) bears to the total direct engineering labor of the engineering department or particular section thereof during the period within which the contract or subcontract is performed. If the expenses of the engineering department are not sufficient in amount to require the maintenance of separate accounts, the engineering indirect costs may be included in the indirect factory expenses (see paragraph (c) of this section) and allocated or distributed to the cost of performing the contract or subcontract as a part of such expenses.

The term "deficiency in profit" as used in the Act and as applied to contracts and subcontracts coming within these regulations means the amount by which 12 percent of the total contract prices of all such contracts and subcontracts completed after April 3, 1939 and completed by a particular contracting party within the income-taxable year exceeds the net profit upon all such contracts and subcontracts.

A net loss or a deficiency in profit sustained by a contracting party for an income-taxable year is allowable as a credit in computing the contract party's excess profit on contracts and subcontracts coming within these regulations and completed during the four years succeeding the contract year. Credit for such a net loss or deficiency in profit may be claimed in the contracting party's annual report of profit filed with the collector of internal revenue (see section 16.15 of these regulations), but it shall be applied against the particular contracts involved showing total contract prices, costs of performance and pertinent facts relative thereto, together with a summarized computation of the net loss or deficiency in profit. The net loss or deficiency in profit claimed is subject to verification and adjustment. As to preservation of books and records, see section 16.13 of these regulations.

Net loss or deficiency in profit sustained on contracts and subcontracts completed within one income-taxable year may not be considered in computing net loss or deficiency in profit sustained on contracts and subcontracts completed within another income-taxable year.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example: The A Corporation, which keeps its books and makes its Federal income tax returns on a calendar year basis, entered into and completed contracts for aircraft for the Army coming within the scope of the Act as follows:

Contracts were completed within the calendar year 1939 on which the A Corporation sustained a net loss of $30,000 and a deficiency in profit of $10,000; contracts totaling $175,000 were completed in 1940 at a cost of $155,000, the A Corporation thereby realizing a net profit of $20,000 but sustaining a deficiency in profit of $10,000; contracts totaling $400,000 were completed in 1941 at a cost of $300,000, or at a net profit of $100,000. After deducting from the net profit of $100,000 for the year 1941 the amount of $49,000 (i.e., 12 percent of the total contract prices of all such contracts and subcontracts entered into after April 3, 1939 and completed by a particular contracting party within the income-taxable year) the excess profit on the contracts completed in the year 1941. The net loss of $30,000 and the deficiency in profit of $10,000 sustained in 1939 and the deficiency in profit of $1,000 sustained in 1940 may be deducted from such excess profit payable by the A Corporation for the year 1941 with respect to the contracts completed in such year.*

§ 16.10 Credit for Federal income taxes. For the purpose of computing the amount of Federal income taxes paid or remaining to be paid on the amount of such excess profit, a credit is allowable against the excess profit for the amount of Federal income taxes paid or remaining to be paid on the amount of such excess profit. The "Federal income taxes" in respect to which this credit is allowable include the income taxes imposed by Titles I and IA of the Revenue Act of 1938, and chapter 1 and subchapter A of chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code, and the excess-profits taxes imposed by section 602 of the Revenue Act of 1938 and subchapter B of chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code. This credit is allowable for these taxes only to the extent that it is affirmatively shown that they have been finally determined and paid or remain to be paid and that they were imposed upon the excess profit against which the credit is to be made. In case such a credit has been allowed and the amount of Federal income taxes imposed or excess-profits taxes determined, the credit previously allowed shall be adjusted accordingly.*

§ 16.11 Failure of contractor to require agreement by subcontractor. Every contract or subcontract coming within the scope of the Act and these regulations is required by the Act to contain, among other things, an agreement by the contracting party to make no subcontract unless the subcontractor agrees—

(a) To make a report, as described in the Act, under oath to the Secretary of War upon the completion of the subcontract;

(b) To pay into the Treasury excess profit as determined by the Treasury Department, in the manner and amounts specified in the Act;

(c) To make no subdivision of the subcontract for the same article or articles for the purpose of evading the provisions of the Act;

(d) That the manufacturing spaces and books of its own plant, affiliates, and subdivisions shall at all times be subject to inspection and audit as provided in the Act.

If a contracting party enters into a subcontract with a subcontractor who fails to make such agreement, such contracting party shall, in addition to its liability for excess profit determined on contracts or subcontracts performed by it, be liable for any excess profit determined to be due the United States on the subcontract entered into with such subcontractor. In such event, however, the excess profit to be paid to the United States in respect of the subcontract entered into with such subcontractor shall be determined separately from any contracts or subcontracts performed by the contracting party entering into the subcontract with such subcontractor.*

§ 16.12 Evasion of excess profit. Section 3 of the Act of March 27, 1934, as amended, provides that the contracting party shall agree to make no subdivisions of any contract or subcontract for the purposes of evading the provisions of the Act. If any such subdivision or subcontract is made it shall constitute a violation of the agreement provided for in the Act, and the cost of completing a contract or subcontract by a contracting party which violates such agreement shall be determined in a manner necessary clearly to reflect the true excess profit of such contracting party.*

§ 16.13 Books of account and records. It is recognized that no uniform method of accounting can be prescribed for all contracting parties subject to the provisions of the Act. Each contracting party is required by law to make a report of its true profits and excess profit. Such party must, therefore, maintain such accounting records as will enable it to do so. See section 16.8 of these regulations. Among the essentials are the following:

(1) The profit or loss upon a particular contract or subcontract shall be accounted for and fully explained in the books of account separately on each contract or subcontract.

(2) Any cost accounting methods, however standard they may be and regardless of long continued practice, shall be controlled by, and be in accord with, the objectives and purposes of the Act and of any regulations prescribed thereunder.

(3) The accounts shall clearly disclose the amount and cost of the different items of cost of performing a contract or subcontract.

In cases where it has been the custom prior to use so-called "normal" rates of overhead expense or administrative expenses, or "standard" or "normal" prices of material or labor charges, no objection will be made to the use temporarily during the period of performing the contract or subcontract of such methods in charging the contract or subcontract, if the method of accounting employed is such as clearly to reflect, in the final determination upon the books of account, the actual profit derived from the performance of the contract or subcontract and if the necessary adjusting entries are entered upon the books and they explain in full detail the revisions necessary to accord with the facts. As to the elements of cost, see section 16.8 of these regulations.

All books, records, and original evidences of costs (including, among other things, production orders, bills or schedules of materials, purchase requisitions, purchase orders, vouchers, requisitions for materials, standing expense orders, inventories, labor time cards, payrolls, cost distribution sheets) pertinent to the determination of the true profit, excess profit, deficiency in profit or net loss from the performance of a contract or subcontract shall be kept at all times available for inspection by internal-revenue officers, and shall be carefully preserved and retained so long as the contents thereof may become material in the administration of the Act. This provision is not confined to books, records, and original evidences pertaining to items which may be considered to be a part of the cost of performing a contract or subcontract. It is applicable to all books, records, and original evidences of costs of each plant, branch or department involved in the performance of a contract or subcontract or in the distribution of costs to the contract or subcontract.*

§ 16.14 Report to Secretary of War. Upon the completion of a contract or subcontract coming within the scope of the Act and these regulations, the contracting party is required to make a report, under oath, to the Secretary of War. As to the date of completion of a contract or subcontract, see section 16.4 of these regulations. Such report shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of War and shall state the total contract price, the cost of performing the contract, the net income from such contract, and the per centum such income bears to the contract price. The contracting party shall also include as a part of such report a statement showing—

(1) the manner in which the indirect costs were determined and allocated to items of cost of performing the contract or subcontract (see section 16.8 of these regulations);

(2) the name and address of every subcontractor with whom a subcontract was made, the object of such subcontract, the date when completed and the amount thereof; and

(3) the name and address of each affiliate or other organization, trade or business owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests as those who so own or control the contracting party, together with a statement showing in detail all transactions which were made with such affiliate or other organization, trade or business and are pertinent to the determination of the excess profit.

A copy of the report required to be made to the Secretary of War is required to be transmitted to the contracting party to the Secretary of the Treasury. Such copy shall not be transmitted directly to the Secretary of the Treasury but shall be filed as a part of the annual § 16.15 Annual reports for income-taxable years.—(a) General requirements. Every contractor or subcontractor performing a contract or subcontract within the contracting party’s income-taxable year ending after April 3, 1939 shall file with the collector of internal revenue for the collection district in which the contracting party is located an annual report. In case the income-taxable year of the contracting party is extended for filing such reports beyond May 15, the extensions of time for filing such reports required by this section. Application for extensions of time for filing such reports and claims in connection there with will be prescribed from time to time by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.*†

§ 16.16 Payment of excess profit liability. The excess profit liability to be paid to the United States shall be paid on or before the due date for filing the report with the collector of internal revenue. See section 16.15 of these regulations. At the option of the contracting party, the payment of the excess profit liability may be made for such period and not for a full taxable year. It is important that the contracting party render on or before the due date an annual report as nearly complete and final as it is possible for the contracting party to prepare. An extension of time granted the contracting party for filing its Federal income tax return does not serve to extend the time for filing the annual report required by this section. Authority consistent with the general regulations for granting extensions of time for filing Federal income tax returns is hereby delegated to the various collectors of internal revenue for granting extensions of time for filing the reports required by this section. Authorization for granting extensions of time for filing such reports should be addressed to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the contracting party files its Federal in-

ORDER IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA COAL CORPORATION FOR PROVISIONAL APPROVAL AS A MARKETING AGENCY IN RE: PETITION OF WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA COAL CORPORATION FOR PROVISIONAL AUTHORIZATION OF MODIFICATION OF MARKETING AGENCY CONTRACT

At a regular session of the National Bituminous Coal Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of June 1939.
It appearing that the above named petitioner, Western Pennsylvania Coal Corporation, a Pennsylvania corporation authorized to engage in business in the State of Pennsylvania, on June 26, 1939 filed its petition for provisional authorization of modification of form of marketing agency contract, which was heretofore approved by the Commission dated the 21st day of December, 1938, requesting that there be deleted from Section 2, paragraph 1 of said form of marketing agency contract the following clause: “such coal as Producer may sell from its mines or from truck loading facilities adjacent to any of Producer's mines for delivery by truck.”

so that said paragraph of said section as revised will read as follows:

“2. The Producer hereby appoints the Selling Agent as its exclusive agent for the sale of the coal produced by it in its mines, in above-mentioned area, and the Selling Agent hereby accepts the appointment of such Selling Agent, all on the terms and conditions hereinafter contained; provided, however, that the Producer hereby expressly reserves from the terms of this Agreement such coal as may be produced and used by it in the operation of its mines; such coal as it may furnish or sell to its employees for their use; such coal as is used by Producer in the production of coke; such coal as is transported by the Producer to itself, or consumption by it or is sold or delivered to a subsidiary of the Producer for consumption by such subsidiary, or is sold or delivered by the Producer to a corporation of which the Producer is a subsidiary for consumption by such corporation, or such coal as remains to be delivered on legally enforceable bona fide written contracts entered into prior to June 16, 1933 and not yet completed at the time of the taking effect of this agreement;”;

It appearing to the Commission upon due consideration of said petition that such modification and revision in the form of marketing agency contract between petitioner and its agency members will not unreasonably restrict the supply of coal in interstate commerce, will not prevent the public from receiving coal at fair and reasonable prices, and will not operate against the public interest.

Now, therefore, Pursuant to the provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission hereby orders:

That the Western Pennsylvania Coal Corporation be and hereby is granted provisional authorization to modify its form of marketing agency contract as hereinafter set forth, effective thirty (30) days from the date of this Order, unless within such time any interested party files a protest to this Order and requests that a hearing be held upon the aforesaid petition.
