Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 989—HANDLING OF RAISINS PRODUCED FROM RAISIN VARIETY GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

FINDINGS AND DETERMINATION WITH RESPECT TO DISPOSITION OF 1952 SURPLUS TONNAGE OF MUSCAT RAISINS

This action involves § 989.68 (a) of Marketing Agreement No. 109 and Order No. 89 (7 CFR, 1953 Rev., Part 989) regulating the handling of raisins produced from raisin variety grapes grown in California, effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) It is provided in said section that the Raisin Administrative Committee, the administrative agency for the operation of this program, may dispose of surplus tonnage raisins by sale, gift or otherwise, except that such disposition shall be limited to outlets which it finds will not interfere with the normal marketing of raisins or raisin variety grapes.

At an official meeting of the Raisin Administrative Committee which was held on December 9, 1954, the following findings and determination with respect to the disposition of surplus Muscat raisins of the 1952 crop were made and set forth in a resolution adopted by it:

Whereas, the Raisin Administrative Committee has given consideration to the disposition of some 2,400 sweat box tons of 1952 crop surplus Muscats held by said Committee; and

Whereas, the Committee has delayed action on disposition of such raisins until completion of the 1954 grape harvest to avoid inference that such disposition influenced the market for grapes; and

Whereas, the crushing season on 1954 crop grapes has been completed; and

Whereas, the supply of cull grapes from packing operations and vineyard strippings normally used to produce the high proof alcohol utilized by the wine industry have been reduced by the general above average quality of the 1954 grape crop; and

Whereas, the smaller crop of raisins produced in 1954 and the above average quality of such production has resulted in a reduced volume of stemmer waste, blowovers and damaged raisins available for manufacture of high proof alcohol; and

Whereas, data obtained from the Wine Institute shows an inventory of high proof alcohol on October 31, 1954 of 13,614,139 gallons compared with 14,257,610 gallons on October 31, 1953; and

Whereas, the supply of high proof alcohol manufactured from grapes and grape products is presently in short supply and high proof obtained from the said 1952 crop Muscat raisins would be quickly absorbed by local and eastern bottlers;

Now, therefore be it resolved, that the Raisin Administrative Committee finds that the disposition of the 1952 crop surplus Muscats held by the Committee to manufacturers of high proof alcohol will not interfere with the normal marketing of raisins or raisin variety grapes.

The findings and determination set forth in the above quotation are hereby approved, it being agreed that the sale of such surplus Muscat raisins of the 1952 crop to the indicated outlets will be consistent with the provisions of said marketing agreement and order and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

It is hereby further found and determined that, insofar as requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) may be applicable to this action, it is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, or postpone the effective date of this document later than the time of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. In order to maximize returns to producers it is necessary to make 1952 surplus Muscat raisins immediately available for disposition to manufacturers of high proof alcohol.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued this 7th day of January 1955.

PART 994—PECANS GROWN IN GEORGIA, ALABAMA, FLORIDA, MISSISSIPPI, AND SOUTH CAROLINA

ADMINISTRATIVE RULE TO PERMIT MAIL VOTING IN CONNECTION WITH NOMINATION ELECTIONS FOR MEMBERS OF THE PECAN ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE AND HANDLERS ADVISORY COUNCIL

Notice of proposed rule making with respect to additional procedural rules and regulations for nomination elections in connection with the Pecan Administrative Committee and the Handlers Advisory Council was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 9, 1954 (19 F. R. 8106). This action was taken pursuant to the provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 111 and Order No. 94 regulating the handling of pecans grown in Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and South Carolina (7 CFR, 1953 Rev., Part 994), effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). In said notice opportunity was afforded interested persons to submit to the Department written data, views, or arguments for consideration prior to issuance of the final administrative rule. No such documents were received.

The administrative rule is as follows:

§ 994.201 Additional procedural rules and regulations for nomination elections in connection with the Pecan Administrative Committee and the Handlers Advisory Council. In addition to the procedure in this regard which is prescribed in § 994.2 (a) (4) (i) and (b) (4) (i), the Secretary, through his authorized representative, shall at least 15 days before a nomination election for a particular district is to be held, mail to each grower of record in that district or to each handler of record in that district, as the case may be, a notice of the time, date, and place of such meeting and a ballot form for the use of such grower or handler in voting by mail in the event he elects not to attend such meeting and cast his ballot personally. Such ballot form shall provide for voting for each position to be filled separately and shall contain a blank space in which the voter may indicate his choice for that position. Mail ballots executed and signed by the voter, and received by the representative of the Secretary prior to the time at which the particular meeting is scheduled to begin, will be considered the same as ballots which are cast personally at that meeting.

It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this document effective upon its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER instead of waiting 30 days after such publication, for the reasons that: (1) It is desirable that

S. 5200, as amended, secs. 4, 9, 13, 19, 24, 38 Stat. 254, 259, 263, 270, 273, as amended, 39 Stat. 753, 754, as amended, sec. 3, 40 Stat. 232, as amended, secs. 402, 404, 42 Stat. 1479, 1480, as amended, sec. 2, 47 Stat. 56, as amended, secs. 11, 505, 48 Stat. 181, 1263, as amended; 12 U. § 201.0 Foreword; general principles.

(a) A principal function of the Federal Reserve Banks under the law is to provide credit assistance to member banks, through advances and discounts, in order to accommodate commerce, industry, and agriculture. This function is administered in the light of the basic objective which underlies all Federal Reserve credit policy, i. e., the advancement of the public interest by contributing to the greatest extent possible to economic stability and growth.

(b) The Federal Reserve System promotes this objective largely by influencing the availability and cost of credit through action affecting the volume and cost of reserves available to the member banks. Through open market operations and through changes in reserve requirements of member banks, the Federal Reserve may release or absorb reserve funds in accordance with the credit and monetary needs of the economy as a whole. An individual member bank may also obtain reserves by borrowing from its Federal Reserve Bank at a discount rate which is raised or lowered from time to time to adjust to the credit and economic situation. The effects of borrowing from the Federal Reserve Banks by individual member banks are not localized, as such borrowing adds to the supply of reserves of the banking system as a whole. Therefore, use of the borrowing facility by member banks has an important bearing on the effectiveness of System credit policy.

(c) Access to the Federal Reserve discount facilities is granted as a privilege of membership in the Federal Reserve System in the light of the following general guiding principles.

(d) Federal Reserve credit is generally extended on a short-term basis to a member bank in order to enable it to adjust its asset position when necessary because of developments such as a sudden withdrawal of deposits or seasonal requirements for credit beyond those which can reasonably be met by use of the bank's own resources. Federal Reserve credit is also available for longer periods when necessary in order to assist member banks in meeting unusual situations, such as may result from national, regional, or local difficulties or from exceptional circumstances involving only particular member banks. Under ordinary conditions, the continuous use of Federal Reserve credit by a member bank over a considerable period of time is not regarded as appropriate.

(e) In considering a request for credit accommodation, each Federal Reserve Bank gives due regard to the purpose of the credit and to its probable effects upon the maintenance of sound credit conditions, both as to the individual institution and the economy generally. It keeps informed of and takes into account the general character and amount of the loans and investments of the member bank. It considers whether the bank is borrowing principally for the purpose of obtaining a tax advantage or profiting from rate differentials and whether the bank is extending an undue amount of credit for the speculative carrying of or trading in securities, real estate, or commodities, or otherwise.

(f) Applications for Federal Reserve credit accommodation are considered by a Federal Reserve Bank in the light of its best judgment in conformity with the foregoing principles and with the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act and this part.

§ 201.1 Introduction. This part is based upon and issued pursuant to various provisions of the Federal Reserve Act. The part is applicable to the following forms of borrowing from a Federal Reserve Bank: (a) advances to member banks on their own notes secured (1) by direct obligations of the United States, by paper eligible for discount or purchase by Federal Reserve Banks, or by obligations of certain corporations owned by the United States, or (2) by other security which is satisfactory to the Federal Reserve Bank; (b) discounts for member banks of commercial, agricultural and industrial paper and bankers' acceptances; and (c) discounts for Federal Intermediate Credit banks.

§ 201.2 Advances to member banks—

(a) Advances on Government obligations. Any Federal Reserve Bank may make advances, under authority of section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act, to any of its member banks for periods not exceeding fifteen days¹ on the promissory note of such member bank secured (1) by the deposit or pledge of bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, or Treasury bills of the United States, or (2) by the deposit or pledge of debentures or other such obligations of Federal Intermediate Credit banks having maturities of not exceeding six months from the date of the advance.²

(b) Advances on eligible paper. (1) Any Federal Reserve Bank may make advances, under authority of section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act, to any of its member banks for periods not exceeding ninety days³ on the promissory note of such member bank secured by such notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or bankers' acceptances as are eligible for discount by Federal Reserve Banks under the provisions of this part or for purchase by such banks under the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act.

(2) In the event notes which evidence loans made pursuant to a commodity loan program of the Commodity Credit Corporation and which comply with the maturity requirements of paragraph (a) of § 201.3 have been deposited in a pool of notes operated by the Commodity Credit Corporation, the certificate of interest issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation which evidences the deposit of such notes may be accepted as security for an advance made to a member bank under this paragraph.

(c) Advances on other security under section 10 (b) of the Federal Reserve Act. Any Federal Reserve Bank may make advances, under authority of section 10 (b) of the Federal Reserve Act, to any of its member banks upon the latter's promissory note secured to the satisfaction of such Federal Reserve Bank regardless of whether the collateral offered as security conforms to eligibility requirements under other provisions of this part. The rate on advances made under the provisions of this paragraph shall in no event be less than one-half of 1 percent per annum higher than the highest rate applicable to discounts for member banks under the provisions of sections 13 and 13a of the Federal Reserve Act in effect at such Federal Reserve Bank. Such an advance must be evidenced by the promissory note of such member bank payable either (1) on a definite date not more than four months after the date of such advance, or (2) at the option of the holder on or before a definite date not more than four months after the date of such advance.

² Such advances may also be made on notes secured by the deposit or pledge of Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation bonds issued under the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation Act.

§ 201.3 Discount of notes, drafts and bills for member banks—(a) Commercial, agricultural and industrial paper. Any Federal Reserve Bank may discount for any of its member banks, under authority of sections 13 and 13a of the Federal Reserve Act, any note, draft, or bill of exchange which meets the following requirements:

(1) It must be a negotiable note, draft, or bill of exchange, bearing the endorsement of a member bank, which has been issued or drawn, or the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used, in producing, purchasing, carrying or marketing goods⁴ in one or more of the steps of the process of production, manufacture, or distribution, or in meeting current operating expenses of a commercial, agricultural or industrial business, or for the purpose of carrying or trading in direct obligations of the United States (i. e., bonds, notes, Treasury bills or certificates of indebtedness of the United States);

(2) It must not be a note, draft, or bill of exchange the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for permanent or fixed investments of any kind, such as land, buildings or machinery, or for any other fixed capital purpose;

(3) It must not be a note, draft, or bill of exchange the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for transactions of a purely speculative character or issued or drawn for the purpose of carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities except direct obligations of the United States (i. e., bonds, notes, Treasury bills or certificates of indebtedness of the United States); and

(4) It must have a maturity at the time of discount of not exceeding ninety days, exclusive of days of grace, except that agricultural paper as defined in this section may have a maturity of not exceeding nine months, exclusive of days of grace; but this requirement is not applicable with respect to bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand of the kind described in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand. Any Federal Reserve Bank may discount for any of its member banks, under authority of section 13 of the Federal Reserve Act negotiable bills of exchange payable at sight or on demand which (1) bear the endorsement of a member bank, (2) grow out of the domestic shipment or the exportation of nonperishable, readily marketable staples,⁵ and (3) are secured by bills of lading or other shipping documents conveying or securing title to such staples. All such bills of exchange shall be forwarded promptly for collection, and demand for payment shall be made promptly, unless the drawer instructs that they be held until arrival of such staples at their destination, in which event they must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after notice of such arrival has been received. In no event shall any such bill be held by or for the account of a Federal Reserve Bank for a period in excess of ninety days.

(c) Bankers' acceptances. Any Federal Reserve Bank may discount for any of its member banks a banker's acceptance⁷ which bears the endorsement of a member bank and (1) which grows out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods, the shipment of goods within the United States, or the storage of readily marketable staples,⁸ as such transactions are more fully described in subparagraphs

⁵ A banker's acceptance within the meaning of this part is a draft or bill of exchange, whether payable in the United States or abroad and whether payable in dollars or some other money, accepted by a bank or trust company or a firm, person, company, or corporation engaged generally in the business of granting bankers' acceptance credits.

(1), (2), and (3), respectively, of paragraph (a) of § 203.1⁹ of this subchapter or (2) which has been drawn by a bank or banker in a foreign country or dependency or insular possession of the United States for the purpose of furnishing dollar exchange as provided in § 203.2 of this subchapter: Provided, That any such acceptance shall have a maturity at the time of discount of not more than ninety days' sight, exclusive of days of grace, except that an acceptance drawn for agricultural purposes and secured at the time of acceptance by warehouse receipts or other such documents conveying or securing title covering readily marketable staples may be discounted with a maturity at the time of discount of not more than six months' sight, exclusive of days of grace:¹⁰ And provided further, That acceptances for any one customer in excess of ten percent of the capital and surplus of the accepting bank must remain actually secured throughout the life of the acceptance.¹¹

(d) Construction loans. In addition to paper of the kinds specified above, any Federal Reserve Bank may discount for any of its member banks, under authority of section 24 of the Federal Reserve Act, a negotiable note which (1) represents a loan made to finance the construction of a residential or a farm building whether or not secured by lien upon real estate, (2) is endorsed by such member bank, (3) is accompanied by a valid and binding agreement, entered into by a person¹² acceptable to the discounting Federal Reserve Bank, requiring such person to advance the full amount of the loan upon the completion of the construction of such residential or farm building, and (4) matures not more than six months from the date such loan was made and not more than ninety days

⁹ The bill itself should be drawn so as to evidence the character of the underlying transaction, but if it is not so drawn evidence of eligibility may consist of a stamp or certificate affixed by the acceptor in form satisfactory to the Federal Reserve Bank.

¹¹ In the case of the acceptances of member banks this security must consist of shipping documents, warehouse receipts, or other such documents, or some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance, such as documentary drafts, trade acceptances, terminal receipts, or trust receipts which have been issued under such circumstances, and which cover goods of such a character, as to insure at all times a continuance of an effective and lawful lien in favor of the accepting bank, other trust receipts not being considered such actual security if they permit the customer to have access to or control over the goods.

¹² Such person may be the member bank offering the note for discount or any other individual, partnership, association or corporation.

⁵ As used in this part the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares, merchandise, or agricultural products, including livestock.

from the date of such discount by such Federal Reserve Bank, exclusive of days of grace.

(e) Agricultural paper. Agricultural paper, within the meaning of this part, is a negotiable note, draft, or bill of exchange issued or drawn, or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used, for agricultural purposes, including the production of agricultural products, the marketing of agricultural products by the growers thereof, or the carrying of agricultural products by the growers thereof pending orderly marketing, and the breeding, raising, fattening, or marketing of livestock.

(f) Paper of cooperative marketing associations. Notes, drafts, bills of exchange, or acceptances issued or drawn by cooperative marketing associations composed of producers of agricultural products are deemed to have been issued or drawn for an agricultural purpose within the meaning of the foregoing definition of "agricultural paper", if the proceeds thereof have been or are to be used by such association in making advances to any members thereof for an agricultural purpose, in making payments to any members thereof on account of agricultural products delivered by such members to the association, or to meet expenditures incurred or to be incurred by the association in connection with the grading, processing, packing, preparation for market, or marketing of any agricultural product handled by such association for any of its members. In addition, any other paper of such associations which complies with the applicable requirements of this part may be discounted. Paper of cooperative marketing associations the proceeds of which have been or are to be used (1) to defray the expenses of organizing such associations, or (2) for the acquisition of warehouses, for the purchase or improvement of real estate, or for any other permanent or fixed investment of any kind, is not eligible for discount, even though such warehouses or other property is to be used exclusively in connection with the ordinary operations of the association.

(g) Factors paper. Notes, drafts, and bills of exchange of factors issued as such for the purpose of making advances exclusively to producers of staple agricultural products in their raw state are eligible for discount with maturities not in excess of ninety days, exclusive of days of grace.

(h) Collateral securing discounted paper. Any note, draft, or bill of exchange eligible for discount is not rendered ineligible because it is secured by the pledge of goods or collateral of any nature, including paper ineligible for discount.

(i) Determination of eligibility. (1) A Federal Reserve Bank shall take such steps as may be necessary to satisfy itself as to the eligibility of any paper offered for discount. Compliance of paper with the provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section may be evidenced by a statement which adequately reflects the borrower's financial worth and evidences a reasonable excess of quick assets over current liabilities, or such compliance may be evidenced in any other manner satisfactory to the Federal Reserve Bank.

(2) The requirement of this section that a note be negotiable shall not be applicable with respect to any note evidencing a loan which is made pursuant to a commodity loan program of the Commodity Credit Corporation and which is subject to a commitment to purchase by the commodity Credit Corporation or with respect to any note evidencing a loan which is in whole or in part the subject of a guarantee or commitment made pursuant to section 301 of the Defense Production Act of 1950 as amended.

(j) Limitations. (1) The aggregate of notes, drafts, and bills upon which any person, copartnership, association, or corporation is liable as maker, acceptor, endorser, drawer, or guarantor, discounted for any member bank shall at no time exceed the amount for which such person, copartnership, association, or corporation may lawfully become liable to a national bank under the terms of section 5200 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended.

(2) The law forbids a Federal Reserve Bank to discount for any State member bank notes, drafts, or bills of exchange of any one borrower who is liable for borrowed money to such State member bank in an amount greater than that which could be borrowed lawfully from such State member bank were it a national bank.

§ 201.4 General requirements as to advances and discounts—(a) Applications for advances or discounts. (1) Every application by a member bank for an advance to such bank or for the discount of paper must contain a certificate of such bank, in form to be prescribed by the Federal Reserve Bank, that the security offered for the advance or the paper offered for discount, as the case may be, has not been acquired from a nonmember bank (otherwise than in accordance with § 201.5) or, if so acquired, that the applying member bank has received permission from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System to obtain advances from the Federal Reserve Bank on security so acquired or to discount with the Federal Reserve Bank paper acquired from nonmember banks.

(2) Every such application shall also contain a notation by the member bank as to whether it has on file a statement which adequately reflects the financial worth of a party primarily liable on the paper offered as security for an advance or for discount or of the person from whom the member bank acquired such paper if such person is legally liable thereon.

(3) Every application of a State member bank for the discount of paper must contain a certificate or guaranty to the effect that the borrower is not liable and will not be permitted to become liable to such bank for borrowed money during the time his paper is under discount with the Federal Reserve Bank in an amount greater than that which could be borrowed lawfully from such State bank were it a national bank.

(b) Financial statements. In order to determine whether security offered for an advance or paper offered for discount is eligible and acceptable, any Federal Reserve Bank may require that there be filed with it statements, or certified copies thereof, which adequately reflect the financial worth (1) of one or more parties to any obligation offered as security for an advance or to any note, draft, or bill of exchange offered for discount and (2) of any corporations or firms affiliated with or subsidiary to such party or parties. A Federal Reserve Bank may in any case require such other information as it deems necessary.

(c) Other information. Each Federal Reserve Bank is required by law to keep itself informed of the general character and amount of the loans and investments of its member banks with a view to ascertaining whether undue use is being made of bank credit for the speculative carrying of or trading in securities, real estate, or commodities, or for any other purpose inconsistent with the maintenance of sound credit conditions; and, in determining whether to grant or refuse advances or discounts, the Federal Reserve Bank is required to give consideration to such information. Each Federal Reserve Bank may require such information from its member banks as it may deem necessary in order to determine whether such undue use of bank credit is being made and whether the granting of any requested credit accommodation would be consistent with the general principles applicable to extensions of credit under this part.

(d) Amount of collateral. In connection with any advance or discount under this part, a Federal Reserve Bank may require such collateral as it may deem advisable or necessary; but it is expected that the Federal Reserve Bank in determining the amount of collateral will give due regard to the public welfare and the general effects that its action may have on the position of the member bank, on its depositors, and on the community; and in general a Federal Reserve Bank should limit the amount of collateral it requires to the minimum consistent with safety.

§ 201.5 Paper acquired from nonmember banks—(a) Prohibition upon acceptance of nonmember bank paper. Except with the permission of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, no Federal Reserve Bank shall accept as security for an advance or discount any assets acquired by a member bank from, or bearing the signature or endorsement of, a nonmember bank, except assets otherwise eligible which were purchased by the offering bank on the open market or otherwise acquired in good faith and not for the purpose of obtaining credit for a nonmember bank.

(b) Applications for permission. An application for permission to use as security for advances assets acquired from nonmember banks or to discount paper acquired from nonmember banks shall be made by the member bank which desires to offer such assets as security or such paper for discount and shall state fully the facts which give rise to such application and the reasons why the applying member bank desires such permission. Such application shall be addressed to the Board of Governors of the

PART 373—LICENSING POLICIES AND RELATED SPECIAL PROVISIONS

PART 380—AMENDMENTS, EXTENSIONS, TRANSFERS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 371.23 General License GHK; shipments of certain commodities to Hong Kong is amended to read as follows:

§ 371.23 General License GHK; shipments of certain commodities to Hong Kong. A general license designated GHK is hereby established authorizing the exportation to Hong Kong of commodities listed below:

Federal Reserve System but shall be submitted by the member bank to the Federal Reserve Bank of the district, which will forward it promptly to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with its recommendation.

(c) Paper acquired from Federal Intermediate Credit banks. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System hereby grants permission to Federal Reserve Banks to make advances to member banks upon the security of paper or assets bearing the signature or endorsement of, or acquired from, Federal Intermediate Credit banks or to discount for member banks paper bearing such a signature or endorsement or so acquired, if otherwise eligible under the law and this part.

§ 201.6 Discounts for Federal Intermediate Credit Banks—(a) Kinds and maturity of paper. Any Federal Reserve Bank, under authority of section 13a of the Federal Reserve Act, may, with the permission of the Board of Governors, discount for any Federal Intermediate Credit bank (1) agricultural paper as defined in § 201.3, or (2) notes payable to such Federal Intermediate Credit bank covering loans or advances made by it pursuant to the provisions of section 202 (a) of Title II of the Federal Farm Loan Act, which are secured by notes, drafts, or bills of exchange eligible for discount by Federal Reserve Banks. Any paper discounted for a Federal Intermediate Credit bank must bear the endorsement of such bank and must have a maturity at the time of discount of not more than nine months, exclusive of days of grace.

(b) Limitations. No Federal Reserve Bank shall discount for any Federal Intermediate Credit bank any paper which bears the endorsement of any nonmember State bank or trust company which is eligible for membership in the Federal Reserve System under the terms of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act. In acting upon applications for the discount of paper for Federal Intermediate Credit banks, each Federal Reserve Bank shall give preference to the demands of its own member banks and shall have due regard to the probable future needs of its own member banks.

2. While this revision of Part 201 makes certain changes in the language of the part itself, the most important change is the revision of the foreword (general principles). The revised Foreword is designed merely to restate and clarify certain guiding principles which are observed by the Federal Reserve Banks in making advances and discounts in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Federal Reserve Act and of Part 201. The revision is not intended to further restrict or restrain access by member banks to the credit facilities of the Federal Reserve Banks.

999910	General merchandise valued at less than $25; only those commodities which are exportable in quantities greater than $25 in value under their own individual Schedule B numbers within the provisions of General License GHK.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 30, 1954.

2. Section 373.2 Confirmation of country of ultimate destination and verification of actual delivery, paragraph (a) Scope is amended in the following particulars: Subdivision (ii) Countries of subparagraph (1) General is amended to read as follows:

(ii) Countries. Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, West Germany, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Turkey, United Kingdom. (Hong Kong is also a participant in the procedure set forth in this Section, but because of certain distinguishing features of the procedure established for Hong Kong, the provisions applicable to Hong Kong are set forth in a separate section, § 373.69.)

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of February 14, 1955.

3. Section 373.2 Confirmation of country of ultimate destination and verification of actual delivery, paragraph (h) Request for exception is amended in the following particulars:

The Explanatory Statements and Interpretations following paragraph (h) is amended in the following particulars:

a. The following unnumbered paragraph is added at the end of Item 5:

In some cases, an importer in Hong Kong may obtain an Import License from his government when the commodities to be exported from the United States to Hong Kong are destined to be reexported to another country. The Import License covering such a transaction will be endorsed "For Reexport to _____ Subject to Approval of Export License. To be directed to designated Go Down on Arrival."

b. The answer in Item 10 is amended to read as follows:

A. The procedure is at present inapplicable unless the overseas territory is specifically named in § 373.2 (a) (1) (ii). If the physical movement of the shipment is direct from the U. S. to an overseas territory not listed in § 373.2 (a) (1) (ii), the Import Certificate procedure is inapplicable, and a statement of end use and destination is required from the purchaser and ultimate consignee in Country Group R destinations, in accordance with § 373.65.

c. The answer in Item 11 is amended to read as follows:

A. Yes, if the Import Certificate covers all of the commodities listed on the application. However, an Import Certificate is expected to be issued only for those commodities identified on the Positive List by the letter "A", except that an Import Certificate in the form of a duplicate copy of the Import License will be required for all Positive List commodities to be shipped to Hong Kong. U. S. exporters generally should not request an Import Certificate from the importer for other commodities, but instead should require a consignee/purchaser statement to cover these items.

d. The answer in Item 14 is amended to read as follows:

A. No. In the case of all participating countries except Hong Kong, the original of the Import Certificate must be submitted with the export license application. In the case of proposed exports to Hong Kong, the Import Certificate in the form of a duplicate copy of the Import License, endorsed "Duplicate Copy for Presentation to Appropriate Authority in Exporting Country" and signed by the Hong Kong Government official, must be submitted with the export license application. It has been agreed upon internationally (except in the case of Hong Kong) that only an original Import Certificate will be accepted by the exporting government authorities in connection with an application for export license. In every case where more than one application (Form IT- or FC-419) is submitted in connection with a single transaction Import Certificate, the procedure described and set forth in § 373.2 (c) (1) may be followed.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of February 14, 1955.

4. Section 373.65 Ultimate consignee and purchaser statements, paragraph (a) Scope is amended in the following particulars: Subdivision (iii) (a) of subparagraph (1) General is amended to read as follows:

(a) The application for license to export a proposed shipment is covered by an Import Certificate, submitted in accordance with § 373.2 (or by a Swiss Blue Import Certificate, as provided in § 373.67 or by a Hong Kong Import License, as provided in § 373.69).

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of February 14, 1955.

5. Part 373, Licensing Policies and Related Special Provisions is amended by the addition of a new § 373.69 to read as follows:

§ 373.69 Confirmation of country of ultimate destination and verification of actual delivery for Hong Kong—(a) Scope. The provisions of this section shall apply to shipments to Hong Kong of all commodities on the Positive List of Commodities (§ 399.1 of this subchapter) for which a validated export license is required, unless the shipment (or application for export license) is of the type exempted by the provisions of § 373.2 (a) (2).

Note: The ultimate consignee and purchaser statement procedure set forth in § 373.65 shall be applicable to proposed exports to Hong Kong of commodities not on the Positive List of Commodities for which a validated export license is required. However, an Import License will be acceptable in lieu of a Consignee and Purchaser Statement for proposed exports of non-Positive List commodities.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the terms "Import License" and "Landing Certificate" issued by the Government of Hong Kong to importers in Hong Kong are equivalent documents to the Import Certificate (Form IT- or FC-826) and Delivery Verification (Form IT- or FC-908) issued to U. S. importers (see § 368.1 of this subchapter).

(c) Submission of import license—(1) Single transaction import license. (i) The applicant shall attach to his license application, covering a proposed exportation described in paragraph (a) of this section, the duplicate copy of the import license, bearing the official authentication of the governmental authorities in Hong Kong, issued to the named importer or his agent and covering the commodity or commodities described in the export license application. (The Import Control Branch, Department of Commerce and Industry, located in the Fire Brigade Building, Hong Kong, is the Hong Kong governmental authority that issues both import licenses and landing certificates.)

(ii) Where the Hong Kong Import License covers commodities for which more than one export license application is submitted, the import license shall be attached to the first such application. Each subsequent application shall include the following certification:

I (we) certify that I (we) have not submitted applications, including the present application, against the Hong Kong Import License No. _____ in excess of the total quantity authorized thereon. This Import License was submitted in support of Application No. _____

(BFC Case No. or if Case No. is unknown, the Applicant's Reference No., date of submission of the application to which the Import License was attached, and Schedule B Nos. shown on that application.)

NOTE: 1. BFC Case No. Inclusion. Whenever possible, the BFC Case Number should be indicated on the certification set forth above since failure to supply the BFC Case Number may result in delay in processing the application.

2. Use of duplicate copy of import license. The duplicate copy of the Import License is the copy which the Hong Kong importer (consignee) should forward to his U. S. exporter to be submitted with the export license application.

(2) Multiple transaction import license. Exporters may submit to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the duplicate copy of the Hong Kong Import License issued by the Government of Hong Kong, covering all proposed exportations of a commodity or commodities, regardless of value, including commodities based on export orders amounting to less than $500. However, to be acceptable, the multiple transaction import license must indicate either a specific validity period or a specific quantity or value. The exporter shall submit the import license bearing the official authentication of the Hong Kong governmental authorities, together with one additional copy for each Bureau of Foreign Commerce processing code to which the import license applies and a listing of such processing codes. Each subsequent application for export license submitted against a multiple transaction import license shall bear on the face of the application one of the following certifications (depending on whether a quantity is shown on the import license) signed by the applicant:

I (we) certify that I (we) have not submitted applications including the present application against the Hong Kong Import License No. _____ in excess of the total quantity authorized thereon.

or (if no quantity is shown on the import license):

This application is supported by the Hong Kong multiple transaction Import License No. _____

(d) Submission of Hong Kong landing certificate. (1) It is the policy of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to require a verification of delivery in the form of a Hong Kong Landing Certificate on most shipments subject to the requirement of an import license. Where a verification of delivery is required, the face of the export license will bear the stamped words "Delivery Verification Required, see attached Form IT- or FC-863." Where a Form IT- or FC-863 is attached to a license forwarded by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to an agent or freight forwarder of the licensee, it shall be the responsibility of the agent to notify the licensee that a verification of delivery is required. Verification of delivery may also be required relative to an export license issued for exportations to Hong Kong even though the licensed commodities are not subject to the procedures set forth in this section.

(2) The requirement that a verification of delivery be submitted for a particular commodity is canceled automatically if subsequent to the issuance of a license, the commodity is deleted from the Positive List.

(e) Applicability of IC/DV provisions in § 373.2. The provisions of § 373.2 (a) (2), the note following § 373.2 (c), (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h), and the note and explanatory statements and interpretations following § 373.2 (h), shall be equally applicable to license applications and validated licenses for export to Hong Kong.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of February 14, 1955.

6. Section 380.2 Amendments or alterations of licenses, paragraph (f) Where to file is amended in the following particulars: A new subdivision (v) is added to subparagraph (2) Amendment requests on which field offices may take action to read as follows:

(v) Change in intermediate consignee or addition of intermediate consignee (see § 379.5 (h) (4) (i) and § 380.2 (d) (3) of this subchapter).

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of December 30, 1954.

¹⁵ The commodity description is revised without substantive change.
¹⁶ The unit of quantity is changed.
¹⁷ The commodity coverage is decreased.
¹⁸ The commodity coverage is increased.
¹⁹ Revised to conform with revisions in Schedule B, Statistical Classifications of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States, as announced in P. B. E-8, effective January 1, 1955.
²⁰ The Schedule B number is changed.
²¹ The above three entries are substituted for the seventh and eighth entries presently on the Positive List under Schedule B No. 709998. 2. Section 399.2 Appendix B—Commodity interpretations is amended by the addition of a new interpretation to read as follows:

INTERPRETATION 14: RECEIVING-TYPE TUBES (SCHEDULE B No. 707803)

The non-military versions (glass or metal) of types of receiving tubes listed below are excepted from the entry presently on the Positive List under Schedule B No. 707803. Military versions of tubes are identified by the use of the letter "W" following any standard tube designation indicated below. For example, 6J5 and 6J5GT are not on the Positive List; however, 6J5WGT is on the Positive List since the letter "W" indicates that it is a military version.

provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), notice was given in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 24, 1954 (19 F. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812-907]

E. I. DU PONT DE NEMOURS AND CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION REGARDING AMENDMENTS TO BONUS PLAN

JANUARY 6, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company ("Applicant") of Wilmington, Delaware, an affiliated person of and presumptively controlled by Christiana Securities Company ("Christiana"), a closed-end non-diversified management company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, has filed an application pursuant to Rule N-17D-1 of the general rules and regulations under the act regarding proposed amendments to Applicant's bonus plan to be adopted upon approval by the stockholders of the Applicant. Such bonus plan, as proposed to be amended, would involve or may from time to time involve participation by affiliated persons of a registered investment company (Christiana) or of a company (Applicant) controlled by such registered investment company (Christiana) in a bonus or profit-sharing plan or arrangement in which such controlled company (Applicant) is a participant, and the participation of such affiliated persons in said plan of said controlled company (Applicant) is or would be prohibited by Rule N-17D-1 unless an application regarding such plan or arrangement has been filed with the Commission and has been granted by order entered prior to the submission of such plan or arrangement to security holders for approval, or prior to the adoption thereof if not so submitted.

It appears from the application that the proposed amendments involve: (a) a change in the definition of "bonus net capital employed" as used in determining the "Bonus Fund" available for bonuses to employees in recognition of their general contribution to Applicant's success by their ability, efficiency, and loyalty; (b) a vesting in the Executive Committee of more discretion in the delegation of authority to award, and to determine the amount of, bonuses granted on the basis of "conspicuous service" rendered; (c) a change to permit payment of a "three-part" bonus awarded for "conspicuous service" within not more than 18 months from the time of the award; and (d) other changes in wording in the interest of clarity.

Rule N-17D-1 provides, among other things, that it shall be unlawful, with certain exceptions not applicable here, for any affiliated person of a registered investment company or of any company controlled by any such registered company to participate in, or effect any transaction in connection with, any bonus plan in which any such registered company or controlled company is a participant unless an application regarding such plan has been granted by the Commission.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than January 18, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.
