Title 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter I—Commodity Exchange Authority (Including Commodity Exchange Commission), Department of Agriculture

PART 18—REPORTS BY TRADERS

Maintenance of Books and Records

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by sections 4i and 8a(5) of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended (7 U.S.C. 6i and 12a(5)), § 18.05 of the regulations under said act relating to reports by traders (17 CFR 18.05) is hereby amended as follows:

In § 18.05 the phrase "such position and the transactions therein and all related transactions," is deleted and the phrase "all positions and transactions for future delivery in the commodity on all contract markets and all positions and transactions in the cash commodity, its products, and byproducts," is inserted after the phrase "all details concerning". As so amended, § 18.05 reads as follows:

§ 18.05 Maintenance of books and records.

Every trader who holds or controls a reportable position shall keep books and records showing all details concerning all positions and transactions for future delivery in the commodity on all contract markets and all positions and transactions in the cash commodity, its products, and byproducts, and shall upon request furnish to the Act Administrator any pertinent information concerning such positions and transactions.

(Sec. 4i, 49 Stat. 1496; sec. 8a, 49 Stat. 1500, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 6i, 12a; 29 F.R. 16210, as amended)

The effect of this amendment is to remove uncertainty as to the meaning of the phrase "related transactions" by clarifying the language of the regulation. The amendment does not impose any additional requirements and should be made effective as soon as possible. Therefore, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure on the amendment are unnecessary, and good cause is found for making the amendment effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The reporting and record keeping requirements contained herein have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 19th day of May 1965.

GEORGE L. MEHREN,
Assistant Secretary.

Title 20—EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS

Chapter V—Bureau of Employment Security, Department of Labor

PART 601—ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE

Withholding Payments and Certifications

Pursuant to authority contained in the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1302), the Wagner-Peyser Act (29 U.S.C. 49k), and the Federal Unemployment Tax Act in the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 3303(b)(3) and 3304(c)), I hereby revise § 601.5 of Title 20 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

The revision would provide that the Secretary shall not withhold certification for administrative grants to a State because the State unemployment compensation law no longer includes a provision required by section 303(a) of the Social Security Act without giving the State agency reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing. The revision would also change subparagraphs (3) and (5) of paragraph (a) to reflect amendments to section 303(b)(1) of the Social Security Act and section 3304(c) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act made by section 405 of Public Law 734, 81st Congress.

The provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C.

1003) which require notice of proposed rule making, opportunity for public participation, and delay in effective date are not applicable because these rules involve only matters that relate to public benefits, procedure, and policy. I do not believe that public participation or delay will serve a useful purpose here. Accordingly, this amendment shall become effective immediately.

As amended 20 CFR 601.5 reads as follows:

§ 601.5 Withholding payments and certifications.

(a) When withheld. Payment of funds to States or yearend certification of State laws, or both, are withheld when the Secretary finds, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing:

(1) That any provision required by section 303(a) of the Social Security Act is no longer included in the State unemployment compensation law; or

(2) That the State unemployment compensation law has been so changed as no longer to meet the conditions required by section 3303(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (sec. 3303(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code); or

(3) That the State unemployment compensation law has been so amended as no longer to contain the provisions specified in section 3304(a) or has failed to comply substantially with any such provision and such finding has become effective (sec. 3304(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954); or

(4) That in the administration of the State unemployment compensation law there has been a failure to comply substantially with required provisions of such law (sec. 303(b)(2) of the Social Security Act and sec. 3303(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954); or

(5) That in the administration of the State unemployment compensation law there has been a denial, in a substantial number of cases, of benefits due under such law, except that there may be no such finding until the question of entitlement has been decided by the highest judicial authority given jurisdiction under such State law (sec. 303(b)(1) of the Social Security Act); or

(6) That a State fails to make its unemployment compensation records available to the Railroad Retirement Board or fails to cooperate with Federal agencies charged with the administration of unemployment compensation laws (sec. 303(c) of the Social Security Act); or

(7) That a State no longer has a plan of operation for public employment offices complying with the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act; or

(8) That a State agency has not properly expended, in accordance with an approved plan of operation, the Federal monies paid it for administration of its public employment service.

(b) Informal discussion. Such hearings are generally not called, however, until after every reasonable effort has been made by regional and central office representatives to resolve the question involved by conference and discussion with State officials. Formal notification of the date and place of a hearing does not foreclose further negotiations with State officials.

(c) Notice of noncertification. If, at any time during the taxable year, the Secretary of Labor has reason to believe that a State whose unemployment compensation law he has previously approved may not be certified, he promptly notifies the Governor of the State to that effect (sec. 3304(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954).

(d) Notice of hearing. Notice of hearing is sent by the Secretary of Labor to the State employment security agency. The notice sets forth the purpose of the hearing, the time, date, and place at which the hearing will be held, and the rules of procedure which will be followed. (a) Training funds, appropriated for tours of active-duty-for-training in excess of fifteen (15) consecutive days with pay for selected reserve component personnel (as distinguished from other reserve components training funds), shall be used to provide sufficient annual active-duty-for-training for such personnel to acquire or maintain essential proficiency in their military occupational specialties, as follows:

§ 102.6 Basic requirements and policy.

(a) In order to insure that trained units and qualified individuals are available for active duty in time of war or national emergency, as set forth in sections 262 and 263 of Title 10, U.S. Code, and that funds appropriated annually for reserve training are adequate to meet mobilization requirements but not excessive to such need, the Secretaries of the Military Departments shall take the following actions in accordance with the principles indicated, dependent on the particular needs of the Military Department concerned:

(1) Establish criteria by which individuals subject to the mandatory participation requirement will be placed in an appropriate training category. Such criteria shall include consideration of the individual's civilian employment and the proximity of established reserve drilling units to his place of residence or employment. No individual shall be involuntarily placed in Training Categories A, B, C, or E (§ 102.3) unless there is a vacancy in an established training unit within reasonable commuting distance, as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

(2) Establish criteria for identifying all organized training units with a training category. Such criteria shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the specialized nature of the training required and the availability to the unit of proper training aids and equipment necessary to perform the assigned training mission.

(b) In establishing the criteria called for in paragraph (a) of this section, the following considerations shall govern:

(1) Training prescribed should be the minimum number of inactive duty training periods and minimum periods of annual training required to maintain the proficiency of the unit or individual.

(2) Wherever practicable, multiple inactive duty training periods will be used as substitutes for weekly paid training periods.

(c) Those members of the Ready Reserve who are not subject to mandatory training participation requirements shall be encouraged to participate to the extent necessary to maintain their mobilization potential.

Director, Correspondence and Directives Division, OASD (Administration).

Title 42—PUBLIC HEALTH

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

SUBCHAPTER D—GRANTS

PART 57—GRANTS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF HEALTH RESEARCH FACILITIES (INCLUDING MENTAL RETARDATION RESEARCH FACILITIES), TEACHING FACILITIES AND STUDENT LOANS

Subpart E—Grants for Construction of Nurse Training Facilities

Notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures and postponement of effective date have been omitted in the issuance of the following Subpart E—Grants for Construction of Nurse Training Facilities, which relates solely to grants to public or nonprofit private schools of nursing for the construction of nurse training facilities.

This subpart shall become effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

New Subpart E is added as follows:

Sec.
57.401 Definitions.
57.402 Eligibility.
57.403 Priority.
57.404 Percentage of participation; amount of the construction grant.
57.405 Nondiscrimination.
57.406 Terms and conditions.
57.407 Good cause for other use of completed facility.
57.408 Payments.
57.409 Minimum standards of construction and equipment.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Subpart E issued under sec. 215, 58 Stat. 690, as amended; 42 U.S.C. § 216. Interpret or apply secs. 801–804, 78 Stat. 908; 42 U.S.C. § 296.

§ 57.401 Definitions.

As used in this subpart:

(a) All terms shall have the same meaning as given them in the Act.

(b) "Act" means Part A of Title VIII of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by P.L. 88–581 (78 Stat. 908; 42 U.S.C. § 296).

(c) "Construction grant" means a grant of funds for the construction of training facilities as authorized by the Act.

(d) "New school" means a school of nursing which has not been in operation prior to application for a construction grant under this subpart, except that for purposes of § 57.402(c) it includes a school whose program, at the time of application, is not eligible for accreditation by reason of an insufficient period of operation.

(e) "Equipment" means those items which are necessary for the functioning of the facilities and which are considered depreciable and as having an estimated life of not less than 5 years. Not included are items of current operating expense such as glassware, chemicals and fuel.

§ 57.402 Eligibility.

In order to be eligible for a construction grant:

(a) The applicant shall meet the applicable requirements of section 802 of the Act.

(b) The project shall be located in a State.

(c) The applicant shall provide a program of nurse education which is accredited by a recognized body or bodies approved for such purpose by the Commissioner of Education, except that the program of a new school shall be deemed accredited if the Commissioner finds, after consultation with the appropriate accreditation body or bodies, that there is reasonable assurance that the program will meet the accreditation standards of such body or bodies, prior to the beginning of the academic year following the normal graduation date of the first class of such school.

§ 57.403 Priority.

The order of priority in approving applications for construction grants shall be determined on the basis of those factors specified in section 802(c) of the Act, and the following: (a) The relative availability of qualified students, (b) the relative effectiveness of the project in accomplishing the purposes of the Act at the least relative cost, (c) the relative extent to which financial support is committed by the applicant for the construction and operation of the facility, and (d) the relative ability of the applicant to make efficient and productive use of the facility constructed.

§ 57.404 Percentage of participation; amount of construction grant.

(a) Percentage of participation. The amount of the construction grant may not exceed 50 percent of the necessary cost of construction except that in the case of a project for a new school, or for major expansion of training capacity of an existing school, it may not exceed 66⅔ percent of such cost. For the purpose of these regulations a major expansion of training capacity of an existing school occurs or will occur when the Surgeon General determines, on the basis of such information or assurances as he may require, that the first-year enrollment at such a school for each of the 10 full school years after the completion of the construction will exceed the highest first-year enrollment at such school for any of the 5 full school years preceding the year in which the application is made by at least 20 percentum of such highest first-year enrollment, or by 12 students, whichever is greater; provided, however, that where the Surgeon General finds, with respect to a particular school, that such increased enrollment cannot be achieved until the second or third full school year of operation, he may determine that a major expansion of training capacity will occur during the first or second full school year if the increased enrollment will equal such amount in excess of 5 percent or 5 students, whichever is greater, as the Surgeon General may specify.

(b) Amount of Construction grant—Less than maximum. In determining the extent to which less than the maximum allowable construction grant may be made, the Surgeon General shall take into consideration the most effective use of available Federal funds to further the purposes of the Act.

(c) Acquisition of existing buildings. Where the project involves the acquisition of an existing building or buildings (including the acquisition of land in connection therewith), the necessary cost of such acquisition will be determined on the basis of such documentation submitted by the applicant as the Surgeon General may prescribe (including the reports of such real estate appraisers as the Surgeon General may designate), and other relevant factors.

§ 57.405 Nondiscrimination.

(a) Each construction grant shall be subject to the condition that the grantee shall comply with the requirements of Executive Order 11114, June 22, 1963 (28 F.R. 6485), and with the applicable rules, regulations and procedures prescribed pursuant thereto by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity (28 F.R. 9812).

(b) Attention is called to the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252; P.L. 88–352) which provides that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance (sec. 601). A regulation implementing such Title VI, applicable to grants for construction of nurse training facilities, has been issued by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare with the approval of the President (45 CFR Part 80). This regulation, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of December 4, 1964 (29 F.R. 16298–16305), is effective on January 3, 1965, the 30th day after such publication.

§ 57.406 Terms and conditions.

In addition to any other requirements imposed by law or determined by the Surgeon General to be reasonably necessary with respect to particular projects to fulfill the purpose of the grant, each construction grant shall be subject to the condition that the applicant will furnish and comply with the following assurances. The Surgeon General may at any time approve exceptions to these terms and conditions where he finds that such exceptions are not inconsistent with the Act and the purposes of the program:

(a) That applicant has a fee simple or such other estate or interest in the site, including necessary easements and rights-of-way, sufficient to assure for a period of not less than 20 years undisturbed use and possession for the purpose of the construction and operation of the facility.

(b) That the Surgeon General's approval of the final working drawings and specifications, which conform to the minimum standards of construction and equipment (§ 57.409), will be obtained before the project is advertised or placed on the market for bidding;

(c) That applicant will perform actual construction work by the lump sum (fixed price) contract method; employ adequate methods of obtaining competitive bidding prior to awarding the construction contract, either by public advertising or circularizing three or more bidders; and award the contract to the responsible bidder submitting the lowest acceptable bid;

(d) That applicant will enter into no construction contract or contracts for the project or a part thereof, the cost of which is in excess of the estimated cost approved in the application for that portion of the work covered by the plans and specifications, without the prior approval of the Surgeon General;

(e) That applicant will finance all costs in excess of the estimated costs approved in the application and submit to the Surgeon General for prior approval changes that substantially alter the scope of work, functions, utilities or safety of the facility;

(f) That applicant will construct the project, or cause it to be constructed, to final completion in accordance with the grant application and approved plans and specifications;

(g) That applicant will maintain adequate and separate accounting and fiscal records and accounts for all funds provided from any source to pay the cost of the project, and permit audit of such records and accounts at any reasonable time;

(h) That applicant will furnish progress reports and such other information as the Surgeon General may require;

(i) That applicant will provide and maintain competent and adequate architectural or engineering supervision and inspection at the construction site to insure that the completed work conforms with the approved plans and specifications;

(j) That sufficient funds will be available to meet the non-Federal share of the cost of constructing the facility;

(k) That sufficient funds will be available when construction is completed for effective use of the facility for the purposes for which it is being constructed;

(l) That the facility will be used for the purposes for which it is constructed for not less than 20 years after the completion of construction;

(m) That no portion of the facility constructed with funds under the Act will be used for sectarian instruction or as a place for religious worship for at least 20 years after the completion of construction;

(n) That in the case of an application to expand the training capacity of an existing school, the first-year enrollment at such school during the first full school year after the completion of the construction and for each of the next nine school years thereafter will exceed the highest first-year enrollment at such school for any of the 5 full years preceding the year in which the application is made by 5 percentum of such highest first-year enrollment, or by 5 students, whichever is greater, or by such higher percentage or number as specified in the approved application.

(o)(1) That any laborer or mechanic employed by any contractor or subcontractor in the performance of work on the construction of the facility will be paid wages at rates not less than those prevailing on similar construction in the locality as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 276 et seq.), and will receive compensation at a rate not less than one and one-half times his basic rate of pay for all hours worked in any work week in excess of 8 hours in any calendar day or 40 hours in the work week (40 U.S.C. 327–332); and

(2) That the following conditions and provisions will be included in all construction contracts:

(i) The provisions set forth in "Labor Standards for Public Health Service Construction Grant Programs for Hospital and Related Medical Facilities" (PHS No. 930–A–5) pertaining to the Copeland Act (Anti-Kickback) Regulations and Labor Standards (prevailing rates of pay and overtime requirements) except in the case of contracts in the amount of $2,000 or less;

(ii) The contractor shall furnish performance and payment bonds in the full amount of the contract price, and shall maintain, during the life of the contract, adequate fire, workmen's compensation, public liability and property damage insurance;

(iii) Representatives of the Public Health Service and such other persons as the Surgeon General may designate, will have access at all reasonable times to work wherever it is in preparation or progress, and the contractor shall provide proper facilities for such access and inspection.

§ 57.407 Good cause for other use of completed facility.

If, within 20 years after completion of any construction for which a construction grant has been made the facility shall cease to be used for the teaching purposes for which it was constructed, the Surgeon General, in determining whether there is good cause for releasing the applicant or other owner of the facility from the obligation so to use the facility, shall take into consideration the extent to which:

(a) The facility will be devoted by the applicant or other owner to the teaching of other health personnel;

(b) There are reasonable assurances that for the remainder of the 20-year period other facilities not previously utilized for nurse training will be so utilized and are substantially the equivalent in nature and extent for such purposes.

§ 57.408 Payments.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, payments shall be made at the request of the applicant, shall be based on the cost of the work performed, materials and equipment furnished, and services performed, as follows:

(1) The first installment when not less than 25 percent of the construction of the project has been completed;

(2) A second installment when not less than 50 percent of the construction of the project has been completed;

(3) A third installment when not less than 75 percent of the construction of the project has been completed;

(4) A fourth installment when the project is 95 percent completed; and

(5) The final payment when the project is completed and final inspection by a representative of the Public Health Service is made and the amount certified as due and payable as determined by the audit.

(b) Upon a written request and a showing of necessity by the applicant, the Surgeon General may adopt a different schedule of payments.

§ 57.409 Minimum standards of construction and equipment.

(a) Introduction. (1) The standards set forth in this subpart have been established by the Surgeon General as required by the Act. These standards constitute minimum requirements for construction and equipment and shall apply to all projects for which Federal assistance is requested under the Act. The Surgeon General may approve plans and specifications which contain deviations from the requirements prescribed, if he is satisfied that the purposes of such requirements have been fulfilled. In addition to these requirements, it is recognized that the project will have to meet the requirements of local codes and ordinances relating to construction.

MILK IN DELAWARE VALLEY MARKETING AREA

Notice of Proposed Termination of Order

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and § 1004.91 of the order regulating the handling of milk in the Delaware Valley Marketing Area, the termination of such order is being considered.

The Department has concluded that consideration should be given to immediate termination of the order in its present form on the basis that it provides an economic incentive for cooperatives to obtain Class I outlets for milk which otherwise would be disposed of for surplus use at a Class II value, by means destroying the objectives and effectiveness of the order. This economic incentive is such (as much as $2.10 to $2.77 per hundredweight, the range of difference between the Class I and Class II prices during the most recent 12 months) as to result inevitably in almost insurmountable administrative difficulties in the effective and uniform enforcement of the order in its present form and that such order therefore may no longer tend to effectuate, or may obstruct, the declared policy of the Act.

Audits of the records of various cooperative associations and proprietary handlers and other investigation have revealed widespread practices resulting in the undercutting of the established minimum order prices. Further, efforts appear to have been made to conceal the true nature of the transactions by: The maintenance of incomplete or dual records; the establishment of dummy corporations and the use of third party intermediaries; the establishment of special accounts through which payments for alleged services are made; payments in the guise of brokerage fees, all or part of which eventually accrue to the proprietary handler or persons intimately associated with such handler, and by other intricate and devious means. To the extent possible in the circumstances, all available legal procedures will be pursuant in an effort to enforce the existing order as to any past or current violations.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the proposed termination should file the same with the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, Administration Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., 20250, not later than 20 days from date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All documents filed should be in quadruplicate.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Signed at Washington, D.C., on May 19, 1965.

GEORGE L. MEHREN,
Assistant Secretary.

Table of Assignments; Order Extending Time for Filing Reply Comments

In the matter of amendment of § 73.202, Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations (Kirksville, Mo., Rensselaer, Ind., Golden Meadow, La., Xenia, Ohio, Atlantic, Iowa, Omaha and Lincoln, Nebr., Ralls and Lamesa, Tex., Skowhegan, Maine, Park Rapids, Minn., Ukiah, Calif., Cincinnati, Ohio, Tasley, Va., Hamilton, Ala., Booneville and Starkville, Miss., Savannah, Tenn., Docket No. 15935, RM-701, RM-716, RM-705, RM-717, RM-711, RM-722, RM-714, RM-726, RM-715, RM-728, RM-721, RM-729.

1. Kate F. Fite, on May 12, 1965, has requested an extension of time in which to file reply comments in Docket 15935. Mrs. Fite submits that on April 5, 1965, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making in reponse to a petition filed by her and others inviting comments on various proposals to amend the FM Table of Assignments by May 3, 1965, and reply comments by May 14, 1965. She further states that the University of Mississippi filed comments on her proposal as well as three alternative counterproposals, that these set forth a number of legal and technical arguments, and that additional time is necessary to prepare an adequate reply. Petitioner therefore requests that the time for filing reply comments in the subject proceeding, RM-721, be extended to May 28, 1965.

2. The Commission is of the view that the extension requested in this case is warranted and would serve the public interest.

3. Accordingly, it is ordered, That the time for filing reply comments in this proceeding, insofar as RM-721 only is concerned, is extended from May 14, 1965, to May 28, 1965.

4. This action is taken pursuant to authority found in sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.281(d)(8) of the Commission's rules.

Adopted: May 19, 1965.

Released: May 19, 1965.

1. On April 5, 1965, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making (FCC 65-276) in the above-entitled matter which specified that comments were to be filed on or before May 3, 1965, and reply comments on or before May 14, 1965. Greene Information Center, Inc., one of the petitioners in this matter, has requested an extension of time for the filing of reply comments to and including May 28, 1965. Greene Information Center states that a counterproposal has been filed to its proposal and that the additional time is needed to explore the possibility of a solution to the conflict.

2. The Commission is of the view that the extension requested in this case is warranted and would serve the public interest.

CENTRAL BROADCASTING CORP. AND WCRB, INC.

Memorandum Opinion and Order

In re applications of Central Broadcasting Corp., Ware, Mass., Docket No. 15419, File No. BPH-4243; WCRB, Inc., Springfield, Mass., Docket No. 15420, File No. BPH-4319; for construction permits.

1. By Memorandum Opinion and Order, FCC 65R-26, released January 26, 1965, the Review Board held in abeyance action on a joint petition for approval of agreement between the above-captioned parties, for dismissal of the application of Central Broadcasting Corporation, and for grant of the WCRB, Inc. application. Petitioners were allowed 30 days within which to file supporting information as to the value of certain nonmonetary items specified in the joint agreement, or to submit a new agreement in conformity with the requirements of section 311 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Commission's rules promulgated thereunder. In the same Opinion the Review Board indicated for the reasons stated therein, that in the event the joint petition was approved, publication of local notice pursuant to the provisions of § 1.525(b) of the rules would be required. On February 26, 1965, Central and WCRB filed a supplement containing additional information in support of their original request.

2. The subject agreement provides that, in consideration of Central's dismissal, WCRB will make partial reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred by Central in prosecuting its application in the amount of $2,250. Central includes affidavits in support of its itemization of aggregate expenses incurred to the extent of $2,757.40. In addition to such payment, the agreement provides that Central or Allen W. Roberts, the sole stockholder of Central, will have the right to purchase 15 shares (15 percent) of WCRB, Inc.'s stock from Charles River Broadcasting Co. (sole stockholder and owner of 100 shares of WCRB, Inc.) at $10 per share, the cost to Charles River. The right to one directorship, inspection of books, and various voting and other provisions would accompany such stock purchase. These include mutual rights of first refusal by either party to the joint agreement as to the sale of WCRB, Inc., stock at a price equal to a bona fide offer or, in the event the Roberts family ceases to hold majority control of Central, at the "fair market value." Roberts would also be retained by WCRB for a 1-year period as a consultant and advisor, working for not more than 10 hours per month, without pay but with mileage and similar expenses to be reimbursed.

3. In their supplement, petitioners again contend that the $150 price for the 15 percent interest in WCRB, Inc., represents the current or market value of such stock. In support thereof, petitioners have submitted a joint affidavit of Roberts and Theodore Jones, the principal officer of WCRB, Inc., which states that WCRB is not now a going concern; there is no public market in its stock; there have been no previous sales of its stock other than the original issue at $10 per share; that WCRB has no fixed assets; that instead, because of accrued expenses, the book value of the stock is considerably less than $10 per share; that it expects only to break even during the first year of operations (as indicated by the estimates of anticipated costs and revenues in its application); and that independent FM stations in similarly sized markets, according to the Commission's AM-FM Broadcast Financial Data—1963 (FCC Public Notice 58084), are generally losing money.[1] Petitioners further contend that the services which Roberts will render as a consultant to WCRB may reasonably be evaluated at $10 per hour and that the total compensation to which he would be entitled, if any were to be paid, would amount to $1,200, which in turn should reduce the net monetary value of the consideration Roberts is to receive for dismissal of the Central application by that amount. As to the directorship in WCRB, Inc., which Roberts would be allowed; the right of first refusal on sale of WCRB, Inc., stock; the right to inspection of books; and other miscellaneous agreements, petitioners contend that these are normal incidents of ownership of stock in a closely held corporation and have no monetary value.

4. As the Board views the subject agreement, it is essentially in two parts, the first relating to reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses by payment of a cash sum of money, and the second in effect, a proposed merger. Since we have no question that Roberts has reasonably and prudently expended a sum somewhat in excess of $2,250 in the preparation and prosecution of Central's application, we will allow such cash reimbursement to be made to him. Based on the information now before us, however, we cannot find that the proposed merger with its accompanying provisions,[3] (particularly that by which Roberts or Central will have an option to purchase 15 shares of WCRB stock at $10.00 per share, the cost to Charles River) does not involve a consideration in excess of the legitimate and prudent expenses incurred by Roberts in the prosecution of the application. The mere statement that WCRB has no fixed assets and its only assets of any nature are the money paid in to date, does not, as contended by petitioners, establish that at most $150 is the current or market value of such 15 shares of stock to be purchased by Roberts. It is elementary that current or market value of stock is not established by these meager facts, standing alone, and without regard to (a) WCRB's financial condition after giving effect to the issuance of the construction permit (which would establish, among other factors, the amount of pre-operating expenses or costs which under normal accounting practices are considered as a capital item, as well as the value of the leasehold rights to equipment, land, studio, buildings, etc.) and (b) offers to persons other than Roberts to purchase such a 15 percent interest.

5. In view of the foregoing, we will allow the provisions of the agreement for cash reimbursement of Roberts' substantiated expenses to the extent of $2,250. However, since the information submitted relating to the remaining provisions of the agreement by which Roberts or Central will be given an option to purchase 15 shares of WCRB stock for $150, plus accompanying rights including the employment of Roberts as a consultant, does not meet the requirements of § 1.525(a),[3] these latter provisions of the agreement will be disallowed. If this meets with the petitioners' approval, the publication ordered below shall be effected; upon a showing of compliance with the publication requirement, the agreement will be approved to the extent indicated herein, and the application of Central Broadcasting Corp. will be dismissed. Whether the application of WCRB, Inc., will be granted is dependent upon whether any application is filed for the community of Ware in response to the publication required herein. Should petitioners not be willing to accept the foregoing disposition, they are to inform the Board of their decision within 5 days after release of this opinion. If the parties choose to withdraw the agreement and proceed with the hearing, compliance with the ordering clause below relative to publication of local notice will not be necessary.

Accordingly, it is ordered, This 18th day of May 1965, That further opportunity be afforded for other persons to apply for the facilities specified in the application of Central Broadcasting Corp.; and that Central Broadcasting Corp. will therefore comply with the provisions of § 1.525(b), unless the Review Board is notified otherwise in accordance with this opinion.

The Hearing Examiner has under consideration a joint petition filed May 12, 1965, by the above-entitled applicants requesting that the procedural dates presently established in this proceeding be continued without date. The reason for the requested extension is the fact that the two applicants have reached a tentative understanding looking toward the execution of a written agreement which, if approved by the Commission, will result in the elimination of the necessity for a formal hearing. The parties anticipate that a formal request for approval of the contemplated agreement will be filed within 10 days.

The Hearing Examiner has been advised informally that the Chief, Broadcast Bureau has no objection to continuing for a period of 30 days the procedural steps previously agreed to. Good cause for granting the joint petition has been shown.

It is ordered, This the 14th day of May 1965, that the joint petition of the above-entitled applicants is granted, and all procedural steps are continued for a period of 30 days;

It is further ordered, That the date for the evidentiary hearing now scheduled to begin on June 7, 1965, is continued to a date to be subsequently specified by an order of the Hearing Examiner.

[3] It is noted that in the application for assignment of AM station WARE, Ware, Mass. (BAL-497, effective Nov. 7, 1963), to Central, Roberts represented that he would devote full time to the operation of WARE, and be the active manager of it. Were Roberts to be retained by WCRB for a 1 year period as a consultant and advisor working for not more than 10 hours per month (without pay) a question might arise as to the continued bona fides of these representations as well as those relating to the proposed merger.

[3] Subsections (1) and (5) of § 1.525(a) require that the supporting affidavits contain information as to "The exact nature of any consideration (including an agreement for merger of interests) promised or paid;" and "A statement fully explaining and justifying any consideration paid or promised."

[4] Board Member Pincock abstaining.

Transco proposes that the existing firm allocation of the city of Laurens, S.C. be reduced from 8,500 Mcf per day to 6,700 Mcf per day. In connection with the net increases in firm pipeline service and storage service, Transco proposes an additional allocation of 55,000 Mcf per day of CD–3 service to Consolidated Edison Co. of New York, Inc. (Consolidated Edison) and the reduction of Consolidated Edison's existing GSS service allocation to zero. Transco states that this supply will be used by Consolidated Edison in the winter months primarily for service to its gas customers and in off-peak periods in its electric generating system as a replacement for fuel oil.

Finally, Transco, in its amendment, proposes to install a delivery point for its proposed new customer, Washington Gas Light Co., at Manassas, Va., in lieu of the delivery point at Gaithersburg, Md., which was proposed in the original application.

The Amendment of United Fuel Gas Co. (United Fuel) in Docket No. CP65–198 is predicated upon later, revised estimates of gas requirements and gas available. In light of the new estimates of gas requirements, United Fuel has amended its application by:

(1) Eliminating therefrom the request for authorization to construct and operate 8.9 miles of 30-inch loop pipeline immediately east of Ceredo (Wayne County, W. Va.) Compressor Station; and

FEDERAL RADIATION COUNCIL

RADIATION PROTECTION GUIDANCE FOR FEDERAL AGENCIES

Memorandum for the President

MAY 17, 1965.

Pursuant to Executive Order 10831 and Public Law 86-373, the Federal Radiation Council is transmitting recommendations for the approval of the President for guidance of Federal agencies in their radiation protection activities. The present recommendations are directed to guidance for protective actions affecting the normal production, processing, distribution, and use of food products for human consumption when such products are contaminated with strontium-89, strontium-90, or cesium-137. It is the intention of the Council to release the background material leading to these recommendations as Staff Report No. 7 when the recommendations are approved.

Background. The first two memorandums that provided guidance for Federal agencies in the conduct of their radiation protection activities were approved by the President on May 13, 1960, and September 20, 1961. These provided a general philosophy of radiation protection and the general principles of control based on the annual intake of radionuclides. The recommendations also provided the basis for the control and regulation of normal peacetime operations in which exposure to radiation is a factor. The Radiation Protection Guides (RPG's) were designed to limit the exposures of the whole body and of certain organs of radiation workers and the general population resulting from the use of ionizing radiation in normal peacetime operations.

During the atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in 1961 and 1962 the question arose as to the use of those RPG's for determining the conditions under which the production, processing, distribution, and use of food, particularly fresh fluid milk, should be altered to reduce human intake of radionuclides from fallout. In September 1962 the Federal Radiation Council stated its position on this subject, and in 1963 the Council reiterated that those existing guides were not applicable to a determination of a need for protective actions and noted that it would recommend guidance on the subject to the President.

Specific guidance for protective actions applicable to contamination of food by iodine-131 was approved by the President in July 1964.

Data on worldwide fallout from past testing of nuclear weapons in the atmosphere have been reviewed by the Federal Radiation Council and the findings reported in FRC Report Nos. 3, 4, and 6.

Fundamental differences between Radiation Protection Guides and Protective Action Guides. FRC Report Nos. 1 and 2 provide radiation protection guidance for the control and regulation of the normal peacetime uses of nuclear technology in which control is exercised primarily on the design and use of the radiation source. The RPG's in those reports were developed as guidelines for the protection of radiation workers and the general public against exposures that might result from routine uses of ionizing radiation.

In formulating these guides there was a judgment, or balance, between the possible risks associated with a particular radiation exposure and the reasons for allowing the exposure.

An important factor in providing guides for any purpose is the change in risk assigned to higher or lower doses and the corresponding effort to reduce them. Other factors influencing informed opinion of where and why a particular balance should be made include views regarding prevailing practices and the relative importance of health risks in relation to economic, political, or other considerations of national welfare.

Although radiation doses numerically equal to the RPG's may impose a risk so small that they can be accepted each year for a lifetime if there is significant benefit from the programs causing the exposure, they do not and cannot establish a line that is safe on one side and unsafe on the other. Rather, some risk of injury may exist at any level of dose and the risk continuously increases with dose. Caution should be exercised in decisions to take protective actions in situations where projected doses are near the numerical values of the RPG's since the biological risks are so low that the actions could have a net adverse rather than beneficial effect on the public well-being.

In contrast to the guidance for control at the point of release, FRC Report No. 5 provided general guidance for the protection of the population against exposure resulting from the accidental release, or to the unforeseen appearance, of radioactive materials in the environment. Specific guidance, including a numerical value for the Protective Action Guide (PAG) was provided for iodine-131. The PAG represents a consensus as to when, under the conditions considered most likely to occur, intervention is indicated to avoid radiation exposure that would otherwise result from a transient environmental contamination condition. This judgment involves health, economic, sociologic, and political factors for which the relative values are different than for the RPG. These factors for the PAG may include agricultural policies, the known feasibility of protective actions, related health impacts, and similar considerations involved in the national interest.

Radionuclides considered. Four radionuclides are particularly important in considering radioactive contamination of food. These are iodine-131, strontium-89, strontium-90, and cesium-137. Iodine-131 was considered in FRC Report No. 5, and this memorandum will deal only with strontium-89, strontium-90, and cesium-137.

Physical and biological factors related to the metabolism of strontium and cesium have recently been reviewed for the Federal Radiation Council by a committee selected by the National Academy of Sciences. Consideration has been given to the irradiation of the embryo or fetus by these nuclides, as well as irradiation of infants, children, and adults. Irradiation of bone marrow is considered to be the most significant from the standpoint of producing harmful effects. Strontium-89 and strontium-90 deposit selectively in the skeleton causing irradiation of bone marrow adjacent to the sites of deposition in the skeleton. Cesium-137 is distributed through soft issues and irradiates the whole body, including bone and bone marrow.

Protective Actions Guides. As stated in Report No. 5, a protective action is an action or measure taken to avoid most of the exposure to radiation that would occur from future ingestion of the foods contaminated with radioactive materials.

Decisions to implement protective actions involve a ocmparison of the risk due to radiation exposure with the undesirable features of the contemplated actions. The critical decisions to be made are whether to permit unrestricted use of feed crops or food products, to place restrictions on the normal use of feed crops or food products, or to destroy feed crops or food products.

The Council has adopted the term Protective Action Guide, defined as the projected absorbed dose to individuals in the general population that warrants protective action following a contaminating event. The projected dose is the dose that would be received by individuals in the population group from the contaminating event if no protective action were taken. If the projected dose exceeds the PAG, protective action is indicated. Making use of the operational technique adopted in the Memorandum for the President, May 1960, protective action would be indicated at an average projected dose to a suitable sample of the exposed population equal to one-third of the PAG.

Protective actions are appropriate when the health benefits associated with the reduction in exposure to be achieved are sufficient to offset the undesirable features of the protective actions. The PAG represents the Council's judgment as to where this balance should be for the conditions considered most likely to occur. If, in a particular situation, there is available an effective action with low total impact, initiation of such action at a projected dose lower than the PAG may be justifiable. If only high impact action would be effective, initiation of such action may be justifiable only at a projected dose higher than the PAG. The types of actions considered in the development of guidance in the memorandum include:

1. Altering production, processing, or distribution practices affecting the movement of radioactive contamination through the food chain and into the human body. This action may include storage of food supplies and animal feeds to allow for radioactive decay.

2. Diverting affected products to uses other than human consumption.

3. Condemning affected products.

An alteration of the normal diet of an individual is generally less desirable than the measures listed and should not be undertaken except on the personal advice of a physician.

Two limiting conditions of environmental contamination have been examined: an acute localized contaminating event in which prompt action may be necessary to avoid the exposure that would otherwise result; and a widespread, generally increasing, low-level contamination (from stratospheric fallout) that would cause a continuous intake of radionuclides by large numbers of people for several years.

The acute localized contaminating event. Situations justifying protective actions could occur from such events as an industrial accident, possibly involving a nuclear reactor or a nuclear fuel processing plant, and release of radioactive materials from nuclear explosions. The considerations involved in determining appropriate criteria for protective action have led to the development of three categories of dietary pathways which may require decisions following an acute contaminating event. Categories I and II related to intake in the first year following acute deposition, while Category III considers subsequent intake after the first year.

Category I is concerned with the immediate transmission of the radionuclides through the pasture-cow-milk-man pathway. The three nuclides of interest may be transmitted through this pathway simultaneously if they are deposited simultaneously on pasture. Experimental data indicate that nearly all the radioactivity appearing in milk through this pathway will have occurred within 100 days, and protective actions may have to be applied for this length of time. Protective action must be initiated within about a week to be effective in averting most of the potential exposure. This category of transmission may be the only one of importance for strontium-89 because of its relatively short radioactive half life (50.5 days).

Category II is concerned with the transmission of radionuclides to man through dietary pathways other than that specified as Category I during the first year following an acute contaminating event. This involves the use of feed crops for animals, including dairy cattle, and plant products used directly for human consumption. The radioactivity initially deposited on such crops in the field does not gain access to the human food chain until after the crops are harvested. Immediate action to reduce the potential intake will not usually be required because of the normal delay in the use of such crops. However, an early decision will be required as to the need for examination of the radionuclide content of harvested crops before they enter normal marketing channels. Strontium-90 and cesium-137 may be transmitted through the cow's feed to milk; cesium-137, in particular, may be transmitted through feed to meat; both may be transmitted to man through the direct consumption of plant products.

Category III is primarily concerned with the long-term transmission of strontium-90 through soil into plants in the years following a contaminating event. Residual contamination of cesium-137 on pasture when there is a heavy root mat may be a consideration for 1 to 2 years following a sufficiently severe contaminating event. Because of the long leadtime available to assess the possible radionuclide intakes, immediate action is not necessary. Any action that may be taken must be based on the long-term reduction of the radionuclide concentrations in products grown in the area.

In considering the desirability of initiating protective actions following a contaminating event, it is necessary to consider the three categories separately. The benefits of a protective action taken in one category are largely independent of whether or not action is taken in another. Individuals may be exposed to radioactivity from all three categories; however, the guides for individual categories recommended in this memorandum are sufficiently conservative that it is unnecessary to provide an additional limitation on combined doses. Since actions that are likely to be taken in Categories I and II would be effective against any of the three nuclides in either category, the sum of the projected doses to the bone marrow should be compared to the numerical value of the respective guide in the appropriate category when the need for protective action is considered.

Considerations in the development of Protective Actions. The basic considerations in the development of guidance for the acute event are:

1. The occurrence of an acute contaminating event which will require protective action is considered to be so infrequent that it is unlikely that the same individual will be exposed to more than one event.

2. Exposure to the public from radionuclides in the environment is directly related to concentration of the radionuclides in food supplies and the length of time (weeks, months, or years) over which unusual exposures would be expected to occur. The need for protective actions is generally independent of the source of contamination.

3. The substitution of food or feeds of lower radionuclide content for contaminated products is both effective and practicable.

4. The potential intake of radionuclides by individuals in the general public from radionuclides in the environment can be reduced whenever modifications in the normal production, processing, distribution, or dietary practices are considered to be less objectionable than the radiation risk that would otherwise have to be accepted.

5. Protective actions, by their very nature, are short-term modifications in such practices.

6. If the contamination of a particular crop or dietary component is so high that it would not be acceptable for local use, the crop or dietary component is not considered acceptable for use in other areas to which it may be transported.

Specific Guidance

Category I. The concept of the PAG, as presented in Report No. 5, was developed for use as guidance in situations involving the rapid transmission of radionuclides from pasture to milk to man with inherent limitations on the types of effective actions for which the necessary resources would be generally available. Such a situation has many of the characteristics of an emergency requiring an immediate decision as to the need for protective actions. The possible need for early actions to avoid most of the projected intake that may result from an acute localized contaminating event involving strontium-89, strontium-90, and cesium-137 is also present in Category I.

Recommendation. In view of these considerations it is recommended that:

1. The Protective Action Guide for the transmission of strontium-89, strontium-90, and cesium-137 through milk under the conditions of Category I be a mean dose of 10 rads in the first year to the bone marrow or whole body of individuals in the general population; and provided further that the total dose resulting from Category I not exceed 15 rads. For purposes of applying this guide, the total dose from strontium-89 and cesium-137 is assumed to be the same as the dose in the first year, whereas the total dose from strontium-90 is assumed to be five times the dose from strontium-90 in the first year. As an operational technique it is assumed that the guide will be met effectively if the average projected dose to a suitable sample of the population (children approximately 1 year of age) does not exceed one-third of the numerical values prescribed for the individual.

Category II. The time of deposition of radioactive materials relative to the various stages in the plant growth cycle will be a major factor affecting the concentration of radionuclides in food and feed. Although the variations in these concentrations can be large, depending on the time of year and the particular produce grown in the contaminated area, the concentrations of radionuclides reaching man through Category II pathways will be less, in most cases, than those in Category I. The need for initiating a program to assess the radionuclide content and the use of crops in Category II can be deduced from the situation found in Category I. Protective actions usually will not be required in Category II if they were not required in Category I.

When a need for quantitative examination of crops has been established the significance of radioactive contamination should be evaluated in terms of potential daily intake by persons deriving major portions of their diets from local foods. Within Category II a wide range of situations may exist. It is generally impossible to predict total radiation doses solely from the degree of contamination of a particular crop. The composition of population groups consuming food crops in Category II usually will differ from the composition of groups affected by Category I. The complexity of such situations and the fact that, for most crops, immediate action beyond assuring that questionable crops are not marketed before appropriate assessment can be made, make it impractical to provide numerical guides applicable to individual products. However, if it appears that the total projected dose to a suitable sample of a population group from all crops in Category II would be larger than the PAG recommended for this category, protective actions should be initiated against those crops that would make major contributions to that dose. In order to meet the objective of item No. 6 of the basic considerations in the development of this guidance, the suitable sample would be from a group considered to live in a contaminated area and also be considered to make maximum utilization of locally produced food products.

Recommendation. In view of these considerations it is recommended that:

2. The Protective Action Guide for the transmission of strontium-89, strontium-90, and cesium-137 through food crops or animal feed crops under the conditions in Category II be a mean dose of five rads in the first year to the bone marrow or whole body of individuals in the general population. As an operational technique it is assumed that the guide will be met effectively if the average projected dose to a suitable sample of the local population is no larger than two rads in the first year to the whole body or bone marrow.

Category III. In this category there can be extremely wide variations in the situations that might exist in relation to (1) areas involved, (2) crops affected, (3) possible rate of change in strontium-90 gaining access to plants, and (4) possible actions. In addition, one is now concerned with problems of long-term chronic exposure. Actions that may be effective in Category III involve major long-term changes in farming practices such as selection of crops, chemical or mechanical treatment of soil, land utilization, or all three of these. Following a sufficiently severe event, long-term restrictions may be placed on the use of farmland for food or feed production. The range of considerations that may enter into a decision to take action in this category together with the length of time available for detailed evaluations make it less meaningful to provide a numerical PAG than to provide guidance for evaluation of long-term situations. The nature of the situation is such that detailed evaluation would not be required except in situations in which levels of environmental contamination are greater than those that might occur under guidance provided for normal peacetime operations.

Recommendations. In view of these considerations it is recommended that:

3. The desirability of protective action against exposure to environmental radioactivity from situations in Category III be determined on a case-by-case basis. If it appears that annual doses to the bone marrow after the first year may exceed 0.5 rad to individuals or 0.2 rad to a suitable sample of the population such situations shall be appropriately evaluated.

It is recommended that:

4. The guidance contained in the preceding recommendations be approved for use of Federal agencies in the conduct of those radiation protection activities affecting the normal production, processing, distribution, and use of food and agricultural products following acute radioactive contamination of the environment.

The numerical values of absorbed doses specified as guides for an acute contaminating event are not intended to authorize deliberate releases expected to result in absorbed doses of these magnitudes, nor do they have any relevance to civil defense applications.

Worldwide contamination from stratospheric fallout. Stratospheric fallout from past atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons has led to a worldwide deposition of fission products in the environment. The studies of fallout in the United States from past testing (FRC Report Nos. 4 and 6) have indicated that:

1. In the conterminous United States strontium-89 gave estimated average total doses of 0.04 rad to bone and 0.01 rad to bone marrow.. These doses were divided about equally between 1962 and 1963. In 1964 the estimated dose from strontium-89 was negligible.

2. The average annual strontium-90 content of the total diet in the "wet" areas of the United States reached a value of approximately 40 picocuries of strontium-90 per gram calcium in 1964. This could lead to an average annual dose in new bone and in bone marrow of about 0.03 and 0.01 rad, respectively. In Alaska strontium-90 burdens in bone of a few individuals appear to be about four times as high as those found in the conterminous United States.

3. Internal exposure from cesium-137 to be taken in through the diet in the conterminous United States during the next 30 years has been estimated to be about 0.01 rad. In Alaska, although the amount of fallout deposited per unit area is about one-fifth as much as that deposited in the 30°–40° latitude band, a combination of ecological conditions and specific dietary habits of some Eskimos and Indians causes higher cesium body burdens than are found in the conterminous United States. Average body burdens of cesium-137 in these inhabitants were about three times as high in 1964 as they were in 1962. The estimated annual whole body doses to these individuals ranged from about one-quarter to one-half of the numerical value of the RPG for individuals in the general population.

On the basis of this information on stratospheric fallout the Council concluded that the health risk from radioactivity in food over the next several years would be too small to justify protective actions to limit the intake of radionuclides either by diet modifications or by altering the normal distribution and use of food, particularly milk and dairy products.

Recommendations. In view of these considerations it is recommended that:

5. Surveillance of the radionuclide content in food products contaminated with worldwide fallout be continued at levels appropriate to the situation.

It is recommended that:

6. Surveillance and research programs examining the special ecological situations in the arctic region continue until future trends can be predicted with greater confidence.

It is recommended that:

7. Nationwide programs to reduce potential exposure of the population from gradually increasing levels of environmental contamination, such as that associated with worldwide fallout, are not necessary now nor for future levels of fallout from past testing.

ANTHONY J. CELEBREZZE,
Chairman.

The recommendations numbered "1" through "7" contained in the above memorandum are approved for the guidance of Federal agencies, and the memorandum shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: May 20, 1965.

All interested persons are referred to the joint application-declaration, on file at the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below.

Consolidated proposes to obtain funds for financing the seasonal increase in gas storage inventories of certain of its subsidiary companies by issuing, on one or more dates in 1965, an aggregate of up to $35,000,000 of unsecured promissory notes to a group of banks. The proceeds from the sale of notes will be advanced to such subsidiary companies on open account. Both the notes and the open account advances will mature in not more than 12 months from the date of the first note borrowing and will bear interest at the prime rate of The Chase Manhattan Bank (presently 4½ percent per annum) in effect on the date of such first note borrowing. The notes will be prepayable, in whole or in part at any time, without premium, upon 10 days' prior written notice. In 1964, Consolidated made open account advances for construction to subsidiary companies, of which $13,300,000 mature on or before October 20, 1965, and $1,500,000 mature on or before November 19, 1965. Consolidated proposes to extend the repayment dates of said $13,300,000 advances to November 19, 1965, to coincide with the date of maturity of Consolidated's related construction bank loan made in 1964. In addition, Consolidated proposes to make further open account advances, from time to time as funds are needed by its subsidiary companies, for 1965 construction expenditures. The proposed 1965 construction advances, which will aggregate not more than $10,200,000, will bear the prime rate of interest of The Chase Manhattan Bank in effect on the date of the first such advance to the respective subsidiary company and will be repaid on or before November 19, 1965. Consolidated estimates the cost of the system's 1965 construction program at $70,300,000.

The subsidiary companies propose to repay said 1964 construction advances, aggregating $14,800,000, and the proposed $10,200,000 1965 advances for said purpose, by issuing to Consolidated equal principal amounts of nonnegotiable long-term notes bearing interest substantially equal to the effective cost of money to Consolidated through the issuance and sale, later in 1965, of $25,000,000 principal amount of 25-year sinking fund debentures to mature in 1990, such issuance and sale to be the subject of a subsequent filing with this Commission. Of the proposed long-term notes, 80 percent of the aggregate principal amount will mature serially in the years 1970 through 1989, and the balance will mature in 1990.

The proposed intrasystem transactions described above are summarized as follows:

	Advances by Consolidated for gas storage	Consolidated's advances for 1964 construction to be extended	Advances by Consolidated for 1965 construction	Issuance of long-term notes to Consolidated by subsidiaries
Supply Corp	$24,000,000	(*)	$5,000,000	$6,500,000
East Ohio	10,000,000	$9,000,000	3,000,000	12,000,000
Lake Shore		1,000,000	300,000	1,300,000

	35,000,000	13,300,000	10,200,000	25,000,000

*No extension is necessary with respect to the advance of $1,500,000 to Supply Corp.

The filing states that the Public Service Commission of West Virginia has jurisdiction over the long-term and short-term borrowings proposed by Supply Corp.; that The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has jurisdiction over the long-term borrowings proposed by East Ohio, Lake Shore, and River; that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has jurisdiction over the long-term borrowings proposed by Peoples; and that no other State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over any of the proposed transactions.

The fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions, all of which are to be paid by Consolidated, are estimated not to exceed $2,500, consisting of $2,000 payable to Con-Gas Service Corp. for services on a cost basis and miscellaneous out-of-pocket expenses of $500.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 14, 1965, request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said joint application-declaration which he desires to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C., 20549. A copy of such request should be served personally or by mail (air mail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon the applicants-declarants at the above-stated address, and proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) should be filed contemporaneously with the request. GIBCO, INC.

Notice of Application for Order Declaring That Company Has Ceased To Be Investment Company

MAY 18, 1965.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed pursuant to section 8(f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") for an order of the Commission declaring that Gibco, Inc. ("applicant"), 515 West Williams Street, Greenville, Mich., a Michigan corporation and a management, closed-end, nondiversified investment company registered under the Act, has ceased to be an investment company. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a complete statement of applicant's representations, which are summarized below.

Applicant represents that on August 23, 1961, its Board of Directors, with the written consent of Hupp Corp., the record owner of 98 percent of its outstanding common stock, adopted a Plan of Liquidation. Pursuant thereto, applicant has distributed all of its assets. In consideration of applicant's final distribution under the Plan, applicant's remaining liabilities were assumed by Hupp Corp. in June, 1964. The application states that, as of December 31, 1964, the applicant had no assets and no liabilities.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 9, 1965, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C., 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (air mail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon applicant. Proof of such service (by affidavit or in the case of an attorney-at-law by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

WELLINGTON FUND, INC.

Notice of Filing of Application for Order for Exemption

MAY 18, 1965.

Notice is hereby given that Wellington Fund, Inc. ("Wellington Fund"), 1630 Locust Street, Philadelphia, Pa., a Delaware corporation which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") as an open-end diversified management investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act requesting an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 22(d) of the Act the proposed issuance of its shares, without sales charge, for substantially all of the cash and securities of Apex Hosiery Co. ("Apex"). Said exemptive order is requested since the shares of Wellington Fund are offered to the public at a price which includes a sales charge in addition to the net amount which Wellington Fund receives from the underwriter through whom such public offering is made. All interested persons are referred to the application as filed with the Commission for a complete statement of the representations made therein which are summarized below.

As of January 31, 1965, the net assets of Wellington Fund amounted to approximately $1,937,700,000. Apex, a corporation organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, was formerly in the manufacturing business, but for approximately 10 years has been a personal holding company owned by a maximum of 42 stockholders. The assets of Apex consist entirely of cash and marketable securities and, at January 31, 1965, had a value of approximately $9,000,000. Pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Reorganization, Wellington Fund will acquire substantially all of the assets of Apex in exchange for stock of Wellington Fund which will be distributed to shareholders of Apex upon liquidation. Neither Apex nor any of the shareholders thereof has any present intention of redeeming shares of Wellington Fund which they acquire.

The amount of stock of Wellington Fund to be delivered to Apex will be determined on the basis of the values at 3:30 p.m. on the business day next succeeding the first dividend record date established by Wellington Fund after April 23, 1965, or on such other date as may be mutually agreed upon; the number of shares to be delivered will be obtained by dividing the adjusted market value of the assets of Apex by the net amount per share which Wellington Fund receives from the underwriter of its shares on sales of its shares to the public. This amount is the net asset value per share plus a charge, recently computed at 4 cents per share, to reflect the per share amount of annual brokerage commissions paid by Wellington Fund in acquiring portfolio securities. The market value of the assets of Apex will be adjusted according to a formula set forth in the application which reflects the higher ratio of unrealized appreciation in the assets of Apex than in the assets of Wellington Fund as well as the Federal income taxes which may be payable upon present or future realization of the excess appreciation. As of January 31, 1965, unrealized appreciation represented 35 percent and 15 percent of the net asset value of the shares of Apex and Wellington Fund respectively. Of the securities to be acquired, Wellington Fund intends to retain, subject to changes in investment conditions and considerations, securities having a value as of January 31, 1965, of approximately $6,708,000, and to sell securities having a value of approximately $1,990,000.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 9, 1965, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C., 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon applicant at the address stated above. Proof of such service (by affidavit or in case of an attorney-at-law by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

MOTOR VEHICLES AND MOTOR VEHICLE PARTS FROM CANADA

Determination With Respect to Suspected Bounty or Grant

A notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 17, 1965 (30 F.R. 5534), that the Bureau of Customs had received information that Canada, on January 16, 1965, had adopted measures which became effective on January 18, 1965, under which certain automotive vehicles and parts imported into Canada shall be free of duty. These measures are set forth in Canadian Order-in-Council P.C. 1965-99, dated January 16, 1965, which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 22, 1965 (30 F.R. 5710). Related to those measures are certain ancillary letters sent to the Canadian Government by Canadian automobile manufacturers.

The notice stated that a question had been raised whether the action by Canada and by the automobile manufacturers in Canada would result in the payment or bestowal of a bounty or grant, within the meaning of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1303), upon the manufacture, production, or export of the vehicles and parts to which the Canadian Order-in-Council relates.

The notice afforded an opportunity for interested persons to present written data, views or arguments with respect to the existence or nonexistence, and the net amount, of a bounty or grant. All data, views or arguments that were received, and such information with respect to this matter as was developed by the Bureau of Customs itself, have been considered.

It is hereby determined that the action which was the subject of the April 17, 1965 notice does not result in the importation into the United States of articles on which a bounty or grant has been paid or bestowed within the meaning of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1303).

Approved: May 21, 1965.

JAMES POMEROY HENDRICK, Acting Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.
