Title 3—THE PRESIDENT

Proclamation 3739

INTERNATIONAL LITERACY DAY

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

It is not difficult to test a man for literacy.
Ask him to write a simple message.
Or to read one.

Millions upon untold millions of persons cannot pass that test. Their communication with their fellow man is severely limited. Their intelligence is unformed by contact with the written word. They live out their lives in the darkness of ignorance.

Illiteracy is the greatest single barrier to economic and social progress in many of the countries of the world.

The people of Angola are 97 percent illiterate.
Rhodesia is 93 percent illiterate.
Haiti has the highest illiteracy rate in the Western Hemisphere—nearly 90 percent.

In Iraq, in Iran, in Bolivia and in many more countries the majority of men and women cannot read and write. Even in our own country where education is accorded its proper importance, there are three million illiterate adults.

September 8, 1966 is the first anniversary of an event which I believe was the turning point in the battle against illiteracy. On that date one year ago the World Congress of Ministers of Education convened in Tehran, Iran to consider the problem.

That Congress, made up in part by a delegation of distinguished statesmen and scholars sent by the United States Government, established the principles which now guide the highly commendable efforts of the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. Through experimental projects UNESCO is creating methods, techniques, and materials for full-scale literacy programs.

Here at home education is receiving concentrated attention. A partnership of Federal, State, and local authorities is working to provide America with an educational system commensurate with our position of world leadership. More than a dozen major pieces of education legislation enacted in the past three years have added greatly to the effectiveness of the partnership.

Our efforts for education of quality and equality extend to those adult citizens who have received little or no formal schooling. They are not discards of our society. They must share in its economic, social, and cultural benefits. New adult education programs will equip them to participate as fully as possible.

The work of the United States of America to eradicate ignorance does not stop at our shores. Nowhere in the world is the universal desire to eliminate illiteracy held more passionately than in this Nation which was founded on belief in the dignity, worth, and perfectibility of the individual. Our worldwide endeavors—individual, private, and governmental—are unsurpassed.

In recognition of the foregoing, the Congress has, by a joint resolution of August 27, 1966, authorized and requested the President to proclaim the 8th day of September 1966 as International Literacy Day:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LYNDON B. JOHNSON, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim September 8, 1966, as International Literacy Day, and call upon the people of the United States to commemorate that day in ways most appropriate to the occasion and to reaffirm our strong desire to cooperate with national and international organizations, private groups, and individuals dedicated to the goal of eliminating the scourge of illiteracy.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 30th day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty-six, and of [SEAL] the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and ninety-first.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON

By the President:

DEAN RUSK,
Secretary of State.

Title 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter I—Bureau of the Comptroller of the Currency, Department of the Treasury

PART 1—INVESTMENT SECURITIES REGULATION

Louisiana Capital Construction and Improvement Commission Public Improvement Bonds

§ 1.174 Louisiana Capital Construction and Improvement Commission Public Improvement Bonds.

(a) Request. The Comptroller of the Currency has been requested to rule that the $15 million Public Improvement Bonds issued by the Capital Construction and Improvement Commission of the State of Louisiana are eligible for purchase, dealing in, underwriting and unlimited holding by National Banks pursuant to paragraph Seventh of 12 U.S.C. 24.

(b) Opinion. (1) The Capital Construction and Improvement Commission is a body politic and corporate created by an act of the Louisiana State Legislature. The Commission is authorized and empowered, inter alia, to borrow money for the purpose of obtaining funds for the construction and improvement of the State highway system and to issue bonds not in excess of $140 million to evidence such borrowing.

(2) The bonds will be payable solely from revenue derived from the Louisiana sales tax which has been irrevocably and irrepealably pledged and dedicated (subject to 7 percent of such revenues pledged to certain obligations of the Louisiana Fiscal Authority) to the payment of the bonds and which will be levied and collected so long as any of the Commission's obligations are outstanding. On the basis of current revenue levels, as well as the Commission's projections, sales tax revenues will be sufficient to exceed by 10 times the maximum annual bond interest and principal payments of the Commission, assuming the maximum permissible amount of bonds are issued, and of the Louisiana Fiscal Authority.

(3) The State of Louisiana has made adequate provision and is obligated for payments of amounts which will be sufficient to provide for all required payments in connection with the bonds. These bonds are thus general obligations of a state or political subdivision thereof within the meaning of § 1.3 (d) and (e) of the Investment Securities Regulation (12 CFR 1.3 (d) and (e)).

(c) Ruling. It is, therefore, our conclusion that the $15 million Public Improvement Bonds issued by the Capital Construction and Improvement Commission of the State of Louisiana are public securities as defined in § 1.3 (c), (d), and (e) of the Investment Securities Regulation (12 CFR 1.3 (c), (d), and (e)) issued pursuant to paragraph Seventh of 12 U.S.C. 24 and are, therefore, eligible for purchase, dealing in, underwriting and unlimited holding by National Banks.

Dated: September 1, 1966.

[SEAL] JAMES J. SAXON,
Comptroller of the Currency.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter 1—Federal Aviation Agency

[Docket No. 7582; Amdt. 39-281]

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Hawker Siddeley Model DH.125-1A Airplanes

There has been a takeoff attempted by a Hawker Siddeley Model DH.125-1A airplane with the gust lock engaged. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop in other airplanes of the same type design, an airworthiness directive is being issued to require installation of a gust lock on Hawker Siddeley Model DH.125-1A airplanes that, when installed, braces the control column against the front end of the pilot's seat rails, effectively preventing occupancy of the seat.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (25 F.R. 6489), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

HAWKER SIDDELEY. Applies to Model DH. 125-1A airplanes equipped with aileron and elevator system gust lock, P/N 25CF-1793AB.

Compliance required within the next 300 hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished.

To prevent operation with the elevator and aileron gust lock engaged, accomplish the following:

(a) Remove gust lock assembly, P/N 25CF-1793AB, located on left side of cockpit.

(b) Modify pilot's control wheel and seat rail, and install gust lock stowage box assembly, P/N 25.MM. 333, in accordance with Hawker Siddeley Aviation, Ltd. Service Bulletin No. 27-34-(1716), dated May 18, 1966, or later ARB-approved issue.

(c) Equip airplane with aileron and elevator gust lock assembly, P/N 25.MM. 2583.

This amendment becomes effective September 3, 1966.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423))

Issued in Washington, D.C., on August 25, 1966.

JAMES F. RUDOLPH,
Acting Director,
Flight Standards Service.

PART 91—GENERAL OPERATING AND FLIGHT RULES

Positive Control Areas and Route Segments; Correction

On August 5, 1966, an amendment to § 91.97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations was published as F.R. Doc. 66-8527 (31 F.R. 10517) which altered the regulation governing the operation of aircraft within the positive control area.

Since the publication of this document, it was noted that the arrangement of § 91.97(a)(4) may result in a possible misinterpretation of the paragraph. Corrective action is therefore taken herein.

Since this action is editorial in nature, involving a rearrangement without substantive change, and is in conformity with the intent of the amendment, the Administrator has determined that notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary, and the effective date of the amendment as initially adopted may be retained.

In consideration of the foregoing, F.R. Doc. 66-8527 (31 F.R. 10517) is amended, effective immediately, as hereinafter set forth.

Section 91.97(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 91.97 Positive control areas and route segments.

(a) * * *

(4) Equipped, when in a positive control area, with—

(i) A coded radar beacon transponder, having at least a Mode A (Military Mode 3) 64 code capability, replying to Mode A/3 interrogation with the code specified by ATC; and

(ii) A radio providing direct pilot/controller communication on the frequency specified by ATC for the area concerned.

(Secs. 307, 313, Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354))

Issued in Washington, D.C., on August 29, 1966.

WILLIAM F. MCKEE,
Administrator.

Title 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

SUBCHAPTER F—PERSONNEL

PART 579—STANDARDS OF CONDUCT FOR DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY PERSONNEL

A new Part 579 is added to this subchapter, as follows:

GENERAL

STATEMENT OF EMPLOYMENT AND FINANCIAL INTERESTS

CONFLICT OF INTEREST LAWS

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 579 issued under sec. 3012, 70A Stat. 157; 10 U.S.C. 3012. Interpret or apply secs. 201–209, 18 U.S.C.; E.O. 11222, May 8, 1965, 30 F.R. 6469, 3 CFR, 1965 Supp.; Part 40, Ch. I, 32 CFR; and 5 CFR 735.104.

GENERAL

§ 579.1 Purpose and objectives.

(a) This part prescribes the standards of conduct, relating to possible conflict between private interests and official duties, required of all Department of Defense personnel, regardless of assignment. Close adherence to these principles will insure compliance with the high ethical standards demanded of all public servants. Violations of this part may be cause for appropriate disciplinary action which may be in addition to any penalty provided by law. All military personnel and civilian employees will familiarize themselves thoroughly with the provisions of this part.

(b) This part is in implementation of (1) Executive Order 11222 of May 8, 1965 (30 F.R. 6469), prescribing standards of ethical conduct for Government officers and employees, (2) Department of Defense Directive 5500.7, March 22, 1966 (31 F.R. 4989), and (3) the Civil Service Commission Regulation of October 1, 1965 (Part 735, Chap. I, 5 C.F.R.). It is in consonance with the Code of Ethics for Government Service contained in House Concurrent Resolution 175, 85th Congress (72 Stat. 1312), which applies to all Government personnel.

(c) This part includes standards of conduct based on the revisions of the conflict of interest laws enacted in 1962 (Public Law 87–777 and Public Law 87–849) (76 Stat. 777, 1119).

§ 579.2 Explanation of terms.

(a) "DOD personnel" as used in this part, unless the context indicates otherwise, means all civilian officers and employees, including special Government employees, of all the offices, agencies, and departments in the Department of Defense (including nonappropriated fund activities) and all active duty officers and enlisted members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps.

(b) The term "DA personnel" as used in this part, unless the context indicates otherwise, means all civilian officers and employees, including special Government employees, of the Department of the Army (including nonappropriated fund activities) and all active duty officers and enlisted members of the Army.

(c) The term "military personnel" as used in this part, unless the context indicates otherwise, means all officers, warpart, includes commissioned and warrant the Army on active duty.

(d) The term "officer" as used in this part includes commissioned and warrant officers.

§ 579.3 Ethical standards of conduct.

(a) General. DA personnel are bound to refrain from any private business or professional activity or from having any direct or indirect financial interest which would place them in a position where there is a conflict between their private interests and the public interests of the United States, particularly those related to their duties and responsibilities as DA personnel. Even though a technical conflict, as set forth in the statutes cited in this part, may not exist, DA personnel must avoid the appearance of such a conflict, from a public confidence point of view. DA personnel will not engage in any private business or professional activity or enter into any financial transaction which involves the direct or indirect use, or the appearance of use, of inside information gained through a DA position to further a private interest or for private gain for themselves or another person or entity, particularly one with whom they have family, business, or financial ties. DA personnel must not use their DA positions in any way to induce or coerce, or give the appearance of inducing or coercing, any person (including subordinates) or entity to provide any financial benefit to themselves or another person or entity, particularly one with whom they have family, business, or financial ties. For the purpose of this section "inside information" means information obtained under Government authority which has not become part of the body of public information. This section does not preclude DA personnel from teaching, lecturing, and writing as authorized by § 579.12, nor does it preclude DA personnel from having financial interests or engaging in financial transactions to the same extent as private citizens not employed by the Government so long as they are not prohibited by law or regulations.

(b) Dealing with present and former military and civilian personnel. DA personnel will not knowingly deal with military or civilian personnel, or former military or civilian personnel, of the Government, if such action will result in a violation of a statute or policy set forth in this part.

(c) Membership in associations. All DA personnel who are members or officers of nongovernmental associations or organizations must avoid activities on behalf of the association or organization that are incompatible with their official Government positions.

(d) Solicitation—(1) Military personnel. Military personnel on active duty are prohibited from personal commercial solicitation and sale to military personnel who are junior in grade or rank. This prohibition is applicable to activities on or off an installation, in or out of uniform, while on or off duty, and includes but is not limited to the personal solicitation and sale of life and automobile insurance, stock, mutual funds, real estate, or any other commodities, goods, or services. As used herein, "personal commercial solicitation" refers to those situations where a military member is employed as a sales agent on commission or salary, and contacts prospective purchasers suggesting they buy the commodity, real or intangible, that he is offering for sale. This prohibition is not applicable to the one-time sale by an individual of his own personal property or privately owned dwelling. It is not the intent of this subparagraph to discourage the off-duty employment of military personnel, but it is the intent to eliminate any and all instances where it would appear that coercion, intimidation, or pressure was used based on rank, grade, or position. See also § 552.18(j).

(2) Civilian employees. Civilian employees are not permitted to engage in canvassing, soliciting, or peddling on Department of the Army premises.

(i) This prohibition includes, but is not limited to the following activities:

(a) Canvassing, soliciting, or selling for personal monetary gain.

(b) Promoting group buying when such action could reasonably be interpreted as involving the improper use of Federal facilities and manpower.

(c) Canvassing or soliciting membership, except as authorized in Federal Personnel Manual, Chapter 711, and Civilian Personnel Regulation 700, Chapter 711, in connection with organized employee groups.

(ii) This prohibition is not applicable to the following activities:

(a) Those activities which have been specifically authorized by the activity commander § 552.18(j).

(b) Soliciting contributions for charitable, health, welfare, and similar organizations as authorized in AR 600–29 (DA regulations regarding fund raising within the Department of the Army).

(c) Accepting voluntary contributions from other employees in case of death, illness, marriage, retirement, or similar occurrence involving a fellow employee.

(d) Collecting contributions for group immunization programs conducted for the bentfit of employees.

(e) Those activities of voluntary organizations of Federal employees which are of the type commonly accepted as normal functions of employee organizations sponsored or permitted by private employers.

(e) Assignment of reserves for training. DA personnel who are responsible for assigning Reserves for training should make every effort to assign them when they are on active duty for training to duties in which they will not obtain information that could be used by them or their employers to give them an unfair advantage over their civilian competitors.

(f) Conduct prejudicial to the Government. DA personnel shall not engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct or other conduct prejudicial to the Government. Moreover, DA personnel shall avoid any action whether or not specifically prohibited by this part, which might result in, or create the appearance of—

(1) Using public office for private gain.

(2) Giving preferential treatment to any person.

(3) Impeding Government efficiency or economy.

(4) Losing complete independence or impartiality.

(5) Making a Government decision outside official channels.

(6) Affecting adversely the confidence of the public in the integrity of the Government.

§ 579.4 Bribery and graft.

In general, DA personnel may be subject to criminal penalties if they solicit, accept, or agree to accept anything of value in return for performing or refraining from performing an official act. See 18 U.S.C. 201.

§ 579.5 Unauthorized release of procurement information.

It is the individual responsibility of all personnel, both military and civilian, of the Department of the Army to refrain from releasing to any individual or any individual business concern or its representatives any knowledge such personnel may possess or have acquired in any way concerning proposed procurements or purchases of supplies by any procuring activity of the Department of the Army. Such information will be released to all potential contractors as nearly simultaneously as possible and only through duly designated agencies, so that one potential source of supply may not be given an advantage over another. All dissemination of such information will be in accordance with existing authorized procedures and only in connection with the necessary and proper discharge of official duties.

§ 579.6 Selection and instruction of personnel assigned to procurement and related activities.

(a) The importance of the procurement function to the Department of the Army makes selection and instruction of procurement personnel a matter of major importance to appointing officials. Selected personnel are not only responsible for protecting the Government's interest but also for maintaining the reputation of the Department of the Army for honesty, courtesy, and fair dealings in all relations with contractors. All procurement and related activities personnel, military or civilian, must comply with the provisions of Title 10, United States Code, Chapter 137, the Armed Services Procurement Regulations (Subchapter A, Chap. I of this title), the Army Procurement Procedures (Subchapter G of this chapter), and the Department of the Army circulars, directives, and other publications pertinent thereto. Every person engaged in procurement and related activities must at all times protect the interests of the Government.

(b) A copy of this part will be furnished to individuals assigned to procurement and related activities in accordance with the distribution prescribed for the Army Procurement Procedures.

§ 579.7 Unauthorized statements or commitments with respect to award of contracts.

Only contracting officers and their duly authorized representatives acting within their authority are authorized to commit the Government with respect to award of contracts. Unauthorized discussion and commitments may place the Department of the Army in the position of not acting in good faith. Unauthorized personnel will refrain from making any commitment or promise relating to award of contracts and will make no representation which would be construed as such a commitment. Army personnel will not under any circumstances advise a business representative that an attempt will be made to influence another person or agency to give preferential treatment to his concern in the award of future contracts. Any person requesting preferential treatment will be informed by official letter that Department of Army contracts are awarded only in accordance with established contracting procedures.

§ 579.8 Gratuities.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, DA personnel will not solicit or accept any gift, gratuity, favor, entertainment, loan, or any other thing of monetary value either directly or indirectly from any person, firm, corporation, or other entity which—

(1) Is engaged or is endeavoring to engage in procurement activities or business or financial transactions of any sort with any agency of the Department of Defense;

(2) Conducts operations or activities that are regulated by any agency of the Department of Defense; or

(3) Has interests that may be substantially affected by the performance or nonperformance of the official duty of the Department of Defense personnel concerned.

Gifts, gratuities, favors, entertainment, etc., bestowed upon members of the immediate families of DA personnel are viewed in the same light as those bestowed upon DA personnel. Acceptance of gifts, gratuities, favors, entertainment, etc., no matter how innocently tendered and received, from those who have or seek business with the Department of Defense may be a source of embarrassment to the department and the personnel involved, may affect the objective judgment of the recipient, and may impair public confidence in the integrity of the business relations between the department and industry.

(b) For the purpose of this section, a gift, gratuity, favor, entertainment, etc., includes any tangible item, intangible benefits, discounts, tickets, passes, transportation, and accommodations or hospitality given or extended to or on behalf of the recipient. However, the restrictions in paragraph (a) of this section do not apply to the following:

(1) Instances in which the interests of the Government are served by participation of DA personnel in widely attended luncheons, dinners, and similar gatherings sponsored by industrial, technical, and professional associations for the discussion of matters of mutual interest to Government and industry. Participation by DA personnel is appropriate when the host is the association and not an individual contractor. Acceptance of gratuities, or hospitality from private companies in connection with such association's activities is prohibited.

(2) Situations in which the interests of the Government are served by participation of DA personnel in activities at the expense of individual defense contractors when the invitation is addressed to and approved by the employing agency of DOD. These activities include public ceremonies of mutual interest to industry, local communities, and the Department of Defense, such as the launching of ships or the unveiling of new weapons systems; industrial activities which are sponsored by or encouraged by the Government as a matter of U.S. defense or economic policy, such as sales meetings to promote offshore sales involving foreign industrial groups or governments.

(3) Luncheons or dinners at a contractor's plant on an infrequent basis, when the conduct of official business within the plant will be facilitated and when no provision can be made for individual payment.

(4) Situations in which, in the judgment of the individual concerned, the Government's interest will be served by participation by DA personnel in activities at the expense of a defense contractor. In any such case in which DA personnel accepts any gratuity, favor, entertainment, etc., either directly or indirectly from any person, firm, corporation, or any other entity which is engaged in or is endeavoring to engage in business transactions of any sort with the Department of Defense, a written report of the circumstances will be prepared and forwarded within 48 hours. This report will be transmitted through the chain of command to the first command position occupied by an Army general officer superior to the person making the report. It will identify the favor, gratuity, or entertainment; when, where, and from whom received; and state the justification for acceptance. Personnel of the Office of the Secretary of the Army will forward such reports to the General Counsel, Department of the Army.

(5) Specialty advertising items of trivial intrinsic value.

(6) Customary exchange of social amenities between personal friends and relatives when motivated by such relationship and extended on a personal basis.

(7) Things available impersonally to the general public or classes of the general public such as a free exhibition by a defense contractor at a world's fair.

(8) Trophies, entertainment, rewards, or prizes given to competitors in contests which are open to the public generally or which are officially approved for participation in by DOD personnel.

(9) Transactions between and among relatives which are personal and consistent with the relationship.

(10) The acceptance of loans from banks or other financial institutions on customary terms to finance proper and usual activities of employees such as home mortgage loans.

(11) Social activities engaged in by officials of the Department of Defense and officers in command or their representatives with civilian leaders as part of community relations programs.

(12) Contractor-provided local transportation while on official business and when alternative arrangements are clearly impracticable.

(13) Participation in civic and community activities by DA personnel when the relationship with the defense contractor can reasonably be characterized as remote; for example, participation in a little league or Combined Federal Campaign luncheon which is subsidized by a concern doing business with a defense activity.

(14) Receipt of bona fide reimbursement, not prohibited by law, from other than defense contractors for actual expenses for travel and other necessary subsistence for which no Government payment or reimbursement is made. However, an employee may not be reimbursed, and payment may not be made on his behalf, for excessive personal living expenses, gifts, entertainment, or other personal benefits.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(12) of this section, personnel on official business may not accept contractor-provided transportation, meals, or overnight accommodations in connection with such official business so long as Government or commercial transportation or quarters are reasonably available. However, where the overall Government interest would be served by acceptance by DA personnel of such transportation or accommodations in specific cases, authorization therefor may be granted by order issuing authorities.

(d) The principles in subparagraphs (1) through (5) of this paragraph will serve as appropriate guidelines when Government contractors provide training, orientation, and refresher courses to Government personnel. These training courses range from executive orientation courses in which all expenses are borne by the contractor to annual seminars devoted to technical developments in which the only "gratuity" may be the giving of lectures free of charge.

(1) When a course is given pursuant to a contractual undertaking with the Government, the course itself is not a gratuity. The furnishing of meals, lodging, and transportation to the extent required by the contract is likewise not a gratuity. However, the furnishing of same, or of entertainment and the like if not required by the contract, does constitute a gratuity if appropriate charge therefor is not made to the individual. If lodging, meals, transportation, and the like are furnished as a part of a contract, travel and other expenses otherwise chargeable to the Government will be appropriately reduced in accordance with applicable regulations.

(2) Attendance at tuition-free nonacademic training or refresher courses, seminars, and the like offered by contractors (although not required to do so by the contract) may be authorized when attendance is clearly in the interest of the Government. Under such circumstances the training or instruction itself will not be regarded as a reportable gratuity as required in paragraph (b)(4) of this section.

(3) Selection of personnel to attend such courses will be made by the Government and not by the contractor. Invitations to individuals to attend courses at the expense of the contractor may not be accepted.

(4) Authorized attendance at such courses will be considered official business, with payment of applicable transportation and per diem as well as reimbursement for any tuition or other training expenses paid. Attendance will not be authorized if there is any doubt of the contractor's intention to impose appropriate charges for such meals, lodging, and entertainment as may be furnished in connection with the course.

(5) The foregoing principles are in amplification of paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section, and the provisions thereof remain fully applicable to the conduct of those attending courses of any kind.

(e) Procedures with respect to gifts from foreign governments are set forth in AR 672–5–1, DA regulations pertaining to awards.

(f) Procedures with respect to ROTC staff members of payments or other benefits offered by educational institutions are set forth in paragraph 27, AR 145–5, DA regulations pertaining to the ROTC.

§ 579.9 Prohibitions of contributions or presents to superiors.

No officer or employee in the United States Government employ shall at any time solicit contributions from other officers or employees in the Government service for a gift or present to those in a superior official position; nor shall any such officials or superiors receive any gift or present offered or presented to them as a contribution from persons in Government employ receiving a salary in an amount smaller than their own; nor shall any officer or employee make any donation as a gift or present to any official superior. Every person who violates this provision shall be discharged from the Government employ (R.S. 1784; 5 U.S.C. 113).

§ 579.10 Use of Government facilities, property, and manpower.

(a) General. DA personnel will not directly or indirectly use, or allow the use of, Government property of any kind, including property leased to the Government, for other than officially approved activities. Government facilities, property, and manpower, such as stenographic and typing assistance and mimeograph and chauffeur services, may be used only for official Government business. DA personnel have a positive duty to protect and conserve Government property, including equipment, supplies, and other property entrusted to them. This restriction is not intended to preclude the use of Government facilities for activities which would further military-community relations provided they do not interfere with military missions.

(b) Special mission aircraft. Special mission aircraft will be used only for official purposes in the implementation of projects or missions involving their use, approved by the Secretary of the Army or the Chief of Staff. See AR 96–20, DA regulations pertaining to transportation by aircraft.

(c) Use of motor vehicles. (1) Full-time assignment of official vehicles to officials of the Department of the Army at the seat of Government will be subject to the approval of the Secretary of Defense or the Deputy Secretary of Defense. Full-time assignments at Department of the Army field installations will be subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army.

(2) DA personnel authorized full-time use of official vehicles will not use such vehicles for other than the actual performance of official duties.

§ 579.11 Use of civilian and military titles in connection with commercial enterprise.

(a) All civilian personnel, and military personnel on active duty, are prohibited from using their civilian and military title or positions in connection with any commercial enterprise or in endorsing any commercial product. For the purpose of this section, the term "commercial enterprise" includes any organization other than a nonprofit or charitable organization which is exempt from Federal income taxation because it comes within subsection (1), (3), (4), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11), (13), or (14) of section 501(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. 501). No civilian person and no military person on extended active duty will use his civilian or military title or position in connection with any organization unless he first determines from the organization involved that it is exempt from taxation under one of the above subsections of the Internal Revenue Code. The foregoing shall not be deemed to preclude publication by such personnel of books or articles which identify them as authors by reference to their military or civilian title or position, provided that publication of such material has been cleared under existing DOD procedures. See part 504 of this chapter.

(b) All retired military personnel and all members of Reserve components, not on active duty, are permitted to use their military titles in connection with commercial enterprises. Such use of military titles shall in no way cast discredit on the military services or the Department of Defense. Such use is prohibited in connection with commercial enterprises when such use, with or without the intent to mislead, gives rise to any appearance of sponsorship, sanction, endorsement, or approval by the Department of the Army or the Department of Defense. The Department of the Army may restrict retired personnel and members of Reserve components, not on active duty, from using their military titles in connection with public appearances in oversea areas.

§ 579.12 Outside employment of DA personnel.

(a) DA personnel shall not engage in outside employment or other outside activity, with or without compensation, which—

(1) Interferes with, or is not compatible with, the performance of their Government duties.

(2) May reasonably be expected to bring discredit upon the Government or the Department of the Army.

(3) Is inconsistent with § 579.3(a), including such inconsistent acts as the acceptance of a fee, compensation, gift, payment of expense, or any other thing of monetary value in circumstances in which that acceptance may result in or create the appearance of, conflicts of interest.

(b) No enlisted member of the Armed Forces on active duty may be ordered or permitted to leave his post to engage in a civilian pursuit or business, or a performance in civil life, for emolument, hire, or otherwise if the pursuit, business, or performance interferes with the customary or regular employment of local civilians in their art, trade, or profession.

(c) Active duty military personnel who are engaged in outside employment as agents for the sale of any commodity are governed by the provisions of § 552.18(j), and § 579.3(d).

(d) No officer or enlisted person on the active list of the Army, or civilian employee of the Department of the Army, will act as a consultant for a private commercial enterprise with regard to any matter in which the Government is interested with the following exceptions:

(1) Literary activities as provided in Part 504 of this chapter.

(2) Service without remuneration in an advisory capacity (member of a board of directors, officer of an association, etc.) to a publication which is or may be issued by or for any branch or organization of the Army or military association. Other service on the staff of such a publication which accepts paid advertising is prohibited.

(e) Installation commanders will prohibit the use of military personnel or civilian employees of the Army, during normal working hours, in conducting cooperatives which operate in competition with civilian enterprises. This provision does not preclude the use of personnel where authorized for those nonappropriated funds and activities prescribed by AR 230–5 DA regulations pertaining to nonappropriated funds. The provisions of this section are not applicable to members of the Reserve components who are not on active duty and who are not employees of the Army.

(f) DA personnel are encouraged to engage in teaching, lecturing, and writing. However, an employee shall not, either for or without compensation, engage in teaching, lecturing, or writing that is dependent on information obtained as a result of his Government employment except when that information has been published or is available to the general public or will be made available on request, or when the Secretary of the Army gives written authorization for the use of nonpublic information on the basis that the use is in the public interest. In addition, an employee who is a civilian Presidential appointee shall not receive compensation or anything of monetary value for any consultation, lecture, discussion, writing, or appearance, the subject matter of which is devoted substantially to the responsibilities, programs, or operations of the Department of the Army or which draws substantially on official data or ideas which have not become part of the body of public information.

(g) No civilian employee may engage in outside employment under a State or local government except in accordance with Part 734 of the Civil Service regulations (5 CFR Part 734).

(h) The standards prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, apply also to foreign employment and interests. In addition, Executive Order 5221, November 11, 1929, prohibits Federal employees from accepting employment with any foreign government or foreign corporation, partnership, or individual that is in competition with American industry.

(i) This section does not preclude DA personnel from—

(1) Participation in the activities of national or State political parties not proscribed by law or regulation.

(2) Participation in the affairs or acceptance of an award for a meritorious public contribution or achievement given by a charitable, religious, professional, social, fraternal, nonprofit educational, nonprofit recreational, public service, or civic organization.

§ 579.13 Political activities.

(a) For political activities of civilian personnel, see Chapter 733, Federal Personnel Manual.

(b) For political activities of military personnel, see paragraph 42, AR 600–20, DA regulations pertaining to personnel.

§ 579.14 Letters and petitions to Congress.

The right of civilian employees, either individually or collectively, to petition Congress, or any member thereof, or to furnish information to any committee or Member of Congress, is provided by law (5 U.S.C. 652d). Letters to Congress, as well as petitions and other communications, are covered by this provision. While the Department of the Army desires that employees seek to resolve any problem or grievance locally, any employee exercising his right to correspond with a Congressman shall be free from restraint or coercion. However, the use of appropriated funds to influence the consideration of legislation is prohibited by statute (18 U.S.C. 1913). Accordingly, employees may not use duty time or Department of the Army materials or equipment to make their desires known to Congress. For information relating to Congressional activities of military personnel, see paragraph 41, AR 600–20.

§ 579.15 Defamatory or irresponsible statements.

Civilian employees are free to utilize the grievance procedure to express dissatisfaction with working conditions and relationships (CPR E2. 1–1); to petition Congress; and to present full and complete information as a defense against a proposed adverse personnel action (CPR S1. 2–2 and 2–4). While these policies encourage freedom of expression, employees are accountable for the statements they make or the views they express. Specifically, employees are not permitted to make irresponsible, false, or defamatory statements for the express purpose of injuring others or which attack, without foundation, the integrity of an organization or that of other individuals. The Supreme Court has ruled that officers of the Federal Government have an "absolute privilege" for defamatory statements issued in the course of their official duties. Although this privilege is referred to as an "absolute privilege," it applies only to statements made in the course of performance of official duties and is to be exercised with care and restraint. This privilege does not apply to defamatory statements unrelated to official duties.

§ 579.16 Borrowing and lending money.

Civilian employees may not borrow money from either their subordinates or their supervisors or have such persons act as indorser or comaker of a note given as security for a personal loan. Neither may an employee loan money to fellow employees for the purpose of monetary profit or other gain. Anyone failing to observe these rules of conduct will be subject to disciplinary action. These prohibitions do not apply to the operations of recognized credit unions or to employee welfare plans.

§ 579.17 Gambling, betting, and lotteries.

DA personnel shall not participate, while on Government-owned or leased property or while on duty for the Government, in any gambling activity including the operation of a gambling device, in conducting a lottery or pool, in a game for money or property, or in selling or purchasing a numbers slip or ticket. However, this section does not preclude activities—

(a) Necessitated by an employee's law enforcement duties; or

(b) Under section 3 of Executive Order 10927 (26 F.R. 2383, March 22, 1961) and similar activities approved by Headquarters, DA. See paragraph 10, AR 28–125, DA regulations pertaining to service clubs.

§ 579.18 Indebtedness.

DA personnel shall pay each just financial obligation in a proper and timely manner, especially one imposed by law such as Federal, State, or local taxes. For the purpose of this section, a "just financial obligation" means one acknowledged by the employee or reduced to judgment by a court, and "in a proper and timely manner" means in a manner which the agency determines does not, under the circumstances, reflect adversely on the Government as his employer. In the event of dispute between DA personnel and alleged creditors, this paragraph does not require the Department of the Army to determine the validity or amount of the disputed debt (par. 36, AR 600–20, and CPR 700, Ch. 735).

§ 579.19 Information to personnel.

(a) Appropriate action will be taken to insure that new DA personnel are informed of the standards of conduct specified in this part upon employment or entry on duty. Appropriate action also will be taken to bring these standards of conduct to the attention of all personnel at least semiannually.

(b) The attention of DA personnel is directed to each statute relating to ethical and other conduct that is referred to in this part and in appendix B to Part 40, chap. I of this title (31 F.R. 4995, March 26, 1966). DA personnel will be advised how to obtain additional clarification of the standards of conduct set forth in this part and in related statutes, rules, and regulations. For this purpose, heads of DA agencies and major commanders will provide for the designation in each DA agency, command, or installation of one or more legal officers as deputy counselors who shall be responsible for providing advice and assistance on all matters relating to conduct and conflicts of interest and for reviewing statements of employment and financial interests covered by this part.

(c) Questions which cannot be resolved by a legal office will be referred, with recommendations, through channels to higher authority. The General Counsel, Office of the Secretary of the Army, is designated as the counselor for the Department of the Army and is responsible for proper coordination and final disposition of all problems relating to conflicts of interest and statements of employment and financial interests in accordance with this part.

(d) Procedures established governing the review of statements of employment and financial interests shall provide that—

(1) Whenever such review discloses a conflict or apparent conflict of interests, the individual concerned is entitled to an opportunity to explain the conflict or appearance of conflict.

(2) If the conflict or appearance of conflict is not resolved on review by the explanation made by the individual concerned, the information pertaining to the matter will be submitted through channels to the Under Secretary of the Army, as the designee of the Secretary of the Army, after review by the General Counsel, Office of the Secretary of the Army.

(3) The resolution of a conflict or apparent conflict of interest either on review or after referral to the Under Secretary of the Army will be effected promptly so that the conflict or appearance of conflict is ended. The resolution of the conflict or appearance of conflict may be accomplished by one or more means, such as changes in assigned duties, divestment of the conflicting interest, disqualification for a particular assignment, or disciplinary action. The resolution, whether by disciplinary action or otherwise, will be effected in accordance with applicable laws, Executive Orders, and regulations.

§ 579.20 Reporting suspected violations.

DA personnel who have information which causes them to believe that there has been a violation of a statute or policy set forth in this part will promptly report such incidents to their immediate superiors. If the superior believes there has been a violation, he will report the matter for further action in accordance with existing procedures. Any question or doubt on the part of the immediate superior will be resolved in favor of reporting the matter.

STATEMENTS OF EMPLOYMENT AND FINANCIAL INTERESTS

§ 579.21 Statements of employment and financial interests.

The following DA personnel are required to submit statements of employment and financial interests:

(a) DA personnel paid at a level of the Federal Executive Salary Schedule established by the Federal Executive Salary Act of 1964, as amended (Secretary of the Army, Under Secretary of the Army, Assistant Secretaries of the Army, Director of Civil Defense, and General Counsel).

(b) DA personnel in Grade GS–16 or above, of the General Schedule established by the Classification Act of 1949, as amended, or in comparable or higher positions not subject to that Act including Public Law 313 (61 Stat. 715) and commissioned officers in the pay grade of 07 or above.

(c) DA personnel in Grades GS–13 through GS–15 or commissioned officers in the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and Colonel whose basic duties and responsibilities require the incumbent to exercise judgment in making or recommending a Government decision or in taking or recommending Government action in regard to—

(1) Contracting or procurement. For the purpose of this part "contracting or procurement" includes all functions that pertain to the authorization, award, and administration of contracts or grants with nongovernmental entities. This includes agreements, supplemental agreements, subcontracts, leases, service orders, task orders, purchase orders, delivery orders, change orders, property disposal contracts, communication service authorizations, and other instruments or agreements which obligate the United States. It includes pre-award surveys; the evaluation, appraisal, selection, or approval of contractors and subcontractors, contractor and subcontractor facilities, and the location, transfer, or closing of, work sites. It also includes purchasing, renting, leasing, or otherwise obtaining supplies or services from, and disposing or selling supplies to nongovernmental entities and all functions that relate to obtaining or disposing of supplies and services, description and determination of requirements, preparation of specifications including the determination of technical requirements, selection and solicitation of sources, preparation and award of contracts or grants, and all phases of contract and grant administration and monitoring, including all aspects of quality control and quality assurance, inspection, and acceptance.

(2) Auditing. Auditing private or other non-Federal enterprise including the supervision of auditors engaged in audit activities or the participation in the development of policies and procedures for performing such audits, including the authorization and monitoring of grants to institutions or other non-Federal enterprise.

(3) Other. Activities in which the decision or action has an economic impact on the interests of any non-Federal enterprise.

§ 579.22 Review of positions.

(a) All positions in the category indicated in § 579.21(c), both military and civilian, will be reviewed and a statement as to whether the incumbent of the position must file a statement of employment and financial interest as required by this regulation will be included in each military and civilian position description or similar document describing the duties and responsibilities of the position. This determination will be reviewed at least annually. The review may be accomplished at the time performance, efficiency, or effectiveness ratings are given, or incident to other currently prescribed annual reviews. Incumbents of positions identified as involving any of the functions described in § 579.21(c) will be required to comply with the filing requirements of this part.

(b) Positions in the above categories may be excluded when it is determined by the Secretary of the Army, or his designee, that the duties are at such a level of responsibility that the submission of a statement of employment and financial interests is not necessary because of the degree of supervision and review of the incumbent and the remote and inconsequential effect on the integrity of the Government.

(c) The Secretary of the Army, or his designee, may relieve personnel serving in an area designated as a hostile fire area from the requirement for the submission of statements of employment and financial interests.

(d) The statements of employment and financial interests will be submitted on DD forms as indicated below. DD Form 1555[1] (Confidential Statement of Employment and Financial Interests—DOD Personnel), is for use by all DA personnel except special Government employees. DD Form 1555–1[1] (Confidential Statement of Employment and Financial Interests) is for use by special Government employees. Information pertaining to deposits in savings accounts such as banks, credit unions, etc., will not be included as financial interests on these forms.

§ 579.23 Manner of submission—statements of employment.

(a) The Secretary of the Army, the Under Secretary of the Army, the Assistant Secretaries of the Army, the Director of Civil Defense, the Deputy Under Secretary of the Army (Manpower), the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Army, and the General Counsel, OSA, will submit statements of employment and financial interests to the General Counsel of the Department of Defense.

(b) General officers will submit statements of employment and financial interests as prescribed in appendix II.

(c) Personnel in Grade GS–16 or above of the General Schedule established by the Classification Act of 1949, or in comparable or higher positions not subject to that Act, and not included in paragraph (a) of this section, will submit statements of employment and financial interests as prescribed in appendix III.

(d) DA personnel not included in paragraphs (a) through (c) of this section will submit statements of employment and financial interests to the officer designated under § 579.19(b), except that personnel of the Office of the Secretary of the Army will submit such statements to the General Counsel, OSA.

(e) Statements of employment and financial interests shall be submitted by each officer or employee required by this part to file a statement, not later than August 15, 1966 (as of a date no earlier than June 30, 1966) and periodically thereafter as prescribed in § 579.27. Employees who enter Government service after June 30, 1966, who are required to file a statement of employment and financial interests, shall file such statements within 30 days from the date of commencement of such service.

§ 579.24 Excusable delay.

If by reason of his duty assignment it is impracticable for an individual to submit a statement within the period required by this regulation, his immediate superior may grant an extension of time therefor. Any extension in excess of 30 days requires the concurrence of the Secretary of the Army. Statements submitted pursuant to an extension of time granted will include appropriate notation to that effect.

§ 579.25 Special Government employees—statement of employment and financial interests.

(a) For the purpose of this section, "special Government employee" has the meaning given that term by § 579.34.

(b) Each special Government employee who is an adviser or consultant shall, prior to appointment, file with the officer designated under § 579.19(b) a statement (DD Form 1555–1) setting forth his Government employment, his private employment, and his financial interests; except individuals assigned to the Office of the Secretary of the Army, such statements will be filed with the General Counsel, OSA. An appointee must list all of his investments and other financial interests such as a pension; retirement; group life, health, or accident insurance; and profit-sharing, stock bonus, or other employee welfare or benefit plan maintained by a former employer. He is not required to list precise amounts of investments.

(c) The following categories of special Government employees are not considered advisers or consultants within the meaning of this section when performing the specific services listed below and are not required to file the statement of employment and financial interests:

(1) Physicians, dentists, and allied medical specialists performing care and service to patients.

(2) Veterinarians providing veterinary service to animals.

(3) Lectures participating in educational activities.

(4) Chaplains performing religious services.

(5) Individuals of national prominence in the motion picture and television fields who are utilized as narrators or actors in motion picture or television productions produced by the Department of Defense.

(6) A special Government employee who is not a "consultant" or "expert" as those terms are defined in Chapter 304 of the Federal Personnel Manual.

§ 579.26 Exceptions to specific appointees.

The Secretary of the Army may grant an exception to a specific appointee from completing that part of the statement of employment and financial interests relating to his investments and other financial interests referred to in § 579.25(b), upon the making of a determination that this information is not relevant in the light of the duties the appointee is to perform.

§ 579.27 Supplementary statements.

Changes in or additions to the information contained in an employee's statement shall be reported in a supplementary statement in the month following the end of the quarter in which the changes occur. Quarters end March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. If there are no changes or additions in a quarter, a negative report is not required. However, for the purpose of annual review, a supplementary statement (as of June 30), negative or otherwise, is required by July 31 of each year.

§ 579.28 Interests of employee's relatives.

The interest of a spouse, minor child, or other member of an employee's immediate household is considered to be an interest of the employee. For the purpose of this part, "member of an employee's immediate household" means those blood relations who are residents of the employee's household.

§ 579.29 Information not known by employees.

If any information required to be included on a statement of employment and financial interests or supplementary statement, including holdings placed in trust, is not known to the employee but is known to another person, the employee shall request that other person to submit the information in his behalf.

[1] Filed as part of the original document. Copies may be obtained through publication supply channels.

§ 579.30 Information not required to be submitted.

An employee is not required to submit on a statement of employment and financial interests or supplementary statement any information relating to the employee's connection with, or interest in, a professional society or a charitable, religious, social, fraternal, recreational, public service, civic, or political organization or a similar organization not conducted as a business enterprise. For the purpose of this part, educational and other institutions doing research and development or related work involving grants of money from or contracts with the Government are deemed "business enterprises" and are required to be included in an employee's statement of employment and financial interests.

§ 579.31 Confidentiality of employees' statements.

Each statement of employment and financial interests, and each supplementary statement, will be held in confidence. The Department of the Army may not disclose information from a statement except as the Secretary of the Army or the Civil Service Commission may determine for good cause shown.

§ 579.32 Effect of employees' statements on other requirements.

The statements of employment and financial interests and supplementary statements required of employees are in addition to, and not in substitution for, or in derogation of, any similar requirement imposed by law, order, or regulation. The submission of a statement or supplementary statement by an employee does not permit him or any other person to participate in a matter in which his or the other person's participation is prohibited by law, order, or regulation.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST LAWS

§ 579.33 Full-time officers and employees.

(a) Full-time officer or employee. The term "full-time officer or employee" includes all civilian officers and employees and all military officers on active duty, except those who are "special Government employees" (§ 579.34). It does not include enlisted personnel.

(b) Prohibitions. Appendix B(A) to Part 40, Chapter I of this title (31 F.R. 4995, March 26, 1966), contains a discussion of criminal laws relating to conflict of interest and exemptions therefrom. In general, a full-time officer or employee is subject to the following major prohibitions:

(1) He may not, except in the discharge of his official duties, represent anyone else before a court or Government agency in a matter in which the United States is a party or has an interest. This prohibition applies both to paid and unpaid representation of another (18 U.S.C. 203, 205).

(2) He may not receive any salary, or supplementation of his Government salary, from a private source as compensation for his services to the Government (18 U.S.C. 209).

(3) He may not participate in his Governmental capacity in any matter in which he, his spouse, minor child, outside business associate or person with whom he is negotiating for employment, has a financial interest (18 U.S.C. 208). Instead of participating in such a matter, he must promptly disqualify himself in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Nondisqualifying financial interest. A full-time officer or employee need not disqualify himself under paragraph (b)(3) of this section, if his financial holdings are in shares of a widely held diversified mutual fund or regulated investment company.

NOTE. The indirect interests in business entities which the holder of shares in a widely held diversified mutual fund or regulated investment company derives from ownership by the fund or investment company of stocks in business entities has been exempted from the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 208a, in accordance with the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 208b(2) as being too remote or inconsequential to affect the integrity of the Government officers' or employees' services.

(d) Disqualification procedure. (1) In any case where a full-time officer or employee must disqualify himself under paragraph (b)(3) of this section, he will promptly notify his immediate superior thereof and make a full disclosure of the financial interest. The superior will thereupon relieve him of his duty and responsibility in the matter, unless the Government official responsible for his appointment makes a written advance determination that the interest is not so substantial as to be deemed likely to affect the integrity of the services which the Government may expect from the officer or employee. The original copy of such written determination will be made a matter of permanent record and will become a part of the Official Civilian Personnel Folder or the military officer's Personnel Records Jacket.

(2) In the case of a military officer or a civilian employee, the "official responsible for his appointment" shall, for the purpose of this section, be his superior or such other person as the installation commander may designate, who is a full-time officer or employee serving in the grade of major or GS–12 or higher. The designation, authorized to be made by installation commanders as stated above, may be made by directors or heads of comparable offices in the Office of the Secretary of the Army and in Headquarters, Department of the Army, for personnel assigned to their respective offices.

(3) In addition, where a superior thinks anyone responsible to him may have a disqualifying interest, he will discuss the matter with that person and, if he finds such an interest does exist, he will relieve the person of duty and responsibility in the particular matter.

(4) In cases of disqualification under this section, the matter will be reassigned for decision and action to someone else who is not subordinate to the disqualified person.

§ 579.34 Special Government employees.

(a) The term "special Government employee" includes an officer or employee who is retained, designated, appointed, or employed to perform, with or without compensation, for not to exceed 130 days during any period of 365 consecutive days, temporary duties either on a full-time or intermittent basis (18 U.S.C. 202). The term also includes a Reserve officer while on active duty solely for training for any length of time, one who is serving on active duty involuntarily for any length of time, and one who is serving voluntarily on extended active duty for 130 days or less. It does not include enlisted personnel.

(b) Appendix B to Part 40, Chapter I of this title (31 F.R. 4995, March 26, 1966) contains a detailed discussion of criminal laws relating to conflict of interest. In general, a special Government employee is subject to the following major prohibitions:

(1) He may not, except in the discharge of his official duties, represent anyone else—

(i) Before a court or Government agency in a matter in which the United States is a party or has an interest and in which he has at any time participated personally and substantially for the Government (18 U.S.C. 203, 205).

(ii) In a matter pending before the agency he serves unless he has served there no more than 60 days during the past 365 (18 U.S.C. 203, 205). He is bound by this restraint despite the fact that the matter is not one in which he has ever participated personally and substantially.

NOTE. The restrictions described in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph apply to both paid and unpaid representation of another.

(2) He may not participate in his Government capacity in any matter in which he, his spouse, minor child, outside business associate, or person with whom he is negotiating for employment has a financial interest (18 U.S.C. 208). Instead of participating in such a matter, he must promptly disqualify himself in accordance with § 579.33(d), except as provided in § 579.33(c).

(3) After his Government employment has ended, he is subject to the prohibitions in § 579.35(b) as a "former employee" (18 U.S.C. 207).

§ 579.35 Former officers or employees.

(a) The term "former officer or employee" includes those full-time civilian officers or employees who have left Government service, special Government employees who have left Government service, retired Regular officers, and Reserve officers released from active duty. It does not include enlisted personnel.

(b) Appendix B (B) of Part 40 of chapter I of this title contains a more detailed discussion of the criminal law. In general, a former officer or employee is subject to the following major prohibitions:

(1) He may not, at any time after his Government employment has ended, represent anyone other than the United States in connection with a matter in which the United States is a party or has an interest and in which he participated personally and substantially for the Government (18 U.S.C. 207(a)).

(2) He may not, for 1 year after his Government employment has ended, represent anyone other than the United States in connection with a matter in which the United States is a party or has an interest and which was within the boundaries of his official responsibility during the last year of his Government service (18 U.S.C. 202(b), 207(b)). This temporary restraint, of course, gives way to the permanent restriction described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph if the matter is one in which he participated personally and substantially.

§ 579.36 Retired Regular officers.

(a) Prohibitions. Appendix B(C) of Part 40 of chapter I of this title contains a summary of the laws applicable to retired Regular officers. In general, a retired Regular Army officer is subject to the following major prohibitions:

(1) As an officer whose "employment has ceased," he may not engage in the prohibited activities listed in § 579.35 (18 U.S.C. 207).

(2) He may not, at any time, assist in prosecuting a claim against the United States if he worked on that claim while on active duty (18 U.S.C. 283).

(3) He may not, within 2 years after his retirement, assist in prosecuting a claim which involves the Department in whose service he holds a retired status (18 U.S.C. 283).

(4) He may not, at any time, sell anything to the Department in whose service he holds a retired status (18 U.S.C. 281).

(5) He may not, within 3 years after retirement, sell supplies or war materials to any agency of the DOD, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, or the Public Health Service. See 37 U.S.C. 801(c), as amended 9 October 1962; Public Law 87-777, formerly 5 U.S.C. 59(c). See also definition of "selling," in appendix referred to at the beginning of this section.

Each Regular officer retiring hereafter will file this Statement within 30 days after retirement. When the information in the Statement is no longer accurate, each such officer shall file a new DD Form 1357. Statements of Employment (DD Form 1357) or inquiries relative thereto should be forwarded to The Adjutant General, Attention: AGPO-AA, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C. 20310. These Statements will be reviewed to assure compliance with applicable statutes and regulations.

§ 579.37 Officers of the Reserve components.

(a) A Reserve officer who is voluntarily serving a period of extended active duty in excess of 130 days is a full-time Government officer and § 579.33 applies to him.

EXCEPTION. Any Reserve who, before being ordered to active duty, was receiving compensation from any person may, while he is on that duty, receive compensation from that person (10 U.S.C. 1033).

(b) A Reserve officer who is serving on active duty involuntarily for any length of time, and a Reserve officer who is voluntarily serving on extended active duty for 130 days or less, is a "special Government employee," and § 579.34 applies to him.

(c) A Reserve officer (unless otherwise a full-time officer or employee of the United States) who is on active duty solely for training for any length of time is a "special Government employee," and § 579.34 applies to him.

(d) When he is released from active duty, a Reserve officer described in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section, is a "former officer" and § 579.35 applies to him.

(e) Membership in a Reserve component of the Armed Forces or in the National Guard does not, in itself, prevent a person from practicing his civilian profession or occupation before or in connection with any department (5 U.S.C. 30r(c), (d)).

(f) An officer of a Reserve component, whether in a Ready, Standby, or Retired Reserve, who is not on active duty is not, solely because of his status as a Reserve, considered to be an officer or employee of the United States for the purpose of bringing him within the prohibitions summarized in §§ 579.33, 579.34, or 579.35 (5 U.S.C. 30r(c), (d)).

(g) Receipt of retired pay by a Reserve or a former Reserve does not, in itself, make him an officer or employee or a former officer or employee for the purpose of bringing him within the prohibitions summarized in §§ 579.33, 579.34, or 579.35. Section 579.36 does not apply to a Retired Reserve.

(a) The prohibitions against (1) embezzlement of Government money or property (18 U.S.C. 641); (2) failing to account for public money (18 U.S.C. 643); and (3) embezzlement of the money or property of another person in the possession of an employee by reason of his employment (18 U.S.C. 654).

(b) The prohibition against unauthorized use of documents relating to claims from or by the Government (18 U.S.C. 285).

(c) The prohibition against proscribed political activities—The Hatch Act (5 U.S.C. 118i), and 18 U.S.C. 602, 603, 607, and 608. (Civilian employees).

APPENDIX I

EXTRACT FROM APPENDIX C OF CIVIL SERVICE FEDERAL PERSONNEL MANUAL SYSTEM ON SPECIAL GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES (INCLUDING GUIDELINES FOR OBTAINING AND UTILIZING THE SERVICES OF SPECIAL GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES)

Each department and agency should observe the following rules in obtaining and utilizing the services of a consultant, adviser, or other temporary or intermittent employee:

(a) At the time of his original appointment and the time of each appointment thereafter, the department or agency should make its best estimate of the number of days during the following 365 days on which it will require the services of the appointee. A part of a day should be counted as a full day for the purposes of this estimate, and a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday on which duty is to be performed should be counted equally with a regular work day.

(b) Unless otherwise provided by law, an appointment should not extend for more than 365 days. When an appointment extends beyond that period, an estimate as required by paragraph (a) should be made at the inception of the appointment and a new estimate at the expiration of each 365 days thereafter.

(c) If a department or agency estimates, pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b), that an appointee will serve more than 130 days during the ensuing 365 days, the appointee should not be carried on the rolls as a special Government employee and the department or agency should instruct him that he is regarded as subject to the prohibitions of 18 U.S.C. 203 and 205 to the same extent as if he were to serve as a full-time employee. If the estimate is that he will serve no more than 130 days during the following 365 days, he should be carried on the rolls of the department or agency as a special Government employee and instructed that he is regarded as subject only to the restrictions of 18 U.S.C. 203 and 205. Even if it becomes apparent, prior to the end of a period of 365 days for which a department or agency has made an estimate on an appointee, that he has not been accurately classified, he should nevertheless continue to be considered a special Government employee or not, as the case may be, for the remainder of that 365-day period.

(d) An employee who undertakes service with two departments or agencies shall inform each of his arrangements with the other. If both his appointments are made on the same date, the aggregate of the estimates made by the departments or agencies under paragraph (a) or (b) shall be considered determinative of his classification by each. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c), if after being employed by one department or agency, a special Government employee is appointed by a second to serve it in the same capacity, each department or agency should make an estimate of the amount of his service to it for the remaining portion of the 365-day period covered by the original estimate of the first. The sum of the two estimates and of the actual number of days of his service to the first department or agency during the prior portion of such 365-day period shall be considered determinative of the classification of the appointee by each during the remaining portion. If an employee undertakes to serve more than two departments or agencies, they shall classify him in a manner similar to that prescribed in this paragraph for two agencies. Each agency which employs special Government employees who serve other agencies shall designate an officer to coordinate the classification of such employees with such other agencies.

(e) When a person is serving as a member of an advisory committee, board or other group, and is by virtue of his membership thereon an officer or employee of the United States, the requirements of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) should be carried out to the same extent as if he were serving the sponsoring department or agency separately and individually.

(f) The 60-day standard affecting a special Government employee's private activities before his department or agency is a standard of actual past service, as contrasted with the 130-day standard of estimated future service discussed above. A special Government employee is barred from representing another person before his department or agency at times when he has served it for an aggregate of more than 60 days during the past 365 days. Thus, although once having been in effect, the statutory bar may be lifted later by reason of an intervening period of nonservice. In other words, as a matter of law the bar may fluctuate in its effect during the course of a special Government employee's relationship with his department or agency.

(g) A part of a day should be counted as a full day in connection with the 60-day standard discussed in paragraph (f), above, and a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday on which duty has been performed should be counted equally with a regular work day. Service performed by a special Government employee in one department or agency should not be counted by another in connection with the 60-day standard.

To a considerable extent the prohibitions of 18 U.S.C. 203 and 205 are aimed at the sale of influence to gain special favors for private businesses and other organizations and at the misuse of governmental position or information. In accordance with these aims, it is desirable that a consultant or adviser or other individual who is a special Government employee, even when not compelled to do so by 18 U.S.C. 203 and 205, should make every effort in his private work to avoid any personal contact in negotiations for contracts or grants with the department or agency which he is serving if the subject matter is related to the subject matter of his consultancy or other service. It is recognized that this will not always be possible to achieve; for example, in a situation in which a consultant or adviser has an executive position and responsibility with his regular employer which requires him to participate personally in contract negotiations with the department or agency he is advising. When this situation occurs, the consultant or adviser should participate in the negotiations for his employer only with the knowledge of a responsible Government official. In other instances an occasional consultant or adviser may have technical knowledge which is indispensable to his regular employer in his efforts to formulate a research and development contract or a research grant and, for the same reason, it is in the interest of the Government that he should take part in negotiations for his private employer. Again, he should participate only with the knowledge of a responsible Government official.

Section 205 of title 18 contains an exemptive provision dealing with a similar situation which may arise after a Government grant or contract has been negotiated. This provision in certain cases permits both the Government and the private employer of a special Government employee to benefit from his performance of work under a grant or contract for which he otherwise would be disqualified because he had participated in the matter for the Government or it is pending in an agency he has served for more than 60 days in the past year. More particularly, the provision gives the head of a department or agency the power, notwithstanding any prohibition in either 18 U.S.C. 203 or 205, to allow a special Government employee to represent before such department or agency either his regular employer or another person or organization in the performance of work under a grant or contract. As a basis for this action, the department or agency head must first make a certification in writing, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, that it is required by the national interest.

It is necessary occasionally to distinguish between consultants and advisers who are special Government employees and persons who are invited to appear at a department or agency in a representative capacity to speak for firms or an industry, or for labor or agriculture, or for any other recognizable group of persons, including, on occasion, the public at large. A consultant or adviser whose advice is obtained by a department or agency from time to time because of his individual qualifications and who serves in an independent capacity is an officer or employee of the Government. On the other hand, one who is requested to appear before a Government department or agency to present the views of a nongovernmental organization or group which he represents, or for which he is in a position to speak, does not act as a servant of the Government and is not its officer or employee. He is therefore not subject to the conflict of interest laws and is not within the scope of this chapter.

The following principles are useful in arriving at a determination whether an individual is acting before an agency in a representative capacity:

(1) A person who receives compensation from the Government for his services as an adviser or consultant is its employee and not a representative of an outside group. The Government's payment of travel expenses and a per diem allowance, however, does not by itself make the recipient an employee.

(2) It is rare that a consultant or adviser who serves alone is acting in a representative capacity. Those who have representative roles are for the most part persons serving as members of an advisory committee or similar body utilized by a Government agency. It does not follow, however, that the members of every such body are acting as representatives and are therefore outside the range of the conflict of interest laws. This result is limited to the members of committees utilized to obtain the views of nongovernmental groups or organizations.

(3) The fact that an individual is appointed by an agency to an advisory committee upon the recommendation of an outside group or organization tends to support the conclusion that he has a representative function.

(4) Although members of a governmental advisory body who are expected to bind outside organizations are no doubt serving in a representative capacity, the absence of authority to bind outside groups does not require the conclusion that the members are Government employees. What is important is whether they function as spokesmen for nongovernmental groups or organizations and not whether they can formally commit them.

(5) When an adviser or consultant is in a position to act as a spokesman for the United States or a Government agency—as, for example, in an international conference—he is obviously acting as an officer or employee of the Government.

While it would be highly desirable, in order to minimize the occurrence of conflicts of interest, for departments and agencies of the Government to avoid appointing to advisory positions individuals who are employed or consulted by contractors or others having a substantial amount of business with that department or agency, it is recognized that the Government has, of necessity, become increasingly concerned with highly technical areas of specialization and that the number of individuals expert in those areas is frequently very small. Therefore, in many instances it will not be possible for a department or agency to obtain the services of a competent adviser or consultant who is not in fact employed or consulted by such contractors. In addition, an advisory group may of necessity be composed largely or wholly of persons of a common class or group whose employers may benefit from the advice given. An example would be a group of university scientists advising on research grants to universities. Only in such a group can the necessary expertise be found. In all these circumstances, particular care should be exercised to exclude his employer's or clients' contracts or other transactions with the Government from the range of the consultant's or adviser's duties.

Chapter IV—Federal Maritime Commission

SUBCHAPTER B—REGULATIONS AFFECTING MARITIME CARRIERS AND RELATED ACTIVITIES

[General Order 4; Amdt. 9; Docket No. 66-2]

PART 510—LICENSING OF INDEPENDENT OCEAN FREIGHT FORWARDERS

Subpart B—Duties and Obligations

OCEANGOING COMMON CARRIERS AND PERSONS SHIPPING FOR OWN ACCOUNT

On January 20, 1966, the Federal Maritime Commission published a notice of proposed rulemaking in the FEDERAL REGISTER (31 F.R. 764), setting forth a proposed amendment of paragraph (a) of § 510.22 of the Commission's General Order No. 4 (46 CFR § 510.22(a)).

Section 510.22(a) pertains to the licensing of ocean carriers and their agents as independent freight forwarders and presently provides, inter alia, that:

> No licensee may charge or collect compensation in the event he requests the carrier or its agent to perform any of the forwarding services * * * unless no other licensee is willing and able to perform such services.

The Commission originally adopted this portion of the rule "to prevent forwarders in principal ports who may control cargo moving through outports from bypassing forwarders in the outports," thereby causing the erosion of the licensed forwarding industry in such ports.[1] In practice, however, the present rule created problems and caused hardship especially in the smaller outports where the only licensees available for forwarding services are also steamship agents. By the operation of the present rule, the originating carrier is required, in such a situation, to refer the forwarding services to a licensee/agent who is frequently employed by a competing carrier.

The purpose of the present amendment is to attempt to cure the ills of the existing rule by prescribing a procedure whereby port-wide exemptions from the operation of § 510.22(a) would be granted to common carriers or their agents, who also operate as licensed independent ocean freight forwarders. Therefore, the rule, as amended, allows compensation to be paid to the carrier when the outport forwarding services are performed by a licensee/agent if (1) "no other licensee is willing and able to perform such services" or if (2) "the Commission has granted a port-wide exemption from this rule (§ 510.22(a)) to [the] licensee/agent[s]" in the outport.

Written comments on the proposed rule were received from various persons, firms, and organizations and the Commission heard oral argument. The Commission has carefully considered all comments and arguments submitted on the proposed rule and in light thereof herewith adopts and promulgates its final rule. Comments and arguments not discussed nor reflected herein have been considered by the Commission and found not justified or not material.[2]

One association believes that the proposed rule modification would be detrimental to the forwarding industry and to commerce as well. This association refers to the phraseology "unless no other licensee is willing and able to perform such services" and argues that the willingness or ability to perform could be based on the inability of the originating forwarder and the outport forwarder to come to an understanding. We assume that this situation would arise where the originating forwarder was not agreeable to provide a reasonable fee to the outport forwarder, or that the outport forwarder was holding out for a larger fee than the originating carrier was willing to pay. This, of course, would be a matter which could be brought to the Commission's attention by the nonagent/forwarder whenever a licensee/agent applies for a port-wide exemption from the rule.

Some parties would give "grandfather rights" to bona fide licensees who were engaged both in the forwarding and in the agency business on the date the licensing Act was passed, and allow them to continue to handle shipments for originating forwarders without jeopardizing payment of compensation to such forwarder. We are of the opinion that this proposal, if adopted, would be unfair and restrictive to the development of new forwarders in the outports. The forwarder/agents who did not happen to be in business on the controlling date would be virtually precluded from accepting shipments from originating forwarders and, therefore, be at a competitive disadvantage with grandfather forwarder agents. Moreover, it would be all but impossible for new forwarders, free of agency connections, to enter the field because they could not compete with the grandfather forwarder agents.

It also has been urged that the Commission delete from the proposed rule the so-called "adequacy test," contained in Clause (3), which conditions the granting of an exemption upon whether inter alia, there is "an adequate supply of forwarding services * * * being held out by nonagent licensees domiciled at the port of loading * * *." Some parties characterize this clause as "discriminatory and highly objectionable." As an alternative, it is suggested that the Commission adopt a test which would condition the granting of an exemption upon a finding that no improper cargo control by the originating forwarder exists which could endanger the forwarding industry at the outport. This rulemaking proceeding was instituted for the purpose of attempting to resolve the problem of how to foster the outport forwarding industry while at the same time relieve the problem existing at those small ports, where, due to unique circumstances, the Commission's Rule 510.22(a) is actually working a hardship on a few agent/licensees. The suggested clause would do considerably more than relieve the problem; it would in fact grant a broader exemption than necessary. Thus the so-called "improper control test" would permit the use of agent licensees even where independent forwarders were available. This is not conducive to the growth of the forwarding industry in the outports. Moreover, the suggested clause is highly impractical. It would be virtually impossible for the Commission to determine in any given instance whether an originating forwarder was using his control of the cargo "improperly."

Finally, several forwarders objected to the provisions, contained in the last sentence of the proposed rules, for automatic annual review of exemptions. These parties argue that such a provision is unnecessary and burdensome. We have deleted this requirement since it does appear that it would impose an administrative burden on the Commission and the persons regulated by the Commission. This is not to say, however, that the Commission may not reexamine and withdraw a particular outstanding exemption when it deems such action warranted. For where the Commission grants an exemption, it may likewise withdraw that exemption if and when the circumstances justifying the exemption cease to exist.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 USC § 1003) and sections 43 and 44 of the Shipping Act, 1916 (46 USC 841(a) and 841(b)), paragraph (a) of § 510.22 of Title 46 CFR is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 510.22 Oceangoing common carriers and persons shipping for own account.

(a) An oceangoing common carrier, or agent thereof, meeting the requirements of section 44 and these rules, may be licensed. An oceangoing common carrier may perform freight forwarding services without a license only with respect to cargo carried under its own bill of lading, in which case charges for such forwarding services shall be assessed in accordance with published tariffs on file with the Commission. No licensee can charge or collect compensation in the event that he requests the carrier or its agent to perform any of the forwarding services set forth in § 510.2(c) unless no other licensee is willing and able to perform such services; or unless the Commission has granted a portwide exemption from this rule to licensee/agents in the port of loading. Such exemptions may be granted by the Commission upon (1) application of any licensed forwarder/agent serving the port of load-

[2] For instance, some comments question the soundness and legality of Rule 510.22(a), presently in effect, and belabor the principle that freight forwarders ought to be free to collect compensation (brokerages) from carriers even if they utilize carriers or carriers' agents, rather than forwarders, to complete documents at the outport. Not only is this argument not germane to the merits of the present rule making proceeding, but it has been expressly rejected by both this Commission and the Court of Appeals.

ing, (2) publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of notice of application and an opportunity for interested parties to comment and request a hearing, and (3) a finding by the Commission that an adequate supply of forwarding services is not being held out by nonagent licensees domiciled at the port of loading. Exemptions shall remain in effect until otherwise ordered by the Commission.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective 30 days after date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By order of the Commission.[1]

Statement of considerations. Last year during the rice harvest in California, Calrose Rough Rice and Pearl Rough Rice were handled in commercial quantities at higher moisture contents than shown in the then existing moisture meter conversion charts used by the Department. As a result, it was not possible to determine the moisture content of the rice with prescribed meters. The rice trade urged the development and issuance of high moisture charts for Calrose Rough Rice and Pearl Rough Rice. Accordingly, new moisture meter conversion charts have been developed for Calrose Rough Rice with moisture over 25 percent and for Pearl Rough Rice with moisture over 31 percent.

In addition, moisture testing data developed by the Department has shown a need for revising the existing moisture meter conversion charts for Calrose Rough Rice and Pearl Rough Rice at normal moisture contents. In the normal moisture range of 12 to 17 percent, the revisions will reduce the moisture value up to 1 percentage point.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 205(b) of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, as amended [7 U.S.C. 1624(b)], the regulations relating to the U.S. Standards for Rough Rice (7 CFR 68.201 et seq.), are hereby amended as follows:

1. Paragraph (c) of § 68.202 is amended to read:

§ 68.202 Principles governing application of standards.

* * * * *

(c) Moisture. Moisture shall be ascertained by the air-oven method for rice prescribed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as described in Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 147 (1959 Revision), of the Agricultural Marketing Service, or ascertained by any method which gives equivalent results. The Grain Division has determined that equivalent results can be obtained with prescribed moisture meters when used with the moisture meter conversion charts set forth in section 68.233.

* * * * *

2. A new section, designated § 68.233, is added to read as follows:

§ 68.233 Moisture meter method.

The following moisture meter conversion charts shall be used in determining moisture as set forth in § 68.202(c) of this Subpart, provided, however, that the meter readings referred to in the charts shall be obtained by use of meters prescribed for such use by the Grain Division:

(Sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090; 7 U.S.C. 1624; 29 F.R. 16210; 30 F.R. 2160; 30 F.R. 6697; 30 F.R. 1260; 30 F.R. 6597)

The amendments set forth the acceptable moisture meter conversion charts which may be used in determining the moisture content under the U.S. Standards for Rough Rice. There is an immediate need for these moisture meter conversion charts. The harvest of rough rice in California commences about the first of September. The charts are essential for use in determining the moisture content for inspection and grading purposes. Therefore, these charts should be made available for use as soon as possible to be of greatest benefit to the rice industry and ultimately to the consumers. Accordingly, it is found under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003) that notice and other public procedure concerning the amendments are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause is found for making the amendments effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Effective date. The amendments shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 26th day of August 1966.

Associate Administrator.

Chapter VII—Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (Agricultural Adjustment), Department of Agriculture

SUBCHAPTER B—FARM MARKETING QUOTAS AND ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS

[Amdt. 23]

PART 724—BURLEY, FLUE-CURED, FIRE-CURED, DARK AIR-CURED, VIRGINIA SUN-CURED, CIGAR-BINDER (TYPES 51 AND 52), CIGAR-FILLER AND BINDER (TYPES 42, 43, 44, 53, 54 AND 55), AND MARYLAND TOBACCO

Subpart—Allotment and Marketing Quota Regulations, 1963–64 and Subsequent Marketing Years

RATES OF PENALTY PER POUND

The amendments herein are based on the marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1281 et seq.), and are made for the purpose of amending § 724.92 of the Tobacco Allotment and Marketing Quota Regulations, 1963–64 and Subsequent Marketing Years to include the rate of penalty per pound upon marketing of excess tobacco for the 1966–67 marketing year for the kinds of tobacco covered by this subpart except Maryland tobacco. Since quotas are not in effect on the 1966 crop of Maryland tobacco, a penalty rate for Maryland tobacco for such marketing year will not be applicable.

The harvesting of the kinds of tobacco for which the penalty rate for the 1966–67 marketing year are herein announced will shortly begin, and the producers of such kinds of tobacco need to know the penalty rate for such marketing year before they harvest their tobacco. Hence, it is necessary that the amendments set forth herein be made effective at the earliest possible date. In addition, the rate of penalty for a kind of tobacco is the result of a mathematical calculation provided for in section 314 of the Act (7 U.S.C. 1314). Accordingly, it is hereby found and determined that compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1003) is unnecessary and contrary to the public interest and the amendments contained herein shall be effective upon publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

New paragraphs (j) and (k) are added to § 724.92 to read as follows:

Title 50—WILDLIFE AND FISHERIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

SUBCHAPTER B—HUNTING AND POSSESSION OF WILDLIFE

PART 10—MIGRATORY BIRDS

Open Seasons, Bag Limits, and Possession of Certain Migratory Game Birds

Section 3 of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 704), authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Interior, from time to time, having due regard for the zones of temperature and to the distribution, abundance, economic value, breeding habits, and times and lines of flight of migratory game birds, to determine when, to what extent, and by what means, such birds or any part, nest, or egg thereof, may be taken, captured, killed, possessed, sold, purchased, shipped, carried, or transported.

By Notice of Proposed Rule Making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 24, 1966 (31 F.R. 7479), notification was given that the Secretary of the Interior proposed to amend Part 10, Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations. These amendments would specify open seasons, certain closed seasons, shooting hours, and bag and possession limits for migratory game birds for the 1966–67 hunting seasons.

In this connection all interested persons were invited to submit their views, data, or arguments regarding such matters in writing to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C. 20240, within 30 days following the date of publication of the notice.

Subsequently, after due consideration of migratory game bird survey data obtained through investigations conducted by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and State game departments, and from other sources, the several State game departments were informed concerning the shooting hours, season lengths, and daily bag and possession limits proposed to be prescribed for the 1966–67 seasons on waterfowl and coots in all Flyways; on gallinules and common snipe in the Pacific Flyway; on lesser sandhill (little brown) cranes in limited areas of Texas and New Mexico; on whistling swans in Utah; and on ducks, coots, gallinules, and common snipe in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The State game departments were invited to submit recommendations for hunting seasons to conform to the shooting hours, daily bag and possession limits, and season lengths within frameworks of opening and closing dates, as established by this Department.

Accordingly, each State game department having had an opportunity to participate in selecting the hunting seasons desired for its State on those species of migratory game birds for which open seasons are now to be prescribed, and consideration having been given to all other relevant matters presented, it is determined that certain sections of Part 10 shall be amended as set forth below.

The taking of the designated species of migratory game birds is presently prohibited. These amendments will permit taking of those species within specified periods of time beginning as early as October 1, as has been the case in past years. Since these amendments benefit the public by relieving existing restrictions, they shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

1. Section 10.52 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 10.52 Migratory game bird hunting seasons for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Coast Guard

[46 CFR Parts 10, 11, 12]

[CGFR 66-48]

APPRENTICE ENGINEERS

Licensing and Certificating of Merchant Marine Personnel

1. The Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, will consider proposals regarding the establishment of a seaman's entry rating as "apprentice engineer" and recognition of training programs for prospective third assistant engineers, as well as acceptance of the completion of an approved training program as qualifying experience for a license as a third assistant engineer. Interested persons and organizations are requested to submit written comments about the proposals in this document, which should be submitted in triplicate to the Commandant (CMC), U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, D.C. 20226, before October 1, 1966. It is desired that each comment set forth the section identification, the subject, the proposed change, the reason or basis for it, the business firm or organization (if any) and the name and address of the submitter. Each comment submitted will be considered and evaluated. After the rules and regulations are approved by the Commandant, they are published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as required by law.

2. The proposed changes will add new provisions designated 46 CFR 10.10-21 (a)(8) (Third assistant engineer; steam vessels), 11.10-50(a) (last sentence) (Temporary third assistant engineer), and 12.25-35 (Apprentice engineers). The current shortage of licensed third assistant engineers to man the active vessels in the merchant marine, as well as projection of statistics indicating this shortage will become more acute within the next few years, are factors indicating that prompt action needs to be taken to provide additional sources for future manpower needs. These problems have been discussed with representatives of labor and management, representing a large majority of the licensed engineers employed on board seagoing merchant vessels and the owners of such vessels. The Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association and the Brotherhood of Marine Officers have established training programs for prospective licensed engineers.

3. The first proposed program is based on a 2-year course of directed study and practical experience under instruction, as meeting the service requirements for a license as "temporary third assistant engineer." The course would consist of a 6-month academic period ashore, a 12-month period at sea during which the trainee would be participating in a supervised training program, and a final 6-month academic period ashore. When the temporary licensing program is terminated, this program will be revised and extended to a 3-year program.

4. The other proposal consists of the employment of an "apprentice engineer" on board ship under the direct supervision of the Chief Engineer. The trainee would be required to serve two (2) years to be eligible for an original license as temporary third assistant engineer. During this time he would participate in a planned training program of on-the-job training.

5. The Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, the Brotherhood of Marine Officers, and the American Maritime Association have requested approval of these two programs. They have also requested that the rating of "apprentice engineer" be established as an endorsement on the merchant mariner's document of those trainees involved in the programs and that completion of the programs be considered as qualifying experience for a license as third assistant engineer. Both programs would be extended to 3 years when the temporary licensing program is terminated.

6. The authority to prescribe rules and regulations with respect to establishing an entry rating as "apprentice engineer" and qualifications for a third assistant engineer is in R.S. 4405, as amended, 4462, as amended, 4438, as amended, 4438a, as amended, 4441, as amended, 4551, as amended, sec. 13, 38 Stat. 1169, as amended, and secs. 1, 2, 7, 49 Stat. 1544, 1545, as amended, 1936, as amended; 46 U.S.C. 375, 416, 224, 224a, 229, 643, 672, 367, 639. The delegation of authority for the Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, to prescribe regulations is in Treasury Department Order 120, July 31, 1950, 15 F.R. 6521.

7. By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, by section 632 of Title 14, U.S. Code and Treasury Department Order 120, July 31, 1950 (15 F.R. 6521), the actions as described in this document are proposed.

SUBCHAPTER B—MERCHANT MARINE OFFICERS AND SEAMEN

PART 10—LICENSING OF OFFICERS AND MOTORBOAT OPERATORS AND REGISTRATION OF STAFF OFFICERS

Subpart 10.10—Professional Requirements for Engineer Officers' Licenses (Inspected Vessels)

8. It is proposed to amend § 10.10-21 by changing the period (.) to a semicolon and add the word "or," at the end of subparagraph (a)(7) and by adding a new subparagraph (a)(8) reading as follows:

§ 10.10-21 Third assistant engineer; steam vessels.

(a) * * *

(8) Satisfactory completion of a 3-year apprentice engineer training program approved by the Commandant.

PART 11—LICENSES IN TEMPORARY GRADES OR SPECIAL ENDORSEMENTS ON LICENSES TO PERMIT TEMPORARY SERVICE

Subpart 11.10—Licenses in Temporary Grades

9. It is proposed to amend § 11.10-50 by adding at the end of paragraph (a) a new sentence reading as follows:

§ 11.10-50 Temporary Third Assistant Engineer.

(a) * * * Satisfactory completion of a 2-year apprentice engineer training program approved by the Commandant will also be acceptable.

* * * * *

PART 12—CERTIFICATION OF SEAMEN

Subpart 12.25—Certificates of Service for Ratings Other Than Able Seaman or Qualified Member of the Engine Department

10. It is proposed to add to Subpart 12.25 a new § 12.25-35 reading as follows:

§ 12.25-35 Apprentice engineers.

Persons enrolled in an apprentice engineer training program approved by the Commandant and who present a letter or other documentary evidence that they are so enrolled shall be issued a merchant mariner's document as "apprentice engineeer" and may be signed on ships as such. The endorsement "apprentice engineer" may be in addition to other endorsements. Persons holding merchant mariner's documents with the endorsement "apprentice engineer" shall be deemed to be seamen under the provisions of Title 53 of the Revised Statutes and the regulations in this subchapter. However, this endorsement of "apprentice engineer" only does not authorize the holder to fill any of the regular ratings.

Dated: August 31, 1966.

[SEAL] P. E. TRIMBLE,
Vice Admiral, U.S. Coast Guard,
Acting Commandant.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Consumer and Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 55]

EGG PRODUCTS

Grading and Inspection

Notice is hereby given that the U.S. Department of Agriculture is considering amendments to the Regulations Governing the Grading and Inspection of Egg Products, under authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1621–1627).

Statement of considerations. In May 1965, the Department announced changes to the egg products inspection regulations. These changes required pasteurization of egg products produced in official plants and became effective over a period of time beginning June 1, 1965, and ending June 1, 1966. Since that time, the Department has conducted tests to determine the effectiveness of the pasteurization program. These tests show a tremendous reduction in the number of samples of egg products found to be contaminated with Salmonella. In only rare and scattered instances are samples found to be Salmonella positive. Recontamination is the primary cause for this although faulty equipment can sometimes be responsible. The effectiveness of the pasteurization requirements is substantiated in reports and data of other regulatory agencies concerned with this problem. However, the Department feels that routine testing for the presence of Salmonella in pasteurized egg products would give added assurance of producing Salmonella negative product and would materially aid in eliminating or correcting faulty equipment and operating practices where recontamination is possible. The proposed amendments would require the testing of pasteurized egg products for the presence of Salmonella.

Information obtained by the Department also indicates that higher pasteurization temperatures are required for liquid yolks than for liquid whole eggs. Accordingly, the amendments would require that liquid yolks be flash heated to not less than 144° F. and held at this temperature for not less than 3½ minutes. The present 140° F. requirement for liquid whole eggs would not be changed.

The section which requires products to be pasteurized would be rewritten to eliminate the various dates which specified the effective dates or stages for implementation of the pasteurization program.

The regulations require that egg products labeled as "whites and yolks" have the total egg solids content declared on the label if the egg solids content is less than 25½ percent. This 25½ percent figure was established quite some time ago and was based on the natural proportion of solids found in shell eggs used for breaking. There has been some question as to whether this figure is truly representative of the solids content of shell eggs under present production and marketing practices. Shell eggs used as breaking stock today are of a much higher quality than eggs used for similar purposes years ago. There is a correlation between egg quality and egg solids. Generally, higher quality eggs have a lower solids content than lower quality eggs because less shrinkage or loss of moisture has occurred. There are other factors which affect the solids content but quality or freshness is probably the most important. The Department has collected data on this subject and a statistical analysis has recently been completed. This data shows that the solids content of shell eggs used for today's breaking stock is, in fact, below the 25½ percent level. Therefore, the Department proposes to change this figure to 24.75 percent.

The official inspection mark would be changed by deleting the words "selected eggs" and "Processed under Supervision of USDA Licensed Inspector." The term "selected eggs" is no longer applicable because practically all wholesome egg products, other than those produced from storage eggs, may be identified with the shield mark. The other term is only superfluous and in our opinion detracts from the appearance of the mark. In order to provide sufficient time for present label supplies to be utilized, this requirement would not become fully effective until July 1, 1968.

Provision is made in the regulations for the shipment, under certain conditions, of nonpasteurized egg products from one official plant to another for pasteurization or heat treatment. A new inspection mark is proposed for this nonpasteurized product when such product is packaged or placed in containers other than bulk tanks for shipment. This will facilitate control of this product.

The proposal would establish a new section dealing with the classification of shell eggs used in the processing of egg products. This is being done to clarify the types of eggs that can be broken and for the purpose of combining these requirements into one section so that this information is more accessible and understandable to inspectors, users of the service and others. The actual requirements are essentially the same as those presently in use.

The section on egg cleaning operations would be changed to require the temperature of the wash water to be at least 100° F. and that an approved detergent be used. In addition, immersion type washers would be eliminated. These changes will materially affect the cleanliness of eggs arriving at the breaking station since higher temperatures and approved detergents increase the effectiveness of washing and immersion type washers do not comply with present food processing standards.

The condition of liquid egg products deteriorates somewhat from the time of breaking until further processing (pasteurizing, freezing, drying, etc.). The proposal would establish a time limit of 48 hours between breaking and further processing for egg products other than whites which are to be fermented.

In order to lessen the possibilities of recontamination and to aid, generally, in producing a wholesome egg product, certain sections of the regulations dealing primarily with operating procedures, equipment and sanitation would be strengthened. Some of these changes include requiring a packaging room with a filtered positive air ventilation system in an area separate from other processing operations for spray-dried egg products; that surface coolers and all liquid holding vats containing pasteurized product be kept covered while in use and that a suitable inner liner be used for pasteurized egg products packaged in used containers.

The entire section on cooling is rewritten to more clearly specify the requirements presently in effect.

Other changes of a more minor nature are being proposed and certain administrative and clarifying changes would be made.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or comments in connection with this proposal shall file the same in triplicate with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Room 112, Administration Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than October 7, 1966.

All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

The proposed amendments are as follows:

§ 55.2 [Amended]

1. Paragraphs (w) and (y) in § 55.2 would be deleted.

2. Section 55.6(b) would be amended to read:

§ 55.6 Basis of service.

* * * * *

(b) Whenever grading or inspection service is performed on a sample basis, such sample shall be drawn in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph except sampling for the presence of Salmonella shall be in accordance with the provisions set forth in § 55.77(p).

(1) When frozen egg products are packed in 30-pound or larger containers, a sufficient number of randomly selected containers shall be selected equivalent to not less than the square root of the total number in the lot. [Docket No. AO-286-A8]

MILK IN SOUTHEASTERN FLORIDA MARKETING AREA

Notice of Recommended Decision and Opportunity To File Written Exceptions on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and to Order

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of milk in the Southeastern Florida marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, by the 15th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Preliminary statement. The hearing on the record of which the proposed amendments, as hereinafter set forth, to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order as amended, were formulated, was conducted at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on March 3–4, 1966, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued February 10, 1966 (31 F.R. 2730).

The material issues on the record of the hearing relate to:

1. Expansion of the marketing area.
2. Class prices.
3. Butterfat differentials.
4. Location differentials.
5. Classification.
6. Enabling a cooperative to be the handler on bulk tank milk.
7. Diversion of producer milk.
8. Miscellaneous and conforming changes.

A portion (Class I price) of Issue 2 was considered in a separate decision issued June 24, 1966 (31 F.R. 8956). The remainder of that issue and all other issues at the hearing are considered in this decision.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Expansion of the marketing area. The Southeastern Florida marketing area, which now contains four counties (Broward, Dade, Monroe, and Palm Beach), should be expanded by adding the counties of Glades, Hendry, Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, and St. Lucie. The expanded marketing area comprises a contiguous area in which routes of milk handlers doing business in the area are interspersed.

The marketing area expansion was proposed by Independent Dairy Farmers' Association (IDFA), the principal cooperative in the Southeastern Florida market. It was supported at the hearing by the major handlers in the market. There was no opposition to the addition of the six counties to the marketing area.

The handling of milk in the proposed marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce and directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products. The minimum sanitary requirements applicable to Grade A milk throughout the area are those of the State of Florida, which requirements are patterned after the U.S. Public Health Ordinance and Code.

The present marketing area does not constitute the proper marketing area under current marketing conditions. The 10-county area herein proposed as the marketing area represents more appropriately the sales area of the handlers now regulated by the Southeastern Florida order than the present 4-county area.

The total Class I distribution in Glades, Hendry, and Okeechobee Counties is by handlers presently regulated by the Southeastern Florida order. Martin, Indian River, and St. Lucie Counties are supplied from the plants of Southeastern Florida handlers and a presently unregulated plant in Indian River County. The latter plant, in addition to its Class I distribution in these three counties, has a minor amount of Class I sales in Brevard County, immediately to the north of Indian River County.

The operator of the plant in Indian River County obtains milk from four dairy farmers, all of whom are IDFA members. Settlement with the cooperative for these purchases is on the basis of Southeastern Florida order class prices. The operator of this plant indicated no opposition to the proposed expansion of the marketing area.

The present Class I distribution in the six counties proposed to be added to the marketing area is relatively small. However, their population is increasing at a much faster rate than that for the State as a whole. If these counties were excluded from the marketing area, an expanded population could provide an incentive for unregulated handlers to establish routes in the area at the expense of the regulated Southeastern Florida handlers now supplying the market. Such an unregulated handler, absent an order in the proposed area, would have a competitive advantage over the regulated handlers who would be required to pay the minimum order class prices based on their utilizations.

The proposed 10-county marketing area is the basic sales area for the operator of the plant in Indian River County and handlers presently regulated by the Southeastern Florida order. A number of such handlers, however, do have some Class I distribution outside the newly designated marketing area. All producer milk received at regulated plants must be made subject to classified pricing under the order regardless of whether it is disposed of within or outside the marketing area. Otherwise, the effect of the order would be nullified and the orderly marketing process would be jeopardized.

If only a pool handler's "in-area" sales were subject to classification, pricing and pooling, a regulated handler with Class I sales both inside and outside the marketing area could assign any value he chose to his outside sales. He thereby could reduce the average cost of all his Class I milk below that of other regulated handlers having all, or substantially all, of their Class I sales within the marketing area. Unless all milk of such a handler were fully regulated under the order, he in effect would not be subject to effective price regulation. The absence of effective classification, pricing and pooling of such milk would disrupt orderly marketing conditions within the regulated marketing area and could lead to a complete breakdown of the order. If a pool handler were free to value a portion of his milk at any price he chooses, it would be impossible to enforce uniform prices to all fully regulated handlers or a uniform basis of payment to the producers who supply the market.

It is essential, therefore, that the order price all the producer milk received at a pool plant regardless of the point of disposition. Further, the level of class price should be identical on Class I sales inside and outside the marketing area.

The essentials of the classified pricing plan for the Southeastern Florida order, and generally applicable to all Federal orders issued by the Secretary, are to establish one level of price to be paid by handlers for milk which is sold as milk or specified milk products for fluid consumption and other prices for the necessary surplus of the market which is disposed of in lower valued fluid products and in manufactured products.

It is necessary that the class prices effective under the Southeastern Florida order be established at levels which will bring forth a sufficient supply to meet the demands of milk for the particular marketing area but not necessarily to fulfill the requirements of outside markets. Nevertheless, handlers who are regulated by virtue of their sales in the marketing area may have varying proportions of their sales outside the regulated area. This is a situation normally unavoidable even in the establishment of a new marketing area. Sales areas of regulated and unregulated handlers may overlap, and it would be rarely possible, if at all, to find a line of demarcation around an entire marketing area such that no overlapping occurs. Other considerations in establishment of a marketing area may also preclude inclusion of all sales areas of fully regulated handlers.

The problem of establishing a price to supply adequately the marketing area is thus affected by the activity of handlers in selling milk outside the regulated area and in procuring milk for such sales. There is no basis in this price determination for discrimination between milk sold inside and outside the marketing area. The milk sold outside by a regulated plant is processed in the same plant and is produced under similar conditions as milk sold in the marketing area. Thus, the milk moving through the regulated handler's plant, whether it is sold inside or outside the marketing area, is part of the same supply and demand situation upon which proper price level determination must be made.

If the price to farmers were higher for milk sold inside than for milk sold outside the marketing area, returns for disposition in the area would be bearing the greater burden of providing the incentive for milk production for both. To the extent such discrimination in pricing at the procurement level is reflected in higher prices to consumers inside than outside the marketing area, consumers in the marketing area will be subsidizing consumers outside the marketing area.

Further, it is not intended that Federal regulation be susceptible of manipulation to permit the use of adjacent outside markets as a dumping ground for milk in excess of a market's needs. The fixing of a lower price for milk sold in other markets could have a depressing effect on the price paid farmers by unregulated distributors in such markets. Such action would tend to lower blended returns to dairy farmers supplying the unregulated handlers.

2(b). Class II and Class III prices. The Class II price should be established by adding $1, and the Class III price by adding 15 cents, to the basic formula price (Minnesota-Wisconsin manufacturing milk price).

The Southeastern Florida Class II and Class III prices are now determined by separate formulas, both based on the market prices of butter and nonfat dry milk. For the 24 months ending December 1965, the Class II price herein proposed would have averaged $4.225; the average Southeastern Florida Class II price in this period was $4.18. In the same 2-year period, the proposed Class III price averaged $3.375; the effective Class III price was $3.29.

The revised Class II and III formulas were proposed by producers and supported by the major handlers in the market. There was no opposition to the proposals.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin price series reflects the value of ungraded milk used in the production of a wide variety of manufactured dairy products in the major milk production areas of the United States. As such, it is a more appropriate basis for establishing Class II and Class III prices than the market prices for butter and nonfat dry milk. It is now used in establishing class prices other than Class I in 33 Federal orders. Utilizing it in the Southeastern Florida order will tend to obtain a Class II and Class III price level consistent with that prevailing in other markets and will insure an equitable return to producers for Class II and Class III milk.

The proposed Class II and Class III price formulas are the same as those in the Tampa Bay order. Southeastern Florida and Tampa Bay handlers have substantial overlapping in both their supply and sales areas. Providing for the same Class II and Class III prices in these markets will contribute to orderly marketing in these areas where the handlers regulated by these two orders compete for supplies and sales.

When local supplies are short, handlers obtain concentrated dairy products from other sources for further processing into Class II products in their plants. The cost of such supplies are affected by transportation over long distances. Local producer milk supplies used in Class II compete directly with these concentrated products delivered to Southeastern Florida. The proposed Class II formula will tend to obtain a Class II price in close alignment with the cost of these alternative supplies.

Negligible quantities of milk for Class III uses are produced in Southeastern Florida where handlers depend primarily on shipments of products in manufactured form for their Class III requirements. On these manufactured products, they incur transportation charges, although at relatively low rates in terms of dollars per hundredweight of milk equivalent.

The proposed Class III formula will tend to obtain a price at which handlers will accept and market the limited quantities of milk in excess of Class I and Class II needs that may arise from time to time. On the other hand, the proposed formula will not tend to obtain a level of price that would encourage handlers to seek milk supplies solely for the purpose of converting them into Class III products.

3. Butterfat differentials. Provisions for a specified butterfat differential for each class and a weighted producer butterfat differential, the same as in the Tampa Bay order, should be incorporated into this order.

The Southeastern Florida order presently makes no provision for a separate butterfat differential for each class of milk. The only butterfat differential specified in the order is the 7.5-cent differential applicable to the uniform price in paying producers.

The Southeastern Florida producers' proposal that the Tampa Bay butterfat differential provisions be adopted in the order was supported by handlers at the hearing.

As proposed, the Class I and Class II butterfat differentials would be established at 7.5 cents for each one-tenth of 1 percent variation in butterfat above or below 3.5 percent. The Class III and Class IV butterfat differentials would be determined by multiplying the Chicago butter price by 0.115.

The 7.5-cent differential on Class I and Class II milk is, in effect, the same differential that is now applicable to all milk classified under the order. There was no support for any other Class I or Class II differential.

The Class III and Class IV butterfat differential of 11.5 percent of the Chicago butter price will vary from month to month as the price of butter varies, thereby facilitating the movement of butterfat in the reserve supply of milk to manufacturing outlets. The Class III and Class IV butterfat differential, because it is based on current month prices, will not be announced until after the end of the month.

The butterfat differential to producers would be calculated on the average of the Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV butterfat differentials weighted by the proportion of butterfat in producer milk classified in each class during the month. Returns to producers will thus reflect the actual value of their butterfat at the class prices provided by the order.

4. Location differentials. The location differentials should be revised to give consideration to the current procurement and distribution practices of handlers in the proposed enlarged marketing area. The current location differentials have not been changed since the order was promulgated in 1957.

The Class I and uniform prices are now reduced 13 cents for milk received at plants from 60 to 70 miles from Boca Raton and by an additional 1.5 cents for each 10 miles or fraction thereof at plants beyond 70 miles. As proposed herein, the U.S. Post Office at West Palm Beach would replace Boca Raton's Post Office as the point from which location differential mileages are determined. The 13-cent initial rate would be retained but would be applicable at points 80 to 90 miles from the basing point instead of 60 to 70 miles as now provided. The 1.5-cent rate for each 10 miles beyond the initial 13-cent rate would be continued.

The changes herein provided are the same as those proposed by producers, with one exception. Producers proposed that the initial location differential rate be 10 cents instead of 13 cents.

West Palm Beach is 26 miles north of Boca Raton and 64 miles north of Miami, the largest city in the marketing area. Using West Palm Beach instead of Boca Raton as the basing point will result in no location adjustment at plants within approximately 106 miles of Boca Raton instead of within 60 miles as at present. This will generally reduce the location differential 6 to 7.5 cents at the various locations from which milk might be shipped to the marketing area.

The location differential is now applicable at only one pool plant, in Martin County. The relatively small quantity of producer milk received at this plant is obtained through IDFA. Although a 13-cent differential is applicable to the Class I price at this location, the handler pays the cooperative the same Class I price that would be applicable if no location adjustment applied.

If the location differential provisions were not changed, the plant (which would become a pool plant by expansion of the marketing area) in Indian River County would be eligible for a location differential credit of 17.5 cents. However, the actual price paid by the operator of the plant, who is now unregulated, is the same as the Southeastern Florida Class I price without the application of any location differential. His producer milk supply is obtained through IDFA.

Location differentials applicable at the various plants should reflect the efficiency resulting from technological changes in the marketing of milk in recent years. The rates proposed herein to both handlers and producers more appropriately reflect the cost of efficiently moving milk in the Southeastern Florida market under present economic conditions than do the location differentials incorporated into the order in 1957.

Technological improvements such as better roads and larger tank trucks have tended to reduce unit hauling costs for both producers and handlers. The proposed location differentials are in line with the hauling charges currently in effect. The rates now charged by a major hauler in the area for a distance of 925 miles is $1.22 per hundredweight in 5,300 gallon tankers and $1.40 per hundredweight in 4,300 gallon tankers. The location differential rate proposed in this decision would result in a location adjustment of $1.29 for a plant 925 miles from Miami, the principal city in the marketing area.

It is not intended that the Class I price should be dependent on the type of plant receiving the milk. Transportation costs are involved whether supplemental supplies of milk are moved in tank trucks from faraway plants to the marketing area or whether packaged fluid milk products from processing plants at relatively closer locations are distributed on routes in the marketing area.

There was no opposition to replacing Boca Raton with West Palm Beach as the point for measuring location differential mileages. West Palm Beach is one of the larger cities in the marketing area and is more centrally located with respect to the enlarged marketing area. As such, it is a more practicable basing point for determining location differentials under current marketing conditions in the Southeastern Florida marketing area than is Boca Raton.

The producer proposal to reduce from 13 to 10 cents the initial location differential adjustment is denied. The 13-cent rate more nearly approximates the cost of hauling milk the 80 to 90 miles represented by the initial adjustment. The proposed location differential at plants more than 90 miles from West Palm Beach is an additional 1.5 cents for each 10 miles beyond 90. The 1.5-cent rate applied to the midpoint (85 miles) of the 80–90-mile range is 12.75 cents. It was not shown that there is any justification in this market for applying a location adjustment at a lower rate for the initial 80 to 90 miles than for distances beyond 90 miles.

The Southeastern Florida marketing area extends to the southernmost tip of the State. There are no plants in the proposed expanded marketing area to which a location differential as herein provided would be applicable. It would be appropriate, therefore, to specify that the location differentials be applicable only at plants north of West Palm Beach, the basing point for determining such differentials.

The location differential rates herein provided are economically sound and are representative of the cost of transporting milk to market by efficient means. They are comparable with those contained in other Federal milk orders, including the adjoining Tampa Bay order. Moreover, their compatability with location differential rates in the Tampa Bay order will insure a reasonable alignment of prices between the two orders at the various locations in which handlers under the Southeastern Florida and Tampa Bay orders compete.

5. Classification. (a) Producers proposed including in Class I the skim milk and butterfat disposed in the form of Class II products. They asserted that Florida statute requires that Class II products be made from Grade A milk. In practice, however, regulatory authorities permit the use of milk products other than Grade A fluid milk products in the preparation of Class II products.

Historically, Class II products have been included in a separate classification in Florida and priced significantly below the Class I price. This has been the case not only in the Southeastern Florida order since its inception but also under the Florida Milk Commission's regulations. The Tampa Bay order, which became effective at the beginning of this year, also provides a separate classification for Class II products.

No change has taken place in the application of the State statute to require any different classification of Class II products in the Southeastern Florida order than what has been effective in the order since its inception or what has been historically the practice in all Florida markets. The producer proposal to include Class II products in the Class I classification is therefore denied.

(b) Both producers and handlers proposed that the present method of classifying in Class II all skim milk and butterfat "used to produce" Class II products be changed. In its place, they propose that the Class II classification be based on the skim milk and butterfat actually disposed of by a handler in the form of Class II products. At the present time, the skim milk and butterfat used to produce a Class II product (e.g., cream) is classified as Class II even though the ultimate disposition of such product may be in a Class III classification, such as ice cream or butter.

The method herein proposed for establishing the Class II classification at a plant, on the basis of the actual disposition of the Class II product by the handler, is the same as that provided in the Tampa Bay order. Its adoption in the Southeastern Florida order provides a more equitable and appropriate basis for establishing a handler's Class II classification.

The changed basis for establishing the classification of skim milk and butterfat used to produce Class II products requires various revisions in the order. These are necessary since a handler must not only account for the Class II products produced in his plant but also must establish his actual disposition and month-end inventories of such products. The necessary changes in this regard are provided in the attached order.

In order to implement the changed basis for establishing the classification of Class II products on the basis of their disposition, a revised "other source milk" definition is necessary. Such a definition, as proposed by producers and handlers, is the same as that provided in the Tampa Bay order and is equally appropriate under this order.

As proposed and adopted herein, other source milk would include all skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by (a) fluid milk products and Class II products utilized by the handler in his operation (except producer milk and fluid milk products and Class II products from pool plants and in inventory at the beginning of the month), (b) all manufactured dairy products from any source (including those produced in the plant) which are reprocessed or converted into another product during the month, and (c) any disappearance of nonfluid milk products in a form in which they may be converted into Class I products and which are not otherwise accounted for under the order.

So that he may verify the actual utilization of milk received from producers, the market administrator must be in a position to reconcile all receipts of milk and dairy products with the disposition records of the plant. If such records cannot be reconciled, the handler must be held responsible for the shrinkage or the overrun which occurs as the result of the discrepancy between the records of receipts and disposition. Otherwise, the handler with improper records would be in a position to gain an advantage over his competitors who properly account for all milk and other dairy products received. It is equally necessary that the handler be required to account for all nonfluid dairy products in a form in which they can be converted into Class I products. Otherwise, a handler, by failing to keep records of nonfat dry milk and similar products which can be reconstituted into skim milk or other fluid milk products, similarly would gain a competitive advantage over other handlers in the market.

(c) The shrinkage provisions should be revised to recognize current methods of handling milk in the market and to provide equitable division of shrinkage among handlers.

A handler should be permitted a Class III classification as shrinkage on quantities of skim milk and butterfat that are not in excess of 2 percent of producer milk (except that diverted to a nonpool plant), plus 1.5 percent of bulk fluid milk products received from (1) other pool plants, and (2) other order plants and unregulated supply plants (exclusive of the quantity for which a Class II or Class III utilization is requested by the handler), and less 1.5 percent of bulk fluid milk products transferred to other plants. Shrinkage assignable to any remaining receipts of other source milk would continue to be allowed a Class III classification without limit.

The order now provides a Class III shrinkage up to 2 percent of producer receipts and receipts of milk and skim milk in bulk from other order plants and unregulated supply plants (exclusive of the quantity for which a Class II or Class III utilization is requested by the handler). No provision is now made for the division of the shrinkage allowance on interhandler movements of fluid milk products.

The shrinkage provisions herein provided, which were proposed by producers, are patterned after those in the Tampa Bay order and are contained in the great majority of Federal orders. There was no opposition at the hearing to the adoption of the proposed shrinkage provisions.

Plants which are operated in a reasonably efficient manner and for which accurate records of receipts and utilization are maintained should not have plant losses in excess of the maximums provided. Any shrinkage in excess of the maximums should be classified as Class I milk. This is reasonable and necessary to effectuate equitably the classified pricing plan.

It is appropriate to limit the volume of unregulated supply plant milk and other order milk that may be classified in Class III as shrinkage since these types of receipts are allocated pro rata to class uses with the receipts from pool plants and producers. No specific shrinkage limit is necessary on unregulated or other order milk that does not share a pro rata assignment and thus is allocated to Class III uses. The allocation procedures assure assignment of such milk to Class III in an amount at least equal to the shrinkage that may be associated with it.

As provided in this decision, a cooperative is required to be the handler for milk of its member-producers if delivered from the farm to the pool plant in a tank truck owned and operated by or under contract to such cooperative. When a cooperative is the handler under such conditions, the operator of the pool plant receiving this bulk tank milk directly from the farm would settle with the pool and the cooperative for such milk in the same manner as a receipt from producers. However, the full two percent allowance for shrinkage would be permitted the handler only if he is purchasing the milk on the basis of farm weights and the market administrator has been so notified. Otherwise, the maximum shrinkage in Class III allowed the handler on such milk would be 1.5 percent and the cooperative would be responsible for any difference between the gross weight of producer milk received in a tank truck at the farm and that delivered to pool plants. This procedure, which is followed in a number of Federal orders, provides a reasonable basis for the allocation of shrinkage allowance in those instances wherein the cooperative is the responsible handler with respect to milk picked up at producers' farms in bulk tank trucks.

(d) The skim milk and butterfat in fluid milk products and in Class II products in inventory at the end of the month should be classified in Class II. At the present time, only the fluid milk products in inventory are classified in Class II. This is because the skim milk and butterfat in Class II products were considered as having been disposed of in the Class II classification when used to produce a Class II product. As provided elsewhere in this decision, the skim milk and butterfat in Class II products would be classified in Class II only when disposed of from the plant as a Class II product. This change makes it necessary to consider the month-end inventories of such products in determining the classification of milk handled at that plant. This manner of handling inventories is identical with that provided in the Tampa Bay order. In urging its adoption, handlers stressed the desirability of having inventories handled in this same manner in these adjacent orders.

Producers proposed that ending inventories be classified in Class I and that the differences between the Class I prices in each month be taken into account when pricing inventories classified in Class I in the following month. As outlined at the hearing, it was not shown that application of the order would be facilitated or that producers would realize any significant advantage by classifying inventories in Class I.

The fluid milk products and Class II products contained in inventory and classified in Class II might be used in the following month in a Class I, Class II, or Class III classification. On any such inventory used in Class I in the following month, handlers must pay the difference between the applicable Class I price in the month it was utilized and the Class II price at which it was priced in the preceding month. Under the three-classification system in the Southeastern Florida order, this method of handling inventories will tend to work out more practicably and equitably than classifying closing inventories in Class I in the manner proposed by producers. The producer proposal, therefore, is denied.

(e) The order should specify that skim milk and butterfat used to produce milkshake mix be classified in Class III.

Including milkshake mix in Class III was proposed by a regulated handler who recently began producing and distributing this product. Because the order does not now specify another classification for milkshake mix, it is currently classified in Class I.

Milkshake mix is a product more nearly comparable to ice cream mix, a Class III product, than to flavored milk or any other Class I product. The ingredients used in its manufacture are butterfat, nonfat dry milk, sugar, flavoring and stabilizer. The total solids in the end product are in excess of 25 percent. There is no requirement that milkshake mix be made from Grade A milk. It is free from any regulation by local health authorities other than as a food product.

Milkshake mix is generally considered in the same category as frozen dessert and ice cream mixes. As such, it is classified in the same class as such products in a number of other Federal orders. Milkshake mix is sold in Florida in competition with soft frozen desserts, which are readily available in retail food stores. Ice cream manufacturers, who are not subject to order regulation and who handle no Grade A fluid milk products, may and do market milkshake mix in the marketing area. The regulated handler is at a disadvantage in competing with these handlers when he is required to pay the Class I price for skim milk and butterfat used in the production of the milkshake mix. There was no opposition to classifying milkshake mix in Class III in the Southeastern Florida order.

(f) The order now provides a Class IV classification for that milk, the skim milk portion of which is disposed of for livestock feed or dumped. The order does not, however, make any provision for the reclassification from Class I and Class II to a lower-priced class of fluid milk products (other than milk) and Class II products, respectively, that are disposed of for livestock feed or dumped.

Handlers proposed that (except as now provided in the Class IV classification) skim milk and butterfat in fluid milk products and Class II products dumped or disposed of by a handler for livestock feed be classified in Class III.

Class III outlets often represent not only an efficient, but also at times the only, means of disposing of surplus milk and spoiled fluid milk products and Class II products. In the case of route returns of such products as homogenized milk and chocolate milk, it is difficult and impractical to salvage the butterfat for further use. Such butterfat, which is not salvable, should be classified as Class III when dumped or disposed of for livestock feed under the conditions in which a Class IV classification would not be applicable. It is equally appropriate that the skim milk in fluid milk products and Class II products dumped or disposed of for livestock feed be classified in Class III when its disposition does not meet the conditions for a Class IV classification.

A Class III classification of the skim milk and butterfat in fluid milk products and Class II products under the conditions herein proposed is comparable with that provided in Tampa Bay and other Federal milk orders.

6. Enabling a cooperative to be a handler on farm tank milk. A cooperative association should be required to be a handler for milk delivered from the farm to a pool plant in a tank truck owned and operated by or under contract to such association.

Currently, the operator of the plant receiving milk from producers must account for such milk and pay the producers. Once milk from a producer has been commingled with milk from other producers in a tank truck, there is no further opportunity to measure, sample or reject the milk of any individual producer whose milk is included in the load. A similar situation prevails when the milk of an individual producer is delivered in a tank truck to two or more plants. The operator of a pool plant to which bulk tank milk is delivered has an opportunity only to determine the weight and butterfat test of the total load.

If a tank truck picking up milk at the farm is operated under the supervision of a cooperative association, it is the association that determines the weight and butterfat content of each producer's milk. Handlers have no control and generally take no part in determining the weights and butterfat tests of milk at the farm. In some instances, handlers may not even know from which farms the milk is shipped.

The milk delivered by the cooperative as a bulk tank handler would be considered as a receipt of producer milk by the operator of the pool plant at which it was physically received. The pool plant operator's obligation for such milk to the producer-settlement fund, to the administration fund and to the cooperative would be the same as for producer milk received directly from the farm of an individual producer.

In some instances, as discussed earlier in this decision, differences between the quantities of producer milk determined at the farm and ascertained as physically received by the operator of the pool plant would be considered a receipt of producer milk by the cooperative at the location of the pool plant. For such differences, the cooperative (instead of the pool plant operator) would be required to settle with the producer-settlement and administration funds.

Requiring a cooperative to be a handler on its member-producers' bulk tank milk as herein provided will afford a practicable basis of accounting for such milk. In addition, it will provide flexibility to a cooperative's operations in allocating its members' bulk tank milk among handlers and facilitate the diversion of such milk to nonpool plants by the cooperative when it is not needed at regulated plants.

7. Diversion of producer milk. Diversion of producer milk by a cooperative to a nonpool plant should be limited to 25 percent of the milk physically received from its producer-members at pool plants during the month. Similarly, milk diverted by the operator of a pool plant for his account would be limited to 25 percent of the quantity of producer milk physically received at his plant during the month. Unlimited diversion of producer milk is now permitted under the order.

The proposed diversion provisions are the same as those in the Tampa Bay order. They were proposed for inclusion in the Southeastern Florida order by IDFA, the principal cooperative under both orders. There was no opposition to the inclusion of the proposed diversion provisions in the order.

Milk from the farms of producers shipping regularly to Southeastern Florida pool plants may on occasion be shipped to Tampa Bay pool plants. It would be inappropriate to consider such milk received at a Tampa Bay plant as producer milk under the Southeastern Florida order. Such milk's eligibility under a Federal order would more appropriately be determined at the Federal order plant where actually received. In fact, if the Southeastern Florida order permitted the diversion of producer milk to other order plants, it could result in the pricing and pooling of the same milk under two orders.

When milk is not needed in the market for Class I purposes, the movement of such milk to a nonpool plant should be facilitated. It is necessary, however, to provide reasonable limitations on the amount of milk which may be diverted so that only that milk genuinely associated with the market will be diverted and only when it is not needed in the Southeastern Florida market for Class I purposes.

On a monthly basis, Southeastern Florida producers do not produce large quantities of milk in excess of the market's fluid requirements. Diversion provisions are for the purpose of enabling handlers and cooperatives to divert producer milk on such occasions as weekends and holidays, when it is not needed in the market for Class I purposes. The limitations herein proposed will be sufficient to accommodate diversion under current marketing conditions and will facilitate the orderly disposition of producer milk.

It is important that only milk genuinely associated with the market should be eligible for diversion to nonpool plants. The order now provides such a safeguard. At least 8 days' production of a dairy farmer must be physically received at a pool plant during either the current or preceding month to qualify him as a producer. A dairy farmer shipping on an every-other-day basis would, under this standard, be required to ship only 4 days.

Milk diverted to nonpool plants in excess of the limitation provided would not be considered producer milk. Hence, eligibility for pricing and pooling under the order would be forfeited on a quantity of milk equal to such excess. In such instances, the diverting handler would specify which milk is ineligible as producer milk. If the handler fails to make such designation, thereby making it infeasible for the market administrator to determine which milk was overdiverted, all milk diverted to nonpool plants by such handler would be made ineligible as producer milk.

A high proportion of milk produced for the Southeastern Florida market is utilized for Class I purposes. Hence, it is not likely that it will be necessary to divert producer milk to nonpool plants for extended periods or that such milk will move great distances from the market. To facilitate the pricing of such milk, therefore, it is appropriate to consider it as having been received at the plant from which diverted for the purpose of applying location pricing under the order.

8. Miscellaneous and conforming changes. The entire order should be redrafted to incorporate conforming and clarifying changes and to facilitate application of its various provisions.

(a) Producers proposed that various terms be explicitly defined in the order. The definitions added pursuant to the producer proposal, and to which there was no opposition, are commonly provided in Federal orders. The definitions for "distributing plant," "supply plant," "fluid milk product," and "Class II product" incorporated into the attached order are similar to those in the Tampa Bay order. Their inclusion in the Southeastern Florida order will be helpful in the administration of the order.

(b) The changes in the reporting provisions in the attached order were proposed by producers and supported by handlers. The most significant changes in this regard are those providing for reports to the market administrator by pool plant operators and cooperatives in those instances in which the cooperative elects to be the handler on farm tank milk. These reporting provisions are commonly provided in Federal orders in which a cooperative may be the handler on farm tank milk. They are equally appropriate and necessary under this order.

Another change would require reports by cooperatives and handlers to the market administrator of milk diverted to nonpool plants. Such information is necessary in determining whether the milk moved from dairy farms regularly supplying the market to nonpool plants may be included in the pool.

(c) Elsewhere in this decision, provision is made for replacing Boca Raton with West Palm Beach as a point from which location differential mileages are determined. It it likewise appropriate, therefore, to replace Boca Raton with West Palm Beach as a point from which the surplus disposal area under the transfer provisions of the order would be based. Accordingly, a classification other than Class I or Class II would, under certain conditions, be permitted on fluid milk products or Class II products transferred or diverted from a pool plant to nonpool plants within 500 miles of West Palm Beach (instead of Boca Raton as is now provided).

(a) A dairy farmer who has shipped less than 8 days' production during the month to a pool plant does not qualify as a producer under the Southeastern Florida order. Hence, such milk received at a pool plant is not producer milk and may not be pooled. Instead, it is considered the receipt of other source milk at the pool plant. Under the present allocation provisions, such milk is subtracted from a handler's utilization in series beginning with Class IV in the same manner as are receipts of ungraded fluid milk products. On any of such milk allocated to Class I, the handler must pay the difference between the Class I and Class III price.

Receipts at a pool plant from a dairy farmer who fails to qualify as a producer are now treated differently than if first received at an unregulated plant and then moved to a pool plant. Under the conditions in the Southeastern Florida order, it is more appropriate that such milk be treated the same as milk received at a pool plant from unregulated supply plants. In this manner, such milk would be allocated pro rata to a handler's overall utilization to the extent that not less than 80 percent of regulated milk at the handler's plants would be assigned to Class I. All additional unregulated milk would then be allocated in series beginning with Class IV. Any dairy farmer milk allocated to Class I would be subject to a payment to the pool of the difference between the Class I and uniform price.

(e) The order should provide that a dairy farmer may deliver milk to a nonpool plant during the month without losing his producer status. This was temporarily achieved by a suspension action effective April 9, 1966 (31 F.R. 5611). Prior to that time, any such delivery to a nonpool plant (except by diversion) caused a dairy farmer to lose his producer status for the month.

Until January 1, 1966, Southeastern Florida producer milk could be diverted to the unregulated Tampa Bay area plants without losing its producer milk status. This is because the milk so moved was considered as producer milk diverted to a nonpool plant. The status of such milk received at Tampa Bay area plants changed when the Tampa Bay order became effective January 1, 1966. Such milk no longer qualifies for diversion under the Southeastern Florida order because the order does not permit diversion to an other order plant. Thus, any such milk delivered by a dairy farmer to Tampa Bay pool plants is considered producer milk under the Tampa Bay order and is priced and pooled under that order. The provision under consideration, however, precludes milk delivered during the same month to a Southeastern Florida pool plant by the same dairy farmer from being producer milk under the Southeastern Florida order.

IDFA is the principal cooperative in both the Southeastern Florida and Tampa Bay orders. The marketing of its members' milk is facilitated when it can move unneeded supplies in temporary periods of shortage in the Tampa Bay market from the farms of its producers under the Southeastern Florida order. The removal of the provision in the Southeastern Florida order that causes a dairy farmer to lose his producer status under that order by a delivery to a nonpool plant will contribute to the efficient marketing of milk under the two orders.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

General findings. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Recommended marketing agreement and order amending the order. The following order amending the order as amended regulating the handling of milk in the Southeastern Florida marketing area is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order, as hereby proposed to be amended:

§ 1013.44 Transfers.

Skim milk or butterfat shall be classified:

(a) At the utilization indicated by the operators of both plants, otherwise as Class I milk, if transferred in the form of a fluid milk product or a Class II product from a pool plant to the pool plant of another handler, subject to the following conditions:

(1) The skim milk or butterfat so assigned to each class shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in such class in the transferee plant after computations pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(11) and the corresponding step of § 1013.46(b);

(2) If the transferor plant received during the month other source milk to be allocated pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(3) and (4), the skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be classified so as to allocate the least possible Class I utilization to such other source milk; and

(3) If the transferor handler received during the month other source milk to be allocated pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(10) or (11) and the corresponding steps of § 1013.46(b), the skim milk and butterfat so transferred up to the total of such receipts shall not be classified as Class I milk to a greater extent than would be applicable to a like quantity of such other source milk received at the transferee plant.

(b) As Class I milk, if transferred or diverted in the form of a fluid milk product to a nonpool plant that is neither an other order plant nor a producer-handler plant, located more than 500 miles by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance as determined by the market administrator, from the main U.S. Post Office in West Palm Beach.

(c) As Class I milk, if transferred or diverted in bulk in the form of a fluid milk product or a Class II product to a nonpool plant that is neither an other order plant nor a producer-handler plant located not more than 500 miles, by the shortest hard-surfaced highway distance as determined by the market administrator, from the main U.S. Post Office in West Palm Beach, unless the requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are met, in which case the skim milk and butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified in accordance with the assignment resulting from subparagraph (3) of this paragraph:

(1) The transferring or diverting handler claims classification in Class II or Class III in his report submitted to the market administrator pursuant to § 1013.30;

(2) The operator of such nonpool plant maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat received at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification; and

(3) The skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be classified on the basis of the following assignment of utilization at such nonpool plant in excess of receipts of packaged fluid milk products from all pool plants and other order plants:

(i) Any Class I utilization disposed of on routes in the marketing area shall be first assigned to the skim milk and butterfat in fluid milk products so transferred or diverted from pool plants, next pro rata to receipts from other order plants and thereafter to receipts from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply of Grade A milk for such nonpool plant;

(ii) Any Class I utilization disposed of on routes in the marketing area of another order issued pursuant to the Act shall be first assigned to receipts from plants fully regulated by such order, next pro rata to receipts from pool plants and other order plants not regulated by such order, and thereafter to receipts from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for such nonpool plant;

(iii) Class I utilization in excess of that assigned pursuant to subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph shall be assigned first to remaining receipts from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for such nonpool plant and Class I utilization in excess of such receipts shall be assigned pro rata to unassigned receipts at such nonpool plant from all pool and other order plants;

(iv) To the extent that Class I utilization is not so assigned to it, the skim milk and butterfat in fluid milk products so transferred shall be classified as Class III milk to the extent available and the remainder as Class II milk; and

(v) To the extent that Class I or Class III utilization is not assigned to it, the skim milk and butterfat in Class II products so transferred shall be classified as Class II milk.

(d) As follows, if transferred in the form of a fluid milk product or Class II product to an other order plant in excess of receipts from such plant in the same category as described in subparagraph (1), (2), or (3) of this paragraph:

(1) If transferred in packaged form, classification shall be in the classes to which allocated under the other order;

(2) If transferred in bulk form, classification shall be in the classes to which allocated under the other order (including allocation under the conditions set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph);

(3) If the operators of both the transferor and transferee plants so request in the reports of receipts and utilization filed with their respective market administrators, transfers in bulk form shall be classified as Class II or Class III to the extent of the Class II or Class III utilization (or comparable utilization under such other order) available for such assignment pursuant to the allocation provisions of the transferee order;

(4) If information concerning the classification to which allocated under the other order is not available to the market administrator for purposes of establishing classification pursuant to this paragraph, classification shall be as Class I subject to adjustment when such information is available;

(5) For purposes of this paragraph, if the transferee order provides for more than two classes of utilization, skim milk and butterfat allocated to a class consisting primarily of fluid milk products shall be classified as Class I, and allocations to other classes and shall be classified in a comparable classification as Class II or Class III milk; and

(6) If the form in which any fluid milk product is transferred to an other order plant is not defined as a fluid milk product under such other order, classification shall be in accordance with the provisions of § 1013.41.

(e) As Class II (to the extent of such utilization in the transferee plant) if transferred to the plant of a producer-handler in the form of a Class II product, unless a Class III classification is requested by the operators of both plants and sufficient Class III utilization is available in the transferee plant.

§ 1013.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class.

For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and other obvious errors, the reports submitted by each handler pursuant to § 1013.30(a) and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk, Class II milk, Class III milk and Class IV milk at each pool plant: Provided, That the skim milk contained in any product utilized, produced or disposed of by the handler during the month shall be considered to be an amount equivalent to the nonfat milk solids contained in such product, plus all of the water originally associated with such solids.

§ 1013.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified.

After making the computations pursuant to § 1013.45, the market administrator shall determine the classification of producer milk for each handler for each month or other accounting period described in paragraph (d) of this section as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class III the pounds of skim milk classified as Class III pursuant to § 1013.41(c)(5);

(2) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the pounds of skim milk in fluid milk products received in packaged form from other order plants as follows:

(i) From Class III milk, the lesser of the pounds remaining or two percent of such receipts; and

(ii) From Class I milk, the remainder of such receipts;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class III, the pounds of skim milk in other source milk as specified in § 1013.17(b);

(4) Subtract in the order specified below from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class IV, the pounds of skim milk in each of the following:

(i) Receipts of fluid milk products for which Grade A certification is not established, or which are from unidentified sources; and

(ii) Receipts of fluid milk products from a producer-handler, as defined under this or any other Federal order;

(5) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class III (and then Class II), the pounds of skim milk in Class II products received from nonpool plants for which the handler requests a Class III utilization;

(6) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class II, Class III and Class IV, pro rata to such quantities, the pounds of skim milk in Class II products received from nonpool plants that were not subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph;

(7) Subtract, in the order specified below, from the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class IV, Class III and/or Class II (beginning with Class IV unless otherwise specified) but not in excess of such quantity or quantities:

(i) Receipts of fluid milk products from unregulated supply plants and in other source milk from dairy farmers (except that subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (4) of this paragraph):

(a) For which the handler requests such utilization; or

(b) Which are in excess of the pounds of skim milk determined by subtracting from 125 percent of the pounds of skim milk remaining in Class I milk, the sum of the pounds of skim milk in producer milk, in receipts of fluid milk products from pool plants of other handlers, and in receipts of fluid milk products in bulk from other order plants; and

(ii) Receipts of fluid milk products in bulk from an other order plant in excess of similar transfers to such plant, if Class III or Class II utilization was requested by the operator of such plant and the handler;

(8) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class, in series beginning with Class II milk (and then Class I), the pounds of skim milk in inventory of fluid milk products and Class II products at the beginning of the month;

(9) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class III milk the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph;

(10) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, pro rata to such quantities, the pounds of skim milk in receipts of fluid milk products from unregulated supply plants and in other source milk from dairy farmers that were not subtracted pursuant to subparagraphs (4) and (7)(i) of this paragraph;

(11) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in the following order, the pounds of skim milk in receipts of fluid milk products in bulk from other order plants, in excess in each case of similar transfers to the same plant, that were not subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (7)(ii) of this paragraph:

(i) In series beginning with Class IV and thereafter from Class III and Class II, the pounds determined by multiplying the pounds of such receipts by the larger of the percentage of estimated Class II, Class III, and Class IV utilization of skim milk announced for the month by the market administrator pursuant to § 1013.27(l) or the percentage that Class II, Class III, and Class IV utilization remaining is of the total remaining utilization of skim milk of the handler; and

(ii) From Class I, the remaining pounds of such receipts;

(12) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the pounds of skim milk in fluid milk products and in Class II products received from pool plants of other handlers according to the classification of such products pursuant to § 1013.44(a); and

(13) If the pounds of skim milk remaining exceed the pounds of skim milk in producer milk, subtract such excess from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in series beginning with Class IV. Any amount so subtracted shall be known as "overage";

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section;

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of producer milk in each class as computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section; and

(d) A handler may account for receipts of milk, utilization of milk and classification of milk, at his plant, for periods within a month if he notifies the market administrator in writing of his intention to use such accounting period not later than the end of every accounting period.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 1013.50 Basic formula price.

The basic formula price shall be the average price per hundredweight for manufacturing grade milk, f.o.b. plants in Wisconsin and Minnesota, as reported by the Department for the month. Such price shall be adjusted to a 3.5 percent butterfat basis by a butterfat differential (rounded to the nearest one-tenth cent) at the rate of the Chicago butter price times 0.12 and rounded to the nearest cent. However, for the purpose of computing the Class I price for each month from the effective date of this order through March 1967, the basic formula price shall not be less than $4.

§ 1013.51 Class prices.

Subject to the provisions of §§ 1013.52 and 1013.53, the class prices per hundredweight for the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I price. From the effective date of this paragraph through June 1967, the Class I price shall be the basic formula price for the preceding month plus $3.20.

(b) Class II price. The Class II price shall be the basic formula price for the month plus $1.

(c) Class III price. The Class III price shall be the basic formula price for the month plus 15 cents.

(d) Class IV price. The Class IV price shall be computed as follows: Multiply the Chicago butter price by 1.25, add 4 cents and multiply the result by 3.5.

§ 1013.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers.

For milk containing more or less than 3.5 percent butterfat, the class prices pursuant to § 1013.51 shall be increased or decreased, respectively, for each one-tenth percent butterfat at the following rates:

(a) Class I and Class II prices, 7.5 cents; and

(b) Class III and Class IV prices, 0.115 times the Chicago butter price for the month.

§ 1013.53 Location adjustments to handlers.

(a) The Class I price for producer milk and other source milk (for which a location adjustment is applicable) at a plant north of, and 80 miles or more from, the U.S. Post Office in West Palm Beach, Florida, shall be reduced 13 cents and an additional 1.5 cents for each 10 miles or fraction thereof that such plant is more than 90 miles from the U.S. Post Office in West Palm Beach.

(b) For the purpose of calculating location differentials, receipts of fluid milk products from pool plants shall be assigned any remainder of Class I milk at the transferee plant that is in excess of the sum of producer milk receipts at such plant and that assigned as Class I to receipts from other order plants and unregulated supply plants. Such assignment shall be made in sequence according to the location differential applicable at each plant, beginning with the plant nearest the U.S. Post Office in West Palm Beach.

§ 1013.54 Use of equivalent prices.

If, for any reason, a price quotation required by this order for computing class prices or for other purposes is not available in the manner described, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to the price which is required.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 1013.60 Producer-handler.

Sections 1013.50 through 1013.54, 1013.61, 1013.62, 1013.70 through 1013.74, and 1013.80 through 1013.86 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 1013.61 Plants where other Federal orders may apply.

Upon determination by the Secretary pursuant to this section, any plant specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section shall be a nonpool plant, except that the operator of such plant shall, with respect to the total receipts and disposition of skim milk and butterfat at the plant, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator:

(a) Any plant meeting the requirements of a pool plant pursuant to § 1013.10(b) but not pursuant to § 1013.10(a) which, if it were not a pool plant under this part, would be fully subject to the classification and pooling provisions of another order issued pursuant to the Act;

(b) Any plant meeting the requirements of a pool plant pursuant to § 1013.10(b) but not pursuant to § 1013.10(a) at which all receipts of skim milk and butterfat during the month would be priced and pooled under the terms of another order(s) issued pursuant to the Act if such plant were not a pool plant under this order: Provided, That such pricing and pooling results in all skim milk and butterfat disposed of from the plant in the form of milk and skim milk during the month being Class I milk under the terms of another order(s) issued pursuant to the Act; and

(c) Any plant which does not dispose of a greater volume of Class I milk on routes in the Southeastern Florida marketing area than in the marketing area regulated pursuant to such other order.

§ 1013.62 Obligations of handler operating a partially regulated distributing plant.

Each handler who operates a partially regulated distributing plant shall pay to the market administrator for the producer-settlement fund on or before the 25th day after the end of the month either of the amounts (at the handler's election) calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. If the handler fails to report pursuant to §§ 1013.30 and 1013.31(c) the information necessary to compute the amount specified in paragraph (a) of this section, he shall pay the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section:

(a) An amount computed as follows:

(1) (i) The obligation that would have been computed pursuant to § 1013.70 at such plant shall be determined as though such plant were a pool plant. For purposes of such computation, receipts at such nonpool plant from a pool plant or an other order plant shall be assigned to the utilization at which classified at the pool plant or other order plant and transfers from such nonpool plant to a pool plant or an other order plant shall be classified as Class II or Class III milk if allocated to such class at the pool plant or other order plant and be valued at the weighted average price of the respective order if so allocated to Class I milk. There shall be included in the obligation so computed a charge in the amount specified in § 1013.70(e) and a credit in the amount specified in § 1013.82(b)(2) with respect to receipts from an unregulated supply plant, unless an obligation with respect to such plant is computed as specified below in this subparagraph.

(ii) If the operator of the partially regulated distributing plant so requests, and provides with his reports pursuant to §§ 1013.30 and 1013.31(c) similar reports with respect to the operations of any other nonpool plant which serves as a supply plant for such partially regulated distributing plant by shipments to such plant during the month equivalent to the requirements of § 1013.10(b), with agreement of the operator of such plant that the market administrator may examine the books and records of such plant for purposes of verification of such reports, there will be added the amount of the obligation computed at such nonpool supply plant in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as for the partially regulated distributing plant.

(2) From this obligation, there will be deducted the sum of: (i) The gross payments made by such handler for Grade A milk received during the month from dairy farmers at such plant and like payments made by the operator of a supply plant(s) included in the computations pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and (ii) any payments to the producer-settlement fund of another order under which such plant is also a partially regulated distributing plant.

(b) An amount computed as follows:

(1) Determine the respective amounts of skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk on routes in the marketing area;

(2) Deduct the respective amounts of skim milk and butterfat received as Class I milk at the partially regulated distributing plant from pool plants and other order plants, except that deducted under a similar provision of another order issued pursuant to the Act;

(3) Combine the amounts of skim milk and butterfat remaining into one total and determine the weighted average butterfat content; and

(4) From the value of such milk at the Class I price applicable at the location of the nonpool plant, subtract its value at the uniform price applicable at such location (not to be less than the Class III price).

§ 1013.63 Person producing milk.

The person who produces milk shall be considered to be the person who is responsible for the milk production enterprise on a continuing basis as to management and risk.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICES TO PRODUCERS

§ 1013.70 Computation of the net pool obligation of each pool handler.

The net pool obligation of each handler pursuant to § 1013.13 (a), (c), and (d) during each month shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply the quantity of producer milk in each class, as computed pursuant to § 1013.46(c), by the applicable class price;

(b) Add the amount obtained from multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(13) and the corresponding step of § 1013.46(b) by the applicable class prices;

(c) Add the amount obtained from multiplying the difference between the Class II price for the preceding accounting period and the Class I price for the current month by the hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(8) and the corresponding step of § 1013.46(b);

(d) Add an amount equal to the difference between the value at the Class I price applicable at the pool plant and the value at the Class III price, with respect to skim milk and butterfat in other source milk subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 1013.46(a) (3) and (4) and the corresponding steps of § 1013.46(b); and

(e) Add an amount equal to the value at the Class I price adjusted for location of the nearest nonpool plant(s) from which an equivalent volume was received, with respect to skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 1013.46(a)(10) and the corresponding step of § 1013.46(b).

§ 1013.71 Computation of uniform price.

For each month the market administrator shall compute the uniform price as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 1013.70 for all handlers who filed the reports prescribed by § 1013.30 for the month and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 1013.80 and 1013.82 for the preceding month;

(b) Add or subtract for each one-tenth percent that the average butterfat content of milk represented by the values specified in paragraph (a) of this section is less or more, respectively, than 3.5 percent, the amount obtained by multiplying such difference by the butterfat differential pursuant to § 1013.72 and multiply the result by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(c) Add an amount equal to the total value of the location differentials computed pursuant to § 1013.73;

(d) Add an amount equal to one-half of the unobligated balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(e) Divide the resulting amount by the sum of the following for all handlers included in these computations:

(1) The total hundredweight of producer milk; and

(2) The total hundredweight for which a value is computed pursuant to § 1013.70(e); and

(f) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight.

§ 1013.72 Butterfat differential to producers.

The uniform price shall be increased or decreased for each one-tenth percent that the butterfat content of such milk is above or below 3.5 percent, respectively, at the rate (rounded to the nearest one-tenth cent) determined by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in producer milk allocated to each class pursuant to § 1013.46 by the respective butterfat differential for each class.

§ 1013.73 Location differentials to producers and on nonpool milk.

(a) The uniform price for producer milk received at a pool plant shall be reduced according to the location of the pool plant at the rates set forth in § 1013.53; and

(b) For purposes of computations pursuant to §§ 1013.82 and 1013.83, the uniform price shall be adjusted at the rates set forth in § 1013.53 applicable at the location of the nonpool plant from which the milk was received.

§ 1013.74 Notification of handlers.

On or before the 11th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall mail to each handler, at his last known address, a statement showing:

(a) The amount and value of his producer milk in each class and the total thereof;

(b) The uniform price for producer milk computed pursuant to § 1013.71 and the butterfat differential to producers;

(c) The amount and value of his producer milk at the uniform price; and

(d) The amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 1013.82, 1013.85, and 1013.86, and the amount due such handler pursuant to § 1013.83.

PAYMENTS

§ 1013.80 Time and method of payment for producer milk.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall make payment to each producer from whom milk is received as follows:

(1) On or before the 20th day of each month to each producer who did not discontinue shipping milk to such handler before the 15th day of the month, an amount equal to not less than the uniform price for the preceding month less 10 percent, but not to exceed $6, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producer during the first 15 days of the month, less proper deductions authorized by such producer to be made from payments due pursuant to this paragraph;

(2) On or before the fifth day of the following month to each producer who did not discontinue shipping milk to such handler before the last day of the month, an amount equal to not less than the uniform price for the preceding month less 10 percent, but not to exceed $6, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producer after the 15th and through the last day of the month, less proper deductions authorized by such producer to be made from payments due pursuant to this paragraph; and

(3) On or before the 15th day of the following month, to each producer an amount equal to not less than the uniform price computed pursuant to § 1013.71 adjusted by the butterfat and location differentials to producers, multiplied by the total pounds of milk received from such producer, subject to the following adjustments:

(i) Less payments made to such producer pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph;

(ii) Less marketing service deductions made pursuant to § 1013.85;

(iii) Plus or minus adjustments for errors made in previous payments made to such producer; and

(iv) Less proper deductions authorized by such producer: Provided, That if by the date specified, such handler has not received full payment from the market administrator pursuant to § 1013.83 for such month, he may reduce pro rata his payments to producers by not more than the amount of such underpayment and payments to producers shall be completed thereafter not later than the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following after receipt of the balance due from the market administrator;

(b) Upon receipt of a written request from a cooperative association which the Secretary determines is authorized by its members to collect payment for their milk and receipt of a written promise to reimburse the handler the amount of any actual loss incurred by him because of any improper claim on the part of the association, each handler shall on or before the second day prior to each date on which payments are due individual producers, pay the cooperative association for milk received from the producer-members of such association as determined by the market administrator during the period for which payment is made, an amount equal to not less than the total due such producer-members as determined pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(c) Each handler who received milk from producers for which payment is to be made to a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section shall report to such cooperative association or to the market administrator for transmittal to such cooperative association for each such producer as follows:

(1) On or before the 25th day of the month, the total pounds of milk received during the first 15 days of the month; and

(2) On or before the 10th day of the following month: (i) The total pounds of milk received during the month, (ii) the pounds of milk received each day, together with the butterfat content of such milk, (iii) the amount or rate and nature of any authorized deductions to be made from payments, and (iv) the amount and nature of payments due pursuant to § 1013.84.

§ 1013.81 Producer-settlement fund.

The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 1013.62, 1013.82 and 1013.84 and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to §§ 1013.83 and 1013.84: Provided, That any payments due to any handler shall be offset by any payments due from such handler.

§ 1013.82 Payments to the producer-settlement fund.

On or before the 12th day after the end of the month, each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the total amounts specified in paragraph (a) of this section exceed the amounts specified in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That to this amount shall be added one-half of 1 percent of any amount due the market administrator pursuant to this section for each month or portion thereof that such payment is overdue: And provided further, That the requirement as to date of payment pursuant to this section shall be considered to have been met if the payment is made by mail postmarked not later than the required payment date:

(a) The net pool obligation computed pursuant to § 1013.70 for such handler; and

(b) The sum of:

(1) The value of such handler's producer milk at the applicable uniform prices specified in § 1013.80(a)(3); and

(2) The value at the uniform price pursuant to § 1013.71 at the location of the plant(s) from which received (not to be less than the value at the Class III price) with respect to other source milk for which a value is computed pursuant to § 1013.70(e).

§ 1013.83 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund.

On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the amount, if any, by which the amount computed pursuant to § 1013.82(b) exceeds the amount computed pursuant to § 1013.82(a). If, at such time, the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the funds are available.

§ 1013.84 Adjustment of accounts.

Whenever audit by the market administrator of any reports, books, records, or accounts or other verification discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from a handler, (b) a handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from a handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred.

§ 1013.85 Marketing services.

(a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers for milk pursuant to § 1013.80, shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month. Such money shall be used by the market administrator to provide market information and to check the accuracy of the testing and weighing of their milk for producers who are not receiving such services from a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section; and

(b) In the case of producers who are members of a cooperative association which the Secretary has determined is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall (in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section) make such deductions from the payments to be made to producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between the cooperative association and its members. On or before the 15th day after the end of each month, the handler shall pay the aggregate amount of such deductions to the cooperative association, furnishing a statement showing the amount of the deductions and the quantity of milk on which the deduction was computed for each producer.

§ 1013.86 Expense of administration.

(a) As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of the order, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month four cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to (1) producer milk (including such handler's own production), (2) other source milk allocated to Class I pursuant to § 1013.46(a) (3), (4), and (10) and the corresponding steps of § 1013.46(b), and (3) Class I milk disposed of from a partially regulated distributing plant on routes in the marketing area that exceeds Class I milk received during the month at such plant from pool plants and other order plants.

(b) With respect to payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, if a handler uses more than one accounting period in a month, the rate of payment per hundredweight for such handler shall be the rate for monthly accounting periods multiplied by the number of accounting periods in the month, or such lesser rate as the Secretary may determine is demonstrated as appropriate in terms of the particular costs of administering the additional accounting periods.

§ 1013.87 Termination of obligations.

The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligations under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate 2 years after the last day of the month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such 2-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain, but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The months during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the names of such producers or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid;

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the 2-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said 2-year period, with respect to such obligation, shall not begin to run until the first day of the month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representative;

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed; and

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate 2 years after the end of the month during which the payment (including deduction or setoff by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c(15)(A) of the Act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 1013.100 Effective time.

The provisions of this part, or any amendment thereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

§ 1013.101 Suspension or termination.

The Secretary shall, whenever he finds that any or all provisions of this part, or any amendment thereto, obstruct or do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act, terminate or suspend the operation of any or all provisions of this order or any amendment thereto.

§ 1013.102 Continuing obligations.

If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, or any amendment thereto, there are any obligations thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 1013.103 Liquidation.

Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidating and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 1013.110 Agent.

The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent and representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 1013.111 Separability of provisions.

If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision, and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Credit Corporation

SALES OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

September 1966 CCC Monthly Sales List

Notice to buyers. Pursuant to the policy of Commodity Credit Corporation issued October 12, 1954 (19 F.R. 6669), and subject to the conditions stated therein as well as herein, the commodities listed below are available for sale and, where noted, for redemption of payment-in-kind certificates on the price basis set forth.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced the prices at which CCC commodity holdings are available for sale beginning at 3 p.m., e.d.t., on August 31, 1966, and, subject to amendment, continuing until superseded by the October Monthly Sales List. The following commodities are available: Cotton (upland and extra long staple), wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye, rice, grain sorghum, peanuts, flax, and linseed oil.

Corn, oats, barley or grain sorghum, as determined by CCC, will be sold for unrestricted use for "Dealers' Certificates" issued under the emergency livestock feed program. Grain delivered against such certificates will be sold at the applicable current market price, determined by CCC.

In the following listing of commodities and sales prices or method of sales, "unrestricted use" applies to sales which permit either domestic or export use and "export" applies to sales which require export only. CCC reserves the right to determine the class, grade, quality and available quantity of commodities listed for sale.

The CCC Monthly Sales List, which varies from month to month as additional commodities become available or commodities formerly available are dropped, is designed to aid in moving CCC's inventories into domestic or export use through regular commercial channels.

If it becomes necessary during the month to amend this list in any material way—such as by the removal or addition of a commodity in which there is general interest or by a significant change in price or method of sale—an announcement of the change will be sent to all persons currently receiving the list by mail from Washington. To be put on this mailing list, address: Director, Procurement and Sales Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Interest rates per annum under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program (Announcement CSM-3) for September 1966 are 5¼ percent for U.S. bank obligations and 6¼ percent for foreign bank obligations, without regard to credit periods involved up to a maximum of 36 months. Commodities currently offered for sale by CCC, plus tobacco from CCC loan stocks, are available for export sale under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program as provided under specific commodity listings. Commodities from private stocks now eligible for financing under the CCC Export Credit Sales Program include wheat, wheat flour, barley, bulgur, corn, cornmeal, grain sorghum, upland and extra long staple cotton, tobacco, milled and brown rice, cottonseed oil, soybean oil, and dairy products.

Information on commodities available under Title IV, P.L. 480, private trade agreements, and current information on interest rates and other phases of the program may be obtained from the Office of the General Sales Manager, Foreign Agricultural Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The following commodities are currently available for new and existing barter contracts: Cotton (upland and extra long staple), and tobacco. For existing contracts, wheat, grain sorghum, and oats are also available. (In addition, free market stocks of corn, grain sorghum, wheat, wheat flour, tobacco, cottonseed, and soybean oils are eligible for barter programming, except that hard red winter, hard red spring, and durum wheats, and flour produced from those wheats, may not be exported through West Coast ports.) This list is subject to change from time to time.

The CCC will entertain offers from responsible buyers for the purchase of any commodity on the current list. Offers accepted by CCC will be subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by the Corporation. These terms include payment by cash or irrevocable letter of credit before delivery of the commodity, and the conditions require removal of the commodity from CCC stocks within a reasonable period of time. Where sales are for export, proof of exportation is also required, and the buyer is responsible for obtaining any required U.S. Government export permit or license. Purchases from CCC shall not constitute any assurance that any such permit or license will be granted by the issuing authority.

Applicable announcements containing all terms and conditions of sale will be furnished upon request. For easy reference a number of these announcements are identified by code number in the following list. Interested persons are invited to communicate with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250, with respect to all commodities or—for specified commodities—within the designated ASCS Commodity Office.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right to amend from time to time, any of its announcements. Such amendments shall be applicable to and be made a part of the sale contracts thereafter entered into.

CCC reserves the right to reject any or all offers placed with it for the purchase of commodities pursuant to such announcements.

CCC reserves the right to refuse to consider an offer, if CCC does not have adequate information of financial responsibility of the offerer to meet contract obligations of the type contemplated in this announcement. If a prospective offerer is in doubt as to whether CCC has adequate information with respect to his financial responsibility, he should either submit a financial statement to the office named in the invitation prior to making an offer, or communicate with such office to determine whether such a statement is desired in his case. When satisfactory responsibility has not been established, CCC reserves the right to consider an offer only upon submission by offerer of a certified or cashier's check, a bid bond, or other security, acceptable to CCC, assuring that if the offer is accepted, the offerer will comply with any provisions of the contract with respect to payment for the commodity and the furnishing of performance bond or other security acceptable to CCC.

Disposals and other handling of inventory items often result in small quantities at given locations or in qualities not up to specifications. These lots are offered by the appropriate ASCS office promptly upon appearance and therefore, generally, they do not appear in the Monthly Sales List.

On sales for which the buyer is required to submit proof to CCC of exportation, the buyer shall be regularly engaged in the business of buying or selling commodities and for this purpose shall maintain a bona fide business office in the United States, its territories or possessions and have a person, principal, or resident agent upon whom service of judicial process may be had.

Prospective buyers for export should note that generally, sales to U.S. Government agencies, with only minor exceptions will constitute domestic unrestricted use of the commodity.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right, before making any sales, to define or limit export areas.

The Department of Commerce, Bureau of International Commerce, pursuant to regulations under the Export Control Act of 1949, prohibits the exportation or reexportation by anyone of any commodities under this program to Cuba, the Soviet Bloc or Communist-controlled areas of the Far East including Communist China, North Korea, and the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam except under validated license issued by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of International Commerce.

For all exportations, one of the destination control statements specified in Commerce Department Regulations (Comprehensive Export Schedule § 379.10(c)) is required to be placed on all copies of the shipper's export declaration, all copies of the bill of lading, and all copies of the commercial invoices. For additional information as to which destination control statement to use, the exporter should communicate with the Bureau of International Commerce or one of the field offices of the Department of Commerce.

Exporters should consult the applicable Commerce Department regulations for more detailed information if desired and for any changes that may be made therein.
