Title 3—The President

PROCLAMATION 4181

National Moment of Prayer and Thanksgiving

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

A long and trying ordeal for America has ended. Our Nation has achieved its goal of peace with honor in Vietnam.

As a people with a deep and abiding faith, we know that no great work can be accomplished without the aid and inspiration of Almighty God. No time could be more fitting for grateful prayer and meditation than the opening moment of the peace we have achieved with His help.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RICHARD NIXON, President of the United States of America, as requested by the Congress, do hereby designate 7:00 p.m., e.s.t., January 27, 1973 as a National Moment of Prayer and Thanksgiving, and the 24-hour period beginning then as a National Day of Prayer and Thanksgiving.

I urge all men and women of goodwill to join the prayerful hope that this moment marks not only the end of the war in Vietnam, but the beginning of a new era of world peace and understanding for all mankind. I authorize the flying of the American flag at the appointed hour, and I call on all the people of the United States to observe this moment with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-sixth day of January, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-seventh.

Richard Nixon

PROCLAMATION 4182

International Clergy Week in the United States

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Mediators between God and man and healers among people, clergymen are the custodians of the sacred.

To be a clergyman is a lofty calling which often entails difficulty and continuing sacrifice. Clergy serve their fellow men in parishes, hospitals, war zones, classrooms, orphanages, prisons, soup kitchens. In developing countries they assist in forming cooperatives, running playgrounds, relieving the hungry, sick and homeless.

Clergymen of the world contribute vastly to the cohesion, stability and growth of civilization. They urge respect for law, minister to humanitarian needs, counsel the afflicted, exhort to a higher morality, preserve and transmit the religious traditions of the ages.

To encourage all Americans to pay tribute to the clergymen of the world, the Congress, by House Joint Resolution 163, has requested the President to proclaim the week commencing January 28, 1973, as International Clergy Week in the United States.

It is therefore in this spirit of appreciation for the world's clergy and in recognition of their singular contribution to the spiritual, social and cultural evolution of society, that I, Richard Nixon, President of the United States of America, proclaim the week beginning January 28, 1973, as International Clergy Week in the United States. I call upon all Americans to honor clergymen of all faiths, in this country and abroad, by appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-seventh day of January in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred seventy-three and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred ninety-seventh.

Richard Nixon

Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER X—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; MILK), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Milk Orders 32, 50, 62, 64, and 65; Docket No. AO-318-A23, etc.]

MILK IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS AND CERTAIN OTHER MARKETING AREAS

Order Amending Orders

Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of each of the aforesaid orders and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of the said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

The following findings are hereby made with respect to each of the aforesaid orders:

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders regulating the handling of milk in the respective marketing areas.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of handlers (excluding cooperative associations specified in Sec. 8c(9) of the Act) of more than 50 percent of the milk, which is marketed within each of the respective marketing areas, to sign a proposed marketing agreement, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending each of the specified orders, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the Act of advancing the interests of producers as defined in the respective orders as hereby amended; and

(3) The issuance of the order amending each of the specified orders is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the respective marketing areas shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid orders, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

PART 1032—MILK IN THE SOUTHERN ILLINOIS MARKETING AREA

1. Section 1032.60 is revised as follows:

§ 1032.60 Producer-handlers.

Sections 1032.40 through 1032.54, 1032.61 through 1032.90 and 1032.110 through 1032.122 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

2. In § 1032.62, paragraph (b)(5) is revised as follows:

§ 1032.62 Obligations of handler operating a partially regulated distributing plant.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(5) From the value of such milk at the Class I price applicable at the location of the nonpool plant, subtract its value at the weighted average price applicable at such location plus five cents, or the Class II price, whichever is higher; and add for the quantity of reconstituted skim milk specified in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph its value computed at the Class I price applicable at the location of the nonpool plant less the value of such skim milk at the Class II price.

3. In § 1032.71, a new paragraph (c-1) is added to read as follows:

§ 1032.71 Computation of the uniform price.

* * * * *

(c-1) Subtract an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of producer milk included pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section by 5 cents;

* * * * *

4. In § 1032.84, paragraph (b)(2) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1032.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(2) The value at the weighted average price(s) applicable at the location of the plant(s) from which received plus 5 cents (not to be less than the value at the Class II price) with respect to other source milk for which a value is computed pursuant to § 1032.70(f).

5. Immediately following § 1032.89, a new centerhead and new §§ 1032.110 through 1032.122 are added as follows:

ADVERTISING AND PROMOTION PROGRAM

§ 1032.110 Agency.

"Agency" means an agency organized by producers and producers' cooperative associations, in such form and with methods of operation specified in this part, which is authorized to expend funds made available pursuant to § 1032.121 (b)(1), on approval by the Secretary, for the purposes of establishing or providing for establishment of research and development projects, advertising (excluding brand advertising), sales promotion, educational, and other programs, designed to improve or promote the domestic marketing and consumption of milk and its products. Members of the Agency shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of duties as members of the Agency.

§ 1032.111 Composition of Agency.

Subject to the conditions of paragraph (a) of this section, each cooperative association or combination of cooperative associations, as provided for under § 1032.113(b), is authorized one agency representative for each full 5 percent of the participating member producers (producers who have not requested refunds for the most recent quarter) it represents. Cooperative associations with less than 5 percent of the total participating producers that have elected not to combine pursuant to § 1032.113(b), and participating producers who are not members of cooperatives, are authorized to select from such group of participating producers, in total, pursuant to § 1032.113(c), one Agency representative for each full 5 percent that such producers constitute of the total participating producers. If such group of producers in total constitutes less than 5 percent but not less than 1 percent of the total participating producers it shall nevertheless be authorized to select from such group in total one agency representative. For the purpose of the agency's initial organization, all persons defined as producers shall be considered as participating producers.

(a) If any cooperative association or combination of cooperative associations, as provided for under § 1032.113(b), has a majority of the participating producers, representation from such cooperative or group of cooperatives, as the case may be, shall be limited to the minimum number of representatives necessary to constitute a majority of the agency representatives, but not less than five.

§ 1032.112 Term of office.

The term of office of each member of the Agency shall be 1 year, or until a replacement is designated by the cooperative association or is otherwise appropriately elected.

§ 1032.113 Selection of Agency members.

The selection of Agency members shall be made pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section. Each person selected shall qualify by filing with the market administrator a written acceptance promptly after being notified of such selection.

(a) Each cooperative association authorized one or more representatives to the Agency shall notify the market administrator of the name and address of each representative who shall serve at the pleasure of the cooperative.

(b) For purposes of this program, cooperative associations may elect to combine their participating memberships and, if the combined total of participating producers of such cooperatives is 5 percent or more of the total participating producers, such cooperatives shall be eligible to select a representative(s) to the Agency under the rules of § 1032.111 and paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Selection of Agency members to represent participating nonmember producers and participating producer members of a cooperative association(s) having less than the required 5 percent of the producers participating in the advertising and promotion program and who have not elected to combine memberships as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be supervised by the market administrator in the following manner:

(1) Promptly after the effective date of this amending order, and annually thereafter, the market administrator shall give notice to participating producer members of such cooperatives and participating nonmember producers of their opportunity to nominate one or more producers as Agency representatives, as the case may be, and also shall specify the number of representatives to be selected.

(2) Following the closing date for nominations, the market administrator shall announce the nominees who are eligible for Agency membership and shall conduct a referendum among the individual participating producers eligible to vote. Election to membership shall be determined on the basis of the nominee (or nominees) receiving the largest number of eligible votes. If an elected representative subsequently discontinues producer status or is otherwise unable to complete his term of office, the market administrator shall appoint as his replacement the participating producer who received the next highest number of eligible votes.

§ 1032.114 Agency operating procedure.

A majority of the Agency members shall constitute a quorum. Any action of the Agency shall require a majority of concurring votes of those present and voting, unless the Agency determines that more than a simple majority shall be required.

§ 1032.115 Powers of the Agency.

(a) Refund shall be accomplished only through application filed with, and in the manner prescribed by, the market administrator and signed by the producer. Only that information necessary to identify the producer and the records relevant to the refund may be required of such producer.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the request shall be submitted within the first 15 days of December, March, June, or September for milk to be marketed during the ensuing calendar quarter beginning on the first day of January, April, July, and October, respectively.

(c) A dairy farmer who first acquires producer status under this part after the 15th day of December, March, June, or September, as the case may be, and prior to the end of the ensuing calendar quarter may, upon application filed with the market administrator pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, be eligible for refund on all marketings against which an assessment is withheld during such calendar quarter pursuant to § 1065.71(d–1). Provided: That, such eligibility for refund shall not apply to a dairy farmer who during the first 15 days of such December, March, June, or September, respectively, was a producer under an order where the same refund notification period applied and such dairy farmer did not appropriately submit refund application during such period. This paragraph also shall be applicable to all producers during the period following the effective date of this amending order to the beginning of the first full calendar quarter for which the opportunity exists for such producers to request refunds pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) A dairy farmer who, with respect to any calendar quarter, has appropriately filed request for refund of program assessments on his marketings of milk under another order that provides for an advertising and promotion program will be eligible (on the basis of his request filed under the other order) for refunds with respect to his producer milk marketed under this order during such quarter for which deductions were made pursuant to § 1065.71(d–1).

§ 1065.121 Duties of the market administrator.

Except as specified in § 1065.116, the market administrator, in addition to other duties specified by this part, shall perform all the duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of the advertising and promotion program including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Within 30 days after the effective date of this amending order, and annually thereafter, conduct a referendum to determine representation on the Agency pursuant to § 1065.113(c);

(b) Set aside the amounts subtracted under § 1065.71(d–1) into an advertising and promotion fund, separately accounted for, from which shall be disbursed:

(1) To the Agency each month, all such funds less any necessary amount held in reserve to cover refunds pursuant to subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, and payments to cover expenses of the market administrator incurred in the administration of the advertising and promotion program (including audit).

(2) Refund to producers the amounts of mandatory checkoff for advertising and promotion programs required under authority of State law applicable to such producers, but not in amounts that exceed a rate of 5 cents per hundredweight on the volume of milk pooled by any such producer for which deductions were made pursuant to § 1065.71(d–1).

(3) After the end of each calendar quarter, make a refund to each producer who has made application for such refund pursuant to § 1065.120. Such refund shall be computed at the rate of 5 cents per hundredweight of such producer's milk pooled for which deductions were made pursuant to § 1065.71(d–1) for such calendar quarter, less the amount of any refund otherwise made to the producer pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(c) Promptly after the effective date of this amending order, and thereafter with respect to new producers, forward to each producer a copy of the provisions of the advertising and promotion program (§§ 1065.110 through 1065.122).

(d) Make necessary audits to establish that all agency funds are used only for authorized purposes.

§ 1065.122 Liquidation.

In the event that the provisions of this advertising and promotion program are terminated, any remaining uncommitted funds applicable thereto shall revert to the producer-settlement fund of § 1065.81.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Effective date. On January 30, 1973, with respect to marketings on and after April 1, 1973.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on January 23, 1973.

RICHARD E. LYNG,
Assistant Secretary.

Title 9—Animals and Animal Products

CHAPTER I—ANIMAL AND PLANT HEALTH INSPECTION SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

SUBCHAPTER D—EXPORTATION AND IMPORTATION OF ANIMALS (INCLUDING POULTRY) AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

PART 94—RINDERPEST, FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE, FOWL PEST (FOWL PLAGUE), NEWCASTLE DISEASE (AVIAN PNEUMOENCEPHALITIS), AFRICAN SWINE FEVER, AND HOG CHOLERA: PROHIBITED AND RESTRICTED IMPORTATIONS

Prohibitions and Restrictions on Importation of Animals, Meat and Other Articles

On November 11, 1972, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 24041–24042), a notice of proposed rule making with respect to proposed prohibitions and restrictions on importation of animals, meat, and other articles under the regulations contained in Part 94, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations. After due consideration of all relevant material, including that submitted in connection with such notice, and pursuant to sections 106 and 107 of the Act of May 23, 1957, section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended, section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended, and sections 2, 3, 4, and 11 of the Act of July 2, 1962 (7 U.S.C. 150ee, 150ff, 19 U.S.C. 1306, 21 U.S.C. 111, 134a, 134b, 134c, 134f), said Part 94 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. In § 94.1, paragraph (a) and the introductory portion of paragraph (c) are amended to read:

§ 94.1 Designation of countries where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists; importation prohibited; exceptions.

(a) Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), it has been determined, and official notice has been given to the Secretary of the Treasury that:

(1) Rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists in all countries of the world, except those listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this section;

(2) The following countries are declared to be free of both rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease: Australia, Bahama Islands, Bermuda, British Honduras (Belize), Canada, Channel Islands, Greenland, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Iceland, Ireland, Jamaica, Japan, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Fiji, Mexico, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Northern Ireland, Norway, Panama, Panama Canal Zone, and Sweden.

2. Section 94.5 is amended to read:

§ 94.5 Garbage.

Garbage aboard any aircraft, vessel, railroad car, or other means of conveyance that has been outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada shall not be imported into the United States (including the territorial waters thereof) except in accordance with the following conditions: It shall not be unloaded from such means of conveyance in the United States unless such garbage is removed in tight receptacles under the supervision of an Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service inspector for sterilization in a facility approved by the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, or for incineration, or other appropriate handling in such manner and under such supervision as may, upon request in specific cases, be approved by the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, as adequate to prevent the introduction into or dissemination within the United States of livestock, poultry, and plant diseases and plant pests. Importation into the United States of any garbage derived in whole or in part from meat originating in any country designated in § 94.1 as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease is prohibited by law (19 U.S.C. 1306).

3. Section 94.7 is amended to read:

§ 94.7 Disposal of animals, meat, and other articles ineligible for importation.

(a) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under § 94.1, which come into the United States by ocean vessel and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 48 hours, and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(b) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under § 94.1, which come into the United States aboard an airplane or railroad car and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 24 hours and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(c) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under § 94.1, which come into the United States by any means other than ocean vessel, airplane, or railroad car and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 8 hours on the same means of conveyance and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(d) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under § 94.1, which come into the United States by any means but are not offered for entry into this country; and other animals, meats, and other articles prohibited importation under other sections of this part which come into the United States by any means, whether they are offered for entry into this country or not, shall be immediately destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct at any time in accordance with section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended, or section 2 of the Act of July 2, 1962 (21 U.S.C. 111, 134a).

§ 94.8 [Amended]

4. In § 94.8 the reference to Italy is deleted.

5. A new § 94.11 is added to read:

§ 94.11 Restrictions on importation of meat and other animal products from specified countries.

(a) Japan, Norway, and Sweden, which are declared in § 94.1 to be free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, supplement their national meat supply by the importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of ruminants or swine from countries that are designated in § 94.1(a) to be infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; or have a common land border with countries designated as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; or import ruminants or swine from countries designated as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease under conditions less restrictive than would be acceptable for importation into the United States. Thus, even though this Department has declared such countries to be free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, the meat and other animal products produced in such free countries may be commingled with the fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of animals from an infected country, resulting in an undue risk of introducing rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease into the United States. Therefore, meat of ruminants or swine, and other animal products, and ships stores, airplane meals, and baggage containing such meat or animal products originating in Japan, Norway, and Sweden, shall not be imported into the United States unless the following requirements in addition to other applicable requirements of this Chapter III are met. As used in this section the term "other animal product" means all parts of the carcass of any ruminant or swine, other than meat and articles regulated under Part 95 or 96 of this chapter.

(b) All meat or other animal product from such countries, whether in personal-use amounts or commercial lots (except that which has been fully cooked by a commercial method in a rigid can which was sealed promptly after filling and before such cooking and sealing so as to result in a fully sterilized product in a hermetically sealed can which is shelf stable without refrigeration) shall have been prepared only in an inspected establishment that is eligible to have its products imported into the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and the regulations in § 327.2, Chapter III of this title, issued thereunder, and shall be accompanied by a Department-approved meat inspection certificate prescribed in § 327.4 in Chapter III of this title, or similar certificate approved by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, as adequate to effectuate the purposes of this section, regardless of the purpose or amount of product in the shipment.

(c) Shipments of such meat or other animal product must be accompanied by an additional certificate signed by a full-time salaried veterinary official of the agency in the National Government having responsibility for the health of animals within that country, giving the name and official establishment number of the establishment where the animals involved were slaughtered and stating that:

(1) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive animals that originated in, or have ever been in, or that have been aboard a means of conveyance at the time such means of conveyance called at or landed at a port in, a country listed in § 94.1(a) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease;

(2) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive meat or other animal products derived from ruminants or swine which originated in such a rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease infected country, or meat or other animal products from a rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease free country transported through a rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease infected country except in containers sealed with serially numbered seals of the National Government of the noninfected country of origin;

(3) The meat or other animal product covered by the certificate was derived from animals born and raised in a country listed in § 94.1(a)(2) as free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease and the meat or other animal product has never been in any country in which rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease existed;

(4) The meat or other animal product has been processed, stored, and transported to the means of conveyance that will bring the article to the United States in a manner to preclude its being commingled or otherwise in contact with meat or other animal products that do not comply with the conditions contained in this certificate.

(Sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792, as amended, sec. 306, 46 Stat. 689, as amended, secs. 106 and 107, 71 Stat. 33; secs. 2, 3, 4, and 11, 76 Stat. 129, 130, 132; 7 U.S.C. 150ee, 150ff; 19 U.S.C. 1306; 21 U.S.C. 111, 134a, 134b, 134c, 134f; 37 FR 28464, 28477)

Effective date. The foregoing amendments shall become effective on January 30, 1973.

The amendments: (1) Remove Sweden from the designation as infected with foot-and-mouth disease; (2) clarify and simplify designation of countries infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; (3) identify those countries found free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease and those in this category which practice importation procedures that might constitute an undue risk of introduction of livestock disease into the United States if products from such countries were allowed into the United States, without special safeguards; (4) restrict importation of meat and other animal products, including ships stores, airplane meals, and baggage containing meat or animal products, and garbage into the United States from certain countries; (5) reduce time limitations for removal from the United States of animals, meat, and other articles ineligible for importation into the United States; and (6) delete Italy from the list of countries where African swine fever exists.

Insofar as the amendments relieve certain restrictions presently imposed but no longer deemed necessary to prevent the spread of disease, they must be made effective immediately to be of maximum benefit to affected persons and avoid unnecessary interference with foreign commerce. Insofar as they impose restrictions, they are deemed essential to prevent the introduction and dissemination of certain diseases which pose a threat to the livestock and poultry industries of the United States, and they must be made effective without delay in order to accomplish this purpose. It does not appear that further public participation in this rule making proceeding would make additional relevant information available to the Department.

Accordingly, under the administrative procedure provisions in 5 U.S.C. 553, it is found upon good cause that further notice and other public procedure with respect to the amendments are impracticable and unnecessary, and good cause is found for making the amendments effective less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 22d day of January 1973.

F. J. MULHERN,
Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

Title 12—Banks and Banking

CHAPTER II—FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

SUBCHAPTER B—FEDERAL OPEN MARKET COMMITTEE

PART 270—OPEN MARKET OPERATIONS OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

1. Effective February 1, 1973, Part 270 is revised to read as follows:

REGULATION RELATING TO OPEN MARKET OPERATIONS OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

Sec.
270.1 Authority.
270.2 Definitions.
270.3 Governing principles.
270.4 Transactions in obligations.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 8, 48 Stat. 168, as amended; 12 U.S.C. 263.

§ 270.1 Authority.

This part is issued by the Federal Open Market Committee (the "Committee") pursuant to authority conferred upon it by sections 12A and 14 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 263, 355).

§ 270.2 Definitions.

(a) The term "obligations" means Government securities, U.S. agency securities, bankers' acceptances, bills of exchange, cable transfers, bonds, notes, warrants, debentures, and other obligations that Federal Reserve banks are authorized by law to purchase and sell.

(b) The term "Government securities" means direct obligations of the United States (i.e., U.S. bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, and Treasury bills) and obligations fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States.

(c) The term "U.S. agency securities" means obligations that are direct obligations of, or are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, any agency of the United States.

(d) The term "System Open Market Account" means the obligations acquired pursuant to authorizations and directives issued by the Committee and held on behalf of all Federal Reserve banks.

§ 270.3 Governing principles.

As required by section 12A of the Federal Reserve Act, the time, character, and volume of all purchases and sales of obligations in the open market by Federal Reserve banks are governed with a view to accommodating commerce and business and with regard to their bearing upon the general credit situation of the country.

§ 270.4 Transactions in obligations.

(a) Each Federal Reserve bank shall engage in open market operations under section 14 of the Federal Reserve Act only in accordance with this part and with the authorizations and directives issued by the Committee from time to time, and no Reserve bank shall decline to engage in open market operations as directed by the Committee.

(b) Transactions for the System Open Market Account shall be executed by a Federal Reserve bank selected by the Committee. The participations of the several Federal Reserve banks in such account and in the profits and losses on transactions for the account shall be allocated in accordance with principles determined by the Committee from time to time.

(c) In accordance with such limitations, terms, and conditions as are prescribed by law and in authorizations and directives issued by the Committee, the Reserve bank selected by the Committee is authorized and directed—

(1) To buy and sell Government securities and U.S. agency securities in the open market for the System Open Market Account, and to exchange maturing securities with the issuer;

(2) To buy and sell bankers' acceptances of the kinds made eligible for purchase under Part 202 of this chapter (Regulation B) in the open market for its own account;

(3) To buy Government securities, U.S. agency securities, and bankers' acceptances of the kinds described above, under agreements for repurchase of such obligations, in the open market for its own account; and

(4) To buy and sell foreign currencies in the form of cable transfers in the open market for the System Open Market Account and to maintain for such account reciprocal currency arrangements with foreign banks among those designated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System under § 214.5 of this chapter (Regulation N).

(d) In accordance with such limitations, terms, and conditions as are prescribed by law and in authorizations and directives issued by the Committee, the Reserve bank selected by the Committee (or, if that bank is closed, any other Federal Reserve bank) is authorized and directed, for its own account or the System Open Market Account, to purchase directly from the United States such amounts of Government securities as may be necessary from time to time for the temporary accommodation of the Treasury Department.

(e) The Federal Reserve banks are authorized and directed to engage in such other operations as the Committee may from time to time determine to be reasonably necessary to the effective conduct of open market operations and the effectuation of open market policies.

2a. The purposes of this revision are to correct certain inaccuracies in the regulation of the Federal Open Market Committee relating to open market operations of the Federal Reserve banks, to take account of developments since the last revision of that regulation, and to describe more fully, for the information of the public, the nature of open market operations engaged in by the Federal Reserve banks pursuant to authorization or direction of the Federal Open Market Committee.

b. The provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code, relating to notice and public participation and to deferred effective dates, are not followed in connection with the adoption of this action, because the changes made by this revision are of a technical and clarifying nature or are designed to describe more fully the open market operations of the Federal Reserve banks, and because the Committee felt that following the procedures prescribed by such provisions would be unnecessary and would serve no useful purpose.

By order of the Federal Open Market Committee, January 16, 1973.

ROBERT C. HOLLAND,
Secretary.

PART 271—RULES REGARDING AVAILABILITY OF INFORMATION

Miscellaneous Amendments

1. Effective February 1, 1973, Part 271 is amended in the following respects:

Section 271.1 is amended by changing the heading to read Authority instead of Basis and scope.

Paragraph (a) of § 271.2 is amended by inserting after the words "the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System" the following: "(the 'Board')".

Wherever the words "Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System" appear in Part 271 after paragraph (a) of § 271.2, they are changed to read "Board".

Paragraph (a) of § 271.3 is amended by inserting the words "Title 5 of" immediately before the words "the United States Code".

The second sentence of paragraph (a) of § 271.5 is amended by adding after the words "and no information in the records of the Committee relating to the adoption of any such directive is made available for public inspection or copying before it is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER" the words "or is otherwise released to the public by the Committee."

2a. This action is taken pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code.

b. The purposes of these amendments are to correct a reference to the United States Code, to correct a technical inaccuracy with respect to the availability of records of the Committee to the public, and to make certain editorial changes.

c. The provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code, relating to notice and public participation and to deferred effective dates, are not followed in connection with the adoption of this action, because the rules involved are procedural in nature and accordingly do not constitute substantive rules subject to the requirements of such section.

Secretary.

PART 272—RULES OF PROCEDURE

1. Effective February 1, 1973, Part 272 is revised to read as follows:

Sec.
272.1 Authority.
272.2 Functions of the Committee.
272.3 Meetings.
272.4 Committee actions.
272.5 Notice and public procedure.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552.

§ 272.1 Authority.

This part is issued by the Federal Open Market Committee (the Committee) pursuant to the requirement of section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code that every agency shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER its rules of procedure.

§ 272.2 Functions of the Committee.

The procedures followed by the Committee are designed to facilitate the effective performance of the Committee's statutory functions with respect to the regulation and direction of open market operations conducted by the Federal Reserve banks and with respect to certain direct transactions between the Reserve banks and the United States. In determining the policies to be followed in such operations, the Committee considers information regarding business and credit conditions and domestic and international economic and financial developments, and other pertinent information gathered and submitted by its staff and the staffs of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Board) and the Federal Reserve banks. Against the background of such information, the Committee takes actions from time-to-time to regulate and direct the open market operations of the Reserve banks. Such policy actions ordinarily are taken through the adoption and transmission to the Federal Reserve banks of regulations, authorizations, and directives.

§ 272.3 Meetings.

(a) Place and frequency. The Committee meets in Washington, D.C., at least four times each year and oftener if deemed necessary. Meetings are held upon the call of the Chairman of the Board or at the request of any three members of the Committee. Notices of calls by the Chairman of the Board to other members are given by the Secretary of the Committee in writing or by telegram. Requests of any three members for the calling of a meeting shall state the time therefor and shall be filed in writing or by telegram with the Secretary who shall forthwith notify all members of the Committee in writing or by telegram. When the Secretary has sent notices to all members of the Committee that a meeting has been requested by three members and of the time therefor, a meeting is deemed to have been called. If, in the judgment of the Chairman, circumstances require that a meeting be called at such short notice that one or more members cannot be present in Washington, such members may participate in the meeting by telephone conference arrangements.

(b) Alternates. Whenever any member of the Committee representing Federal Reserve banks shall find that he will be unable to attend a meeting of the Committee, he shall promptly notify his alternate and the Secretary of the Committee in writing or by telegram, and upon receipt of such notice the alternate shall advise the Secretary whether he will attend such meeting.

(c) Quorum. Seven members (including alternates present and acting in the absence of members) constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but less than a quorum may adjourn from time to time until a quorum is in attendance.

(d) Attendance at meetings. Attendance at Committee meetings is restricted to members and alternate members of the Committee, the presidents of Federal Reserve banks who are not at the time members or alternates, staff officers of the Committee, the manager and special manager, and such other advisers as the Committee may invite from time-to-time.

(e) Meeting agendas. The Secretary, in consultation with the Chairman, prepares an agenda of matters to be discussed at each meeting and the Secretary transmits the agenda to the members of the Committee within a reasonable time in advance of such meeting. In general, the agendas include approval of minutes of actions and acceptance of memoranda of discussion for previous meetings; reports by the manager and special manager on open market operations since the previous meeting, and ratification by the Committee of such operations; reports by economists on, and Committee discussion of, the economic and financial situation and outlook; Committee discussion of monetary policy and action with respect thereto; and such other matters as may be considered necessary.

§ 272.4 Committee actions.

(a) Actions at meetings. Actions are taken at meetings of the Committee except as described below.

(b) Actions between meetings. Special circumstances may make it desirable in the public interest for Committee members to consider an action to modify an outstanding Committee authorization or directive at a time when it is not feasible to call a meeting. Whenever, in the judgment of the Chairman, such circumstances have arisen, the relevant information and recommendations for action are transmitted to the members by the Secretary, and the members communicate their votes to the Secretary. If the action is approved by a majority of the members, advice to that effect is promptly given by the Secretary to the members of the Committee and to the Reserve bank selected to execute transactions for the System Open Market Account. All communications of recommended actions and votes under this paragraph shall be in writing or by telegram; provided that, in exceptional cases when that is not feasible, such communications may be made orally, either in person or by telephone, and the Secretary shall cause a written record to be made without delay. An action taken between meetings has the force and effect of an action at a meeting; provided, however, that if a meeting is held before the execution of any operations pursuant to the action, the action is null and void unless it is ratified and confirmed by the Committee at such meeting.

(c) Delegations of authority. In special circumstances, the Committee may delegate authority to take an action, subject to such instructions or guidelines as the Committee deems proper. Such delegations of authority may be made to the Chairman; to a subcommittee consisting of the Chairman and the Vice Chairman of the Committee and the Vice Chairman of the Board (or in the absence of the Chairman or of the Vice Chairman of the Board the members of the Board designated by the Chairman as alternates, and in the absence of the Vice Chairman of the Committee his alternate); or to any other member or members of the Committee. An action taken pursuant to such a delegation of authority has the force and effect of an action taken by the Committee.

(d) Effective date. Committee action ordinarily is made effective as of the time it is taken because the nature of the subject matter and the action taken is such that the public interest and the proper discharge of the Committee's responsibilities so require. Occasionally, however, the Committee may specify that an action is to be effective at some different time.

§ 272.5 Notice and public procedure.

There ordinarily is no published notice of proposed action by the Committee or public procedure thereon, as described in section 553 of title 5 of the United States Code, because such notice and procedure are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest.

2a. This action is taken pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of section 552 of title 5 of the United States Code.

b. The purposes of this revision are to bring the rules of procedure of the Federal Open Market Committee into accordance with current practices and to make them more informative to the public.

c. The provisions of section 553 of title 5, United States Code, relating to notice and public participation and to deferred effective dates, are not followed in connection with the adoption of this action, because the rules involved are procedural in nature and accordingly do not constitute substantive rules subject to the requirements of such section.

By order of the Federal Open Market Committee, January 16, 1973.

ROBERT C. HOLLAND,
Secretary.

CHAPTER II—CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

SUBCHAPTER A—ECONOMIC REGULATIONS

[Reg. ER-788; Amdt. 212-10]

PART 212—CHARTER TRIPS BY FOREIGN AIR CARRIERS

On-Route Charter Authority

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D.C., on the 21st day of November 1972.

In the On-Route Charter Authority of Foreign Air Carrier Permits Proceeding, Docket No. 22362,[1] the Board adopted the following amendments to Part 212 of its Economic Regulations, and amended the permits of all foreign air carriers authorized to engage in individually ticketed or individually waybilled foreign air transportation to be subject to such Part 212 amendments. As amended, Part 212 provides that the Board may require such foreign air carriers to obtain prior Board approval before performing on-route charter trips when the Board finds, with or without hearing, that the public interest so requires. The revised Part 212 is not self-executing, and, unless it is affirmatively invoked by the Board, foreign carriers will remain entirely free to conduct on-route charters without prior Board authorization. However, once the rule is invoked, the foreign carrier must apply to the Board for a "Statement of Authorization" before performing any on-route charter trip, which will be issued by the Board if it finds that the proposed charter trip meets the requirements of Part 212, that the applicant's government grants a similar privilege to U.S. air carriers, and that the charter trip is otherwise in the public interest.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the formulation of the proposed amendments to Part 212 which were the subject of extensive examination and argument by the parties to the investigation.[2]

The promulgation of this rule, by itself, will impose no additional requirements on carriers subject thereto. Moreover, the purpose of the rule is to put the U.S. in a position to take such action with respect to on-route charters as may be required under the circumstances which may or may not arise in the immediate future. The Board finds, therefore, that good cause exists for immediate effectiveness of the rule.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends Part 212 of the Economic Regulations (14 CFR Part 212), effective January 22, 1973, as follows:

1. Amend the table of contents to revise the title of §§ 212.2 and 212.4. As amended, the table of contents will read in pertinent part:

Sec.
212.2 Applicability and scope.
212.4 Limitation on the operation of charter trips.

2. Amend § 212.2 to read as follows:

§ 212.2 Applicability and scope.

(a) Applicability. This part establishes the terms, conditions, and limitations applicable to charter foreign air transportation, both "on-" and "off-route", performed pursuant to a foreign air carrier permit issued under section 402 of the Act authorizing direct foreign air transportation on an individually ticketed or individually waybilled basis. The limitations and regulations specified as applicable to charter trips shall be applicable to all charter trips irrespective of whether the authority to conduct such trips derives from the linear route authority described in the carrier's permit or from any additional authority conferred in such permit to engage in off-route charter trips. The terms, conditions, and limitations applicable to charter foreign air transportation performed pursuant to foreign air carrier permits authorizing the holder to engage in charter transportation only are governed by Part 214 of the Board's Economic Regulations.

(b) Scope. (1) On-route charter trips may be performed by all direct foreign air carriers who hold currently effective section 402 permits authorizing foreign air transportation on an individually ticketed or individually waybilled basis, subject to the terms, conditions, and limitations of this part. Unless a permit or the order authorizing issuance of the permit shall otherwise provide, there shall be attached to the exercise of the privileges to conduct on-route charters granted by any such permit such terms, conditions, and limitations as are set forth in this part or any amendment thereof, or as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board. Subject to the foregoing, foreign air carriers holding such permits may conduct on-route charter trips without prior authorization, unless and until the carrier is notified pursuant to § 212.4(b) of this part that prior Board authorization will thereafter be required.

(2) Off-route charter trips may be performed by foreign air carriers, subject to the limitations and regulations set forth in this part, by all direct foreign air carriers who hold currently effective foreign air carrier permits issued by the Board pursuant to section 402 of the Act authorizing such carriers to engage in charter trips in foreign air transportation without regard to the points named in such permits.

3. Amend § 212.4 by (1) revising the title of the section; (2) designating present § 212.4 as paragraph (a); and (3) adding a new paragraph (b). As amended, § 212.4 will read in part as follows:

§ 212.4 Limitation on the operation of charter trips.

* * * * *

(b) The Board, if it finds that the public interest so requires, may at any time, with or without hearing, notify a foreign air carrier subject to this part that it shall not perform on-route charter trips in the absence of prior Board authorization. The Board's notification shall be effective for such period or periods and with respect to such operations as the Board may specify in accordance with this paragraph. Effective not earlier than 30 days after the date of such notice, the foreign air carrier shall not perform any on-route charter trip falling within the specification of the notice, unless specific authority in the form of a Statement of Authorization to conduct such charter trip has been granted by the Board. Notification of the Board's proposed failure to approve either the whole or part of an application for a Statement of Authorization to conduct an on-route charter trip or trips, filed pursuant to the requirements of this subsection, provided that such application has been timely filed at least 30 days in advance of the proposed flight, will be submitted to the President of the United States at least 10 days prior to the date of the proposed flight. Any such failure to approve shall be subject to stay or disapproval by the President within 10 days after the date of the Board's notification.

4. Amend paragraph (b) of § 212.5 to read as follows:

§ 212.5 Statement of Authorization; application.

* * * * *

(b) Applications shall be filed with the Board at least 5 days in advance of the date of the commencement of the proposed flight: Provided, That applications for authority to conduct planeload cargo charters may be filed not less than 48 hours in advance of the proposed flight: Provided further, That an application for the performance of a charter transporting commercial traffic for another direct air carrier or direct foreign air carrier (as provided in § 212.8(a)(4–a)) shall be filed with the Board at least 45 days in advance of the date of the commencement of the proposed flights: Provided further, That applications, where required pursuant to § 212.4(b) to conduct on-route charters shall, unless otherwise specified by the Board, be filed not less than 30 days in advance of the proposed flight. Upon a showing that good cause exists for failure to adhere to the above requirements and that waiver of these requirements is in the public interest, applications later submitted may be considered by the Board.

SUBCHAPTER F—REGULATIONS UNDER SPECIFIC ACTS OF CONGRESS OTHER THAN THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT

PART 295—REGULATIONS UNDER THE POISON PREVENTION PACKAGING ACT OF 1970

Child Protection Packaging Standards for Certain Liquid Kindling and/or Illuminating Preparations Containing Petroleum Distillates

In the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 14, 1972 (37 FR 7408), the Commissioner of Food and Drugs proposed child protection packaging standards for certain liquid kindling and/or illuminating preparations containing 10 percent or more of petroleum distillates and having a viscosity of less than 100 Saybolt universal seconds (S.U.S.) at 100° F.

Eight of the 17 comments received in response to the notice favor the standards as proposed. The principal issues raised in the remainder of the comments and the Commissioner's conclusions are as follows:

A. Use by the elderly or handicapped. A consumer expresses concern that handicapped persons (particularly those with arthritis) may be unable to use, or may have difficulty using, the special packaging. Section 4(a) of the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970 acknowledges such a possibility and provides that substances subject to special packaging standards may also be packaged in noncomplying (conventional) packaging within prescribed limitations.

B. Viscosity. The American Petroleum Institute recommends that substances with a viscosity higher than 50 S.U.S. at 100° F. should not be subject to the standards because human experience and animal research do not support a higher viscosity level. The Institute claims that the establishment of the viscosity at a level of 50 S.U.S. will adequately protect the public by covering practically all petroleum distillates used for kindling and/or illuminating purposes without imposing an unnecessary burden on suppliers.

Although the aspiration danger from petroleum distillates generally decreases as viscosity increases, at least one fatality from chemical prenumonitis following the aspiration of a petroleum distillate product having a viscosity of over 50 S.U.S. has been reported. In addition to viscosity, the presence of additives in formulated petroleum distillate products may increase the hazard following aspiration. Accordingly, the Commissioner concludes that the viscosity level specification cannot safely be lowered to 50 S.U.S.

C. Existing stocks of petroleum distillate preparations. The American Academy of Pediatrics favors the proposal and recommends that distributors be required either to remove existing stocks of conventional packages from their shelves or to limit sales of conventional packages to buyers without young children. Section 9 of the act does not provide for application of the standards to substances packaged prior to the standards' effective date.

D. Need for special packaging. 1. Two manufacturers of substances and one packaging manufacturer comment that since the injury data in the proposal's preamble failed to mention cigarette lighter fluid as the source of any of the kindling and/or illuminating preparation injuries, it was probable that no injuries from cigarette lighter fluid had occurred.

The reports referred to in the preamble for the period of 1968–70 verify that cigarette lighter fluids are a definite cause of injury to children under 5 years of age. Cigarette lighter fluid accounted for a significant number of the 3,189 ingestions and 369 hospitalizations reported for this period as attributable to various kindling and/or illuminating products. Additionally, cigarette lighter fluids resulted in several of the reported deaths of children in this age group during the period 1967–71. In the nonfatal ingestion cases involving cigarette lighter fluids, symptoms included cyanosis, fever, and pneumonia.

2. A manufacturer of turret-type closures for cigarette lighter fluid cans and a manufacturer of cigarette lighter fluid comment that an average of 2 to 7 cubic centimeters of the preparation is dispensed per actuation from turret-type closures. Both question whether this quantity of the preparation could cause human injury or illness and whether turret-type closures have ever been involved in actual poisonings. Reports in the medical literature indicate that the ingestion of 7 cubic centimeters of cigarette lighter fluid by children under 5 years of age can cause serious illness or death. Furthermore, data from the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers show incidents of cigarette lighter fluid ingestions involving brand name preparations known to be marketed with turret-type closures.

3. The American Petroleum Institute suggests that safety closures might not have prevented many of the injuries referred to in the proposal. The institute contends that many such ingestions may have resulted when children gained access to liquid kindling and/or illuminating preparations transferred from the original container to other containers such as open cans, beverage bottles, or cups.

Reports from the National Clearinghouse do not support this contention. Although many reports do not contain sufficiently detailed information, the majority of those indicating where the preparation was found state that the preparation was ingested by the child from its original container.

The available data clearly demonstrate the need for special packaging of these products. Accordingly, the finding required by section 3(a)(1) of the act is affirmed.

E. Applicability. Several industry comments indicate some confusion over which products are intended to be covered by these standards. The comments question applicability to such products as camping equipment fuel, gasoline for use in home power equipment, kerosene, and products dispensed by retail service stations in purchasers' containers. The standards are not intended to apply to products such as gasoline and kerosene dispensed by retail vendors in purchasers' containers but do apply to kindling and/or illuminating preparations which are prepackaged and intended for such purposes as cigarette lighter fuel, charcoal lighter fuel, camping equipment fuel, torch fuel, and fuel for both decorative and functional lanterns. The regulation has been clarified accordingly.

F. Technically feasible, practicable, and appropriate. Three manufacturers comment that the special packaging to be required is not technically feasible, practicable, and appropriate. One states that the date when closures for cans of charcoal lighter fluid will be available is indefinite and that to utilize an alternative method of packaging would create economic problems. Another comments that special packaging is not technically feasible for cigarette lighter fluids because no special packaging presently available has the narrow spout necessary for filling cigarette lighters. The latter and one other contend, regarding charcoal lighter fluid:

1. That no manufacturer of suitable special packaging has mass production capability.

2. That industry must make equipment changes in order to produce cans capable of accepting child-resistant closures.

3. That initial tests of compatibility between samples of available closures and charcoal lighter fluids have been unsatisfactory.

4. That time is required to complete necessary tests and evaluations regarding closures' ability to withstand the overall stresses of actual shipment, storage, and consumer use.

5. That not enough packaging manufacturers engaged in the making of closures for metal cans have developed prototype child-resistant closures.

In reviewing these comments and similar responses to other proposals under the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970, the Commissioner notes that he is asked to modify the section 3(a)(2) findings because the packaging industry does not have the immediate capacity to mass produce special packaging in volumes that would meet all demand. Under section 3(a)(2) of the act, the Commissioner must establish that special packaging complying with the standards to be proposed is technically feasible, practicable, and appropriate. To make this finding, the Commissioner is not required to establish that industry is able to commence mass producing when the finding is published. What is required for a finding of technical feasibility is a determination that the technology exists to produce the special packaging. Data submitted from at least 27 manufacturers of special packaging indicate that each firm has at least one design which meets or exceeds the effectiveness specifications of the standards when tested by the method set forth in 21 CFR 295.10. These packages include glass, plastic, and metal containers.

A finding of practicability requires that special packaging meeting the standards be susceptible to modern mass production and assembly line techniques, but does not require that special packaging be immediately available in mass production quantities. (The responsibility in this instance lies with the manufacturers of substances subject to regulation to stimulate this capacity through the placing of orders sufficiently in advance of the effective dates of standards.) The act does not provide that the practicability finding may not be made if testing expenses and capital expenditures for equipment changes are necessary. In passing the act, Congress indicated that industry must make the necessary changes to protect young children.

The appropriateness finding requires that packaging complying with the standards shall not be detrimental to the integrity of the substance nor interfere with the storage or use of the substance. In the past, metal cans with plastic closures have been satisfactorily used as packaging for the substances subject to these standards. On the basis of such past use and from information on the types of special packaging presently available, the Commisioner sees no reason to reverse his finding of appropriateness made in the proposal. Sufficient time to comply with the standards will be afforded in promulgating the effective date.

One package manufacturer has submitted a design of a safety closure for cigarette lighter fluids that provides for spout dispensing. This design incorporates the same child-resistant features found to meet the standards on other of their special packaging closures. Since this design has been found to provide a liquid seal and is susceptible to modern mass production and assembly line techniques, the Commissioner concludes that the special packaging to be required for cigarette lighter fuel is technically feasible, practicable, and appropriate.

Accordingly, the finding required by section 3(a)(2) of the act is affirmed.

G. Effective date. A manufacturer recommends that the effective date of this order be at least 1 year after the date of FEDERAL REGISTER promulgation to provide additional time for the development of suitable, economical special packaging. The American Academy of Pediatrics suggests that the effective date be 60 days after the date of FEDERAL REGISTER promulgation.

The Commissioner concludes (1) that a 60-day delayed effective date would not provide industry with adequate time to comply with the standards and (2) that available data on special packaging and the reasons given in the above comment requesting a 1-year delay do not warrant establishing more than a 270-day delayed effective date except as the standards apply to cigarette lighter fuel packaged with a spout-type dispenser, in which case the effective date shall be 1 year after promulgation.

Therefore, having evaluated the comments and other relevant material, the Commissioner concludes that the proposal, with changes, should be adopted as set forth below.

The amendment below adds a new subparagraph (7) on kindling and/or illuminating preparations to § 295.2(a). To give complete information on packaging requirements for kindling and/or illuminating preparations, applicable portions of existing §§ 295.2 and 295.3 are included herein as follows:

Section 295.2 Substances requiring "special packaging." * * * (b) Sample packages. (1) The manufacturer or packer of any of the substances listed under paragraph (a) of this section as substances requiring special packaging shall provide the Commissioner with a sample of each type of special packaging, as well as the labeling for each size product that will be packaged in special packaging and the labeling for any noncomplying package. Sample packages and labeling should be sent to the Food and Drug Administration, Attention: Bureau of Product Safety, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

(2) Sample packages should be submitted without contents when such contents are unnecessary for demonstrating the effectiveness of the packaging. * * *

Section 295.3 Poison prevention packaging standards. To protect children from serious personal injury or serious illness resulting from handling, using, or ingesting household substances, the Commissioner has determined that packaging designed and constructed to meet the following standards shall be regarded as "special packaging" within the meaning of section 2(4) of the act. Specific application of these standards to substances requiring special packaging is in accordance with § 295.2.

(a) General requirements. The special packaging must continue to function with the effectiveness specifications set forth in paragraph (b) of this section when in actual contact with the substance contained therein. This requirement may be satisfied by appropriate scientific evaluation of the compatibility of the substance with the special packaging to determine that the chemical and physical characteristics of the substance will not compromise or interfere with the proper functioning of the special packaging. The special packaging must also continue to function with the effectiveness specifications set forth in paragraph (b) of this section for the number of openings and closings customary for its size and contents. This requirement may be satisfied by appropriate technical evaluation based on physical wear and stress factors, force required for activation, and other such relevant factors which would establish that, for the duration of normal use, the effectiveness specifications of the packaging would not be expected to lessen.

(b) Effectiveness specifications. Special packaging which when tested by the method described in § 295.10, meets the following specifications:

(1) Child-resistant effectiveness of not less than 85 percent without a demonstration and not less than 80 percent after a demonstration of the proper means of opening such special packaging. In the case of unit packaging, child-resistant effectiveness of not less than 80 percent.

(2) Adult-use effectiveness of not less than 90 percent. * * *

Accordingly, pursuant to provisions of the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970 (secs. 2(4), 3, 5, 84 Stat. 1670–1672; 15 U.S.C. 1471(4), 1472, 1474) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), a new subparagraph (7) is added to § 295.2(a) as follows:

§ 295.2 Substances requiring "special packaging."

(a) Substances. The Commissioner of Food and Drugs has determined that the degree or nature of the hazard to children in the availability of the following substances, by reason of their packaging, is such that special packaging is required to protect children from serious personal injury or serious illness resulting from handling, using, or ingesting such substances, and that the special packaging herein required is technically feasible, practicable, and appropriate for these substances:

* * * * *

(7) Kindling and/or illuminating preparations. Prepackaged liquid kindling and/or illuminating preparations, such as cigarette lighter fuel, charcoal lighter fuel, camping equipment fuel, torch fuel, and fuel for decorative or functional lanterns, which contain 10 percent or more by weight of petroleum distillates and have a viscosity of less than 100 Saybolt universal seconds at 100° F., shall be packaged in accordance with the provisions of § 295.3 (a) and (b).

* * * * *

Effective date. This order shall become effective September 27, 1973, except as it applies to cigarette lighter fuel packaged with a spout-type dispensing closure, for which the effective date shall be January 30, 1974.

(Secs. 2(4), 3, 5, 84 Stat. 1670–1672; 15 U.S.C. 1471(4), 1472, 1474)

Dated: January 22, 1973.

Title 49—Transportation

CHAPTER V—NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

[Docket No. 4–2; Notice 6]

PART 571—FEDERAL MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY STANDARDS

Warning Devices

The purpose of this notice is to respond further to petitions for reconsideration and amendment of Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 125, Warning Devices, § 571.125 of Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations. The standard was issued on March 1, 1972 (37 FR 5038). On June 22, 1972, a previous notice of amendments and reconsideration of the standard was published (37 FR 12323).

With respect to the configuration of the device Rowland Development Corp. stated that it manufactures a dual purpose fluorescent orange and red reflective material and requested that the separate width requirements for red reflex reflective material and orange fluorescent material affixed to the faces of the device be suspended when such material is used. The NHTSA has concluded that the use of such dual purpose material as an alternative to separate material is permissible if the material is capable of meeting the requirements of Standard 125. S5.1.1, S5.2.3, S5.5, and S6.2(a) are hereby modified accordingly, and the separate width requirements will not be applicable when dual purpose material is used.

Tri-Lite interpreted the standard as permitting the use of a flag as part of a "combination signal device" as long as the device did not violate S5.2.1(b), relating to obstruction of the reflective and fluorescent material. In a previous letter to Tri-Lite the NHTSA had stated that the standard would be interpreted to allow such additions. (Docket entry N4–4–2–10, July 18, 1972.) Upon further consideration, the agency has determined that permitting additions to the device will lessen its effectiveness by degrading the uniformity of its shape. Accordingly, the use of additional shapes or attachments will not be permitted, and a new S5.2.6 is added to that effect.

A number of petitions regarding the orange fluorescent material were received. Personnel from the National Bureau of Standards suggested that the requirements for the color of the orange fluorescent material be amended so as not to penalize colors that have the same hue but are stronger than the present maximum y and minimum x values. The NHTSA agrees with the suggestion and S5.3.2 has been amended accordingly.

Tri-Lite stated that the fluorescent material deteriorates over time and is therefore unreliable. It requested that the provision of orange fluorescent material on the device be made optional. The NHTSA recognizes that deterioration of fluorescence is a possibility; however, it is felt that the requirement of an opaque container and the improving technology of fluorescent materials should offset the possible problem. It is anticipated that the device will be used only infrequently, in emergencies, by most drivers. The request of Tri-Lite is therefore denied.

Rowland Corp. requested that the luminance requirement be expressed in terms relative to the amount of fluorescent material affixed to the device rather than the percentage figure of magnesium oxide presently required. The agency position is that a minimum level of luminance is necessary for identifiability, but that a somewhat lower limit for luminance of the orange material could be suitable if more material is used. Accordingly, S5.5 has been amended to lower the minimum relative luminance relative to magnesium oxide from 35 percent to 25 percent, and to require a minimum product of that relative luminance and width in inches of the device of 44. Dayglo Color Corp. requested that two sources of light for the luminance test, Source C and Source D–65, be permitted in addition to the xenon arc lamp specified in the standard. The NHTSA has concluded that the most consistent test results are provided when the material is diffusely irradiated with undispersed light from a high-pressure xenon arc lamp to simulate daytime conditions. As a general rule, alternative test procedures for a single property are inadvisable, and no sufficient justification for them has been shown here. Therefore the Dayglo request is denied.

In light of evidence that differing relative luminance values are obtained from different procedures used to measure it, a procedures paragraph (S6.3) for the luminance testing of the orange fluorescent material has been added to the standard. The procedure is adapted from the publication "Colorimetry," of the International Commission on Illumination (CIE Publication No. 15, E–1.3.1, 1971).

Two petitions dealt with the stability requirements. Rowland Development Corp. requested that the standard permit the manufacture of a triangle device constructed of flexible material which is secured at the outer corners of the triangle and is otherwise free to flex with the wind. Safety Triangles Co. requested that the device be permitted to tilt to a position up to 30° from the vertical rather than the presently allowed 10°. These requests were directed at permitting manufacturers to produce lighter and cheaper devices. The NHTSA has concluded that if the triangle is permitted to flex in the wind or tilt to a position up to 30° from the vertical, the attitude of the triangle is altered so that the shape of the equilateral triangle is distorted, thus detracting from one of the goals of the standard. The present performance requirements and the consequent cost factors have been found to be reasonable. These requests are accordingly denied.

With respect to reflectivity testing, Rowland stated that candlepower requirements for an observation angle of 0.2° were superfluous and not related to true highway situations, and requested their deletion. The NHTSA has determined in the formulation of the standard that the specified reflectivity requirements allow a maximum recognition and detection distance to oncoming traffic. Accordingly, the requirements for the 0.2° observation angle are retained.

In consideration of the foregoing, Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 125, Warning Devices, 49 CFR 571.125, is amended as follows:

1. S5.1.1 is amended to read:

S5.1.1 Reflex reflective material and fluorescent material that meet the requirements of this standard shall be affixed to both faces of the warning device. Alternatively, a dual purpose orange fluorescent and red reflective material that meets the requirements of this standard (hereafter referred to as "dual purpose material") may be affixed to both faces in place of the reflective and fluorescent materials.

2. S5.2.3 is amended to read:

S5.2.3 Each face of the triangular portion of the warning device shall have an outer border of red reflex reflective material of uniform width and not less than 0.75 and not more than 1.75 inches wide, and an inner border of orange fluorescent material of uniform width and not less than 1.25 and not more than 1.30 inches wide (figure 1). However, this requirement shall not apply if the dual purpose material is used.

3. A new S5.2.6 is added to read:

S5.2.6 The device shall consist entirely of the triangular portion and attachments necessary for its support and enclosure, without additional visible shapes or attachments.

4. S5.3.2 is amended to read:

S5.3.2 The color of the orange fluorescent material on the warning device shall have the following characteristics both before and after the warning device has been conditioned in accordance with S6.1: When expressed in terms of the International Commission on Illumination (CIE) 1931 colorimetric system, the chromaticity coordinates of the fluorescent orange material shall lie within the region bounded by the spectrum locus and the lines defined by the following equations:

Boundary	Equation
Yellow	$y=0.489x+0.170$.
White	$x+y=0.943$.
Red	$y=0.351$.

5. S5.5 is amended to read:

S5.5 Luminance. When the orange fluorescent material on the warning device is tested in accordance with S6.3, both before and after the warning device has been conditioned in accordance with S6.1, it shall have a minimum relative luminance of 25 percent of a flat magnesium oxide surface and a minimum product of that relative luminance and width in inches of 44.

6. S6.2(a) is amended to read:

(a) Unless dual purpose material is used, prevent the orange fluorescent material from affecting the photometric measurement of the reflectivity of the red reflective material, either by separation or masking.

7. A new paragraph S6.3 is added:

S6.3 Luminance Test. Test the orange fluorescent material as follows:

(a) Unless dual purpose material is used, prevent the red reflective material from affecting the photometric measurement of the luminance of the orange fluorescent material.

(b) Using a 150-watt high-pressure xenon compact arc lamp as the light source, illuminate the material diffusely by an integrating sphere, the total area of whose ports does not exceed 10 percent of the internal reflecting sphere area.

(c) Measure the luminance of the material at a perpendicular viewing angle, with no ray of the viewing beam more than 5° from the perpendicular to the specimen.

(d) Repeat the procedure for a flat magnesium oxide surface, and compute the quotient (percentage) of the luminance of the material relative to that of the magnesium oxide surface.

Effective date: January 1, 1974.

It appearing, That the Penn Central Transportation Co., George P. Baker, Richard C. Bond, and Jervis Langdon, Jr., Trustees (PC), in Finance Docket No. 26154, has been authorized to abandon operations over the line of the Providence and Worcester Co. (P. & W.) between Worcester, Massachusetts, and Providence, R.I.; that the P. & W. has concurrently been authorized to resume separate operation of its line between these points; that the Slatersville, R.I., branch of the PC will be severed of direct connections with the remainder of the PC by reason of abandonment of operations of the PC over the line of the P. & W.; that the P. & W. and the PC have agreed on a method of operations of the Slatersville branch of the PC by the P. & W. for account of the PC; that certain operations of the P. & W. over tracks of the PC and of the PC over tracks of the P. & W. are required to permit separate operations of the P. & W. in the manner ordered by the Commission; that continued operation of the P. & W. and of the Slatersville branch of the PC is necessary to provide uninterrupted railroad service to shippers served by these lines; that operation by the P. & W. over tracks of the PC and by the PC over tracks of the P. & W. is necessary in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people; that notice and public procedure herein are impracticable and contrary to the public interest; and good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than 30 days' notice.

It is ordered, That:

Wherefore, and good cause appearing:

It is ordered, That Instructions for Property Accounts of Railroad Companies prescribed in Part 1201 of Chapter X, Subchapter C of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as shown in Appendix A below.

It is further ordered, That these amendments are effective January 1, 1973.

And it is further ordered, That service of this order shall be made to all carriers by railroad which are affected thereby to all parties of record herein, and notice of the order shall be given the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing a copy of the order with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 20, 24 Stat. 386, as amended 49 USC 20)

The decision in this proceeding will have no impact upon the quality of the environment.

APPENDIX A

No. 32153 (Sub-No. 4)

Statement of amended rules:

Part 1201, "Instructions for Property Accounts", instructions 2-2 and 2-9 are amended as follows:

Item No. 1. Instruction 2-2 Minimum rule applicable to additions to property is revised by replacing the references to "$500.00" in the first and third sentences, to read as "$1,500." As amended, instruction 2-2 reads:

2-2 Minimum rule applicable to additions to property. An exception to the rule in instruction 2-1 is that when the cost of acquisition of units of road property and of additions and betterments to existing units of road property (other than land or tracks) is less than $1,500 such cost shall be charged to operating expenses. The carrier shall not parcel expenditures under a general plan for the purpose of bringing the accounting for such expenditures within this minimum rule. An amount of less than $1,500 may be adopted for purposes of this rule provided the carrier first notifies the Commission of the amount it proposes to adopt and thereafter makes no change in the amount unless authorized to do so by the Commission. An amount so adopted shall be adhered to in reporting property changes for valuation purposes.

Item No. 2. Instruction 2-9 Additions and retirements of other than units of property is revised by replacing the reference to "$500" in the first sentence of paragraph (a), to read as "$1,500." As amended, paragraph (a) of instruction 2-9 reads:

2-9 Additions and retirements of other than units of property. (a) When an item of road or equipment property, other than a complete unit, is added to the plant and the addition is not a replacement, the cost thereof shall be accounted for in the same manner as an addition of a complete unit of property, subject to the $1,500 minimum rule applicable to road property. When an item of property other than a complete unit (minor item) is replaced, independent of the complete unit of which it is a part, the cost of replacement shall be treated as maintenance and charged to operating expenses; except that, when the replacement effects a substantial betterment through the application of superior parts, the primary aim of which is to make the property affected more useful, more efficient, of greater durability, or of greater capacity, the excess cost of new parts over the current cost of new parts of the kind replaced shall be charged to the appropriate primary property account. The cost of removing the old appliances and applying the improved parts shall be charged to operating expenses. (See instruction 2-8 (b) covering retirement of a minor item not replaced.)

PART 82—NOTIFICATION OF LEGAL IDENTITY

Change in Effective Date

On Saturday, December 9, 1972, there was promulgated in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 26308-26310) a new Part 82, Title 30, Code of Federal Regulations requiring the operator of a coal mine to notify the appropriate Coal Mine Health and Safety District Manager for the district in which the coal mine is located of the legal identity of the operator and to report all changes in the legal identity as they occur. Title 6—Economic Stabilization

CHAPTER I—COST OF LIVING COUNCIL

PART 130—COST OF LIVING COUNCIL PHASE III REGULATIONS

Price and Pay Regulation of Food Industry

Part 130 is amended in Subpart F and in Subpart L to set forth the scope of mandatory price and pay rules in the food industry.

Subpart F is amended by revising § 130.51 to set forth a de minimis rule excepting from the mandatory rules of Subpart F the pay adjustments and price adjustments of those manufacturers, service organizations, wholesalers or retailers deriving less than 20 percent of their annual sales and revenues from sales of food and less than $50 million in annual sales and revenues from sales of food.

Subpart F is further amended by adding new §§ 130.57a, 130.57b, and 130.57c which prescribe the rules for determination of profit margin for firms in the food industry. The general rule is that profit margins of firms in the food industry are to be measured separately with respect to food sales to the extent possible. However, if food sales cannot be separately accounted for from nonfood sales, profit margins are to be measured with respect to combined food and nonfood sales. In these latter instances, nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory profit margin and reporting rules of Subpart F, but are not subject to the prenotification rules.

A new paragraph (b) is added to § 130.58 to define the pay adjustments for employees of firms in the food industry which are subject to mandatory pay controls under Subpart F. Such pay adjustments are controlled under the following circumstances:

(1) Pay adjustments are controlled for appropriate employee units in which 50 percent or more of the employees are engaged in food operations; and

(2) Pay adjustments are controlled for employees engaged in food operations in appropriate employee units in which 60 or more employees are engaged in food operations.

A new sentence is added to the definition of "annual sales or revenues" in Subpart L to make it clear that in determining the appropriate prenotification, reporting and recordkeeping status of a firm in the food industry, only gross receipts with respect to food sales are to be considered.

A definition of food is added to Subpart L defining "food" to be items produced or manufactured for human ingestion, but not including alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, or drugs. Restaurants, cafeterias, delicatessens, caterers, vending machines, and similar food service organizations are subject to the mandatory rules of Subpart F except the prenotification requirements.

Animal feeds are not considered food within the meaning of this definition. The major component of the value of animal feeds is raw agricultural products which remain exempt, and processed animal feeds are competitive with exempt raw agricultural products. Items with both animal and human consumption end uses are not considered "food" or subject to prenotification requirements until they enter into a processing stage where they are intended for use as or in a product for human ingestion. Firms that cannot separately account for costs of food and nonfood items must account for price increases for nonfood items at the time they submit for prenotification or otherwise increase prices as provided for by the regulations for food items.

Because the purpose of these regulations is to provide immediate guidance as to Cost of Living Council decisions, I find that publication in accordance with normal rule making procedure is impracticable and that good cause exists for making these regulations effective in less than 30 days. Interested persons may submit comments regarding these regulations. Communications should be addressed to the Office of General Counsel, Cost of Living Council, Washington, DC 20507.

These regulations are effective as of January 11, 1973.

DONALD RUMSFELD,
Director,
Cost of Living Council.

(Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, Title II of Public Law 92-210, 85 Stat. 743 and Executive Order Number 11695)

1. Part 130 is amended in Subpart F by amending § 130.51 to read as follows:

§ 130.51 Scope.

This subpart establishes special mandatory rules applicable to price adjustments for sales of food by manufacturers, service organizations, wholesalers, and retailers unless exempted under the provisions of Subparts D or E of this part and pay adjustments affecting employees in the food industry unless exempted under the provisions of Subpart E of this part. This subpart does not apply to the price adjustments or pay adjustments of any manufacturer, service organization, wholesaler or retailer which both derives less than 20 percent of its annual sales or revenues from sales of food and less than $50 million of annual sales or revenues from sales of food.

§ 130.57 [Amended]

2. Part 130 is further amended in Subpart F by striking the period at the end of the first sentence of § 130.57 and adding the following: "* * * and except that the requirements for prenotification do not apply with respect to food service organizations or with respect to any item until it enters into a processing stage where it is intended for use as or in a product for human ingestion. * * *"

3. Part 130 is further amended in Subpart F by adding the following §§ 130.57a, 130.57b, and 130.57c after § 130.57:

§ 130.57a Profit margin measurement—general.

The general principle applicable to the determination of profit margin for purposes of this subpart is that to the extent possible, consistent with generally accepted accounting principles, profit margin on food sales should be separately determined from profit margin on nonfood sales. To the extent that nonfood sales are not or cannot be separated from food sales for purposes of profit margin determination, such nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of this subpart, except that such nonfood sales are not subject to the requirement of prenotification.

§ 130.57b Profit margin measurement—wholesalers and retailers.

A wholesaler or retailer shall determine its profit margin in a manner consistent with its choice of application of customary initial percentage markups. If the level of control selected for application of customary initial percentage markup purposes encompasses food and nonfood items in a single category or the same categories, then profit margin shall be measured so as to include the nonfood sales which are controlled for customary initial percentage markup purposes together with food sales. A wholesaler or retailer which, for purposes of applying customary initial percentage markup, separately controls food and nonfood items shall determine its profit margin based upon food sales only, except that it may determine profit margin based upon combined food and nonfood sales when profit margin with respect to nonfood sales cannot feasibly be separately determined consistent with generally accepted accounting principles. To the extent that nonfood sales are included in determining profit margin, such nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of this subpart.

§ 130.57c Profit margin measurement—manufacturers and service organizations.

A manufacturer or service organization shall determine its profit margin with respect to food sales separately to the extent possible consistent with generally accepted accounting principles. To the extent that nonfood sales are included in determining profit margin, such nonfood sales are subject to the mandatory rules of this subpart, except that such nonfood sales are not subject to the requirement of prenotification.

4. Part 130 is further amended in Subpart F by making present § 130.58 paragraph (a) of § 130.58 and by adding a new paragraph (b) as follows:

§ 130.58 Pay adjustments.

* * * * *

(b) For purposes of paragraph (a) of this section, "Pay adjustments affecting employees in the food industry" means pay adjustments by any manufacturer, service organization, wholesaler, or retailer subject to the mandatory controls of this Subpart F with respect to:

(1) Employees who are members of an appropriate employee unit in which 50 percent or more of the employees are engaged on a regular and continuing basis in food operations; and

(2) Employees engaged on a regular and continuing basis in food operations and who are members of an appropriate employee unit in which 60 or more of such employees are engaged in food operations.

§ 130.110 [Amended]

5. Part 130 is amended in Subpart L in § 130.110 by adding the following sentence to the definition of annual sales or revenues: "* * * For the purposes of Subpart F, "annual sales or revenues" means total gross receipts as determined above with respect to sales of food."

6. Part 130 is further amended in Subpart L in § 130.110 by adding alphabetically at the appropriate places the following new definitions:

"Food" means items produced or manufactured for human ingestion except alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, or drugs. An item is not food within the meaning of this definition until it enters into a processing stage where it is intended for use as or in a product for human ingestion.

brought under Federal protection.

Hunting crows for sport is recognized as a tradition enjoyed by many in the United States without detriment to the crow population. The convention provides that birds protected by it may be utilized for sport under adequate control. There is no reason to believe that hunting crows for sport under the limitation proposed will in any way be detrimental to the population or result in any appreciable decrease in their number.

PART 10—MIGRATORY BIRDS

It is determined that Subpart A of this Part 10 should be amended to provide for hunting seasons and add a new § 10.133 to Subpart L of this Part 10 to provide the conditions under which hunting seasons may be established.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend § 10.1 to read:

§ 10.1 Scope of regulations.

(a) In general. The regulations contained in this part relate to the hunting of migratory game birds, and common crows (Corvus brachyrhynchos).

(b) Procedural and substantive requirements. Migratory game birds may be taken, possessed, transported, shipped, exported, or imported only in accordance with the restrictions, conditions, and requirements contained in this part. Common crows (Corvus brachyrhynchos) may be taken, possessed, transported, exported, or imported only in accordance with Subpart H of this part and the restrictions, conditions, and requirements prescribed in § 10.133.

* * * * *

It is proposed that the table of sections in Subpart L be amended to read:

Subpart L—Administrative and Miscellaneous Provisions

Sec.
10.131 Extension of seasons.
10.132 Native use in Alaska.
10.133 Hunting regulations for common crows.

AUTHORITY: Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 703–711).

It is proposed that a new § 10.133 be added to Subpart L to read:

§ 10.133 Hunting regulations for common crows.

(a) Common crows (Corvus brachyrhynchos) may be taken, possessed, transported, exported, or imported, only in accordance with such laws or regulations as may be prescribed by a State pursuant to this section.

(b) Except in the States of Hawaii and Alaska where no crows shall be taken, States may by statute or regulation prescribe a hunting season on the common crow (Corvus brachyrhynchos). Such State statutes or regulations may set forth the methods of taking, the bag and possession limits, the dates and duration of the hunting season, and such other regulations as may be deemed appropriate, subject to the following limitations for each State:

(1) Crows shall not be hunted from aircraft;

(2) The hunting season or seasons on crows shall not exceed a total of 124 days during a calendar year;

(3) Hunting shall not be permitted during the peak crow nesting period within a State; and

(4) Crows may only be taken by firearms, bow and arrow, and falconry.

PART 16—MIGRATORY BIRD PERMITS

It is proposed to amend § 16.22 of this subchapter by deleting horned owls and to provide that depredating birds killed pursuant to that section may be possessed, transported, and disposed of except by sale.

Accordingly, it is proposed that § 16.22 in the table of sections be amended to read:

Sec.
16.22 Depredating blackbirds, cowbirds, grackles, common crows, and magpies.

It is proposed that the introductory paragraph and paragraph (a) of § 16.22 be amended to read:

§ 16.22 Depredating blackbirds, cowbirds, grackles, common crows, and magpies.

A Federal permit shall not be required to control yellow-headed red-winged, bicolored red-winged, tri-colored red winged, and Brewer's blackbirds, cowbirds, all grackles, common crows, and magpies, when found committing or about to commit depredations upon ornamental or shade trees, agricultural crops, livestock, or wildlife, or when concentrated in such numbers and manner as to constitute a health hazard or other nuisance; Provided:

(a) That none of the birds killed pursuant to this section, nor their plumage, shall be sold or offered for sale, but may be possessed, transported, and otherwise disposed of or utilized.

* * * * *

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections, concerning the proposed amendments, to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, U.S. Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240. Comments received by March 23, 1973, will be considered.

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority contained in the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 703–711) it is proposed to amend Parts 10 and 16 of Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations.

On March 10, 1972, pursuant to the terms of Article IV of the Convention Between the United States of America and the United Mexican States for the Protection of Migratory Birds and Game Mammals (50 Stat. 1311) the common crow (Corvus brachyrhynchos) was one of the species included in the 32 families of birds added to the convention and brought under Federal protection.

Hunting crows for sport is recognized as a tradition enjoyed by many in the United States without detriment to the crow population. The convention provides that birds protected by it may be utilized for sport under adequate control. There is no reason to believe that hunting crows for sport under the limitation proposed will in any way be detrimental to the population or result in any appreciable decrease in their number.

PART 10—MIGRATORY BIRDS

It is determined that Subpart A of this Part 10 should be amended to provide for hunting seasons and add a new § 10.133 to Subpart L of this Part 10 to provide the conditions under which hunting seasons may be established.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend § 10.1 to read:

§ 10.1 Scope of regulations.

(a) In general. The regulations contained in this part relate to the hunting of migratory game birds, and common crows (Corvus brachyrhynchos).

(b) Procedural and substantive requirements. Migratory game birds may be taken, possessed, transported, shipped, exported, or imported only in accordance with the restrictions, conditions, and requirements contained in this part. SEED COTTON

Proposed Determinations for 1973 Loan Program

The Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to make the following determinations and issue regulations with respect to a loan program for 1973-crop upland and American-Pima seed cotton:

(a) Whether such a loan program should be offered in 1973.

(b) Loan levels.

(c) Detailed operating provisions to carry out the program.

These determinations are to be made pursuant to section 5(a) of the Commodity Credit Corporation Charter Act (15 U.S.C. 714c).

(a) The cotton crop is now harvested over a short period of time (weather permitting). This results in delays to many producers in getting their cotton ginned, rushed ginning, and higher ginning costs to producers. Until cotton is ginned, baled, and stored in a warehouse, it is not eligible for loans under Commodity Credit Corporation's regular cotton loan programs.

This Department is not required to offer a seed cotton loan program. However, a seed cotton loan program was instituted by Commodity Credit Corporation for 1971-crop seed cotton; the program was renewed in 1972. Under these programs, recourse loans were made available on seed cotton in approved storage on or off the farm within a reasonable distance of an approved gin. These loans were designed to afford interim financing for the producers until such time as their cotton could be ginned and be available for sale or placing under the regular loan programs. Since these loans would make it possible for producers to store quantities of seed cotton for more orderly ginning at a later date, it was expected that the program would permit gins to operate over a longer period of time, resulting in reduced costs to producers and ginning of a higher quality cotton.

The 1971 and 1972 programs were limited to selective locations where past experience and conditions have shown that seed cotton can be stored. Participation in the 1971 and 1972 programs was limited, mainly because adverse weather during the harvesting season in some areas delayed harvesting. The program is being reviewed to determine whether it should be continued for 1973.

(b) Under previous seed cotton programs, loans were in amounts somewhat less than the estimated loan value of the lint cotton which would be ginned from the seed cotton placed under loan. Consideration is being given to the levels at which loans should be made available under the 1973 program.

(c) The seed cotton loan program regulations, containing the operating provisions for the 1972 program, were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 13, 1972 (37 FR 11717) and June 21, 1972 (37 FR 12219). These regulations are being reviewed to determine whether similar regulations should be issued for the 1973 program.

Prior to making the foregoing determinations and issuing regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations which are submitted in writing to the Director, Cotton Division, ASCS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. In order to be sure of consideration, all submissions must be received not later than March 1, 1973. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection from 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday, in Room 4091, South Building, 14th and Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC.

Signed at Washington, D.C., on January 23, 1973.

TRANSMISSION OF MOTION PICTURES FOR DISTRIBUTION TO HOTEL ROOMS

Notice of Inquiry and Proposed Rule Making; Memorandum Opinion and Orders

In the matter of various methods of transmitting program material to hotels and similar locations and use of the business radio service for the transmission of motion pictures or other program material to hotels or other similar points. Docket No. 19671.

Amendment of Part 76, Subpart G of the Commission rules and regulations pertaining to the cablecasting of programs for which a per-program or per-channel charge is made. Docket No. 19554.

Amendment of §§ 73.643(b)(2) and 74.1121(a)(2) of the Commission's rules and regulations pertaining to the showing of sports events on over-the-air subscription television or cablecasting. Docket No. 18893.

Amendment of Parts 1, 2, 21, and 43 of the Commission's rules and regulations to provide for licensing and regulation of common carrier radio stations in the multipoint distribution service. Docket No. 19493.

Sterling Manhattan Cable Television, Inc., Complainant v. New York Telephone Co., Defendant.

Petition for Consolidation filed by American Broadcasting Cos., Inc. Petition of National Association of Theatre Owners, Inc., to Impose a "Freeze" on the filing and grant of applications for the use of radio frequencies in connection with the operation of CATV pay-TV systems and/or channels and closed circuit pay-TV systems.

I. 1. The Commission has before it for consideration several proceedings which involve the transmission by wire or radio communication of motion pictures to hotel master antenna systems for distribution to hotel rooms. These include the furnishing of closed-circuit video transmission service by the New York Telephone Co. to Trans-World Communications (a division of Columbia Pictures Industries, Inc.), which is the subject of a complaint by Sterling Manhattan Cable Television, Inc.; applications of Columbia Pictures Industries, Inc. for microwave facilities in the Business Radio Service in several cities; recent grants to Midwest Corp. and others for construction permits in the Multipoint Distribution Service in three cities; and proposed rule making in Docket No. 19493 concerning use of the Multipoint Distribution Service. Although the distribution systems involved differ in technology and include both private and common carrier systems, they raise common questions of potential competition with commercial television broadcast transmissions and cable television, and potential "siphoning" of program material from free television, in addition to certain issues separately applicable to each method of program distribution. Furthermore, we also have pending other proceedings concerning the "siphoning" issue in the use of subscription television and cablecasting (see Dockets Nos. 18893, 19534).

2. In order to consider these common questions together, the Commission has decided to issue this notice of inquiry and notice of proposed rule making. The basic issue upon which we seek the comment of interested persons is whether, assuming that the various proposed new methods of supplying motion pictures or other mass entertainment to hotels are otherwise in the public interest, they should nevertheless be restricted in order to prevent or limit the competitive effect upon television broadcast service or cable television service. In adopting rules for a subscription television service,[1] we determined that "free" television service to the public should be protected against the siphoning of certain program material for which the public now pays no direct charge. (See § 73.643 of the rules and regulations, 47 CFR 73.643.)[2] For the same reason, we imposed essentially the same restrictions upon programs cablecast for pay upon a per-channel or per-program basis by cable television systems. See § 74.1121, CATV, 23 F.C.C. 2d 825 (1970), now § 76.225 (37 FR 3288). In Docket No. 19554, Cablecasting Program Charges, 35 F.C.C. 2d 893 (1972), we requested further comments on the rules governing cablecasting, including the changes with respect to sports programs adopted in Docket No. 18893 for subscription television. The issues now before us are somewhat different, since the presently proposed modes of supplying motion pictures to hotels do not directly convert "free" channels of television broadcasting to pay use, as is the case with subscription television, and do not rely upon television broadcasting to supply basic program material, as is the case with cable television systems. Nevertheless, the questions remain of whether the newer modes will in fact affect the public's receipt of motion pictures or other program material on the other media and, if so, whether it is appropriate for the Commission to adopt similar, or different, restrictions for the new modes, modify the existing restrictions on pay cablecasting and subscription television, or take other remedial action. We are aware that the proposals now before us concern only the supplying of motion pictures to hotels, but the potential for a wider distribution of this and other material would appear to be present, as is the potential for a wider interconnection than now appears to be involved. We stress that this proceeding seeks data as to the trends in these new services and the possible impact of such trends on the public interest. Our action, therefore, may go beyond the hotel/motel aspects and include apartment buildings and similar predominantly non-transient locations.

3. It might have been feasible to consider the competition issue separately with respect to each matter before us involving the transmission of motion pictures to hotels by wire or radio. However, despite the technological differences among them, and the separate questions raised by each mode which apply only to it, we believe it preferable to treat the issue of competitive effect on an overall basis, since this issue is essentially the same with respect to each. Policy in this area should not be made on a piecemeal basis. We therefore request comment, with a view toward the adoption of final rules, on the question of whether we should limit the nature of material transmitted to hotel television receivers (or receivers in other institutions or private homes) by common carrier wire or radio, noncommon carrier wire or radio, or laser techniques, in order to prevent the loss of such material by television broadcast stations or cable television systems, or otherwise limit or prevent any such competitive effect upon these services as would be contrary to the public interest. In this regard, we seek information and views on the nature of existing and potential transmission methods, their impact on other services and the policy appropriate to their regulation. Is free competition or limited competition more in the public interest, taking due account of the nature of the respective services? If restrictions on free competition are desirable, what should they be—should they be similar to those now in effect for subscription television and pay cablecasting, or should they include more or less program material? Should they apply to transmissions to any television receivers, even if such transmissions are limited to hotels serving primarily transients, or should they take effect only where a larger or nontransient audience is involved? If the latter, at what point should they come into play? Should we consider relaxing the existing restrictions on pay cablecasting and subscription television rather than impose conditions upon the new services? Finally, should these forms of transmission be required to provide other services required of cable television systems? If so, what should be the form of the rule change (e.g. expanding the definition of a cable system to include hotel or apartment building systems)?

4. During the period we are considering the questions raised in this proceeding, we believe cable systems should be able to compete on an equal footing for the hotel/motel motion picture distribution business. By this we mean in competitive situations those cable systems desiring to transmit motion pictures to hotels or motels (i.e., accommodations used predominantly for transient occupancy) should not be required to adhere to our 2–10 year film restriction (i.e., § 76.225(a)(1) of our rules). Therefore in the aforementioned situation where a cable system is in competition with a noncable television program distribution system within the cable system's franchise area, we will waive upon appropriate request § 76.225(a)(1) of our rules with respect only to cable transmission to hotels/motels. A cable system may file for a waiver in the very early stages of a competitive situation, and in any event it and the hotel/motel entrepreneur may proceed with negotiations in such competitive situations with the assurance that a waiver will be forthcoming.[3]

5. Authority for the proposed rule making and inquiry instituted herein is contained in sections 2, 3, 4 (i) and (j), 201, 214, 301, 303, 307, 308, 309, and 403 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 152, 153, 154 (i) and (j), 201, 214, 301, 303, 307, 308, 309, and 403. In accordance with the provisions of section 1.419 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all comments, replies, and other pleadings shall be filed. Written comments should be filed on or before May 21, 1973, and reply comments on or before July 23, 1973.

II. 6. We also have before us the petition of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC), for consolidation of the rule making proceedings in Docket Nos. 19554, 18893, and 19493, the Sterling Manhattan Cable Television complaint and the applications of Columbia Pictures for microwave licenses, insofar as these matters relate to the "siphoning" of program material from free television.[4] Several parties have opposed this request. We agree with ABC, as indicated above, that there is a competitive impact issue common to the transmission methods other than subscription television and cablecasting which should be treated in one proceeding. However, we do not agree that all of the pending matters should be consolidated. We will proceed with them, and dispose of the ABC petition, in the manner set forth below.

7. Docket No. 19554, concerning the cablecasting of programs for which a per-channel or per-program charge is made, has been before us since June 1970. Throughout this proceeding we have indicated our desire to expedite its resolution. When we adopted our July 19, 1972 notice of proposed rule making and memorandum opinion and order, we said at page 8:

> We will make every effort to expedite resolution of this proceeding and expect to adhere to this proposed timetable.

Later, on September 27, 1972, when we extended the time for filing comments and reply comments for a period less than that requested, we said:

> In issuing the notice in this proceeding we indicated our intention to complete it expeditiously. Expedition was felt to be especially desirable because the existing rules were to be retained during the course of the proceeding although they had been subject to serious criticism on both procedural and other grounds.

We reiterate this view and believe that a consolidation of this proceeding with the [1] Subscription Television, 15 F.C.C. 2d 466 (1968), affirmed National Association of Theatre Owners v. F.C.C., 420 F. 2d 194 (C.A.D.C., 1969), cert. den. 397 U.S. 922.

[2] In Docket No. 18893, Showing of Sports Events, 34 F.C.C. 2d 271 (1972), we revised those rules as they apply to over-the-air subscription television, with particular regard to sports events. Although we had requested comment on applying the changes to cablecasting, we left that subject for later and separate treatment. Petitions for reconsideration of Docket No. 18893 are pending, but not on this latter question, reconsideration having been denied as to the determination to take up the cablecasting limitations separately. (35 F.C.C. 2d 893 (1972).)

[3] We stress that our willingness to entertain the above waivers of the 2–10 year film restriction is a temporary measure designed to apply until the proceeding we are instituting today is finally resolved. This action is in no way indicative of any decision we might reach in Docket No. 19554.

[4] The Illinois Commerce Commission has also sought consolidation.

other captioned matters would cause an unnecessary delay. The issues surrounding pay cablecasting are sufficiently distinct to be handled separately, and we see no need to delay their resolution while we investigate the potential effect of the other methods of program transmission which are the subject of our inquiry. In our July 19, 1972 notice we restated the relevant questions and said we would take into consideration prior comments on these questions and any new comments relating to them. We also proposed to receive comments on four questions listed by ABC.[3] Since the particular questions relate to our pay cable policy, we feel it appropriate to decide them in Docket 19554. This will not deprive us of the flexibility to change these rules if necessary or to take notice of comments received on these questions and the effect of any decision made by us in this Docket upon the proceedings begun today.

8. Docket No. 18893 is virtually completed. The only matters left for decision are questions concerning clarification of amended § 73.643(b)(2) adopted in our report and order of March 23, 1972 (34 F.C.C. 2d 271). This being so, and because of the separate policy questions relevant to subscription television which, as we noted above, directly displaces traditional television broadcasting, we see no reason to order a consolidation of this docket with all the other captioned matters which would substantially delay a decision we can make very soon.

9. Docket No. 19493 involves a number of issues beyond those which are the subject of our notice and inquiry herein. However, it also involves basically similar competitive questions. Thus, in the notice of proposed rule making released on April 26, 1972, 34 F.C.C. 2d 719, at 722, we stated:

> The future development of this service is not entirely clear at this time. The various uses as projected by the applicants appear to be limited to instructional and business closed circuit television. While we do not anticipate that these facilities would be used to reach a mass market for closed circuit entertainment programming, a substantial entertainment market would appear to be possible. For example, an entrepreneur could arrange through the carrier to have programming (e.g., sports or movies) distributed for several hours a day or week to a number of hotels in a city, or in several cities if intercity connections were provided. While such arrangements would not be likely to reach the mass audiences anticipated in connection with subscription television or cablecasting, the audience could be substantial nonetheless. Therefore, we raise the question whether some anti-siphoning rules similar to those adopted in our report and order in Docket No. 18893, released March 29, 1972 (FCC 72-263), would be appropriate. We solicit comments on this question, including whether and to what degree this service is likely to develop into a device for serving substantial entertainment audiences. It is appropriate to note that other types of common carrier facilities, e.g., point-to-point microwave and cable, are also used for closed circuit television distribution. Therefore, it is possible that the Commission may want to consider the matter in a broader context than this proceeding.

Because we have already asked for comments on this subject, we will extract from Docket No. 19493 those comments which deal with it, and include them in the proceeding we are instituting today.

10. We are also today ruling upon the Sterling Manhattan Cable Television complaint against New York Telephone Co. in a separate document. The issues raised there are consolidated herein to the extent already indicated.

III. 11. In another action today, we have made a partial grant of applications filed by Columbia Pictures for microwave facilities in the Business Radio Service in the 12,200–12,700 MHz band. Our grants authorize Columbia Pictures to use private microwave to distribute motion pictures to hotels for viewing by the hotel guests and for distributing information about the movies available and the starting time of each feature. We have not granted Columbia Pictures proposals to use microwave radio channels for convention coverage and for transmission of paid advertisements associated with information about services, facilities, and attractions in the city. Further, we have conditioned our grants on the outcome of this proceeding because, although we concluded that the partial grants are consistent with existing rules, we believe a broad review of this type of use of Business microwave facilities is desirable.

12. Accordingly, we request comments on the following questions: (a) whether the microwave frequencies available in the Business Radio Service should be used for the transmission of motion pictures or other program material to hotels or to other reception points on a subscription basis; (b) if this service is to be authorized, what, if any, program transmission restrictions should be imposed, and what should be its relationship to cable television services; (c) more generally, comments are requested on whether Business microwave frequencies should be used for distribution by the licensee of his product for which a charge is made (such as motion pictures, music, etc.), or his services (such as computer service) to his customers; (d) whether private systems for convention coverage and transmission of information supported by advertising should be authorized; (e) assuming the services described in (a), (c), and (d) above are to be permitted, comments are requested on the impact of each on the spectrum space available in the Business Radio Service and on whether a new radio service, perhaps on frequencies above 12,700 MHz, should be established.

13. Resolution of these issues may result in amendment of the rules governing the use of the business radio service or new proposals for the creation of a new service. Authority for the proposed amendments is in sections 301, 303, 307, 308, 309, and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 301, 303, 307, 308, 309, and 316. The time for filing comments on these issues is the same as that set forth above with respect to the general competitive impact issues.

IV. 14. In reaching its decisions in these matters, the Commission may take into account any relevant information before it in addition to the specific comments received. Responses will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the Commission's public reference room at its headquarters in Washington, D.C.

15. In view of what has been set forth above, the petition of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc., and that of the Illinois Commerce Commission are granted to the extent indicated and otherwise are denied.

16. The petition of the Theatre Owners of America is also denied. Their request for a stay across-the-board of all grants of applications for the use of the spectrum in connection with pay cable or the provision of program material to hotels is unsupported by any showing warranting the grant of this drastic relief, either in terms of private or public injury or problems of spectrum scarcity.

Released: January 24, 1973.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Aviation Administration

[14 CFR Part 121]

[Docket No. 12534; Notice No. 73-3]

CIVIL AIRPLANE FLEET NOISE (FNL) REQUIREMENTS

Advance Notice of Proposed Rule Making

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering proposing the adoption of regulations that would prevent escalation of fleet noise levels (FNL); require a reduction in fleet noise levels on or before July 1, 1976; and require airplanes to comply with 14 CFR Part 36 (Noise Standards: Aircraft Type Certification)[1] on and after July 1, 1978. The proposal would apply to aircraft operated in interstate commerce under Part 121 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 121) by air carriers, supplemental air carriers, and commercial and air taxi operators operating turbojet engine powered airplanes with maximum weights of 75,000 pounds or greater.

This proposal would not apply to airplanes engaged in foreign air commerce. The United States believes that it is preferable that environmental problems affecting international civil aviation, like other aviation problems affecting more than one nation, be considered initially and hopefully resolved by the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO). ICAO is currently addressing the problem of aircraft noise, and has in fact scheduled its next meeting on the subject in March of this year. Issuance at this time of a proposal affecting airplanes in foreign air commerce could be construed by some in the international community as prejudging the issue or restricting U.S. participation in the ICAO work. An agreed international standard in this area would certainly reduce operational and enforcement problems and would put air carriers competing in foreign air commerce on a comparable footing. It is the intention of the United States to pursue this objective.

The proposal would also not apply to airplanes operated in overseas air commerce. The FAA specifically invites comments concerning whether these airplanes should be covered and, if so, on what basis.

To aid persons wishing to comment on the ANPRM, the terms "interstate air commerce", "overseas air commerce" and "foreign air commerce" are defined, respectively, as meaning the carriage by aircraft of persons or property for compensation or hire, or the carriage of mail by aircraft in commerce between respectively—

(a) A place in any State of the United States, or the District of Columbia, and a place in any other State of the United States, or the District of Columbia; or between places in the same State of the United States through the airspace over any place outside thereof; or between places in the same territory or possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia;

(b) A place in any State of the United States, or the District of Columbia, and any place in a territory or possession of the United States; or between a place in a territory or possession of the United States, and a place in any other territory or possession of the United States; and

(c) A place in the United States and any place outside thereof; whether such commerce moves wholly by aircraft or partly by aircraft and partly by other forms of transportation.

These definitions are derived from section 101(20) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1301(20)).

This advance notice of proposed rule making is being issued in accordance with the FAA's policy for the early institution of public proceedings in actions related to rule making. An "advance" notice is issued to invite early public participation in the identification and selection of a course or alternate courses of action with respect to a particular rule making problem.

Interested persons are invited to participate in this rule making action by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket or notice number and be submitted in duplicate to: Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket, AGC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20591. All communications received on or before March 2, 1973, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposal. All comments will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the rules docket for examination by interested persons.

This advance notice is published after consideration of comments received in response to Advance Notice of Proposed Rule Making 70-44, "Civil Airplane Noise Reduction Retrofit Requirements" (Docket No. 10664), published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (35 FR 16980) on November 4, 1970.

The responses to the Civil Airplane Noise Reduction notice may be categorized in three basic groups: (1) City and State governmental authorities, citizen groups, and individual Congressmen and citizens; (2) foreign states and manufacturers; and (3) domestic industry groups and associations.

The first group almost unanimously supports the early implementation of retrofit[2] requirements; in geenral, however, the responses do not address the technological practicability or economic reasonableness of early implementation.

The members of the foreign group express the opinion that any retrofit requirements should be developed in the international forum because foreign operators may be required to comply with similar regulations. The FAA supports the concept that it is desirable to obtain uniformity of regulatory action through the ICAO procedure, and, as previously stated, is working in support of that international effort. Accordingly, this FNL proposal would supplement the establishment of international standards, while providing early relief to the public from aircraft noise generated by interstate operators.

The foreign group also expresses doubts that meaningful noise reductions can be obtained in an economical manner, particularly for aircraft whose engine noise source is dominated by the high velocity jet noise. The technical and economic reservations with respect to the high jet velocity noise source aircraft have, to a significant extent, been resolved since the issuance of the civil airplane noise reduction notice. Many pure jet (nonturbofan) aircraft have been retired because they are economically less desirable from an operational standpoint. In addition, recent technology programs being conducted indicate some potential for the development of jet noise suppression devices and, to this end, the fleet noise program now under consideration could provide flexibility in dealing with pure jet aircraft.

The domestic industry groups were divided on the qeustion of proceeding with an aircraft acoustic retrofit. The United Automobile Workers of America, the Air Line Pilots' Association, the American Association of Airport Executives, the Airport Operators' Council International, the National Association of State Aviation Officials, and the National Academy of Sciences all endorsed the early initiation of an aircraft acoustic retrofit requirement. Their position, essentially, is that existing studies are adequate to establish technical and economic feasibility and that noise reduction would be meaningful to airport neighbors.

The Aerospace Industries Association and the Air Transport Association express the opposing opinion that adequate information is not available to proceed with an acoustic retrofit program. Additionally, they argue that regulations should not be promulgated until the term "meaningful relief" is defined, until complete acoustical modifications are available for each airplane type, and until specific financing means are resolved. The FAA believes that, since the issuance of the civil airplane noise reduction notice, the technical problems leading to the definition of airworthy acoustical configurations which will meet the requirements of Part 36 are in the process of being resolved. It is believed that ongoing programs will lead to the development of airworthy Part 36 configurations in time to permit compliance with an FNL program without unreasonable burdens on the operators.[3] The requirements of the FNL program are believed to provide reasonable time for the modification of production lines to produce acoustic configurations for each airplane type as required by the operators, and to insure that the resulting reductions in fleet noise levels and individual airplane noise levels are meaningful.

[1] Part 36, applicable to subsonic transport category airplanes, and subsonic turbojet airplanes of all categories, establishes noise limits and methods to measure and evaluate aircraft noise. Compliance with the Part 36 requirements is necessary with respect to airplane types developed since December 1, 1969, before a type certificate may be issued for any airplane under the provisions of Part 21 (14 CFR Part 21).

[2] Retrofit, simply stated, is an aircraft or engine modification program designed to lessen noise emissions.

After considering these views, an FNL concept is being considered as an interim measure to relieve increasing airplane noise emissions until such time as all pertinent airplanes are subject to Part 36. Although the FNL concept, as fully explained below, is considered to be the most appropriate course to follow, within current technological capabilities, this does not imply a rejection of the retrofit program. Rather, the FNL concept is designed to permit an air carrier the alternative of modifying existing airplanes, replacing them with others having lower noise levels, or a combination of these actions. The time frames proposed for staging full compliance are designed to permit this flexibility. The FNL concept is not being considered as the exclusive solution to the noise level problem. Any person may propose alternative courses to or variants of the FNL and retrofit programs, and these will be considered by the Administrator in this proceeding. For this reason, an advance notice is being published, to inform all concerned that a solution is being sought to the overall noise level problem, and to afford an opportunity to be heard to any person desiring to coment. An environmental impact statement has not been prepared at this stage in the proceeding. Should further action be pursued, however, a statement will be promulgated at the appropriate time.

The FNL concept is discussed below, and is followed by a draft implementing regulation.

I. Scope. The FNL proposal would apply to all airplanes, with a maximum weight of 75,000 pounds or more, not operated in foreign or overseas air commerce. This would include airplane fleets operated by air carriers engaged in interstate air transportation under a certificate of public convenience and necessity or other appropriate economic authority issued by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB); the above-mentioned air carriers when engaged in interstate charter flights or other special service operations; supplemental air carriers and commercial operators engaged in the carriage of persons or property in interstate air commerce for compensation or hire; and certain air taxi operators.

II. The Fleet Noise Level (FNL) concept and methodology. Under the FNL concept, every airplane operating in interstate commerce would be required to comply with Part 36—"Noise Standards: Aircraft Type Certification" not later than July 1, 1978. Pending achievement of that objective, the FNL concept would immediately establish an upper limit on the cumulative noise levels of each fleet operator, and then would require a phased reduction of those levels so that, by July 1, 1976, at least 50 percent of the reduction required by July 1, 1978 would be achieved.

The FNL concept is based on the principle that the noise level of any given fleet is a function of the jet-engine noise of each airplane in that fleet and the total number of takeoffs and landings of each airplane in that fleet. The major elements of the FNL concept are: (1) Determining the noise levels for each airplane in the fleet, (2) determining the total number of operations (takeoffs and landings), for each airplane type for a representative 90-day period, (3) calculating a fleet noise level based on a mean logarithmic equation, and (4) establishing a precise limit on fleet noise levels.

The first element—determination of the takeoff and approach noise levels—would be calculated under the same takeoff and approach noise measurement terms and conditions as are used in Part 36 type certification. These terms and conditions have received wide review and will insure that the noise levels are of the same quality and have the same meaning as those that are determined during type certification. A sideline noise level measurement is not proposed, however, because the FAA believes that the calculation of the takeoff fleet noise level would not be altered significantly by including sideline noise levels. Also, in order to insure that the effects of takeoff and approach noise are discretely accounted for, no tradeoff between takeoffs and landings would be permitted. As in type certification, any weights less than maximum weight or design landing weight that are used in determining the takeoff and approach noise levels of an airplane for the purpose of determining FNL would be required to be established as operating limitations for the airplane. The noise level generated by each airplane would be required to be submitted within 30 days following the prescribed 90-day period.

The second element of the proposed regulation—the summary of total number of individual takeoffs and landings for any given 90-day period—would be required to be submitted every 90 days.

The third element—calculation method for determining fleet noise levels—is set forth as a draft proposal in Appendix G of Part 121, infra. The calculation is based on a mean logarithmic formula prescribed in section 2 of that appendix. The formula has been developed to combine the takeoff and landing summaries and the noise levels of each airplane within a fleet in an analytical process that reflects the contribution of these two factors to the noise level of each fleet (FNL).

The fourth element—the limiting fleet noise level (FNL) value, one for takeoff and one for approach—would be imposed as legal limitations on each fleet. These two limiting FNL values are derived, for each operator's fleet, under the prescribed mean logarithmic equation in Appendix G, using the 90-day summary of takeoffs and landings of each airplane in the fleet. The draft limiting FNL requirements are contained in proposed §§ 121.807 and 121.809 and are discussed below.

III. Rules beginning _____, 1973 (proposed § 121.807). The purpose of this section would be immediately to "freeze," and prevent any further escalation of, the fleet noise levels that are now being generated and to achieve a positive FNL reduction on and after July 1, 1976. This would be done (1) by requiring each operator to submit the data and information necessary to establish the FNL's actually generated by him during a representative 90 consecutive days during the 12 months preceding the date of this notice, (2) by the Administrator's determination of the initial FNL's and, (3) by requiring that the initial FNL's not be exceeded (after a reasonable period for challenge). The challenge provisions would function as follows: The FNL data and information, submitted on or before _____, 1973, would be converted into FNL's by the Administrator and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. For operators for which no FNL can be established because of matters such as a strike or merger, the FAA would publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER an FNL equal to the average of all FNL's published or an FNL established by other means determined by the Administrator to be equitable and representative of that operator's experience. These values could be challenged by the operator within the 30 days following FEDERAL REGISTER publication. The values would be amended and republished if the Administrator agreed that the published FNL's were not equitable or representative. Initial published FNL values would become legal limits for each operator 60 days after their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER unless challenged, in which case the Administrator's decision on the challenge would become legally binding 30 days after publication of that decision.

IV. Rules beginning July 1, 1976 (proposed § 121.809). On and after July 1, 1976, the FNL's originally established for each operator would be required to be reduced to a level that is halfway between the original level and the level that would exist if each airplane covered by this proposal was type certificated under Part 36 (a goal that would have to be fully achieved by the operator no later than July 1, 1978). Thus, if the operator's takeoff FNL established under proposed § 121.807 were 104, and it is determined (for any 90-day period following July 1, 1976) that, given the total number of takeoffs and landings within that period, the operator's takeoff FNL, computed as though each of the operator's airplanes complied with Part 36 (including Appendix C), would be 96, the operator would be limited to a takeoff FNL of 100 (that is, an FNL one-half way between 104 and 96). The operator would be subject to audit by the Administrator at any time to ensure that a takeoff FNL of 100 were not exceeded during any prescribed 90-day period. In addition, the provisions of § 121.807(d) requiring continuous submission of FNL data and information would continue to apply on and after July 1, 1976.

V. Rules beginning July 1, 1978 (proposed § 121.811). On July 1, 1978, the FNL concept would expire. In its place,

[2] Among those airplanes now in commercial domestic and foreign service and not subject to Part 36 certification are: DC-8, DC-9, Boeing 707, 727, and 747-100, Convair 880 and 990, and all turboprop aircraft. The BAC-111, operated in domestic service, also is not subject to Part 36 certification.

the regulation would require each operator to restrict all of his operations covered by this proposal to airplanes type certificated under Part 36, "including compliance with Appendix C of that Part". The quoted words would preclude argument that compliance with Part 36, for airplanes with older type certificates, could be accomplished through compliance with the provisions of Part 36 concerning early application dates (e.g., § 36.201).

The proposed rules are as follows:

Subpart X—Fleet Noise Levels

§ 121.801 Applicability.

This subpart governs the operation of turbojet engine powered airplanes with maximum weights of 75,000 pounds or more by operators when they are engaging in interstate air commerce. This subpart includes only those turbojet engine powered airplanes (one or more) that are in the operator's operating specifications or aircraft listing.

§ 121.803 Inspections by Administrator.

The operator shall permit the Administrator to make all inspections of records, data, and facilities necessary to ensure continuing compliance with this subpart, and all records and data shall be maintained in current status by the operator for this purpose.

§ 121.805 Relation to Part 36 of the Federal Aviation Regulations.

(a) All data and information submitted under this subpart for the purpose of determining takeoff or approach noise levels of individual airplane types shall be adequate to ensure compliance with §§ 36.3, 36.5, 36.101, 36.103, 36.1501, 36.1581, C36.1, C36.3, C36.7, and C36.9 of Part 36 of this chapter. All determinations of approach and takeoff noise levels of individual airplane types by the Administrator under this subpart will be made in accordance with those sections.

(b) Unless otherwise specified, all references in this subpart to provisions of Part 36 refer to Part 36 of this chapter as effective on December 1, 1969.

§ 121.806 Weight limits.

Any weights, less than maximum weight or design landing weight, that are used in determining the takeoff or approach noise, respectively, for any airplane under this subpart must be established as operating limitations for that airplane.

§ 121.807 Requirements beginning on --, 1973.

(a) On and after _____, 1973, no person may operate an airplane covered by this subpart until he submits, and the Administrator accepts—

(1) All data and information necessary to determine the takeoff and approach noise levels of each airplane covered by this subpart and operated by him during a representative 90-day period during the 12 months preceding the issuance of this notice [date would be inserted in final rule]; and

(2) The total number of takeoffs and approaches conducted by him with each of the specified airplanes during that 90-day period.

(b) Using the data and information submitted under paragraph (a) of this section, the Administrator will determine—

(1) The takeoff and approach noise level of each airplane for which data and information are submitted; and

(2) The takeoff and approach FNL's, computed under Appendix G of this part, that were generated by that operator for the 90-day period described in paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(c) The Administrator will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the takeoff and approach FNL's computed under paragraph (b) (2) of this section for each operator. For an operator for which a representative FNL cannot be established, the Administrator publishes in the FEDERAL REGISTER, under paragraph (c) of this section, an FNL equal to the average of all FNL's computed under paragraph (b) (2) of this section, or by other means determined by the Administrator to be equitable and representative of that operaor's experience. The operator may, within 30 days following that publication, challenge the published FNL's. If the Administrator finds that the published FNL's are equitable and representative, he will so notify the operator. On and after 60 days following the date of publication of the initial FNL's or, if challenged, on and after 30 days after receipt of the Administrator's disposition of that challenge, no operator may operate an airplane covered by this subpart that is not type certificated under Part 36 of this chapter (including compliance with Appendix C of that part) if he exceeds his original or amended, as the case may be, FNL's in any consecutive 90-day period prescribed in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) No person may operate an airplane covered by this subpart unless—

(1) He has submitted by 30 days following _____, 1973, all data and information necessary to determine the takeoff and approach noise levels of, and the number of takeoffs and approaches made by each airplane covered by this subpart during the 90 days preceding that date; and

(2) Thereafter, he has submitted by 30 days following each 90-day period subsequent to _____, 1973, the data and information (as specified in paragraph (d) (1) of this section) for that period.

§ 121.809 Requirements beginning on July 1, 1976.

In addition to continuing compliance with § 121.807(d) of this part, and beginning on July 1, 1976, the takeoff and approach FNL's of an operator's fleet for the 90-day period prescribed in § 121.807 (d), computed in accordance with Appendix G of this part, may not exceed one-half of the sum of the following—

(a) The taffeoff and approach FNL's, respectively, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER under § 121.807(c); and

(b) The takeoff and approach FNL's, respectively, computed under Appendix G of this part for the preceding 90 days, using the noise level limits of Part 36, Appendix C of this chapter, for each airplane operated during that period.

§ 121.811 Requirements beginning on July 1, 1978.

(a) On July 1, 1978, the requirements of §§ 121.807 and 121.809 expire.

(b) On and after July 1, 1978, no person may operate an aircraft covered by this subpart unless that aircraft is type certificated under Part 36 of this chapter, including compliance with Appendix C of that part.

APPENDIX G—FLEET NOISE LEVELS

SEC. 1. General. This appendix shall be used in determining the takeoff Fleet Noise Level (FNL) and the approach FNL of an operator's fleet in compliance with Subpart X of this part.

SEC. 2. Mean logarithmic equation. The following mean logarithmic equation shall be used:

$$FNL = 10\ Log_{10}\left[\frac{\sum_{j=1}^{j=n} N_j\ Antilog\ L_j/10}{\sum_{j=1}^{j=n} N_j}\right]$$

Where:

FNL = Fleet Noise Level (EPNL—units of db).

N_j = The number of operations for the 90-day period (Airplane j).

L_j = The noise level of each airplane, determined as specified in § 121.805.

SEC. 3. Method; Example. Assume that fleet 90-day takeoff information is as follows:

Type	T.O. weight	90-day number of operations	Noise level (EPNdB)
			Actual	Pt. 36, app. C
X	227,000	179	110	101
Y	113,000	211	104	96
Z	394,000	147	98	105

Step 1. From the above fleet table (takeoff) determine FNL for actual noise levels by airplane using the number of 90-day operations.

$$FNL\ (Actual) = 10\ log_{10}\left[\frac{\left(179\ Antilog\ \frac{110}{10}\right)+\left(211\ Antilog\ \frac{104}{10}\right)+\left(147\ Antilog\ \frac{98}{10}\right)}{537}\right]$$

FNL (Actual) = 106.5 EPNdB

Step 2. From the above fleet table (takeoff) determine FNL for Part 36, Appendix C, noise levels, for each airplane, using the number of 90-day operations:

$$\text{FNL (Limit)} = 10 \text{ Log}_{10}\left[\frac{\left(179 \text{ Antilog } \frac{101}{10}\right)+\left(211 \text{ Antilog } \frac{96}{10}\right)+\left(147 \text{ Antilog } \frac{105}{10}\right)}{537}\right]$$

FNL (Limit) = 101.6 EPNdB

Analysis:

1. Beginning on July 1, 1973, the example takeoff FNL for any consecutive 90-day period may not exceed that of Step 1 (106.5 EPNdB).

2. Beginning on July 1, 1976, the example takeoff FNL for any consecutive 90-day period may not exceed one-half the value of Step 1 plus Step 2:

$$\tfrac{1}{2}[106.5+101.6]=104.1 \text{ EPNdB}$$

Steps 1, 2, and 3 are repeated for determining FNL compliance on approach, using a similar fleet table appropriately listing approach (landing) weights and related existing and limit noise levels.

This advance notice of proposed rule making is issued under the authority of sections 307(c), 313(a), 601, and 611 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1348(c), 1354(a), 1421, and 1431); section 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); title I of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.); and Executive Order 11514, March 5, 1970.

The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's reports, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that there is a lack of substantial evidence, within the meaning of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, that each component of the combination drugs contributes to the total effect claimed for the drug, and that these fixed combination drugs will have the effect that they purport or are represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in their labeling.

Therefore, notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the listed new drug application(s) and all amendments and supplements thereto on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application(s) reviewed. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, October 31, 1972). Any manufacturer or distributor of such an identical, related, or similar product is an interested person who may in response to this notice submit data and information, request that the new drug application(s) not be withdrawn, request a hearing, and participate as a party in any hearing. Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn.

On or before March 1, 1973, the applicant(s) and any other interested person is required to file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, a written appearance electing whether or not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before March 1, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s).

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before March 1, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claims involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order of withdrawal making findings and conclusions on such data.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after the expiration of such 30 days, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process the Commissioner finds entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

Requests for a hearing and/or elections not to request a hearing may be seen in the Office of the Hearing Clerk (address given above) during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

This notice is issued pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1052–53, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355), and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120).

Dated: January 22, 1973.

Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application(s) reviewed. Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn.

On or before March 1, 1973, the applicant(s) and any other interested person is required to file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, a written appearance electing whether or not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before March 1, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s).

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before March 1, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claims involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order of withdrawal making findings and conclusions on such data.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after March 1, 1973, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process the Commissioner finds entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

Requests for a hearing and/or elections not to request a hearing may be seen in the Office of the Hearing Clerk (address given above) during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

This notice is issued pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1052–53, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355), and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120).

Dated: January 22, 1973.

Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

7. Vertavis Tablets containing veratrum viride; Mallinckrodt Pharmaceuticals (NDA 5-691).

Such drugs are regarded as new drugs (21 U.S.C. 321(p)). Supplemental new drug applications are required to revise the labeling in and to update previously approved applications providing for such drugs. A new drug application is required from any person marketing such drug without approval.

A. Effectiveness classification. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's reports, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that:

1. These drugs are effective for use in the treatment of mild to moderate hypertension.

2. The drugs lack substantial evidence of effectiveness for all their other labeled indications.

B. Conditions for approval and marketing. The Food and Drug Administration is prepared to approve abbreviated new drug applications and abbreviated supplements to previously approved new drug applications under conditions described herein.

1. Form of drug. These preparations are in tablet form suitable for oral administration.

2. Labeling conditions. a. The labels bear the statement, "Caution: Federal law prohibited dispensing without prescription."

b. The drugs are labeled to comply with all requirements of the Act and regulations, and the labeling bears adequate information for safe and effective use of the drugs. The Indications are:

> For treatment of mild to moderate hypertension. The efficacy-safety relationship in this preparation is such that the effective and toxic dose levels are often approximately the same.

3. Marketing status. Marketing of such drugs may be continued under the conditions described in the notice entitled "Conditions for Marketing New Drugs Evaluated in Drug Efficacy Study," published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 14, 1970 (35 FR 11273), as follows:

a. For holders of "deemed approved" new drug applications (i.e., an application which became effective on the basis of safety prior to Oct. 10, 1962), the submission of a supplement for revised labeling and an abbreviated supplement for updating information as described in paragraphs (a)(1) (i) and (iii) of the notice of July 14, 1970.

b. For any person who does not hold an approved or effective new drug application, the submission of an abbreviated new drug application, as described in paragraph (a)(3)(i) of that notice.

c. For any distributor of the drug, the use of labeling in accord with this announcement for any such drug shipped within the jurisdiction of the Act as described in paragraph (b) of that notice.

C. Notice of opportunity for a hearing. Notice is given to the holder(s) of the new drug application(s) and to any other interested person that the Commissioner proposes to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355 (e)) withdrawing approval of the listed new drug application(s) and all amendments and supplements thereto providing for indications lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness referred to in paragraph A.2 of this notice on the grounds that new information before him with respect to the drug(s), evaluated together with the evidence available to him at the time of approval of the application(s), shows there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug(s) will have all the effects purported or represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling. An order withdrawing approval will not issue with respect to any application(s) supplemented, in accord with this notice, to delete the claim(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

Any manufacturer or distributor of such an identical, related, or similar product is an interested person who may in response to this notice submit data and information, request that the new drug application(s) not be withdrawn, request a hearing, and participate as a party in any hearing.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the Act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner hereby gives the applicant(s) and any other interested person an opportunity for a hearing to show why approval of the new drug application(s) providing for the claim(s) involved should not be withdrawn.

On or before March 1, 1973, the applicant(s) and any other interested person may file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 6-88, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, a written appearance electing whether or not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing. Failure of an applicant or any other interested person to file a written appearance of election on or before March 1, 1973, will constitute an election by him not to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing.

If no person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing approval of the application(s) which have not been supplemented to delete the indication(s) lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness.

If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before March 1, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claim(s) involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order making findings and conclusions on such data and withdrawing approval of application(s) not supplemented to delete the claim(s) involved.

If, upon the request of the new drug applicant(s) or any other interested person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after the expiration of such 30 days, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. All persons interested in identical, related, or similar products covered by the new drug application(s) will be afforded an opportunity to appear at the hearing, file briefs, present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, submit suggested findings of fact, and otherwise participate as a party. The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process the Commissioner finds entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

RIKER LABORATORIES

Combination Drug Containing Ephedrine, Hydrochloride, Atropine Sulfate, and Pentobarbital for Oral Use; Notice of Withdrawal of Approval of New Drug Application

On November 15, 1972, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 24208) a notice of opportunity for hearing (DESI 16) in which the Commissioner of Food and Drugs proposed to issue an order under section 505(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355(e)) withdrawing approval of the new drug application for the following product. The basis of the proposed action was the lack of substantial evidence that the drug is effective as a fixed combination for its labeled claims.

NDA 16; Rinofeds Capsules containing ephedrine, hydrochloride, atropine sulfate, and pentobarbital; Riker Laboratories, Inc., subsidiary of 3M Co., 19901 Nordhoff Street, Northridge, CA 91324.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, Oct. 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

On December 11, 1972, Riker Laboratories elected not to avail itself of the opportunity for a hearing, stating that shipments of the drug have been discontinued. There have been no other responses to the notice.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1053, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355) and the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 554), and under authority delegated to him (21 CFR 2.120), finds on the basis of new information before him with respect to said drug, evaluated together with the evidence available to him when the application was approved, that there is a lack of substantial evidence that the drug will have the effect it purports or is represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof.

Therefore, pursuant to the foregoing finding, approval of the above new drug application and all amendments and supplements applying thereto, is withdrawn effective on January 30, 1973. Shipment in interstate commerce of the above-listed drug product or of any identical, related, or similar product, not the subject of an approved new drug application, is henceforth unlawful.

Dated: January 22, 1973.

SAM D. FINE,
Associate Commissioner for Compliance.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application(s) reviewed. If an applicant or any other interested person elects to avail himself of the opportunity for a hearing, he must file, on or before March 1, 1973, a written appearance requesting the hearing, giving the reasons why approval of the new drug application(s) should not be withdrawn, together with a well-organized and full-factual analysis of the clinical and other investigational data he is prepared to prove in support of his opposition. A request for a hearing may not rest upon mere allegations or denials, but must set forth specific facts showing that a genuine and substantial issue of fact requires a hearing (21 CFR 130.14(b)).

If review of the data submitted by an applicant or any other interested person warrants the conclusion that there exists substantial evidence demonstrating the effectiveness of the product(s) for the labeling claims involved, the Commissioner will rescind this notice of opportunity for hearing.

If review of the data in the application(s) and data submitted by the applicant(s) or any other interested person in a request for a hearing, together with the reasoning and factual analysis in a request for a hearing, warrants the conclusion that no genuine and substantial issue of fact precludes the withdrawal of approval of the application(s), the Commissioner will enter an order of withdrawal making findings and conclusions on such data.

If, upon the request of the new-drug applicant(s) or any other interested, person, a hearing is justified, the issues will be defined, a hearing examiner will be named, and he shall issue, as soon as practicable after March 1, 1973, a written notice of the time and place at which the hearing will commence. [DESI 8119]

CERTAIN ORAL AND PARENTERAL DRUGS CONTAINING HYDROGENATED ERGOT ALKALOIDS

Drugs for Human Use; Drug Efficacy Study Implementation

The Food and Drug Administration has evaluated reports received from the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, Drug Efficacy Study Group, on Hydergine Injection (NDA 8–119) and Sublingual Tablets (NDA 9–087) containing dihydroergocornine methanesulfonate, dihydroergocristine methanesulfonate, and dihydroergokryptine methanesulfonate; Sandoz Pharmaceuticals, Division, Sandoz-Wander, Inc., Route 10, Hanover, N.J. 07936.

Such drugs are regarded as new drugs (21 U.S.C. 321(p)). The effectiveness classification and marketing status are described below.

A. EFFECTIVENESS CLASSIFICATION

1. The Food and Drug Administration has considered the Academy's reports, as well as other available evidence, and concludes that:

a. The injection is less than effective (possibly effective) for the treatment of hypertension and functional or organic peripheral vascular disease.

b. The sublingual tablets are less than effective (possibly effective) for the treatment of essential hypertension; functional or organic peripheral vascular disease; and cerebral arteriosclerosis and dizziness, mood changes, nocturnal cramps, and paresthesias in the aged.

2. The Administration also concludes that:

a. Both the injection and the sublingual tablets lack substantial evidence of effectiveness for the treatment of cerebral vascular accidents and loss of memory in the aged.

b. The injection lacks substantial evidence of effectiveness for the treatment of pheochromocytoma and hypertensive crises.

B. MARKETING STATUS

1. On or before April 2, 1973, the holder of any approved new drug application for a drug classified in paragraph A. above as lacking substantial evidence of effectiveness shall submit a supplement to his application, as needed, to provide for revised labeling which deletes those indications for which substantial evidence is lacking as described in paragraph (a)(2). Such a supplement should be submitted under the provisions of § 130.9 (d) and (e) of the new drug regulations (21 CFR 130.9 (d) and (e)) which permit certain changes to be put into effect at the earliest possible time, and the revised labeling should be put into use on or before April 2, 1973. Failure to do so will cause the product to be subject to a proposal to withdraw approval of the new drug application.

2. If any identical, similar, or related product is on the market without an approved new drug application, its labeling shall be revised to delete those claims for which substantial evidence of effectiveness is lacking as described in paragraph (a)(2) above. Failure to delete such indications and to put the revised labeling into use on or before April 2, 1973, will cause the product to be subject to regulatory proceedings.

C. SUBMISSION OF DATA

Any data submitted in response to this notice to support indications for which a drug is classified as other than effective must be previously unsubmitted and include data from adequate and well-controlled clinical investigations (identified for ready review) as described in § 130.12(a)(5) of the regulations published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 8, 1970 (35 FR 7250). Carefully conducted and documented clinical studies obtained under uncontrolled or partially controlled situations are not acceptable as a sole basis for approval of claims of effectiveness, but such studies may be considered on their merits for corroborative support of efficacy and evidence of safety.

A copy of the Academy's report has been furnished to the firm referred to above. Communications forwarded in response to this announcement should be identified with the reference number DESI 8119, directed to the attention of the appropriate office listed below, and addressed to the Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852:

Supplements (identify with NDA number): Office of Scientific Evaluation (BD-100), Bureau of Drugs.

Requests for the Academy's report: Drug Efficacy Study Information Control (BD-66), Bureau of Drugs.

All other communications regarding this announcement: Drug Efficacy Study Implementation Project Office (BD-60), Bureau of Drugs.

All identical, related, or similar products, not the subject of an approved new drug application, are covered by the new drug application(s) reviewed and are subject to this notice. See 21 CFR 130.40 (37 FR 23185, October 31, 1972). Any person who wishes to determine whether a specific product is covered by this notice should write to the Food and Drug Administration, Bureau of Drugs, Office of Compliance (BD-300), 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852.

Safety and Efficacy Review; Request for Data and Information

The FDA is undertaking a review of all over-the-counter (OTC) drug products currently marketed in the United States, to determine that these OTC products are safe and effective for their labeled indications. This review will utilize expert panels working with FDA personnel.

A notice outlining procedures for this review was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 11, 1972 (37 FR 9464).

To facilitate this review and a determination as to whether an OTC drug for human use is generally recognized as safe and effective and not misbranded under its recommended conditions of use, and to provide all interested persons an opportunity to present for the consideration of the reviewing experts the best data and information available to support the stated claims for all dosage forms for drugs containing dentifrices and dental care agents (except mouthwashes and oral antiseptics) including topical fluoride solutions, pastes and gels, toothache remedies, teething lotions, canker sore remedies, cold sore remedies, denture adhesives, denture irritation remedies, disclosing products, topical anesthetics, denture pads and denture relining materials, the administration invites submission of data, published and unpublished, and other information pertinent to all active ingredients utilized in such preparations.

FDA is aware that the following active ingredients are used in such products and has conducted a literature search on each of them:

Benzocaine.
Camphor.
Chloroform.
Choline Salicylate.
Dibasic Ammonium Phosphate.
Dicalcium Phosphate.
Erithrocin (FD&C Red No. 3).
Formaldehyde.

Powdered Karaya Gum.
Silver Nitrate.
Sodium Borate.
Sodium Fluoride.
Sodium Monofluorophosphate.
Sodium N-lauroyl Sarcosinate.
Stannous Fluoride.
Strontium Chloride.
Tannic Acid.

FDA's literature search covered the United Sates of America literature and other leading English language literature published since 1950 from the following sources:

Mediars (NLM and SUNY).
FDA Clinical Experience Abstracts.
Quarterly Cumulative Index Medicus.
Current List of Medical Literature.
Index Medicus.
JAMA Subject Index.
DeHaen Drugs in Use.
RINGDOC.
VETDOC.
International Pharmaceutical Abstracts.
Excerpta Medica.
Abstracts of World Medicine.
Biological Abstracts.
Chemical Abstracts.

The bibliography of the literature search is available to interested persons.

Interested persons are also invited to submit data on any other dentifrices or dental care agents, except mouthwashes and oral antiseptics.

To be considered, eight copies of the data and/or views must be submitted, preferably bound, indexed, and on standard size paper (approximately 8½ by 11 inches). All submissions must be in the format described below:

The same would be true of any other pertinent data or information submitted, such as consumer surveys or marketing results.

In order to avoid duplication, interested persons should not in their submissions include published literature listed in the FDA literature search. An abstract of all such literature will be provided to the panel. Upon request, the panel will be provided with the complete article. Interested persons may, of course, refer to such literature in their submissions by citation.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH

Request for Information on Certain Chemical and Physical Agents

Section 20(a)(3) of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 669(a)(3)) provides that the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, on the basis of information available to him, shall develop criteria dealing with toxic materials and harmful physical agents and substances which will describe exposure levels that are safe for various periods of employment. Section 22(c) of the Act authorizes the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health to develop recommended occupational safety and health standards and to perform all functions of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, under sections 20 and 21 of the Act. The institute is currently collecting information and data on a number of chemical and physical agents including:

1. Acrolein.
2. Acrylonitrile.
3. Aluminum.
4. Ammonium nitrate.
5. Barotrauma (including decompression tables and standards for divers and tunnel workers).
6. Carbon disulfide.
7. Chlorobenzene.
8. 2,4-dinitrophenol
9. Ethyl benzene
10. Infrared radiation
11. Iron and iron compounds
12. Magnesite

The information and data collected for each agent will be analyzed and evaluated relative to the nine areas listed below:

1. Establishment of safe occupational environment levels for such agents, including levels for acute and chronic exposure to airborne concentrations of the chemical substances, as well as safe work practices concerning direct contact with such substances or physical agents.

2. Establishment of biologic standards; i.e., the levels of such substances, metabolites, or other effects of exposure which may be present within man without his suffering ill effects, taking into consideration (a) the correlation of airborne concentrations of and extent of exposure to such substances with effects on specific biologic systems of man, such as the circulatory, respiratory, excretory, and nervous system, and (b) the analytical methods for determining the amount of the substance which may be present within man.

3. Engineering controls, including ventilation, physical factors, and housekeeping and sanitation procedures, with attention to the technological feasibility of such controls.

8. The types of records concerning occupational exposure to such agents that employers should be required to maintain.

9. Warning devices and labels which should be required for the prevention of occupational diseases and hazards caused by exposure to such agents.

Any person having information or data which is not readily available in "open scientific literature" in any of the nine areas listed, or in other areas which the person considers relevant to the establishment of a safe and healthful occupational environment involving the agents set forth above, is invited to submit such information, with accompanying documentation, to the Assistant Director for Research and Standards Development, National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, Room 10–28, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, within 60 days after publication of this notice.

All information received concerning any agent will be available for public inspection after the development of the respective research analysis report or criteria document.

Dated: January 23, 1973.

CERTAIN AGENCY PROCEEDINGS

Policy Regarding Audio/Visual Coverage

JANUARY 23, 1973.

The Commission has been requested by the Administrative Conference of the United States, in accordance with its Recommendation 32: Broadcast of Agency Proceedings, adopted June 8, 1972, to give consideration to the implementation of this recommendation, by establishing a policy in this area and to encourage audio/visual coverage of proceedings involving issues of broad public interest, subject to appropriate limitations and controls.

The Commission agrees with the Conference that there is a need to inform the public concerning administrative proceedings, particularly those of broad social or economic impact, and to encourage participation in and understanding of the administrative process. Although the Commission has not heretofore had a specific regulation or a formally adopted Commission policy governing the audio/visual coverage of adjudicatory and rule making proceedings, it has, by actual experience over a number of years, largely accomplished the objectives and purposes of Recommendation 32. However, in light of the ever-increasing interest by the public in Commission proceedings, it has been determined that a formal statement of Commission policy in this regard should be issued. Accordingly, the Commission adopts the following statement of general guidelines for presiding officers, the industry and the public concerning requests for audio and/or visual coverage of Commission proceedings:

A. Governing policy. 1. The Commission agrees in principle with the objectives and purposes of Recommendation 32: Broadcast of Agency Proceedings, adopted by the Administrative Conference of the United States.

2. Audio and/or visual (i.e. video or film) coverage of many Commission proceedings would be of interest to the public and would enhance public understanding of Commission proceedings. Such coverage should therefore be encouraged subject to appropriate controls and limitations.

3. Determinations as to whether audio and/or visual coverage of Commission proceedings should be allowed and, if so, the nature and extent of such coverage, shall be within the sound discretion of the presiding officer.

B. Types of proceedings. 1. Audio and/or visual coverage of the following types of proceedings is encouraged: (1) Notice and comment rule making proceedings, where an opportunity is afforded to make a public oral presentation: (2) on-the-record formal rule making proceedings; (3) investigatory proceedings where public oral presentations are made on the record to the Commission en banc or to a presiding officer, except as limited in paragraph 2 of this section; and (4) adjudicatory proceedings, except as limited in paragraph 2 of this section.

2. Audio and/or visual coverage should be excluded in adjudicatory and investigatory proceedings which involve primarily matters of past culpable conduct of an individual and which do not have a substantial and direct impact upon service to the public, if the person in question objects to such coverage.

C. Prevention of disruption. Audio and/or visual coverage of Commission proceedings shall be conducted with minimal intrusion upon the normal course of the proceeding. Requests for such coverage shall be made reasonably in advance of the commencement of the hearing or hearing session sought to be covered. The presiding officer may impose reasonable restrictions on the use of audio and/or visual equipment, so as to maintain the dignity and decorum of the proceeding, and to avoid undue interference with the proper conduct of the hearing. The presiding officer may, in the exercise of his discretion to allow, exclude or restrict coverage of the proceeding, take into consideration the distinctive characteristics of the medium of audio/visual coverage requested—i.e. video (live broadcast or tape-delayed); audio (live broadcast or tape recorded for later broadcast); audio or visual recording for broadcast in its entirety or in edited version; motion picture or still photo coverage; etc.

D. Protection of witnesses. In any adjudicatory or public investigatory proceeding, a witness shall have the right, by stating his request to the presiding officer at any point prior to or during his testimony, to exclude audio and/or visual coverage of his testimony.

E. Rulings of presiding officers. If a request for audio and/or visual coverage of a proceeding or a particular portion thereof is rejected or restricted by the presiding officer, the reasons therefor shall be stated on the record of the proceeding, either by a formal order issued by the presiding officer or by an oral ruling on the record. Appeals from such rulings will not be permitted.

The foregoing policy statement shall be applicable to all pending proceedings, as of January 30, 1973.

Action by the Commission December 20, 1972.[3]

Secretary.

ILLINOIS POWER CO.

Order Accepting Amendatory Agreement to Interconnection Agreement

JANUARY 19, 1973.

Illinois Power Co. and Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. presently exchange diversity energy pursuant to the terms of an interconnection agreement dated November 27, 1961. Illinois Power Co. filed, on December 8, 1972, an amendatory letter agreement, designated Illinois Power Co. Supplement No. 4 to Rate Schedule FPC No. 9, among the parties which proposes an increase in the energy charge for energy delivered during the diversity exchange period starting October 1, 1972, and ending September 15, 1973.

Under the amendatory agreement, Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. will supply diversity power in the amount of 225 mw. from October 1, 1972, to February 24, 1973 and Illinois Power Co. will supply such power in the amount of 200 mw. from June 10 to September 15, 1973. The energy charge for diversity exchange has been increased from 2.1 mills/kw.-hr. and 2.8 mills/kw.-hr. to 2.6 mills/kw.-hr. and 3.3 mills/kw.-hr., for off-peak and on-peak deliveries, respectively.

The Commission finds:

The increased energy charges are designed to recover increased fuel costs of both companies and the increase in rate does not exceed the increase in fuel costs of either company. The granting of the increased energy charges is reasonable and proper and in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Federal Power Act and should be approved and made effective.

The Commission orders:

(A) The Illinois Power Co. Amendatory Agreement increasing the rate for diversity energy exchanged with the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co., to become effective October 1, 1972, is hereby approved and accepted.

(B) This order is without prejudice to any finding or orders which have been made or may hereafter be made by the Commission and without prejudice to any claims or contentions which may be made by the Commission, its staff, Illinois Power, or any other party or person affected by this order in any proceeding now pending or hereafter instituted by or against Illinois Power or any other person or party.

By the Commission.

SUPERIOR OIL CO. ET AL.

Order To Show Cause

JANUARY 18, 1973.

Pursuant to the decision in Opinion No. 338[1] and the Statement of General

[1] Phillips Petroleum Co., Dockets Nos. G-1148, et al., 24 FPC 537 (1960).

Policy No. 61–1,[2] the Federal Power Commission announced that independent producer rates would be determined through area rate proceedings rather than individual producer investigations under section 5(a) of the Natural Gas Act.[3]

The Commission has determined that there is no basis for the continuation of these proceedings and that they should be terminated for the reasons set forth below. However, to avoid possible prejudice to any of the parties to these proceedings, the Commission has further determined that the parties to these proceedings should be given an opportunity to show cause why the section 5(a) investigations herein should not be terminated and the producer rates involved determined in an area rate proceeding or by any other pricing procedure adopted by the Commission. Other than the sales from offshore California,[4] all of the sales herein involved are from production areas for which area rates have been determined by the Commission.

Certain of the sales herein are no longer made or are made under approved Commission procedures.

Mrs. Louise Herrington's last reported sale was 43 Mcf in 1963.

The Trice Production Co. was declared bankrupt in 1970, and its properties are now operated by Olevm, Inc.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is in the public interest that the parties to these proceedings be given an opportunity to show cause why the proceedings should not be terminated and the producer rates determined in an area rate proceeding or by any other pricing procedure adopted by the Commission.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings listed above are hereby terminated unless, within 90 days of the issuance of this order, any party to a proceeding shall show good cause by written protest[5] why that proceeding should not be terminated.

(B) Any party who is a party to more than one of the above proceedings and who desires to show cause in more than one proceeding shall file a separate protest for each proceeding.

By the Commission.

UNION ELECTRIC CO.

Notice of Filing of Proposed Rate Design for Sales at 161 kv. Power

JANUARY 23, 1973.

Take notice that Union Electric Co. (Union) on June 30, 1972, filed a letter in which it stated that "* * * the Commission ordered in Opinion No. 609 the inclusion of a high voltage discount for all service delivered at voltages above 34.5 kv. We believe that this discount fully adjusts the W-2 rate to eliminate any possibility of undue discrimination against customers receiving service at higher voltages that might have existed. Therefore, it is our opinion that no further modification of the rate is necessary."

Union's letter was in response to Opinion No. 609 which the Commission ordered: "As soon as possible, but no later than July 1, 1972, Union shall file a proposed rate design applicable to its sales at wholesale of 161 kv. power, together with comments on such proposed design from the Arkansas-Missouri Power Co., and any other party to this proceeding who may choose to file comments."

Union states that copies of its letter were sent to each party of record in this proceeding and no comments were received.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make protest with reference to said submittal by Union should on or before February 12, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protest or comment in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests and comments filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO. ET AL.

Order To Show Cause, Consolidating Proceedings, and Prescribing Hearing Dates

JANUARY 17, 1973.

On January 12, 1973, the Commission issued Opinion No. 647, Dockets Nos. RP71-29, RP71-120, which established, inter alia, a permanent curtailment plan for United Gas Pipe Line Co. Five priorities of service were established in that curtailment plan including Priorities 4 and 5, "Industrial requirements for boiler fuel use at * * * more than 1,500 Mcf per day, where alternate fuel capabilities can meet such requirements." We have indicated on numerous occasions that, as a general proposition, the use of natural gas for boiler fuel is inferior, particularly in the present gas supply shortage.[1] This proposition is equally applicable to United Gas Pipe Line Co. (United) which has been curtailing as much as 1.9 billion cubic feet a day during this winter season, representing more than one-third of its contractual commitments. Because of the adverse systemwide gas supply problem of United, we are of the opinion, based upon data on file with the Commission, that the prospects for United being able to sell gas for boiler-fuel use, without jeopardizing service to human needs customers, may be remote. There is a substantial question as to whether United's available gas supplies are being directed to uses which contravene the present and future public convenience and necessity. We therefore direct United, pursuant to § 1.6(d) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and under section 16 of the Natural Gas Act, to show cause why it should not abandon, under section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act, all sales and the facilities to render such sales and service of natural gas in Priorities 4 and 5 of the permanent curtailment plan.

United has filed applications for abandonment pursuant to section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act in Dockets Nos. CP73-117, CP73-168, CP73-169, CP73-170, CP73-171, CP73-179, and CP73-180. Certain of these abandonment applications involve expired contracts and other renegotiated rates under existing contracts. Each application involves an industrial customer, and the allegations are made that United's gas supply is depleted, that the gas is being used in an inferior manner, and that the customer has alternate fuel capability. While our predominant concern is with gas being utilized for boiler-fuel use where alternate fuel capabilities may fulfill such requirements, we recognize that certain of the abandonment applications may involve gas used for feedstock, process, or other needs. Accordingly, based upon the record developed in the hearings below, partial abandonments of service may be in the public interest.

Subject to the right of the parties to be heard on this question, we are of the opinion that whether or not a contract is in force or has expired, is immaterial to a section 7(b) determination. Once United has commenced service under a Commission certificate of public convenience and necessity,[2] service may not cease until the Commission has authorized the abandonment, irrespective of contractual obligations.[3] The converse is also true; if we order abandonment because the available supply of natural gas is depleted to the extent that the continuation of service is unwarranted, or because the present or future public convenience and necessity permits such abandonment, service may not lawfully continue even if a contractual obligation exists. An order of abandonment effects a discharge of contractual duties.

While we have the legal authority under section 7(b) to make individual ad hoc determinations of United's abandonment applications, the supply deficiencies on United's system, the particular patterns of end use manifested in the various United curtailment proceedings, and the potential for adverse impact on residential customers dependent on the United system supplies, require us to institute a broader proceeding than would otherwise be necessary. A failure to consider United's overall supply situation and the end use of its limited deliverable gas supply, could result in a "seriously inequitable system of gas distribution"[4] and an "unreasonable difference in service"[5] among all commonly situated customers in the particular class.[6] Accordingly, we order consolidation of the pending section 7(b) applications with the show-cause proceeding below.

Because we are concerned with the end use of United's limited gas supply and a determination of its most efficient allocation to assure reliable service to human needs customers, the pipeline purchasers from United, i.e., Mississippi River Transmission Corp., Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Southern Natural Gas Co., Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. and Texas Gas Transmission Corp., are herein named parties to the show-cause proceeding, for the limited purpose of obtaining evidence on the end use of United's system sales. We do not at this juncture[7] contemplate partial abandonments by these pipeline purchasers of United to their particular customers, but only to obtain the evidence necessary as it might effect a reduction in deliverable volumes by United to each of the above pipelines.

Pending final Commission resolution of the proceedings ordered below, the priorities of service prescribed in Opinion No. 647 shall govern and be in full force, including, where applicable, parties to this proceeding.

To the extent we ultimately authorize abandonments of service to customers under existing contracts for boiler-fuel use, United's contractual duties thereunder are discharged,[8] in the same manner as under an approved Commission curtailment plan filed pursuant to Order No. 431.

WISCONSIN POWER & LIGHT CO., AND NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Notice of Application

JANUARY 19, 1973.

Take notice that on January 2, 1973, Wisconsin Power & Light Co. (Applicant), Post Office Box 192, Madison, WI 53701, filed in Docket No. CP73-178 an application pursuant to section 7(a) of the Natural Gas Act for an order of the Commission directing Northern Natural Gas Co. (Respondent) to sell additional volumes of natural gas to Applicant for distribution and resale in Applicant's general service area, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant states that it has restricted service to new customers since June 10, 1970, pursuant to orders by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin; Applicant also states that such orders were lifted on December 4, 1972. It is stated that Applicant will need 1,459.5 Mcf of gas, in addition to that gas already available from Respondent and that provided by Applicant's peak shaving facilities, in order to supply the gas requirements of customers who have made applications and are expected to make applications for gas service.

It is stated that Applicant purchases gas for its present operations from Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. and Respondent. It is further stated that Respondent presently has 2,208 Mcf of natural gas which has not been allocated and which is available to supply Applicant's requirements without impairing Respondent's ability to render adequate service to its present customers.

Applicant states that it will not be necessary for Respondent to construct additional facilities to supply Applicant with the additional gas, nor will Applicant have to construct additional facilities to sell and distribute this gas.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before February 12, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

ALGONQUIN GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

[Docket No. RP73-74]

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

JANUARY 23, 1973.

Take notice that Algonquin Gas Transmission Co. (Algonquin) on January 15, 1973, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1. The proposed rate changes would increase Algonquin's revenues from jurisdictional sales and services by approximately $3.1 million annually. Algonquin requests the Commission grant such permission as may be necessary to accept this filing. The proposed effective date for First Revised Sheet No. 3-A is February 14, 1973. In the event this Commission suspends the proposed tariff sheet, Algonquin requests the suspension be for no longer than 1 day.

In support of its filing, Algonquin states that the curtailment level contemplated in the Stipulation and Agreement submitted in settlement of Docket Nos. RP70-30 and RP72-110 and approved by Commission order issued September 7, 1972, has been reached and the proposed increased rates are to compensate for that curtailment. Further, Algonquin states that the purpose of this filing is to reestablish the agreed upon return to equity at the presently effective curtailment level.

The Company states that copies of this filing were served on Algonquin's jurisdictional customers and interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before February 7, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

CINCINNATI GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

JANUARY 23, 1973.

Take notice that Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. (C.G. & E.) on December 19, 1972, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Rate Schedule No. 2, as well as five supplements to FPC No. 2. The proposed rate changes would increase C.G. & E.'s revenues from jurisdictional sales and service by $1,378,199.23, based on estimated sales volumes for the 12-month period ending February 28, 1973. The proposed effective date for the changes is March 1, 1973, and C.G. & E. accordingly requests the Commission to waive compliance with the pertinent notice requirements of the rules and regulations.

C.G. & E. states that the primary purpose of the changes, incorporated in an agreement with Union Light, Heat & Power Co., is to give effect to present and proposed operating conditions, to provide more fully for mutual benefits from the interconnection of C.G. & E.'s and Kentucky Co.'s systems, and to reflect the current generating, operating, and transmission costs of C.G. & E.

C.G. & E. further states that no additional facilities need be installed or modified in order to carry out the proposed service under the new agreement. A copy of this filing was served on Kentucky Co.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). CITIES SERVICE GAS CO.

Notice of Proposed Changes in FPC Gas Tariff

JANUARY 22, 1973.

Take notice that Cities Service Gas Co. (Cities) on January 2, 1973, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, second revised Volume No. 1. Pursuant to the PGA provision contained in its FPC Gas Tariff, the company proposes to increase its rates effective February 23, 1973, to reflect increased purchased gas costs.

The third revised sheet PGA-1 of Cities' tariff included in Appendix A of the filing reflects a rate increase of 1.48 cents per Mcf which includes proposed rate changes filed by Mobil Oil Corp. and Shell Oil Co. reflecting the minimum prices set forth in Order Nos. 93381 and 93382 issued by the Oklahoma Corporation Commission on October 5, 1972. This 1.48 cents per Mcf increase in rates will produce an increase in the company's jurisdictional revenues of $5,240,449 based on annual sales volumes for the 12 months ended November 22, 1972.

If the Commission for any reason does not accept the 1.48 cents per Mcf increase, Cities, in the alternative, tendered for filing the third revised sheet PGA-1 included in Appendix B reflecting an increase of 1.29 cents per Mcf which does not include the proposed rate changes of Mobil Oil Corp. and Shell Oil Co. The 1.29 cents per Mcf rate increase will produce an increase in the company's jurisdictional revenues of $4,567,689 based on annual sales volumes for the 12 months ended November 22, 1972.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before February 5, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Take notice that Columbia Gas Transmission Corp. (Columbia), on January 11, 1973, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, to become effective on February 10, 1973. The proposed changes would increase jurisdictional rates in the amount of $1,968,226 annually based upon sales for the 12-month period ended October 31, 1972, and are submitted pursuant to Article V of Columbia's stipulation and agreement in Docket No. RP71-18 et al., as approved by Commission order issued October 19, 1972. The filing also includes copies of all contracts under which advance payments were made subsequent to those payments reflected in the November 1 rates.

Copies of the filing have been mailed to all jurisdictional customers and interested State commissions.

LAWRENCEBURG GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

JANUARY 16, 1973.

Take notice that Lawrenceburg Gas Transmission Corp. (Lawrenceburg), on January 8, 1973, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, to become effective on February 1, 1973. The proposed changes would increase Lawrenceburg's jurisdictional rates in the amount of $39,112 annually based on volumes for the 12-month period ended November 30, 1972.

Lawrenceburg states that the purpose of the proposed increase is to reflect a change in the cost of gas purchased from its supplier, Texas Gas Transmission Corp. (Texas Gas), pursuant to the provisions of Lawrenceburg's purchased gas adjustment (PGA) clause, which was filed with the Commission on August 31, 1972, in the above-captioned docket, and is pending approval by the Commission. Lawrenceburg states that Texas Gas' proposed increase is to become effective on February 1, 1973, and that it is imperative that Lawrenceburg be permitted to increase its rates simultaneously with those of Texas Gas in order to remain economically stable. Lawrenceburg requests a waiver of notice requirements under § 154.51 of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act in order to permit the proposed increased rates to become effective on February 1, 1973.

Copies of the filing were mailed to Lawrenceburg's two jurisdictional customers and to interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Lawrenceburg's proposed tariff sheets and rate filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER TRANSMISSION CORP.

Notice of Proposed Changes in Rates and Charges

JANUARY 18, 1973.

Take notice that Mississippi River Transmission Corp. (MRT) on December 29, 1972, tendered for filing as part of its FPC gas tariff, first revised volume No. 1, copies of ninth revised sheet No. 3A.

MRT states that the purpose of this filing is to reflect recovery of the rate change filing of Trunkline Gas Co. (Trunkline), filed with the Commission on December 15, 1972. MRT says that Trunkline's filing, which is proposed to become effective February 1, 1973, reflects: (1) An increase of 0.10 cents per Mcf for advance payment tracking pursuant to the provisions of article V of Trunkline's stipulation and agreement in Docket No. RP72-23, et al., approved by Commission order of April 11, 1972; and (2) an increase of 1.29 cents per Mcf to recover pursuant to section 18 of the general terms and conditions of Trunkline's FPC gas tariff, original volume No. 1, gas cost increases being incurred by Trunkline.

MRT further states that Trunkline's filing was made with the Commission on December 15, 1972, to be effective February 1, 1973. In view of this, MRT contends that it is impossible for it to satisfy the 45 day notice period provided by § 17.1 of the general terms and conditions of its FPC gas tariff, and the Commission's regulations. Accordingly, Mississippi respectfully requests waiver of the notice requirements under § 154.38 of the Commission's regulations in order that ninth revised sheet No. 3A filed herewith may become effective February 1, 1973, the same date on which Trunkline's increase is proposed to be effective.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before January 26, 1973. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Dockets Nos. CI73-450, CI73-451]

MOBIL OIL CORP. ET AL.

Notice of Applications and Request to Withdraw Petition to Amend

JANUARY 19, 1973.

Take notice that on December 21, 1972, Mobil Oil Corp. (Operator), et al.

(Mobil), 3 Greenway Plaza East, Suite 800, Houston, Tex. 77046, filed in Docket No. CI73–450 an application pursuant to section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon a sale of natural gas to Shell Oil Co. (Shell) from the Provident City field, Lavaca County, Tex., and a request to withdraw its petition to amend in Docket No. G–14915 filed on July 20, 1972, and in Docket No. CI73–451 filed an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale of natural gas in interstate commerce to Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. (Texas Eastern) from the aforesaid field, all as more fully set forth in the applications and request for withdrawal which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Mobil requests authorization to abandon a sale of natural gas to Shell from the Provident City field, because the basic contract with Shell has terminated and to sell such gas to Texas Eastern under the terms of a new gas purchase contract dated November 25, 1971. Mobil states that Shell has been gathering this gas for processing and then delivering and selling the gas to Texas Eastern. Pursuant to a products purchase contract for the proposed sale to Texas Eastern, Shell will continue to gather Mobil's gas, have it processed and deliver it to Texas Eastern for Mobil's account. The subject gas has heretofore been sold pursuant to a certificate issued in Docket No. G–14915.

The new contract with Texas Eastern calls for an initial price of 28 cents per Mcf at 14.65 p.s.i.a., subject to upward and downward B.t.u. adjustment; however, Mobil states that it would be willing to accept a certificate at an initial rate of 24 cents per Mcf, the applicable area rate. Mobil asserts that it is entitled to the "new gas rate" inasmuch as Mobil's original contract with Shell terminated and it has entered into a new contract with a pipeline, in the light of Commission opinion No. 639, issued December 12, 1972, in Docket No. R–371. Under the certificate issued in Docket No. G–14915, Mobil has been selling the subject gas to Shell at 19 cents per Mcf. On July 20, 1972, Mobil filed a petition to amend the order issuing a certificate in said docket by authorizing it to sell the subject gas to Texas Eastern. Mobil requests that the petition be withdrawn pursuant to a Commission staff suggestion that Mobil withdraw that petition and file abandonment and certificate applications in lieu thereof. Mobil asserts that since there has been no interruption in deliveries of natural gas to Texas Eastern, the net effect of the delay in filing the new applications will be to deprive Mobil of the just and reasonable rate prescribed in Commission opinion No. 595, because of procedural technicalities. Consequently Mobil believes that there are extenuating circumstances existing here which render it appropriate for the Commission to grant retrospective rate relief at least for the period commencing August 21, 1972, or as soon thereafter as the Commisison will permit.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said applications should on or before February 12, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, hearings will be held without further notice before the Commission on these applications if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate and permission and approval for the proposed abandonment are required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that formal hearings are required, further notice of such hearings will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearings.

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

Notice of Application

JANUARY 23, 1973.

Take notice that on December 26, 1972, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. (Applicant), Post Office Box 1642, Houston, TX 77001, filed in Docket No. CP73–167 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of 60.1 miles of pipeline, and 32,350 additional compressor horsepower and related facilities on Applicant's existing gas supply system west of the Haven, Kans., compression station, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant states that the proposed horsepower and pipeline facilities will be located at existing compressor sites, and operated as adjuncts to gathering systems used to receive gas from some of Applicant's older reservoirs which have experienced declines in the level of natural gas pressure. Applicant also states that the facilities proposed herein will produce the necessary pressure reductions and capacity in these older reservoirs, thereby compensating for the natural decline in natural gas pressure and enabling Applicant to receive the gas committed to it. It is stated further that the construction and operation of the proposed facilities are needed to enable Applicant to deliver necessary gas supplies into its mainline system and to assist Applicant in balancing conditions of over- and under-production in certain fields subject to local proration laws and that some of the proposed facilities will tend to lessen the effect on the mainline system of any interim loss of supply of natural gas or equipment failure.

Applicant states that the estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $14,723,000 and will be financed initially from funds available to the company.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before February 13, 1973, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). POSTAL RATE COMMISSION

[Docket No. MC73-1]

MAIL CLASSIFICATION SCHEDULE

Notice of Request for a Recommended Decision on Establishment and Providing for Petitions for Leave to Intervene

JANUARY 26, 1973.

Take notice that on January 18, 1973, the U.S. Postal Service (the Posal Service) filed, in Docket No. MC73-1 a request for a recommended decision establishing a mail classification schedule, pursuant to section 3623 of the Postal Reorganization Act (the Act). Except for six mail classification changes summarized below, the Postal Service's proposed mail classification schedule is essentially the same as that presently in effect. In addition to these six changes the Postal Service also proposes to incorporate in its schedule certain "editorial and conforming changes in the relevant provisions of former title 39, United States Code, and selected portions of the Postal Service Manual."

The entire mail classification schedule proposed by the Postal Service, reflecting these classification changes and corollary rate increases in business reply mail and special-rate fourth-class mail, is attached hereto and is captioned, "U.S. Postal Service Domestic Mail Classification Schedule." The Postal Service asserts, in its request, that its proposed schedule conforms to the criteria in 39 U.S.C. 3623(c), and insofar as it involves new rates or rate changes, the criteria in 39 U.S.C. 3622(b).

The Postal Service estimates that the total cost-revenue consequences of its proposed schedule will be a net gain in revenues in Fiscal Year 1974 of $22.5 million.

The six mail classification changes proposed by the Postal Service concern the following types of mail, and, in brief summary form, are as follows:

(1) Bulk-rate first-class mail. A new subclassification is proposed which will offer a rate reduction of 0.5 cent per piece for mailings of at least 1,000 first-class or airmail pieces when the mailer meets certain mailing conditions, related principally to the presorting function. (See Attachment, §§ 100.3(d), 101.3(e).)[1]

(2) Bulk-rate parcel post. A new subclassification is proposed which will establish, as a supplement to the present mail schedule providing for 552 individual-piece parcel-post rates, a simplified rate chart to be used by volume mailers (500 or more parcels per day). (See Attachment, § 400.42.)[1]

(3) Special-rate fourth class. Three subclassifications are proposed providing a single piece rate and two levels of discount for bulk mailings. The single piece rate is to be increased to 22 cents for the first pound and 11 cents for each additional pound. A bulk mailing rate for sorting 2,000 or more pieces to 3-digit ZIP Code and State separations provides a 10 percent discount, and a bulk mailing rate for sorting 500 or more pieces to 5-digit ZIP Code separations provides a 15 percent discount. (See Attachment, § 400.5(b)(c)(d).)[1]

(4) Printed matter now mailed as parcel post. It is proposed that the definition of matter eligible for the fourth-class "catalog" rates be expanded to include other bound printed matter in addition to catalogs. (See Attachment, § 400.7.)[1]

(5) Business reply mail. The proposed schedule of fees provides that users of business reply mail would pay, in addition to postage, an increased charge on single transactions and a monthly charge and discount fees for volume users (see Attachment, section 102):[1]

Monthly volume	Monthly charge	Piece fee
Up to 25,000 pieces		5 cents.
25,001 to 50,000 pieces	$500	3 cents.
Over 50,000 pieces	1000	2 cents.

(6) Surcharge for nonstandard-size mail. Surcharges are proposed for mailable but nonstandard pieces. The proposed surcharges for such pieces are 5 cents for first-class and airmail not exceeding 1 ounce and 4 cents for single-piece third-class not exceeding 2 ounces. In addition, the Postal Service proposes to replace and extend the current prohibitions against matter which fails to satisfy minimal dimensional criteria. However, except in the case of prohibitions for business reply pieces, the proposed prohibitions or surcharges will not be effective prior to July 6, 1976. (See Attachment, §§ 100.3(a),[1] 300.2(d).)

If any person desires to be heard with reference to said request and to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing on the request, that person should file a petition for leave to intervene. Petitions for leave to intervene must be filed with the Secretary, Postal Rate Commission, Washington, D.C. 20268 on or before February 26, 1973, and must be in accordance with section 20 of the Commission's rules of practice (39 CFR 3001.20). The Commission also calls attention to section 20(b) which provides that petitions for leave to intervene shall affirmatively state whether or not petitioner requests a hearing or, in lieu thereof, a conference; and further, whether or not the petitioner intends to participate actively in a hearing.

The request of the Postal Service for a recommended decision on establishing a mail classification schedule for postal service is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

JOSEPH A. FISHER,
Secretary.

PACIFIC CREST NATIONAL SCENIC TRAIL

Route Selection

In accordance with section 7(a) of the National Trail System Act of October 2, 1968 (82 Stat. 919; 16 U.S.C. 1241–1249), notice is hereby given of selection of the official route of the Pacific Crest National Scenic Trail.

The Forest Service in selecting the route for the Trail gave full consideration to minimizing the adverse effects of the Trail on the affected landowners and their operations. The advice and assistance of the States, local governments, private organizations, and landowners and land users concerned was obtained. The selected route has been approved by the Advisory Council for the Pacific Crest National Scenic Trail.

WASHINGTON

Beginning at Monument No. 78 on the Canadian border, the Pacific Crest Trail follows the Cascade Crest in a southerly direction through the Pasayten Wilderness, Okanogan National Forest, traversing Castle Pass, Hopkins Pass, Woody Pass, Holman Pass, Foggy Pass, and Windy Pass to Harts Pass, leaving the Pasayten Wilderness at Windy Pass. From Harts Pass the Trail goes throuh Glacier Pass, Methow Pass, Granite Pass, and Cutthroat Pass to Rainy Pass. At Rainy Pass the Trail crosses the North Cascades Highway No. 20, takes a westerly direction along the south side of the ridge toward Horsefly Pass, leaves national forest land and crosses into the North Cascade National Park one-quarter mile southwest of Horsefly Pass in the headwaters of Maple Creek. The Trail then follows along the Maple Creek drainage to its intersection with North Fork Bridge Creek, crosses North Fork Bridge Creek, thence traverses the north side of the Bridge Creek drainage to Goode Ridge, crosses the south end of Goode Ridge, crosses Park Creek and follows down the creek to near its confluence with the Stehekin River. The Trail then crosses the Stehekin River and follows up Flat Creek 2 miles, leaves the North Cascades National Park and enters the Glacier Peak Wilderness, Wenatchee National Forest. It follows Flat Creek to the mouth of the West Fork, crosses Flat Creek, continues up the Flat Creek Basin in a southwesterly direction, passes over Rim Rock Ridge east of Le Conte Glacier, and traverses the drainages of the West Fork Agnes, South Fork Agnes, and Spruce Creek to the Bannock Lakes. From Bannock Lakes the Trail follows the ridge into Suiattle Pass, where it enters the Mount Baker National Forest, then heads southwesterly down to a crossing of Miners Creek and along the south side of the creek to a crossing of Suiattle River. From the river the location heads westerly to a crossing of Vista Creek. It follows this drainage southwest, climbing to a saddle in the ridge between Vista and Dolly Creeks on the north exposure of Glacier Peak. From here it heads west through the headwaters of Dolly Creek and the East Fork of Milk Creek, then descends to cross Milk Creek. The location continues west, climbing to Mica Lake, then turns south through Fire Creek Pass to enter the White Chuck drainage on the west slopes of Glacier Peak.

The Trail continues in a southern direction crossing Pumice, Glacier, and Kennedy Creeks, then turns to cross Sitkum Creek and follows White Chuck River upstream. After crossing the river south of Baekos Creek it climbs to the White Chuck Cinder Cone then turns West to Red Pass. From here it heads southeast into the North Fork Sauk drainage to White Pass, the boundary between the Snoqualmie and Wenatchee National Forests. From White Pass the Trail follows the Cascade Crest to Indian Pass, traverses the east side of Kodak Peak and leaves the Glacier Peak Wilderness at Meander Meadows. The Trail follows the crest between the Snopualmie and Wenatchee National Forests through Dishpan Gap and Wards Pass. It passes below Lake Sally Ann and to the east of Skykomish Peak, to Cady Pass. From Cady Pass the Trail climbs to Saddle Gap, continues past Fortune Ponds, crosses a ridge and descends to Pear Lake and into Wenatchee Pass. From Wenatchee Pass the Trail climbs to Grizzly Peak. Thence it descends to the south end of Lake Janus and climbs to the pass south of Union Peak. From the pass the Trail passes to the west of Lake Valhalla and continues to Stevens Pass and U.S. Highway No. 2.

From Stevens Pass the Pacific Crest Trail proceeds in a southeasterly direction to Lake Susan Jane where it ascends to the ridge above Josephine Lake and generally follows the divide in a southwesterly direction to Trap Pass above Trap Lake. From Trap Pass the Trail descends to Glacier Lake, climbs around the west side of Surprise Mountain and then descends into the Deception Creek drainage, passes Deception Lakes, and ascends into Deception Pass. At Deception Pass the Trail crosses into the Wenatchee National Forest and traverses a southeast slope above Hyas Lake to Cathedral Rock, descends, passes Deep Lake and follows down Spinola Creek. The Trail then heads westerly contouring the south slope above Waptus Lake, and crosses Spade Creek and the Waptus River, thence, the Trail goes past Escondido Lake and over the ridge into Lemah Creek basin, on to Spectacle Lake and turns northwest along Chikamin Ridge. From the north end of Chikamin Ridge the Trail turns to pass below Joe Lake. The Trail then swings around the south of Alaska Mountain to Alaska Lake, ascends to the divide between the Wenatchee and the Snoqualmie National Forest south of Red Mountain and proceeds along the divide into Snoqualmie Pass.

At Snoqualmie Pass the Pacific Crest Trail crosses Interstate 90 and continuing in a southeasterly direction, crosses back and forth across the height of land, following the Wenatchee and Snoqualmie National Forests common boundary passes Olallie Meadow, Mirror Lake, Yakima Pass, Meadow Pass, and through Stampede Pass. Continuing along the height of land the Trail goes over Snowshoe Butte and Bearpaw Butte, through Sheets Pass and Tacoma Pass, and to Blowout Mountain. From here the Trail turns westerly into the Snoqualmie National Forest to Green's Pass and Pyramid Peak, resumes its southerly direction and continues along the divide, descending into Government Meadows and the historic Naches Pass. Continuing, the Trail follows the divide past Louisiana Saddle, Arch Rock, and Sourdough Gap into Chinook Pass.

Continuing south out of Chinook Pass, the Pacific Crest Trail enters Mount Rainier National Park above Dewey Lake. After descending to Dewey Lake, the Trail passes back and forth across the common boundary between the national forest and the park until it reaches the ridge above Two Lakes. Here it leaves the park and generally follows the ridge between the Gifford Pinchot and Snoqualmie National Forests. It descends along the east side of the ridge, passes between Crag and Buck Lakes, skirts the east end of Fish Lake and ascends to the ridge between Twin Sisters Lakes and Snow Lake. Here, crossing a part of the Gifford Pinchot National Forest, the Trail goes by Cowlitz Pass, descends to Buesch Lake and then ascends again to the ridge which divides the main drainages of the Cowlitz and the Bumping Rivers. Crossing back and forth over the Pacific Crest, the Trail skirts Sand Lake and crosses State Highway No. 12, just east of White Pass at Leech Lake. Two miles south of White Pass, the Trail enters the Goat Rocks Wilderness. It goes to the east of Hogback Mountain and above Shoe Lake, by Tieton Pass and westerly to Elk Pass. The Trail turns south along the barren ridge as it approaches Old Snowy Mountain, ascends the west side to the Dana Yelverton Shelter and continues past the Goat Rocks, along the east edge of Snowgrass Flat and into Cispus Pass. Crossing the divide at Cispus Pass, the Trail enters the Yakima Indian Reservation and parallels the reservation boundary for a mile, then crosses back into the Gifford Pinchot National Forest and parallels the divide on the west side, passing through the headwaters of several tributaries of the Cispus River, and to the Coleman Weedpatch where it leaves the Goat Rocks Wilderness. Continuing, the Trail traverses along the west side of the divide, passes Potato Hill, crosses Spring Creek and enters the Mt. Adams Wilderness.

The Trail traverses the west slopes of Mount Adams as it passes through the wilderness, for a distance of about 10 miles, and leaves the Mount Adams Wilderness near the southwest corner.

Thence in a westerly direction and crossing several forest roads, the Trail goes past Swampy Meadows, Dry Meadows, and Steamboat Lake, passes near several developed campgrounds, turns south along the crest of the Cascade Range through the Indian Heaven area, over Gifford Peak and east of Red Mountain to the Big Lava Bed. The Trail crosses Forest Road N60, skirts the west edge of the lava field and continues south to Big Huckleberry Mountain. From Big Huckleberry Mountain the Trail proceeds westerly, crossing the Panther Creek Division of the Wind River Experimental Forest, Panther Creek, Forest Road N605, and into Warren Gap. Thence, the Trail crosses the Wind River Highway, Wind River, Forest Road N511 and continues in a westerly direction, crosses Trout Creek, passes near the Wind River Research Natural Area, the Forest Service ranger station and tree nursery, and through the Trout Creek Division of the Wind River Experimental Forest. The Trail then turns in a southerly direction just south of Mowich Butte and proceeds to the south boundary of the Gifford Pinchot National Forest. Leaving the forest, the Trail crosses Rock Creek and continues in a southerly direction to the northeast corner of the Beacon Rock State Park, thence in an easterly direction, passes to the north of Kidney Lake, to the south of Hazel and Fern Lakes, and arrives at the north approach of the Bridge of the Gods. The Trail crosses the Columbia River on the Bridge of the Gods. Midway across the bridge it leaves the State of Washington and enters the State of Oregon.

At the south end of the Bridge of the Gods is the community of Cascade Locks, elevation 100 feet. This is the lowest elevation on the Pacific Crest Trail between the Canadian border and the Mexican border. A quarter of a mile south of the Bridge of the Gods, the Trail enters the Mt. Hood National Forest and ascends the rugged south side of the Columbia Gorge and quickly attains an elevation of 4,000 feet on Benson Plateau. It continues south, past Chinidere Mountain and Wahtum Lake, traversing the slopes high above Eagle Creek, the West Fork of Hood River and Lost Lake. The Trail then descends gently into Lolo Pass, crosses Forest Road N12 and ascends Bald Mountain where it is joined by Timberline Trail on Mt. Hood. Traversing Mt. Hood, the Trail then descends into the Muddy Fork, passes beneath Ramona Falls, and crosses the main fork of the Sandy River. Two miles south of the Sandy River, the Trail enters Mt. Hood Wilderness near Paradise Park at an elevation of 6,000 feet. It descends and crosses Zigzag Canyon, leaves the Mt. Hood Wilderness, and turns easterly to regain 1,000 feet in elevation and crosses just north of Timberline Lodge and the Mt. Hood Ski Area. It continues south along the crest of the Cascade Mountain Range and goes through Barlow Pass, the site of the first pioneer wagon road to the Willamette Valley. The Trail follows the crest past Twin Lakes, across U.S. Highway 26 and on southward to Little Crater Meadows. After crossing Crater Creek it follows the east shoreline of Timothy Lake for about 3 miles and crosses Skyline Road 842 near Clackamas Lake. About 2 miles farther the Trail leaves the Mt. Hood National Forest and enters the Warm Springs Indian Reservation northwest of Buckskin Butte. It goes east of Summit Butte, crosses Warm Springs River, passes North Pinhead Butte, crosses Lemiti Creek and goes through Olallie Meadows, leaves the Warm Springs Indian Reservation west of Russ Lake, reenters Mt. Hood National Forest and goes on to Olallie Lake. Through this level area the crest is ill-defined and elusive. The Trail passes near the Olallie Lake summer resort and a Forest Service guard station. Continuing south, the Trail again regains the crest of the Cascade Range and follows the high gently sloping ridges to Breitenbush Lake, elevation 5,500 feet. Here it crosses a primitive forest road and a tributary of the Breitenbush River, then immediately enters Mt. Jefferson Wilderness and ascends gradually along the divide, crossing snowfields at Park Ridge, elevation 7,000 feet. Park Ridge presents a magnificent view of Jefferson Park with Mt. Jefferson looming in the background. At Park Ridge, the Trail leaves the Mt. Hood National Forest, enters the Willamette National Forest and descends sharply into Jefferson Park, past Russell, Scout, and Bays Lakes.

The Pacific Crest Trail traverses the lower slopes around the west side of 10,497-foot high, glacier enshrouded Mt. Jefferson crossing Milk Creek 2 miles below Milk Creek Glacier and passing above Pamelia Lake. Thence, it begins to ascend, passing between Coyote and Shale Lakes to the crest at the Cathedral Rocks. From here the divide is the boundary between the Deschutes and Willamette National Forests. Following the crest, the Trail skirts the west edge of North Cinder Peak, passes to the east of South Cinder Peak and intersects the Swallow Lake Trail that leads to the west. It continues, passing between Rockpile Lake and Rockpile Mountain and on to Minto Pass. It crosses the Minto Pass Trail and continues along the west slope to Porcupine Peak, then winds along the lower benches on the west slope of Three Fingered Jack and leaves the Mt. Jefferson Wilderness. One-half mile from the wilderness it crosses U.S. Highway 20 near Santiam Pass. Proceeding south beyond the pass the Trail winds through relatively flat terrain for 4 miles to the east side of Big Lake. Leaving Big Lake it enters the Mt. Washington Wilderness and skirts around the west and south sides of Mt. Washington. It crosses the crest south of Mt. Washington and enters the lava fields. Continuing south, passing to the east of Belknap Crater, the Trail traverses the lava area into McKenzie Pass near the location of Dee Wright Observatory. Here it leaves the Mt. Washington Wilderness, crosses State Highway 242 and enters Three Sisters Wilderness. In the wilderness, the Trail skirts the east edge of the lava field, passes near the Matthieu Lakes, through Scott Pass, goes just west of Yapoah Crater, through Oppie Dildock Pass and to Sunshine Shelter near the headwaters of Glacier Creek. The Trail, after crossing Obsidian Creek at Obsidian Falls, gradually ascends the west slopes of the North Sister and the Middle Sister Peaks. It contours along the west slopes of South Sister Peak, crosses Separation Creek above Separation Meadow, skirts the west edge of Rock Mesa and ascends again to the crest at Wickiup Plains; it passes along the east edge of Sisters Mirror Lake, and continues following the crest to its intersection with Elk Lake Trail 1½ miles west of Elk Lake. Here, the Trail takes a westerly direction for about 2 miles, traverses the south edge of Island Meadow and enters the Mink Lake basin. Thence, it again turns in a southerly direction following along a chain of small mountain lakes to Mac Lake and ascends to the crest, crosses, and enters the Deschutes National Forest east of Packsaddle and Little Round Top Mountains to Stormy Lake, located east of Irish Mountain, turns to Brahma Lake and leaves the Three Sisters Wilderness just south of the lake. Thence it bears in a southwesterly direction, crossing Forest Road No. 2049 on the west side of Irish and Taylor Lakes.

From Taylor Lake the Trail crosses over the crest to the west slope, and passes along the west side of Charlton Butte. It intersects Forest Road No. 204 and traverses the west shore of Charlton Lake, then traverses the west side of the crest, east of Waldo Lake, for the next 8 miles, It passes just east of the Gold Lake Bog Research Natural Area, along the west edge of Douglas Horse Pasture, skirts the east shores of the Rosary Lakes, then abruptly turning to the west, it descends into the Odell Lake Basin. Crossing State Highway 58 between the lake and Willamette Pass, the Trail bears in a southwesterly direction passing over the railway tunnel, it proceeds to the summit of the Cascade Range at Pengra Pass and enters the Diamond Peak Wilderness midway between the pass and Midnight Lake. Continuing along the east slope and generally paralleling the summit, the Trail passes above Yoran Lake, skirts the east slopes of Diamond Peak, and intersects the Fawn Lake Trail No. 44 in Mountain Creek. The Pacific Crest Trail takes over the Fawn Lake Trail as it ascends to the crest, whence it turns in a more southerly direction, descends from the crest onto the east slope and leaves the Diamond Peak Wilderness. Proceeding south, the Trail gradually descends into Emigrant Pass where it crosses Forest Road 211.

From the pass the Pacific Crest Trail contours along the east slope above Summit Lake, turning to a more easterly direction near the south end of the lake, it follows along the Cascade Divide passing to the west of Cowhorn Mountain where it leaves the Willamette National Forest. Generally staying on the crest of the divide between the Umpqua and Deschutes National Forests, the Trail continues in a southeasterly direction descending into Windigo Pass where it crosses Forest Road 2510. Proceeding generally in a southeasterly direction along the crest, the Trail passes to the west of Tolo Mountain, Mule Peak, and Miller Mountain. It then bears to the southwest, skirting the east shore of Maidu Lake, follows along the west side of the crest, ascends the northeast slopes of Tipsoo Peak, passes to the east of the peak, traverses along the upper mountain slopes passing Howlock Mountain and Sawtooth Ridge, crosses Thielsen Creek, ascends the west slopes of Mt. Thielsen (elevation 9,182), crosses the Diamond Lake-Mt. Thielsen Trail then gradually descends on a long approach to Carter Lake National Park. The Trail crosses State Highway 138 2 miles north of the park boundary, entering Crater Lake National Park 200 feet east of Boundary Marker No. 55 at an elevation of 5,960 feet, approximately one-half mile east of the park's north entrance. The Trail crosses the Park's North Entrance Highway No. 209 a mile south of the north entrance, then crosses Pumice Desert and turns west just north of Red Cone. Here it intersects a primitive fire-way route which it follows past Red Cone Sorings, across Bybee Creek, around the headwaters of Castle Creek and across the Watershed Divide between Castle Creek and Annie Creek drainages just north of Annie Springs. Continuing south, it crosses the Park's West Entrance Highway No. 62 then follows a fire-way route to Pumice Flat, skirts the west edge of Pumice Flat, and leaves Crater Lake National Park at the south boundary near Marker No. 122. From here, the Trail proceeds south generally along the height of land between the Rogue River and Winema National Forests. It passes on the west side of Goose Egg Butte, crosses the Oregon Desert, goes through the pass between Lone Wolf and Ruth Mountains, skirts the wast slopes of Ethel and Maude Mountains and after ascending to the crest of Big Bunchgrass, descends to Ranger Springs. From the springs the Trail turns in a southwesterly direction and descends into the Seven Lakes Basin, then climbs over Devils Peak (elevation 7,582), swings around the west side of Lucifer and Shale Buttes, then bears south passing to the west of Snow Lakes and Luther Mountain. From here it follows along the west edge of the Sky Lakes area on the Winema National Forest to the Wickiup Trail, thence to Fly Lake, passing west of Dwarf Lakes area, through relatively flat and gently rolling terrain, to a location where it intersects the Sky Lakes Trail that leads to the east. After passing to the east of Red Lake and Island Lake, the Trail turns west following the crest to the saddle north of Fourmile Lake, crosses to the east side of the divide, traverses the upper trainages on the north side of Fourmile Lake basin, crosses Blue Rock Trail No. 3737 and swings to the south. Proceeding south, the Trail passes to the east of Mount McLoughlin (elevation 9,495), traversing the northeast and east slopes, it intersects the Mt. McLoughlin Trail No. 3716 at Freye Lake. Continuing south along the southeast slopes for 3 miles, it leaves the Winema National Forest and enters the Rogue River National Forest at State Highway No. 140. Here it enters the north edge of a rugged lava field, a distance of 4 miles, it traverses the headwaters of Little Butte Creek, crosses the Dead Indian Highway No. 363 and bears south to Old Baldy Mountain. It skirts the east slopes of the mountain where it leaves the Rogue River National Forest and enters a Bureau of Land Management administered area.

From Old Baldy Mountain the Trail descends in a southwesterly direction, crosses the Keno Highway, and passes near the southeast end of Howard Prairie Lake. It then swings in a westerly direction, climbs up over the Wildcat Glades, and gradually descends as it crosses east of Hyatt Lake. Turning in a southerly direction, the Trail descends to Keene Creek drainage below Hyatt Lake, crosses Keene Creek and proceeds to Green Springs Summit where it crosses the Green Springs State Highway No. 66. Continuing south, it passes along Hobart Lake and Hobart Bluff, along the east side of Hobart Peak and on toward Soda Mountain. Turning southwest north of Soda Mountain, it follows the summit, passes Little Pilot Peak, Porcupine Mountain and Pilot Rock. Just west of Pilot Rock, it turns in a northwesterly direction and follows along the ridge to the airway beacon east of Siskiyou Pass. Continuing in a northwesterly direction to Siskiyou Pass, the Trail passes under Interstate 5, over the Mt. Ashland Road, then swings west crossing over the railway tunnel near Siskiyou and continues westerly on the north side and above the Mt. Ashland Road.

The Pacific Crest Trail leaves the Bureau of Land Management administered area and reenters the Rogue River National Forest 2 miles east of Mt. Ashland, crosses the Mt. Ashland Road, passes to the south side of the ridge, and into the Klamath National Forest. It passes below Mt. Ashland and around the headwaters of Grouse Creek past Siskiyou Peak and through Siskiyou Gap where it crosses to the north side and reenters the Rogue River National Forest. Traversing along the north slope, the Trail skirts around Red Mountain and passes through Wrangle Gap. Thence, it bears southwesterly along the summit, crossing back and forth over the common boundary of the Rogue River and the Klamath National Forests, to Sheep Camp Spring, through Jackson Gap and Observation Gap, around Kettle Lake and on the east side of Observation Peak. The Trail then proceeds on to Donomore Pass and crosses the Oregon-California State boundary 1½ miles east of Donomore Peak.

The Pacific Crest Trail crosses private property in the following described sections in the State of Oregon:
