[Project No. 1988]

Pacific Gas & Electric Company; Public Scoping Meeting

January 24, 1995.

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission), has received an application for a new license (relicense) for the existing project operated by the Pacific Gas & Electronic Company (PG&E), on the North Fork Kings River in east central California in or near Fresno. The project includes two developments: Haas and Kings River.

Upon review of the application, supplemental filings and intervenor submittals, the Commission staff concludes that, given the location and interaction of the project with other projects nearby, staff will prepare an Environmental Assessment (EA) that describes and evaluates the probable impacts of the applicant's proposals and alternatives for the project.

One element of the EA process is scoping. Scoping activities are initiated early to:

- Identify reasonable alternative operational procedures and environmental enhancement measures that should be evaluated in the EA;
- Identify significant environmental issues related to the operation of the existing project;
- Determine the depth of analysis for issues that will be discussed in the EA; and
- Identify resource issues that are of lesser importance and, consequently, do not require detailed analysis in the EA.

Site Visit

A site visit by Commission staff is planned for February 28, 1995, weather permitting, to familiarize staff with project facilities, other projects in the area, and the environmental setting. The visit will begin at 9:00 AM at the Kings River powerhouse. Anyone wishing to accompany Commission staff is invited to attend.

Scoping Meetings

Commission staff will conduct two public meetings for the Haas-Kings River Project. All interested individuals, organizations, and agencies are invited
