Expiration Date: 10/31/95.

Estimated Annual Burden: 125,193 total annual hours; 87 hours per response.

Description: The Federal Communications Commission has issued a Notice of Inquiry to evaluate various means of providing financial assistance to support telephone service in areas with high costs of service. The importance of the Universal Service Fund goals and the substantial amount of money involved require thorough analysis of those financial effects and their implications, if any, for reasonably-priced local telephone service. Title: Rules and Requirements for Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) Interstate Cost Recovery.

Form Number: FCC Form 431.

Action: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Businesses or other for-profit.

Frequency of Response: Annually and on occasion reporting requirements

Estimated Annual Burden: 5,000 responses, 9,266 hours average burden per response, 46,330 hours total annual burden.

Needs and Uses: The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) was enacted with the purpose of providing a clear and comprehensive national mandate to end discrimination against individuals with disabilities and to bring persons with disabilities into the economic and social mainstream of American life; to provide enforceable standards addressing discrimination against individuals with disabilities, and to ensure that the Federal government plays a central role in enforcing these standards on behalf of individuals with disabilities. On February 19, 1993, the Commission adopted an Order on Reconsideration, Second Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in this proceeding (hereinafter referred to as TRS II). In TRS II, the Commission adopted a shared-funding mechanism to implement interstate TRS cost recovery pursuant to Title IV of the ADA, and sought further comments on its proposed rules and requirements outlining the specifics of the shared-funding cost recovery plan. See 47 CFR 64.604(c)(4) (iii). Pursuant to Section 64.604(c)(4)(iii)(A), every carrier providing interstate telecommunications services must contribute to the TRS Fund on the basis of its relative share of gross interstate revenues. The types of interstate services for which contributions must be made include, but are not limited to, cellular telephone and paging, mobile radio, operator services, personal communication service (PCS), interstate access, alternative access and special access, packet-switched, WATS, 800, 900, message telephone service, interstate private line, telex, telegraph, video, satellite, international, interstate intraLATA and resale services. The FCC Form 431 has been revised to include PCS and mobile services. Also, where two carriers have merged during the year, the successor company should report total revenues for the year for both the predecessor and successor operations. However, the two carriers would continue to report separately if each maintained separate corporate identities and continued to operate. Additionally, the calculation of contribution rate changed for the 1995 filing year.

Acting Secretary.
