Findings of Scientific Misconduct

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, HHS.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Office of Research Integrity (ORI) has made final findings of scientific misconduct in the following case:

Aaron Apte, Stanford University: The Division of Research Investigations of the Office of Research Integrity (ORI), reviewed an investigation conducted by Stanford University into possible scientific misconduct on the part of Mr. Aaron Apte, a former technician in the Department of Cardiovascular Surgery. Mr. Apte and his research were supported by U.S. Public Health Service grants. ORI concluded that Mr. Apte fabricated data for research, by cutting from a former coworker's notebook a scintillation counter printout, pasting it into his own notebook, and representing it as his own results from a different experiment on the binding of angiotensin to transfected cells. Mr. Apte has been debarred from eligibility for and involvement in grants as well as other assistance awards and contracts from the Federal Government for a period of three years. The fabricated research did not appear in any publications.

Introduction

This notice for family violence prevention and services grants to State Domestic Violence Coalitions serves two purposes. The first is to confirm a Federal commitment to reducing family and intimate violence and to urge States, localities, cities, and the private sector to become involved in State and local planning efforts leading to the development of a more comprehensive and integrated service delivery approach (Part I). The second purpose is to provide information on application requirements for FY 1995 grants to State Domestic Violence Coalitions. These funds will support coordination efforts, prevention activities, and the efforts to the public awareness of domestic violence issues and services for battered women and their children (Part II).

Part I. Reducing Family and Intimate Violence Through Coordinated Prevention and Services Strategies

A. The Importance of Coordination of Services

A person facing family or intimate violence may need more than immediate medical care and shelter. Assured protection and effective support are essential to end ongoing abuse.

The effects of domestic violence may manifest themselves in varying forms, including: Substance abuse, hopelessness, arrest, felony charges, mental health concerns, injuries, lost time at work, child abuse, and welfare dependence. When programs that seek to address these issues operate independently of each other, a fragmented, and consequently less effective, service delivery and prevention system may be the result. Coordination and collaboration among the police, prosecutors, the courts, victim services providers, child welfare and family preservation services, and medical and mental health service providers is needed to provide more responsive and effective services to victims of domestic violence and their families. It is essential that all interested parties are involved in the design and improvement of protection and services activities.

To help bring about a more effective response to the problem of intimate violence, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) urges State Domestic Violence Coalitions receiving funds under this grant announcement to coordinate activities funded under this grant with other new and existing resources for family and intimate violence and related issues.

B. Coordination of Efforts

1. Federal Coordination

In the fall of 1993, a Federal Interdepartmental Work Group (including the Departments of Health and Human Services, Justice, Education, Housing and Urban Development, Labor, and Agriculture) began working together to study cross-cutting issues related to violence, and to make recommendations for action in areas such as youth development, schools, juvenile justice, family violence, sexual assault, firearms, and the media. The recommendations formed a framework for ongoing policy development and coordination within and among the agencies involved.

The interdepartmental working group also initiated a "Cities Project" (now known as PACT, Pulling America's Communities Together) to help coordinate Federal assistance to four geographic areas (Denver; Atlanta; Washington, D.C.; and the State of Nebraska) as they develop comprehensive plans for violence prevention and control.

Based on these coordination efforts, a new interdepartmental strategy was developed for implementing the
