NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

Use of Alternative Means of Dispute Resolution; Policy Statement

AGENCY: National Science Foundation.

ACTION: Notice of policy statement.

SUMMARY: The National Science Foundation (the "Foundation") has developed a policy to address the use of alternative means of dispute resolution (ADR) within its administrative programs, as required by the Administrative Dispute Resolution Act, Public Law No. 101-552.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This policy statement is effective on February 22, 1995. Because it is a general statement of policy and addresses internal agency procedures and practices, no prior notice or opportunity for public comment is required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Lawrence Rudolph, Acting General Counsel and National Science Foundation Dispute Resolution Specialist, 4201 Wilson Boulevard, Room 1265, Arlington, Virginia 22230, (703) 306-1060.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 15, 1990, Congress enacted the Administrative Dispute Resolution Act (Public Law No. 101-552). The Act requires agencies to designate a senior official as its dispute resolution specialist and to adopt a policy addressing use of ADR in connection with an agency's administrative programs. Although the Act authorizes and encourages agencies to use ADR techniques as an alternative to traditional dispute resolution mechanisms, use of ADR is subject to agency discretion.

Paperwork Reduction Act Statement

This policy statement contains no information collection requirements and therefore is not subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.)

Foundation Policy on ADR

The Foundation encourages the use of alternative methods of dispute resolution within its administrative programs. These methods, which include settlement negotiations, conciliation, facilitation, mediation, fact-finding, mini-trials and arbitration, provide alternatives to traditional adversarial proceedings. ADR techniques should be implemented in a way that will reduce costs and delays associated with adjudication, improve employee and constituent relations, and improve the efficiency and effectiveness of programs.

An ADR Task Force reviewed the types of disputes arising at NSF and the Foundation's procedures for resolving them. The Task Force concluded that existing informal mechanisms for resolving disputes between NSF and grantees are effective and consistent with ADR processes. However, the Task Force did identify one type of dispute which could benefit from the use of ADR techniques—employee discrimination complaints related to equal employment opportunity. As a result, NSF will implement a voluntary mediation program for resolution of employment discrimination complaints filed by NSF employees, and will either train Foundation employees to mediate such disputes or rely on an inter-governmental pool of mediators. The Foundation will make every effort to ensure the confidentiality of information provided to all participants in an ADR proceeding, consistent with applicable laws and regulations.

As circumstances change or new types of disputes arise, the Foundation will consider further use of ADR techniques. The Foundation encourages senior management officials to discuss other situations where ADR may be appropriate with NSF's Deputy General Counsel, who serves as the Foundation's Dispute Resolution Specialist.

Dated: February 14, 1995.

Acting General Counsel and Agency Dispute Resolution Specialist.
