SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Office of Prevention, Pesticides and Toxic Substances

Title: Disposal of Polychlorinated Biphenyls; Proposed Amendments; Related Reporting & Recordkeeping Requirements. (ICR No: 1729.01). This is a request for the approval of burden hours for requirements under section 6(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). This is a new collection.

Abstract: EPA is charged under section 6(e) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA), 15 U.S.C. 2605(e), to regulate the making, disposal, manufacturing, processing, distribution in commerce, and use of PCBs. Since 1978, EPA has promulgated numerous rules addressing all aspects of the life cycle of PCBs as required by the statute. Under the current rulemaking, EPA proposes to amend the PCB regulations to: (1) Provide flexibility in disposal technologies and decontamination procedures; (2) ease the procedures for obtaining EPA approvals; (3) clarify existing regulations; (4) modify the requirements for the use/maintenance, distribution in commerce, and disposal of PCB equipment; and (5) address issues of notification and manifesting of PCB wastes and changes in the operation of commercial storage facilities.

Information required by this amendment includes both reporting and recordkeeping. Reporting includes notifications: to obtain an identification number, to register PCB transformers, to engage in research and development activities, to seek approval of PCB disposal activities, or to exceed the current 1-year storage limitation. Recordkeeping activities include monitoring and recording the transfer, storage and disposal of PCBs/PCB equipment; the processing and distribution in commerce of PCBs; and the decontamination of PCB items.

EPA uses this information to ensure PCBs are managed in an environmentally safe manner and that activities are being conducted in compliance with the PCB regulations.

Burden Statement: The public burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 82 hours per respondent to provide data on the manufacture, processing, distribution in commerce, use and disposal of PCBs. Less than 2 percent of the total burden is recordkeeping. These reporting and recordkeeping requirements are needed by EPA to monitor and control the life cycle of PCBs.

Respondents: Owners or operators of public warehousing and storage; electric services; sanitary services (incinerators, landfills); steam supply (high-efficiency boilers); administration of environmental quality programs.

Estimated No. of Respondents: 100,000.

Estimated No. of Responses per Respondent: 1.

Estimated Total Annual Burden on Respondents: 8,200,000 hours.

Frequency of Collection: On occasion.

Send comments regarding the burden estimate, or any other aspect of the information collection, including suggestions for reducing the burden, (please refer to EPA ICR # 1729.01) to: Sandy Farmer, EPA ICR # 1729.01, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Information Policy Branch-2136, 401 M Street, SW., Washington, DC 20460.
