

per day and would allow increased contractual delivery pressures at the Olympia Meter Station under existing transportation agreements with Washington Natural, a local distribution company.

Northwest states that the expanded facilities at the Olympia Meter Station would provide for a design capacity of 34,541 Dth per day of service (at a delivery pressure of 400 psig). Northwest also states that the proposed lateral loop line would increase the capacity of the Olympia lateral from approximately 64,540 to approximately 77,910 Dth per day at 637 psig inlet pressure from Northwest's mainline. Northwest explains that the increased volumes and delivery pressure would be utilized to enhance service to Washington Natural under an existing firm Rate Schedule TF-1 transportation agreement dated August 15, 1994, or under any other duly authorized firm transportation agreement. Northwest states that the total costs to remove the undersized metering facilities and to construct the proposed upgraded metering facilities, lateral loop line, valves and loop tie-in are estimated at approximately $2,559,300. Northwest further states that the costs would be reimbursed by Washington Natural in the form of a Facility Cost-of-Service Charge over 9 years.
