

incorporated essentially all minor and major changes in the IAEA standard with negligible variations. All nations with major nuclear programs involved with significant commercial transportation of nuclear materials incorporate the IAEA standards into their transportation regulations; in some cases the IAEA regulations are adopted by reference.

At the present time, both RSPA and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission are revising the domestic transportation regulations to incorporate most of the provisions of the 1985 IAEA regulations, as amended in 1990. It is expected that the U.S. regulations in the future will adopt provisions that will be in the 1996 IAEA regulations.

A few of the expected changes between the 1985 and 1996 IAEA regulations involve:

- A higher performance Type C package for large quantities of materials transported by air.
- Exclusive use of the International System of Units (SI Units) in the regulations and on labels and shipping documents.
- International Commission on Radiological Protection standards (ICRP 60/61) impacts on radiation protection programs and limitations on quantities and classification of radioactive materials.
- For fissile materials, calculational procedures for criticality and identification of Criticality Safety Index (CSI) on documents and packages.
- Revise shipping names and UN Identification Numbers.
- Specific requirements for uranium hexafluoride, both fissile and non-fissile.

It should be noted that during the time since January when the current draft was prepared, several technical meetings have been held resulting in changes in some of the provisions of the draft regulations. Some of these changes concern: content and performance criteria for Type C packages; grandfathering for package designs and special form; and requirements for uranium hexafluoride. Comments received on the January 1995 draft will be reviewed and considered by RSPA to the extent possible during meetings at the IAEA.

Issued in Washington, DC on April 5, 1995 under the authority delegated in 49 CFR Part 106, Appendix A.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Departmental Offices, Debt Management Advisory Committee; Meeting

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. App. 10(a)(2), that a meeting will be held at the U.S. Treasury Department, 15th and Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, DC, on May 2 and May 3, 1995, of the following debt management advisory committee:

Public Securities Association, Treasury Borrowing Advisory Committee

The agenda for the meeting provides for a technical background briefing by Treasury staff on May 2, followed by a charge by the Secretary of the Treasury or his designate that the committee discuss particular issues, and a working session. On May 3, the committee will present a written report of its recommendations.

The background briefing by Treasury staff will be held at 11:30 a.m. Eastern time on May 2 and will be open to the public. The remaining sessions on May 2 and the committee's reporting session on May 3 will be closed to the public, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. App. 10(d).

This notice shall constitute my determination, pursuant to the authority placed in heads of departments by 5 U.S.C. App. 10(d) and vested in me by Treasury Department Order No. 101-05, that the closed portions of the meeting are concerned with information that is exempt from disclosure under 5 U.S.C. 552b(c)(9)(A). The public interest requires that such meetings be closed to the public because the Treasury Department requires frank and full advice from representatives of the financial community prior to making its final decision on major financing operations. Historically, this advice has been offered by debt management advisory committees established by the several major segments of the financial community. When so utilized, such a committee is recognized to be an advisory committee under 5 U.S.C. App. 3.

Although the Treasury's final announcement of financing plans may not reflect the recommendations provided in reports of the advisory committee, premature disclosure of the committee's deliberations and reports would be likely to lead to significant financial speculation in the securities market. Thus, these meetings fall within the exemption covered by 5 U.S.C. 552b(c)(9)(A).

The Office of the Under Secretary for Domestic Finance is responsible for maintaining records of debt management advisory committee meetings and for providing annual reports setting forth a summary of committee activities and such other matters as may be informative to the public consistent with the policy of 5 U.S.C. 552b.

Dated: April 4, 1995.
