

guidelines, Ameritech argues that those guidelines give it authority to refine conservation procedures as necessary to achieve code relief. Ameritech also contended that in an emergency situation such as the one faced in NPA 708, "first-come, first-serve" policies must be suspended. The United States Telephone Association contended any conflict with such guidelines would not be relevant because such guidelines have not yet been formally adopted and that, even if formal guidelines had been adopted, compliance would be voluntary.

The Commission found that Ameritech's "exclusion," "take-back," and "segregation" proposals represent unjust and unreasonable practices under Section 201(b) of the Communications Act and therefore would be unlawful if implemented. Specifically, the Commission found that these three facets of Ameritech's plan prevent that plan from achieving three important objectives: (a) optimal dialing plan; (b) minimal burden and (c) an uninterrupted supply of codes and related numbers. The Commission also found that Ameritech's justifications were not persuasive because those justifications could not override the fact that these facets of the plan would inhibit competition in the interstate access market.

6. Delegated Authority

To facilitate future supervision of numbering issues, the Commission delegated authority to the Common Carrier Bureau to resolve future number resources allocation disputes. That Bureau was directed to resolve such issues in coordination with the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau and other Bureaus of the Commission.

7. Accordingly, pursuant to Section 1, 4(i), 201-205, and 403 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 151, 154(i), 201-205, and 403, and pursuant to Section 1.2 of the Commission's Rules, 47 CFR 1.2, it is ordered that the Request for Declaratory Ruling filed by Mobilemedia Communications, Inc., Paging Network, Inc., and Page Mart, Inc., is granted in part and is otherwise denied as set forth herein.

8. It is further ordered that Ameritech's Motion to accept late-filed comments is hereby accepted.

9. It is further ordered that the Request for Interlocutory Order filed by Mobilemedia Communications, Inc., Paging Network, Inc., and Page Mart, Inc., is denied as set forth herein.
