[AAG/A Order No. 100-95]

Privacy Act of 1974; Modified System of Records

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a) and Office of Management and Budget Circular No. A-130, notice is given that the Department of Justice (DOJ), Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), is modifying the following system of records which was last published in the Federal Register on March 10, 1992 (57 FR 8479):

National Crime Information Center (NCIC), Justice/FBI-001

The NCIC is maintained for law enforcement purposes and provides a computerized data base for ready access by a criminal justice agency making an inquiry, and for prompt disclosure of responsive information in the system from other criminal justice agencies about crime and criminals. The FBI is modifying this system to add the names and identifying data of persons who are members of violent criminal gangs and terrorist organizations. This information will assist law enforcement in criminal investigations of these individuals and organizations, and in the protection of officers and others encountering these individuals. Changes related to this modification have been made throughout the system description.

In addition, the FBI is removing a reference to exemption from subsection (f) which it had inadvertently included in the prior publication of this system of records. However, a rule document which would include a reason for the exemption was never promulgated, and the DOJ/FBI is in compliance with this provision. Therefore, the erroneous reference to subsection (f) had no effect on the public, and the removal of any reference thereto constitutes a minor correction. Other minor changes have been made to improve and add clarity. Where possible, changes have been noted by italics for the convenience of the public.

Title 5 U.S.C. 552a(e) (4) and (11) provide that the public be given 30 days in which to comment on any new or intended uses of information in the system. While no new routine uses have been added, an opportunity to comment
