NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket 40-3392]

Finding of No Significant Impact and Notice of Opportunity for a Hearing; Renewal of Source Material License Sub-526 AlliedSignal, Inc. Metropolis, Illinois

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering the renewal of Source Material License SUB-526 for the continued operation of the AlliedSignal, Inc. (Allied), UF<sub>6</sub> conversion facility, located in Metropolis, Illinois.

Summary of the Environmental Assessment

Identification of the Proposed Action

The proposed action is the renewal of Allied's Source Material License SUB-526 for 10 years. With this renewal, the Metropolis facility will continue to convert natural uranium ore concentrates into UF<sub>6</sub> for the commercial nuclear power industry. The production of UF<sub>6</sub> is one phase in the fuel cycle resulting in production of fuel elements for nuclear reactors.

The Need for the Proposed Action

Allied performs a necessary service for the commercial nuclear power industry by converting natural uranium ore concentrates into UF<sub>6</sub>. The UF<sub>6</sub> product is then shipped to gaseous diffusion plants for the enrichment of the uranium (U-235) isotope; following enrichment, the uranium is converted into fuel for use in nuclear power reactors. Currently, Allied is the only UF<sub>6</sub> conversion facility operating within the United States. Denial of the license renewal for Allied's Metropolis facility is an alternative available to the NRC, but would require the construction of a new facility at another site.

Environmental Impacts of the Proposed Action

The radiological impacts of the continued operation of the Metropolis facility were assessed by calculating the radiation dose to the maximally exposed individual located at the nearest residence and the collective radiation dose to the local population living within 80 kilometers (50 miles) of the plant site.

Doses From Routine Airborne Releases

Atmospheric releases were determined for three locations at the Metropolis facility: (1) the feed material building, (2) the uranium recovery facility, and (3) the ore sampling plant. Based on information provided in the application, the projected annual average quantity of uranium released from each emission point was estimated. The isotopic distribution of the uranium and the solubility class of the uranium were also determined. Relatively small amounts of thorium-230 and radium-226 are also released from the Metropolis facility. The radiation doses resulting from atmospheric releases were estimated using the XOQDOQ and GENII computer codes. The maximally exposed individual was located at the nearest residence, which was 564 meters (1,850 feet) north northeast of the Metropolis facility. The radiation dose Total Effective Dose Equivalent (TEDE) to the nearest resident is estimated to be 1.5 mrem per year. This estimated radiation dose is less than the limit of 10 mrem per year established by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in 40 CFR Part 61 for the air pathway and less than the limit of 25 mrem per year established by the EPA in 40 CFR Part 190 for all pathways. It is also less than the 100 mrem per year limit established by the NRC in 10 CFR Part 20. The highest organ dose is to the lungs from insoluble forms of uranium.

The estimated lung dose of 9.3 mrem per year is less than the dose limit established in 40 CFR Part 190; the thyroid doses were also an insignificant fraction of the 75 mrem per year thyroid dose limit established in 40 CFR Part 190.

The population surrounding Allied's facility is about 471,410 people, based on 1990 census data. The collective dose to the surrounding population is estimated to be 4.1 person-rem per year. Based on an average background radiation dose of 0.360 rem per year for individuals in the U.S., the same population would receive about 170,000 person-rem per year from background radiation. Thus, the collective radiation dose associated with atmospheric releases from Allied's facility is a very small percentage (0.0024%) of the collective radiation dose from background radiation for these same people.

Doses From Aqueous Releases

The projected annual average quantity of radionuclides released to the Ohio River from the Metropolis facility was estimated using information provided by the applicant. The GENII computer code was used to estimate radiation doses through ingestion, shoreline exposure, and water submersion pathways. The estimated radiation dose (TEDE) to the maximally exposed individual located 8 kilometers (5 miles) downstream of the Metropolis facility is estimated to be 0.0013 mrem per year. This estimated radiation dose is far less than the 100 mrem per year limit established by the NRC in 10 CFR Part 20 and the 25 mrem per year limit established by EPA in 40 CFR Part 190. The estimated radiation dose of 0.0013 mrem per year is also far less than the dose of 4 mrem per year that is the basis for the drinking water standards contained in 40 CFR Part 141.

The estimated collective radiation dose to the population (4,846 people) located in Cairo, Illinois, as a result of liquid releases is estimated to be 0.0030 person-rem per year. Based on an average background radiation dose of 0.360 rem per year for individuals in the U.S., this same population would receive about 1,700 person-rem per year from background radiation; the collective radiation dose associated with liquid releases from Allied's Metropolis facility thus is a small percentage of the collective radiation dose from background.

Accident Evaluation

In the Environmental Assessment, the NRC evaluated a suite of five accident scenarios. Four of the five scenarios
