

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

We have listed in the appendix to this notice countervailing duty orders issued under former section 303 of the Act. At the time these orders were issued, U.S. law did not require injury determinations as a prerequisite to their issuance. With the accession of the United States to the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the enactment of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act of 1994 (URAA), P.L. 103-465, U.S. law has changed. Under the URAA, the Government of the United States may not assess countervailing duties on imports from a WTO member country in the absence of an injury determination. Thus, as noted in the Statement of Administrative Action, new section 753 of the Act (as amended by the URAA) provides that for such orders ". . . a domestic interested party may request that the [International Trade] Commission initiate an investigation to determine whether an industry in the United States is likely to be materially injured by reason of imports of the merchandise subject to the CVD order if the order is revoked." See Statement of Administrative Action, URAA, p.272.

Opportunity to Request a Section 753 Injury Investigation

On January 1, 1995, the countries listed in the Appendix joined the WTO.<sup>1</sup> Therefore, for each countervailing duty order listed in the Appendix, we are notifying all domestic interested parties, as described in sections 771(9)(C), (D), (E), (F), or (G) of the Act, of their right to request an injury investigation under section 753(a) from the U.S. International Trade Commission (the Commission). In accordance with sections 753(b) (3) and (4) of the Act, outstanding section 303 orders for which the Commission has not previously made an affirmative injury determination will be revoked by the Department unless a request for an injury investigation is submitted to the Commission within six months of the date on which the country covered by the order joins the WTO, and the Commission renders an affirmative injury determination pursuant to section 753(a)(1) of the Act. For those countries which joined the WTO on January 1, 1995, requests must be filed with the Commission no later than June 30, 1995.

Requests for injury investigations under section 753 must be filed with the Commission in accordance with 19 CFR

207.46(b), added by 60 FR 18, 22-23 (January 3, 1995). All requests should be addressed to: Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street, NW., Washington, DC 20436.

If investigations under section 753(a) of the Act are requested with respect to more than one countervailing duty order covering the same or comparable subject merchandise, the Commission may conduct such investigations jointly. Domestic interested parties, in their requests under section 753(a), may propose for the Commission's consideration countervailing duty orders suitable for joint consideration.

In addition, domestic interested parties that request an injury investigation under section 753(a) of the Act may request under section 751(c) of the Act that "sunset reviews" of any outstanding antidumping or countervailing duty order involving the same or comparable subject merchandise be expedited so that these reviews are conducted contemporaneously with the investigation(s) under section 753(a). Requests for expedited sunset reviews must be submitted to the Department in accordance with the procedures and requirements established for administrative reviews in 19 CFR 355.31 on the same day as the request for an investigation under section 753(a) is filed with the Commission. If the Department, after consulting with Commission, commences an expedited sunset review under section 751(c), the Commission may conduct contemporaneous proceedings under sections 751(c) and 753(a) of the Act and may cumulate imports from the subject countries.
