[Docket No.: EH-IG-95-835]

Implementation Guides for Use With Department of Energy Regulation for Occupational Radiation Protection AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of availability.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy (DOE) announces the availability of 12 Implementation Guides for its regulation on Occupational Radiation Protection (10 CFR part 835). In the preamble to 10 CFR part 835, DOE committed to developing regulatory guidance documents (Implementation Guides) to provide the rationale for and the objectives of the DOE occupational protection regulation and to identify acceptable approaches for implementing this regulation. In addition, DOE committed to make copies of these documents available for unlimited use and distribution at the DOE Freedom of Information Reading Room. DOE intends to update the Implementation Guides periodically to improve their technical content. Accordingly, comments may be submitted at any time and on a continuous basis.

ADDRESSES: A copy of each Implementation Guide (IG) may be examined in the Department of Energy Freedom of Information Reading Room, room 1E-190, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20585, (202) 586-6020, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except federal Holidays.

Submit written comments in the format designated in the Implementation Guides to Mr. Steven Zobel, Office of Worker Protection Programs and Hazards Management, EH-52, U.S. Department of Energy, 270 CC/GTN, Washington, DC 20585.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Any legal questions concerning the Implementation Guides should be directed to Mr. Ben McRae at (202) 586-6975. For technical questions on the Implementation Guides or procedural questions concerning the submission of written comments contact Mr. Steven Zobel at (301) 903-2305 or Dr. Joel Rabovsky at (301) 903-2135.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Department's goal is to provide the DOE complex with current, thorough guidance to facilitate effective and efficient implementation of the provisions in 10 CFR part 835. This guidance is primarily intended for use by those entities that must implement the requirements contained in 10 CFR part 835. DOE considers these guides to be living documents and will periodically update these IGs to improve technical content and maintain currency with DOE requirements, regulations, and standards. To this end, DOE will continue to accept comments for improving methods to implement 10 CFR part 835. A comment sheet is provided in each IG specifying a format for submitting comments. Informal comments and questions of a technical nature concerning any IG may be brought to the attention of the Department's technical point of contact. The titles of the 12 Implementation Guides are:

- G-10 CFR 835/B1—Radiation Protection Program;
- G-10 CFR 835/B2—Occupational ALARA Program;
- G-10 CFR 835/C1—Internal Dosimetry Program;
- G-10 CFR 835/C2—External Dosimetry Program;
- G-10 CFR 835/C3—Radiation-Generating Devices;
- G-10 CFR 835/C4—Evaluation and Control of Fetal Exposure;
- G-10 CFR 835/E1—Instrument Calibration for Portable Survey Instruments;
- G-10 CFR 835/E2—Workplace Air Monitoring;
- G-10 CFR 835/G1—Posting and Labeling for Radiological Control;
- G-10 CFR 835/H1—Occupational Radiation Exposure Record-Keeping and Reporting;
- G-10 CFR 835/J1—Radiation Safety Training; and
- G-10 CFR 835/M1—Sealed Radioactivity Source Accountability and Control.

These IGs provide acceptable approaches for establishing and operating specific parts of the overall radiation protection program. They identify the requirements of 10 CFR part 835 that relate to a specific major topical area and provide guidance on the characteristics of a radiation protection program that the DOE staff considers adequate to comply with the regulatory requirements.

Dated: April 13, 1995.

Peter N. Brush

Acting Assistant Secretary, Environment, Safety and Health.

Bonneville Power Administration

Finding of No Significant Impact and Floodplain Statement of Findings for Dworshak Wildlife Mitigation Project AGENCY: Bonneville Power Administration (BPA), Department of Energy (DOE).

ACTION: Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) and Floodplain Statement of Findings.

SUMMARY: This notice announces environmental findings on BPA's proposal to implement the Wildlife Mitigation Agreement for Dworshak Dam (Agreement) in order to mitigate for loss of wildlife habitat caused by the development of Columbia River Basin hydroelectric projects, particularly Dworshak Dam. The project involves wildlife conservation on 24 420 hectares (ha; 60,000 acres) of land in the Craig Mountain area of Idaho, and future acquisition of additional, unidentifiable lands in the lower Clearwater River drainage of Idaho for wildlife conservation purposes. BPA has prepared an environmental assessment (DOE/EA-1066) evaluating the proposed project. Based on the analysis in the EA, BPA has determined that the proposed action is not a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment, within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969. Therefore, the preparation of an environmental impact statement (EIS) is not required and BPA is issuing this FONSI.

A finding is included that there is no practicable alternative to locating the project within 100-year floodplains.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Thomas C. McKinney, Bonneville Power Administration, PO Box 3621 (ECN), Portland, Oregon, 97208-3621, phone number 503-230-4749, fax number 503-230-5699. For copies of the EA and this FONSI, please call BPA's toll-free document request line: 800-622-4520.

Public Availability: This FONSI will be distributed to all persons and agencies known to be interested in or affected by the proposed action or alternatives.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Implementation of the Agreement would transfer fee-title ownership of 24 420 ha (60,000 acres) to the Idaho Department of Fish and Game, and establish trust funds for the State of Idaho and the Nez Perce Tribe to use for protection and enhancement of wildlife and wildlife habitat in Idaho. Some of the trust fund assets would be used to acquire additional properties and/or conservation easements, and some would be used for management activities. Alternatives to the proposed action include maintaining the status quo, site-specific wildlife mitigation, and no action.

Potential impacts of the proposed action are: (1) Slow changes to vegetation patterns on wildlife mitigation lands; (2) avoidance of further loss or degradation of habitat on wildlife mitigation lands; (3) increased populations of target wildlife species; (4) improved surface water quality on wildlife mitigation lands; and (5) reduced grazing, timber production, and farming on wildlife mitigation lands. There are two main reasons why these impacts would not be significant. First, most of the impacts would gradually result from natural succession of vegetation patterns. Encouragement of desirable plant species (especially native species), discouragement of exotic species, and grazing control would eventually increase biological diversity on wildlife mitigation lands. Also, land use changes would not be significant because most would occur over a period of years, and because the amount of lands removed from economic uses would be minor in relation to other lands in the general area remaining available for similar uses. No impacts are expected on cultural resources, air quality, or unique environmental resources such as components of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System or the National Trails System.

Floodplain Statement of Findings: This is a Floodplain Statement of Findings prepared in accordance with 10 CFR part 1022. BPA publishes a Notice of Floodplain and Wetland Involvement in the Federal Register on May 10, 1994, and incorporated a floodplain and wetland assessment into the EA. The proposed action may involve activities in the 100-year floodplains of the Clearwater, Salmon, and Snake Rivers and their tributaries because the floodplains and their related surface waters have high wildlife value. Any development (such as fencing) within the floodplains would be to protect or enhance wildlife values, and is therefore consistent with Executive Order 11988, Floodplain Management. The proposed action
