

recent years. In order to protect the bird populations during the breeding season while still providing public access, CWS regulations have limited human visitor access to the island to 30 persons per day from June 1 through July 31 each year in recent years. In addition, this 30 person per day access has been further divided into 26 individuals per day from commercial tour boat landings (combined total for United States and Canadian tour boats) and 4 individuals per day from privately-owned boat landings. In 1993, the FWS first became involved with controlling human access to this island at the request of three United States companies. In 1993 and 1994, the FWS working with CWS, three United States tour boat companies, and one Canadian company developed landing schedules based on previous landing access by these companies to the Island during the June and July period. For 1995, the FWS and CWS propose a similar strategy for access by tour boat companies to the Island (up to 26 people per day for June and July by tour boats). This results in 31.6% of these tour boat landings being assigned to the one Canadian company, and 46.7% and 21.7% being assigned to two United States companies. The CWS stations a wildlife technician on Machias Seal Island during June and July of each year to monitor landings and visitor behavior. The FWS intends to periodically visit Machias Seal Island in 1995 to monitor landings and impacts upon migratory birds by these visits.

Title: Supporting Statement for Notice of Intent to Take Oil and Gas Transportation and Processing Allowance.

Abstract: The Minerals Management Service (MMS) is amending its valuation regulations governing oil and gas transportation and processing allowances, particularly as they relate to forms filing requirements and associated sanctions for failure to file required forms on time. Because MMS has experienced numerous problems with administration of the allowance regulations, an Allowance Study Group composed of representatives from MMS,

States and Tribes, and industry was formed to evaluate the current regulatory requirements. Based on the recommendations of the Study Group, MMS is amending its valuation regulations and has developed a new form, the Notice of Intent to Take Oil and Gas Transportation and Processing Allowance, Form MMS-4398. The new form will be used to notify MMS of a company's intention to take transportation and processing allowances. It will eliminate the need to report estimated allowances and other data and will reduce burden on the payor.
