

the relevant patents makes certification unnecessary.

It should be noted that any patent in force on June 8, 1995, and any patent issued on the basis of an application filed before June 8, 1995, are entitled to the longer term of 17 years from grant or 20 years from the relevant filing date. Because patents issued before June 8, 1995, were initially given a term of 17 years from grant, any extension under section 156 must begin from the original expiration date, which is the end of the 17-year term. If the term of 20 years from the relevant filing date exceeds the expiration of the extended term, the patent is entitled to such later expiration date. Patents issued after June 8, 1995, on the basis of applications filed before such date, are also entitled to the greater one of the two terms mentioned above. However, as this term attaches at the time of issue, the question of what term is extended under section 156 does not arise.

As the information to determine the applicable expiration dates of all these patents is readily available from relevant patent documents, publication of their expiration dates is not necessary for the purpose of clarification.

Dated: June 1, 1995.

Bruce A. Lehman,

Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.
