Notice Pursuant to the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993—VISA Interactive, Inc.

Notice is hereby given that, on October 28, 1994, pursuant to Section 6(a) of the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993, 15 U.S.C. 4301 et seq. ("the Act"), Visa International Service Association ("Visa International") has filed written notifications simultaneously with the Attorney General and the Federal Trade Commission disclosing (1) The identities of the parties and (2) the nature and objectives of the venture. The notifications were filed for the purpose of invoking the Act's provisions limiting the recovery of antitrust plaintiffs to actual damages under specified circumstances. Pursuant to Section 6(b) of the Act, the identities of the parties are the member financial institutions of VISA International, Foster City, CA, and their constituent National Group members of VISA International. The name of the joint venture is VISA Interactive, Inc., Herndon, VA. The member financial institutions of VISA International comprise approximately 18,000 commercial banks, thrifts, credit unions and similar banking institutions in the United States and most foreign jurisdictions. In many countries where member financial institutions of VISA International operate, they have formed National Group Members, which are also member of VISA International. The actual list of members changes constantly as new members join and members cease business or resign for various business-related reasons.

Visa Interactive, Inc., wholly-owned by the joint venture was formed for the purpose of researching and developing data processing and data communications systems for, and the production of, electronic banking and payment services and information services ancillary thereto, to be initiated by consumers or commercial and non-profit entities that are customers of the member financial institutions of Visa International. The services produced by the joint venture would be marketed by the member financial institutions to their customers. The technology under development would: (1) Allow customers to communicate with their financial institution using devices such as touch-tone telephones, personal computers, "smart telephones" (telephones which have additional functionality based on computing and information storage capabilities), "personal digital assistants" (portable computing and communications devices) and other devices as they emerge; (2) allow customers using such electronic devices to transact business with their financial institution similar to transactions presently transacted at automated teller machines and additional functions presently under development; (3) allow customers to order their financial institution to pay bills on their behalf, schedule the payment of such bills and cancel scheduled payments prior to their execution, and track the status of such payment orders; (4) process the transactions described above, including the routing of payments to numerous potential payees of bill payment transactions, and provide automated accounting and customer service capabilities to member financial institutions whose customers use the service; (5) provide authorization, clearing and settlement of resulting financial transactions; (6) develop standards for data communications between customers' electronic devices and service providers and between financial institutions and the processing systems; (7) develop standards for identifying payees capable of receiving electronic payments through the system and for routing payments to them; and (8) facilitate the interactive communication of additional information which does not necessarily represent financial transactions.

BILLING CODE 4410-10-M

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Employment Standards Administration

Wage and Hour Division

Minimum Wages for Federal and Federally Assisted Construction; General Wage Determination Decisions

General wage determination decisions of the Secretary of Labor are issued in accordance with applicable law and are based on the information obtained by the Department of Labor from its study of local wage conditions and data made available from other sources. They specify the basic hourly wage rates and fringe benefits which are determined to be prevailing for the described classes of laborers and mechanics employed on construction projects of a similar character and in the localities specified therein.

The determinations in these decisions of prevailing rates and fringe benefits have been made in accordance with 29

CFR part 1, by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR part 1, appendix, as well as such additional statutes as may from time to time be enacted containing provisions for the payment of wages determined to be prevailing by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act. The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in these decisions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged on contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Good cause is hereby found for not utilizing notice and public comment procedure thereon prior to the issuance of these determinations as prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 and not providing for delay in the effective date as prescribed in that section, because the necessity to issue current construction industry wage determinations frequently and in large volume causes procedures to be impractical and contrary to the public interest.

General wage determination decisions, and modifications and supersedeas decisions thereto, contain no expiration dates and are effective from their date of notice in the Federal Register, or on the date written notice is received by the agency, whichever is earlier. These decisions are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR parts 1 and 5. Accordingly, the applicable decision, together with any modifications issued, must be made a part of every contract for performance of the described work within the geographic area indicated as required by an applicable Federal prevailing wage law and 29 CFR part 5. The wage rates and fringe benefits, notice of which is published herein, and which are contained in the Government Printing Office (GPO) document entitled "General Wage Determinations Issued Under The Davis-Bacon And Related Acts," shall be the minimum paid by contractors and subcontractors to laborers and mechanics.

Any person, organization, or governmental agency having an interest in the rates determined as prevailing is encouraged to submit wage rate and fringe benefit information for consideration by the Department. Further information and self-explanatory forms for the purpose of submitting this data may be obtained by
