SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Rocky Mountain Arsenal National Wildlife Refuge Act of 1992 (Public Law 102-402) establishes the Rocky Mountain Arsenal as a National Wildlife Refuge following environmental cleanup, and provided authority for the Fish and Wildlife Service to manage the area as if it were a National Wildlife Refuge during the cleanup process. Pursuant to the Department of Interior's Departmental Manual implementing the National Environmental Policy Act, the Fish and Wildlife Service is preparing a Comprehensive Management Plan for the Refuge and an Environmental Impact Statement on the Plan. The Plan will guide the development of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal National Wildlife Refuge. Ray Rauch, Project Leader, will be the responsible official. The Fish and Wildlife Service believes it is important to give reviewers notice at this early stage of guidance provided by several court rulings related to public participation in the environmental review process. Reviewers of draft environmental impact statements must structure their participation in the environmental review of the proposal so that it is meaningful and alerts an agency to the reviewer's position and contentions. Judicial review may waive or dismiss objections that could have been raised at the draft environmental impact statement stage, but that were not raised until after completion of the final environmental impact statement.

Terry T. Terrell,

Acting Regional Director, Region 6, Denver, Colorado.
