SUMMARY: This document extends for one year the period that the interim rule for the HOME Investment Partnerships Program will be in effect from June 30, 1995 to June 30, 1996.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Effective on June 30, 1995 the effectiveness of the amendments to 24 CFR Part 92 published on April 19, 1994 at 59 FR 18626 and August 26, 1995 at 59 FR 44258 is extended to June 30, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mary Kolesar, Director, Program Policy Division, Office of Affordable Housing Programs, 451 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410, telephone (202) 708-2470, TDD (202) 708-2565. (These are not toll-free numbers.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 92.5 of 24 CFR was added to implement a Department-wide policy for the expiration of interim rules within a set period of time if they are not issued in final form before the end of the period. The rule provides that the expiration period may be extended by notice published in the Federal Register. Because the expiration date for the HOME interim rule is currently June 30, 1995, and a final rule is not expected before that date, this notice extends the expiration date for an additional year. A conforming change is also being made, in a separate publication, to § 92.5.

Accordingly, the time period during which the interim rule for the HOME Investment Partnerships Program at 24 CFR part 92 will be in effect is extended for an additional year to June 30, 1996. If a final rule is published on or before June 30, 1996, the interim rule will continue in effect until the published final rule's effective date.

Dated: June 26, 1995.

Secretary.

Electronic Payment of Periodic Mortgage Insurance Premiums; Final
RuleAGENCY: Office of the Assistant
Secretary for Housing-Federal Housing
Commissioner, HUD.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule amends HUD's Single Family Mortgage Insurance regulations. This rule authorizes the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Commissioner to require that periodic mortgage insurance premiums (MIP) be remitted electronically. The purpose of this rule is to reduce the servicing costs to mortgage lenders and to enhance HUD operations.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 31, 1995.FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Anne L. Baird-Bridges, Acting Director, Single Family Insurance Operations Division, Room 2246, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street, SW, Washington, DC 20410, telephone (202) 708-2438, or (202) 708-4594 (TDD). These are not toll-free numbers.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:I. Background

In 1985, the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) implemented the Automated Clearing House (ACH) program, with voluntary participation by mortgagees, for electronic payment of up-front mortgage insurance premiums (MIP) for single family mortgages that are obligations of the Mutual Mortgage Insurance Fund. In 1989, HUD implemented the ACH program on a voluntary basis for electronic payment of periodic (monthly) MIP for single family insured mortgages. In these single family mortgages, mortgagees collected mortgage insurance premiums on a monthly basis from the mortgagors and promptly remitted them to HUD as required by section 530 of the National Housing Act. These premiums are sometimes referred to as section 530 premiums to distinguish them from the risk-based premium segment that was adopted later in July 1991, although regulations under section 530 also apply to that segment. In 1992, HUD made the ACH program available on a voluntary basis to the risk-based premium segment of periodic MIP.

On June 9, 1992, HUD published a proposed rule in the Federal Register (57 FR 24424) that would amend the Title II regulations to permit the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Commissioner to require that all up-front premium payments be made electronically through ACH. HUD received five comments in response to that proposed rule. Two comments were from automated clearing house associations, and expressed general approval of HUD's proposal. Two comments were from national trade associations; both were favorable to the proposal, although one expressed a number of technical operational concerns. The fifth comment, from a small lender, expressed a similar concern to one raised by one of the trade associations, namely the financial impact on small lenders.

On March 8, 1993, HUD published a final rule in the Federal Register (58 FR 12901) that was unchanged from the proposed rule. However, due to the concerns communicated in the comments, HUD allowed a one-year grace period for institutions making 300 or fewer new FHA single family loans per year.

II. The Method of Electronic Payment

HUD's policy prior to this final rule allowed mortgage lenders to remit payment of periodic (monthly) mortgage insurance premiums (MIP) either by mailing checks and remittance forms to the NationsBank lockbox contractor or electronically through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) program at Mellon Bank. This final rule will require the electronic payment of all periodic MIP.

In the ACH program, periodic premium collections (also referred to as section 530 premiums and risk-based premiums) are processed from mortgagees and confirmations are remitted back to the mortgagees electronically, using remote terminals or microcomputers with modems in lieu of sending checks with HUD forms. Through ACH, the mortgagee's terminal or microcomputer operator keys in the transaction data, which is transmitted to Mellon Bank.

Each day at 8 p.m. EST, the Mellon Telecash System originates an ACH file of debit transactions based on the data keyed by the mortgagee. When the debit transactions have been processed, the ACH will transmit the periodic premium data to HUD's premium collection system. Through this ACH process, the debit amount is drawn from the designated lender's bank account
