

rock and shell fragments from a bulldozed site at Wailua. In 1951, the Museum recorded one set of human remains from Po'ipū from an anonymous donor. In 1956, Lawrence P. Richards donated one skull from Aweoweonui. In 1959, Adna Clarke, Jr., donated one set of human remains from Hanapēpē. In 1964, Robert N. Bowen, Museum employee, collected a single vertebra at Kōloa. In 1964, Frederic O. Wolf, donated one skull from Kaua'i. In 1965, Lloyd J. Soehren, Museum anthropologist, excavated one set of human remains and an animal bone fragment from Nu'alolo. In 1974, John E. Reinecke donated the remains of four partial skeletons from Po'ipū. In 1984, Stella Hobby donated one skull from Kaua'i. In 1989, Andrew J. Hingsberger donated one skull from Nu'alolo.

No known individuals were identified. In consultation with Native Hawaiian organizations and at their recommendation, the Bishop Museum decided that no attempt would be made to determine the age of the human remains from Kaua'i. Geographic location of the remains, types of associated funerary objects, and method of burial preparation are recognizable as burial practices of Native Hawaiians ancestral to contemporary Native Hawaiian organizations.

Based on the above information, officials of the Bishop Museum, in consultation with representatives of the Kaua'i / Ni'ihau Island Burial Council, Hui Mālama I Nā Kūpuna 'O Hawai'i Nei, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, Edward Ka'iwi and Aletha Kaohi, have determined pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001(2) that there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these remains and present-day Native Hawaiian organizations.

This notice has been sent to the Kaua'i / Ni'ihau Island Burial Council, Hui Mālama I Nā Kūpuna 'O Hawai'i Nei, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, Edward Ka'iwi and Aletha Kaohi. Representatives of any Native Hawaiian organization which believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these human remains and associated funerary objects should contact Anita Manning, NAGPRA Representative, Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum, P. O. Box 19000, Honolulu, Hawai'i, 96817-0916, <manning@bishop.bishop.hawaii.org>, 808-848-4117, before October 27, 1995.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Investigation No. 753-TA-32]

Carbon Steel Wire Rod From Zimbabwe

Determination

Pursuant to section 753(b)(4) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1675b(b)(4)) (the Act), the Commission hereby determines that an industry in the United States is not likely to be materially injured by reason of imports from Zimbabwe of carbon steel wire rod if the countervailing duty order on such merchandise were to be revoked.

Background

Section 753(a) of the Act provides that, in the case of a countervailing duty order issued under section 303 of the Act with respect to which the requirement of an affirmative determination of material injury under section 303(a)(2) was not applicable at the time the order was issued, interested parties may request the Commission to initiate an investigation to determine whether an industry in the United States is likely to be materially injured by reason of imports of the subject merchandise if the order is revoked. Further, section 753(a)(3) requires that such requests must be filed with the Commission within 6 months of the date on which the country from which the subject merchandise originates became a signatory to the Agreement on Subsidies and Countervailing Measures (the Subsidies Agreement), as referred to in section 101(d)(12) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act.

On May 26, 1995, the Department of Commerce (Commerce) published in the Federal Register notice of opportunity to request injury investigation(s) under section 753 of the Act (60 FR 27963, May 26, 1995). In that notice, Commerce stated that, for those countries becoming signatories to the Subsidies Agreement on January 1, 1995, requests for injury investigations must be filed with the Commission no later than June 30, 1995. In addition, Commerce noted that in the case of Zimbabwe, that country became a signatory to the Subsidies Agreement on March 3, 1995. 2

Section 753(b)(4) of the Act provides that, if a request for an injury investigation is not made within 6 months of the time the country of origin of the subject merchandise became a signatory to the Subsidies Agreement, the Commission shall notify the administering authority that it has made a negative determination with regard to the question of the likelihood of material injury by reason of imports of the subject merchandise if the order is revoked. As of September 5, 1995, the Commission had not received a request for investigation under section 753(a) with regard to the outstanding countervailing duty order on carbon steel wire rod from Zimbabwe. Accordingly, pursuant to section 753(b)(4) of the Act, the Commission hereby notifies Commerce of its negative injury determination with regard to the outstanding countervailing duty order on carbon steel rod from Zimbabwe.
