

psychological, social and cultural determinants of risky sexual and substance use behavior; neuropsychiatric and psychosocial consequences of HIV infection, including stress, coping, caregiving, and social stigma, research methodologies employed in AIDS behavioral research, including quantitative techniques for developing and evaluating preventive interventions; and the utility of AIDS behavioral intervention research to affected communities. The NIH AIDS Research Program Evaluation Working Group will develop recommendations to be made to the Office of AIDS Research Advisory Council that address the overall NIH AIDS research initiatives, both intramural and extramural, and identify long-range goals in the relevant areas of science. These recommendations will provide the framework for future planning and budget development of the NIH AIDS research program.

There will be a closed session from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m., and 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. to update the Panel members on privileged information on institute and center grant and contract portfolios.

The open session from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. will begin with a brief overview of panel activities by members of the panel. The remainder of the meeting will be devoted to presentations from individuals and organizations. The session is open to the public; however, attendance may be limited by seat availability.

Comments should be confined to statements related to the current status of NIH AIDS research in the areas of primary prevention and behavioral interventions and recommendations for consideration by the panel in assessing and reviewing the relevant research in these areas.

Only one representative of an organization may present oral comments. Each speaker will be permitted 5 minutes for their presentation. Interested individuals and representatives of organizations must submit a letter of intent to present comments and three (3) typewritten copies of the presentation, along with a brief description of the organization represented, to the attention of Dr. Judith D. Auerbach, Office of AIDS Research, NIH, 231 Center Drive, MSC 2340, Building 31, Room 4C06, Bethesda, MD 20892-2340, (301) 402-3555, FAX: (301) 402-8638. Letters of intent and copies of presentations must be received no later than 5 p.m. EDT on Monday, October 23.

Any person attending the meeting who does not request an opportunity to speak in advance of the meeting will be allowed to make a brief oral presentation at the conclusion of the meeting, if time permits, and at the discretion of the Chairperson.

Individuals wishing to provide only written statements should send three (3) typewritten copies of their comments, including a brief description of their organization, to the above address no later than 4 p.m. EDT on October 23. Statements submitted after that date will be accepted. They may not, however, be made available to the Area Review Panel prior to the meeting, though they will be provided subsequently as written testimony.

Individuals who plan to attend and need special assistance, such as sign language interpretation or other accommodations, should contact Dr. Auerbach in advance of the meeting.

Dated: October 3, 1995.
