Federal Aviation Administration [Docket No. 28371]

Study of FAA Regulation and Certification Capabilities

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) DOT.

ACTION: Notice of Study and Request for Comments.

SUMMARY: On July 13, 1995, the Federal Aviation Administration initiated Challenge 2000, a comprehensive review of the FAA's safety oversight mission. The purpose of Challenge 2000 is to position the Agency to continue providing effective safety oversight in the face of technological advances and other changes in the aviation operating environment. An independent management consultant is undertaking a review of the FAA's regulation, certification, and enforcement capabilities and plans to make recommendations for appropriate actions. This notice provides an opportunity for the public to participate in this effort and comment on the future design and goal of FAA's regulation and certification functions.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before December 15, 1995.

ADDRESSES: Send or deliver comments in triplicate to: Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Chief Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket (AGC-200), Docket 28371, 800 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20591. Comments must be marked Docket No. 28371. They will be on display in Room 915G weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 pm., except on Federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kris Burnham, Office of Aviation Policy and Plans, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20591, (202) 267-7947.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Secretary of Transportation Federico Pena and FAA Administrator David Hinson have committed to a safety goal of zero accidents for the aviation community. Consistent with this Zero-accident goal, the FAA has initiated Challenge 2000, a comprehensive review of the agency's safety oversight capabilities. The review and subsequent report are being undertaken by an independent management consultant. The FAA will also receive input from its Research, Engineering, and Development Advisory Committee (RE&D Committee), whose membership represents various parts of the aviation industry. A committee of AA executives is overseeing the effort.

In the course of its review, the management consultant is studying the structure of the aviation industry, current and anticipated risks associated with air transportation, the structure and approach to safety used by aviation authorities in other countries and in other industries, and the FAA's safety organization. It is discussing pertinent issues with aviation organizations from government and the private sector. The RE&D Committee is evaluating the FAA's relationship to the technology environment and the agency's ability to respond strategically to rapid technological changes. A team of senior FAA officials is responsible for assisting the consultant and the RE&D Committee by providing essential expertise and perspective on the FAA and its current practices.

Comments Invited

The FAA invites public comments to supplement the data gathered by our management consultant. Taken together, the information will help the agency appropriately adjust its regulation, certification, and enforcement capabilities to respond to recent and expected changes in the aviation operating environment. Unlike recent regulatory reviews, this Notice does not seek suggestions on specific rules that commenters believe should be changed or altered. Rather, comments should address general policies, procedures, and the focus of FAA's mission and resources with respect to safety oversight.

The following are examples of questions relevant to Challenge 2000 and on which the FAA seeks comments. This list does not necessarily encompass all issues of interest, and commenters are invited to submit information on additional issues relevant to this review.

Do you believe that the FAA's regulation, certification, and enforcement functions currently provide an adequate level of safety oversight? If not, why not? Are there safety oversight services that should be provided by the FAA that currently are not? What changes in statutory authority, resources, or process are needed to provide adequate in the current and future environment? Are the FAA's regulation and certification processes appropriate to allow the aviation community to reap the benefits of modern technology in a timely manner?

What significant changes do you anticipate in the aviation environment in the next decade that may require revision, termination, or addition to current FAA safety oversight (e.g., technological advances, changing business practices, impact of international competition)? When possible, please provide specific examples.

Based on the anticipated changes, do you believe that the FAA needs to change the manner in which it (1) regulates the industry, (2) enforces rules, or (3) certifies airmen, aircraft, or other elements of the airport and airway system? Where appropriate, please comment on the adequacy of existing statutory authority, anticipated need for process changes, the timing of services provided, and the effectiveness of the outcome.

In the coming decade, do you believe that FAA should devote fewer or greater resources than it currently does to (1) regulation, (2) enforcement, and (3) certification? Why?

Issued in Washington, DC, on October 27, 1995.

Barry L. Valentine,

Assistant Administrator for Policy, Planning, and International Aviation.

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Issuance of the Record of Decision (ROD) for FAA's Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), "Effects of Implementation of the Expanded East Coast Plan (EECP) Over the State of New Jersey".

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and FAA Order 1050.1D, Policies and Procedures for Considering Environmental Impacts, that FAA has decided to adopt the preferred alternative with the Solberg Mitigation Proposal identified in its final EIS (FEIS), "Effects of Implementation of the Expanded East Coast Plan Over the State of New Jersey". This FEIS was made available to the public on July 28, 1995. It was prepared in accordance with Section 9119 of the Aviation Safety and Capacity Expansion Act of 1990, Title IX Subtitle B of Public Law 101-508.

Based on a review of the administrative record, including the FEIS, it is the FAA's final determination that continuation of existing EECP aircraft routes, airspace delegation and air traffic control procedures as modified by the Solberg Mitigation Proposal described in Section 7 of the ROD, and identified in the FEIS as the preferred alternative, is approved. This alternative was also identified as the environmentally preferable alternative in the FEIS.

Controversy about the effects of implementation of the EECP over New Jersey led to a statutory requirement, Section 9119 of the Aviation Safety and Capacity Expansion Act of 1990, Title IX Subtitle B of Public Law 101-508, for the FAA to prepare an EIS on these effects. FAA was also directed to provide a report to Congress (RTC) with
