

Centers Program was enacted in the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992 (Pub. L. 102-550, approved October 28, 1992) and is administered by the Office of University Partnerships under the Assistant Secretary for Public Development and Research. In addition to this program, the Office of University Partnerships administers HUD's ongoing grant programs to institutions of higher education as well as creates initiatives through which colleges and universities can bring their traditional missions of teaching, research, service, and outreach to bear on the pressing local problems in their communities.

The Community Outreach Partnership Centers Program provides funds for: Research activities which have practical application for solving specific problems in designated communities and neighborhoods; outreach, technical assistance and information exchange activities which are designed to address specific problems in designated communities and neighborhoods. The specific problems that the local program must focus on are problems associated with housing, economic development, neighborhood revitalization, infrastructure, health care, job training, education, crime prevention, planning, and community organizing. On December 22, 1994, HUD published a Notice of Funding Availability announcing the availability of $7 million in Fiscal Year 1995 funds for the Community Outreach Partnership Centers Program (59 FR 66124). The Department reviewed, evaluated and scored the applications received based on the criteria in the NOFA. As a result, HUD has funded the fourteen applicants identified below, each in the amount of $500,000. In accordance with section 102(a)(4)(C) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Reform Act of 1989 (Pub. Awards under the program are to be used to establish at institutions of higher education Centers for Community Revitalization, which will undertake large-scale, multi-phased, multi-year local community revitalization and community building activities in collaboration with local governments and community organizations. The purpose of this document is to announce the names and addresses of the award winners and the amount of the awards.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Joint Community Development Program was enacted in the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992 (Pub.L. 102-550, approved October 28, 1992). Initially administered by the Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development, the program was transferred August 15, 1994 to the Office of University Partnerships under the Assistant Secretary for Policy Development and Research. In addition to this program, the Office of University Partnerships administers HUD's ongoing grant programs to institutions of higher education as well as creates initiatives through which colleges and universities can bring their traditional missions of teaching, research, service, and outreach to bear on the pressing local problems in their communities.

The Joint Community Development Program provides special purpose grants to institutions of higher education or to States and units of general local government submitting applications with institutions of higher education to HUD to undertake Community Development Block Grant eligible activities. On April 7, 1995, HUD published a Notice of Funding Availability announcing the availability of $12 million ($6 million of which was appropriated for Fiscal Year 1994 and $6 million of which was appropriated for Fiscal Year 1995) for the Joint Community Development Program (60 FR 17960). Through this funding round, HUD is providing five institutions of higher education with grants of $2.4 million each, to support Centers for Community Revitalization at those institutions of higher education. For this funding round, HUD required institutions of higher education to apply on their own rather than submitting jointly with a State or unit of general local government. However, institutions of higher education were encouraged to form partnerships with units of general local government by making part of this funding available to these governments.

In accordance with section 102(a)(4)(C) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Reform Act of 1989 (Pub. L. 101-235, approved December 15, 1989), the Department is publishing details concerning the recipients of funding awards, as follows:

In the advance notice of proposed rulemaking published elsewhere in this issue of the Federal Register, BLM is announcing its intention to revise its existing rules governing logging roads over revested Oregon and California Railroad grant lands and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands (collectively known as the O&C lands). The changes will bring the existing cost-sharing road program under the regulatory framework of Section 502 of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA) and incorporate environmental protection and other requirements for rights-of-way over public lands found in Title V of FLPMA. Another change will allow compensation for the use of roads and rights-of-way where the landowner has granted BLM rights of access for recreational purposes. In addition, the entire subpart will be revised, using a "plain English" approach, to remove obsolete terms and improve its clarity, organization, and readability.

The Oregon and California Revested Lands Sustained Yield Management Act of August 28, 1937 (43 U.S.C. 1181a and 1181b) granted to the Secretary of the Interior the general authority to provide for the use, occupancy and development of the O&C lands through permits and rights-of-way. The BLM has had a cost-share logging road right-of-way program in western Oregon under this authority since the early 1950's. The regulations for this program are contained in 43 CFR Subpart 2812. With the enactment of the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA), all right-of-way authorizations must be issued under the authority and requirements of Title V of FLPMA (43 U.S.C. 1761-1771). The Secretary was given specific authority to enter into
