Improving the Hazardous Materials Safety Program; Public Meetings Related to Regulatory Review and Customer Service

AGENCY: Research and Special Programs Administration (RSPA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of public meeting.

SUMMARY: This notice announces a public meeting in Long Beach, California, to seek information from the public on regulatory reform and improved customer service for RSPA's hazardous materials safety program. This meeting replaces the meeting previously scheduled for November 16, 1995, in San Diego, California, which was canceled due to a lapse in funding for the Department of Transportation.

ADDRESSES: See Supplementary Information for specific time, location, and agenda.

DATES: January 25, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Edmund J. Richards, Interagency Hazardous Materials Program Coordinator, (202) 366-0656; or Suezett Edwards, Training and Information Specialist, (202) 366-4900; Hazardous Materials Safety, RSPA, Department of Transportation, Washington, DC 20590-0001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 4, 1995, President Clinton issued a memorandum to heads of departments and agencies calling for a review of all agency regulations and elimination or revision of those that are outdated or in need of reform. The President also directed that front line regulators " * * * get out of Washington and create grassroots partnerships" with people affected by agency regulations.

On September 11, 1993, the President signed an Executive Order on setting customer service standards. The Executive Order promotes continuing reform of the executive branch's management practices and operations to provide service to the public that matches or exceeds the best service available in the private sector. RSPA is seeking information from individuals and businesses impacted by its hazardous materials safety program to determine the kind and quality of services they want and their level of satisfaction with existing services.

An initial series of outreach meetings to address these two topics was held in April and May of this year in San Francisco, California; Chicago, Illinois; Clearwater and Tampa, Florida; Houston, Texas, and Minneapolis, Minnesota. Many participants requested that these meeting be continued on a regular basis and scheduled in areas of the country not previously covered. As a result, a second series of meetings is being held. Meetings have been held in Cambridge, Massachusetts; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Seattle, Washington; and Charlotte, North Carolina. The meeting to be held in Long Beach, California, will complete the second series.

Areas of Regulatory Concern

In calling on agencies to review, revise, and, when necessary, cut obsolete regulations, the President directed each agency to consider the following issues:

- Is the regulation obsolete?
- Could its intended goal be achieved in more efficient, less obtrusive ways?
- Are there private sector alternatives, such as market mechanisms, that can better achieve the public good envisioned by the regulation?
- Could private business, setting its own standards and being subject to public accountability, do the job as well?
- Could the states or local governments do the job, making Federal regulation unnecessary?
- Can certain regulatory provisions be relaxed without unduly impacting safety?

Improvements to Customer Service

At the meeting, RSPA will solicit comments on the kind and quality of services its customers want and their level of satisfaction with the services currently provided by the hazardous materials safety program. RSPA will use the comments received to establish service standards and measure results against them; provide choices in both the sources of service and the means of delivery; make information, services, and complaint systems easily accessible; and provide a means to address customer complaints. RSPA's current customer services include providing guidance in understanding and complying with the HMR and processing exemptions, approvals, registrations, grant applications and enforcement actions. Other customer services include conduct of multimodal hazardous materials seminars, operation of the Hazardous Materials Information Exchange (HMIX) electronic bulletin board, and development and dissemination of training and information materials.

Conduct of the Meeting

The meeting will be informal and is intended to produce a dialogue between agency personnel and those persons directly affected by the hazardous materials safety programs, regulations and customer services. The meeting officer may find it necessary to limit the time allocated each speaker to ensure that all participants have an opportunity to speak. Conversely, the meeting may conclude before the time scheduled if all persons wishing to participate have been heard.

The meeting will be held on January 25, 1996, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the 7th Floor Conference Room of the Glenn Anderson Federal Building (11th Coast Guard District), 501 West Ocean Boulevard, Long Beach, California. A picture ID may be required to enter the building.

Issued in Washington, D.C. on November 20, 1995.

Alan I. Roberts,

Associate Administrator for Hazardous Materials Safety.
