

discount applicable to the delivery of $1\frac{1}{8}$ -pound frozen pork bellies. Frozen pork bellies in the $1\frac{1}{16}$ -pound weight range would continue to be deliverable at par under the proposal.

The CME intends to implement the proposed amendments with respect to the February 1997 contract month and all subsequent contract months upon receipt of Commission approval.

According to the Exchange, the contract's present discount structure encourages the delivery of lighter, less desirable bellies and discourages the delivery of heavier, more desirable bellies. The Exchange said that the proposed amendments are intended to correct this situation.

The Exchange also stated that:

The price differential between the $1\frac{1}{4}$ [pound] and $1\frac{1}{16}$ [pound] bellies in the fresh market is volatile. However, the average is approximately zero . . . because sausage makers buy whichever size is the cheapest, which off-sets the weak demand for the $1\frac{1}{4}$ pound bellies by slicers.

The $1\frac{1}{8}$ [pound] belly is less desirable than the $1\frac{1}{16}$ [pound] belly, all other things being the same, because not all slicers are equipped to handle the larger bellies. This is reflected by the price differential which averages 1.6 [cents per pound]. . . . Therefore, the proposed 1.5 [cents-per-pound] discount brings the contract in line with industry practices and cash market differentials.

The Exchange indicated that the proposals will not reduce the deliverable supply of frozen pork bellies for the contract.

The Division is requesting comment with respect to the extent to which the proposed discounts fall within the range of commonly observed cash price differences between $1\frac{1}{4}$ and $1\frac{1}{16}$ -pound frozen pork bellies and between $1\frac{1}{16}$ and $1\frac{1}{8}$ -pound frozen pork bellies. In addition, commenters are requested to address the effect (if any) the proposed amendments would have on the quantity of frozen pork bellies likely to be economically available for delivery on the contract.

Copies of the terms and conditions can be obtained through the Office of the Secretariat by mail at the above address or by phone at (202) 418-5097.
