

production, only very few cars would be required to meet the standard.

Safety and Public Interest Arguments

Because of the small number of vehicles that the applicant produces and its belief that they are used as second or third cars for short mileage open air excursions rather than for daily commuting, and because of the three-point restraints and side impact protection currently offered, Isis argues that an exemption would be in the public interest and consistent with safety. An exemption would allow it to "maintain the existing diversity of motor vehicles available in this country." Finally, because of its expertise in the use of propane as a fuel, Isis is "in a position to contribute to the growth of the alternative fueled vehicle industry."

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On September 5, 1995, Customs published a document in the Federal Register (60 FR 46141) announcing plans to conduct a test regarding the use of reconciliation for those related party importers which have reason to believe upward adjustments may be made to the price of imported merchandise for tax purposes pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 482. The document described the objectives of the test, the application process to participate, the eligibility criteria, selectivity criteria and test evaluation criteria. The document invited public participation in the test and set forth a deadline for applications at no later than October 1, 1995. The planned commencement of the test was October 1, 1995.

Customs is now revising certain elements of the September 5, document. Customs now plans to begin the test no earlier than May 1, 1996, and the test will cover entry summaries filed by the selected participants from May 1, 1996, to December 31, 1996, or the end of the participant's tax year, whichever comes first.

Participants must file the reconciliation summary, which provides the outstanding value information, within 15 months of the filing of the first affected entry summary or by July 31, 1997, whichever comes first. Further, by applying, applicants agree that the value for merchandise covered by all entry summaries filed by them or on their behalf on or after May 1, 1996, until the end of the tax year or December 31, 1996, whichever comes first, shall be finally determined by the liquidation of the reconciliation filed in accordance with the test.

The time frame for Customs acceptance and approval of applications to participate in the test has been revised to May 1, 1996. Applications shall be addressed to Mr. William F. Inch as indicated above in this document.

To be eligible to participate in the test, a participant's tax year must end between May 1, 1996 and December 31, 1996.

For purposes of the reconciliation test, reconciliation summaries shall be filed to the attention of Matthew Krimski, Office of Regulatory Audit, Office of Strategic Trade, U.S. Customs Service, 1301 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20229.

Aside from the revised information set forth in this document, all other information regarding the reconciliation test set forth in the Federal Register document of September 5, 1995, is still applicable.

Dated: December 6, 1995.

Karen J. Hiatt,

Acting Assistant Commissioner, Office of Strategic Trade.
