EFFECTIVE DATE: December 27, 1995.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

In compliance with the Act of July 2, 1993, Public Law 103-48, (hereafter referred to as the Act) the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) published in the December 30, 1993 issue of the Federal Register (58 FR 69402), the Initial List of base land parcels that were relinquished or were purported to be relinquished, to the United States pursuant to the Act of June 4, 1897 (as amended), and for which selection or other rights under that Act or supplemental legislation were not realized or exercised. The Act further provided that for a period of 180 days from the date of publication of the Initial List, any persons asserting an interest in any base land parcel omitted from the Initial List could request the addition of the omitted parcel to the Initial List in order to be considered for relief pursuant to the Act. No such requests were received by the BLM and therefore no additional parcels are included (on that basis) on the Final List published in this notice. One parcel (Parcel No. 27) was inadvertently omitted by the BLM from the Initial List and has now been added to the List of Nationally Significant Lands. In addition, one parcel (Parcel No. 16A) which was previously included by the United States Forest Service as Parcel No. 56 on its Initial List also published under the Act, has been determined to be outside of current National Forest boundaries. This parcel is more appropriately included on the BLM Initial List and has been added to the Final List.

Current Action—Nationally Significant Lands. The Act provides that the BLM compile a list of Nationally Significant Lands. These are defined as those lands included on the Initial List which are “located wholly or partially within any conservation system unit and all other listed lands which Congress has designated for specific management or which the Secretary concerned decides in the concerned Secretary’s sole discretion, should be retained in order to meet public resource protection, or administrative needs.” Such Nationally Significant Lands are not listed on the Final List and are not quitclaimed to the owner or entryman or his heirs, devisees, successors, and assigns as are other lands listed on the Final List. The list of Nationally Significant Lands is described as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights, all right, title, and interest in the above described Nationally Significant Lands is hereby vested and confirmed in the United States. The list will be recorded in the appropriate county land ownership records and the official BLM records will be noted accordingly.

Anyone claiming that the identification of Nationally Significant Lands under the Act was a “taking” of property will be allowed a one-year opportunity to file a petition in the United States Claims Court for monetary compensation. Identification of Nationally Significant Lands does not of itself entitle any party to compensation. The burden of proof is on the claimant to prove a compensable claim under the Act.

Current Action—Final List. The Act also provides that on or before 24 months after the date of publication of the Initial List, a Final List be published consisting of lands included on the Initial List, but which are not identified on the list of Nationally Significant Lands described above in this notice. The BLM Final List is described as follows:
