The Preliminary Report was approved by the Commission on January 5, 1996, and is currently available to the public upon request. ACIR is soliciting comments on the report through March 15, 1996.

² Legislation to sunset the Commission on December 31, 1995, and transfer remaining functions is currently under consideration. Until further notice, parties submitting pleadings should continue to use the current name and address.

Intergovernmental Relations (ACIR) is charged in Section 302 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 with investigating and reviewing the role of Federal mandates in intergovernmental relations and with making recommendations to the President and the Congress. For purposes of Section 302, the law defines "Federal mandate" as "any provision in statute or regulation or any Federal court ruling that imposes an enforceable duty on state, local, or tribal governments including a condition of Federal assistance or a duty arising from participation in a voluntary Federal program".

ACIR began its review process by adopting criteria for identifying mandate issues of significant concern and the types of problems to be analyzed. These criteria were published in the Federal Register on July 6, 1995. After development of the criteria, ACIR solicited information on existing federal mandates from a variety of sources including the general public, state, local, and tribal governments and organizations representing the officials of such governments, and public and private organizations interested in mandate issues. Information was received from over half the states, eight municipal leagues, four state associations of counties, several national associations representing state and local governments, and a variety of local government officials.

From the correspondence received, ACIR selected 14 mandates for special analysis. The 14 mandates selected for review illustrate the diverse, complex, and troubling challenges that federal mandates pose for our nation's intergovernmental system. In examining the individual mandates, the Commission primarily considered the fundamental intergovernmental issues associated with the mandate. We urge those reviewing the report to give similar attention to the roles of federal, state, local, and tribal governments as they relate to the mandate.

Common Issues

ACIR's review of existing federal mandates found a number of common issues among the mandates. The following six common issues are discussed in the report along with a proposed ACIR recommendation: (1) Detailed procedural requirements; (2) Lack of federal concern about mandate costs; (3) Federal failure to recognize state and local government's public accountability; (4) Lawsuits by individuals against state and local governments to enforce federal mandates; (5) Inability of very small
