

Corp., (C3500) (June 28, 1994), Alliant Techsystems Inc., (C3567) (April 7, 1995), and Lockheed Martin Corp., (C3576) (May 9, 1995). Industry participants have indicated that these prior orders have been effective in protecting their confidential information and preserving competition. In addition, the Department of Defense has stated that the proposed Consent Order resolves all of the competitive issues that they have identified.

Finally, Lockheed Martin is a significant competitor in the market for the research, development, manufacture and sale of unmanned aerial vehicles and Loral is the sole supplier of integrated communications systems, a critical unmanned aerial vehicle component. After the acquisition, Lockheed Martin would be the sole supplier of integrated communications systems for unmanned aerial vehicles and also a competitor in the unmanned aerial vehicle market. Because unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturers will have to provide proprietary information to the Lockheed Martin division that manufactures integrated communication systems, Lockheed Martin's military aircraft division, which manufactures unmanned aerial vehicles, could gain access to competitively sensitive non-public information relating to competing unmanned aerial vehicles. As a result, the proposed acquisition increases the likelihood that competition between unmanned aerial vehicle suppliers would decrease because Lockheed Martin would have access to its competitors' proprietary information, which could affect the prices and services that Lockheed Martin would offer. In addition, advancements in unmanned aerial vehicle research, innovation and quality would be reduced because Lockheed Martin's unmanned aerial vehicle competitors would fear that Lockheed Martin could "free ride" off of their technological developments.

To remedy the proposed acquisition's likely anticompetitive effects in the unmanned aerial vehicle market, the proposed Consent Order preserves the confidentiality of unmanned aerial vehicle suppliers' proprietary information by prohibiting Lockheed Martin's communications systems divisions from making any proprietary information from competing unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturers available to Lockheed Martin's military aircraft division. Under the proposed Consent Order, Lockheed Martin may only use such information in its capacity as a provider of integrated communications systems. Non-public information in this context includes any information not in the public domain that is designated as proprietary information by any unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturer that provides such information to Lockheed Martin as well as information not in the public domain provided by any unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturer to Loral prior to the acquisition. The purpose of the proposed Consent Order is to preserve the opportunity for full competition in the market for the research, development, manufacture and sale of unmanned aerial vehicles.

Under the provisions of the proposed Consent Order, Lockheed Martin is required to deliver a copy of the Order to any United States military aircraft manufacturer and to any United States unmanned aerial vehicle manufacturer prior to obtaining any information from them that is outside the public domain. The Order also requires Lockheed Martin to provide the Commission a report of compliance with the provisions of the Order relating to its divestiture of its FAA SETA services assets within forty-five (45) days following the date the Order becomes final, and every forty-five (45) days thereafter until it has completed the required divestiture of its FAA SETA services assets. In addition, the Order also requires Lockheed Martin to provide the Commission a report of compliance with all other provisions of the Order within sixty (60) days following the date the Order becomes final, and annually for the next (10) years on the anniversary of the date the Order becomes final.

In order to preserve competition in the relevant markets during the period prior to the final acceptance of the proposed Consent Order (after the 60-day public notice period), Lockheed Martin has entered into an Interim Agreement with the Commission in which it has agreed to be bound by the proposed Consent Order as of the date the Commission accepted the proposed Consent Order subject to final approval.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comment on the proposed Consent Order, and it is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed Consent Order or to modify in any way their terms.
