47 CFR Parts 0 and 80

[CI Docket No. 95-54, 96-195]

Inspection of Great Lakes Agreement Ships

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Commission has issued a Report and Order which adopts rules to require vessel operators on the Great Lakes subject to the annual inspection requirements of the Agreement between the United States and Canada for the Promotion of Safety on the Great Lakes by Means of Radio (Great Lakes Agreement) to have the inspection performed by an FCC-licensed technicians holding an FCC General Radiotelephone Operator License, a GMDSS Radio Maintainer's License, a Second Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate, or a First Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate instead of by Commission staff. The Commission took this action to reduce economic burdens on the public and the Commission. The intended effect of these rule changes is increase the availability of competent, private sector inspectors to conduct Great Lakes Agreement inspections without adversely affecting safety and, thus, provide greater convenience for the maritime industry.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 24, 1996.

Summary of Report and Order

1. In this Report and Order, we adopt rules that require owners and operators of ships subject to the annual inspection requirements of the Agreement between the United States and Canada for the Promotion of Safety on the Great Lakes by Means of Radio (Great Lakes Agreement) to have the inspection performed by an FCC General Radiotelephone Operator License, a GMDSS Radio Maintainer's License, a Second Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate, or a First Class Radiotelegraph Operator's Certificate instead of by Commission staff. These changes will reduce economic burdens on the public and the Commission by allowing mariners to arrange for an inspection at their convenience. Because the United States is required by the Great Lakes Agreement to fully guarantee the completeness and efficiency of the inspection, we are adopting rules to require two independent certifications that the ship has passed an inspection. One certification from the inspecting technician that the vessel has passed an inspection and another certification that the vessel owner, operator, or ship's master is satisfied that the inspection was satisfactory. We have also concluded that it is important to the integrity of this ship inspection program that the inspectors be independent of the vessel owners and operators. We are, therefore, providing that the vessel's owner, operator, master, employees or their affiliates may not conduct the required inspections.

2. The Great Lakes Agreement is intended to promote safety of life and property on the Great Lakes by means of radio. It dates back to 1952 and requires, among other things, that all vessels over 20 meters (65 feet), most towing vessels, and vessels carrying more than six passengers for hire be equipped with a marine VHF radiotelephone installation. The Great Lakes Agreement requires that these installations be inspected at least once each year. The Great Lakes Agreement requires that the inspections be carried out by officers of the Contracting Governments or by either persons nominated for that purpose or organizations recognized by the Contracting Government. In other words, the Great Lakes Agreement provides specific authority allowing the United States to entrust the annual inspection to either persons or organizations other than the Commission.

3. Additionally, the Great Lakes Agreement requires that these vessels be inspected while the vessel is in active service or within one month before the date the vessel is placed in service. Because almost all vessels on the Great Lakes must be taken out of service over the winter and operators do not wish to interrupt shipping schedules after the shipping season begins, there is a very busy period in the spring when these vessels are being put back in service.

4. The Commission inspects approximately 490 vessels subject to the Great Lakes Agreement each year. Commission inspectors test the output power, frequency tolerance and availability of reserve power, and conduct an operational radio check of the radiotelephone installation during the inspection. Any failure of these critical items results in the vessel failing the annual inspection and not receiving a safety certificate until the failure is corrected. An integral part of the annual inspection is to examine the connecting transmission lines, electrical cabling and control circuitry that make up the entire radiotelephone installation to ensure that the individual components operate satisfactorily when connected together.

5. Although the inspections are relatively simple and generally take no more than an hour to complete, they are conducted to ensure that Great Lakes Agreement ships have a reliable means of distress communications in an emergency. We note, however, that improvements in the reliability of radiotelephone equipment and the industry practice of preinspection examinations have resulted in an inspection failure rate for Great Lakes Agreement vessels of only one per cent.

6. We believe in the principle that government should be responsive to user needs and began this proceeding to promote flexibility, remove unnecessary and inimical regulations and, most importantly, provide better service to the public.

Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

7. As required by Section 603 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Commission has prepared a Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis of the expected impact on small entities of the rules adopted in this Report and Order.

8. Need for and purpose of this action. The rules we adopt in this proceeding will permit the owners and operators of Great Lakes Agreement vessels to arrange for an inspection by an FCC-licensed operator instead of requiring that all inspections be conducted by FCC personnel. This change will improve the speed and convenience of service to the owners and operators of such vessels, many of which are small businesses and will conserve scarce government resources.

9. Summary of the issues raised by the public comments in response to the Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis. There were no comments submitted in response to the Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis.

10. Significant alternatives considered. We proposed limiting the inspection of subject vessels to classification societies and requested specific comments on our proposal. Commenters overwhelmingly opposed limiting the inspections solely to classification societies and suggested that we permit anyone with an FCC license to inspect the vessels.

Waiver of Bid Withdrawal Payment Provisions

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule; waiver.

SUMMARY: On March 6, 1995, Georgia Independent PCS Corporation (Georgia) filed a request for waiver of the bid withdrawal payment provisions applicable to the broadband PCS C block auction. Under the Commission's rules, the amount of the bid withdrawal payment is equal to the difference between the withdrawn bid amount and the amount of the subsequent winning bid, if the subsequent winning bid is lower. No withdrawal payment is assessed if the subsequent winning bid exceeds the withdrawn bid. The Order reduces Georgia's bid withdrawal payment to the minimum bid increment for License B-076 (Chattanooga, TN) in Round 37 of the broadband Personal Communications Services (PCS) C block auction, or $569,898.
