7 CFR Part 1205

[CN-96-002]

1996 Amendment to Cotton Board Rules and Regulations Adjusting Supplemental Assessment on Imports AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) is amending the Cotton Board Rules and Regulations by raising the value assigned to imported cotton for the purpose of calculating supplemental assessments collected for use by the Cotton Research and Promotion Program. This action is required by this regulation on an annual basis to ensure that the assessments collected on imported cotton and the cotton content of imported products remain similar to that paid on domestically produced cotton. The amended value reflects the 12-month average price received by U.S. farmers for Upland cotton for calendar year 1995.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Craig Shackelford, (202) 720-2259.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Executive Order 12866

This rule has been determined to be "not significant" for purposes of Executive Order 12866, and, therefore, has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget.

Executive Order 12778

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12778, Civil Justice Reform. It is not intended to have retroactive effect. This rule would not preempt any state or local laws, regulations, or policies, unless they present an irreconcilable conflict with this rule.

The Act provides that administrative proceedings must be exhausted before parties may file suit in court. Under Section 12 of the Act, any person subject to an order may file with the Secretary a petition stating that the order, any provision of the plan, or any obligation imposed in connection with the order is not in accordance with law and requesting a modification of the order or to be exempted therefrom. Such person is afforded the opportunity for a hearing on the petition. After the hearing, the Secretary would rule on the petition. The Act provides that the District Court of the United States in any district in which the person is an inhabitant, or has his principal place of business, has jurisdiction to review the Secretary's ruling, provided a complaint is filed within 20 days from the date of the entry of the ruling.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to requirements set forth in the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA) (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) the Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) has considered the economic impact of this action on small entities and has determined that its implementation will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small businesses.

There are an estimated 10,000 importers who are presently subject to rules and regulations issued pursuant to the Cotton Research and Promotion Order. This rule will affect importers of cotton and cotton-containing products. The majority of these importers are small businesses under the criteria established by the Small Business Administration (13 CFR § 121.601). This rule will raise the assessments paid by the importers under the Cotton Research and Promotion Order. Even though the assessment will be raised, the increase is small and will not significantly affect small businesses.

The current assessment on imported cotton is $0.011938 per kilogram of imported cotton. The amended assessment is $0.012874, an increase of $0.000936 per kilogram or approximately seven percent. From January through December of 1995 approximately $15,208,000 in assessments were collected at the $0.011938 per kilogram of cotton rate.

Should cotton products be imported at the same level in 1996, one could expect the increase in the assessment on imported cotton to generate $16,272,560 or a seven percent increase over 1995. Historical data on importation of cotton products suggest that some increase in the amount of cotton products imported into the U.S. may be expected in 1996; however, this amount is undetermined.

In 1995 the largest 50 importers subject to assessments under this section paid a total of approximately $4,589,000 in assessments. During the same period the smallest 50 importers paid approximately $204 in assessments. The largest 50 importers paid an average of $91,779 in assessments during 1995 within a range from $374,004 to $38,728. The smallest 50 importers paid average total assessments for 1995 of $3.84 within a range from $10.20 to $2.10. While larger businesses paid substantially larger total assessments than smaller businesses, the rate of assessment per kilogram of imported cotton was the same for both larger and smaller sized businesses. In addition both larger and smaller importers are able to take advantage of the U.S. Customs Service Automated Collection System to pay assessments. In this way administrative burdens are not disproportionate for smaller businesses compared to larger businesses.

Paperwork Reduction

In compliance with Office of Management and Budget (OMB) regulations (5 CFR Part 1320) which implement the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.) the information collection requirements contained in the regulation to be amended have been previously approved by OMB and were assigned control number 0581-0093.

Background

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act Amendments of 1990 enacted by Congress under Subtitle G of Title XIX of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990 on November 28, 1990, contained two provisions that authorized changes in the funding procedures for the Cotton Research and Promotion Program.

These provisions are: (1) The assessment of imported cotton and cotton products; and (2) termination of the right of cotton producers to demand a refund of assessments.

An amended Cotton Research and Promotion Order was approved by producers and importers voting in a referendum held July 17–26, 1991. Proposed rules implementing the amended Order were published in the Federal Register on December 17, 1991, (56 FR 65450). The final implementing rules were published on July 1 and 2, 1992, (57 FR 29181) and (57 FR 29431), respectively.

A proposed rule seeking comments regarding the adjustments of the value of imported cotton was published in the Federal Register on March 22, 1996 (61 FR 11764–11776). No comments were received during the comment period (March 22, 1996–April 22, 1996).

This final rule will increase the value assigned to imported cotton in the Cotton Board Rules and Regulations 7 CFR 1205.510(b)(2). This value is used to calculate supplemental assessments on imported cotton and the cotton content of imported products. Supplemental assessments are the second part of a two-part assessment. The first part of the assessment is levied on the weight of cotton produced or imported at a rate of $1 per bale of cotton which is equivalent to 500 pounds or $1 per 226.8 kilograms of cotton.

Supplemental assessments are levied at a rate of five-tenths of one percent of the value of domestically produced cotton, imported cotton, and the cotton content of imported products. The agency adopted the use of the calendar year average price received by U.S. farmers for Upland cotton as a benchmark for the value of domestically produced cotton. The source for this statistic is "Agricultural Prices", a publication of the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) of the Department of Agriculture. Use of the average price figure in the calculation of supplemental assessments on imported cotton and the cotton content of imported products yields an assessment that approximates assessments paid on domestically produced cotton.

The current value of imported cotton as published in the Federal Register (60 FR 36033) on July 13, 1995 for the purpose of calculating supplemental assessments on imported cotton is $1.5057 per kilogram. This number was calculated using the annual average price received by farmers for Upland cotton during the calendar year 1994 which was $0.683 per pound. Using the Average Price Received by U.S. farmers for Upland cotton for the calendar year 1995, which is $0.768 per pound, the new value of imported cotton will be

$1.6931 per kilogram. The amended value is $0.1874 per kilogram greater than the previous value.

An example of the assessment formula and how the various figures are obtained is as follows:

One bale is equal to 500 pounds.
One kilogram equals 2.2046 pounds.
One pound equals 0.453597 kilograms.

One dollar per bale assessment converted to kilograms A 500 pound bale equals 226.8 kg. (500×.453597) $1 per bale assessment equals $0.002000 per pound (1÷500) or $0.004409 per kg. (1÷226.8)

Supplemental assessment of 5/10 of one percent of the value of the cotton converted to kilograms. Average price received $0.768 per pound or $1.6931 per kg. (0.768×2.2046) = 1.6931.

5/10 of one percent of the average price in kg. equals $0.008465 per kg. (1.6931×.005)

The total assessment per kilogram of raw cotton is obtained by adding the $1 per bale equivalent assessment of $0.004409 per kg. and the supplemental assessment $0.008465 per kg. which equals $0.012874 per kg.

The current assessment on imported cotton is $0.011938 per kilogram of imported cotton. The amended assessment is $0.012874, an increase of $0.000936 per kilogram. This increase reflects the increase in the Average Price of Upland Cotton Received by U.S. Farmers during the period January through December 1995.

Since the value of cotton is the basis of the supplemental assessment calculation and the figures shown in the right hand column of the Import Assessment Table 1205.510(b)(3) are a result of such a calculation, these figures have been revised. These figures indicate the total assessment per kilogram due for each Harmonized Tariff Schedule (HTS) number subject to assessment.

As a result of changes in the Harmonized Tariff Schedule, numbering revisions to the Import Assessment Table used in the Cotton Research and Promotion program were necessary. These changes are as follows:

Two other changes have been made to lessen the administrative burden for importers. The first simplifies the process to determine if the minimum value of cotton has been imported to warrant payment of the assessment. The second lengthens the amount of time that an exemption certificate remains valid.

The Cotton Research and Promotion Act Amendments of 1990 provided for the establishment of a de minimis (a minimum) volume or value of imported cotton under which no assessment would be paid. Section 1205.510(b)(3)(I) provides that any cotton imported in which the value of the cotton is less than $220.99 shall not be subject to the assessment. When the de minimis value was first implemented in 1992, the 220.99 equaled $2.00 in cotton assessment. The U.S. Customs Service does not collect assessments of $2.00 or less. Each subsequent year, with the adjustment of the assessment on imported cotton, the amount of assessment due on cotton has increased or decreased in relation to the change in the minimum import assessment fee of $2.00.

The agency amends the de minimis value of cotton to a fluctuating value that will always yield an assessment of $2.00. Section 1205.510(b)(6)(I) provides for an importer to claim an exemption from the assessment under specific conditions. The exemption is valid for 120 days. This amendment will lengthen that period so that exemption certificates issued by the Cotton Board will be valid for 1 year from the date of issue.

List of Subjects in 7 CFR Part 1205

Advertising, Agricultural research, Cotton, Marketing agreements, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 7 CFR Part 1205 is amended as follows:

PART 1205—COTTON RESEARCH AND PROMOTION

1. The authority citation for Part 1205 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 7 U.S.C. 2101–2118.

2. In § 1205.510 paragraphs (b) (2) and (3) are revised to read as follows:

§ 1205.510 Levy of assessments.

(b) (2) The 12-month average of monthly average prices received by U.S. farmers will be calculated annually. Such average will be used as the value of imported cotton for the purpose of levying the supplemental assessment on imported cotton and will be expressed in kilograms. The value of imported cotton for the purpose of levying this supplemental assessment is $1.6931 per kilogram.

(i) Any line item entry of cotton appearing on Customs entry documentation in which the value of the cotton contained therein results in the calculation of an assessment of two dollars ($2.00) or less will not be subject to assessments as described in this section.

(ii) In the event that any HTS number subject to assessment is changed and such change is merely a replacement of a previous number and has no impact on the physical properties, description, or cotton content of the product involved, assessments will continue to be collected based on the new number.

Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service

[Docket No. 95-012-2]

Viruses, Serums, Toxins, and Analogous Products; Rabies Vaccine, Killed Virus and Rabies Vaccine, Live Virus

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: We are amending the standard requirements for establishing the immunogenicity of Rabies Vaccine, Killed Virus and Rabies Vaccine, Live Virus. The amendment changes and clarifies alternate test procedures which may be used in animals other than carnivores. Under the rule, when a reduced number of challenge animals is used in a rabies immunogenicity test, all vaccinates must survive challenge. If one or more of the challenged vaccinates die of rabies, all of the remainder of the vaccinates will have to be challenged or the test will be deemed unsatisfactory and terminated.

This action corrects a problem associated with rabies immunogenicity tests in the regulations and makes other changes deemed necessary for clarity and consistency.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. David A. Espeseth, Deputy Director, Veterinary Biologics, BBEP, APHIS, USDA, 4700 River Road Unit 148, Riverdale, MD 20737-1237, (301) 734-8245.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The regulations in 9 CFR part 113 pertain to standard requirements for the preparation of veterinary biological products. A standard requirement consists of test methods, procedures, and criteria established by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) to determine that a veterinary biological product is pure, safe, potent, and efficacious and not worthless, dangerous, contaminated, or harmful.

The standard requirements for Rabies Vaccine, Killed Virus, and for Rabies Vaccine, Live Virus, appear in §§ 113.209 and 113.312, respectively. Sections 113.209(b)(4) and 113.312(b)(4) provide for an alternative immunogenicity test, for domestic species other than dogs and cats, that reduces the number of animals that must be challenged.

On November 16, 1995, we published in the Federal Register (60 FR 57549-57550, Docket No. 95-012-1) a proposed rule to amend the standard requirements for Rabies Vaccine, Killed Virus and Rabies Vaccine, Live Virus. The amendments specify: (1) that for an immunogenicity study in non-carnivores to be satisfactory, all animals must survive challenge when less than 25 vaccinates are challenged, and (2) that a reduced number of challenge animals may only be used for non-carnivores. The rule more clearly defines which animals must be challenged when a reduced number of vaccinates is used.

We solicited comments for a 60-day comment period ending January 16, 1996. One comment was received by that date. The comment was from a licensed manufacturer of veterinary biological products. The comment addressed which animals should be challenged and the percent survival required for a reduced challenge. The commenter recommended that less than 100 percent survival be acceptable for a reduced challenge. The commenter requested that this be accomplished through a wording change to the rule.

In response to the commenter, APHIS believes that when the number of challenged animals is reduced, survival of less than 100 percent of the animals of the lowest titer would not provide adequate assurance that animals of higher titer would be protected against challenge. Because of this, no change to the regulations is made in response to this comment.

Therefore, based on the rationale set forth in the proposed rule and in this document, we are adopting the provisions of the proposal as a final rule without change.

Executive Order 12866 and Regulatory Flexibility Act

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12866. The rule has been determined to be not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866 and, therefore, has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget.

This rule amending §§ 113.209 and 113.312 is necessary to clarify the regulations regarding the rabies immunogenicity test. The amendment clarifies which animals are to be challenged in a reduced immunogenicity study and the procedures to follow when one or more of the vaccinates die of rabies. The amendment requires that additional vaccinates be challenged if one of the low titer vaccinates succumbs to rabies. In 7 of the last 10 rabies challenge tests of non-carnivores, firms elected to challenge 25 or more animals. In the remaining three cases in which a reduced number of animals were challenged in accordance with current § 113.209 or § 113.312, paragraph (b)(4), no additional animals were challenged and no additional animals would have been challenged under the amendment. The amendment, therefore, will have minimal economic effect.

Under these circumstances, the Administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service has determined that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Executive Order 12372

This program/activity is listed in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance under No. 10.025 and is subject to Executive Order 12372, which requires intergovernmental consultation with State and local officials. (See 7 CFR part 3015, subpart V.)

Executive Order 12778

This rule has been reviewed under Executive Order 12778, Civil Justice Reform. It is not intended to have retroactive effect. This rule would not preempt any State or local laws, regulations, or policies, unless they present an irreconcilable conflict with this rule. There are no administrative procedures which must be exhausted prior to a judicial challenge to the provisions of this rule.

BILLING CODE 6715-01-MDEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION*Federal Aviation Administration*14 CFR Part 39

RIN 2120-AA64Airworthiness Directives; Fokker Model F28 Series Airplanes (Excluding Model F28 Mark 0100 Series Airplanes)*AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration, DOT.ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to certain Fokker Model F28 series airplanes, that requires a one-time detailed visual inspection to detect cracking of the elevator gust lock housing and the gust lock support structure, and repair or replacement of cracked parts. This amendment is prompted by a report of failure of an elevator gust lock housing due to fatigue cracking. The actions specified by this AD are intended to prevent fatigue cracking of the elevator gust lock housing and the gust lock support structure, which could result in loss of the elevator and the support structure, and possible consequent loss of primary pitch control.

The incorporation by reference of certain publications listed in the regulations is approved by the Director of the Federal Register as of July 26, 1996.

ADDRESSES: The service information referenced in this AD may be obtained from Fokker Aircraft USA, Inc., 1199 North Fairfax Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314. This information may be examined at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Transport Airplane Directorate, Rules Docket, 1601 Lind Avenue, SW., Renton, Washington; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW., suite 700, Washington, DC.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Connie Beane, Aerospace Engineer, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Transport Airplane Directorate, 1601 Lind Avenue, SW., Renton, Washington 98055-4056; telephone (206) 227-2796; fax (206) 227-1149.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 39) to include an airworthiness directive (AD) that is applicable to certain Fokker Model F28 series airplanes was published in the Federal Register on April 1, 1996 (61 FR 14275). That action proposed to require a one-time detailed visual inspection to detect cracking of the elevator gust lock housing and the gust lock support structure, and repair or replacement of cracked parts with new or serviceable parts. For airplanes on which cracking is found, that action also prohibited use of the gust lock system until cracked parts were replaced.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment. Due consideration has been given to the two comments received.

Support for the Proposal

Both commenters support the proposed rule.

Conclusion

After careful review of the available data, including the comments noted above, the FAA has determined that air safety and the public interest require the adoption of the rule as proposed.

Cost Impact

The FAA estimates that 43 airplanes of U.S. registry will be affected by this AD, that it will take approximately 2 work hours per airplane to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor rate is $60 per work hour. Based on these figures, the cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $5,160, or $120 per airplane.

The cost impact figure discussed above is based on assumptions that no operator has yet accomplished any of the requirements of this AD action, and that no operator would accomplish those actions in the future if this AD were not adopted.

Regulatory Impact

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this action (1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, February 26, 1979); and (3) will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A final evaluation has been prepared for this action and it is contained in the Rules Docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket at the location provided under the caption ADDRESSES.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration amends part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 39) as follows:

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113, 44701.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Applicability: Model F28 series airplanes; serial numbers 11003 through 11241 inclusive, 11991, and 11992; certificated in any category.

Note 1: Fokker Model F28 Mark 0100 series airplanes are not subject to the requirements of this AD.

Note 2: This AD applies to each airplane identified in the preceding applicability provision, regardless of whether it has been modified, altered, or repaired in the area subject to the requirements of this AD. For airplanes that have been modified, altered, or repaired so that the performance of the requirements of this AD is affected, the owner/operator must request approval for an alternative method of compliance in accordance with paragraph (c) of this AD. The request should include an assessment of the effect of the modification, alteration, or repair on the unsafe condition addressed by this AD; and, if the unsafe condition has not been eliminated, the request should include specific proposed actions to address it.

Compliance: Required as indicated, unless accomplished previously.

To prevent fatigue cracking of the elevator gust lock housing and the gust lock support structure, which could result in loss of the elevator and the support structure, and subsequent possible loss of primary pitch control, accomplish the following:

(a) Within 30 days after the effective date of this AD, perform a one-time detailed visual inspection to detect cracking of the elevator gust lock housing and the gust lock support structure, in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-30, Revision 1, dated January 4, 1993.

(b) If any cracking is found, prior to further flight, repair or replace the cracked elevator gust lock housing or gust lock support structure with a new or serviceable part in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-30, Revision 1, dated January 4, 1993. Use of the elevator gust lock system is prohibited until cracked parts are replaced with new or serviceable parts.

(c) An alternative method of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time that provides an acceptable level of safety may be used if approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Transport Airplane Directorate. Operators shall submit their requests through an appropriate FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector, who may add comments and then send it to the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

Note 3: Information concerning the existence of approved alternative methods of compliance with this AD, if any, may be obtained from the Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

(d) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with sections 21.197 and 21.199 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 21.197 and 21.199) to operate the airplane to a location where the requirements of this AD can be accomplished.

(e) The inspection, repair, and replacement shall be done in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-30, Revision 1, dated January 4, 1993, which contains the following list of effective pages:

Airworthiness Directives; Fokker Model F28 Series Airplanes (Excluding Fokker Model F28 Mark 0100 Series Airplanes)

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD), applicable to certain Fokker Model F28 series airplanes, that requires replacement of junction fittings of the horizontal stabilizer with improved fittings. For certain airplanes, this amendment also requires replacement of the drive-fitting bushings and bolts of the horizontal stabilizer with improved bushings and bolts. This amendment is prompted by reports of stress corrosion cracking in a junction fitting lug of the horizontal stabilizer. The actions specified by this AD are intended to prevent such cracking, which could result in failure of a lug and uncommanded movement of the horizontal stabilizer. This condition, if not corrected, could result in reduced controllability of the airplane.

DATES: Effective July 26, 1996.

The incorporation by reference of certain publications listed in the regulations is approved by the Director of the Federal Register as of July 26, 1996.

ADDRESSES: The service information referenced in this AD may be obtained from Fokker Aircraft USA, Inc., 1199 North Fairfax Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314. This information may be examined at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), Transport Airplane Directorate, Rules Docket, 1601 Lind Avenue, SW., Renton, Washington; or at the Office of the Federal Register, 800 North Capitol Street, NW., suite 700, Washington, DC.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Tim Dulin, Aerospace Engineer, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Transport Airplane Directorate, 1601 Lind Avenue, SW., Renton, Washington 98055-4056; telephone (206) 227-2141; fax (206) 227-1149.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 39) to include an airworthiness directive (AD) that is applicable to certain Fokker Model F28 series airplanes was published in the Federal Register on April 1, 1996 (61 FR 14273). That action proposed to require replacement of aluminum 7079 junction fittings (left and right) of the horizontal stabilizer with improved fittings made from aluminum 7075. For certain airplanes, that action also proposed to require replacement of the drive-fitting bushings and bolts of the horizontal stabilizer with new bushings and bolts made from a different material having improved resistance to corrosion.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment. Due consideration has been given to the two comments received.

Support for the Proposal

Both commenters support the proposed rule.

Conclusion

After careful review of the available data, including the comments noted above, the FAA has determined that air safety and the public interest require the adoption of the rule as proposed.

Cost Impact

The FAA estimates that 14 airplanes of U.S. registry will be affected by this AD.

For airplanes on which the replacement of aluminum 7079 junction fittings with improved fittings is required, the FAA estimates that it will take approximately 430 work hours per airplane to accomplish the replacement, at an average labor rate of $60 per work hour. Required parts will cost approximately $40,000 per airplane. Based on these figures, the cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators for replacement of aluminum 7079 fittings is estimated to be $65,800 per airplane.

For airplanes on which replacement of the drive-fitting bushings and bolts on the horizontal stabilizer with new bushings and bolts is required, the FAA estimates that it will take approximately 10 work hours per airplane to accomplish the replacement, at an average labor rate of $60 per work hour. Required parts will cost approximately $2,100 per airplane. Based on these figures, the cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators for replacement of the drive-fitting bushings and bolts is estimated to be $2,700 per airplane.

The cost impact figures discussed above are based on assumptions that no operator has yet accomplished any of the requirements of this AD action, and that no operator would accomplish those actions in the future if this AD were not adopted.

Regulatory Impact

The regulations adopted herein will not have substantial direct effects on the States, on the relationship between the national government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 12612, it is determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

For the reasons discussed above, I certify that this action (1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034, February 26, 1979); and (3) will not have a significant economic impact, positive or negative, on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act. A final evaluation has been prepared for this action and it is contained in the Rules Docket. A copy of it may be obtained from the Rules Docket at the location provided under the caption ADDRESSES.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, the Federal Aviation Administration amends part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 39) as follows:

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

1. The authority citation for part 39 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 106(g), 40113, 44701.

§ 39.13 [Amended]

2. Section 39.13 is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

Applicability: Model F28 series airplanes; serial numbers 11003 through 11151 inclusive, 11991, and 11992; certificated in any category.

Note 1: Fokker Model F28 Mark 0100 series airplanes are not subject to the requirements of this AD.

Note 2: This AD applies to each airplane identified in the preceding applicability provision, regardless of whether it has been modified, altered, or repaired in the area

subject to the requirements of this AD. For airplanes that have been modified, altered, or repaired so that the performance of the requirements of this AD is affected, the owner/operator must request approval for an alternative method of compliance in accordance with paragraph (d) of this AD. The request should include an assessment of the effect of the modification, alteration, or repair on the unsafe condition addressed by this AD; and, if the unsafe condition has not been eliminated, the request should include specific proposed actions to address it.

Compliance: Required as indicated, unless accomplished previously.

To prevent stress corrosion cracking of the junction fitting lug of the horizontal stabilizer, which could result in failure of the lug and uncommanded movement of the horizontal stabilizer, and subsequent reduced controllability of the airplane, accomplish the following:

(a) Within 18 months after the effective date of this AD, replace the aluminum 7079 junction fittings (left and right) of the horizontal stabilizer with improved fittings made from aluminum 7075, in accordance with Part 1 of the Accomplishment Instructions of Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-029, Revision 1, dated January 23, 1993.

(b) For airplanes on which the drive-fitting bushings and bolts of the horizontal stabilizer have not been replaced in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-24: Within 18 months after the effective date of this AD, replace the drive-fitting bushings and bolts of the horizontal stabilizer with new bushings and bolts, in accordance with Part 2 of the Accomplishment Instructions of Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-029, Revision 1, dated January 23, 1993.

(c) Accomplishment of the replacements required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this AD constitute terminating action for the inspections identified as item 55-50-05 in the Fokker Structural Integrity Program (SIP) Document 28438, Part 1, revised up through October 15, 1992, which are required by AD 93-13-04, amendment 39-8617 (58 FR 38513, July 19, 1993). Once these replacements are accomplished, the life limits of the fitting lugs (identified as items 55-50-01 and 55-50-02 in the SIP Document) no longer apply.

(d) An alternative method of compliance or adjustment of the compliance time that provides an acceptable level of safety may be used if approved by the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113, FAA, Transport Airplane Directorate. Operators shall submit their requests through an appropriate FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector, who may add comments and then send it to the Manager, Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

Note 3: Information concerning the existence of approved alternative methods of compliance with this AD, if any, may be obtained from the Standardization Branch, ANM-113.

(e) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with sections 21.197 and 21.199 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 21.197 and 21.199) to operate the airplane to a location where the requirements of this AD can be accomplished.

(f) The replacements shall be done in accordance with Fokker Service Bulletin F28/55-029, Revision 1, dated January 23, 1993, which contains the following list of effective pages:

Standard Instrument Approach Procedures; Miscellaneous Amendments

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs) for operations at certain airports. These regulatory actions are needed because of the adoption of new or revised criteria, or because of changes occurring in the National Airspace System, such as the commissioning of new navigational facilities, addition of new obstacles, or changes in air traffic requirements. These changes are designed to provide safe and efficient use of the navigable airspace and to promote safe flight operations under instrument flight rules at the affected airports.

DATES: An effective date for each SIAP is specified in the amendatory provisions.

Incorporation by reference approved by the Director of the Federal Register on December 31, 1980, and reapproved as of January 1, 1982.

ADDRESSES: Availability of matters incorporated by reference in the amendment is as follows:

For Examination

1. FAA Rules Docket, FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591;

2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located; or

3. The Flight Inspection Area Office which originated the SIAP.

For Purchase

Individual SIAP copies may be obtained from:

1. FAA Public Inquiry Center (APA-200), FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591; or

2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located.

By Subscription

Copies of all SIAPs, mailed once every 2 weeks, are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul J. Best, Flight Procedures Standards Branch (AFS-420), Technical Programs Division, Flight Standards Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591; telephone (202) 267-8277.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment to part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 97) establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs). The complete regulatory description of each SIAP is contained in official FAA form documents which are incorporated by reference in this amendment under 5 U.S.C. 552(a), 1 CFR part 51, and § 97.20 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR). The applicable FAA Forms are identified as FAA Forms 8260-3, 8260-4, and 8260-5. Materials incorporated by reference are available for examination or purchase as stated above.

The large number of SIAPs, their complex nature, and the need for a special format make their verbatim publication in the Federal Register expensive and impractical. Further, airmen do not use the regulatory text of the SIAPs, but refer to their graphic depiction on charts printed by publishers of aeronautical materials. Thus, the advantages of incorporation by reference are realized and publication of the complete description of each SIAP contained in FAA form documents is unnecessary. The provisions of this amendment state the affected CFR (and FAR) sections, with the types and effective dates of the SIAPs. This amendment also identifies the airport, its location, the procedure identification and the amendment number.

The Rule

This amendment to part 97 is effective upon publication of each separate SIAP as contained in the transmittal. Some SIAP amendments may have been previously issued by the FAA in a National Flight Data Center (FDC) Notice to Airmen (NOTAM) as an emergency action of immediate flight safety relating directly to published aeronautical charts. The circumstances which created the need for some SIAP amendments may require making them effective in less than 30 days. For the remaining SIAPs, an effective date at least 30 days after publication is provided.

Further, the SIAPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the U.S. Standard for Terminal Instrument Approach Procedures (TERPS). In developing these SIAPs, the TERPS criteria were applied to the conditions existing or anticipated at the affected airports. Because of the close and immediate relationship between these SIAPs and safety in air commerce, I find that notice and public procedure before adopting these SIAPs are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, where applicable, that good cause exists for making some SIAPs effective in less than 30 days.

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore—(1) is not a "significant regulatory action" under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. For the same reason, the FAA certifies that this amendment will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment to part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 97) establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs). The complete regulatory description on each SIAP is contained in the appropriate FAA Form 8260 and the National Flight Data Center (FDC)/Permanent (P) Notices to Airmen (NOTAM) which are incorporated by reference in the amendment under 5 U.S.C. 552(a), 1 CFR part 51, and § 97.20 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR). Materials incorporated by reference are available for examination or purchase as stated above.

The large number of SIAPs, their complex nature, and the need for a special format make their verbatim publication in the Federal Register expensive and impractical. The provisions of this amendment state the affected CFR (and FAR) sections, with the types and effective dates of the SIAPs. This amendment also identifies the airport, its location, the procedure identification and the amendment number.

part 97) establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes SIAPs. For safety and timeliness of change considerations, this amendment incorporates only specific changes contained in the content of the following FDC/P NOTAM for each SIAP. The SIAP information in some previously designated FDC/Temporary (FDC/T) NOTAMs is of such duration as to be permanent. With conversion to FDC/P NOTAMs, the respective FDC/P NOTAMs have been cancelled.

The FDC/P NOTAMs for the SIAPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the U.S. Standard for Terminal Instrument Approach Procedures (TERPS). In developing these chart changes to SIAPs by FDC/P NOTAMs, the TERPS criteria were applied to only these specific conditions existing at the affected airports. All SIAP amendments in this rule have been previously issued by the FAA in a National Flight Data Center (FDC) Notice to Airmen (NOTAM) as an emergency action of immediate flight safety relating directly to published aeronautical charts. The circumstances which created the need for all these SIAP amendments requires making them effective in less than 30 days.

Further, the SIAPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the TERPS. Because of the close and immediate relationship between these SIAPs and safety in air commerce, I find that notice and public procedure before adopting these SIAPs are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, where applicable, that good cause exists for making these SIAPs effective in less than 30 days.

Conclusion

The FAA has determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore—(1) is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. For the same reason, the FAA certifies that this amendment will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

BILLING CODE 4910-13-M

14 CFR Part 97

[Docket No. 28602; Amdt. No. 1736]

Standard Instrument Approach Procedures; Miscellaneous Amendments

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs) for operations at certain airports. These regulatory actions are needed because of the adoption of new or revised criteria, or because of changes occurring in the National Airspace System, such as the commissioning of new navigational facilities, addition of new obstacles, or changes in air traffic requirements. These changes are designed to provide safe and efficient use of the navigable airspace and to promote safe flight operations under instrument flight rules at the affected airports.

Incorporation by reference-approved by the Director of the Federal Register on December 31, 1980, and reapproved as of January 1, 1982.

ADDRESSES: Availability of matters incorporated by reference in the amendment is as follows:

For Examination

1. FAA Rules Docket, FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington DC 20591;
2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located; or
3. The Flight Inspection Area Office which originated the SIAP.

For Purchase

Individual SIAP copies may be obtained from:

1. FAA Public Inquiry Center (APA-200), FAA Headquarters Building, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591; or
2. The FAA Regional Office of the region in which the affected airport is located.

By Subscription

Copies of all SIAPs, mailed once every 2 weeks, are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Paul J. Best, Flight Procedures Standards Branch (AFS-420), Technical Programs Division, Flight Standards Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20591; telephone (202) 267-8277.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment to part 97 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR part 97) establishes, amends, suspends, or revokes Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs). The complete regulatory description of each SIAP is contained in official FAA form documents which are incorporated by reference in this amendment under 5 U.S.C. 552(a), 1 CFR part 51, and § 97.20 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR). The applicable FAA forms are identified as FAA Form 8260-5. Materials incorporated by reference are available for examination or purchase as stated above.

The large number of SIAPs, their complex nature, and the need for a special format make their verbatim publication in the Federal Register expensive and impractical. Further, airmen do not use the regulatory text of the SIAPs, but refer to their graphic depiction on charts printed by publishers of aeronautical materials. Thus, the advantages of incorporation by reference are realized and publication of the complete description of each SIAP contained in FAA form documents is unnecessary. The provisions of this amendment state the affected CFR (and FAR) sections, with the types and effective dates of the SIAPs. This amendment also identifies the airport, its location, the procedure identification and the amendment number.

This amendment to part 97 is effective upon publication of each separate SIAP as contained in the transmittal. The SIAPs contained in this amendment are based on the criteria contained in the United States Standard for Terminal Instrument Approach Procedures (TERPS). In developing these SIAPs, the TERPS criteria were applied to the conditions existing or anticipated at the affected airports.

The FAA has determined through testing that current non-localizer type, non-precision instrument approaches developed using the TERPS criteria can be flown by aircraft equipped with Global Positioning System (GPS) equipment. In consideration of the above, the applicable Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAPs) will be altered to include "or GPS" in the title without otherwise reviewing or modifying the procedure. (Once a stand alone GPS procedure is developed, the procedure title will be altered to remove "or GPS" from these non-localizer, non-precision instrument approach procedure titles.) Because of the close and immediate relationship between these SIAPs and safety in air commerce, I find that notice and public procedure before adopting these SIAPs are, impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, where applicable, that good cause exists for making some SIAPs effective in less than 30 days.

The FAA determined that this regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore—(1) is not a “significant regulatory action” under Executive Order 12866; (2) is not a “significant rule” under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. For the same reason, the FAA certifies that this amendment will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

[MI43-03-7258; FRL-5525-4]

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans and Designation of Areas for Air Quality Planning Purposes; State of Michigan

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: On April 2, 1996 the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) published a proposal to approve the redesignation to attainment and associated section 175A maintenance plan for the ozone National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for the two-county Grand Rapids, Michigan area as a State Implementation Plan (SIP) revision. The 30-day comment period concluded on May 2, 1996. A total of 1 comment letter was received in response to the April 2, 1996 proposal. On May 1, 1996, the EPA published a 14-day partial extension of the comment period on the redesignation request and section 175A maintenance plan, limited to the State's April 11, 1996 revision to the section 175A maintenance plan which was not available in EPA's docket prior to April 15, 1996. The reopened comment period concluded on May 16, 1996. One additional comment letter was received in response to the May 1, 1996, extension of public comment period. This final rule summarizes all comments and EPA's responses, and finalizes the approval of the redesignation to attainment for ozone and associated section 175A maintenance plan for the Grand Rapids area.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This action will be effective June 21, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the SIP revisions, public comments and EPA's responses are available for inspection at the following address: (It is recommended that you telephone Jacqueline Nwia at (312) 886-6081 before visiting the Region 5 Office.) SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background Information

The redesignation request and maintenance plan for the Grand Rapids and Muskegon moderate ozone nonattainment areas discussed in this rule were submitted on March 9, 1995 and May 1, 1995 (with a revision on April 11, 1996), by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ). However, the April 2, 1996 proposal and this final rule address only the Grand Rapids area, which consists of Kent and Ottawa Counties. On April 2, 1996, (61 FR 14522) the EPA published a proposal to approve the redesignation request and associated section 175A maintenance plan as a revision to the Michigan ozone SIP. On May 1, 1996 (61 FR 19233), the EPA published a partial 14-day extension of the comment period on the redesignation request and section 175A maintenance plan, limited to the State's April 11, 1996 revision to the section 175A maintenance plan, which was not available in EPA's docket prior to April 15, 1996. The reopened comment period concluded on May 16, 1996. Adverse comments were received regarding the proposed rule. The final rule contained in this Federal Register addresses the comments which were received during the public comment periods and announces EPA's final action regarding the redesignation and section 175A maintenance plan for the Grand Rapids area. A more detailed discussion in response to each comment is contained in the EPA's Technical Support Document (TSD), dated XXX, 1995 from Jacqueline Nwia to the Docket, entitled "Response to Comments on the April 2, 1996 Proposal to Approve the Redesignation to Attainment for Ozone and Section 175A Maintenance Plan for the Grand Rapids Area," which is available from the Region 5 office listed above.

II. Public Comments and EPA Responses and Final Rulemaking Actions

The following discussion summarizes and responds to the comments received regarding the redesignation of the Grand Rapids area to attainment for ozone.

Comment: The commentor requested additional time to review and provide comments on the proposed redesignation because: the proposal was contingent on Michigan's submittal of a revision to the section 175A maintenance plan which was not available for public review until April 15, 1996; the proposed action concerns the public health of many of the requestor's members; and the proposed action incorporates new guidance and policy which have broad implications throughout the Lake Michigan basin and beyond. The commentor requested a minimum of 30 days beyond the date of Michigan's most recent submittal or May 15, 1996.

Response: EPA extended the public comment period only for those portions of the redesignation and section 175A maintenance plan pertaining to Michigan's April 11, 1996 maintenance plan SIP that did not become available in EPA's docket until April 15, 1996. The 14-day extension concluded on May 16, 1996. The EPA believes this provides the commentor with an adequate opportunity to review and submit comments on the subject of this rulemaking action.

Comment: The commentor notes that the proposed redesignation violates the specific and general intent of Congress in specifying requirements for redesignation. The commentor elaborates by stating that the proposed approval violates redesignation requirements of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (Act) by lowering the threshold for redesignation of these areas by reinterpretation of longstanding redesignation guidance and granting of waivers and exemptions of applicable statutory requirements. The waivers granted to the Grand Rapids area include: waiver from adoption of volatile organic compounds (VOC) reasonably available control technology

Response: At the outset, EPA rejects the contention that its actions violate the redesignation requirements of the Act. The EPA has not granted the Grand Rapids area "waivers," or "exemptions" from, nor reinterpreted longstanding guidance pertaining to, RFP requirements or conformity. The EPA did propose an exception to current policy regarding the need to adopt certain VOC RACT rules prior to redesignation and applied the October 14, 1994 memorandum from Mary Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation entitled "Part D New Source Review (part D NSR) Requirements for Areas Requesting Redesignation to Attainment,"¹ regarding the requirements for part D NSR.

With respect to the RFP requirement, on July 20, 1995, the EPA made a determination regarding the applicability of certain RFP and attainment demonstration requirements. This final rule determined that since the Grand Rapids area had demonstrated attainment of the ozone standard, a factual determination based on 3 years of complete quality assured monitoring data, certain provisions of the Act, whose explicit purpose is to achieve attainment of the standard, do not require SIP revisions to be made by the State for so long as the area continues to attain the standard. Those provisions include RFP, the section 172(c)(9) contingency measures and attainment demonstration. The EPA believes it is reasonable to interpret provisions regarding RFP and attainment demonstrations, along with certain other related provisions, so as not to require SIP submissions if an ozone nonattainment area subject to those requirements is monitoring attainment of the ozone standard (i.e., attainment of the NAAQS demonstrated with three consecutive years of complete, quality-assured, air quality monitoring data). As explained in a memorandum from John S. Seitz, Director, Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards, entitled "RFP, Attainment Demonstration, and Related Requirements for Ozone Nonattainment Areas Meeting the Ozone National Ambient Air Quality Standard," dated May 10, 1995,² EPA believes it is appropriate to interpret the more specific RFP, attainment demonstration and related provisions of subpart 2 in the same manner as EPA had previously interpreted the general provisions of subpart 1 of part D of Title I (sections 171 and 172).

EPA has explained at length in other notices, including the July 20, 1995 determination of attainment regarding the Grand Rapids area (60 FR 37366), its rationale for the reasonableness of that interpretation of the Act and incorporates those explanations by reference here. See Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans and Designation of Areas for Air Quality Planning Purposes; Ohio, 61 FR 20458 (May 7, 1996); Determination of Attainment of Ozone Standard for Salt Lake and Davis Counties, Utah, 60 FR 36723 (July 18, 1995). EPA emphasizes that it has not suspended or granted the Grand Rapids area an exemption from any applicable requirements. Rather, EPA has interpreted the requirements of sections 182(b)(1)(A)(I) and 172(c)(9) as not being applicable once an area has attained the standard, as long as it continues to do so. This is not a waiver of requirements that by their terms clearly apply; it is a determination that certain requirements are written so as to be operative only if the area is not attaining the standard.

The May 1995 Seitz memorandum was clear about the consequences of the policy for redesignations. First, it made plain that a determination of attainment is not tantamount to a redesignation of an area to attainment. Attainment is only one of the criteria set forth in section 107(d)(3)(E). To be redesignated, the State must satisfy all of the criteria of section 107(d)(3)(E), including the requirement of a demonstration that the improvement in the area's air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions, and the requirements that the area have a fully-approved SIP which meets all of the applicable section 110 and part D requirements, and a fully approved maintenance plan.

Upon a determination of attainment, however, the section 182(b)(1)(A)(I) requirements of RFP and attainment plans, and the section 172(c)(9) requirement of contingency plans are no longer considered applicable requirements under section 107(d)(3)(E). They would no longer be included among those measures whose approval is part of the requirement of having a fully approved SIP.

EPA is not diluting the redesignation requirements of section 107(d). What EPA has done is make a determination that since the area is attaining the standard, which is a factual determination, certain provisions of the

² Hereinafter referred to as "May 1995 Seitz memorandum."

Act, whose express purpose is to achieve attainment of the standard, do not require SIP revisions to be made by the State for so long as the area continues to attain the standard. This has long been EPA's policy with respect to the section 172(c)(9) contingency measures and section 172(c)(2) RFP requirement. See general preamble at 57 FR 13498. EPA has also made determinations regarding section 182(f) NO_x waivers at or before the redesignation of an area and therefore not required NO_x RACT submissions to approve such redesignations. See the Bay Area redesignation at 59 FR 49361 and Detroit-Ann Arbor redesignation at 60 FR 12459.

EPA's statutory analysis was explained in detail in the July 20, 1995 final rulemaking and in the May 1995 Seitz memorandum. To the extent here pertinent, such portions of that notice, including the responses to comments, are incorporated herein by reference.

Thus, EPA disagrees with the commentors' view that EPA is not complying with all the redesignation requirements of section 107(d)(3)(E). EPA has interpreted SIP submission requirements of section 182(b)(1) regarding reasonable further progress and attainment demonstration plans, and of section 172(c)(9) regarding contingency measures to be implemented in the event an area fails to make reasonable further progress or attain the standard by the attainment date, not to apply for so long as the area continues to attain the standard. Since they are not applicable, fulfillment of these requirements is not necessary to meet the redesignation criteria of section 107(d)(3)(E).

The commentor challenges EPA's authority to determine certain SIP requirements inapplicable, and then bootstraps that argument to complain that since Grand Rapids has not met these requirements, the redesignation request only partially fulfills section 107(d)(E)(v). The commentor argues that this is because the State has not met all "applicable" requirements under section 110 and part D; but the requirements it points to are the very ones that EPA has determined are inapplicable.

EPA rejects this kind of circular argument. Since EPA has determined that the statute does not require certain submissions so long as the area is in attainment, those inapplicable requirements cannot serve as the basis for concluding that the redesignation request is defective. Under the criteria of section 107(d)(E)(3) itself, a State need only meet all applicable requirements, and have a fully approved plan that contains all required elements. Thus EPA's interpretation is fully consistent with the criteria of section 107(d)(3). Since EPA has determined that the 15 percent, attainment demonstration, and section 172(c)(9) contingency plan requirements are not applicable to Grand Rapids, and has found the SIP to be fully approvable without them, the Grand Rapids area has fairly met the criteria of section 107(d)(3). Certainly EPA, after determining that these requirements are inapplicable, could not in good faith conclude that the redesignation request is defective because it fails to meet them.

Thus EPA concludes that, where it has made a determination of attainment that results in the suspension of requirements, it may rely on that determination and its consequences in considering the approvability of a redesignation request.

For the reasons stated above and elsewhere in this document, in the July 20, 1995 Federal Register notice (60 FR 37366) pertaining to the Grand Rapids area, in the May 1995 Seitz memorandum, in the Utah notice (60 FR 36723, July 18, 1995) and in the Cleveland-Akron-Lorain notice (May 7, 1996, 61 FR 20468), EPA does not believe that the rulemaking violates any section of the Act, nor does it dilute the redesignation requirements under section 107(d)(3)(E).

With respect to the full adoption of VOC RACT rules, it should first be noted that Michigan has submitted and EPA has approved all of the sections 182(b)(2)(B) and 182(b)(2)(C) VOC RACT requirements applicable to the Grand Rapids area on September 7, 1994 (59 FR 46182) and October 23, 1995 (60 FR 54308). Therefore, the EPA assumes that the commentor is concerned about the section 182(b)(2)(A) requirement of the Act which requires States to develop VOC RACT rules for sources "covered by a CTG document issued by the Administrator between November 15, 1990, and the date of attainment" for moderate and above ozone nonattainment areas. The EPA has not granted the Grand Rapids area a "waiver" or "exemption" from this requirement either. In fact, EPA's proposed rulemaking action acknowledges the applicability of these rules in light of current EPA guidance (See "Procedures for Processing Requests to Redesignate Areas to Attainment," from John Calcagni, Director, Air Quality Management Division, dated September 4, 1992),³ since the due date for the CTG RACT rules at issue preceded the submission of the redesignation request, and consequently, generally require full adoption, submission and approval of these rules prior to approval of the redesignation request.⁴

The EPA does, however, believe that in the context of the particular circumstances of this redesignation, that it is reasonable and permissible to depart from that policy and instead accept a commitment to implement these RACT rules as contingency measures in the maintenance plan rather than require full adoption and approval of the rules prior to approval of the redesignation. The reasons justifying this departure from EPA's general policy were explained in the proposed action and are presented below.

EPA believes that several factors in combination justify allowing this exception to current EPA policy with respect to the Grand Rapids redesignation. First, the RACT rules at issue came due after the end of the ozone season in which Grand Rapids attained the standard and were not needed to bring about attainment of the ozone standard in Grand Rapids. Second, the State has demonstrated continued maintenance of the ozone standard through 2007 without the implementation of these measures. Third, the State has placed other contingency measures in the maintenance plan that would bring about far greater emission reductions than the VOC RACT rules and would therefore be substantially more effective in terms of correcting violations attributable to local emissions from the Grand Rapids area that may occur after redesignation. EPA's analysis of the emission reductions shows that the implementation of enhanced inspection and maintenance (I/M), Stage II or low Reid Vapor Pressure (RVP) (to 7.8 psi) programs would bring about greater reductions than VOC RACT rules for wood furniture coating, plastic parts coating and industrial clean-up solvents in aggregate, and substantially greater reductions than any of these RACT rules individually. Consequently, EPA believes that the other, more effective contingency measures, should and would be implemented first even if the RACT rules were to be fully adopted prior to redesignation. The detailed analysis of these emission reduction estimates is contained in the TSD for the proposed rulemaking action dated March 20, 1996 entitled "TSD for the Request to Redesignate the Grand Rapids, Michigan Moderate Nonattainment Area to Attainment for Ozone and Proposed Revision to the Michigan Ozone SIP for a Section 175A Maintenance Plan" and TSD for this action dated XX, 1996, entitled "Response to Comments on the April 2, 1996 Proposal to Approve the Redesignation to Attainment for Ozone and Section 175A Maintenance Plan for the Grand Rapids Area."

⁴ The EPA also notes that the Synthetic Organic Chemical Manufacturing (SOCMI) Distillation and Reactor CTG was issued on November 15, 1993, prior to the submission of the Grand Rapids redesignation request. That CTG, however, established a due date for State submittal of the SOCMI Distillation and Reactor rules of March 23, 1995 (See March 23, 1994, 59 FR 13717), a date after submission of a request to redesignate Grand Rapids to attainment. Thus, those rules are not applicable for purposes of this redesignation.

EPA emphasizes that even under this departure from its policy regarding this action, the requirement for these RACT rules remains an applicable requirement for purposes of evaluating the redesignation request since it predated the submission of the request. The requirement, however, is met in the form of the submission and full approval of a commitment to adopt and implement these rules as contingency measures in the maintenance plan. (Under EPA's existing policy, contingency measures in maintenance plans may consist of commitments to adopt and implement measures upon a violation of the standard. See September 1992 Calcagni Memorandum.)

EPA further notes that even without this exception to its general policy, the State would have been able to have the RACT rules become a part of the contingency measures in the maintenance plan upon approval of the redesignation. That could have occurred only after or upon EPA's full approval of the adopted RACT rules, however. Thus, the only difference between EPA's general policy and the exception to that policy described in this action is that a commitment to adopt and implement the RACT rules in an expeditious manner, rather than fully-adopted RACT rules, would be among the contingency measures in the maintenance plan. In light of the combination of factors discussed above, including in particular the inclusion of other, significantly more effective, contingency measures in the maintenance plan, EPA believes that this difference has no significant environmental consequence and that it is permissible to approve the Grand Rapids redesignation on this basis. The EPA believes that this exception to its general policy is legally permissible under the statutory provisions governing redesignations. As noted above, the VOC RACT requirements remain applicable requirements under section 107 and EPA believes that their treatment in the contingency plan as commitments is consistent with the manner in which EPA has accepted other commitments to adopt and implement contingency measures in maintenance plans under section 175A.

The EPA believes that the Grand Rapids area may be redesignated to attainment notwithstanding the lack of a fully-approved part D NSR program meeting the requirements of the 1990 Act amendments and the absence of such a part D NSR program from the contingency plan. This view has been set forth by the EPA as its policy in the 1994 Nichols memorandum.

The EPA believes that its decision not to insist on a fully-approved part D NSR program as a pre-requisite to redesignation is justifiable as an exercise of the Agency's general authority to establish de minimis exceptions to statutory requirements. See Alabama Power Co. v. Costle, 636 F.2d 323, 360-61 (D.C. Cir. 1979). Under Alabama Power, Co. v. Costle, the EPA has the authority to establish de minimis exceptions to statutory requirements where the application of the statutory requirements would be of trivial or no environmental value. See also EDF v. EPA, Nos. 94-1044 and 94-1062, Slip Op. at 28-29 (D.C. Cir. April 19, 1996).

Plainly, the part D NSR provisions of section 110 and part D are requirements that were applicable to the Grand Rapids area at the time of the submission of the request for redesignation. Thus, on its face, section 107(d)(3)(E) would seem to require that the State have submitted and the EPA have fully-approved a part D NSR program meeting the requirements of the Act before the areas could be redesignated to attainment.

Under the EPA's de minimis authority, however, it may establish an exception to an otherwise plain statutory requirement if its fulfillment would be of little or no environmental value. In this context, it is necessary to determine what would be achieved by insisting that there be a fully-approved part D NSR program in place prior to the redesignation of the Grand Rapids area. For the following reasons, the EPA believes that requiring the adoption and full-approval of a part D NSR program prior to redesignation would not be of significant environmental value in this case.

The Grand Rapids area has demonstrated that maintenance of the ozone NAAQS will occur even if the emission reductions expected to result from the part D NSR program do not occur. The emission projections to demonstrate maintenance of the NAAQS considered growth in point source emissions (along with growth for other source categories) and were premised on the assumption that the Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) program, rather than the part D NSR, would be in effect, during the maintenance period. Under part D NSR, significant point source emissions growth would not occur. Michigan assumed that part D NSR would not apply after redesignation to attainment and instead assumed source growth factors based on projected growth in the economy and in the area's population. (It should be noted that the growth factors assumed may be overestimates under PSD, which would restrain source growth through the application of best available control techniques.) Thus, Michigan has demonstrated that there is no need to retain the part D NSR as an operative program in the SIP during the maintenance period to provide for continued maintenance of the ozone NAAQS.

The other purpose that requiring the full-approval of a part D NSR program might serve would be to ensure that part D NSR would become a contingency provision in the maintenance plan required for these areas by sections 107(d)(3)(E)(iv) and 175A(d). These provisions require that, for an area to be redesignated to attainment, it must receive full approval of a maintenance plan containing "such contingency provisions as the Administrator deems necessary to assure that the State will promptly correct any violation of the standard which occurs after the redesignation of the area as an attainment area. Such provisions shall include a requirement that the State will implement all measures with respect to the control of the air pollutant concerned which were contained in the SIP for the area before redesignation of the area as an attainment area." Based on this language, it is apparent that whether an approved part D NSR program must be included as a contingency provision depends on whether it is a "measure" for the control of the pertinent air pollutants.

The term "measure" is not defined in section 175A(d) and Congress utilized that term differently in different provisions of the Act with respect to the part C PSD and part D NSR permitting programs. For example, in section 110(a)(2)(A), Congress required that SIPs include "enforceable emission limitations and other control measures, means, or techniques * * * as may be necessary or appropriate to meet the applicable requirements of the Act." In section 110(a)(2)(C), Congress required that SIPs include "a program to provide for the enforcement of the measures described in subparagraph (A), and regulation of the modification and construction of any stationary source within the areas covered by the plan as necessary to assure that NAAQS are achieved, including a permit program as required in parts C and D." (Emphasis added.) If the term measures as used in sections 110(a)(2) (A) and (C) had been intended to include part C PSD and part D NSR there would have been no point to requiring that SIPs include both measures and preconstruction review under parts C and D (PSD or NSR). Unless "measures" referred to something other than preconstruction review under parts C and D, the reference to preconstruction review programs in section 110(a)(2)(C) would be rendered mere surplusage. Thus, in sections 110(a)(2) (A) and (C), it is apparent that Congress distinguished "measures" from preconstruction review. On the other hand, in other provisions of the Act, such as section 161, Congress appeared to include PSD within the scope of the term "measures."

The EPA believes that the fact that Congress used the undefined term "measure" differently in different sections of the Act is germane. This indicates that the term is susceptible to more than one interpretation and that the EPA has the discretion to interpret it in a reasonable manner in the context of section 175A. Inasmuch as Congress itself has used the term in a manner that excluded part C PSD and part D NSR from its scope, the EPA believes it is reasonable to interpret "measure," as used in section 175A(d), not to include part D NSR. That this is a reasonable interpretation is further supported by the fact that PSD, a program that is the corollary of part D NSR for attainment areas, goes into effect in lieu of part D NSR.⁵ This distinguishes part D NSR from other required programs under the Act, such as inspection and ⁵The EPA is not suggesting that part D NSR and prevention of significant (PSD) are equivalent, but merely that they are the same type of program. The PSD program is a requirement in attainment areas and designed to allow new source permitting, yet contains adequate provisions to protect the NAAQS. If any information including preconstruction monitoring, indicates that an area is not continuing to meet the NAAQS after redesignation to attainment, 40 CFR 51 appendix S (Interpretive Offset Rule) or a 40 CFR 51.165(b) program would apply. The EPA believes that in any area that is designated or redesignated as attainment under section 107, but experiences violations of the NAAQS, these provisions should be interpreted as requiring major new or modified sources to obtain VOC emission offsets of at least a 1:1 ratio, and as presuming that 1:1 oxides of nitrogen (NO_x) offsets are necessary. See October 1994 Nichols memorandum.

maintenance and RACT programs, which have no corollary for attainment areas. Moreover, the EPA believes that those other required programs are clearly within the scope of the term "measure."⁶

The EPA's logic in treating part D NSR in this manner does not mean that other applicable part D requirements, including those that have been previously met and previously relied upon in demonstrating attainment, could be eliminated without an analysis demonstrating that maintenance would be protected. As noted above, Michigan has demonstrated that maintenance would be protected with PSD in effect, rather than part D NSR. Thus, the EPA is not permitting part D NSR to be removed without a demonstration that maintenance of the standard will be achieved. Moreover, the EPA has not amended its policy with respect to the conversion of other SIP elements to contingency provisions, which is that they may be converted to contingency provisions only upon a showing that maintenance will be achieved without them being in effect. Finally, as noted above, the EPA believes that the part D NSR requirement differs from other requirements, and does not believe that the rationale for the part D NSR exception extends to other required programs.

As noted above, this change in policy was detailed in the October 1994 Nichols memorandum⁷. The position taken in this action is consistent with the EPA's current national policy detailed in the October 1994 Nichols memorandum. That policy permits redesignation to proceed without otherwise required part D NSR programs having been fully approved and converted to contingency provisions provided that the area demonstrates, as has been done in this case, that maintenance will be achieved with the ⁶The EPA also notes that in the case of the Michigan area, all permits to install for major offset sources and major offset modifications issued by the State in the moderate nonattainment areas since November 15, 1992 have complied with the 1.15 to 1.0 offset ratio. In addition, permits to install cannot be issued under the PSD program unless the applicant can demonstrate that the increased emissions from the new or modified source will not result in a violation of the NAAQS. Michigan's Rule 702, which is part of the SIP, requires the installation of Best Available Control Technology regardless of size or location of all new and modified sources in the State. In addition, Michigan's Rule 207, also approved in the SIP, requires denial of any permit to install if operation of the equipment will interfere with attainment or maintenance of the NAAQS.

⁷Which has been applied in other areas such as Detroit, Michigan, Preble, Columbiana, Clinton, Youngstown, Columbus, Canton, Cleveland, Toledo and Dayton, Ohio.

application of PSD rather than part D NSR.

The EPA has not "waived" the requirement for adoption and implementation of conformity regulations. Rather, EPA has determined that those requirements will continue to apply after the area is redesignated, and therefore need not be fulfilled as a condition of redesignation. The State of Michigan, in fact, has submitted transportation and general conformity SIP revisions on November 24, 1994 and November 29, 1994, respectively. The issue is full approval of these rules prior to redesignation. As presented in the April 2, 1996 (61 FR 14522) proposal, the EPA believes that it is reasonable to interpret the conformity requirement as not being applicable for purpose of redesignation under section 107(d). The rationale for this is based on a combination of two factors. First, the requirement to submit SIP revisions to comply with the conformity provisions of the Act continue to apply to areas after redesignation to attainment, since such areas would be subject to a section 175A maintenance plan. Therefore, the State remains obligated to adopt the transportation and general conformity rules even after redesignation and would risk sanctions for failure to do so. While a redesignation of an area to attainment enables the area to avoid further compliance with most requirements of section 110 and part D, since those requirements are linked to the nonattainment status of an area, the conformity requirements apply to both nonattainment and maintenance areas. Second, EPA's federal conformity rules require the performance of conformity analyses in the absence of state-adopted rules. Therefore, a delay in adopting State rules does not relieve an area from the obligation to implement conformity requirements.

Because areas are subject to the conformity requirements regardless of whether they are redesignated to attainment and must implement conformity under Federal rules if State rules are not yet adopted, the EPA believes it is reasonable to view these requirements as not being applicable requirements for purposes of evaluating a redesignation request.

For the reasons just discussed, the EPA believes that the ozone redesignation request for the Grand Rapids area may be approved notwithstanding the lack of fully approved State transportation and general conformity rules. This policy was also exercised in the Tampa, Florida and Cleveland-Akron-Lorain ozone redesignations finalized on December 7, 1995 (60 FR 52748) and May 7, 1996 (61 FR 20458), respectively.

According to the Federal transportation and general conformity rules, conformity applies to nonattainment areas as well as maintenance areas. Once redesignated, the Grand Rapids area will be a maintenance area and will be required to conduct emission analyses to determine that the VOC and NO_x emissions remain below the motor vehicle emission budget established in the maintenance plan. The Conformity General Preamble to the conformity regulations further clarifies this issue, particularly as it pertains to areas requesting and obtaining a section 182(f) NO_x exemption. Michigan has established a motor vehicle emission budget for NO_x in the area's maintenance plan.

Comment: The commentor notes that between December 1, 1990 and June 1, 1995, EPA has redesignated 54 areas from nonattainment to attainment. Several of these redesignated areas, such as Kansas City, Kansas/Missouri, Detroit, Michigan, San Francisco, California, Charlotte, North Carolina; Huntington-Ashland, West Virginia/ Kentucky violated the ozone standard after redesignation. The commentor states that the EPA's "permissive" SIP revision requirements for these areas made future violations inevitable and ensure that inadequate contingency measures are adopted. The commentor also notes that the Grand Rapids and Muskegon areas observed 5 exceedances each after receiving a determination of attainment.

Response: To date the EPA has redesignated a total of 41 areas⁸ to attainment for ozone. Of these areas, only 4, Detroit, Michigan, Memphis, Tennessee, San Francisco, California, and Kansas City, Kansas-Missouri, subsequently violated monitored violations of the ozone standard. EPA believes that this, in fact, demonstrates that for the vast majority of instances the redesignation policy is appropriate since most of the redesignated areas have not violated the ozone NAAQS to date. Furthermore, the Act and Congress contemplated that such events may occur and therefore, required that the Administrator fully approve a maintenance plan for the area consistent with the requirements of section 175A before the area can be redesignated to attainment. Section 107(d)(3)(E)(iv). Section 175A(d) requires that a maintenance plan contain contingency provisions deemed necessary by the Administrator to assure that the State will promptly correct a violation of the standard which occurs after the redesignation of the area to attainment. Clearly, the Act and Congress anticipated that areas redesignated to attainment may violate the NAAQS in the future and ensured that control measures to remedy the violation are available. Areas redesignated to attainment have approved maintenance plans with contingency measures that are and will be implemented in order to address the violations monitored in the area after redesignation. The maintenance plans for these areas were deemed appropriate and adequate for purposes of addressing a future violation as they were fully approved into the area's SIPs. Furthermore, if the contingency measures implemented by the State do not address future violations of the NAAQS, EPA has the authority to call for a plan revision requiring the adoption of additional control measures and/or redesignate the area to nonattainment which in turn would require the area to adopt and implement additional control measures appropriate for its classification. See sections 110(k)(5) and 107(d)(3).

With respect to the adequacy of the maintenance plan for Grand Rapids, the EPA would like to note that all aspects of the maintenance plan were reviewed and deemed appropriate. The commentor does not provide any specific arguments to support the comment.

For clarification purposes, the number of exceedances cited by the commentor is the total number of exceedances monitored in the Grand Rapids area and Muskegon area. The Grand Rapids area monitored one exceedance at each of the three monitors located within the two-county area in 1995. Taken into account with the previous two years, 1994 and 1993, the Grand Rapids area continues to demonstrate attainment of the ozone NAAQS with a number of expected exceedances less than or equal to 1.0.

Comment: The commentor states that the April 2, 1996 proposal jeopardizes the efforts currently being undertaken by the Ozone Transport Assessment Group (OTAG).

Response: The commentor's statement is unsupported. In the April 2, 1996 proposal, the EPA specifically stated that the redesignation of the Grand Rapids area to attainment in no way removes the State's obligation to get further reductions in emissions to address the broader transport phenomenon currently being investigated as part of the OTAG process. The issue of transported ozone and ozone precursors is being addressed by the OTAG which is composed of industry, environmental groups and Federal, State and local governments from the eastern part of the United States. The Lake Michigan States of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan are all participating, at some level, in the OTAG process (Phase I/ Phase II attainment demonstrations as provided for in the March 2, 1995 memorandum from Mary Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation, entitled "Ozone Attainment Demonstrations"). Phase II of this analysis will assess the need for regional control strategies and refine local control strategies. Phase II will also provide the States and EPA the opportunity to determine appropriate regional strategies to resolve transport issues including any impacts the Grand Rapids area may have on ozone concentrations in its downwind areas. The EPA has the authority under sections 110(a)(2)(A) and 110(a)(2)(D) of the Act to require emission reductions where appropriate based on the results of this effort or any other relevant information.

Comment: The commentor stated that exempting ozone nonattainment areas from compliance with part D NSR regulations presents special problems since PSD and preconstruction review rules "do not fully address how emissions of ozone precursors should be treated to assure that major new or modified sources do not cause or contribute to a NAAQS violation." In addition, the commentor contends that the *Alabama Power Co. v. Costle*⁹ court cautioned that "to exempt de minimis situations from a statutory command is not an ability to depart from the statute, but rather a tool to be used in implementing the legislative design."

Response: EPA emphasizes that contrary to the commentor's contention, ozone nonattainment areas are not exempt from compliance with part D NSR regulations. The October 1994 Nichols memorandum suggests that areas that are otherwise eligible for redesignation need not have a fully approved part D NSR program as a prerequisite to redesignation since the part C PSD program would apply once the area has been redesignated to attainment. The part D NSR program requirements apply to the area until the area is redesignated to attainment.

⁹EPA's policy to redesignate areas notwithstanding the absence of fully adopted and approved part D NSR SIP is based, in part, on EPA's authority to establish de minimis exceptions to statutory requirements when the requirement would be of trivial or no value environmentally under the Alabama Power Co. v. Costle court decision.

⁸This includes 28 classified and 13 nonclassified areas. The 28 classified areas include the Ohio portion of the Youngstown-Warren-Sharon area.

The October 1994 Nichols memorandum's statement that EPA regulations (40 CFR 51.165(b)(3) and appendix S) "do not fully address how ozone precursor emissions should be treated to ensure that major new or modified sources do not cause or contribute to an ozone NAAQS violation" is based on the difficulty in modeling the impact of emissions from specific sources on ozone formation. The policy, however, also states that for areas with preconstruction monitoring or other information that indicate that the area is not meeting the ozone standard after redesignation to attainment, Appendix S or 40 CFR 51.165(b) apply. These areas should then require major new or modified sources to obtain VOC emission offsets of at least 1:1 ratio. In addition, the PSD program allows BACT in place of LAER if the less stringent control technology can be justified based on an economic, energy and environmental impacts analysis. Consequently, the State may impose a more stringent level of control other than what may be selected as BACT in an area redesignated to attainment but not meeting the NAAQS. With these elements, the preconstruction review programs can assure that major new or modified sources achieve the statutory goals of part D NSR.

With respect to the cautions of the Costle court of the Alabama Power decision, EPA believes that the exercise of its de minimis authority in this instance is fully consistent with them. EPA is using its authority to facilitate the implementation of the statute and the legislative design behind it. EPA also notes that the D.C. Circuit, the court that decided the Alabama Power case, recently decided another case upholding EPA's exercise of its de minimis authority under the Act. Referring to EPA's authority to create de minimis exceptions as being inherent in the statutory scheme, the court stated that "the same deference due to an agency's reasonable interpretation of an ambiguous statute may also be due to an agency's creation of a de minimis exception." EDF v. EPA, Nos. 94-1044 and 94-1062, Slip Op. at 28-29 (D.C. Cir. April 19, 1996).

Comment: The commenter contends that the EPA cannot use the May 1995 Seitz memorandum to substitute its own criteria for redesignation over congressional instruction. The commenter rationalizes that the part D requirements are defined by the nonattainment or attainment designation of an area. The EPA, therefore, does not have the "authority to modify the operation of the Act, and substitute its own judgement for that of Congress." Furthermore, SIP requirements are joined to the classification of a nonattainment area (see sections 182 and 181).

Response: The May 1995 Seitz memorandum does not substitute EPA's criteria for congressional instruction. Instead, the May 1995 Seitz memorandum presents EPA's interpretation of the statutory language of the Act regarding RFP and related provisions as they relate to areas demonstrating attainment of the ozone NAAQS.

With respect to the commenter's statement that SIP requirements are joined to the classification of a nonattainment area, the EPA would note that the commenter is equating the designation of an area as attainment or nonattainment with the fact finding of whether an area is attaining the standard, regardless of its designation. EPA believes that these are two distinct issues. Title I of the Act, including part D, contains provisions that distinguish between the concept of attainment of a NAAQS shown through monitoring data, and an area's designation as attainment or nonattainment.

The fact that only one of the five criteria for redesignation of a nonattainment area to attainment is the determination that the area "has attained the national ambient air quality standard," demonstrates that section 107(d)(3)(E)(I) itself recognizes this distinction. Clearly, the Act anticipates there will be areas designated nonattainment that are attaining the standard, that there could be a nonattainment area that meets the air quality criterion for redesignation to attainment without satisfying the other criteria. Such an area would need to remain designated nonattainment even though it was attaining the standard.

In addition, the distinction between attaining the standard and the designation of an area as attainment or nonattainment is again demonstrated in the part D provision of section 182(f), which authorizes EPA to waive the NO_x reduction requirements that apply to ozone nonattainment areas if EPA determines that the NO_x reductions would "not contribute to attainment of the" ozone NAAQS. This provision has been applied on numerous occasions to waive NO_x emission reduction requirements for areas that have attained the standard, since such reductions in areas that have already attained the standard would not contribute to attainment. Thus, this provision clearly contemplates that areas designated nonattainment that have attained the standard may have certain specified requirements waived.

In conclusion, the Act does not equate the factual issue of whether an area is attaining the standard with the area's designation status as attainment or nonattainment. It explicitly expects situations in which areas designated nonattainment may be attaining the standard. Thus, the definition of "nonattainment area" in section 171(2), which provides that, for purposes of part D, a nonattainment area means an area that "is designated "nonattainment" with respect to [a particular] pollutant within the meaning of section 107(d)" does not contradict EPA's interpretation of the language of section 171(1) defining "RFP" requirements in terms of reductions for the purpose of "ensuring attainment."

EPA believes that, in general, the classification of an area designated nonattainment for ozone determines the set of requirements of subpart 2 to which the area is subject.

The issue becomes the substance of some of those requirements. In general, section 182(b)(1) and section 172(c)(9) apply to moderate ozone nonattainment areas. EPA, however, has interpreted section 182(b)(1) and 172(c)(9) such that additional SIP submission requirements are not necessary for an area classified as a moderate ozone nonattainment area that is attaining the ozone standard, for so long as the area continues to attain the standard. This is not a waiver of the requirement that by their terms clearly apply; it is a determination that certain requirements are written so as to be applicable only if the area is not attaining the standard. If prior to the redesignation of such an area to attainment, the area violated the ozone NAAQS, that determination would no longer apply. That area will once again be faced with an obligation to submit SIP revisions pursuant to sections 172(c)(9) and 182(b)(1).

Finally, other requirements of part D that are not written in such a way continue to apply solely by virtue of the area's classification and designation as a moderate ozone nonattainment area. For example, the VOC RACT requirement of section 182(a)(2) applies regardless of whether an area is attaining the standard. Similarly, the requirements of part D new source review continue to apply to areas designated nonattainment solely by virtue of their continuing nonattainment designation.

Comment: The Administrative Procedures Act (APA) requires that "substantive rules of general applicability" be subjected to public comment before promulgation. EPA's guidance interpreting section 107(d)(3)(E) requirements constitutes substantive rules of general applicability and thus, required to be subjected to public comment.

Response: EPA's reference to and reliance on guidance documents interpreting section 107(d)(3)(E),¹⁰ all of which are either published or publicly available and a part of the record of the July 20, 1995 rulemaking and this rulemaking, is in no way illegal under provisions of either the Act or the APA. The commenter cites the APA's requirement that "substantive rules of general applicability" be published in the Federal Register and subject to public comment before promulgation. These documents do not purport to be anything but guidance. That is precisely why EPA performed the July 20, 1995 rulemaking, and this rulemaking action, a notice and comment rulemaking to take comment on its statutory interpretations and factual determinations in order to make a binding and enforceable determination regarding the Grand Rapids area. The April 2, 1996 notice referred to EPA's policy memorandum not as binding the Agency to adopt the interpretations being proposed therein, but rather as useful descriptions of rationale underlying those proposed interpretations. EPA has explained the legal and factual basis for its rulemaking in the April 2, 1996 rulemaking and afforded the public a full opportunity to comment on EPA's proposed interpretation and determination fully consistent with the applicable procedural requirements of the APA.

Comment: The 1993 Nichols and 1995 Seitz memoranda are inconsistent with earlier redesignation guidance (General Preamble, Calcagni and Shapiro memoranda) pertaining to required SIP revisions for redesignations.

Response: The October 1994 Nichols memorandum and the May 1995 Seitz memorandum represented modifications of earlier policies. That does not necessarily mean these memoranda were by any means completely inconsistent with prior policies. For example, the May 1995 Seitz memorandum interpreted the more specific RFP requirements of section 182(b)(1) in a manner consistent with EPA's previous interpretation of the more general section 171 and 172 requirements. Furthermore, EPA notes that it is permissible to revise its policies provided that the revised policies, as is the case with these, are legally justified and reasonable.

Comment: The commenter contends that ozone remains a significant public health threat in Grand Rapids since it fails to demonstrate attainment of the ozone NAAQS. The commenter proceeds to discuss an analysis of eight hour ozone concentration averages in the Grand Rapids Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area for 1995. The commenter states that on 26 days at least one monitor recorded ozone concentrations at or above 80 parts per billion (ppb) and represent days when at-risk populations were exposed to unhealthy levels of air pollution. The commenter states that by examining ground level wind directions and speeds and comparing results of monitors upwind (Jenison or Parnell) from Grand Rapids to downwind observations (Parnell or Jenison), the commenter has determined that 18 of these episodes indicate that local emissions significantly exacerbate the formation of unhealthy levels of ozone.

Response: The EPA determines attainment and nonattainment based on the current NAAQS of 0.12 parts per million (ppm) not 80 ppb. Therefore, the EPA must evaluate the eligibility for redesignation on the basis of the current, health based standard. The EPA agrees with the commenter's contention that ozone and ozone precursor emissions from the Grand Rapids urbanized area may contribute to ozone concentrations in downwind areas (downwind areas are relative to wind directions) by virtue of the fact that the area is an urbanized area. Nonetheless, the Grand Rapids area has demonstrated attainment of the current ozone NAAQS in the three year period 1992-1994, and continues to demonstrate attainment for the period 1993-1995.

The EPA evaluated the winds on July 13, 1995, where exceedances of the ozone NAAQS were recorded at all 3 monitors in the Grand Rapids area: Jenison at 0.133 ppm; Grand Rapids at 0.163 ppm; and Parnell at 0.134 ppm. Given that the winds were predominantly from the southwest and west/southwest, one would deduce that the exceedances were a result of ozone transport into the area. This is especially likely in view of the fact that the Jenison monitor, which is the Grand Rapids upwind monitor,¹¹ recorded an ozone concentration of 0.133 ppm.

Comment: The commenter acknowledges that emissions from the Milwaukee-Chicago-Gary corridor were transported north out of the basin on June 16, 1994, under high south/south-southeasterly winds. However, the commenter attributes an exceedance recorded in Grand Rapids on June 17, 1994, at a level of 149 ppb, to emissions from the Grand Rapids area since winds were still to light.

Response: The EPA acknowledges that local emissions, those from the Grand Rapids urbanized area, may affect ozone concentrations in the area and any downwind area. However, the extent of any contribution to ozone levels from the Grand Rapids area cannot be determined with any degree of certainty based on the information provided by the commenter, particularly in light of indications that the Grand Rapids area is the recipient of significant levels of transported ozone. Regardless of its origin, this exceedance does not constitute a violation of the ozone NAAQS. Thus, the area continues to be eligible for redesignation based on monitoring data showing no violations of the ozone NAAQS for the periods 1992-1994 and 1993-1995.

Comment: The commenter suggests that the 1992-1994 period cannot be used to demonstrate improvements in air quality due to permanent and enforceable emission reductions. Otherwise, the Chicago-Milwaukee-Gary severe-17 ozone nonattainment area could be downgraded to moderate ozone nonattainment. The commenter also alludes to the Detroit's assessment of contingency measures necessary to reduce domain-wide peaks in Tiverton, Ontario (Canada) below 200 ppb.

Response: The November 6, 1991 (56 FR 56694) classifications served to determine a control strategy adequate to achieve emissions reductions that would improve the air quality in an area to a level that would demonstrate attainment of the NAAQS. Consequently as an area implemented its control strategy it is anticipated that the air quality would continually improve until the area demonstrated attainment of the NAAQS. Upon demonstration of attainment, an area could request redesignation pursuant to section 107(d)(3) of the Act. The EPA has not allowed any area to reclassify based on 1992-1994 monitoring data or any other data sets outside of the data sets used in the November 1991 designations and classifications. Furthermore, pursuant to the General Preamble (April 16, 1992, 57 FR 13498), it is appropriate to redesignate any area to attainment based on the most recent consecutive 3 years of air quality data demonstrating attainment of the ozone NAAQS if the area satisfies the other redesignation criteria of section 107(d)(3)(E) including a demonstration that the improvement in air quality was due to permanent and enforceable emission reductions. Since the Grand Rapids area demonstrated attainment of the ozone NAAQS in the period 1992–1994, it is an appropriate period to be used as the basis for redesignation of the area to attainment particularly since the area has also satisfied the other section 107(d)(3) redesignation criteria including a reasonable demonstration that of permanent and enforceable emission reductions were the cause of the improvement in air quality in the area. The Grand Rapids area achieved 0.6 and 2.4 tons per day of VOC and NO_x emission reductions between 1991 and 1994. In addition, since the Grand Rapids area is the recipient of significant levels of transported ozone, Michigan also attributes the improvement in air quality, in part, to emission reductions achieved throughout the Lake Michigan region.

¹⁰ It is presumed that the commenter is referring to such documents as the October 1994 Nichols, May 1995 Seitz, and September 1992 Calcagni memoranda as well as the General Preamble (April 16, 1992, 57 FR 13498).

The comment regarding Detroit, Michigan is unclear and irrelevant to this rulemaking action.

Comment: Based on a table comparing number of days with temperatures above 90 degrees and number of monitored exceedances in Chicago, the commentor states that the years for which the Grand Rapids area demonstrated attainment, 1992–1994, fail the requirement that attainment can not be due to “unusually favorable meteorology” since that time period represents “a statistically significant (Chi square=14.6, Alpha=0.005) negative deviation” from the number of days conducive to formation of ozone or days with temperatures above 90 degrees.

Response: Section 107(d)(3)(E)(iii) requires that, for the EPA to approve a redesignation, it must determine that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable reductions in emissions. The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum, at page 4, clarifies this requirement by stating that “[attainment resulting from temporary reductions in emission rates (e.g., reduced production or shutdown due to temporary adverse economic conditions) or unusually favorable meteorology would not qualify as an air quality improvement due to permanent and enforceable emission reductions.” As discussed in the April 2, 1996 Federal Register notice, the Grand Rapids area has reasonably demonstrated that permanent and enforceable emission reductions are responsible for the recent improvement in air quality. This demonstration was accomplished through an estimate of the reductions (from a nonattainment year, 1991 to an attainment year, 1994) of VOC and NO_x achieved primarily through implementation of the Federal Motor Vehicle Control Program (FMVCP) from 1991–1994, in line with the September 1992 Calcagni memorandum. The total reductions achieved from 1991 to 1994 were 0.6 tons of VOC and 2.4 tons of NO_x per day. The State claimed credit only for emission reductions achieved as a result of implementation of this federally enforceable control measure. The emission reductions claimed are conservative since they do not include the emission reductions resulting from other control measures and programs implemented during this time period, such as the VOC RACT fix-ups and catch-ups. The State, therefore, adequately demonstrated that the improvement in air quality is due to permanent and enforceable emission reductions. Furthermore, the State has always maintained that the Grand Rapids area is significantly affected by ozone transported from the Chicago-Milwaukee-Gary severe-17 ozone nonattainment area. Consequently, emission reductions occurring in these areas are also attributable to the improvement in air quality in the Grand Rapids area.

With respect to the commentor’s contention that meteorological conditions were not conducive to ozone production during the 1992–1994 period, the commentor provided an analysis of the number of days with temperatures equal to or greater than 90 degrees Fahrenheit at Chicago’s O’Hare airport and the total number of monitored exceedance days from 1981–1995 throughout the Lake Michigan area. Since, the data is not limited to the Grand Rapids area, i.e. the number of 90 degree days in Chicago not Grand Rapids and the number of monitored exceedance days throughout the Lake Michigan area not only Grand Rapids, it would not be accurate to conduct a statistical analysis or draw conclusions pertaining to the Grand Rapids area based on this data, particularly in light of the transport phenomena affecting Grand Rapids. EPA, however, conducted a general statistical analysis of the meteorological parameters in the Grand Rapids area of maximum monthly temperatures and days with temperatures greater than 90 degrees Fahrenheit for the periods of April through September, 1992 through 1994, with the 10-year (1982–1991) averages for these parameters. The 1992–1994 averages for these parameters agreed with those for the 10-year averages with only minor differences. Based on averaged parameters, it can be concluded that the 1992–1994 period was typically conducive to ozone formation. Finally, the EPA notes that the Grand Rapids area has been in attainment for the two 3-year periods (1992–1994, and 1993–1995), and that this, along with the fact that real emission reductions have occurred, indicates that attainment is not due to unusually favorable, temporary meteorological conditions.

Comment: The commentor contends that the Ottawa County ozone monitoring network is inadequate to permit redesignation. The commentor notes that every monitor located on the eastern shoreline of Lake Michigan recorded a violation of the NAAQS in 1995, and finds it inconceivable that residents of southeastern Ottawa County were not exposed to ozone at levels above the NAAQS. This, the commentor concludes, should compel the EPA to require the State to site a monitor along the lakeshore in Ottawa County. The commentor is particularly concerned that EPA refuses to acknowledge that violations recorded at the Holland monitor, in Allegan County, which it contends, indicates violations of the NAAQS in Ottawa County. The commentor further states that it agrees with Michigan’s contention that the Holland monitor “* * * is representative of the conditions in Ottawa County.”

Response: As discussed in detail in the April 2, 1996, EPA believes that the monitoring network for the Grand Rapids area satisfies the requirements of 40 CFR part 58, appendix D. Michigan established a number of monitors on the west side of the State for purposes of gathering field data for the Lake Michigan Ozone Study (LMOS) during 1989–1991. Based on the field study data, the State decided to locate an ozone monitor in Holland, an urbanized area in Allegan County (just south of Ottawa County). However, at the encouragement of EPA, the State reestablished a monitor in Ottawa County, i.e. the Jenison site, in 1994. This in addition to the two monitors that already exist in Kent County. Thus, an ozone monitor is established in Ottawa County, however, the monitor is not at the lakeshore but inland and represents background ozone concentrations for the Grand Rapids urban area. The EPA has not taken any action to disapprove the network, but continually works with the State to improve the quality of the ambient monitoring network throughout the State. The fact that EPA and the State undertake actions that may result in improvements to the network, does not mean that EPA views the monitoring data which shows attainment of the standard in the Grand Rapids area as being inadequate or unreliable. EPA continually reviews monitoring networks to determine how they can be improved. However, the fact that a monitoring network is susceptible to improvement does not mean that the existing network does not meet EPA's regulations, nor does it mean that the data collected from the existing network should be ignored or discounted. EPA believes that the monitoring data fully supports a determination that the Grand Rapids area has attained the standard and is, therefore, eligible for redesignation to attainment. EPA does not believe that there is a basis for discounting the data which shows attainment of the standard.

EPA further notes that the additional monitor established in Ottawa County as part of the ongoing network improvements did not monitor an exceedance in 1992 when it operated for part of the ozone season, and has monitored only one exceedance since the monitor was reestablished in 1994. While that monitor has yet to be in operation for three full years, those initial results support the finding that the area has attained the standard. As a violation does not occur unless four exceedances occur at a single monitor over a three-year period, the data from the Grand Rapids area support the determination that the area has attained the standard and is, therefore, eligible for redesignation.

Michigan contends that the Holland monitor " * * * data is included in this request as representative of levels of transported ozone coming into the area." This can be interpreted to mean that the Holland monitor is representative of ozone that is being transported into Ottawa County. However, as explained in the proposal, the Allegan monitor cannot be considered part of the Grand Rapids area since it is outside the two county nonattainment area and the State of Michigan has never formally requested that it be made part of the Grand Rapids area's monitoring network. Furthermore, the Holland monitor is not representative of ozone concentrations resulting from ozone precursor emissions from the Grand Rapids area. The EPA is making its conclusion about the air quality data that has been collected from the valid network that currently exists in the Grand Rapids area.

Comment: The commentor is concerned about the validity of monitoring data collected at the Jenison monitor, specifically, the commentor alleges that of the years 1992-1994 only the 1994 data set is usable and is supplemented with 1995. In addition, the commentor questions the interpretation of the missing daily ozone value for July 14, 1995, from the Ottawa County ozone monitor. The commentor suggests that the missing daily ozone value for July 14, 1995 cannot be assumed to be less than the level of the standard since the maximum ozone concentration on the preceding day exceeded the standard.

Response: The Jenison monitor is one of three monitors in the Grand Rapids area. The other two monitors have operated in Kent County since 1980 and recorded a complete data set for 1992-1994 that demonstrate attainment of the ozone NAAQS consistent with EPA guidance including the September 1992 Calcagni memorandum and January 1979 document entitled "Guideline for the Interpretation of Ozone Air Quality Standards". The April 2, 1996 proposal noted that the Jenison monitor operated for 63 percent of the 1992 ozone season with no exceedances of the ozone NAAQS. The monitor was relocated to Holland, as discussed previously, based on the LMOS. However, at the encouragement of EPA, the State reestablished a monitor in Ottawa County, i.e. at Jenison, in 1994. Thus, the Jenison monitor has partial 1992 data and complete data for 1994 and 1995. No exceedances of the ozone NAAQS were recorded in 1992 and 1994 and one was recorded in 1995 at 0.133 ppm. As noted in the April 2, 1996 proposal, the "Guideline for the Interpretation of Ozone Air Quality Standards" suggests that evaluation ozone data requires the use of all ozone data collected at a site during the past 3 calendar years. If no data are available for a particular year then the remaining years are used. Since 1992 data is incomplete and 1993 data is unavailable for this monitor, it would suffice to use ozone monitoring data for the remaining most recent calendar years, 1992-1995. The Ottawa County monitor demonstrates attainment of the ozone NAAQS with the average number of expected exceedances of 0.5, a value less than 1.0.

It is unclear to EPA why the commentor believes that the missing daily ozone value for July 14, 1995 has been assumed to be less than the level of the standard. AIRS reports consistently show that there were no missing days assumed to be less than the standard for the Ottawa County monitor for 1995. The monitor captured 179 of a potential 183 days of monitoring data (98 percent data completeness). The 4 missing days (183 - 179 = 4) were not assumed to be less than the standard, but rather were accounted for in the calculation of the number of expected exceedances consistent with 40 CFR 51 (appendix H). The four missing days of data included July 14, 1995.

Comment: The commentor states that Michigan fails to comply with the section 176 conformity requirements and provides discussion to support the comment.

Response: This specific comment was submitted by the commentor to EPA in response to the EPA's February 2, 1996 (61 FR 3815-3817) direct final rulemaking to approve Michigan's general conformity SIP. As a result the EPA withdrew the direct final rulemaking in an action published on March 25, 1996 (61 FR 12030). This comment is not relevant to redesignation and therefore, will be addressed in the final rulemaking action on Michigan's general conformity SIP. See also the discussion above in the response on conformity requirements as they pertain to redesignation.

Comment: The commentor states that the Michigan City, Indiana ozone monitor (18-091-0005) in LaPorte County in northeastern Indiana recorded six exceedances during 1995, including daily ozone values of 0.154 ppm and 0.149 ppm. The commentor argues that several of the exceedances recorded in the Michigan City area are attributable, in part, to ozone and precursors originating in west Michigan.

The commentor notes that in response to EPA's June 2, 1995 proposed rulemaking pertaining to the determination of attainment for the Grand Rapids area, they submitted a comment regarding LMOS modeling for June 20-21 (Episode 4) which confirms that emissions from western Michigan contribute to exceedances of the ozone NAAQS. The commentor further notes that Episode 4 conditions are "associated with a lesser, yet significant, number of historical ozone episodes."

The commentor suggests that EPA stated that it has an "affirmative responsibility" to address transported emissions from upwind areas that significantly contribute to air quality problems in downwind areas. See 60 FR 37368.

The commentor notes that Michigan only cites LMOS modeling which shows that ozone and ozone precursors are transported into the Grand Rapids area. The commentor is concerned that Michigan refuses to acknowledge LMOS modeling that indicates that ozone and precursor emissions originating from Grand Rapids under certain meteorological conditions which occur with regular frequency, contribute to exceedances in downwind areas, including Michigan City, Indiana.

Response: The EPA has reviewed wind speeds and wind directions in Grand Rapids and Michigan City, Indiana for the 6 days on which exceedances were recorded in Michigan City, Indiana in 1995. The winds on the days at issue in Grand Rapids were predominantly from the south/southwest, i.e. into the Grand Rapids area with the exception of June 15, 1995, when the winds in Grand Rapids were predominantly from the easterly. The winds in Michigan City on the same days were also predominately from the south/southwest. Since Michigan City, Indiana is south-southwest of the Grand Rapids area, the exceedances on these days in 1995 were clearly not attributable to emissions from the Grand Rapids area but likely from the Chicago-Gary severe-17 nonattainment area.

The commenter has not clearly indicated what version of the modeling is used as the basis of their comment. It must be emphasized that the version of the LMOS modeling approved for regulatory purposes by EPA on December 15, 1994, for Episode 4 (June 20-21), does not clearly indicate the extent of the contribution of emissions from the Grand Rapids area to exceedances in the Michigan City, Indiana or any other downwind area. Since the extent of Grand Rapids' contribution to exceedances downwind cannot be determined with any degree of certainty given the information currently available, it would be premature for EPA to issue a finding pursuant to section 110(a)(2)(D). The commenter does not provide any additional information that would cause the EPA to determine that the imposition of additional control requirements in the area is warranted at this time. As further information becomes available, however, such a finding may be warranted.

In light of the preliminary information currently available, EPA does not believe that it would be justifiable to disapprove the redesignation request on the basis of concerns regarding transported emissions. The redesignation does not mean, however, that the Grand Rapids area might not have to achieve additional reductions pursuant to other provisions of the Act if it is determined in the future that such reductions are necessary to deal with transport from the Grand Rapids area to downwind areas. Finally, EPA would note that the issue of transported ozone and ozone precursors is being addressed by EPA through the OTAG which is composed of industry, environmental groups, Federal, State and Local governments from the eastern half of the United States. The Lake Michigan States of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Michigan are all participating, at some level, in the OTAG process (Phase I/Phase II attainment demonstrations as provided for in the March 2, 1995 memorandum from Mary Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation, entitled "Ozone Attainment Demonstrations"). In addition, Phase II of this analysis will assess the need for regional control strategies and refine local control strategies. Phase II will also provide the States and EPA the opportunity to determine appropriate regional strategies to resolve transport issues including any impacts the Grand Rapids area may have on ozone concentrations in its downwind areas.

The commenter references the July 20, 1995 final rule regarding the determination of applicability of certain RFP and attainment demonstration requirements to the Grand Rapids area, and claims that EPA stated that it has an "affirmative responsibility" to address transported emissions from upwind areas that significantly contribute to air quality problems in downwind areas. EPA was, in fact, responding to a comment from the same commenter regarding the impacts of Grand Rapids on downwind areas. The EPA stated that it has the authority under sections 110(a)(2)(A) and 110(a)(2)(D) of the Act to ensure that the required and necessary reductions are achieved in Grand Rapids, should subsequent modeling become available, such as the modeling that will be available through completion of the Phase II analysis, or any other subsequent modeling data. The EPA acknowledged in that final rule and in the April 2, 1996 proposal to redesignate Grand Rapids that preliminary modeling indicates that western Michigan is the recipient of transported ozone and that the area may also contribute to ozone concentrations in downwind areas. However, the LMOS modeling is being refined and is intertwined with the OTAG Phase I/Phase II process. Indeed, should the Phase II or any other modeling become available that demonstrates that reductions in ozone precursor emissions from the Grand Rapids area are necessary, the EPA has the authority to ensure that these emission reductions are achieved. In summary, currently no technically supportable basis exists for EPA to exercise its responsibility to take appropriate action to seek additional emission reductions in the Grand Rapids area.

Finally, Michigan submitted LMOS modeling which illustrated ozone and ozone precursor transport into the Grand Rapids area in the context of an overwhelming transport petition. Since Episode 4 models northeasterly wind patterns, it would not be relevant in demonstrating overwhelming transport into the area.

Comment: The commenter states that the maintenance plan submitted by Michigan is inadequate because Michigan's attainment emission inventory does not comply with EPA requirements and implies that there are insufficient enforceable pollution control measures available to ensure attainment and promptly correct any violations. The commenter appears to be saying that the SIP revision requirements of section 110 and part D should initially reduce ozone pollution, and subsequently maintain the improvement in air quality. The commenter also suggest that the emission inventory projections in the maintenance plan underestimate emissions growth in Grand Rapids.

Response: The commenter does not provide support for the contention that the attainment emission inventory does not comply with EPA requirements. EPA has reviewed Michigan's attainment emission inventory and believes that the inventory, in fact, is sufficient and meets EPA's requirements and guidance regarding emission inventories. With respect to the sufficiency of control measures necessary to ensure attainment and promptly correct a violation, the EPA would note first that Michigan has included inspection and maintenance, Stage II, low Reid Vapor Pressure fuel at 7.8 psi, and VOC RACT for major plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and industrial clean-up solvents as control measures to be implemented to address a violation not attributable to transport. EPA believes that these control measures are adequate for purposes of contingency measures. The control measures already implemented in the area were obviously sufficient to allow the area to attain the ozone standard. Furthermore, the State has demonstrated that VOC and NO_x emissions will continue to decrease from the 1991 attainment year levels through the 10 year maintenance period.

EPA agrees with the commenter that emission controls under section 110 and part D should reduce ozone pollution and subsequently maintain improvements in air quality. Although Michigan did not claim permanent and enforceable emission reductions credit for emission reductions achieved as a result of implementing section 110 and part D requirements, the State must continue to implement these programs even after redesignation.

It should be recognized that approval of the redesignation is not expected to result in an increase in ozone precursor emissions. In fact, a decrease in both VOC and NO_x emissions from the Grand Rapids area is expected over the 10-year maintenance period. See 61 FR 14522, April 2, 1996. It should be noted that redesignation does not allow States to automatically remove control programs which have contributed to an area's attainment of a NAAQS for any pollutant. The EPA's general policy is that a State may not relax the adopted and implemented SIP for an area upon the area's redesignation to attainment, unless an appropriate demonstration, based on modeling¹² or adequate justification¹³, is approved by the EPA. In this case no previously implemented control strategies are being relaxed as part of this redesignation.

Further, apart from Title I requirements related to the cessation of the Grand Rapids area's status as an ozone nonattainment area, the area is and will continue to be, required to satisfy all Act requirements. Other control programs required by the Act will be implemented in the area, regardless of the ozone designation, such as Title IV NO_x controls, section 112 toxic controls and FMVCP requirements.

The commentator does not provide any support for its contention that the emissions growth projections in the maintenance plan are underestimated for the Grand Rapids area. The emissions projections in the maintenance plan are based on the 1991 emission inventory developed for the LMOS modeling effort. The projections are based on growth factors extracted from the EPA's Economic Growth Analysis System and supplemental information used in the development of emission projections. Point source growth factors for utilities are based on source specific data provided by the utility companies. Area source growth factors were supplemented with population and gasoline sales/marketing data. The stationary source emission estimates (point and area) were developed using the geocoded emissions modeling and projections system (GEMAP) which employs projection methodologies equivalent to those in the EPA's Emissions Projections System. EPA's MOBILE5a model was used to develop the mobile source emission estimates. Therefore, the emission projections methods are consistent with EPA's guidance.

Comment: The commentator cites two separate provisions of the Act, sections 182(c)(9) and 175A(d) that demand that maintenance plans include "specific measures to be undertaken if the area fails to meet any applicable milestone. Such measures shall be included in the plan revision as contingency measures to take effect without further action by the State or Administrator upon a failure by the State to meet the applicable milestone." Section 182(c)(9). The commentator argues that Michigan's triggering mechanism is patently illegal and unacceptable under the Act.

The commentator states that the triggering mechanism defeats the meaning and purpose of the ozone standard (40 CFR 50.9) in that the ozone standard does not account for transport, i.e. an area is either in attainment or nonattainment due to observed ozone violations and that the designation and classification are purely a function of observed ozone values and not a function of the origin of ozone.

The commentator also questions the evaluation criteria utilized by Michigan, calling it "extremely suspect."

Response: Section 182(c)(9) contains the requirements for serious and above areas to adopt contingency measures pertaining to RFP, and is not relevant to this redesignation. Section 175A(d), however, is relevant and states that "* * * plan revision submitted under this section shall contain such contingency provisions as the Administrator deems necessary to assure that the State will promptly correct any violation of the standard which occurs after the redesignation of the area as an attainment area." The mechanism that would trigger the implementation of contingency measures in the Grand Rapids area is "an actual monitored ozone violation of the NAAQS, as defined in 40 CFR 50.9, determined not to be attributable to transport from upwind areas." The EPA believes that this triggering mechanism is appropriate for the Grand Rapids area, given the overwhelming evidence demonstrating that the area is the recipient of transported ozone and ozone precursors from the Milwaukee-Chicago-Gary severe-17 nonattainment areas. EPA believes that this triggering mechanism satisfies the requirement of section 175A(d), because if a violation is due to transport, then control measures implemented in the Grand Rapids area will not likely correct the violation. Thus, when violations are occurring as a result of transport, an attempt to impose control measures in the Grand Rapids area would be futile. EPA believes that it is implicit in the Act that the purpose of control measures is to achieve attainment.

Because violations due to transport are not accounted for in the ozone NAAQS at 40 CFR 50.9 does not mean that transport cannot be taken into account for purposes of implementing a control strategy to correct a violation. Although areas are designated and classified based on monitored violations, regardless of their origin, areas redesignated to attainment will be provided an opportunity to implement contingency measures to correct the violation before EPA would exercise its authority to redesignate the area back to nonattainment.

As part of the contingency plan for the Grand Rapids area, Michigan will conduct a technical analysis of meteorological conditions leading up to and during the exceedances contributing to a violation in order to determine local culpability. The commentator is concerned about the criteria to be used to evaluate transport, although the commentator does not provide any specifics about what criteria they are concerned. Furthermore, EPA notes that any analysis conducted by Michigan to determine local culpability will be subject to a public process. As part of the contingency plan, Michigan has incorporated procedures to involve EPA and afford the public the opportunity to review and participate in the determination of whether transport or local sources are reasonable for a violation.

Comment: The commentator contends that the only contingency measure actually adopted by Michigan is low RVP to 7.8 psi during the ozone season. The commentator notes that implementation of the I/M program was stayed by the Governor of Michigan on December 29, 1994, and that the Michigan legislature rescinded implementation of the Stage II vapor recovery program once the EPA promulgated its on board canister rule.

Response: The Grand Rapids moderate ozone nonattainment area was required to adopt and implement a basic I/M program. An enhanced I/M program was adopted by Michigan and fully approved by EPA into the SIP on October 11, 1994 (59 FR 51379), and was to have commenced operation on January 1, 1995. By the end of 1994, the Grand Rapids area had attained the ozone standard and was therefore, eligible for redesignation. The January 5, 1995 (60 FR 1735) revisions to the national I/M rule stipulate that areas otherwise eligible for redesignation may submit the following in order to satisfy the I/M component of the SIP:

legislative authority for basic I/M; a provision in the SIP providing that I/M be placed in the contingency measure portion of the maintenance plan; and an enforceable schedule and commitment by the Governor or his designee for adoption and implementation of a basic I/M program upon a triggering event. Also, see September 17, 1993 memorandum from Michael H. Shapiro, Acting Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation, entitled, "SIP Requirements for Areas Submitting Requests for Redesignation to Attainment of the Ozone, Carbon Monoxide NAAQS on or after November 15, 1992,"¹⁴ memorandum. With this, the Governor stayed the implementation of the I/M program in the Grand Rapids area. The Grand Rapids area, therefore, only needs to satisfy the items noted above. The legislative authority to implement an I/M program is contained in Michigan's Enrolled House Bill No. 4165, which provides that I/M may be implemented as a contingency measure consistent with an area's maintenance plan if it is not necessary for maintenance. The section 175A maintenance plan provides for the implementation of I/M as a contingency measure and also provides an enforceable schedule for the implementation of I/M as a contingency measure.

With respect to the commentor's concern regarding the rescission of Stage II, section 10c(3) of Michigan's Enrolled Senate Bill No. 726 for Stage II suspends implementation of the Stage II program once EPA has promulgated the final onboard rule. However, section 10c(3) also retains the authority to implement Stage II as a contingency measure in a maintenance plan for an area redesignated to attainment. Thus, once Grand Rapids is redesignated to attainment, Stage II may be implemented by the State as a contingency measure pursuant to the maintenance plan.

In conclusion, the State has adopted legislative authority to implement I/M, Stage II and low RVP to 7.8 psi as contingency measures.

Comment: The commentor notes that the January 24, 1996 letter from Dennis Drake, Chief of the Air Quality Division, Michigan Department of Environmental Quality to Valdas Adamkus, Regional Administrator, Region 5, and the State's April 11, 1996 contingency plan SIP revision imply that the VOC non-CTG

RACT rules were at least adopted when in fact they were not.

Response: The January 24, 1996 letter merely notified EPA of the State's intention to revise the Grand Rapids area's maintenance plan to include a commitment to adopt and implement non-CTG VOC RACT rules for major sources of plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and industrial clean-up solvents as contingency measures for the Grand Rapids area. The actual revision to the maintenance plan SIP, dated April 11, 1996, states that rules to apply non-CTG RACT to major sources of plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and industrial clean up solvents have been "drafted." The State specifically notes that the promulgation process requires additional steps including "approval of the proposed rules by the Office of Regulatory Reform, the Legislative Services Bureau, and the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules." The State clearly indicated that the rules are draft and additional steps are necessary for promulgation. Furthermore, EPA explained in the April 2, 1996 proposal that the contingency measure for this element is that the State would commit to adopt and implement non-CTG VOC RACT rules for the three source categories noted previously.

Comment: The commentor suggests that the State's failure to adopt and implement the VOC non-CTG RACT rules in accordance with section 182(b)(2)(A) of the Act violates the sections 110 and 107(d)(3)(E)(v) requirements. Section 107(d)(3)(E) requires the State to adopt a complete part D nonattainment plan, which these non-CTG VOC RACT rules are part of, prior to redesignation.

Response: In the April 2, 1996 proposal, the EPA acknowledges that the section 182(b)(2)(A) requirement for non-CTG VOC RACT rules is an applicable requirement and that current EPA redesignation policy requires that these rules be fully adopted, and if not necessary for maintenance of the NAAQS, be moved to the contingency plan portion of the maintenance plan. However, the EPA, in this instance, proposed an exception to this policy based on a combination of three factors as previously discussed. The commentor, however, has not provided comments specific to the rationale used as the basis of the exception.

EPA emphasizes that, even without this exception to its general policy, the State would have been able to have the RACT rules become a part of the contingency measures in the maintenance plan upon approval of the redesignation. However, that could have occurred only after or upon EPA's full approval of the adopted RACT rules. Therefore, the only difference between EPA's general policy and the exception to that policy proposed for Grand Rapids is that a commitment to adopt and implement the RACT rules in an expeditious manner, rather than fully-adopted RACT rules, would be among the contingency measures in the maintenance plan. As previously discussed, the EPA believes that this exception to its general policy is legally permissible under the statutory provisions governing redesignation. The VOC RACT requirements remain applicable requirements under section 107 and EPA believes that their treatment in the contingency plan as commitments is consistent with the manner in which EPA has accepted other commitments to adopt and implement contingency measures in maintenance plans under section 175A.

Comment: The commentor states that the contingency measures provided for in the maintenance plan are inadequate and illusory. The commentor further elaborates that none of the contingency measures are adopted with the necessary legislative authority or described with sufficient specificity, nor do they include milestones to insure prompt implementation as required by section 175A(d) or EPA guidance.

Response: Contrary to the commentor's statement, legislative authority is adopted for three of the contingency measures, I/M, Stage II and low RVP to 7.8 psi. Further, the State has submitted an enforceable commitment to implement the three non-CTG VOC RACT rules. Neither the Act nor redesignation guidance require milestones to track the State's compliance with adoption and implementation of contingency measures. The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum suggests that the contingency plan identify the contingency measure to be adopted, provide a schedule and procedure for adoption and implementation, and provide a specific time limit for action by the State. The Grand Rapids area's contingency plan identifies the measure to be adopted, provides a procedure for adoption of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules ("promulgation involves * * * additional steps * * * approval of the proposed rules by the Office of Regulatory Reform, the Legislative Services Bureau * * *"). See April 11, 1996, SIP revision) and provides a schedule for implementation (e.g. 20 months from the Governor's decision to employ these rules as contingency measures). It is noted that the critical component of this schedule is not the State's internal schedule for adoption of the rule(s) but the schedule for full implementation.

It is further noted that the contingency measure implementation schedules for the Grand Rapids area were derived from the Act, and applicable State and Federal regulations. The schedule established for the implementation of contingency measures provides for the implementation of such measures as soon as within 1 year of a violation¹⁵. The EPA believes that this schedule satisfies the criterion of section 175A regarding the need for contingency measures to promptly correct violations of the standard occurring during the maintenance period.

Comment: The commentor states that EPA guidance requires that a maintenance plan "ensure prompt correction of any violation of the NAAQS." Yet the Grand Rapids maintenance plan SIP revision of April 11, 1996 allows implementation of the non-CTG RACT rules within 26 months of an ozone violation. The commentor is concerned that 26 months for implementation of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules does not ensure prompt correction of a violation. In addition, the maintenance plan lacks adequate milestones to track the State's compliance.

Response: The 26-month schedule to implement the non-CTG VOC RACT rules takes into account 6 months to quality assure the monitoring data indicating a violation of the ozone NAAQS, conduct an analysis to determine local culpability with respect to a violation, and to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the determination of local culpability, 8 months for full adoption of any of the non-CTG RACT rule(s) chosen as a contingency measure, and 12 months for full implementation.¹⁶ The EPA believes that this is an expeditious schedule for adoption and implementation of these rules.

Furthermore, neither the Act nor redesignation guidance requires milestones to track the State's compliance with adoption and implementation of contingency measures. The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum suggests that the contingency plan identify the contingency measure to be adopted, provide a schedule and procedure for adoption and implementation, and provide a specific time limit for action by the State. The Grand Rapids area's contingency plan identifies the measure to be adopted, provides a procedure for adoption of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules ("promulgation involves * * * additional steps * * * approval of the proposed rules by the Office of Regulatory Reform, the Legislative Services Bureau * * *"). See April 11, 1996, SIP revision) and provides a schedule for implementation (e.g. 20 months from the Governor's decision to employ these rules as contingency measures). The critical component of this schedule is not the State's internal schedule for adoption of the rule(s) but the schedule for full implementation.

Finally, there are other more effective contingency measures than the non-CTG VOC RACT rules that could be implemented more expeditiously such as Stage II and low RVP gasoline (to 7.8 psi).

Comment: The commentor states that allowing the State to commit to subsequent adoption of the three required VOC non-CTG RACT rules as contingency measures is "extraordinary and prohibited * * * preferential treatment" for Michigan and is inconsistent with EPA guidance and recent actions on other moderate area redesignation requests. The commentor believes that such preferential treatment rewards the State for its failure to satisfy Act requirements. This is particularly so, since the EPA penalized adjacent States that did not adopt and implement these non-CTG VOC RACT rules and other control measures. Preferential treatment is "illegal" and undermines the cooperation of other States implementing future control measures to reduce ozone and ozone precursor emissions and other efforts such as LMOS and OTAG. The commentor further states that the EPA's preferential treatment is especially evident in its allowing Michigan to determine the need for implementation of contingency measures based on parameters developed by Michigan.

Response: EPA again notes that, even without the exception to its general policy proposed in the April 2, 1996 rulemaking, the State would have been able to have the RACT rules become a part of the contingency measures in the maintenance plan upon approval of the redesignation. However, that could have occurred only after or upon EPA's full approval of the adopted RACT rules. Consequently, the only difference between EPA's general policy and the exception to that policy described in the proposal is that a commitment to adopt and implement the RACT rules in an expeditious manner, rather than fully-adopted RACT rules, would be among the contingency measures in the maintenance plan. EPA would also note that, in general, contingency measures need not be fully adopted. See September 1992 Calcagni memorandum. Thus, EPA is acknowledging that allowing Michigan to incorporate these non-CTG VOC RACT measures into the contingency plan without fully adopted rule is an exception to policy. The commentor, however, has not provided any basis to dispute the rationale for this exception and factors presented in the April 2, 1996 proposal.

The EPA disagrees with the commentor's contention that EPA is affording Michigan "preferential treatment." EPA guidance and policies have been, or can be, applied to all areas, including Grand Rapids, in an equitable manner. EPA periodically will make an exception to policy where an exception is warranted and appropriate. Allowing an exception to policy for a particular area does not constitute preferential treatment for that area but instead is a neutral determination that is available to other areas that could also demonstrate circumstances that would warrant the same exception. This is the first instance that the issue of full adoption of these particular non-CTG VOC RACT rules has arisen in the context of redesignation. As such, it is in this action that the exception to policy is being exercised.

The commentor does not cite any instances, nor is EPA aware of any instances, where EPA penalized an adjacent State that did not adopt and implement these non-CTG VOC RACT rules. The commentor does not specify the "other control measures" referred to.

In addition, with respect to the Grand Rapids maintenance plan, Michigan has incorporated a process not only to involve the EPA but to afford the public an opportunity to participate in the process to determine the necessity to select and implement contingency measures based on a technical analysis to determine local culpability. Thus, although Michigan will be conducting the analysis an opportunity for the public review and participate will be provided.

Comment: The commentor states that the non-CTG VOC RACT rules should have been adopted and implemented by November 15, 1994. The commentor also notes that neither Michigan nor EPA acknowledges this. The commentor adds that EPA has failed to enforce sections 182(b)(2)(A) at that time and is failing to enforce section 175A of the Act, now.

¹⁵ Phased in implementation of Stage II commences within 6 months of the Governor's decision to employ Stage II or one year of a monitored violation.

Response: Although EPA's general redesignation policy requires that rules and programs for requirements that come due prior to submittal of a complete redesignation request be adopted and fully approved into the area's SIP, it also allows for these measures to be moved into the area's maintenance plan as contingency measures if they are not yet implemented and not necessary for maintenance of the standard. September 1993 Shapiro memorandum. Thus, the non-CTG VOC RACT rules should have been adopted but not necessarily implemented. The rules would have been moved over into the area's maintenance plan since they were not needed for maintenance.

The April 2, 1996 proposal to approve the Grand Rapids redesignation does, in fact, acknowledge that the non-CTG VOC RACT rules were required to be submitted to EPA by November 15, 1994 and implemented by November 15, 1995. See 61 FR 14526. The State's April 11, 1996 submittal also acknowledges that these rules were due on November 15, 1994.

For the reasons explained above, however, EPA believes that its treatment of these rules in this redesignation is justifiable and appropriate.

Comment: The commentator is concerned that Michigan's contingency plan lacks milestones and is inconsistent with the specificity that the EPA required of contingency plans in other areas such as the Toledo, Ohio contingency plan, which included a number of milestones to gauge the State's progress.

Response: Neither the Act nor redesignation guidance require milestones to track the State's compliance with adoption and implementation of contingency measures. The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum suggests that the contingency plan identify the contingency measure to be adopted, provide a schedule and procedure for adoption and implementation, and provide a specific time limit for action by the State. The Grand Rapids area's contingency plan identifies the measure to be adopted, provides a procedure for adoption of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules ("promulgation involves * * * additional steps * * * approval of the proposed rules by the Office of Regulatory Reform, the Legislative Services Bureau * * *"). See April 11, 1996, SIP revision) and provides a schedule for implementation (e.g. 20 months from the Governor's decision to employ these rules as contingency measures). The critical component of this schedule is not the State's internal schedule for adoption of the rule(s), but the schedule for full implementation.

Comment: The commentator is concerned that the schedule for implementation of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules for the three source categories identified would not "promptly correct any violation of the standard" since it allows over 2 years after an ozone violation before adopting and implementing a selected contingency measure.

Response: As noted previously, the 26-month schedule to implement the non-CTG VOC RACT rules takes into account: 6 months to quality assure the monitoring data indicating a violation of the ozone NAAQS, conduct an analysis to determine local culpability with respect to the violation, and afford the public an opportunity to participate in the determination of local culpability; 8 months for full adoption of any of the non-CTG RACT rule(s) chosen as a contingency measure; and 12 months for full implementation. The EPA believes that this is an adequate and expeditious schedule for adoption and implementation of these rules. In addition, the contingency plan contains other measures that provide for implementation of a measure as soon as within 1 year of a violation.¹⁷

Comment: The commentator suggests that the September 1992 Calcagni memorandum requires States to implement all the control measures prior to redesignation but that a revision to the SIP to remove measures may be submitted. The commentator interprets this to mean that the State must have adopted and implemented the "applicable control measures" in the area. The commentator notes that Michigan did not adopt and implement the non-CTG VOC RACT rules for plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and clean-up solvents as required by section 182(b)(2)(A). In addition, Michigan did not adopt rules for non-CTG source categories which it deemed unnecessary due to the absence of existing sources.

Response: The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum interprets section 175A(d) as requiring the continued implementation of all measures contained in the area's part D nonattainment plan and that removal of these implemented measures would require a demonstration that the measures are not necessary for attainment or maintenance. In addition, once removed those measures are required to be incorporated into the area's contingency plan as contingency measures. The non-CTG VOC RACT rules, however, were not adopted by the State or approved by EPA into the area's part D nonattainment SIP. As such, the non-CTG VOC RACT rules were not required to be implemented as a prerequisite for redesignation since they were not incorporated into the part D nonattainment SIP. Furthermore, EPA's general redesignation policy does not require the implementation of all measures that were applicable to the area instead, it allows unimplemented measures to be moved into an area's maintenance plan as contingency measures if they are not necessary for maintenance. See Detroit redesignation with respect to Stage I (March 7, 1995, 60 FR 12459).

It is unclear to EPA why the commentator would be concerned that the State did not adopt rules applicable to sources which do not exist in the State. Appendix E of the supplement to the General Preamble (April 28, 1992, 57 FR 18070) stipulated that the States submit a list of major stationary sources that are expected to be subject to one of the 11 source categories for which EPA was to issue a CTG. Michigan submitted such a list on November 15, 1992. States have not been required to adopt rules for non-CTG source categories for which no sources exist in the State.

Comment: The commentator states that EPA noted to Michigan, in its preliminary review of the Grand Rapids area's redesignation request, that adopted rules for the applicable source categories in Appendix E should be submitted. In response, the State committed to adopt these non-CTG VOC RACT rules as contingency measures should they be chosen as contingency measures. The commentator believes this is an "inadequate and unacceptable substitute" for adoption and implementation of these rules.

Response: EPA's comments merely represented a preliminary review of the State's redesignation request. As discussed in the April 2, 1996 proposal, current EPA policy, in fact, would require the State to have submitted adopted non-CTG VOC RACT rules for the 3 source categories at issue before the area could be redesignated to attainment. As discussed previously, however, EPA proposed to make an exception to policy in this instance for several reasons, including the fact that the RACT rules at issue came due after the end of the ozone season in which Grand Rapids attained the standard and were not needed to bring about attainment of the ozone standard in Grand Rapids. In addition, the State has demonstrated continued maintenance of the ozone standard through 2007 without the implementation of these measures and other contingency measures are included in the maintenance plan that would bring about far greater emission reductions than the VOC RACT rules, and would therefore be substantially more effective in terms of correcting violations attributable to local emissions from the Grand Rapids area that may occur after redesignation. Again, the commentator does not challenge the rational used to make the exception to policy pertaining to the non-CTG RACT rules.

EPA's general redesignation policy requires that rules and programs for requirements that come due prior to submittal of a complete redesignation request be adopted and fully approved into the area's SIP. The policy also allows for these measures to be moved into the area's maintenance plan as contingency measures if they are not necessary for maintenance of the standard. September 1993 Shapiro memorandum. Thus, the non-CTG VOC RACT rules should have been adopted but may have been moved over into the area's maintenance plan, if the area demonstrated that the measure(s) was not necessary for maintenance.

Comment: The commentator submits that the EPA is prohibited from accepting commitments by a State to adopt and implement contingency measures in place of fully adopted and implemented rules as required for SIP revisions pursuant to section 110(k)(4). Natural Resources Defense Counsel (NRDC) v. U.S. EPA.

Response: EPA does not believe that the D.C. Circuit's decision in NRDC v. U.S. EPA, 22 F.3d 1125 (D.C. Cir. 1994) concerning the use of commitments under section 110(k)(4) prohibits EPA from fully approving commitments by a State to adopt and implement contingency measures in a section 175A maintenance plan. The NRDC decision concerned the use of the section 110(k)(4) conditional approval mechanism, which contemplates the conversion of a conditional approval to a disapproval if a State fails to comply with a commitment to adopt specific enforceable measures by a date certain, which may be no later than one year after the conditional approval. In contrast, the commitments regarding contingency measures in a section 175A maintenance plan become enforceable commitments once they are fully approved into the maintenance plan. As these commitments are fully approved into the SIP, they, like other provisions of a fully-approved plan, are enforceable pursuant to the provisions of the Act.

See September 1992 Calcagni memorandum at p. 12 (stating that "the contingency plan is considered to be an enforceable part of the SIP"). EPA notes that it has not relied on the section 110(k)(4) conditional approval mechanism for dealing with commitments regarding maintenance plan contingency measures either before or after the NRDC decision, but has consistently fully-approved such commitments, thereby making them an enforceable part of the SIP. In sum, EPA does not believe that its authority to accept such commitments was affected by the NRDC decision.

Comment: The commentator cites the September 1992 Calcagni memorandum which provides that, "for purposes of section 175A, a State is not required to have fully adopted contingency measures that will take effect without further action by the State in order for the maintenance plan to be approved," and interprets this language to imply that contingency measures need not be self-executing and provides the State discretion in selection of a contingency measure from a host of "adopted contingency measures."

Response: The September 1992 Calcagni memorandum citation noted by the commentator is valid. However, the September 1992 Calcagni memorandum goes on to say in the next sentences that "the contingency plan * * * should ensure that the contingency measures are adopted expeditiously once they are triggered." Clearly, this indicates that contingency measures need not be fully adopted since the contingency plan should ensure expeditious adoption of contingency measures.

Comment: The commentator is concerned that the State did not implement an enhanced I/M program as scheduled in December 1994 and that the State has partially rescinded the legal authority for the I/M program.

Response: The Grand Rapids moderate ozone nonattainment area was required to adopt and implement a basic I/M program. An enhanced I/M program was adopted by Michigan and fully approved by EPA into the SIP on October 11, 1994 (59 FR 51379) and was to have commenced implementation on January 1, 1995. By the end of 1994, the Grand Rapids area had attained the ozone standard and therefore, was eligible for redesignation. The January 5, 1995 (60 FR 1735) revisions to the national I/M rule stipulate that areas otherwise eligible for redesignation, may submit the following in order to satisfy the I/M component of the SIP: legislative authority for basic I/M; a provision in the SIP providing that I/M be placed in the contingency measure portion of the maintenance plan; and an enforceable schedule and commitment by the Governor or his designee for adoption and implementation of a basic I/M program upon a triggering event. Also, see September 1993 Shapiro memorandum. With this, the Governor stayed the implementation of the I/M program in the Grand Rapids area. In order to satisfy the I/M component of the SIP, therefore, the State needs to satisfy only the items noted above. The legislative authority to implement an I/M program is contained in Michigan's Enrolled House Bill No. 4165 which provides that I/M may be implemented as a contingency measure consistent with an area's maintenance plan if it is not necessary for maintenance. The 175A maintenance plan provides for the implementation of I/M as a contingency measure, and also provides an enforceable schedule for the implementation of I/M as a contingency measure.

Finally, EPA is not aware of any revocation of the legal authority of the I/M program. In fact, discussions with the State verified that Michigan's Enrolled House Bill No. 4165 has not been revoked or repealed but is still valid.

Comment: The commentator conducted an analysis of 1995 ambient monitoring data and concluded that the emissions from the Grand Rapids area produces tropospheric ozone. Adoption and implementation of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules for plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and industrial clean-up solvents would have achieved considerable, cost-effective reduction in local VOC emissions as well as lessened the exposure of the community to toxic air pollutants. The commentator states that, if EPA had enforced part D nonattainment plan requirements for the Grand Rapids area, significant VOC emission reductions would have occurred.

Response: The EPA does not dispute the commentator's contention that ozone and ozone precursor emissions from the Grand Rapids urbanized area contribute to the formation of ozone nor that implementation of the non-CTG VOC RACT rules for the three source categories would have achieved reductions in local VOC emissions. Based on the current ozone standard, 0.12 ppm, however, the Grand Rapids area has demonstrated attainment of the current ozone NAAQS in the three year period 1992-1994 and continues to demonstrate attainment for the period 1993-1995 even without the implementation of these rules.

plan requirements, EPA's general redesignation policy provides that part D nonattainment plan requirements that have been adopted but unimplemented may be moved into the area's maintenance plan as contingency measures if the area demonstrates that these rules are not necessary for maintenance of the ozone NAAQS. Even if EPA had made a finding of failure to submit after the State of Michigan's failure to submit the non-CTG VOC RACT rules at issue, there is no assurance that those rules would have been adopted and implemented prior to redesignation of the Grand Rapids area. Assuming that the State of Michigan would have adopted and submitted such rules to EPA after a finding of failure to submit, such rules would not have had to have been implemented prior to this redesignation. Indeed, as explained above, since maintenance of the standard has been demonstrated in the Grand Rapids area without such rules, the State would probably have simply included such rules on the list of contingency measures in the maintenance plan and not implemented them prior to the redesignation. In sum, no environmental benefit, and no reduction of emissions would have been realized by EPA's enforcement of section 182(b)(2)(A) in this case.

The commentator's calculations of emission reductions resulting from the implementation of non-CTG VOC RACT in the plastic parts, wood furniture and industrial clean up solvents are somewhat unclear and inaccurate. However, the EPA agrees with the commentator's assumption that in the calculations to determine the emissions on a tons per day basis from a tons per year basis, the tons per year figure should be divided by 365 days. Since the tons per year figures were based on a theoretical emission value, assuming the facilities are operating 365 days per year, dividing by 365 is more accurate and appropriate than dividing by 250. In its original calculations, the EPA erroneously divided by 250 days assuming that the tons per year figure was based on actual emissions and the facilities only operated on weekdays and not on weekends or holidays.

The commentator references two documents as the basis of its calculations, the "Lake Michigan Ozone Control Program Evaluation of Possible Control Measures: Control of Surface Coating of Plastic Parts; Control of Emissions from Wood Furniture Coating [VOC], Evaluation of Possible Control Measures for Solvent Metal Cleaning," developed through the Lake Michigan Air Directors Consortium, April 16,

1993¹⁸ and "Meeting the 15-Percent Rate-of-Progress Requirement Under the Clean Air Act: A Menu of Options," from STAPPA/ALAPCO, September 1993.¹⁹

In calculating potential emission reductions for the plastic parts coating source category, EPA believes that the commentor assumed a 95 percent reduction in emissions. This value appears to be based on the LADCO document, which estimates a potential 40-95 percent emission reduction depending on the level of control applied to the source category. The 95 percent reduction assumes that these sources are uncontrolled and that the State's rule would require the most stringent of three control options that represent RACT. Since Michigan has a rule applicable to plastic parts coating sources, the emission reductions would be far less than the 95 percent assumed by the commentor. In fact, according to Michigan's calculations, a non-CTG VOC RACT rule would achieve, approximately, an additional 7 percent reduction to the reductions already achieved by Michigan's Rule 632. The 7 percent reduction represents the additional reductions that would be achieved from the level of controls required by Michigan's current Rule 632 and a level of RACT between the first and second control options available in the draft CTG for this source category.

With respect to the wood furniture source category, the commentor assumed a 70 percent emission reduction. It appears that this value, again, was based on the LADCO document, which estimates a 50-70 percent emission reduction in the wood furniture coating source category. In its calculation of the emission reductions for this source category, EPA assumed a 30 percent emission reduction. This was based on an emission reduction estimate from the non-CTG document "Control of Volatile Organic Compound Emissions from Wood Furniture Manufacturing Operations," September 7, 1995. Furthermore, the STAPPA/ALAPCO document referred to by the commentor also estimates an emission reduction of approximately 36 percent. While EPA's assumption is not as optimistic as that assumed by the commentor, EPA believes that the 30 percent emission reduction is a reasonable assumption based on EPA guidance and documentation, which estimates a range of reductions between 20 and 47 percent depending on the process being controlled. Furthermore, even if the optimistic 70 percent emission reduction is assumed, emission reductions from the implementation of I/M or low RVP (to 7.8 psi), at various time intervals, would achieve greater reductions than the plastic parts coating, wood furniture coating and industrial clean-up solvents in aggregate. In addition, emission reductions from the implementation of I/M, low RVP or Stage II would bring about far greater reductions than any of these non-CTG VOC RACT rules individually, even with the 70 percent emission reduction assumed by the commentor.

The commentor appears to be assuming a 15 percent emission reduction for the industrial clean-up solvents source category. The EPA based its calculations on an assumption of 25 percent reduction. Since the basis of the 15 percent assumption is unclear and EPA assumed a higher percentage emission reduction than did the commentor, this does not appear to be an issue of contention.

Consequently, EPA's conclusion that the other, more effective contingency measures, should and would be implemented first even if these RACT rules were to be fully adopted prior to redesignation, is not affected.

III. Final Rulemaking Action

The EPA approves the redesignation of the Grand Rapids, Michigan ozone area to attainment and the section 175A maintenance plan as a revision to the Michigan SIP. The State of Michigan has satisfied all of the necessary requirements of the Act.

EPA finds that there is good cause for this redesignation to attainment, and SIP revision to become effective immediately upon publication because a delayed effective date is unnecessary due to the nature of a redesignation to attainment which relieves the area from certain Clean Air Act requirements that would otherwise apply to it. The immediate effective date for this redesignation is authorized under both 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(1), which provides that rulemaking actions may become effective less than 30 days after publication if the rule "grants or recognizes an exemption or relieves a restriction" and section 553(d)(3), which allows an effective date less than 30 days after publication "as otherwise provided by the agency for good cause found and published with the rule."

Nothing in this action should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request for revision to any SIP. Each request for revision to any SIP shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

¹⁸ Hereinafter referred to as "LADCO document."

Ozone SIPs are designed to satisfy the requirements of part D of the Act and to provide for attainment and maintenance of the ozone NAAQS. This final redesignation should not be interpreted as authorizing the State to delete, alter, or rescind any of the VOC or NO_x emission limitations and restrictions contained in the approved ozone SIP. Changes to ozone SIP VOC regulations rendering them less stringent than those contained in the EPA approved plan cannot be made unless a revised plan for attainment and maintenance is submitted to and approved by EPA. Unauthorized relaxations, deletions, and changes could result in both a finding of nonimplementation [section 173(b) of the Act] and in a SIP deficiency call made pursuant to section 110(a)(2)(H) of the Act.

This action has been classified as a Table 3 action by the Regional Administrator under the procedures published in the Federal Register on January 19, 1989 (54 FR 2214-2225), as revised by a July 10, 1995, memorandum from Mary Nichols, Assistant Administrator for Air and Radiation. The Office of Management and Budget has exempted this regulatory action from Executive Order 12866 review.

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 600 et seq., EPA must prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis assessing the impact of any proposed or final rule on small entities. 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604. Alternatively, EPA may certify that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small not-for-profit enterprises, and government entities with jurisdiction over populations of less than 50,000. This determination does not create any new requirements, but suspends the indicated requirements. Therefore, because this action does not impose any new requirements, I certify that it does not have a significant impact on small entities affected.

The EPA has determined that today's final action does not include a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs of $100 million or more to either State, local or tribal governments in the aggregate, or to the private sector. This Federal action imposes no new Federal requirements. Accordingly, no additional costs to State, local, or tribal governments, or to the private sector, result from this action.

The SIP approvals under section 110 and subchapter I, part D of the Act do not create any new requirements, but simply approve requirements that the State is already imposing. Therefore, because the Federal SIP approval does not impose any new requirements, I certify that it does not have a significant impact on any small entities affected. Moreover, due to the nature of the Federal-State relationship under the Act, preparation of a regulatory flexibility analysis would constitute Federal inquiry into the economic reasonableness of State action. The Act forbids EPA to base its actions on such grounds. Union Electric Co. v. U.S.E.P.A., 427 U.S. 246, 256-66 (S.Ct. 1976); 42 U.S.C. section 7401(a)(2).

Under section 801(a)(1)(A) of the APA as amended by the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996, EPA submitted a report constraining this rule and other required information to the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representative and the Comptroller General of the General Accounting Office prior to publication of the rule in today's Federal Register. This rule is not a "major rule" as defined by section 804(2) of the APA as amended.

Under section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 ("Unfunded Mandates Act"), signed into law on March 22, 1995, the EPA must prepare a budgetary impact statement to accompany any proposed or final rulemaking that includes a Federal mandate that may result in estimated costs to State, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate; or to the private sector, of $100 million or more. Section 203 requires the EPA to establish a plan for informing and advising any small governments that may be significantly or uniquely impacted by the rule. Under section 205, the EPA must select the most cost-effective and least burdensome alternative that achieves the objectives of the rule and is consistent with statutory requirements.

Redesignation of an area to attainment under section 107(d)(3)(E) of the Act does not impose any new requirements on small entities. Redesignation is an action that affects the status of a geographical area and does not impose any regulatory requirements on sources. The Administrator certifies that the approval of the redesignation request will not affect a substantial number of small entities.

Under section 307(b)(1) of the Act, petitions for judicial review of this final action must be filed in the United States Court of Appeals for the appropriate circuit by August 20, 1996. Filing a petition for reconsideration by the Administrator of this final rule does not affect the finality of this rule for the purposes of judicial review nor does it extend the time within which a petition for judicial review may be filed, and shall not postpone the effectiveness of such rule or action. This action may not be challenged later in proceedings to enforce its requirements. (See section 307(b)(2)).

Subpart X—Michigan

1. The authority citation for Part 52 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 42 U.S.C. 7401-7671q.

2. Section 52.1170 is amended by adding paragraph (c)(106) to read as follows:

§ 52.1170 Identification of plan.

(c) * * *

(106) On March 9, 1995, the State of Michigan submitted as a revision to the Michigan State Implementation Plan for ozone a State Implementation Plan for a section 175A maintenance plan for the Grand Rapids area as part of Michigan's request to redesignate the area from moderate nonattainment to attainment for ozone. Elements of the section 175A maintenance plan include an attainment emission inventory for NO_x and VOC, a demonstration of maintenance of the ozone NAAQS with projected emission inventories to the year 2007 for NO_x and VOC, a plan to verify continued attainment, a contingency plan, and a commitment to submit a subsequent maintenance plan revision in 8 years as required by the Clean Air Act. If a violation of the ozone NAAQS, determined not to be attributable to transport from upwind areas, is monitored, Michigan will implement one or more appropriate contingency measure(s) contained in the contingency plan. Once a violation of the ozone NAAQS is recorded, the State will notify EPA, review the data for quality assurance, and conduct a technical analysis, including an analysis of meteorological conditions leading up to and during the exceedances contributing to the violation, to determine local culpability. This preliminary analysis will be submitted to EPA and subjected to public review and comment. The State will solicit and consider EPA's technical advice and analysis before making a final determination on the cause of the violation. The Governor or his designee will select the contingency measure(s) to be implemented within six months of a monitored violation attributable to ozone and ozone precursors from the Grand Rapids area. The menu of contingency measures includes a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program, Stage II vapor recovery, gasoline RVP reduction to 7.8 psi, RACT on major non-CTG VOC sources in the categories of coating of plastics, coating of wood furniture, and industrial cleaning solvents. Michigan submitted legislation or rules for I/M in House Bill No 4165, signed by Governor John Engler on November 13, 1993; Stage II in Senate Bill 726 signed by Governor John Engler on November 13, 1993; and RVP reduction to 7.8 psi in House Bill 4898 signed by Governor John Engler on November 13, 1993.

(C) State of Michigan House Bill No. 4898 signed by the Governor and effective on November 13, 1993.

2. Section 52.1174 is amended by adding paragraph (o) to read as follows:

§ 52.1174 Control strategy: Ozone.

* * * * *

(o) Approval—On March 9, 1996, the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality submitted a request to redesignate the Grand Rapids ozone nonattainment area (consisting of Kent and Ottawa Counties) to attainment for ozone. As part of the redesignation request, the State submitted a maintenance plan as required by 175A of the Clean Air Act, as amended in 1990. Elements of the section 175A maintenance plan include an attainment emission inventory for NO_x and VOC, a demonstration of maintenance of the ozone NAAQS with projected emission inventories to the year 2007 for NO_x and VOC, a plan to verify continued attainment, a contingency plan, and a commitment to submit a subsequent maintenance plan revision in 8 years as required by the Clean Air Act. If a violation of the ozone NAAQS, determined not to be attributable to transport from upwind areas, is monitored, Michigan will implement one or more appropriate contingency measure(s) contained in the contingency plan. Once a violation of the ozone NAAQS is recorded, the State will notify EPA, review the data for quality assurance, and conduct a technical analysis, including an analysis of meteorological conditions leading up to and during the exceedances contributing to the violation, to determine local culpability. This preliminary analysis will be submitted to EPA and subjected to public review and comment. The State will solicit and consider EPA's technical advice and analysis before making a final determination on the cause of the violation. The Governor or his designee will select the contingency measure(s) to be implemented within 6 months of a monitored violation attributable to ozone and ozone precursors from the Grand Rapids area. The menu of contingency measures includes a motor vehicle inspection and maintenance program, Stage II vapor recovery, RVP reduction to 7.8 psi, RACT on major non-CTG VOC sources in the categories of coating of plastics, coating of wood furniture, and industrial cleaning solvents. The redesignation request and maintenance plan meet the redesignation requirements in section 107(d)(3)(E) and 175A of the Act as amended in 1990, respectively. The redesignation meets the Federal requirements of section 182(a)(1) of the Clean Air Act as a revision to the Michigan Ozone State Implementation Plan for the above mentioned counties.

Part 81, chapter I, title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

RIN 1018-AB49

Importation, Exportation, and Transportation of Wildlife

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rule updates the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) regulations providing for uniform rules and procedures for the importation, exportation, and transportation of wildlife. Several definitions are added and amended. The Service's exception to the designated port of entry requirement for wildlife products or manufactured articles worn as articles of clothing or contained in accompanying personal baggage is amended. The exceptions to the import declaration requirements and export declaration requirements are also amended. The Service minimum age requirement for certain antique articles, other than scrimshaw, imported into the United States is changed. The Service is also revising its clearance requirements and its refusal of clearance requirements. The Service's import declaration filing requirements are also changed.

Changes are also made in the marking requirements for containers used to ship fish or wildlife. Further changes are made in the import and export requirements and fee schedules and the exceptions to license requirements. In addition to the above changes, the non-standards fee schedule in part 13 for an import/export license is amended. Finally, the Service will allow the importation and exportation of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific wildlife specimens by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions engaged in taxonomic or systematic research at any U.S. Customs port, or by way of the international mail.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This rule is effective July 22, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

The Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) has oversight responsibilities under statutory and regulatory authority to regulate the importation, exportation, and transportation of wildlife. The Service, consistent with this authority, has established an inspection program to oversee the importation, exportation, and transportation of wildlife and wildlife products. The Service, in support of its program activities, has promulgated regulations, subject to exemptions and permitted exceptions, restricting the importation and exportation of wildlife and wildlife products to certain designated ports, border ports, and special ports enumerated within the Code of Federal Regulations. Service regulations governing the importation, exportation, and transportation of wildlife are codified in 50 CFR part 14 and are implemented through the efforts of Service Special Agents and Wildlife Inspectors, and with the essential support, cooperation, and assistance of the U.S. Customs Service (Customs) and the Department of Agriculture, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) and other cooperating agencies.

The Service is making the following changes to the Importation, Exportation, and Transportation of Wildlife regulations in part 14. A new section § 14.4, entitled "Definitions", is being added to include several new definitions. In adding these new definitions, the Service's intent is to provide greater uniformity in the interpretation of part 14. This section, includes a definition for the term "commercial" to explain when the commercial intent of a shipment becomes presumptive. The effect of this definition is to clarify when a wildlife shipper is required to obtain an import/export license, and when the personal baggage exception does not apply. A definition is also added for the term "export" to delineate when the filing of an export declaration and clearance by a Service Officer will be required. The term "accompanying personal baggage" is also defined to eliminate any ambiguity as to when hand-carried items and checked baggage will be regarded by the Service as an export or import. The meaning of the term "domesticated animal" is defined to distinguish such animals from wildlife.

The Service, in order to clarify its requirements, is defining the terms "Accredited scientific institutions" and "Accredited scientist." The term "Accredited scientific institution" is defined to include any public museum, public zoological park, accredited institution of higher education, accredited member of the American Zoo and Aquarium Association, accredited member of the American Association of Systematic Collections, or any State or Federal government agency that conducts biological or medical research. The term "Accredited scientist" is defined to include any individual associated with, employed by, or under contract to and accredited by an accredited scientific institution for the purposes of conducting biological or medical research, and whose research activities are approved and sponsored by the scientific institution granting accreditation.

In addition to the above changes, the term "worn" in § 14.15 is being removed and replaced with term "used" in order to clearly define when wildlife products are included within the personal baggage and household effects exception to the designated port requirements.

The Service is making several administrative corrections within the text of the regulations. The erroneous references to § 14.93(d) in § 14.82(a)(2) and the erroneous reference to § 14.93(d)(1) in § 14.93(c)(5) are being changed to read § 14.93(c) and § 14.93(c)(1), respectively. These citations refer to the requisite record requirements applicable to holders of an import/export license.

A reference to the permit requirements of part 23 is included within several sections of part 14. The requirements of part 23 implement the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES). The following provisions are being changed to include references to part 23: At § 14.21, the exceptions to the Service's license requirements for shellfish and fishery products; at § 14.55, the exceptions to Service wildlife clearance requirements stating when wildlife and wildlife products may be imported without clearance; at § 14.62(a), the exceptions to the import declaration requirements stating when a Service import declaration (Form 3-177) is not required; at § 14.64(a), the exception to export declaration requirements stating when a Service export declaration (Form 3-177) is not required; and at § 14.92(a)(1) and 14.92(a)(2), the exceptions to license requirements stating when wildlife may be imported or exported without the procurement of a Service import/export license.

The Service is changing the age minimum in § 14.22 for certain antique articles to be consistent with changes in the Endangered Species Act. The Service is also adding in § 14.21(a)(2) an exception to the designated port requirements for live aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda (commonly known as oysters, clams, mussels, and scallops) and the eggs, larvae, or juvenile forms thereof exported for purposes of propagation, or research related to propagation. A designated port exception is also added at § 14.21(b) for pearls imported or exported for commercial purposes.

The Service is also facilitating the importation or exportation of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific taxonomic or systematic collection specimens, or parts thereof, by accredited scientists or accredited institutions by making several changes in its current regulations. The Service is adding a new section, at § 14.24, to be entitled "Scientific Specimens." This new section provides that dead, preserved, dried, or embedded taxonomic or systematic collection specimens may be imported or exported by accredited scientists or scientific institutions by way of any Customs port or to be shipped through the international mail. This exception, however, does not apply in situations where the wildlife being imported or exported requires a permit under any of the Service regulations established in 50 CFR parts 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, and 23 that set forth the Service regulations implementing: the Lacey Act, 18 U.S.C. 42; the Endangered Species Act (ESA), 16 U.S.C. 1531–1543; the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA), 16 U.S.C. 1361–1407; the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (MBTA), 16 U.S.C. 703–712; the Bald and Golden Eagle Protection Act (Eagle Act), 16 U.S.C. 668; and the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna (CITES), respectively. In addition, this exception does not apply to any specimen or part of any specimen taken as a result of sport hunting. The term "sport hunting" will be given its common and ordinary meaning.

The requirements for the clearance of wildlife, at § 14.52, and the refusal of clearance of wildlife, at § 14.53, are being changed to show the applicability of these sections to both exported and imported wildlife. The provisions of § 14.52 are being changed to specifically state, in both import and export situations, the requirements of presentation of wildlife for clearance and the requirement of clearance of wildlife by a Service officer prior to export or prior to U.S. Custom Service release of an importation.

The Service's refusal of clearance provisions at § 14.53 are also being changed to require the identification of wildlife by species or subspecies name. This change is intended to alleviate the confusion often caused by the use of common names. This section is also being changed to include as an additional basis for the refusal of clearance the failure to pay an assessed penalty levied upon an importer or exporter under part 11. Another significant change being made to § 14.53 is the establishment of a formal detention process for wildlife or wildlife products, similar to that of the Customs Service. The detention procedure is necessary in order for the Service to determine the applicability of state or foreign law relating to imported or exported wildlife, and/or to ascertain the validity of foreign permits.

In order to ensure humane and expeditious inspection and handling of shipments of wildlife, the Service is revising § 14.54 to include a provision requiring that the Service be notified at least 48 hours prior to the "estimated time of arrival" of live or perishable shipments of wildlife or wildlife products. The Service is to be similarly notified when wildlife inspection is requested to be accomplished upon arrival or when wildlife is to be inspected prior to export.

In general, all wildlife imported into the United States must be cleared in accordance with § 14.52 by a Service officer prior to its release from detention by Customs officers. Clearance by a Service officer may be obtained only at designated ports, border ports, special ports, or any port where importation is authorized by permit, unless the wildlife is otherwise exempted from such requirement. The Service's existing exceptions to clearance requirements for certain wildlife are set forth in § 14.55. The Service is amending § 14.55 by adding a new paragraph at § 14.55(d) providing an additional exception to the Service clearance requirements for dead, preserved, dried, or embedded specimens or parts thereof imported or exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes.

The regulations concerning the requirements of the Service Form 3–177, Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife, in § 14.61 are being changed to include changes brought about by the U.S. Customs Automated Commercial System (ACS) and the Automated Broker Interface (ABI) electronic entry system, and to clarify the requirement of filing an import declaration. Changes in Customs entry system allow entry documents to be filed electronically by an authorized Customs broker using the electronic entry system. The provisions of § 14.61 require that a completed Declaration for Importation and Exportation of Fish and Wildlife (Form 3–177) be filed with the Service when clearance is requested. A Declaration for Importation and Exportation of Wildlife does not have to be filed, however, for certain categories of wildlife provided an exception under § 14.62, entitled "Exceptions to Import Declaration Requirements." The Service is amending § 14.62 by revising § 14.62(c) and adding a new paragraph at § 14.62(d) to provide an additional exception to the import declaration requirements. New 14.62(d) provides that a Declaration for the Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3–177) does not have to be filed at the time of importation for shipments of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens or parts thereof, imported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes. Instead, Form 3–177 must be filed within 180 days of importation with the appropriate Assistant Regional Director for Law Enforcement in the Region where the importation occurs. The specimens must be identified to the most accurate taxonomic classification reasonably practicable using the best available taxonomic information, and the country of origin must be declared. This exception to the import declaration requirements is limited to exchanges made by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions and does not apply to any specimens or parts thereof taken as a result of sport hunting. In addition, this exception does not apply in situations where the wildlife being imported requires a permit under any of the Service regulations established in Title 50 CFR parts 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, and 23, or in situations involving non-accredited scientists or institutions.

The Service's exceptions to import requirements in § 14.62 also are being changed to exclude, in addition to articles intended for sale, articles or samples used as exhibits to solicit sales. In addition, § 14.62 is being revised to remove the incorrect reference to an obsolete Customs Service form.

Section 14.63 sets forth the requirement that a completed Declaration of Importation and Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3–177) must be filed with the Service prior to the export of any wildlife. Certain exceptions to this export declaration requirement are provided in § 14.64. The Service is amending § 14.64 by adding a new paragraph at § 14.64(b)(3) to provide an additional exception to the Service's export declaration requirements. This exception will provide that a Declaration for the Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) does not have to be filed at the time of exportation for shipments of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens or parts thereof, exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes. This exception, however, will not apply in situations where the wildlife being exported requires a permit under any of the Service regulations established in Title 50 CFR parts 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, and 23, or in situations involving non-accredited scientists or institutions. A Form 3-177 must be filed, however, within 180 days of exportation with the appropriate Assistant Regional Director—Law Enforcement in the Region where the exportation occurs. The specimens must be identified to the not accurate taxonomic classification reasonably practicable using the best available taxonomic information, and the country of origin must be declared. This exception to the export declaration requirements will be limited to exchanges made by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions and will not apply to any specimens or parts thereof taken as a result of sport hunting.

In § 14.64(a) the Service is adding an additional exception to the export declaration requirements for live aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda (commonly known as oysters, clams, mussels, and scallops) and the eggs, larvae, or juvenile forms thereof exported for the purposes of propagation, or research related to propagation. The word "live" has been added to this exception to more accurately reflect the Service's intent of applying to live specimens only. The Service is also restating the exceptions to the export declaration requirements under § 14.64(b)(1) and § 14.64(b)(2) by excluding, in addition to wildlife articles intended for sale, articles or samples used as exhibits to solicit sales.

Changes are also being made in the marking requirements of § 14.81, and the alternatives and exceptions to the marking requirements in § 14.82, to add provisions requiring the conspicuous marking of containers or packages to indicate when the contents are venomous species. In making this proposal, the Service hopes to prevent injuries. The Service is also revising § 14.81 to require that wildlife shipments be accompanied with an accurate and legible list of the contents by scientific species name and the number of each species.

Section 14.91(c) establishes that persons engaged in certain enumerated activities are required to hold an import/export license. The provisions of this section are being changed and amended to reduce any ambiguity and to require persons who commercially import or export wildlife in the form of food products taken from populations of non-domesticated animals to be licensed. Sections 14.92(a)(5) and 14.92(a)(6) are being added to include within the exceptions to the license requirements an exception for live aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda, (commonly known as oysters, clams, mussels, and scallops) and the eggs, larvae, or juvenile forms thereof exported for purposes of propagation, or research related to propagation, and for pearls imported or exported for commercial purposes. Sections 14.92(b)(1) and 14.92(b)(2) are being amended to limit the existing exception to the import/export license requirement for common carriers and custom house brokers to instances where they are acting as transporters or agents and not as the importer or exporter of record.

Inspection and License Fees

Inspectors working at designated ports of entry are vested with the authority by statute and regulation to undertake the physical inspection and identification of wildlife shipments and to examine all associated wildlife shipment documentation for sufficiency. Service uniform import export user fee schedules are currently set out at 50 CFR 14.93(f). With some exceptions, these inspection procedures are required for all shipments of wildlife regardless of value, size of shipment, or variety of regulated wildlife species, and therefore, are equivalent in their demands upon work units of the Service. Because of the nature of inspections and the administrative support required, a direct correlation between the value of wildlife shipments and the operating costs incurred by the Service in inspection of wildlife cannot be made. The Service, therefore, has historically assessed user fees according to standardized schedules codified in the Code of Federal Regulations and has avoided as impracticable the levying of fees based solely upon the value of wildlife shipped.

Since 1988 there have been four studies of the Service's import/export user fee policies: A 1988 report prepared by the Service, Division of Finance, of findings and recommendations on review of Law Enforcement Management Information System and Import/Export Fee Billing and Collection System; a 1988 user charges and collection report by the Department of Interior, Office of the Inspector General; a 1991 Law Enforcement Functional Analysis Review prepared by a fish and Wildlife Service Functional Analysis Review Team; and a 1992 draft of the CITES Implementation Study, prepared by Traffic, U.S.A., a wildlife trade monitoring group associated with the World Wildlife Fund. One recommendation consistently made in these studies is that the Service should change its user fee policies and rates to recover the full cost of services provided to individuals and businesses. The recommendation was also made that the Service license and charge user fees to all commercial importers and exporters of wildlife and wildlife products. The Service is therefore adjusting its fees for certain activities in order to recover the actual costs of the services provided for all commercial import/export activities. An analysis of import/export data for the three most recent years for which complete data is available from the Law Enforcement Management Information System database shows that the Service is only recouping about $2 million annually of the total wildlife inspection budget of $4.35 million. Thus, approximately 45 percent of the total cost of the Service's wildlife inspection program is recovered through the current user fees rates.

Consequently, the Service is adjusting its fee schedules in order to recoup the full cost of the import/export inspection program. The new fee schedules are being moved to a new section, § 14.94, entitled "Fees." First, the Service is requiring all commercial importers and exporters of wildlife and wildlife products to obtain an import/export license without regard to the total value of wildlife or wildlife products imported or exported each year. Thus, the Service is eliminating the yearly value exception in § 14.92(b)(6). This is a change from the current system in which only commercial importers/exporters who import or export more than $25,000 in wildlife products annually have been required to obtain a license. Second, the Service is reducing the cost of an import/export license from the present rate of $125 per year to $50 per year. Third, the Service is increasing the fees charged at designated ports in order to cover the full cost of the inspection services provided. The present inspection fee has been $25 since 1986. The Service's analysis indicates that the average cost to the Service to process a shipment is approximately $55 per shipment. Therefore, the Service is increasing the cost of this fee to $55 per shipment to more realistically recover costs. Fourth, the Service is increasing the administrative fee charged at non-designated ports from $25 to $55, in addition to an hourly minimum fee, to recover its actual costs and to make this fee consistent with the increase in the designated port inspection fee. The Service believes these adjustments in the fee rates and applications are reasonable and fair in light of the actual demands upon limited Service resources.

The Service will make substantive changes to Title 50 CFR part 13 at a later time. The Service has changed the non-standard fee schedule in § 13.11(d)(4) to be consistent with the changes made to part 14.

Summary of Comments and Information Received

On Wednesday, September 14, 1994, the Service published, in the Federal Register (59 FR 47212) a proposed rule revising Title 50 CFR parts 13 and 14. In response to this notice, the Service received a total of 568 comments from the public. These included: 14 from academies, 13 from associations, 30 from companies, 11 from congressmen, 106 from museums, 28 from societies, 17 from states, 107 from citizens, 163 from universities, and 70 from miscellaneous other groups. Several of the comments received by the Service in response to the proposed rule were either unrelated to the proposed changes or resulted from lack of understanding of the current regulation, and are not discussed below.

During the comment period, the Service received numerous inquiries and comments from members of the scientific community. Members of the scientific community were extremely concerned about the effects of the Service's regulations upon the ordinary scientific exchange of scientific specimens being shipped internationally through the mail or by way of ports other than officially designated Service ports of entry. Many expressed the concern that the Service's proposed regulations would seriously discourage much needed scientific research by adding significantly to its cost in dollars, hours worked, and paperwork. The Service, in publishing its proposed rule of September 14, 1994, did not intend to make any substantive changes to the existing requirements related to scientific specimens. The existing requirements relating to the importation and exportation of wildlife at Service Designated Ports, and the inclusion of invertebrates within the definition of wildlife, remained unchanged.

The Service, however, has benefited from the many comments received and is making additional changes to Part 14 to address the concerns of the respondents. The numerous comments and inquiries received by the Service have helped the Service identify the technical and procedural problems associated with the present requirements in part 14, and those problems contained in the proposed rule. The Service has already acknowledged the need for some substantive changes and published in the Federal Register (60 FR 15277) a supplementary proposed rule on Thursday, March 23, 1995, allowing for scientific exchange. The significant change is the addition of a new section at § 14.24, entitled "Scientific Specimens" that allows accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions to import or export, at any Customs port or through the international mail system, dead, preserved, dried, or embedded taxonomic or systematic collection specimens. This exception would not apply to wildlife being imported or exported that would require a permit under any of the Service regulations established in Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, parts 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, and 23.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.4: Definitions

Comments

The Service received numerous comments on the definitions proposed for inclusion within § 14.4. Comments were received from a great variety of interested persons on this section, including, numerous scientists involved in importing or exporting scientific specimens for taxonomic or biological control purposes, individual sportsmen and sportsmen's organizations concerned with the importation or exportation of sport-hunted trophies, commercial import/export businesses, and "for-profit" amusement parks importing or exporting live wildlife for display purposes.

A significant portion of the comments pertaining to § 14.4 concerned the Service's definition of "commercial." This term is used to clarify when a wildlife shipper is required to obtain an import/export license, and when the personal baggage exception does not apply. The proposed rule defines commercial to mean related to the offering for sale or resale, purchase, trade, barter, or the actual or intended transfer in the pursuit of gain or profit, of any item of wildlife and includes the use of any wildlife article as an exhibit for the purpose of soliciting sales, without regard to quantity or weight. A presumption is also established within this definition to provide that eight or more similar unused items will be considered by the Service to be commercial use. This presumption specifically excludes such items as antiques, collectibles, or curios. The effect of this presumption, however, may be rebutted by the importer, exporter, or owner, or by the Service.

Many scientists were of the opinion that the definition of "commercial" as written would have an adverse effect upon scientific study by restricting the free exchange of scientific specimens among researchers and systematic biologists. Another scientist noted that systematic biology is a shared endeavor, that has as its basic scientific data the natural history specimens that are maintained in museums or similar institutions that are shared internationally by way of scientific exchange.

Many respondents considered the presumption effect of this definition to be inappropriate when applied to shipments of scientific specimens such as insects. Some scientists characterized the definition as a "subjective determination" that lacked all merit as applied to invertebrates. Others saw the definition as having a "vertebrate" bias and thought that the regulations seem to be targeted to vertebrate species and not invertebrates. The laws governing the traffic, loan, and exchange of invertebrate scientific specimens, as one respondent noted, should not be confused with commercial uses of wildlife. Comments included the assertion that scientific specimens are not generally imported or exported for profit or commercial gain, have no commercial value or commercial use, and will often contain more than eight similar items or scientific specimens within a shipment. Many comments explained that an exchange of scientific specimens of insects may contain many hundreds of specimens. Several other common themes ran through many of the comments.

Service Response

The Service's definition of commercial has been misinterpreted to apply to scientific exchange specimens. The Service acknowledges the concerns of the many respondent scientists and has made changes to accommodate scientific exchange in its final regulations by adding a new section at § 14.24 allowing for certain exceptions to the designated port and declaration filing requirements by accredited scientists and scientific institutions. A definition of commercial is important to clearly differentiate when a particular import or export is being done for a commercial purpose, due to the obvious detrimental impact commercial activity can have on wildlife populations. In many instances, items intended for commercial sale or to solicit sales are declared as personal effects. The effect of the presumption is merely to inform the public that unless a person can prove otherwise, eight or more unused items will automatically be considered a commercial shipment. Other amounts can be considered commercial depending on the facts and circumstances of each case. This definition was never intended to reach taxonomic specimens since it was intended only to apply to wildlife products and not scientific specimens.

Comments

One commercial exhibitor requested that the Service amend the definition of commercial to include what the respondent termed "the use of any wildlife article as an exhibit for the purpose of soliciting sales thereof." Another respondent from the business community suggested the "presumed commercial" number be reduced from 8 to 3, and further suggested that the Service include a value limit of $5,000.00 for any individual wildlife item being imported or exported. Another commenter from the wildlife import/export industry, questioned whether wildlife items, imported for display at trade shows or as a sample, would necessarily be considered a commercial importation under what the respondent termed the "eight or more" commercial presumption, if the item(s) themselves were not intended for sale. One respondent requested that the definition of commercial be revised to include a presumption that cataloged specimens, transported from one research institution to another, are not commercial. Several respondents suggested that such scientific collections be considered "collectibles" and therefore exempt from what was characterized as the "rule of eight" commercial shipment presumption standard.

Service Response

The Service's intent was to clearly include samples used to solicit sales within the definition of commercial, because of the obvious commercial intent. Items used as exhibits in order to solicit sales are clearly being transferred for a commercial purpose, although the individual items may not actually be sold, they are being imported or exported for a commercial purpose. The Service will keep the commercial presumption at eight. This presumption number merely serves as a threshold point and gives the public some notice of when the Service will view their imports or exports as presumptively commercial. Again, other lesser amounts can be determined to be commercial based upon the facts and circumstances of each case. The Service will evaluate such indicators of commercial intent such as the value, condition, the purpose of the import etc., in making its determination.

Comments

Several comments were received from wildlife professionals commenting in an unofficial capacity, regarding the exception provided for antiques, collectibles and curios, within the proposed definition of commercial. One individual noted that there has been an increase in the commercial trade of such wildlife items, which in the commenter's opinion, may encourage certain individuals to attempt to circumvent the applicable declaration requirements and inspection fee by falsely claiming this exception. The Service, however, also received extensive comments from representatives of wildlife user groups suggesting that additional exceptions be added within the definition of commercial for such articles as antiques, collectibles, and curios that are presently not included.

Service Response

The Service has considered the above comments carefully and agrees with the commenters suggestion to eliminate the exception in the definition of commercial for antiques, collectibles and curios, for the following reasons. The Service believes that the commenter is correct in stating that the trade in antiques, collectibles and curios containing wildlife products is on the increase. Importers of antiques, collectibles or curios containing wildlife which are subject to the provisions of this part should be required to rebut the same commercial presumption, for quantities of 8 or more, as importers of wildlife products not considered to be antiques, collectibles or curios. The intent of the commercial definition is to advise the public that the Service will consider an importer to have commercial intent when importing eight or more similar unused items containing wildlife, in order to discourage commercial dealers from using the personal effects exemption contained at § 14.15 to circumvent declaration and license requirements. This definition was proposed by the Service to address the enforcement problem of wildlife dealers, including dealers in antiques, curios and collectibles, using the personal effects exemption improperly. The Service finds serious inequity in allowing dealers in these items an exception in the definition of commercial while not allowing exceptions for other commercial dealers. The Service has removed this exception from the definition of commercial. Importers of eight or more similar unused wildlife products will be considered uniformly by the Service and will be required to rebut the same presumption regardless of the wildlife being imported being classified as an antique, curio or collectible. The Service has considered the fact that removing this exception from the definition of commercial will increase the volume of wildlife products being viewed as having potential commercial intent and requiring additional attention by Service personnel. This manpower consideration is, in part, what prompted the inclusion of an exception in the definition of commercial in the proposed rule initially. However, upon further review, the Service believes that having a threshold number of eight before the commercial presumption is triggered will eliminate many shipments from requiring more detailed inquiry from Service personnel. This change to the definition of commercial will relieve Customs and Service personnel from defining "antique, curio or collectible" (for purposes of the commercial definition), will not change the ability of noncommercial importers to rebut the commercial presumption if they are importing eight or more similar items, and will make the Service's intent, of requiring all commercial dealers to obtain import/export licenses and declare their shipments, less ambiguous.

The commenters suggestion of not excepting antiques from the definition of commercial has also been considered by the Service. The Service believes that § 14.22, Certain antique articles, adequately addresses the importation of bona fide antiques containing endangered or threatened species. The Service believes that to include an additional exception in the definition of commercial for antiques is unnecessary. Those antiques not containing endangered or threatened species will be presumed commercial if eight or more similar items are imported, requiring the importer to rebut the commercial presumption, similar to importers of collectibles and curios.

Comments

Several commenters expressed concern that their particular activity involving the import and export of wildlife would be considered "commercial" using the Service's definition of commercial in the proposed rule.

Service Response

Without exception, the Service intends that any activity meeting the definition of commercial contained in § 14.4 will be considered as such and will require the individual or business to obtain an Import/Export License. However, the use of the new definition of commercial is not the only criteria which the Service uses to determine if an Import/Export License is required. The current § 14.91(a), which is not being changed in this rulemaking, requires anyone "engaging in business as an importer or exporter of wildlife" to first obtain a valid import/export license.

Comments

One representative of a hunting/conservation group expressed the opinion that within the definition of commercial there should be an additional exemption for "personal use sport hunted trophies." Sport hunted trophies as the respondent explained will often number more than eight items and should be entitled to a presumption of being a noncommercial import or export.

Service Response

The Service recognizes that the importation of most sport hunted trophies are for personal use. However due to the fact that some sport hunted trophies are of a commercial nature, the Service feels that a categorical exemption is not warranted.

Comments

Many respondents proposed specific changes or additions to the definitions provided to address their particular activity. One respondent suggested that the Service define the terms "item of wildlife" and "similar unused items" to exclude scientific collection of invertebrates. Other respondents questioned whether the word "similar" was to be defined by either Class, Family, Species, Subspecies or some other classifying factors. Another respondent representing a large animal advocacy group suggested that "items of wildlife" and "similar items" do not adequately address shipments of live animals and should be amended to read "shipment of eight or more similar items or live wild animals."

Service Response

The Service believes that the terms to be used in the Definitions section should be interpreted in the broadest sense and assigned their common ordinary meaning. The Service does not see any merit in attempting to define terms so narrowly as to apply only to one specific activity or circumstance.

Comments

Although most respondents opposed the adoption of the commercial presumption as written and its application to all wildlife being imported or exported for scientific purpose, some respondents supported the proposal. Most notably, one respondent expressed the opinion that all such shipments should be uniformly considered commercial with the burden of proof being placed upon the importer, exporter or owner to clearly demonstrate otherwise.

As the respondent further elaborated, this is especially applicable to situations where commercially traded highly priced wildlife and wildlife products are imported or exported in small quantities.

Service Response

The Service continues to believe that there is a strong rationale and basis for the application of the presumption provided in the definition of commercial.

Comments

The Service received a few comments on the definition of export. One broker, concerned about the definition of export in § 14.4, noted that the single act of presenting a shipment by a broker or exporter to a Service Wildlife Inspector for export should not automatically constitute an export or attempt to export as proposed by the Service. The respondent further emphasized that there are occasions when the required documentation or tags for the export of wildlife is only discovered to be missing after the wildlife has been presented for export clearance. This, the respondent maintained, has subjected exporters to civil and or criminal penalties, even where such omissions are due to innocent behavior and no illegal act was attempted. The respondent suggested that the exporter and the Service should be given an opportunity to mutually determine whether a particular shipment has met all the legal requirements.

Service Response

The burden of presenting the proper documentation is clearly upon the importer or exporter of record. The effect of the Service regulations is merely to establish when an item is an export or import. In the case of imports the Service will only have access to items when those items have been imported. The Service is also required to inspect shipments of wildlife being exported. In such situations the status of the item needs to be clearly understood for declaration filing and for validation of CITES permits. The Service's intent was to clearly define when an item has become an export, all allow the public to ascertain at what point in the shipping process the Service considers a wildlife item to be exported. For example, the Service would consider the consignment of goods to a common carrier destined for a point outside the United States as an attempt to export.

Comments

Responses were received concerning the definition proposed in § 14.4 for Domesticated animals. Several respondents requested the inclusion of particular species within the list provided of recognized "domesticated animals." One respondent suggested the inclusion of such vertebrates as the corn snake, rat snake, king snake, milk snake, bearded dragon, leopard gecko, garter snake, and others. Another importer suggested the Service include within its list several additional species of reptiles and amphibians such as the prairie king snake, clawed frog, alligator, red-eared slider, bullfrog, and leopard frog. One respondent requested that the Asian water buffalo and the bactrian camel also be included.

Service Response

The list of domesticated animals incorporates Service policy which was developed over a substantial period of time. This list represents many of the most commonly seen species that have been domesticated historically. The list was never intended to be all inclusive and many additional species could be added. The Service will reevaluate the list on a periodic basis. The Service has reviewed the suggestions made and has determined that the domesticated animals definition will remain as proposed, with the exception of the addition of honeybees.

Comments

A few comments were received that concerned the list of domesticated birds contained within the definition of domesticated animals in § 14.4. One respondent suggested the Service further explain what was meant by the descriptive words "Ducks and geese—domesticated varieties." Another respondent requested that the Service delete from the list of domesticated birds the word domestica from the scientific name Columba livia domestica.

Service Response

The terms, ducks and geese—domesticated varieties, means common varieties of ducks and geese that are raised in animal husbandry and are not commonly found in the wild. The scientific name "domestica" is intended to indicate that the Service considers only domesticated varieties of this species to be domesticated animals.

Comments

One respondent was concerned with the Service list of domesticated fish categorized as domestic for export purposes only. This list, as the respondent noted, includes domesticated carp and goldfish. The respondent was concerned about the effects of such classification for there has been an increased number of smuggling cases of fish that are falsely marked as goldfish. The respondent suggested that a wildlife declaration form, 3-177, should be a minimum requirement for the import or export of such items. A few respondents were concerned with insects listed as domesticated. One respondent suggested adding honeybees, with the exclusion of the Africanized honeybees, to the list of domesticated insects.

Service Response

The Service is cognizant that any exemption to its inspection and clearance requirements may be perceived as an opportunity for persons to smuggle. The Service, however, is prepared for such eventualities and will periodically spot check the trade in such items to ascertain the degree of compliance. The Service does not believe that the regulation of such exempt items is warranted at this time. The Service does, however, see merit in the suggestion of adding honeybees, not to include africanized honeybees, to the list of insects exempted from inspection and clearance. Honeybees do not represent an enforcement concern for the Service, are considered to be ecologically beneficial insects that are not endangered or threatened or proposed for such listing under the Endangered Species Act, and have historically been domesticated. In response to the comments received, honeybees have been added to the list of domesticated insects at § 14.4.

Comments

A significant number of comments were received from the scientific community regarding the shipment of scientific specimens in the form of taxonomic or systematic collections via the U.S. and international mail systems. Most respondents expressed great concern that without this method of shipment the U.S. scientific community would become isolated from foreign institutions. This would result, according to the respondent, in the scientific community becoming unwilling and economically unable to ship scientific materials to the United States for research purposes. Most respondents felt that an exemption should be included within the definition of commercial in § 14.4 or at § 14.55 for bona fide research specimens.

Many respondents were troubled by the Service's failure to define the terms "bona fide research institution" and "scientist." Many respondents specifically requested that the Service define the terms "scientific institution" and "scientific collection" by regulation and provide such entities an exception to the marking and clearance requirement of part 14. One respondent suggested that the term "Research Institution" should be defined to include any institution, organization, or agency established for the purpose of conducting scientific biological research and educational activities, that is eligible for registration as a scientific institution by the Management Authority of the CITES Conference 2.14 standards for registration of scientific institutions.

Service Response

The Service, as mentioned earlier in the discussion, has taken steps to clarify its requirements as they pertain to scientific specimens. The Service does not use the term "bona fide research institution" and has defined the terms accredited scientific institution and accredited scientist. The Service has made several changes in its regulations to provide an exception for dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens in § 14.24. The Service is also providing an exception to its clearance requirements in § 14.55, an exception to import declaration requirements in § 14.62, and an exception in its export declaration requirements in § 14.64 for such specimens in response to commenters concerns.

Comments

Several respondents were opposed to the Service providing any special status to bona fide scientists or scientific institutions. One respondent noted that much valuable research has been done by "amateurs" such as Charles Darwin and James Audubon and that the ability of such persons to continue their valuable work should not be hindered and that they too should be included within the definition of "scientist."

Service Response

The Service provided for this exemption because it did not intend to interfere with the work of accredited scientists engaged in scientific pursuits. The Service was faced with the problem, however, of how it could provide for scientific exchange yet maintain oversight and differentiate such exchange from commercial shipments. The Service acknowledges that much important work in the natural sciences has and continues to be done by independent collectors and researchers, many of which lack formal degrees in science. Amateur scientists, however, can seek and obtain accreditation for their work from such institutions as defined, or can simply comply with the requirements of this part. The Service believes this to be a proper and reasonable alternative in view of the recent trend of commercial sale of insects, particularly, species of butterflies and beetles. The Service arrived at what it believed was a fair standard in providing for such exchange by accredited scientists working with accredited institutions.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.12 Designated Ports

Many comments were received concerning the use of designated ports for the import or export of wildlife and the shipment of wildlife items through the U.S. mail. Many respondents requested that the shipment of scientific specimens through the mail be made exempt from the designated port and border port requirements for wildlife. Many respondents were concerned about the anticipated economic hardship if the shipment of scientific specimens were limited to Service designated ports for clearance and the ordinary use of the mail was restricted. One respondent suggested that the scientific specimens should be included within the revised § 14.15, or that § 14.31(b)(4) be rephrased to read: "The port(s) of entry, including all ports of entry for international mail, where importation or exportation is requested * * *."

Service Response

The Service acknowledges the concerns scientists have about the use of the mail and has provided a limited exemption explicitly at § 14.24.

Comments Pertaining to § 14.15: Personal Baggage and Household Effects

One respondent requested that the Service define the terms "household effects" and "residence." One representative of a scientific institution requested that the Service include scientific specimens within the existing provisions of § 14.15 that provide for personal baggage and household effects. This, as noted by the respondent, would allow scientific specimens contained in a person's personal baggage or household effects to be imported or exported at any Customs port of entry and would help to avoid any confusion regarding certain scientific specimens, particularly bird and mammal skins, being considered "raw or dressed fur, raw, salted, or crusted hide or skin." These, as the respondent noted, are specifically excluded at § 14.15(b) from this exception to the designated port requirement for imported or exported wildlife.

One respondent representing a falconry association requested that falconry birds, lawfully held pursuant to a permit under 50 CFR 21.28 and 21.29 be included in the "personal baggage exemption" for temporary imports and exports when such imports and exports are to Mexico or Canada for recreational sport hunting purposes.

Service Response

The Service finds no merit in the above suggestions. The provisions of § 14.15 were intended to cover only certain kinds of wildlife products and manufactured articles not intended for sale and used as clothing or contained in personal baggage, or such products and articles as mounted game trophies or tanned hides which are a common part of a shipment of household effects. These exceptions to the designated port requirements were never intended to apply to live wildlife, or to wildlife requiring a permit, even if the intended use is of a scientific nature. Live wildlife, and wildlife covered under the provisions of 50 CFR parts 16, 17, 18, 21 or 23, require a higher level of oversight by the Service.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.21 Shellfish and Fishery Products

One respondent expressed some concern about the harvest and export of freshwater mussel shells within the Class Pelecypoda. Although the amendment as proposed in § 14.21(a)(2) specifically states "aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda," the respondent felt that there would be some confusion by the public and the courts. The respondent suggested that the Service identify what freshwater species of aquatic invertebrates are not exempt.

Service Response

The Service finds no merit in the above suggestion in view of the burden of codifying thousands of species of aquatic invertebrates when comparatively few species are being exempted.

Comments

Another respondent recommended changes to § 14.21(b) Pearls, suggesting that this part should be expanded to include both import and export by including "pearls imported or exported for commercial purposes may enter or leave."

Service Response

The Service finds merit in this suggestion in that it points out a deficiency in the proposed language of the exception. The Service's intent in referencing Pearls under the shellfish and fishery products exemption at § 14.21 is to grant the same exemption to pearls as is currently given fishery products for human consumption, which includes exemption from the designated port requirement and declaration requirement for exports. The addition of § 14.21(b) is intended to codify Service policy on pearls issued in March 1985, in which pearls would be considered shellfish and fishery products. The language at § 14.21(b) will be changed in this final rule to reflect the intent of the Service to exempt pearls exported for commercial purposes. Section 14.21(b) will be modified to read "pearls imported or exported for commercial purposes may enter or exit the United States at any Customs port of entry."

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.22 Certain Antique Articles

Under the provisions of § 14.22 as revised, any person may import any article, other than scrimshaw, that is at least 100 years old, and is composed in whole or in part of an endangered or threatened species listed under 50 CFR 17.11 or 17.12, and has not been repaired or modified with any part of any endangered or threatened species. Under this section, such importations are authorized to occur at any port designated by Customs for the importation of such antique articles.

Several comments were received in regards to this section. One respondent recommended that this section be amended to include both importations and exportations. The respondent suggesting addition of text to the section to provide that "Except for antique items requiring a permit pursuant to part 23, any person may import or export at any port * * *." One respondent recommended that the exemptions for certain antiques in § 14.22 be completely eliminated and noted as a basis for making this recommendation the apparent increased commercial trade in such items. A concern expressed by one respondent was that certain dealers would attempt to circumvent the declaration requirement and inspection fee by falsely claiming the exemption. Another respondent who was similarly concerned noted that as proposed this section would allow the importation of antique elephant ivory.

Service Response

The Service has carefully considered these comments and responds by noting that the exemption at § 14.22 is intended to only apply to the import of certain antique articles. The statutory exemption contained at 16 U.S.C. 1539(h) is specific in granting the exemption only to imports. To authorize export of certain antiques under this Section would clearly be beyond the Service's statutory authority. This section, however, does not prohibit persons from applying for a permit to export certain antique articles containing endangered species from the United States under the provisions of 16 U.S.C. 1539(f). It is clearly the intent of the Service that antique articles containing parts of species now listed as endangered or threatened and meeting certain standards be exempt from the designated port requirement. With respect to the commenter's suggestion of eliminating the exemption in this part for certain antiques, collectibles and curios, the Service believes it has addressed the issue that many of these items are destined for commercial markets by removing the exemption for antiques, collectibles and curios from the definition of commercial. The Service believes that it has adequately and reasonably addressed this issue. With respect to the commenter's suggestion that the revision to § 14.22 will allow the importation of antique elephant ivory, antique ivory is already allowed to be imported under provisions of the African Elephant Conservation Act.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.52 Clearance of Wildlife

Many respondents expressed some concern about the effects of physical inspection on fragile scientific specimens by Service Wildlife Inspectors. Many of these respondents strongly recommended that the transfer of scientific collections between "accredited scientific institutions" be made exempt from the inspection and clearance requirements. One scientist suggested that if documents are provided for non-protected species then actual physical inspection of such specimens should not be required. Several environmental education and animal advocacy groups expressed contrary views and were insistent that all shipments of wildlife be physically inspected prior to clearance. On a related issue, many representatives of animal welfare organizations were concerned with the adequacy of the Service's inspection program and expressed the view that all shipments, particularly importations and exportations of live wildlife, should be physically inspected.

One representative of an entomological society was concerned with what the respondent perceived as the Service's increased, burdensome regulations upon entomologists. The respondent further noted that the Service's regulations as proposed would require the hiring of brokers and agents to facilitate the shipment of scientific specimens through Service designated ports. The respondent also noted that such requirements will significantly increase the costs of scientific exchange.

Service Response

The Service has responded to these concerns raised by the scientific community in the provisions added at § 14.24. This section provides for an exception to the designated port requirement and extends the declaration filing requirements of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens, not requiring a permit, that are imported or exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions.

Comments

Other respondents were concerned with § 14.52(c)(3), which requires the importer to make available to the Service all permits and documents required by the laws or regulations of any foreign country prior to obtaining clearance by the Service. Many respondents were concerned about the detainment and possible seizure of cargo while the Service determines the permits and documentation required by a foreign country.

The Service proposed to add a paragraph at § 13.52(c)(5) to provide that the Service will require "any documents and permits required by the country of natal origin of the wildlife" to be provided upon importation or exportation. Many respondents were concerned with problems in establishing the "country of natal origin" of wildlife. Several respondents were concerned with the scope of this additional documentation requirement. The respondents noted, that importers and exporters would be required to obtain export licenses, captive-breeding certificates, or breeding licenses from the "country of natal origin." Some respondents were concerned about potential challenges to foreign permits and the procedures that would become necessary to establish the validity of such permits and other documentation. Many importers expressed concern with "country of natal origin" requirements and believed that it would often be impossible to determine what documentation was required. Several respondents anticipated problems in obtaining the required documentation and were concerned that shipments may be detained and seized under the procedures specified in § 14.53(a). One respondent was concerned about having to obtain documents and permits from foreign governments within the proposed time period. The respondent recommended that a mechanism be provided for the granting of extensions. Several respondents asked: if wildlife is currently to be exported legally, why should additional documentation be required? It would be difficult, noted one respondent, to obtain documents and permits from the country of natal origin for "thousands of specimens." Another respondent suggested that this requirement should be maintained for endangered invertebrate wildlife but believed such a requirement to be unworkable when applied to non-protected species.

Service Response

The Service has historically required, and will continue to require, the importer of record to satisfy the provisions of § 14.52 by supplying those items listed under paragraph (c), in order for the Service to make a determination as to the legality of the wildlife or wildlife products being imported. It is clearly the position of the Service that those individuals engaged in importing wildlife or wildlife products into the United States make reasonable efforts to determine lawful origin of the wildlife or wildlife products and to ensure compliance with applicable foreign law. It is also the intent of the Service to detain shipments containing wildlife or wildlife products when compliance with foreign law is in question. Questions will arise as to the status of a shipment under foreign law or CITES when the importer of record fails to supply the Service with permits or other documentation which are known or suspected by the Service to be required by a foreign country. In some instances it may require an additional amount of time (in excess of 30 days) for the Service to verify the requirements of a foreign country when a shipment is questioned, in which case the revision to § 14.53(a) allows, for the extension of the 30 day provision to "a longer period if specifically stated."

The Service's intent in modifying § 14.52 is to clarify for the public what documentation the importer of record is required to supply upon requesting clearance for imported wildlife and wildlife products. In proposing to require documentation from the "country of natal origin" the Service was attempting to address the enforcement concern of wildlife being unlawfully exported from an originating country in violation of an existing ban on exports, or in violation of a foreign law designed to regulate the export of such wildlife, and its subsequent re-exportation from a secondary country to the United States. The Service is bound by domestic law and international treaty to ensure compliance with foreign law. The Service finds merit, however, in the comments submitted. The Service recognizes that determining the natal origin and requiring documentation for each successive importation and re-exportation of wildlife may impose an unreasonable burden on importers and Service personnel. In response to these concerns the Service will revise § 14.52(c)(5) to read: "Any documents and permits required by the country of export or re-export of the wildlife." This revision will allow the public to more easily determine when they have met the requirements imposed by CITES or of foreign law. However, this revision will not completely relieve the importer of the burden of providing proof of lawful export in circumstances where wildlife is coming from a country known to the Service to have a ban on the export of such wildlife, even if coming through a re-exporting country. In those circumstances the importer may be required to show proof of lawful export from the "country of natal origin" to the country of re-export or to the United States. In response to the comments received, the Service has determined that it would be unreasonable to require country of natal origin documentation with every importation, especially in the absence of reasonable suspicion of unlawful export from the country of natal origin. This Section has been appropriately revised in this final rule.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.53 Detention and Refusal of Clearance

The Service has proposed several amendments to the Refusal of Clearance section in § 14.53. Many respondents were concerned about the new detention and refusal of clearance requirements in § 14.53(a) and the process by which a detention becomes a formal seizure. In general, this new section provides that any Service officer may detain imported wildlife in accordance with established procedures. The Service, however, will provide notice of the detention containing a description of the wildlife involved, and the basis for the detention, and describe the general nature of the tests or inquiries to be conducted during the detention. This section also provides that if the legality of the wildlife has not been determined within 30 days after the date of notice, or other period as stated, that the wildlife shall be deemed to be seized and no further notification of seizure will be issued. This requirement is intended to establish a limit to the duration of any detention by the Service of wildlife items being imported or exported and to specify when such detention may be given the status of having been seized for the purposes of filing an appeal. The effect of this change is to clearly distinguish at what point an ordinary detention of wildlife for purpose of inspection, clearance, or identification can be regarded as having been seized.

One representative of the pet industry thought the proposed conversion, from a detention to a "formal" seizure would violate Constitutional Due Process requirements. Another respondent was concerned that the 30-day seizure rule could be manipulated in the Service's favor by dragging its feet. This respondent was also concerned that detained property, that later became a seizure, would be disposed of without further notice to the importer. Another wildlife exhibitor expressed concern regarding the detention of large animals without providing the shipper the opportunity to respond "within a reasonable period of time" after being notified.

Service Response

The Service does not intend for any of the changes in § 14.53 to discourage dialog between an importer and the Service during a period of detention. The importer of wildlife being detained would be free to offer, in good faith, any information documentary or otherwise, to assist the Service in its inquiry of the legality, identity, or origin of wildlife or wildlife products being imported.

Comments

Another respondent requested that formal detention criteria be established similar to the criteria outlined for refusal of clearance in § 14.53(b). The respondent noted that without such guidelines there would be significant inconsistencies in the application of detention and the potential for abuse. One representative of the wildlife import/export industry remarked that although there are guidelines provided for the Service's "refusal of clearance" of wildlife shipments, there are no such guidelines for the "detention" of wildlife.

Service Response

Guidelines are offered in this section for refusal of clearance due to a refusal being of a direct nature which could lead to the immediate seizure and initiation of forfeiture action or other appropriate action by the Service. Detention of wildlife or wildlife products being imported is merely a formal inquiry period whereby the Service establishes the status of a given shipment. The Service believes that providing for a formal detention period giving the importer or exporter time in which to comply with Service requirements is reasonable, given the alternative of refusing clearance on the shipment, and possibly seizing it and seeking forfeiture. The myriad circumstances which would give rise to some reasonable suspicion and would then dictate formal detention are so numerous and variable that the Service needs some flexibility in its application of detention. In general, goods will be detained either to identify the wildlife being imported, or to verify foreign permits presented for clearance. The Service would note that specific guidelines for seizure and forfeiture of imported wildlife and wildlife products are contained at 50 CFR part 12.

Comments

One respondent suggested that the Service amend the proposed changes to § 14.53(a) by adding safeguards found in Customs law found at 19 U.S.C. 1499. Specifically, the respondent requested that the Service add two phrases: "the anticipated length of the detention"; and "what information should be furnished by the importer or consignee that may accelerate the disposition of the detention."

Service Response

This section will require the Service to inform the importer or consignee of the maximum period of detention, after which the wildlife, if not released, will be considered seized. As stated, the Service is willing to accept any information, offered in good faith, that the importer or consignee can provide to assist in determining the status of imported wildlife. However, the Service does not want to require information to be submitted by the importer in each detention circumstance, since detention frequently involves communication between the Service and foreign governments in document verification, which is beyond the control of the importer or does not require input from the importer.

Comments

Several respondents suggested that the text of § 14.53(a) be amended to provide for the detention for both imported and exported wildlife. Another respondent suggested adding APHIS inspectors to those officers vested with the authority to detain wildlife shipments. The respondent noted that APHIS has the authority to regulate CITES plant material under part 24 and on those occasion when Customs or Service Inspectors are not available, APHIS Inspectors are available to detect shipments which need Service attention. Many respondents were concerned about the storage of detained wildlife. Other respondents were concerned about who would be responsible for the storage costs incurred as a result of the Service detaining an importation and whether, in the case of live wildlife shipments, they would be stored in adequate facilities.

Service Response

The USDA, in particular APHIS, unlike the Customs Service has not been granted authority in this regulation to detain wildlife shipments for the Service. Although the USDA provides valuable assistance to the Service in detecting shipments containing wildlife, only the Customs Service is authorized to act in the absence of Service personnel.

The Service clearly intends for the cost of storage or demurrage of shipments in a formal detention status to be borne by the importer or owner of those goods as is customary with other regulatory agencies such as the Customs Service.

Comments

Several respondents were concerned about § 14.53(b)(2). This paragraph provides that any Service officer may refuse clearance of imported or exported wildlife and any Customs officer acting under § 14.54 may refuse clearance of imported wildlife when there are reasonable grounds to believe that the correct identity and country of origin of the wildlife has not been established. This paragraph further provides that in such cases the burden is upon the owner, importer, exporter, consignor, or consignee to establish such identity by scientific names to the species level or, if any subspecies is protected by the laws of this country or the country of origin, to the subspecies level. Several respondents expressed concern with the addition at § 14.53(b)(5), which provides that the Service, or any Customs officer acting under § 14.54, may refuse clearance of imported or exported wildlife when there is reasonable grounds to believe that any fee or assessed penalties against the importer or exporter under part 11 of this chapter have not been paid. A few respondents felt that they would be penalized for exercising their right to contest a civil or criminal penalty which had previously been assessed.

Service Response

The Service has carefully considered these comments and believes that nothing in the amendment to § 14.53 will actually deny any individual the right to contest or appeal a civil or criminal penalty levied against them. The Service finds merit, however, in the commenter's concern that this Section may appear to be coercive, and would discourage an importer or exporter from exercising their right to file an appeal under part 11. In response to the commenter's concerns, and to clarify for the public when the Service will or will not exercise its authority under § 14.53, the Service will further revise this section to read that the Service will refuse clearance for non-payment of assessed penalties, except for those assessments on appeal. The revised § 14.53(b)(5) will read as follows: "Any fee or portion of balance due for inspection fees required by § 14.93, 14.94, or penalties assessed against the importer or exporter under 50 CFR part 11, has not been paid. This paragraph shall not apply to penalty assessments on appeal in accordance with the provisions of part 11."

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.54 Unavailability of Service Officers

Many respondents were concerned with Service proposals to change § 14.54(a). Several scientists thought the requirement to notify the Service 48 hours in advance of importations and exportations was impractical for such shipments are often times made on a continuous basis during the scientific field work season. One Service employee responding in a private capacity noted that the Service in § 14.54(a) needs to expand or define the term "conditional release" as it relates to shipments released to importers prior to clearance. Another respondent noted that the phrase "within a reasonable time" could be subject to differing interpretations if it was not better explained or defined. One respondent noted the proposed amendments changed the word "if" to "where" in the phrase "where a Service officer is not available." The respondent further remarked that at designated ports Service officers are available. One wildlife professional commenting in a private capacity suggested that the 48 hour notification should be required to be made during normal business hours. Another respondent suggested that to cover weekend and holidays the 48 hour notification should be increased to 72 hours. Importers, as one respondent explained, often do not receive notice of importations until 12 hours prior to the importations. Another respondent claimed that wildlife importers are often not notified of the arrival of such shipments until after they are in route. One respondent suggested that in such circumstances a "special inspection fee," similar to that assessed for overtime fees, should be charged to provide for these unscheduled inspections.

Service Response

The Service has carefully reviewed these comments and notes that the revisions to § 14.54(a) do not apply to every importation. This section is intended to apply to circumstances involving import of live or perishable wildlife or wildlife products or when inspection is requested at the time of arrival. The Service believes that businesses dealing in perishable wildlife or wildlife products at least contemplate the arrival of shipments within a 48 hour time frame, which would allow for Service notification. The Service is attempting to provide an increased level of service to those persons dealing in live or perishable wildlife or to those whose shipments must be expedited upon arrival. The Service cannot provide this level of response, if some form of prior notification is not given. The Service will keep the notification requirement at 48 hours for affected imports.

Comments

Many other comments were received concerning the proposed provision to require that the Service be notified and the shipment be made available for inspection 48 hours prior to exportation. Several respondents from the Alaskan fur trade anticipated problems with the Service notification requirement.

The lack of basic communication, as one respondent explained, from the "bush," the prevalence of "multi-carrier" methods of shipments originating with small bush carriers, and the usual delays caused by weather are all significant factors which would complicate or inhibit individual compliance with such notification requirements. Several representatives of the wildlife import/export industry thought the 48 hour advance notice for exportations in § 14.54(f) was unreasonable, particularly when notice is given to a Designated Port during normal working hours. Several other respondents agreed with the 48 hour prior notification for exports in § 14.54(f) but believed it would not be possible to make shipments of live perishable wildlife available for inspection 48 hours prior to shipment. One respondent requested that the term "time of exportation" be made clearer and suggested that the term be revised to read "the scheduled time of departure" of the vehicle, vessel, or aircraft from the port where the shipment was presented for inspection. One commenter believed that such a requirement would be detrimental to the welfare of live wildlife. The respondent suggested that the proposal be amended to provide for a 24 hour notice and to require that the shipment be made available for inspection at least five (5) hours prior to shipment. One respondent representing a sports hunting and conservation organization expressed concern with the term "perishable" and asked if salted or dried skins and sport hunted trophies would be considered as perishable wildlife. The respondent further noted that without a more specific definition of the term, there would be inconsistencies in the interpretations made by individual Wildlife Inspectors. One respondent was particularly concerned that § 14.54(f) did not include the same provision for "when Service officers are not available" as does § 14.54(a). The respondent noted that in situations when a shipment is prepared for export and the Service is unavailable to inspect it, there should be a provision to allow the shipment to be sent without physical inspection by the Service so as not to incur additional fees and charges.

Service Response

The Service believes that the 48 hour notification requirement is reasonable in view of the ability of Customs Officers to act on behalf of Service Officers under the authority of § 14.54 when Service Officers are not available, and the provision under § 14.54 requiring clearance by a Service Officer "unless expressly authorized otherwise." This last provision will allow for clearance of exports without physical inspection in unusual situations. The Service is attempting to maintain effective oversight while allowing for clearance in those situations in which an export would be delayed an unreasonable period of time waiting for physical inspection, or in which an officer is not available. The 48 hour notification becomes particularly important, in view of the requirement to obtain clearance prior to export, when dealing with live wildlife. The Service cannot maintain a high level of service, maintain oversight, and avoid unnecessary and costly live wildlife mortality, without some prior notification of the intent to export. The Service will not automatically consider salted or dried skins or sport-hunted trophies to be perishable items.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.55 Exceptions to Clearance Requirements

Many representatives of professional scientific organizations were concerned with the effect of clearance requirements on the field of biological control. One respondent noted that wildlife shipments are already regulated by APHIS under the Plant Pest Act and should, therefore, be exempted from the Service's inspection and clearance requirement. Customs and APHIS, in the respondent's opinion, already adequately regulate the movement of such wildlife and the Service regulations are, therefore, overly burdensome. The Service, as the respondent suggested, could be alternatively notified of pending shipments by the receipt of an APHIS PPQ-526 permit.

Service Response

Neither APHIS nor the Customs Service is mandated to regulate the import and export of wildlife and wildlife products to and from the United States. The Service's mission and expertise is different than that of APHIS or the Customs Service and no additional exceptions under this part can be justified.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.61 Import Declaration Requirements

One respondent representing an entomological society requested that § 14.64(b)(1) apply to both imports and exports of scientific specimens. Numerous respondents expressed concern with the requirement to file 3-177 declarations with wildlife identification to the species level, stating that identifying scientific specimens is a long and laborious process that would take much longer than the 180 day requirement. Numerous other respondents expressed concern with the anticipated administrative burden and cost associated with the declaration requirement. Many respondents suggested exempting the trade of scientific specimens from the Service's requirement to file a Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) except where shipments contained endangered species. Other respondents were concerned with what was characterized as the anticipated "endless loop of filing for extensions."

Numerous respondents representing museums and the systematic scientists' community expressed concern with the requirement to file 3-177 for shipments of scientific collections. Many commenters noted that their current inventory of specimens is extensive and, therefore, would be impossible to list. Another respondent similarly noted that shipments of scientific collections are often made in bulk and the required inventory would be impossible to provide.

Service Response

The Service believes that it has addressed these concerns in its addition of § 14.24 to this Part.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.62 Exceptions to Import Declaration Requirements

One respondent believed that the 180 day requirement to update a declaration in § 14.62(c) is too long a time period. This, in the respondent's opinion, had made it difficult for the Service to track incomplete 3-177s. One scientist requested that the text of § 14.62(a) be revised to provide that a 3-177 form does not have to be filed for importation of scientific specimens that are being shipped from one scientific institution to another. The respondent further noted that "the Service can have no particular interest in keeping track of the tens of thousands of scientific specimens in museums that are being sent to experts or authorities around the world for study purposes."

Service Response

The Service believes it has addressed these comments in its addition of § 14.24 to this part.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.64 Exception to Export Declaration Requirements

Several respondents suggested that the export of American raw furs should be made totally exempt from the Service's regulations. Several other respondents expressed similar opinions about what they regarded as the over-regulation of the fur trapping "industry." One self-described producer of captive-bred reptiles and amphibians requested that an exemption for reptiles and amphibians be added, similar to that provided in § 14.64(a) for live aquatic invertebrates. This, the respondent proposed, would allow the shipment of such animals for propagation purposes such as the exchange of breeding stocks. One respondent noted, regarding § 14.64(b)(1), that because the value of wildlife products is arbitrary, the threshold value of $250.00 should be eliminated as a specific exemption to the declaration requirement. One representative of an entomological society requested that § 14.64(b)(1) be made uniformly applicable to both the import and export of scientific specimens. One respondent from a sport hunting association requested that the Service eliminate the exception for game trophies in § 14.62(b)(2). The respondent believed that there was a continued need for the Service to monitor this activity as it relates to the illegal harvest and subsequent exportation of wildlife. One respondent representing an animal advocacy organization suggested eliminating the game trophy exemption of this part and cited the Service's need to maintain records pertaining to noncommercial exportations of sport taken trophy fish and big game animals by foreign hunters and fisherman departing with wildlife trophies as personal baggage.

Numerous respondents suggested that scientific specimens should be allowed to be shipped via the U.S. mail. Many respondents suggested amending this section to include scientific specimens for scientific institutions and museums. Many scientists concerned with the import and export of biological control agents stated there should be an exemption to the declaration requirement for these items. One representative of a state wildlife agency noted that scientific specimens have no commercial value or a value less than $250.00 and, therefore, should be exempted from the export declaration requirement. It has been suggested that noncommercial importations of scientific specimens be exempted as well. One respondent suggested that wildlife being imported as personal accompanying baggage should be required to be declared and the 3-177 presented.

Service Response

The Service must balance effective oversight of activities involving the import and export of wildlife against the inconveniences caused by regulation. Those species indigenous to the U.S. and those species of wildlife common in trade are of particular importance in the regulatory scheme due to the Service's mission of protecting both indigenous wildlife and wildlife around the world threatened by over-utilization. The United States is a leader in wildlife management and the world's largest consumer of wildlife products, which places a burden on the Service to ensure that wildlife imported or exported complies with appropriate state and foreign law. Exceptions to regulatory requirements are carefully considered by the Service and developed over a long period of time. The Service does not see any merit in adding species commonly found in commercial trade, and not currently captive-bred to any large degree, to the exceptions to export declaration requirements. The suggestions made by commenters to expand the export declaration exemptions to species whose survival is affected by trade would be inconsistent with the mission of the Service and the intent of the regulation. Conversely, the Service cannot regulate all exports made under the personal effects exemption due to the Service's limited statutory authority, and the obvious impact this would have on movement of persons into and out of the United States. The Service will maintain oversight of export activity and make adjustments to the exceptions section as appropriate. The Service believes that the exceptions granted to scientific specimens in this part are warranted and adequately address those respondents' concerns.

The Service has added the word "live" to the export declaration exception at § 14.64(a) for aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda, to more accurately reflect the Service's intent of exempting only living specimens of oysters, clams, mussels, and scallops.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.81 Marking Requirements

Numerous comments were received in regards to § 14.81. One respondent expressed concern with toxic substances being shipped incidental to importations or exportations of wildlife, for example, insecticides in shipments of raw hides. The containers, according to the respondent, should be marked as to the hazard/identity of the toxic substances. One respondent suggested that the change the term "scientific species name" to read "species scientific name." One representative of a Federal agency expressed concern regarding the inability to accurately identify scientific specimens to meet this requirement. Several representatives of scientific institutions noted that it may not be possible to identify scientific specimens to species level at the time of importation. Many state agency representatives expressed similar concern regarding the identification of scientific specimens to the species level. It was noted by several such agencies that such invertebrate shipments often contain thousands of specimens which may take years to identify.

Several specific suggestions were received concerning the marking of containers. One respondent suggested marking as "specimens for scientific study" with the shipper and receiver being on a registry of "registered scientific collections." The respondent further noting that if follow up document inspections were required by the Service, the shipments would be well documented by the scientific facility making such inspection possible. Numerous representatives of foreign scientific institutions also expressed concern with the marking of as yet unidentified scientific specimens being submitted for identification. Several representatives of foreign institutions noted that scientific collections are generally sent as rough-sorted, bulk shipments and meeting this requirement would be impossible. One respondent from the wildlife import/export business community noted that the requirement to submit a shipping list containing the scientific name being shipped was a redundant effort as the 3-177 already contains this information. Additionally, the shipping documents are often provided by the shipper's agent and not directly under the control of the importer. Several respondents noted that they may have many different species in an insect specimen shipment. Another requested that the wording be amended to provide for a legible list of a shipment's contents containing the identification of the specimens identified to the lowest taxonomic level that is scientifically possible. This would involve the number of each taxon listed and whether the members of the listed taxa are venomous.

Service Response

The Service's intent in revising this section is twofold. First, is the obvious safety concern of Wildlife Inspectors examining live wildlife shipments that may contain venomous species. This requirement will allow inspectors to identify the presence of venomous species without having the importer's declaration present. Declarations are generally filed when making entry, not necessarily when the shipment arrives. Second, this revision will assist Wildlife Inspectors in determining the applicability of this part when encountering wildlife shipments for which no declaration has been filed.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.82 Alternatives and Exceptions to the Marking Requirement

Several responses received pertained to this Section. One representative of a large animal advocacy group suggested using the words "the scientific name the identifies the species," due to what the respondent noted as the variety and confusion concerning the use of common names and the problem of proper identification using those names.

Service Response

The Service finds merit in this suggestion but will not make any additional changes to this section at this time in order to avoid making the revision to the marking requirement overly burdensome on wildlife shippers.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.91 License Requirements

Many comments were received regarding § 14.91. Several wildlife importers agreed with the requirement that all persons engaged in the business as an importer or exporter of wildlife obtain a valid import/export license, and that no exemption by class or threshold dollar amount should be provided. One respondent questioned, with regard to § 14.91(c)(5), whether the requirement was to include a taxidermist who is not the "importer of record" but is a direct recipient of hunting trophies taken by the "importer of record."

Service Response

This section requires certain persons who engage in the enumerated activities to hold a valid Service import/export license, including taxidermists. If a taxidermist is importing or exporting wildlife for commercial purposes as the "importer or exporter of record," then a license is required. No license is required if a taxidermist is the mere recipient of wildlife or delivery point for a hunter acting as "importer or exporter of record," since the actual importing and exporting is arranged and paid for by the hunter himself.

Comments

Several comments were received from trappers in Alaska pertaining to this section. Many of these respondents expressed concern with the proposed change that would require them to obtain a license to export furs to Canada. Many of these trappers, according to the respondent, are part-time operators who did not previously meet the $25,000.00 threshold license requirement. Many commenters believed that this proposal was unwarranted due to the fact that they currently have to obtain CITES permits and non-designated port permits. Several fur industry representatives were concerned about the regulations as they would apply to the shipment of furs and were opposed to the elimination of the $25,000.00 threshold. Many believed that the added cost of this requirement was not warranted. Several respondents were concerned about the effects of the Service's license requirements on small importers or exporters. One respondent thought that small import or export business should not be required to obtain licenses. One respondent requested the duration of an import/export license in § 14.93(d) to be changed to a period of two years to reduce costs incurred by smaller importers.

Service Response

Clearly, fur trappers exporting furs from the United States are doing so with a commercial intent. Therefore, those persons are "engage[d] in business as an importer or exporter of wildlife," whether they do so on a full-time or part-time basis. Moreover, although the Service recognizes that the elimination of the $25,000 threshold will impose additional costs on some small importers and exporters, the revised licensing system will more accurately reflect the Service's costs in providing inspection services.

Comments

One respondent inquired as to whether the proposed regulation changes were in compliance with the "Regulatory Flexibility Act," which establishes procedural requirements for Federal agencies to determine whether a particular regulation is having a significant economic effect on a substantial number of small entities. This law is intended to ensure that laws and regulations designed for application to large scale entities have been applied uniformly to small businesses, small organizations, and small governmental jurisdictions even though the problems that gave rise to government action may not have been caused by those small entities.

Service Response

The Service has determined that this regulatory change will not have a significant economic effect on a substantial number of small entities as required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (See Required Determinations).

Comments

Many respondents representing scientific institutions had misunderstandings concerning the license requirement for noncommercial, scientific shipments. Many were concerned that they would now be presumed to be commercial under the presumption of commercial intent provided within the definition of commercial in § 14.4.

Service Response

The Service clearly intends to exclude scientific specimens from the license and designated port requirements unless those scientific specimens are imported or exported for primarily commercial purposes. The exceptions contained at § 14.24 apply to dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens imported or exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for research purposes only. The license requirement will apply to those importers or exporters of scientific specimens whose intent is commercial.

Comments

One environmental education company and several animal advocacy groups suggested that convicted wildlife violators should be prohibited from obtaining an Import/Export license. The respondent further suggested that any license already issued should be revoked by the Service upon the individual or organization's conviction.

Service Response

Provisions for the revocation or suspension of permits or licenses are contained at 50 CFR part 13.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.92 Exception to License Requirements

Numerous comments were received regarding § 14.92. One Service employee responding in a private capacity requested a change in § 14.92(a)(3) to require importers to document their claim that certain imported items are "ranchled," meaning the item was derived from ranchled-raised wildlife. The respondent believed that many such shipments are routinely declared as ranchled to circumvent fee requirements. Another respondent suggested deleting this exception entirely. The respondent explained that this exception was first established to assist World War II veterans operating fur ranches as a commercial business. The respondent noted that other commercial businesses dealing with captive-raised wildlife have not been afforded a similar exception. One respondent suggested that § 14.92(a)(6) be amended to include export within the exception provided to exempt pearls imported or exported for commercial purposes.

Service Response

The Service finds merit in the above responses but will not make the changes to § 14.92(a)(3) regarding furbearers born and bred in captivity at this time due to the prevalence of ranchled furs in the fur industry, and due the Service's ability to verify whether or not furs have in fact been taken from the wild and portrayed as captive bred. The Service also finds merit in the addition of the word "exported" to § 14.92(a)(6) to exempt pearls exported for commercial purposes from the license requirement. The Service has made the appropriate revision to this section in response to comments received.

Comments

Numerous respondents representing wildlife importers and exporters requested that the Service add the words, "for-profit zoological institutions and theme parks" to this section to provide for when importation or exportations are for educational or exhibition purposes and not for resale. One respondent representing the falconry community requested that falconers, licensed pursuant to part 21 or by the nation of permanent residence, importing or exporting legally held raptors for falconry purposes and not for purchase, sale, barter, or transfer of such raptors, be included as an exemption to this license requirement in § 14.92(b).

Service Response

The Service believes that it has adequately addressed the most common exceptions to the license requirement in this section. The Service believes that to categorically exempt falconers or "for-profit zoological institutions and theme parks" from the license requirement would be inappropriate since these activities can involve a commercial purpose. The exceptions listed in this part represent longstanding exceptions to several regulatory requirements of the Service. If falconers or zoological institutions are not engaged in the business of importing or exporting wildlife, as defined at § 14.91(b), then the license requirement will not apply.

Comments Pertaining to 50 CFR 14.94-Fees

Numerous comments were received on the issue of user fees provided for in § 14.94 Fees. This section establishes the Service fee schedule for a variety of services provided by the Service to importers and exporters of wildlife.

Many comments were directed specifically at the requirements of § 14.94(a)(1), which provides that an overtime fee may be charged, in addition to the inspection fee, for certain importations or exportations of wildlife, where the wildlife being imported or exported is part of a commercial shipment. One respondent expressed concern that the Service would not be charging overtime fees for noncommercial shipments, i.e., personal pets, or shipments by scientific non-profit institutions.

Many respondents expressed concern with the proposed $55.00 inspection fee and questioned whether such a fee would apply to scientific specimens imported for research purposes. Many respondents believed that this would present them with a significant problem considering their limited operating budgets. Several representatives from foreign scientific institutions were concerned with the imposition of inspection fees for scientific specimens, believing that such shipments would now be considered as presumptively commercial under the Service's revised definition of commercial.

One respondent suggested that the calculation of the inspection fees should be based on 5% of the declared value of the shipment with a minimum level of $100.00 per inspection. The monies collected, according to the respondent, should then be used to increase the number of physical inspections performed. The U.S. taxpayer, as the respondent noted, should not be subsidizing the wildlife import and export business. Another respondent suggested that the Service adopt an overtime fee schedule consistent with other regulatory agencies. One respondent was concerned as to the collection of fees by the Service for commercial shipments made via the mail. The respondent wondered whether such items would be subject to a Service refusal of clearance while the Service is awaiting payment.

Several of the respondents were concerned about the application of overtime fees as provided in § 14.94(b), as such fees relate to after-hour noncommercial importations. Respondents expressed concern regarding the Service's increase in inspection fees while at the same time reducing the license fee to commercial operators. This, as one respondent expressed, seemingly discriminates against the noncommercial importers in favor of commercial users. A respondent noted that the preamble background information, found in the Federal Register notice (September 14, 1994; 59 FR 47214) states that noncommercial shipments and shipments by persons exempt from the license requirements are not to be charged an inspection fee, but may be charged "overtime costs" incurred at the specific request of the importer or exporter. The respondent further noted that under § 14.94(a)(1) overtime fees apply only to "commercial shipments."

Service Response

The Service appreciates these comments because it points out a deficiency in the proposed rule which erroneously tied overtime fees to "commercial shipments." The Service clearly intends for overtime fees to apply to importers and exporters of wildlife who request clearance outside of normal work hours, regardless of commercial or noncommercial status. The language in the proposed rule which erroneously linked overtime fees to those holding import/export licenses may have suggested to the respondents that the Service was "discriminating" against noncommercial importers. Section 14.94(b) has been revised appropriately to reflect the Service's intent and in response to commenters concerns. Paragraph (b) has been revised in this final rule to reflect that any importer or exporter requiring clearance by a Service Officer who requests that an inspection be done outside of normal work hours will be charged an overtime fee in accordance with the fee schedule found in § 14.94(d). The structure of the fee schedule at § 14.94(d) has also been redesigned in this final rule to make the applicability of the new fees clearer and less confusing for the public. The fees themselves will remain as proposed for the reasons stated.

Comments

Many commercial importers expressed concern with the proposed increase in inspection fees. One representative of a wildlife import/export business complained that the average cost of $55 to process a shipment was not valid and that a flat, per-shipment fee is not the best method. The respondent further suggested that the Service adopt a fee schedule similar to that used by Customs which uses an "ad valorem" with flat fee minimum/reimbursable overtime. One respondent noted that at the John F. Kennedy International Airport tropical fish shipments routinely arrive on Sundays. The respondent questioned why such fees were necessary, when other Federal regulatory agencies schedule employees to work on Sunday without charging higher fees. The Service, as the respondent further noted, should be more flexible in scheduling their Inspector work hours to fit the needs of individual ports. Several importers requested that a cap on importation filing fees of $1250.00 annually be placed on smaller importers. Another respondent similarly suggested eliminating the fee for, small business which do not import more than $20,000.00 annually. Another respondent suggested that the Service eliminate the fee for reexports for, as the respondent explained, the importer had been charged originally without the shipment having been changed.

Service Response

The Service acknowledges these concerns and is attempting, through this revision, to maintain the most efficient inspection program possible without allowing its fee structure to become overly burdensome to smaller importers. The analyses of the Service's inspection program mentioned in the proposed rule clearly indicate a need to raise inspection fees and overtime rates to be commensurate with costs incurred by the Service. Most ports, both designated and non-designated, are not staffed to allow for the inclusion of "regular hours" on weekends or holidays or after normal business hours, which may require certain importers or exporters to pay more for inspections done at these hours. The Service has, in the past, examined the "ad valorem" method of reimbursement and has determined that a flat fee is the best method, since actual work required to inspect wildlife shipments does not correlate well with the value of the shipment. In other words, shipments of high value do not always require Wildlife Inspectors to perform more work. The Service will monitor the collection of fees closely and in the event fees generate sufficient revenue to pay for additional staffing at certain ports to allow for expanded hours of inspection, the Service will respond accordingly.

Comments

One response was received with regards to the Service billing of an overtime inspection in which three wildlife shipments were inspected. The respondent noted that the charges for the three inspections were not prorated over the three shipments but all three received the same full charge. The respondent suggested the Service prorate the charge for multiple importations and incorporate a 1 hour minimum overtime charge. One respondent noted that in his opinion the fees were so high with regards to exportations that it seemed to constitute a "tax" on exportations which, in his words, was unconstitutional. One exporter commented that most of his business is exporting the same or like item over and over. His inspection consists of sending in his fee and 3-177 with his shipments never being physically inspected. He suggests reducing or eliminating this repetitive process but gave no suggestions on how this might be accomplished.

Service Response

As noted in the proposed rule the Service is merely attempting to recoup costs incurred in the inspection process by adjusting its fee schedule in this final rule. In those instances, as described by the commenter, when several shipments are inspected outside normal work hours or multiple shipments are inspected for one importer on multiple entries, the Service, by policy, does not prorate associated charges. However, in response to commenter's concerns the Service has added an exception at § 14.94(b)(4) to allow for multiple shipments consigned to the same importer/exporter and inspected at one location on overtime, to pay one minimum hourly overtime fee at designated ports. The inspection fee will still apply to each shipment.

Comments

Many comments were received from the animal welfare community that requested increased inspections at port of Miami and that the Service should increase fees to a minimum of $100 to pay for the increased cost of law enforcement personnel. Many comments were received from representatives of scientific institutions concerning fees. Many respondents representing scientific organizations expressed concern with the inspection fee of $55.00 per shipment, noting that such a fee imposed upon wildlife imports and exports would be too high for their budgets. Several respondents perceived the Service's proposal as an increased regulatory burden on the scientific community and believed it had the potential to "isolate" the United States from the international scientific community. Of particular concern to several scientists was the "trade" of non-endangered species. One respondent noted that he knew of no evidence that supported the notion that scientific collecting poses a threat to non-endangered insects. Another scientist similarly suggested that the Service, due to lack of funding and manpower, should concentrate its regulatory effort on threatened and endangered species and those covered by CITES.

Service Response

The Service notes that these commenters' concerns are precisely why an inspection program was established by the Service in 1975. In order for the Service to determine if a shipment contains threatened or endangered species, or CITES species, and consequently to determine if those species are affected by trade, the shipment must be inspected by qualified personnel who can make that determination. Again, noncommercial importers and exporters of wildlife will not be subject to fees unless requiring and requesting clearance outside of normal business hours, or using nondesignated ports.

Comments

Many respondents appeared to have some misunderstanding regarding the collection of fees and quoted the overtime schedule as if the overtime fees applied to all inspections. Other respondents suggested that higher rates be charged for inspections performed at non-designated ports. Many respondents opposed the reduction in the license fee but supported an increase in the inspection fee to cover the inspection program, to the extent that such an increase would allow for 100% inspection of shipments. One respondent suggested that the service should establish a mileage fee for overtime inspections similar to Customs. A pet industry spokesman suggested the increase in fees be phased in over time and requested that a more detailed justification of the hourly rate for inspections be made available when the final rule is published. Several respondents suggested that the inspection fee be prorated when multiple inspections are being performed for the same importer, primarily at non-designated ports. Numerous respondents requested the Service justify the increased inspection fee.

Service Response

Under the new user fee structure the Service will charge a higher rate at nondesignated ports, in the form of an Administrative fee plus a 2 hour minimum charge, to cover the increased administrative costs associated with nondesignated ports. The Service has determined that inspection fees or administrative fees at nondesignated ports will not be prorated due to the obvious incentive given to importers/exporters to combine shipments, when the workload for wildlife inspectors would remain the same. The Service intends to charge mileage fees for inspections conducted at nondesignated ports with no permanent law enforcement staff present. The Service understands the concerns raised by respondents regarding justification of user fee increases, and refers to the following four studies, conducted since 1988 which recommended, and justified, fee increases in the inspection program: the Service, Division of Finance, findings and recommendations on review of the Law Enforcement Management Information System and Import/Export Fee Billing and Collection System, a 1988 user charges and collection report by the Department of the Interior Office of Inspector General, a 1991 Law Enforcement Functional Analysis Review, and a 1992 draft of the CITES Implementation Study prepared by Traffic USA, the trade monitoring group associated with the World Wildlife Fund.

Comments

Many respondents were concerned with the low numbers of physical inspections of wildlife shipments being imported into the United States. One respondent expressed support for the Service's regulation of imports and exports of wildlife and other products being imported for a commercial purpose, particularly, as the respondent noted, when such imports or exports involve threatened and endangered species.

Service Response

The Service anticipates an increase in the physical inspection rate of wildlife shipments on a nationwide basis, due, in part, to the increase in fees justified in the studies mentioned in this final rule. Fee adjustments allowing the Service to more accurately recover costs may also allow the Service to hire additional personnel.

Summary of Comments Received to the Supplemental Rule

On March 23, 1995, the Service published in the Federal Register (60 FR 15277) a supplemental proposed rule proposing additional changes to these parts. In response to this notice the Service received a total of 12 comments. These included 2 from associations, 2 from states, 3 from museums, 1 council, 1 union, 1 club, 1 university and a citizen. The comments were as follows:

One respondent noted an error in the definition section provided at § 14.4. The respondent noted that the term "accredited member of the American Zoological Association" was stated twice. The correct name according to the respondent is the American Zoo and Aquarium Association.

In regards to § 14.53(b)(2), one respondent noted that in his research during foreign explorations for natural enemies of targeted plant pests, which are collected and shipped to quarantine facilities, organisms are usually identified to a higher level of taxa than species. Identification of such collected materials, may not be available for a considerable period of time. Another respondent noted that although the original Lacey Act recognized the existence of the Federal Plant Pest Act, the new FWS regulations appear to overlook this provision.

Several comments pertained to the Service 3-177 form. One respondent suggested the Service make the reporting of dead specimens an annual or biannual report. One scientific institution noted that their collections do not specify whether the wildlife was taken as a result of sport hunting, and that, therefore, such collections should be given a blanket exemption for already deposited specimens. Another respondent was concerned with the perceived requirement that a scientific collector obtain a hunting license and worried that scientific collecting may be viewed as sport hunting.

One respondent observed that the Service's definition of scientist does not include retired professors or those at smaller colleges that do not have established public collections, who are generally considered amateurs in the field of entomology. Another respondent noted that dead specimens should be allowed to be transported freely (3-177 form only) without further clearance. One respondent requested that the Service automate the 3-177 form to streamline the process by downloading the data from each accredited institution twice annually. One respondent suggested that birds should not require authentication of collecting and export permits from the country of origin each time they are transferred; that dead, non-endangered or CITES listed birds should have no restriction on importation; and that a 3-177 should not be needed for dead birds. Instead, the respondent noted that the paperwork could be kept at the institution and open for inspection at any time. Another respondent asked for additional time to respond to what the respondent characterized as a complicated piece of law.

Another respondent noted that if a specimen was procured for a scientific institution, the regulations that are applied to permit the legal import should be consistent across the board with no exceptions as to how it was acquired. Once a permit is issued, the respondent noted, the specimens covered by that permit should have the status of specimens that do not require a permit. Other respondents, however, saw no logical reason why scientific specimens legally taken as the result of sport hunting should be excluded from the exceptions provided. One respondent requested that the Service not require authentication of collecting and export permits from the country of origin each time they are transferred internationally. One respondent suggested that the Migratory Bird Office and Law Enforcement get together on a common definition of scientific institution to avoid two different standards. The only shipments that should require reporting to the Service, one respondent noted, should be those that contain species listed under CITES or the U.S. Endangered Species Act. One respondent requested that State and Federal government agencies should be exempt from requirements pertaining to permits and be given some kind of blanket import-export permit.

Service Response

The Service appreciates these comments and responds by stating that the Federal Government, in particular the Service, is bound by international treaty and domestic law to require certain types of documentation, reporting, declaration, and regulation as relates to the import and export of wildlife and wildlife products (including insects). The Service, in its revision of this part, has been responsive to the demands of the public while fulfilling its obligations under law. The Service believes that the modification of these regulations, in particular addressing the concerns of the scientific collecting community, have taken into account public concerns while fulfilling the Service's obligations.

Need for Final Rule Making

The Fish and Wildlife Service is updating the regulations for the importation, exportation, and transportation of wildlife. Definitions have been added and several errors and missing references have been corrected. Several ambiguities in the text have been restated for clarity. Changes were necessary in several sections for the purposes of identification of wildlife, to provide uniformity with the Customs Service, to more clearly articulate requirements, to circumscribe exceptions to requirements, and to provide for the safety of inspectors.

Changes in the Service import/export user fees policies and rates were made in order to recover the full costs of license and inspection services to require all commercial importers and exporters of wildlife and wildlife products to obtain an import/export license, to adjust the cost of a wildlife import/export license, to adjust the inspection fee charged to licensees at designated ports, and to adjust the administrative fee charged for each wildlife shipment cleared at a non-designated port.

As required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507(d)), the Service has received approval for collection of information under this regulation using the Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife form 3-177, approval number 1018-0012 which expires June 30, 1997, and using the Federal Fish and Wildlife License/Permit Application form 3-200, approval number 1018-0022 which expires January 31, 1997.

Information collection is accomplished under this part through the use of these two forms and is used to satisfy various requirements in this regulation, including, species and shipping information from the Declaration form 3-177, and licensing information from the Application form 3-200. The information requested on these forms is not being modified in this rule, however, changes are being made which will affect the number of persons or businesses required to file an Import/Export License Application form 3-200 to obtain an Import/Export License.

Changes also are being made in the exceptions granted to certain persons from the Declaration filing requirements.

The Declaration filing exceptions contained in this final rule will not result in any increased information collection by the Service. However, those persons or businesses engaging in business as an importer or exporter of wildlife who may have previously been excepted from the license requirement, will now be required to file a 3-200 Application form with the Service in order to obtain an import/export license. This will result in increased use of an existing information collection. The information to be collected will include the applicant's name and complete address, type of business and description of the activity for which a license is required, principal officer information, location where activity under the license is conducted, and business, agency, or institutional affiliation of the applicant. The likely respondents to this collection of information will be persons engaging in business as importers or exporters of wildlife who are not currently licensed by the Service. This information will be used by the Service to determine the applicability of the license requirement, and to implement the licensing and fee collection process. This information collection will be required annually and will require approximately a 1.0 hour total annual reporting and recordkeeping burden per respondent. The Service estimates that the number of likely respondents will be approximately 700, making a total annual reporting and recordkeeping burden of 700 hours.

Economic Effects

This rulemaking was not subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget under Executive Order 12866.

The Service conducted a cost/benefit analysis in compliance with the provisions of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (Pub. L. 104-121). Data for commercial imports and exports of wildlife and wildlife products for the 1994 calendar year were used to estimate the financial impact on commercial wildlife importers and exporters from the revised user fee schedule contained in the proposed rule and in this final rule. Calendar year 1994 data were chosen for the analysis for their completeness and because the Service feels that the commercial data for 1994 are typical of calendar year totals. The analysis shows that the Service processes approximately 70,000 wildlife and wildlife product imports and exports per year, and that of those shipments approximately 56,000 are imported or exported for commercial purposes. The 1994 data show that the Service issued approximately 1,700 commercial import/export licenses in 1994, and those licensees imported or exported approximately 40,000 commercial shipments. These figures equate to approximately 23 commercial shipments per licensee per year. The total number of shipments made for commercial purposes (56,000) minus the number of commercial shipments made by licensees (40,000) equals 16,000 shipments made for commercial purposes by non-licensees that, presumably, meet one of the current licensing exceptions. The most likely exception in these cases would be the $25,000 annual threshold requirement for obtaining a license. This exception is being eliminated in this final rule. By using the 23 shipments per licensee per year figure as representative of all commercial importers and exporters, the Service estimates that 700 non-licensed commercial importers and exporters shipping 16,000 shipments per year will be affected by the new license requirement. Based upon the 23 shipments per year figure, the 1,700 licensees currently paying $25 per shipment in user fees and $125 annual license fee are paying $700 annually in user fees. Under this final rule those licensees will pay an additional $615 based upon $55 per shipment and a $50 license fee, or $1,315 annually in user fees. The 700 non-licensed commercial importers and exporters who are now exempt from the fee requirement also will pay $1,315 per year based upon the 23 shipment per year average and the new user/license fees. As stated in this final rule, these fees will generate approximately $2 million in additional user fees which will allow the Service to more closely recoup actual costs of the wildlife inspection program.

A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that this rulemaking will not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities, which include businesses, organizations, or governmental jurisdictions. The Department of the Interior is seeking to assess the least possible fee increase that will enable the Service to recoup its costs associated with the Service's Import/Export program. As discussed in the proposed rule, fees have not been increased since 1986. This fee increase will more closely align the Federal Government's operating cost with revenues. This rule will affect all importers and exporters equally and is expected to remove any competitive advantage enjoyed by unlicensed importers or exporters. Because of the modest cost involved, the fee increase is expected to have a minimal effect on those small entities as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that his rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year or local or State governments or private entities.

National Environmental Policy Act (40 CFR part 1500)

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was not prepared for this action. The action that is covered under a categorical exclusion from the National Environmental Policy Act procedures. An Environmental Action memorandum is on file at the Service's office in Arlington, Virginia. A determination has been made pursuant to section 7 of the Endangered Species Act that the revision of part 14 will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats.

9. Section 14.52 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), the introductory text of paragraph (c), paragraphs (c)(3), and (c)(4) and by adding paragraph (c)(5) to read as follows:

§ 14.52 Clearance of wildlife.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by this subpart, a Service officer must clear all wildlife imported into the United States prior to release from detention by Customs officers. A Service officer must clear all wildlife to be exported from the United States prior to the physical loading of the merchandise on a vehicle or aircraft, or the containerization or palletizing of such merchandise for export, unless a Service officer expressly authorizes otherwise. Such clearance does not constitute a certification of the legality of an importation or exportation under the laws or regulations of the United States.

(b) An importer/exporter or his/her agent may obtain clearance by a Service officer only at designated ports (§ 14.12), at border ports (§ 14.16), at special ports (§ 14.19), or at a port where importation or exportation is authorized by a permit issued under subpart C of this part. An importer/exporter must return forthwith any wildlife released without a Service officer's clearance or clearance by Customs for the Service under authority of § 14.54 to a port where clearance may be obtained pursuant to this subpart.

(c) To obtain clearance, the importer, exporter, or the importer's or exporter's agent will make available to a Service officer or a Customs officer acting under § 14.54:

* * * * *

(3) All permits or other documents required by the laws or regulations of any foreign country;

(4) The wildlife being imported or exported; and

(5) Any documents and permits required by the country of export or re-export for the wildlife.

10. Section 14.53 is revised to read as follows:

§ 14.53 Detention and refusal of clearance.

(a) Detention. Any Service officer, or Customs officer acting under § 14.54, may detain imported or exported wildlife and any associated property. As soon as practicable following the importation or exportation and decision to detain, the Service will mail a notice of detention by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the importer or consignee, or exporter, if known or easily ascertainable. Such notice must describe the detained wildlife or other property, indicate the reason for the detention, describe the general nature of the tests or inquiries to be conducted, and indicate that if the releasability of the wildlife has not been determined within 30 days after the date of the notice, or a longer period if specifically stated, that the Service will deem the wildlife to be seized and will issue no further notification of seizure.

(b) Refusal of clearance. Any Service officer may refuse clearance of imported or exported wildlife and any Customs officer acting under § 14.54 may refuse clearance of imported wildlife when there are responsible grounds to believe that:

(1) A Federal law or regulation has been violated;

(2) The correct identity and country of origin of the wildlife has not been established (in such cases, the burden is upon the owner, importer, exporter, consignor, or consignee to establish such identity by scientific name to the species level or, if any subspecies is protected by the laws of this country or the country of origin to the subspecies level);

(3) Any permit, license, or other documentation required for clearance of such wildlife is not available, is not currently valid, has been suspended or revoked, or is not authentic;

(4) The importer, exporter, or the importer's or exporter's agent has filed an incorrect or incomplete declaration for importation or exportation as provided in § 14.61 or § 14.63; or

(5) The importer, exporter, or the importer's or exporter's agent has not paid any fee or portion of balance due for inspection fees required by § 14.93 or § 14.94, or penalties assessed against the importer or exporter under 50 CFR part 11. This paragraph does not apply to penalty assessments on appeal in accordance with the provisions of part 11.

11. Section 14.54 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), and adding paragraph (f) to read as follows:

§ 14.54 Unavailability of Service officers.

(a) Designated ports. All wildlife arriving at a designated port must be cleared by a Service officer prior to Customs clearance and release. When importers or their agents expect live or perishable shipments of wildlife or wildlife products or request inspection at the time of arrival, they must notify the Service at least 48 hours prior to the estimated time of arrival. However, where a Service officer is not available within a reasonable time, Customs Officers may clear live or perishable wildlife subject to post-clearance inspection and investigation by the Service.

* * * * *

(f) Exports. Exporters or their agents must notify the Service and make the shipment available for inspection at least 48 hours prior to the estimated time of exportation of any wildlife.

12. Section 14.55 is amended by revising the introductory text of the section and by adding paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 14.55 Exceptions to clearance requirements.

Except for wildlife requiring a permit pursuant to part 17 or 23 of this subchapter B, clearance is not required for the importation of the following wildlife:

* * * * *

(d) Dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens or parts thereof, imported or exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes. Except: That this exception will not apply to any specimens or parts thereof taken as a result of sport hunting.

13. Section 14.61 is revised to read as follows:

§ 14.61 Import declaration requirements.

Except as otherwise provided by the regulations of this subpart, importers or their agents must file with the Service either a completed Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177), signed by the importer or the importer's agent, or an electronic Form 3-177, filed through the United States Customs Service Automated Commercial System (ACS) by an authorized Customs broker using the Automated Broker Interface (ABI), upon the importation of any wildlife at the place where Service clearance under § 14.52 is requested. However, wildlife may be transhipped under bond to a different port for release from custody by Customs Service officers under 19 U.S.C. 1499. For certain antique articles as specified in § 14.22, importers or their agents must file a Form 3-177 with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry prior to release from Customs custody. Importers or their agents must furnish all applicable information requested on the Form 3-177 and the importer, or the importer's agent, must certify that the information furnished is true and complete to the best of his/her knowledge and belief.

14. Section 14.62 is amended by revising paragraph (a), by removing paragraph (b)(2) and by redesignating existing paragraphs (b)(3) and (b)(4) as (b)(2) and (b)(3) respectively, and by revising paragraph (c) and adding paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 14.62 Exceptions to import declaration requirements.

(a) Except for wildlife requiring a permit pursuant to part 17 or 23 of this subchapter B, an importer or his/her agent does not have to file a Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) for importation of shellfish and fishery products imported for purposes of human or animal consumption, or taken in waters under the jurisdiction of the United States or on the high seas for recreational purposes;

(b) * * *

(2) Wildlife products or manufactured articles that are not intended for commercial use and are used as clothing or contained in accompanying personal baggage, except that an importer or his/her agent must file a Form 3-177 for raw or dressed furs; for raw, salted, or crusted hides or skins; and for game or game trophies; and

(3) Wildlife products or manufactured articles that are not intended for commercial use and are a part of a shipment of the household effects of persons moving their residence to the United States, except that an importer or his/her agent must file a declaration for raw or dressed furs and for raw, salted, or crusted hides or skins.

(c) General declarations for certain specimens. Notwithstanding the provisions of 14.61 and except for wildlife included in paragraph (d) of this section, an importer or his/her agent may describe in general terms on a Declaration for the Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) scientific specimens imported for scientific institutions for taxonomic, systematic research, or faunal survey purposes. An importer or his/her agent must file an amended Form 3-177 within 180 days after filing of the general declaration with the Service. The declaration must identify specimens to the most accurate taxonomic classification reasonably practicable using the best available taxonomic information. The Director may grant extensions of the 180-day period.

(d) Except for wildlife requiring a permit pursuant to part 16, 17, 18, 21, 22 or 23 of this subchapter, an importer or his/her agent does not have to file a Declaration for the Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) at the time of importation for shipments of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens or parts thereof, imported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes. An importer or his/her agent must file a Form 3-177 within 180 days of importation with the appropriate Assistant Regional Director—Law Enforcement in the Region where the importation occurs. The declaration must identify the specimens to the most accurate taxonomic classification reasonably practicable using the best available taxonomic information, and must declare the country of origin. Except: That this exception will not apply to any specimens or parts thereof taken as a result of sport hunting.

15. Section 14.64 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b)(1), (b)(2) and by adding (b)(3) to read as follows:

§ 14.64 Exceptions to export declaration requirements.

(a) Except for wildlife requiring a permit pursuant to Part 17 or 23 of this subchapter B, an exporter or his/her agent does not have to file a Declaration for Importation or Exportation of Fish or Wildlife (Form 3-177) for the exportation of shellfish and fishery products exported for purposes of human or animal consumption or taken in waters under the jurisdiction of the United States or on the high seas for recreational purposes, and does not have to file for the exportation of live aquatic invertebrates of the Class Pelecypoda (commonly known as oysters, clams, mussels, and scallops) and the eggs, larvae, or juvenile forms thereof exported for purposes of propagation, or research related to propagation.

(b) * * *

(1) Wildlife that is not intended for commercial use where the value of such wildlife is under $250;

(2) Wildlife products or manufactured articles, including game trophies, that are not intended for commercial use and are used as clothing or contained in accompanying personal baggage or are part of a shipment of the household effects of persons moving their residence from the United States; and

(3) Shipments of dead, preserved, dried, or embedded scientific specimens or parts thereof, exported by accredited scientists or accredited scientific institutions for taxonomic or systematic research purposes. An exporter or his/her agent must file a Form 3-177 within 180 days of exportation with the appropriate Assistant Regional Director—Law Enforcement in the Region where the exportation occurs. The declaration must identify the specimens to the most accurate taxonomic classification reasonably practicable using the best available taxonomic information, and must declare the country of origin. Except: That this exception will not apply to any specimens or parts thereof taken as a result of sport hunting.

16. Section 14.81 is revised to read as follows:

§ 14.81 Marking requirement.

Except as otherwise provided in this subpart, no person may import, export, or transport in interstate commerce any container or package containing any fish or wildlife (including shellfish and fishery products) unless he/she marks each container or package conspicuously on the outside with both the name and address of the shipper and consignee. An accurate and legible list of its contents by species scientific name and the number of each species and whether or not the listed species are venomous must accompany the entire shipment.

17. Section 14.82 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1)(ii)(A), (1)(2), and (a)(3) to read as follows:

§ 14.82 Alternatives and exceptions to the marking requirement.

- (a) * * *
 (1)(i) * * *
 (ii) * * *

(A) The common name that identifies the species (examples include: Chinook (or king) salmon; bluefin tuna; and whitetail deer) and whether or not the listed species is venomous; and

(2) Affixing the shipper's wildlife import/export license number preceded by the three letters "FWS" on the outside of each container or package containing fish or wildlife, if the shipper has valid wildlife import/export license issued under authority of 50 CFR part 14. For each shipment marked in accordance with this paragraph, the records maintained under § 14.93(c) must include a copy of the invoice, packing list, bill of lading, or other similar document that accurately states the information required by paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of this section.

(3) In the case of subcontainers or packages within a larger packing container, only the outermost container must be marked in accordance with this section. Except, that for live fish or wildlife that are packed in subcontainers within a larger packing container, if the subcontainers are numbered or labeled, the packing list, invoice, bill of lading, or other similar document, must reflect that number or label. However, each subcontainer containing a venomous species must be clearly marked as venomous.

18. Section 14.91 is amended by revising paragraph (a) and (c) to read as follows:

* * * * *

(c) Certain persons required to be licensed. The definition in paragraph (b) of this section includes, but is not limited to, persons who import or export wildlife for commercial purposes:

(1) For trade, sale, or resale, such as animal dealers, animal brokers, pet dealers, pet suppliers, and laboratory research suppliers;

(2) In the form of fur for tanning, manufacture, or sale, such as fur trappers, dealers, brokers, and manufacturers;

(3) In the form of hides and skins for tanning, manufacture, or sale, such as hide, skin, and leather dealers, brokers, manufacturers, and processors;

(4) In the form of products (such as garments, bags, shoes, boots, jewelry, rugs, or curios) for sale, such as wholesalers, retailers, distributors, and brokers;

(5) As taxidermists in connection with the mounting processing, or storage of trophies or specimens;

(6) As freight forwarders; and

(7) In the form of food products taken from populations of non-domesticated animals.

19. Section 14.92 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(2), (a)(3), and (a)(4) and adding (a)(5) and (a)(6), and by revising (b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(4), and (b)(5) and by removing paragraph (b)(6) to read as follows:

21. Section 14.94 is added to read as follows:

§ 14.94 Fees.

(a) License and inspection fees. The Service will impose a yearly fee for a license pursuant to § 14.93. In addition, each licensee must pay an inspection fee for each wildlife shipment imported into or exported from the United States at a designated port.

(b) Designated port overtime fees. The Service may charge importers or exporters of wildlife, regardless of being licensed as a commercial importer or exporter, a fee for overtime for inspections that begin before normal working hours, that extend beyond normal working hours, or are on a holiday, Saturday, or Sunday if the importer/exporter requested that the inspection be performed outside normal work hours. Overtime fees consist of an increased hourly rate equal to 1½ times the average hourly rate of a journeyman level wildlife inspector. Overtime fees will be in addition to inspection fees imposed for license holders at designated ports. If an importer/exporter presents a shipment for inspection during normal work hours but the Service cannot perform the inspection during normal work hours on that day, the service will give the importer/exporter the option of performing the inspection later during normal work hours or charging for overtime. The Service's ability to perform inspections during overtime hours will depend on the availability of Service personnel. The Service will use the following parameters when calculating the overtime fee:

(1) Inspection overtime commences when a Service officer departs that officer's residence or official duty station enroute to the inspection site or at the end of normal work hours. Inspection overtime terminates when the officer returns to the point of departure or official duty station or when the inspection is completed, whichever occurs later.

(2) For an inspection at a designated port beginning less than 1 hour before normal work hours, the Service will charge 1 hour of time, at an hourly rate of 1½ times the average hourly rate of a journeyman level Wildlife Inspector. For all other overtime inspections at a designated port the Service will charge a minimum of 2 hours of time, at an hourly rate of 1½ times the average hourly rate of a journeyman level Wildlife Inspector, except that for all inspections performed on a federal holiday the Service will charge a minimum of 2 hours at twice the average hourly rate of a journeyman level Wildlife Inspector.

(3) The Service will charge any inspection time in excess of the 2-hour minimum in quarter hour increments at the same hourly rate as the first 2 hours. The Service will round up inspection time of 10 minutes or more to the next quarter hour and will disregard any time less than 10 minutes.

(4) The fee schedule will apply to all inspections regardless of importer/exporter of record, except, that the Service will charge multiple shipments consigned to the same importer/exporter and inspected at one location one 2-hour minimum or actual time, whichever is greater.

(c) Nondesignated port fees. The Service will charge permittees issued permits under subpart C of this part, and licensed commercial importers and exporters a fee for inspections at nondesignated ports. The fees consist of a flat administrative fee plus a minimum of two hours of time at staffed nondesignated ports. The Service will use the following parameters when calculating fees:

(1) During normal working hours the Service will charge permittees issued permits under subpart C of this part, regardless of being licensed as a commercial importer or exporter, an administrative fee plus a minimum of 2 hours of time at the average hourly rate of a journeyman level wildlife inspector. The Service will charge permittees requesting clearance outside normal working hours, including Saturday and Sunday, an administrative fee plus a minimum of 2 hours of time at 1½ times the average hourly rate of a journeyman level wildlife inspector, except that for all inspections performed on a federal holiday the Service will charge a minimum of 2 hours at twice the average hourly rate of a journeyman level wildlife inspector.

(2) The Service will charge any inspection time in excess of the 2-hour minimum in quarter hour increments at the same hourly rate as the first 2 hours. The Service will round up inspection time of 10 minutes or more to the next quarter hour and will disregard any time less than 10 minutes.

(3) The Service will not charge importers or exporters who are not required to have a permit under subpart C of this part, except that the Service will charge licensed importers or exporters an administrative fee only during normal working hours, and overtime hourly rates and minimums will apply outside normal working hours.

(4) For inspections performed under a permit issued under subpart C of this part at nondesignated ports with no permanent Service law enforcement staff, the Service will charge all costs associated with inspection and clearance, including, salary, travel and transportation costs, and per diem.

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

50 CFR Part 661

[Docket No. 960126016-6121-04; I.D. 061196C]

Ocean Salmon Fisheries Off the Coasts of Washington, Oregon, and California; Closure from Cape Arago, OR, to the Oregon-California Border AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Closure.

SUMMARY: NMFS announces that the commercial salmon fishery in the area from Cape Arago, OR, to the Oregon-California border was closed at 1700 hours, June 5, 1996. The Director, Northwest Region, NMFS (Regional Director), has determined that the commercial quota of 5,300 chinook salmon for the area has been reached. This action is necessary to conform to the preseason announcement of the 1996 management measures and is intended to ensure conservation of chinook salmon.

DATES: Effective 1700 hours local time, June 5, 1996, through 2400 hours local time, June 30, 1996. Comments will be accepted through July 5, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Comments may be mailed to William Stelle, Jr., Director, Northwest Region, National Marine Fisheries Service, NOAA, 7600 Sand Point Way NE., BIN C15700-Bldg. 1, Seattle, WA 98115-0070. Information relevant to this action has been compiled in aggregate form and is available for public review during business hours at the office of the Regional Director.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Regulations governing the ocean salmon fisheries at 50 CFR 661.21(a)(1) state that when a quota for the commercial or the recreational fishery, or both, for any salmon species in any portion of the fishery management area is projected by the Regional Director to be reached on or by a certain date, the Secretary of Commerce will, under 50 CFR 661.23, close the commercial or recreational fishery, or both, for all salmon species in the portion of the fishery management area to which the quota applies as of the date the quota is projected to be reached.

In the annual management measures for ocean salmon fisheries (61 FR 20175, May 6, 1996), NMFS announced that the 1996 commercial fishery in the area between Cape Arago, OR, and the Oregon-California border would open on May 1 and continue through June 30 or attainment of the 5,300 chinook salmon quota, whichever occurred first.

The best available information on June 3 indicated that commercial catches in this area totaled about 4,300 chinook salmon through June 2. Based on the recent catch and effort levels, NMFS determined to close the commercial fishery at 1200 hours, June

4. The U.S. Coast Guard Notice to Mariners was not broadcast, however, until Wednesday afternoon, June 5. Therefore, the Federal closure was not effective until 1700 hours, June 5. The season remains closed under the terms of the preseason announcement of the 1996 management measures.

The Regional Director consulted with representatives of the Pacific Fishery Management Council and the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife regarding this closure. The State of Oregon closed its commercial fishery between Cape Arago and the Oregon-California border at 1200 hours on June 4. As provided by the inseason notice procedures of 50 CFR 661.23, actual notice to fishermen of this action was given prior to 1700 hours local time, June 5, 1996, by telephone hotline number 206-526-6667 or 800-662-9825 and by U.S. Coast Guard Notice to Mariners broadcasts on Channel 16 VHF-FM and 2182 kHz. Because of the need for immediate action to stop the fishery upon achievement of the quota, NMFS has determined that good cause exists for this action to be issued without affording a prior opportunity for public comment. This action does not apply to other fisheries that may be operating in other areas.

Classification

This action is authorized by 50 CFR 661.21 and 661.23 and is exempt from review under E.O. 12866.

Authority: 16 U.S.C. 1801 et seq.

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

10 CFR Part 20

[Docket No. PRM-20-24]

Petition for Rulemaking; University of Cincinnati

AGENCY: Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Notice of receipt of petition for rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) is docketing, as a petition for rulemaking, a document dated April 7, 1996, and filed with the Commission by the University of Cincinnati. The petition was assigned Docket No. PRM-20-24 on April 15, 1996. The petitioner requests that the Commission amend its regulations to authorize specified visitors of radiation patients, as members of the public, to receive up to 500 mrem per year. In this document, the NRC is announcing the receipt of the petition and requesting public comment on the suggested amendment.

DATES: Submit comments by September 4, 1996.

Comments received after this date will be considered if it is practical to do so. However, assurance of consideration cannot be given except as to comments received on or before this date.

ADDRESSES: Submit comments to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch, Office of the Secretary, Washington, DC 20555-001. For a copy of the petition, write to the Rules Review Section, Rules Review and Directives Branch, Division of Freedom of Information and Publications Services, Office of Administration, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555.

Deliver comments to 11555 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Maryland, between 7:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. on Federal workdays.

For information on submitting comments electronically, see

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Michael T. Lesar, Chief, Rules Review Section, at the same address as above or by telephone, 301-415-7163, or toll free, 1-800-368-5642, or E-mail, MTL@NRC.GOV.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

In § 20.1301(a)(1), each licensee is required to conduct operations so that the total effective radiation dose limit for members of the public does not exceed 0.1 rem (1 millisievert) in a year. The dose equivalent must be exclusive of the dose contributions from background radiation, any medical administration the individual has received, voluntary participation in medical research programs, and the licensee's disposal of radioactive material into sanitary sewerage in accordance with § 20.2003. The current regulations state in § 20.1301(c) that a licensee or license applicant may apply for prior NRC authorization to operate up to an annual dose limit for an individual member of the public of 0.5 rem (5 mSv).

Petitioner's Request

The petitioner states that, as recommended in a report from the National Committee on Radiation Protection (NCRP 91), the proposed amendment would permit a small population of the general public to be infrequently exposed to an annual exposure limit of 500 mrem total effective dose equivalent. The petitioner presents the following specific recommendations concerning the requested amendment:

1. The individuals to whom the 500 mrem annual limit applies would be specified visitors of radiation therapy patients hospitalized under 10 CFR 35.75 or specified visitors of radiation therapy patients receiving temporary brachytherapy implants under 10 CFR 35.400.

2. The dose limit is not requested for all visitors of all radiation therapy patients hospitalized under 10 CFR 35.75 or receiving a temporary implant under 10 CFR 35.400. The dose limit would apply only to specified visitors determined by the physician to be necessary for the emotional and/or physical support of the patient (e.g., parents of children, elderly patients who need support from a familiar individual, etc.).

3. The specified visitors would be limited to adult (18 or older) non-pregnant individuals who are members of the family or are individuals with a significant personal relationship to the patient.

4. The specified visitors would be instructed by the licensee or authorized user to maintain their exposure as low as reasonable achievable (ALARA). The instruction would emphasize the radiation safety precautions of time, distance and shielding.

5. The dose limit would apply only to dose received while the patient is hospitalized under 10 CFR 35.75 and/or receiving a temporary brachytherapy implant under 10 CFR 35.400. A personnel monitor (pocket dosimeter, film badge, TLD or electronic dosimeter) would document compliance.

The Petitioner's Proposed Amendment

The petitioner proposes that § 20.1301 be amended to permit specified visitors of radiation patients to be exposed to an exposure limit of 500 mrem total effective dose per year.

Electronic Access

Comments may be submitted electronically, in either ASCII text or WordPerfect format (version 5.1 or later), by calling the NRC Electronic Bulletin Board (BBS) on FedWorld. The bulletin board may be accessed using a personal computer, a modem, and one of the commonly available communications software packages, or directly via Internet. Background documents on this petition also are available for downloading and viewing on the bulletin board.

If using a personal computer and modem, the NRC rulemaking subsystem on FedWorld can be accessed directly by dialing the toll-free number 800 303-9672. Set communication software parameters as follows: parity to none, data bits to 8, and stop bits to 1 (N,8,1). Using the ANSI or VT-100 terminal emulation, the NRC rulemaking subsystem can then be accessed by selecting the “rules menu” option from the “NRC main menu.” Users will find the “FedWorld On-line User's Guides” particularly helpful. Many NRC subsystems and data bases also have a “Help/Information Center” option that is tailored to the particular subsystem.

The NRC subsystem on FedWorld also can be accessed by a direct-dial telephone number for the main FedWorld BBS, (703)321-3339, or by using Telnet via Internet: fedworld.gov. If using (703)321-3339 to contact FedWorld, the NRC subsystem will be accessed from the FedWorld main menu by selecting the "Regulatory, Government Administration and State Systems," then selecting "Regulatory Information Mall." At that point, a menu will be displayed that has an option "U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission" that will take you to the NRC on-line main menu. The NRC on-line area also can be accessed directly by typing "/go nrc" at a FedWorld command line. If NRC is accessed from FedWorld's main menu, the user may return to FedWorld by selecting the "Return to FedWorld" option from the NRC on-line main menu. However, if NRC at FedWorld is accessed by using NRC's toll-free number, the user will have full access to all NRC systems but not to the main FedWorld system.

If FedWorld is contacted using Telnet, the user will see the NRC area and menus, including the rules menu. Although the user will be able to download documents and leave messages, he or she will not be able to write comments or upload files (comments). If FedWorld is contacted using File Transfer Program (FTP), all files can be accessed and downloaded but uploading files is not allowed—the user will see only a list of files without descriptions (normal gopher look). An index file is available that lists all files within a subdirectory, with descriptions of those files. There is a 15-minute time limit for FTP access.

Although FedWorld also can be accessed through the Worldwide Web, like FTP, that mode only provides access for downloading files and does not display the NRC rules menu.

For more information on NRC bulletin boards call Mr. Arthur Davis, Systems Integration and Development Branch, NRC, Washington, DC 20555-0001, telephone (301)415-5780; E-mail AXD3@nrc.gov.

Single copies of this petition may be obtained by written request or telefax ((301)415-5144) from the Rules Review Section, Rules Review and Directives Branch, Division of Freedom of Information and Publications Services, Office of Administration, Mail Stop T6-D59, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555-0001. Certain documents related to this petition, including comments received, may be examined at the NRC Public Document Room, 2120 L Street NW. (Lower Level), Washington, DC. These same documents also may be viewed and downloaded electronically via the Electronic Bulletin Board established by NRC for this petition as indicated above.

Dated at Rockville, MD., the 17th day of June, 1996.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission,
John C. Hoyle,
Secretary of the Commission.

(2) Describe the interest adversely affected by the official's inaction, including a description of the loss, impairment or impediment of the interest caused by the official's inaction; and

(b) The official receiving a request as specified in paragraph (a) of this section must either:

(1) Make a decision on the merits of the initial request within 10 days from receipt of the request for a decision; or

(2) Establish a reasonable later date by which the decision will be made, not to exceed 60 days from the date of request.

(c) If an official establishes a date by which a requested decision will be made, this date will be the date by which failure to make a decision will be appealable under this part.

(d) If the official, within the 10-day period specified in paragraph (a) of this section, fails to make a decision on the merits of the initial request or to establish a later date by which a decision will be made, the official's inaction will be appealable to the next official in the process established in this part.

§ 2.9 How do I appeal an administrative decision?

(a) You must file a written notice of appeal in the office of the official whose decision is being appealed. You must also send a copy of the notice of appeal to the official who will decide the appeal and to all known interested parties. The notice of appeal must be filed in the office of the official whose decision is being appealed within 30 days of your receipt of the notice of administrative action described in § 2.7.

(1) A notice of appeal that is filed by mail is considered filed on the date that it is postmarked. You are responsible for proving that your notice of appeal is timely filed.

(2) No extension of time will be granted for filing a notice of appeal. Notices of appeal not filed in the specified time will not be considered, and the decision involved will be considered final for the Department and effective in accordance with § 2.6(a).

(b) If you are an Indian or Indian tribe and not represented by counsel, you may request assistance in preparing your appeal from the official who issued the decision. If you request assistance, the official who issued the decision appealed must give you appropriate assistance in preparing the appeal.

(c) Your notice of appeal must:

(1) Include your name, address, and phone number.

(2) Be clearly labeled or titled with the words "NOTICE OF APPEAL."

(3) Contain a statement of the decision being appealed that is sufficient to permit identification of the decision.

(4) Certify that copies of the notice of appeal have been served on interested parties, as prescribed in § 2.12(a).

(d) Your notice of appeal should:

(1) Have on the face of any envelope in which the notice is mailed or delivered, in addition to the address, the clearly visible words "NOTICE OF APPEAL."

(2) If possible, attach either a copy of the notice of the administrative decision received under § 2.7, or when an official has failed to make a decision or take any action, attach a copy of your request for a decision or action under § 2.8 with a written statement that the official failed to make a decision or take any action or to establish a date by which a decision would be made upon the request.

§ 2.10 What documents must I file other than a notice of appeal?

(a) You must file a statement of reasons in every appeal, and it must be accompanied by or otherwise incorporate all supporting documents.

(b) The statement of reasons may be included in or filed with the notice of appeal.

(c) If the statement of reasons is not filed with the notice of appeal, you must file a separate statement of reasons in the office of the official whose decision is being appealed within 30 days after the notice of appeal was filed in that office.

(d) The statement of reasons whether filed with the notice of appeal or filed separately should:

(1) Be clearly labeled "STATEMENT OF REASONS".

(2) Have on the face of any envelope in which the statement of reasons is mailed or delivered, in addition to the address, the clearly visible words "STATEMENT OF REASONS".

§ 2.11 If someone else files an appeal that affects my interest, may I respond to the appeal?

Yes. You are an interested party.

(a) Any interested party may file a written answer responding to the appellant's notice of appeal and statement of reasons.

(b) Any interested party may file a written answer describing the affected interest and a response to the appeal. This answer may be submitted in any appropriate manner. The written answer may be accompanied by or otherwise incorporate supporting documents.

(c) The written answer must be filed within 30 days after the statement of reasons is received.

(d) The written answer and any supporting documents must be filed in the office of the official before whom the appeal is pending as specified in § 2.13.

(e) The written answer should:

(1) Be clearly labeled or titled with the words "ANSWER OF INTERESTED PARTY";

(2) Have on the face of any envelope in which the answer is mailed or delivered, in addition to the address, the clearly visible words "ANSWER OF INTERESTED PARTY"; and

§ 2.12 How do I serve appeal documents?

(a) All persons filing documents in an appeal must serve copies of those documents on all other interested parties known to the person making the filing.

(1) The documents must be served on all other interested parties, either by mail or personal delivery, at the time the document is filed.

(2) A written statement must be filed certifying that the document has been served on each interested party. The statement should show the document involved, the name and address of the party served, and the date of service.

(b) If an appeal is filed with the Interior Board of Indian Appeals, a copy of the notice of appeal must also be sent to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs: The notice of appeal sent to the Interior Board of Indian Appeals must certify that a copy has been sent to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs.

(c) If the appellant is an Indian or Indian tribe not represented by counsel, and has requested assistance in preparing the appeal from the official who issued the decision, the official will, in the manner prescribed in this section, personally or by mail serve a copy of all appeal documents on the official who will decide the appeal and on each interested party known to the serving official.

(d) Service of any document under this part must be by personal delivery or by mail to the record address as specified in § 2.14. Service on a tribe will be to the principal or designated tribal official or to the governing body.

(e) In all cases where a party is represented by an attorney in an appeal, service of any document on the attorney is service on the party represented. Where a party is represented by more than one attorney, service on any one attorney is sufficient. The certificate of service on an attorney will include the name of the party whom the attorney represents and indicate that service was made on the attorney representing that party.

(f) When an official deciding an appeal determines that there has not been service of a document affecting a person's interest, the official will either serve the document on the person or direct the appropriate legal counsel to serve the document on the person and allow the person an opportunity to respond.

§ 2.13 How do I file an appeal document?

(a) An appeal document is properly filed with an official of the Bureau of Indian Affairs:

(1) By personal delivery during regular business hours to the person designated to receive mail in the immediate office of the official; or

(2) By mail to the facility officially designated for receipt of mail addressed to the official. The document is considered filed by mail on the date that it is postmarked.

(b) Bureau of Indian Affairs offices receiving a misdirected appeal document will forward the document to the proper office promptly. If a person delivers an appeal document to the wrong office or mails an appeal document to an incorrect address, no extension of time should be allowed because of the time necessary for a Bureau office to redirect the document to the correct address.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an official deciding an appeal will allow late filing of a misdirected document, including a notice of appeal, where the official finds that the misdirection is the fault of the government.

§ 2.14 Who is responsible for keeping record addresses up to date?

(a) Every interested party who files a document in connection with an appeal must, when filing the document, indicate his/her address.

(1) Any change of address must be promptly reported to the official with whom the previous address was filed.

(2) The most current address on file under this subsection will be deemed the proper address for all purposes under this part.

(b) The successors in interest of a party must also promptly inform the official specified in paragraph (a) of this section of their interest in the appeal and their address.

(c) An appellant or interested party failing to file an address or change of address as specified in this section may not object to lack of notice or service attributable to his/her failure to indicate a new address.

§ 2.15 How are periods of time computed?

In computing any period of time prescribed or allowed in this part, calendar days will be used. Computation will not include the day on which a decision being appealed was made, service or notice was received, a document was filed, or other event occurred causing time to begin to run. Computation will include the last day of the period, unless it is a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday, in which event the period runs until the end of the next day which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday.

§ 2.16 May the time for filing or serving a document be extended?

An official to whom an appeal is made may, upon a showing of good cause by a party and with notice to all other parties, extend the period for filing or serving any document; provided, however, that no extension will be granted for filing a notice of appeal under § 2.9 or serve by itself to extend any period specified by law or regulation other than in this part.

§ 2.17 Can an appeal be dismissed before it is reviewed?

(a) An appeal under this part will be dismissed if the notice of appeal is not filed within the time specified in § 2.9(a).

(b) An appeal under this part may be subject to summary dismissal for the following causes:

(1) If after the appellant is given an opportunity to amend them, the appeal documents do not state the reasons why the appellant believes the decision being appealed is in error, or the reasons for the appeal are not otherwise evident in the documents; or

(2) If the appellant has been required to post a bond and fails to do so.

§ 2.18 Can appeals be consolidated?

Separate proceedings pending before one official under this part and involving common questions of law or fact may be consolidated by the official conducting the proceedings, under a motion by any party or on the initiative of the official.

§ 2.19 How do Area Directors or Education Line Officers render decisions?

(a) Area Directors, Education Line Officers and the Director, Office of Indian Education Programs must render written decisions in all cases appealed to them within 60 days after all time for pleadings (including all extensions granted) has expired. The decision must include a statement that the decision may be appealed and indicate the appeal procedures, including the 30-day time limit for filing a notice of appeal.

(b) The official deciding the appeal must send a copy of the decision to the appellant and each known interested party by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

These receipts will become a permanent part of the record.

§ 2.20 Can the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs render a decision after I have filed an appeal with the Interior Board of Indian Appeals?

(a) When a decision is appealed to the Interior Board of Indian Appeals, a copy of the notice of appeal must be sent to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs.

(b) The notice of appeal sent to the Interior Board of Indian Appeals must certify that a copy has been sent to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs.

(c) Under 43 CFR 4.332(b), a notice of appeal to the Board of Indian Appeals will not be effective until 20 days after receipt by the Board. During this time, the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs will have authority to issue a decision in the appeal or assign responsibility to issue a decision in the appeal to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. The Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs will not consider petitions to exercise this authority.

(1) If the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs decides to issue a decision in the appeal or to assign responsibility to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, he/she will notify the Board of Indian Appeals, the deciding official, the appellant, and interested parties within 15 days of his/her receipt of a copy of the notice of appeal.

(2) Upon receipt of the notification, the Board of Indian Appeals will transfer the appeal to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs. The decision must be signed by the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs or the Commissioner of Indian Affairs within 60 days after all time for pleadings (including all extensions granted) has expired.

(3) If the decision is signed by the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs, it will be final for the Department and effective immediately unless the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs provides otherwise in the decision. Except as otherwise provided in § 2.20(g), if the decision is signed by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, it may be appealed to the Board of Indian Appeals under the provisions of 43 CFR part 4, subpart D.

(d) The official deciding the appeal must send a copy of the decision to the appellant and each known interested party by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested. These receipts will become a permanent part of the record.

(e) If the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs or the Commissioner of Indian Affairs does not make a decision within 60 days after all time for pleadings (including all extensions granted) has expired, any party may move the Board of Indian Appeals to assume jurisdiction subject to 43 CFR 4.337(b). A motion for Board decision under this section will invest the Board with jurisdiction as of the date the motion is received by the Board.

(f) When the Board of Indian Appeals, in accordance with 43 CFR 4.337(b), refers an appeal containing one or more discretionary issues to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs for further consideration, the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs will take action on the appeal consistent with the procedures in this section.

(g) The Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs will render a written decision in an appeal from a decision of the Director, Office of Indian Education Programs within 60 days after all time for pleadings (including extensions granted) has expired. A copy of the decision must be sent to the appellant and each known interested party by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested. These receipts will become a permanent part of the record. The decision will be final for the Department and effective immediately unless the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs provides otherwise in the decision.

§ 2.21 What information may the reviewing official consider?

(a) When a decision has been appealed, any information available to the reviewing official may be used in reaching a decision whether part of the record or not.

(b) When the official deciding an appeal believes it appropriate to consider documents or information not contained in the record on appeal, the official must notify all interested parties of the information and give them not less than 10 days to comment on the information before the appeal is decided. The deciding official will include in the record copies of documents or a description of the information used in arriving at the decision. Except where disclosure of the actual documents used may be prohibited by law, copies of the information will be made available to the parties upon request and at their expense.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Fiscal Service

31 CFR Part 202

RIN 1510-AA42

Depositories and Financial Agents of the Federal Government AGENCY: Financial Management Service, Fiscal Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposes to revise regulations which govern the designation of Depositories and Financial Agents of the Federal Government (depositories); their authorization to accept deposits of public money and to perform other specific services; and the securing of public money. The proposed revisions update, clarify, and simplify current requirements, but do not change them. Outdated references to specific acceptable insurers are deleted. Existing language concerning the types and valuation of acceptable collateral securities and the authorization for depositories to perform services other than acceptance of insured deposits is clarified. In addition, various references are updated.

DATES: Comments must be submitted on or before August 5, 1996.

ADDRESSES: All comments concerning these proposed regulations should be addressed to the Cash Management Policy and Planning Division, Financial Management Service, 401 14th Street, S.W., Room 420, Washington, DC 20227, Attn. Donald E. Clark.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Donald E. Clark, (202) 874-7106 (Financial Program Specialist, Cash Management Policy and Planning Division) or Cynthia L. Johnson, (202) 874-6590 (Director, Cash Management Policy and Planning Division).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Depositories accepting deposits of public money and providing other financial agency services to the United States are required to pledge adequate acceptable securities as collateral, as directed by the Secretary of the Treasury (Secretary). The Secretary previously promulgated regulations, codified at 31

CFR part 202, setting forth the general requirements for designating depositories and the pledging of collateral to secure public money held by depositories.

Since these regulations were last amended, the Secretary has revised the types and valuations of acceptable collateral for securing public money referenced in this part. In addition, these regulations reference the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC) as an acceptable insurer of deposits. FSLIC has been abolished.

Summary of Changes

1. Types and Valuation of Acceptable Collateral Securities

The current rule provides that certain identified securities are acceptable as collateral at face value, unless otherwise specified by the Secretary. The Secretary has recognized that the use of face value for managing the level of pledged collateral is problematic because the true value of a security is rarely the face value, except on the day of redemption. A common practice of the Federal Reserve bank and United States Department of the Treasury when valuing collateral is to apply market discounts, i.e., subtractions, to the value of the collateral to account for market volatility due to interest rate fluctuations, the quality of the security pledged, or the financial instability of the pledging institution. Therefore, since this Part was last amended, the Secretary has "otherwise specified" that certain securities, including certain of those expressly referenced in the current rule, are acceptable only at 90% of face value, rather than at 100% of face value.

Because the Secretary has otherwise specified the types and valuations of acceptable collateral securities, revision of this part will eliminate any possible confusion regarding acceptable collateral security types and valuation under this part. The proposed rule provides that types and valuation of acceptable collateral securities will be specified in Treasury procedural instructions. Treasury issued these procedural instructions to Federal Reserve banks, which disseminated them to financial institutions pledging collateral under this Part.

2. Financial Institution Insurers

The current rule provides that eligible banks insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and eligible institutions insured by FSLIC are designated as depositories. The proposed rule deletes references to FSLIC, which has been abolished, and provides that eligible financial institutions insured by the FDIC are designated as depositories.

3. Authorities

The current rule includes as authorities 12 U.S.C. 1709(a) and 12 U.S.C. 1725(d). The proposed rule corrects a typographical error, replacing 12 U.S.C. 1709(a) with 12 U.S.C. 1789a, and removes citations to 12 U.S.C. 1725(d), as that statute has been repealed. In addition, the proposed rule lists 12 U.S.C. 90 and 12 U.S.C. 391 as additional applicable authorities. These authorities pertain to national banking associations and Federal Reserve banks, respectively, as depositories when so designated by the Secretary.

4. Depository Authorization to Perform Services Other than Acceptance of Insured Deposits

The current rule provides that upon the request of a Federal agency, the Secretary may authorize a depository to perform services (other than the acceptance of Federal or state insured deposits) specifically requested by the agency, "including" various listed services. The proposed rule deletes references to "upon the request of" and "specifically requested by," a Government agency, and revises the term "including" to read "including, but not limited to" in order to clarify Treasury's longstanding interpretation of these provisions.

5. Disposition of Principal and Interest Payments on Pledged Collateral after a Depository is Declared Insolvent

The current rule provides that in the event of a depository's insolvency or closure, or in the event of the appointment of certain officers to terminate its business, the depository agrees that all principal and interest payments on any security pledged to protect public monies due on or after the date of insolvency or closure shall be held separate and apart from any other assets and be available to satisfy any claim of the United States. The proposed rule clarifies Treasury's longstanding interpretation that the term "any claim of the United States" includes claims not arising out of the depository relationship for which the collateral was pledged.

6. Additional Administrative Revisions

The proposed rule makes certain administrative revisions necessary to update existing regulatory language. These administrative revisions include (1) notification that financial institutions may obtain forms from Federal Reserve banks; (2) removal of the word "every" from certain listed classes of financial institutions designated as depositories, for consistency reasons; (3) removal of references to Treasury Tax and Loan depositories governed by 31 CFR part 203 receiving deposits representing payments for certain United States obligations, as such depositories are no longer authorized to perform these functions; (4) revision of references to a depository's entering into a "contract of deposit" with Treasury to read "agreement of deposit," in order to reaffirm Treasury's longstanding interpretation that such agreements are not procurements; (5) updating the address for Treasury's Financial Management Service; and (6) updating citations to applicable equal employment opportunity statutes and regulations.

Rulemaking Analysis

Executive Order 12866

It has been determined that this regulation is not a significant regulatory action as defined in Executive Order 12866. Therefore, a Regulatory Assessment is not required.

It is hereby certified pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act that this revision will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small business entities. This revision makes no change to current procedures and only updates, clarifies, and simplifies the current rule. Accordingly, a Regulatory Flexibility Act analysis is not required.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Coast Guard

33 CFR Part 117

[CGD01-95-171]

RIN 2115-AE47

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Passaic River, NJ

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is proposing a change to the regulations governing the Routes 1 & 9 (Lincoln Highway)

Bridge, mile 1.8, the Point-No-Point Railroad Bridge, mile 2.6, both in Newark, New Jersey, and the Route 7 (Rutgers Street) Bridge, mile 8.9, in Belleville, New Jersey which cross the Passaic River. The proposal would provide openings on signal if at least four hours notice is given. This change was requested by the Consolidated Rail Corporation (CONRAIL) and New Jersey Department of Transportation (NJDOT) because of the limited openings of these bridges. This action should relieve the bridge owners of the burden of having personnel constantly available to open the bridges and should provide for the reasonable needs of navigation. Other changes are proposed that would remove redundant requirements that are included in Part 117, general operating regulations, provide maximum allowable time delays for specific railroad bridge openings, remove unnecessary language, and reorder the paragraphs for clarity and consistency.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before August 20, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Comments may be mailed to Commander (obr), First Coast Guard District, Building 135A, Governors Island, New York, 10004-5073, or may be hand-delivered to the same address between 6:30 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, except federal holidays. The telephone number is (212) 668-7170. The comments will become part of this docket and will be available for inspection and copying by appointment at the above address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Gary Kassof, Bridge Program Manager, First Coast Guard District, (212) 668-7069.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Request for Comments

The Coast Guard encourages interested persons to participate in this rulemaking by submitting written views, comments, data, or arguments. Persons submitting comments should include their names and addresses, identify this rulemaking (CGD01-95-171), the specific section of this proposal to which each comment applies, and give reasons for each comment. The Coast Guard requests that all comments and attachments be submitted in an unbound format no longer than 8½" by 11", suitable for copying and electronic filing. If that is not practical, a second copy of any bound material is requested. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comments have been received should enclose a stamped, self-addressed post card or envelope.

The Coast Guard will consider all comments received during the comment period, and may change this proposal in light of comments received. The Coast Guard plans no public hearing. Persons may request a public hearing by writing to Commander (obr), First Coast Guard District at the address listed under ADDRESSES. The request should include reasons why a hearing would be beneficial. If the Coast Guard determines that the opportunity for oral presentations will aid this rulemaking, the Coast Guard will hold a public hearing at a time and place announced by a later notice in the Federal Register.

Background and Purpose

The Routes 1 & 9 (Lincoln Highway), Point-No-Point Railroad, and Route 7 (Rutgers Street) Bridges have respective vertical clearances, when in the closed position, of 40', 16', and 8' above mean high water (MHW) and 45', 30', and 21', above mean low water (MLW). All three bridges are presently required to open on signal. The proposed regulations would permit these bridges to open on signal if at least four hours notice is given.

Due to the closure of the River Oil Terminal in August, 1992, requests for openings of bridges across Passaic River have decreased. For the years 1992, 1993, and 1994, the Routes 1 & 9 (Lincoln Highway) Bridge opened 95, 35 and 29 times, respectively, for vessel transits; the Point-No-Point Bridge opened 243, 145 and 124 times; the Route 7 (Rutgers Street) Bridge opened 129, 161 and 169 times. These regulations are being proposed to provide CONRAIL and NJDOT relief from having an operator in constant attendance at the bridges since there is limited demand for bridge openings.

Discussion of Proposed Amendments

The Coast Guard proposes to amend 33 CFR 117.739 to require a four hour advance notice for openings of the Routes 1 & 9 (Lincoln Highway) Bridge, mile 1.8; Point-No-Point Railroad Bridge, mile 2.6; and Route 7 (Rutgers Street) Bridge, mile 8.9. Redundant requirements that are included in Part 117, general operating regulations, would be deleted. Maximum allowable time delays in railroad bridge openings would be added to appropriate paragraphs. Finally, 33 CFR 117.739 would be revised to remove unnecessary language and the paragraphs would be reordered for clarity and consistency.

The Coast Guard proposes to amend § 117.739 by adding new paragraphs (b), (c), and (j) requiring a four hour advance notice for openings be given for the Routes 1 & 9 (Lincoln Highway), Point-No-Point Railroad, and Route 7 (Rutgers Street) Bridges, respectively. Requests for openings of these three bridges have been markedly reduced since 1991.

The Coast Guard proposes to amend § 117.739(a)(1) to delete the requirement to allow public vessels to pass without delay. The regulatory requirements for operating in emergency situations are provided in 33 CFR 117.31.

The Coast Guard proposes to delete the requirements in § 117.739(a)(3) which control trains and locomotives and the maximum allowable time delay in providing openings. The explanation of the train interlock system (block method) is described in 33 CFR 117.9. Paragraphs (c), (e), (h), and (j) of § 117.739 are proposed to be amended by including maximum allowable opening delays of ten minutes.

The Coast Guard proposes to revise § 117.739 by redesignating paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), (l), and (m), as (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), and (p), respectively. Text modifications to be consistent with other proposed changes would be made in these paragraphs, as appropriate.

Regulatory Evaluation

This proposal is not a significant regulatory action under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866 and does not require an assessment of potential costs and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that order. It has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget under that order. It is not significant under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation (DOT) (44 FR 11040; February 26, 1979). The Coast Guard expects the economic impact of this proposal to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation under paragraph 10e of the regulatory policies and procedures of DOT is unnecessary. The proposed regulations would not prevent mariners from passing through the Routes 1 & 9, the Point-No-Point Railroad, and the Route 7 bridges, but would require giving four hours advance notice of arrival. Currently, two facilities in Newark, New Jersey, National Fuels and W.A. Steamlines, receive some of their product by barge. During the winter months, National Fuels occasionally receives heating oil crude by barge in anticipation of demand for home heating fuel. Similarly, W.A. Steamlines sometimes has gasoline delivered by barge to increase its reserves in the winter months. Since these deliveries are scheduled well in advance, the proposed advance notice requirement will have minimal impact on these facilities. Small marinas located along the Passaic River provide dockage for less than 100 recreational vessels, many transiting the drawbridges without requiring openings. Considering the recreational nature of these trips, an advance notice requirement will have minimal economic impact on recreational boating facilities and recreational boaters.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Coast Guard must consider whether this proposal, if adopted, will have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. "Small entities" include independently owned and operated small businesses that are not dominant in their fields and that otherwise qualify as "small business concerns" under section 3 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 632). Because of the reasons discussed in the Regulatory Evaluation above, the Coast Guard finds that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. If however, you think that your business or organization qualifies as a small entity and that this rule will have a significant economic impact on your business or organization, please submit a comment (See ADDRESSES) explaining why you think it qualifies and in what way and to what degree this rule will economically affect it.

Collection of Information

This rule contains no collection of information requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Federalism

The Coast Guard has analyzed this proposal in accordance with the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 12612 and it has determined that this proposed regulation does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Environment

The Coast Guard considered the environmental impact of this proposal and concluded that, under section 2.B.2.e.(32)(e) of Commandant Instruction M16475.1B (as revised by 59 FR 38654, July 29, 1994), this proposal is categorically excluded from further environmental documentation since it is a proposed operating regulation for drawbridges.

Proposed Regulations

For the reasons set out in the preamble, the Coast Guard proposes to amend 33 CFR part 117 as follows:

PART 117—DRAWBRIDGE OPERATION REGULATIONS

1. The authority citation for Part 117 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 33 U.S.C. 499; 49 CFR 1.46; 33 CFR 1.05-1(g); section 117.255 also issued under the authority of Pub. L. 102-587, 106 Stat. 5039.

2. Section 117.739 is revised to read as follows:

§ 117.739 Passaic River.

(a) The following requirements apply to all bridges across the Passaic River:

(1) The owners of these bridges shall provide, and keep in good legible condition, clearance gauges with figures not less than twelve (12) inches high designed, installed and maintained according to the provisions of section 118.160 of this chapter.

(2) New Jersey Transit Rail Operations' (NJTRO) roving crews shall consist of two qualified operators, on each shift, each having a vehicle which is equipped with marine and railroad radios, a cellular telephone, and emergency bridge repair and maintenance tools. This crew shall be split with one drawtender stationed at the Upper Hack and the other drawtender at the HX (Jackknife) drawbridge on the Hackensack River. "Adequate security measures" shall be provided to prevent vandalism to the bridge operating controls and mechanisms to insure prompt openings of NJTRO bridges.

(c) The draw of the CONRAIL's Point-No-Point Railroad Bridge, mile 2.6, at Newark, shall open on signal if at least four hours notice is given to the CONRAIL Movement Desk. After the signal to open is given, the opening may be delayed no more than ten minutes.

(d) The draw of the Jackson Street Bridge, mile 4.6, at Harrison, shall open on signal; except that notice must be given before 2:30 a.m. for openings between 3 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. and before 2:30 p.m. for openings between 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

(e) The draw of Amtrak's Dock Bridge, mile 5.0, at Harrison, shall open on signal; except that from 7:20 a.m. to 9:20 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. to 6:50 p.m., Monday through Friday except federal holidays, the draw need not be opened. At all other times, an opening may be delayed no more than ten minutes, unless the drawtender and the vessel operator, communicating by radiotelephone, agree to a longer delay.

(f) The draw of the Bridge Street Bridge, mile 5.6, at Harrison, shall open on signal; except that notice must be given before 2:30 a.m. for openings between 3 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. and before 2:30 p.m. for openings between 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

(g) Phd draw of the NJTRO Newark-Harrison (Morristown Line) Bridge, mile 5.8, at Harrison, New Jersey shall open on signal if at least one hour advance notice is given to the drawtender at Upper Hack bridge mile 6.9, across the Hackensack River at Secaucus, NJ. In the event the HX drawtender is at the Lower Hack bridge, mile 3.4 on the Hackensack River, at Jersey City then up to an additional half hour delay in opening is permitted. After the signal to open is given, the opening may be delayed no more than ten minutes. From 7:15 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 6:50 p.m., Monday through Friday except federal holidays, the draw need not open.

(h) The draw of the Route 280 (Stickel Memorial) Bridge, mile 5.8, at Harrison, shall open on signal if at least eight hours notice is given. In an emergency, the draw shall open as soon as possible but no more than two hours after the opening request.

(i) The draw of the Clay Street Bridge, mile 6.0, at Harrison, shall open on signal; except that notice must be given before 2:30 a.m. for openings between 3 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. and before 2:30 p.m. for openings between 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

(k) The draw of the NJTRO (West Arlington) Bridge, mile 8.0, at Kearney, shall open on signal from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. if at least eight hours notice is given. After the signal to open is given, the opening may be delayed no more than ten minutes. From 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., the draw need not be opened.

(l) The draw of the Avondale Bridge, mile 10.7, at Lyndhurst, shall open on signal; except that notice must be given before 2:30 a.m. for openings between 3 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. and before 2:30 p.m. for openings between 4:30 p.m. and 7 p.m.

(m) The draw of the NJTRO Bridge, mile 11.7, at Lyndhurst, shall open on signal from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. if at least six hours notice is given. After the signal to open is given, the opening may be delayed no more than ten minutes.

From 4 p.m. to 8 a.m., the draw need not be opened.

Notice of Intent to Form an Advisory Committee for the Industrial Combustion Coordinated Rulemaking and Request for Nomination of Candidates AGENCY: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Intent to Form Industrial Combustion Coordinated Rulemaking Advisory Committee and request for nomination of candidates.

SUMMARY: The EPA is planning to establish an Industrial Combustion Coordinating Rulemaking (ICCR) Advisory Committee under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA). The purpose of this Federal Advisory Committee (hereafter referred to as "Coordinating Committee") is to advise and assist the EPA in coordinating the development of regulations to control emissions of air pollutants from industrial, commercial, and institutional combustion of fuels and non-hazardous solid wastes.

The EPA is also requesting nominations for candidates for membership on both the Coordinating Committee as well as several Work Groups. The Work Groups will work in concert with the Coordinating Committee to develop recommendations and provide advice to the EPA. The membership of both the Coordinating Committee and the Work Groups will include a balanced representation of interested persons with personal and professional qualifications and experience to contribute to the functions of the Coordinating Committee and the Work Groups. The EPA will hold a public meeting to discuss the ICCR and answer any questions on the nomination process.

DATES: A public meeting will be held on July 24, 1996. Submit nominations of candidates no later than August 20, 1996. Any interested person or organization may submit the names and information on the qualifications of persons who are interested in serving on the Coordinating Committee or a Work Group.

ADDRESSES: Inspection of Documents: Docket. A document entitled "Industrial Combustion Coordinated Rulemaking: Proposed Organizational Structure and Process" (the ICCR document) which describes the ICCR Project and contains an example nomination form is available for public inspection at EPA Air Docket No. A-96-17 and is also available on the Technology Transfer Network (TTN) (see below). SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Scope of ICCR Project

Seven categories of Industrial-Commercial-Institutional (ICI) combustion sources (industrial boilers, commercial-institutional boilers, process heaters, industrial-commercial solid waste incinerators, other solid waste incinerators, stationary gas turbines, and stationary internal combustion [IC] engines) are listed for regulatory development under section 112 (national emission standards for hazardous air pollutants [NESHAP]) or section 129 (solid waste combustion) of the Clean Air Act (the Act). The Act requires the EPA to develop these regulations by the year 2000. Furthermore, existing section 111 (new source performance standards [NSPS]) regulations affecting some of these source categories are periodically reviewed and may be developed or revised as part of this project. These seven combustion source categories encompass thousands of combustion units at a wide range of industries, institutions, and businesses.

An Industrial Combustion Coordinated Rulemaking that addresses the seven combustion source categories at the same time will result in more consistent regulations with greater environmental benefits at a lower cost than regulating each source category individually. It will avoid the potential for conflicting or duplicative regulations for the various combustion sources.

Furthermore, by involving knowledgeable stakeholders in the regulatory development process, the scientific basis for the regulations will be improved. The major advantages of the ICCR are that stakeholders will have substantial input in a very direct way into the final regulations, and that they will be allowed to leverage resources by working in concert with other groups in gathering information, analyzing alternatives, and recommending actions. The goal of the ICCR is to develop a unified set of Federal air emissions regulations that will result in maximum gains to the environment at reasonable cost to ICI sources and, ultimately, to the public.

Organization Structure

In order to realize the potential of the ICCR, all interested stakeholders must play a key role in all phases of regulatory development. The proposed organizational structure consists of Source Work Groups working in concert with a Coordinating Committee to make recommendations directly to the EPA decision makers. Members must be chosen for the Coordinating Committee and the various Source Work Groups.

It is expected that there will be five Source Work Groups to represent all seven source categories, and two Work Groups to address issues that cut across all source categories; however, this proposed structure may be refined by the Coordinating Committee. The Source Work Groups are the focus of regulatory development activities for each source category. The five Source Work Groups are for boilers, process heaters, stationary gas turbines, stationary IC engines, and waste incineration. The boilers Work Group combines two of the source categories (industrial boilers with commercial/institutional boilers) and the Waste Incinerators Work Group combines two of the source categories (industrial/commercial incinerators with other solid waste incinerators) into one Work Group. The function of the Source Work Groups is to carry out information collection and analyses, identify regulatory alternatives, assess the impacts of the regulatory alternatives, and make preliminary recommendations for their source category. The Testing and Monitoring Protocol Work Group and the Economic Analysis Work Group are responsible for dealing with the named issues as they relate to all source categories. These Work Groups will provide support and assistance to all of the Source Work Groups. The EPA will select recommended members from nominations and place these recommendations before the Coordinating Committee, who will choose the members of the Work Groups.

The Coordinating Committee will be chartered under the FACA and will serve the role of planning and coordinating the regulatory development process. The committee will communicate with the Source Work Groups to ensure general consistency and thoroughness of data analyses and preliminary regulatory recommendations. The Coordinating Committee will consider and discuss the regulatory recommendations made by the Source Work Groups and present final recommendations to the EPA management. The Source Work Groups and Coordinating Committee will strive for consensus, but if consensus is not reached, the Coordinating Committee will present majority and minority recommendations to the EPA management. The FACA requires that the Coordinating Committee members be chosen by the EPA Administrator.

Criteria for Work Group and Coordinating Committee Membership

Source Work Group members should meet the following criteria: represent an affected party and, preferably, be able to represent the interests of other affected parties; commit to spending a significant amount of their time (perhaps 20 to 25 percent) over a multiple year period; and possess insight, understanding, and technical knowledge of the source category. It is preferable that Source Work Group members also have regulatory process experience. Source Work Groups should include representatives of sources affected by the rule, State/local regulatory agencies, environmental groups, and the EPA. Criteria for membership in the testing and monitoring protocol and economic analyses work groups are similar, but also require expertise in the named technical areas.

Criteria for membership on the Coordinating Committee includes the ability to: represent an affected party; be able to represent the interests of other affected parties; communicate with other affected parties; commit a significant amount of their time (perhaps 20 to 25 percent) over a multi-year period; and have substantive experience with the EPA air programs regulatory process (particularly NSPS or NESHAP regulatory development). The Coordinating Committee should be made up of representatives of the following: environmental, public health, and environmental justice groups; State/local regulatory agencies; affected sources; manufacturers of combustion, emission control, and emission monitoring/testing equipment; fuel producers and suppliers; labor; and the EPA.

Nomination Process

Nominations are being solicited for members of the Coordinating Committee as well as members of the Work Groups. The nominations must indicate whether the nomination is for one of the Work Groups or for the Coordinating Committee. Each nomination must discuss and explain how the nominee meets or satisfies the membership criteria discussed above. A brief resume and several current references should be included. The ICCR document includes an example nomination form. It is recommended that this form be used in order to assure that the nomination includes all of the necessary information.

Before submitting a nomination, individuals or organizations should obtain and thoroughly read the ICCR document. This document is available on the TTN or may be obtained by calling or writing the Air and Radiation Docket and Information Center. See Inspection of Documents section for more details.

Public Information

The EPA plans to accomplish several tasks at a public meeting to be held in July. The ICCR project will be discussed in general, and information will be provided on how to follow the progress of this rulemaking. The EPA also plans to describe the roles and membership criteria for the various Work Groups and the Coordinating Committee, along with an explanation of the nomination process. The EPA will try to answer any questions raised by the public on any of these processes.

There will also be a satellite video presentation to discuss the ICCR at 190 sites across the United States. This video presentation will serve to educate the public on the same topics to be covered at the public meeting. Viewers of the satellite presentation will also have the opportunity to have their questions answered by the EPA. This video presentation will be shown at the public meeting.

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans; Commonwealth of Puerto Rico

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is proposing approval of revisions to the Puerto Rico Regulations for the Control of Atmospheric Pollution, submitted to EPA by the Puerto Rico Environmental Quality Board (EQB) on September 29, 1995. This action proposes approval of revisions to Rules 102, 105, 106, 107, 109, 110, 111, 112, 114, 117, 121, 201, 203, 204, 205, 206, 209, 211, 301, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 408, 409, 410, 412, 413, 414, 417, and 501. EPA is not incorporating new Rule 422 into the federally approved Puerto Rico State Implementation Plan (SIP). EPA is also announcing the withdrawal of Rules 411, 418, 419, 420 and 421 from the Puerto Rico SIP at the request of the EQB. However, although requested by the EQB, EPA is not withdrawing Rule 404 from the SIP. A revision to Rule 423 was also submitted by the EQB on September 29, 1995, however, EPA determined the revision to Rule 423 to be administratively incomplete and returned it to EQB and it, therefore, is not included in this rulemaking.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before July 22, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On September 29, 1995, the Puerto Rico Environmental Quality Board (EQB) submitted to EPA a request for approval of revisions to the Puerto Rico Regulations for the Control of Atmospheric Pollution (the Regulations). On February 5, 1996, EPA sent a letter to Hector Russe Martinez, Chairman of the EQB, announcing EPA's determination that the revisions to the Regulations, excluding those to Rule 423, are administratively complete. Under the context of the Clean Air Act (Act), the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico is regarded as a state. For the purposes of discussing and analyzing Puerto Rico's State Implementation Plan (SIP) submittal, EPA has broken it into the following elements: I) revisions to the general Regulations, II) regulations needed to support the Title V of the Act Operating Permits Program, III) Revisions to the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo, and, IV) a request that certain rules of the Regulations which are currently included as part of Puerto Rico's approved SIP be withdrawn from the SIP, however, these regulations will remain enforceable by Puerto Rico. Item V) addresses regulations concerning Hazardous Air Pollutants (HAPs) which were approved pursuant to section 112(l) of the Act.

EPA is proposing approval of the revisions to the general Regulations and the request made by EQB that certain rules be withdrawn from the SIP. Generally the changes to the Regulations involve administrative and grammatical changes which improve the clarity of the rules. They do not change the emission limitations nor add significant new requirements.

I. Revisions to the General Puerto Rico Regulations

Several of the revisions in this section consist of clarification type changes such as revised dates, public law cites, word changes (facility to source), renumbering of rules, etc. A summary of the various revisions are given below. EPA generally feels that the revisions improve the effectiveness of the Regulations and will have no negative effect on maintaining the national health related standards.

A. Part I—General Provisions

1. Rule 102, "Definitions": There are approximately 30 new or revised definitions in the revised Rule 102. The definitions are mainly for SIP purposes, although, some clarify the Title V Operating Permit Program contained in Part VI of the Regulations and the requirements under section 112 of the Act.

2. Rule 106, "Test Methods" was revised to reference the available EPA approved alternative test methods, new EPA test methods, or methods previously not listed in the regulation by oversight. The test methods specified are those found in 40 CFR Part 51 Appendix M; 40 CFR Part 60 Appendix A, B, and F; and 40 CFR Part 61 Appendix B, C, D and E.

3. Rule 112, "Compliance Determination/Certification" was revised to incorporate a range of compliance and certification options that are available to the "Board" to ensure compliance with the provisions of this regulation.

4. Other revisions to Part I of the Regulations, which include revisions to Rules 105, 107, 109, 110, 111, 114, 117, and 121, are clarification type changes which bring these rules up to date. None of the revisions involve changing the stringency of these provisions.

EPA has thoroughly reviewed all of the revisions contained in Part I of the Regulations and has determined them to meet EPA guidance and requirements; therefore, EPA is proposing approval of these revised rules.

B. Part II—Approval and Permit

1. Rule 203, "Permit to Construct a Source" was revised by extending the period for which a permit shall automatically lapse or be revoked if no construction has commenced or construction has been suspended to three years (after the date of its issuance). This is approvable provided EQB does not have Prevention of Significant Deterioration of Air Quality (PSD) delegation. If EQB were to request PSD delegation from EPA, the time for which a permit shall automatically lapse or be revoked if no construction has commenced or construction has been suspended should be reduced to 18 months.

2. Rule 206, "Exemptions" was revised to create a list of insignificant activities for Title V purposes, in addition, these activities are also exempt from Puerto Rico's permitting program. Rule 206 states that a location approval, construction permit or operating permit is not required for sources listed in this rule as long as potential emissions are below two tons per year (tpy) of a criteria pollutant, five tpy of a combination of criteria pollutants, or two tpy or the emission levels defined in Appendix E of the Regulations for HAP emissions, whichever is lower.

3. Rule 211, "Synthetic Minor Source Emission Certification" is a new rule added for Title V purposes which provides sources with a federally enforceable mechanism to limit the potential to emit of criteria pollutants, and to establish requirements for all sources that maintain emissions below the Title V major source thresholds. Minor sources (emitting 75% or less of major source threshold, excluding sources subject to New Source Performance Standards (NSPS), National Emission Standard for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAPS), or Maximum Achievable Control Technology (MACT) standards) must summarize in a monthly log, maintained on site for five years, the following types of information: all raw materials and other substances used, description of equipment design and specifications, hours of operation, fuel type and use, control effectiveness of equipment, etc. The minor source must request coverage under this rule within twelve months of the effective date of Rule 211 or by the application deadline under Puerto Rico's Title V program, whichever is sooner. Such request must include a sworn statement stating that emissions do not exceed the minor source levels, and must identify the methods used to determine emissions (i.e., stack test, monitoring). EQB may also request a performance test to verify the emissions are below 75% of major source threshold. Upon receipt of a complete request, the Board will issue a notification for coverage for a fixed term of five years. The minor source must submit annual process statements, including all information contained in the monthly log. De minimis sources (sources which emit two tpy or less of a regulated air pollutant except HAPs or five tpy or less of any combination of regulated air pollutants excluding HAPs or an amount equal to or less than the emission thresholds for HAPs listed in Appendix E) only need to maintain records sufficient to determine actual emissions on site for three years.

Intermediate sources (emissions are below major source threshold) are required to have a federally enforceable operating permit by January 1997. The limitations in the permit issued pursuant to Rule 204 must specify at a minimum: (a) technically accurate limitations and the portions of the source subject to the limitations; (b) the time period applicable to the limitation; (c) the method to determine compliance, including appropriate monitoring, recordkeeping, and reporting; (d) permanent and quantifiable limitations, controls, and requirements; and (e) that the emission limitations, controls, and other requirements imposed in the permit are at least as stringent as any other applicable limitation contained in the SIP or enforceable under the SIP. Rule 211 states that permits issued under Rule 204 that do not meet the criteria for intermediate sources in Rule 211 are enforceable by EQB.

This rule also requires a 30 day public comment period prior to the issuance of permits to intermediate sources. Because this rule meets the five criteria outlined in the June 28, 1989 Federal Register (54 FR 27281), EPA is proposing approval of this mechanism for EQB to issue federally enforceable operating permits. In addition, because EPA has determined that the recordkeeping, reporting and certification requirements for minor sources are enforceable and that the rule is consistent with the January 25, 1995 Guidance on Potential to Emit, EPA finds the mechanism for limiting the potential to emit for minor sources to be approvable. Furthermore, Rule 211 states that violations of Rule 211 may subject the source to major source requirements and to enforcement actions.

4. Other revisions to Part II of the Regulations, which include revisions to Rules 201, 204, 205, and 209, are clarification type changes which bring these rules up to date.

EPA has thoroughly reviewed all of the revisions contained in Part II of the Regulations and has determined them to meet EPA guidance and requirements, therefore, EPA is proposing approval of these revised rules.

C. Part III—Variance

1. Rule 301, "Variance Authorized" was revised by combining two paragraphs into a more clearly written single paragraph. The paragraph relates to the conditions which may be imposed by EQB on preliminary approval of variances. Since this minor change does not deviate from EPA guidance EPA is, therefore, proposing approval of revised Rule 301.

D. Part IV—Prohibitions

1. Rule 405, "Incineration" was revised to read more clearly and also to bring the regulation up to date. The revisions reflect minor changes to the applicability, maintenance, and compliance requirements.

2. Old Rule 422, "Air Pollution Control Equipment," the provisions of old Rule 422 were incorporated into Rule 108 "Air Pollution Control Equipment" of the Regulations. Therefore, old Rule 422 was removed from the Regulations. The Commonwealth used this number for a new Rule 422, "Asbestos Containing Material Management." These provisions of the new Rule 422 do not relate to the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) emission reduction strategies and they parallel other Federal laws which already regulate these matters. EPA has determined that it is not appropriate for Rule 422 to be incorporated into the federally approved SIP. Accordingly, the new Rule 422 is and will remain enforceable by Puerto Rico only.

3. Other revisions to Part IV of the Regulations, which include revisions to Rules 401, 402, 403, 404, 406, 408, 409, 410, 412, 413, 414, and 417 are clarification type changes which bring these rules up to date.

EPA has thoroughly reviewed all of the revisions contained in Part IV of the Regulations and has determined them to meet EPA guidance and requirements, therefore, EPA is proposing approval of these revised rules. However, EPA has determined that it is not appropriate for Rule 422 to be incorporated into the federally approved SIP. In addition, EPA cannot take action on the revisions to Rule 423, "Limitations for the Guaynabo PM₁₀ Nonattainment Area", in this rulemaking. Rule 423 is discussed later in more detail under section III—Revisions to the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo.

E. Part V—Fees

1. Rule 501, "Permit Fees" was revised based on clarification type changes and merely to bring this rule up to date. The revisions reflect changes to the price, applicability, and validity of permits issued by EQB.

EPA has thoroughly reviewed all of the revisions contained in Part V of the Regulations and has determined them to meet EPA guidance and requirements, therefore, EPA is proposing approval of revised Rule 501.

II. Regulations Needed to Support the Title V of the Clean Air Act Operating Permits Program

Although revisions to Part VI, "Operating Permits Rules for Title V Sources" of the Puerto Rico Regulations were submitted to EPA as part of the September 29, 1995 submittal, on February 26, 1996, EPA fully approved the Operating Permits Program submitted by Puerto Rico (See 60 FR 7073). However, while EPA has approved Puerto Rico's program it is EPA's policy not to include it as part of the federally approved SIP.

III. Revisions to the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo

Also submitted as part of the September 29, 1995 SIP revision submittal were revisions to Rule 423 "Limitations for the Guaynabo PM₁₀ Nonattainment Area" of the Puerto Rico Regulations. Although not identified by Puerto Rico in the September 29, 1995 SIP submittal, EPA considers these revisions as a SIP revision to the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo. In a May 31, 1995 Federal Register notice (60 FR 28333), EPA approved Rule 423 as part of the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo.

In a February 5, 1996 letter to Hector Russe Martinez, Chairman of the EQB, EPA determined that revised Rule 423 is administratively incomplete and returned it to the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. Therefore, Rule 423 is not included in this rulemaking.

In addition, included in Puerto Rico's September 29, 1995 SIP revision submittal EQB requested that EPA withdraw Rule 404 "Fugitive Emissions" from the Puerto Rico SIP. However, Rule 404 was submitted on November 15, 1993 to EPA as part of the Puerto Rico PM₁₀ SIP for the Municipality of Guaynabo and approved by EPA on May 31, 1995 (60 FR 28333). EQB demonstrated in the PM₁₀ SIP that Rule 404 was needed to attain and maintain the PM₁₀ NAAQS. EQB's September 29, 1995 request to withdraw Rule 404 did not include technical support or a demonstration that Rule 404 is no longer needed to attain and maintain the PM₁₀ NAAQS. Therefore, EPA is not withdrawing Rule 404 from the SIP.

IV. Request that Certain Rules of the Regulations be Withdrawn From the Puerto Rico SIP

EQB requested in their September 29, 1995 SIP submittal, that certain rules currently included in the federally approved Puerto Rico SIP be withdrawn from the SIP since these rules are not a part of Puerto Rico's strategy to achieve and maintain compliance with the NAAQS. The rules requested to be withdrawn include Rule 404 "Fugitive Emissions", Rule 411 "Hydrogen Sulfide", Rule 418 "Waste Gas Disposal", Rule 419 "Volatile Organic Compounds", Rule 420 "Objectionable Odors", and, Rule 421 "Increments Of Progress." Rule 424 "Roof Surface Coating" is an entirely new regulation which EQB provided for information but is not to be part of the SIP. Rule 424 will be enforced by Puerto Rico. EPA agrees that all the above rules except Rule 404 should be withdrawn from the SIP. None of these rules has a direct impact on NAAQS pollutants and, therefore, will not affect the attainment or maintenance plans which have been approved. It should also be noted that it is EPA policy that no odor regulations be included in SIPs because there is no NAAQS specifically for odor. EPA is proposing approval of Puerto Rico's request to withdraw Rules 411, 418, 419, 420, and 421 from the SIP. These rules, however, will remain enforceable by Puerto Rico.

V. Regulations Concerning HAPs which were Approved Pursuant to Section 112(l) of the Clean Air Act

Section 112(l) of the Act enables Puerto Rico to develop a program for the implementation and enforcement of HAP emissions standards. Approval by EPA of such program would provide for the delegation of the EPA Administrator's authorities and responsibilities to implement and enforce the HAP emissions standards to Puerto Rico. Puerto Rico has revised Rule 211 of the Puerto Rico Regulations pursuant to section 112(l) of the Act in order to provide sources with a mechanism to limit potential HAP emissions.

EPA can only approve a program under 112(l) if Puerto Rico meets the following criteria: (1) adequate authority to assure compliance with any section 112 standard or requirements; (2) adequate resources; (3) the program provides for an expeditious schedule for assuring compliance with section 112 requirements; and (4) the program is otherwise likely to satisfy the objectives of the Act. EQB has already demonstrated through Title V that it has adequate authority to implement and enforce all section 112 requirements for both Title V and non-Title V sources. EQB also demonstrated sufficient fees to implement all section 112 requirements in its Title V Fee Demonstration. While EPA is approving Rule 211 as part of the SIP, Rule 211 will also have the effect of limiting HAP emissions pursuant to its approval under section 112(l) of the Act.

Conclusion

EPA is proposing approval the revisions to the Regulations, which include revisions to Rules 102, 105, 106, 107, 109, 110, 111, 112, 114, 117, 121, 201, 203, 204, 205, 206, 209, 211, 301, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 408, 409, 410, 412, 413, 414, 417, and 501. EPA is not incorporating new Rule 422 into the federally approved SIP. In addition, EPA is proposing approval of the withdrawal of Rules 411, 418, 419, 420 and 421 from the SIP, which contain the federally approved regulations, however, EPA is not approving the withdrawal of Rule 404 from the SIP.

Nothing in this proposed rule should be construed as permitting or allowing or establishing a precedent for any future request for revision to any state implementation plan. Each request for revision to the SIP shall be considered separately in light of specific technical, economic, and environmental factors and in relation to relevant statutory and regulatory requirements.

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 600 et. seq., EPA must prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis assessing the impact of any proposed or final rule on small entities. 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604. Alternatively, EPA may certify that the rule will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. Small entities include small businesses, small not-for-profit enterprises, and government entities with jurisdiction over populations of less than 50,000.

SIP approvals under section 110 and subchapter I, part D of the Clean Air Act do not create any new requirements, but simply approve requirements that the State is already imposing. Therefore, because the federal SIP-approval does not impose any new requirements, I certify that it does not have a significant impact on any small entities affected. Moreover, due to the nature of the federal-state relationship under the Clean Air Act, preparation of a regulatory flexibility analysis would constitute federal inquiry into the economic reasonableness of state action. The Clean Air Act forbids EPA to base its actions concerning SIPs on such grounds. Union Electric Co. v US EPA, 427 US 246, 256-66 (S.Ct. 1976); 42 U.S.C. 7410(a)(2).

Under sections 202, 203, and 205 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 ("Unfunded Mandates Act"), signed into law on March 22, 1995, EPA must undertake various actions in association with proposed or final rules that include a federal mandate that may result in estimated annual costs of $100 million or more to the private sector, or to state, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate.

Through submission of this SIP or plan revision, the state and any affected local or tribal governments have elected to adopt the program provided for under section 112(l) and 110 of the Clean Air Act. These rules may bind state, local and tribal governments to perform certain actions and also require the private sector to perform certain duties. To the extent that the rules being approved by this action would impose any mandate upon the state, local or tribal governments either as the owner or operator of a source or as a regulator, or would impose any mandate upon the private sector, EPA's action will impose no new requirements; such sources are already subject to these regulations under state law. Accordingly, no additional costs to state, local, or tribal governments, or to the private sector, result from this action. EPA has also determined that this direct final action does not include a mandate that may result in estimated annual costs of $100 million or more to state, local, or tribal governments in the aggregate or to the private sector.

The Office of Management and Budget has exempted this action from review under Executive Order 12866.

50 CFR Part 32

RIN 1018-AD78

Addition of Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge to the List of Open Areas for Hunting and Sport Fishing in Arkansas

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for hunting and sport fishing in Arkansas along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges.

DATES: Comments may be submitted on or before July 22, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge to hunting migratory game birds, upland game, big game, and sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established.

In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on a newly acquired refuge like Cossatot through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: an interim hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental action memorandum and categorical exclusion certification; a Section 7 determination pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that these openings will have no effect on listed species or critical habitats; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; interim compatibility determination; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge

Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge, located in Sevier County, Arkansas, was established in 1994 to preserve both habitat and wintering areas vital to the long-term conservation of migratory waterfowl and afford protection to threatened and endangered species. The Service plans to increase the refuge from its current 1,933 acres to encompass Millwood Lake, a 30,000-acre Corps of Engineers impoundment adjoining the refuge. The protection of these habitats benefits all fish and wildlife species in the area and makes available additional lands for public recreational use. All consumptive public use programs are planned and administered to complement and/or assist with the primary goal of habitat and fish and wildlife management without conflicting with other primary objectives of the refuge.

The area is especially notable for its abundant water resources. The Cossatot River is designated as an Arkansas Scenic Stream just north of the refuge. The Little River, Red Lake, Wilson Creek, Roberts Branch, Pond Creek, Clear Creek and several old oxbow lakes also contribute to the areas wetland values.

The refuge provides outstanding habitat for a diversity of birds, mammals and aquatic life. The flooded green and dead timber provide excellent wintering habitat for waterfowl, and wood duck breeding and nesting habitat. The primary waterfowl species in this part of Arkansas are mallards and wood ducks; however, other species such as gadwall, green-winged teal and ring-necked ducks use the flooded timber, sloughs and beaver ponds. The refuge is positioned to receive ducks from both the Central and Mississippi Flyways and has a long history of good waterfowl hunting. Wading birds frequent these wetlands and four rookeries are present on the subject property.

Hunting and fishing will continue on these lands in the interim during the refuge master planning process. All hunting and fishing seasons are designed to provide optimum opportunity for quality recreation experiences. Management objectives of the refuge are to:

- Preserve and manage the area's wetland and bottomland hardwood habitat for a natural diversity of wildlife;
- Provide habitat for neotropical migratory birds;
- Provide wintering habitat for migratory waterfowl;
- Provide breeding and nesting habitat for wood ducks; and
- Provide opportunities for compatible public recreation such as hunting, fishing, hiking, birdwatching and environmental education and interpretation.

Hunting will be allowed under permit in accordance with State of Arkansas regulations and licensing requirements with the following exceptions:

- Vehicles will be restricted to existing roads;
- All-terrain vehicles will be restricted to designated trails and roads;
- Off-road travel will be limited to foot travel;
- Firearms and bows will be prohibited except during hunting seasons;
- Hunting deer with dogs will not be allowed;
- Camping will be restricted to designated areas; and
- Non-toxic shot will be required for shotgun hunting.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This regulation has been examined under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has been found to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after the recreational use, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

This refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities, however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition; however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge hunting and fishing programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the 1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation. In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million average. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Cossatot National Wildlife Refuge results in the following: 800 hunters are expected to spend $28,000 annually and 2,000 fishermen will spend approximately $82,000 in pursuit of their sports on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge. The rulemaking would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was not prepared for this opening. The Service invoked a categorical exclusion as provided by 516 DM6 Appendix 1 with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will have no effect on three species and is not likely to effect a fourth species of Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author noted below.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et. seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Bald Knob National Wildlife Refuge to hunting migratory game birds, upland game, big game and sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Bald Knob National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest.

In accordance with the NWRSA and the RRA, the Secretary also has determined that this opening for hunting and sport fishing is compatible and consistent with the primary purposes for which the refuge was established and that sufficient funds are available to conduct the activity. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Bald Knob National Wildlife Refuge

Bald Knob National Wildlife Refuge was established on September 22, 1993. The initial purchase was the first of an accepted multi-year purchase of 12,940 acres from John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. The refuge is located in White County, Arkansas, southwest of Bald Knob, Arkansas. The refuge is bordered by the Little Red River and is adjacent to the state-owned Hurricane Wildlife Management Area. This protected corridor of wetlands is strategically located in the Mississippi Flyway and has been identified as a high priority site of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. The area has historically wintered large concentrations of waterfowl and is recognized as a major concentration area for wintering pintails in Arkansas.

Prior to acquisition by the Service, consistent winter flood regimes did not exist. Emphasis was placed on maintenance of drainage systems, water control structures, and levee construction/maintenance to maximize farming opportunities. These intensive agricultural practices on the area were generally conducted at times or in a manner that impacts were generally negative or marginally beneficial to the wildlife resource.

The refuge is located in the Mississippi Alluvial Valley Ecosystem and historically consisted of bottomland hardwood forests and associated forested wetland wildlife species. Only remnants of the bottomland hardwood forests exist today with the majority of the refuge properties being composed of open agricultural fields. Approximately 12,700 acres of the proposed 14,000 acre refuge consists of open farm fields. The remaining acreage consists of sloughs and forested habitat types. Although the refuge consists primarily of open land, it is utilized by a variety of resident and non-resident wildlife species, including white-tailed deer, coyote, beaver, mink, muskrat, raccoon, rabbit, waterfowl, and neo-tropical songbirds. The refuge also is utilized by bald eagles, peregrine falcons, marsh hawks, red-tailed hawks, barred owls and a host of other raptors, especially during the winter months. In addition, aquatic habitats of the refuge support a variety of indigenous fresh water fish, reptiles, amphibians, and fresh water mussel species.

Refuge hunting and fishing plans have been developed to ensure the associated public recreation and wildlife management objectives are met in a responsible and consistent manner. The primary purpose of the refuge is to preserve wintering habitat for waterfowl. Bald Knob NWR is administered as part of the Cache River NWR and any operational plans developed for Bald Knob NWR will be under the umbrella and guidance of the Comprehensive Management Plan for the Cache/Lower White Rivers Ecosystem. The goals identified in this plan are:

- To provide continued public use opportunity, which is not incompatible with restoration and/or conservation of ecosystem function or legal mandates; and
- To actively promote and encourage public use, which facilitates ecosystem functional restoration and management.

In keeping with the intent of this goal the following objectives for the Bald Knob NWR were developed:

- To provide and maintain optimum habitat for migratory waterfowl;
- To provide habitat and protection for endangered species;
- To provide for a natural diversity of wildlife species; and
- To provide opportunities for wildlife-oriented recreation and environmental education when compatible with other refuge objectives.

The objectives for the refuge hunting and fishing programs are as follows:

- To provide the general public with a quality wildlife-oriented recreational experience and an opportunity to utilize a renewable natural resource; and
- To maintain wildlife populations at levels compatible with the refuge habitat.

Hunting and fishing was a traditional recreational use of the refuge property prior to inclusion into the refuge system. Hunting and fishing are also very popular recreational pursuits with the local public. However, opportunities have become very limited in the surrounding area because of the posting of private land, expansion of private leases, and a significant decline in available habitat. Refuge hunting and fishing will provide much needed opportunities in this area. The development of refuge regulations, zoning, and other management will be designed to promote a quality outdoor experience with reasonable harvest opportunities and uncrowded conditions.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Service has examined this regulation under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has found it to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family-owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities, however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Bald Knob NWR results in the following: 300 fishermen are expected to spend $12,300 annually in pursuit of their sport, while an estimated 200 hunters will spend $6,600 annually hunting on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

50 CFR Part 32

RIN 1018-AD85

Addition of Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge to the List of Open Areas for Hunting and Sport Fishing in Illinois

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for hunting and sport fishing in Illinois along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at a national wildlife refuge.

DATES: Comments may be submitted on or before July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Stephen R. Vehrs, at the address above; Telephone (703) 358-2397.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge to migratory game bird hunting, upland game hunting, big game hunting and sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that these openings are not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest.

In accordance with the NWRSA and the RRA, the Secretary also has determined that this opening for hunting and fishing is compatible and consistent with the primary purposes for which the refuge was established. A brief description of the refuge program follows:

Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge

In 1993, the Emiquon National Wildlife Refuge, along the Spoon River in Fulton County, Illinois, was established. When fully acquired, the refuge could increase from its current 312 acres to 11,122 acres. Historically, this segment of the Illinois River system was a vast wetland complex composed of shallow marshes, bottomland forest, backwater lake and upland habitats. Two backwater lakes, Thompson Lake (1,800 acres) and Flag Lake (1,000 acres), occupied a former channel of the Illinois River. They provided excellent habitat for migratory birds, fish, and resident wildlife and were renowned for their recreational opportunities. The large floodplain is a remnant of the former course of the Mississippi River; the last glaciation blocked the ancient Mississippi River between Rock Island and Princeton, Illinois, and forced the Mississippi River to the west.

The refuge was acquired to protect, restore, and manage wetlands, enhance waterfowl and other migratory bird habitat, protect habitat for threatened and endangered wildlife, promote and preserve biodiversity, and provide wildlife-dependent recreation and education. Allowing hunting and fishing provides an opportunity that will facilitate the revival of the Thompson Lake and Flag Lake wetland complex as a natural area available for public use. Approximately 500,000 people live within a one hour drive of the refuge.

Currently, the refuge is held in the public domain, and is governed by a number of public laws which encourage recreational use of the lands. The refuge is managed as part of the Illinois River National Wildlife and Fish Refuges. Refuge objectives include:

- Provide resting, feeding, nesting, and migration habitat for waterfowl and other birds;
- Protect, restore, and manage wetlands, bottomland forests and backwater lake habitat in support of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan and the National Wetlands Priority Conservation Plan;
- Restore, protect, and manage backwater lake habitat to create and maintain high quality fisheries habitat capable of supporting a self-sustaining, balanced fish community in support of the Illinois River fisheries resource;
- Promote natural biological diversity through the protection, restoration, and management of a backwater lake, bottomland forest, and floodplain wetland complex;
- Protect bald eagles and other endangered and threatened species and their habitats, and;
- Increase public opportunities for outdoor recreation, interpretation, and environmental education that are compatible with the preceding purposes.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Service has examined this regulation under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has found it to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family-owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities; however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a urban/rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition; however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million average. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Emiquon NWR results in the following: 600 fishermen are expected to spend $24,600 annually in pursuit of their sport, while an estimated 400 hunters will spend $13,200 annually while hunting on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by making preliminary arrangements with the primary author.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Hunting and sport fishing plans are developed for each existing refuge prior to opening it to hunting or fishing. In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Patoka River National Wildlife Refuge and Management Area to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Patoka River National Wildlife Refuge and Management Area

Patoka River National Wildlife Refuge and Management Area is located in Southwestern Indiana. The Refuge portion of the project encompasses 6,800 acres. The area designated as Wildlife Management Area includes 15,283 acres, for a total project size of 22,083 acres.

Since the area to be opened for hunting and fishing is presently less than 2,000 acres, the anticipated hunter and angler use will be small, probably consisting of approximately 300–500 use days per year. Use will likely increase as additional areas are purchased and made available. The following are hunting and fishing objectives for the refuge:

- To open lands to compatible recreational hunting as soon as sufficient land has been acquired and biological data collected to properly manage wildlife populations;
- To open all suitable lands to compatible waterfowl hunting, other than those lands needed to provide essential sanctuary;
- To open lands to all forms of compatible traditional resident game hunting after coordination with the Indiana Division of Fish and Wildlife;
- To assure, either spatially or chronologically, that hunting use and general public use do not conflict or encroach upon each other;
- To allow compatible sport fishing within the framework of Indiana Division of Fish and Wildlife regulations, subject to additional regulation by the Service;
- To encourage additional compatible use of the Patoka River's fisheries resources by providing increased/improved access to the river and its oxbows.

The hunting and fishing program is in direct support of the refuge objective to increase public opportunities for outdoor recreation by providing 300 to 500 use days immediately. As more land is acquired these figures will increase accordingly. All proposed hunting and fishing will be in accordance with state seasons and regulations.

Predominate waterfowl of the area are Canada geese, mallards and wood ducks, however, other species common to the flyway also occur at the site. Federal and State regulations permit hunting to utilize harvestable surpluses of resident game and migratory birds and to tailor harvest opportunities to local management needs. These regulations permit harvests that are consistent with the well being of waterfowl and game animal populations that utilize the area. A major priority on the refuge is the re-establishment of native hardwood trees. The harvest of white-tailed deer and cottontail rabbit, however small, can improve seedling survival and growth. As refuge land ownership increases, this harvest may become an increasingly important component of the reforestation strategy.

Fish populations in refuge waters are healthy and can support recreational fishing at least to levels that occurred prior to Service acquisition. Surveys of the Patoka River in conjunction with preparation of the environmental impact statement verified that populations of fish most often targeted by sport fishermen are sufficient to sustain a recreational fishery. Allowing sport fishing in refuge waters will not inhibit other priority refuge objectives.

Orientation will be facilitated by the use of a hunting regulation leaflet with a map delineating areas open for hunting and fishing. These are available at refuge headquarters and posted at field locations near traditional parking areas. The Service will update the leaflets as new lands are acquired and approved for inclusion into the hunting and fishing program. Because of the patchwork land characteristics of newly established refuges, the public will be apprised of the need to obtain landowner permission when refuge lands are landlocked and lack public access.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This regulation has been examined under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has been found to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

This refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities; however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition; however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Patoka River NWR results in the following: 500 fisherman are expected to spend $20,500 annually in pursuit of their sport, while an estimated 500 hunters will spend $16,500 annually hunting on the refuge. While many of these fishermen already made such expenditures prior to the refuge opening, minor amounts of these additional expenditures are due directly to the land now being open to the general public.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action is not likely to adversely affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author noted below.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

Addition of Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge to the List of Open Areas for Hunting and Sport Fishing in Louisiana

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for hunting and sport fishing in Louisiana along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at a national wildlife refuge.

DATES: Comments may be submitted on or before July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Stephen R. Vehrs, at the address above; Telephone (703) 358-2397.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge to hunting of migratory game birds, big game and sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Hunting and sport fishing plans are developed for each existing refuge prior to opening it to hunting or fishing. In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the fishing and hunting programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge

Big Branch Marsh National Wildlife Refuge, established on September 30, 1994, includes lands and waters located in St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana. Big Branch Marsh NWR objectives are to:

- Provide habitat for a natural diversity of wildlife associated with Big Branch Marsh;
- Provide wintering habitat for migratory waterfowl;
- Provide nesting habitat for wood ducks;

- Provide habitat for non-game migratory birds; and
- Provide opportunities for public outdoor recreation, such as hunting, fishing, hiking, birdwatching, and environmental education and interpretation, whenever they are compatible with the purposes for the refuge.

The refuge management program has centered on basic resource protection and management through law enforcement and forest habitat management. Establishing a public hunting and fishing program on the refuge will provide for the continuation of traditional uses of refuge lands.

St. Tammany Parish has experienced tremendous population growth in recent years with a fifty percent increase in rural growth during the last decade alone. This continuing growth has resulted in a high demand for outdoor recreational opportunities on public lands.

The Service proposes to open the refuge to recreational hunting and sport fishing under conditions set forth in the refuge hunting and fishing plans and in accordance with state regulations and refuge specific regulations.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This regulation has been examined under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has been found to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

This refuge is located within commuting distance to a large metropolitan area. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a slight positive effect on such entities; however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural to urban lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition; however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Big Branch Marsh NWR results in the following: 20,000 fisherman are expected to spend $820,000 annually in pursuit of their sport, while an estimated 1,000 hunters will spend $35,000 annually hunting on the refuge. While many of these fishermen and hunters already make such expenditures prior to the refuge opening, minor amounts of these additional expenditures are directly due to the land now being open to the general public.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would only slightly increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author noted below.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Hunting and sport fishing plans are developed for each existing refuge prior to opening it to hunting or fishing. In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Grand Cote National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Grand Cote National Wildlife Refuge

Grand Cote National Wildlife Refuge (NWR), located in west-central Avoyelles Parish, Louisiana, was established March 6, 1992 to provide wintering habitat for mallards, pintails, and wood ducks and nesting habitat for wood ducks to meet the goals of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. Additional Service objectives for the refuge include:

- Providing habitat for threatened and endangered species;
- Providing habitat for a natural diversity of plant and wildlife species; and
- Providing opportunities for wildlife-dependent recreation and environmental education when compatible with other refuge objectives.

This 6,077 acre refuge is a natural sump bordered by the higher ridge lands of the Red River on the north and east and by the terrace uplands on the west and south. Although this area was once a very productive bottomland hardwood ecosystem and formerly provided ideal habitat for upland game, land clearing and a shift to agriculture have made it more attractive to a wider variety of waterfowl species and wading birds. Shorebird abundance has also escalated.

Except for an experimental crawfish season conducted the past few years, and wildlife observation limited to foot travel, there are no public use opportunities on Grand Cote NWR. The crawfishing season is extremely popular, and there has been much public demand for opening of traditional sport fishing.

Traditional sport fishing will be for game fish such as largemouth bass, white and black crappie, bluegill, redear, and other sunfish species; and rough fish such as channel, blue, and flathead catfish, as well as other species such as gar, gizzard shad, carp, and freshwater drum. The refuge season will fall within the framework of the State of Louisiana season established by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

With implementation of this rule, traditional sport fishing and crawfishing (referred to collectively as "fishing" throughout the remainder of this plan) would be permitted, limited to those areas specified in the refuge-specific regulations. All or parts of the refuge may be closed to fishing at any time, if necessary, for public safety, to provide wildlife sanctuary, or for administrative reasons.

Construction of a new refuge office/visitor contact station will precede the opening of fishing. Additionally, a refuge fishing lake in the existing crawfishing pond, construction of a handicapped-accessible fishing pier, expanding and relocating crawfishing to a new area, and a wildlife observation tower and nature trails are all in the planning stages.

Opening fishing on Grand Cote NWR will allow harvest of a renewable resource, promote a wildlife-dependent recreational opportunity that is compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established, increase awareness of Grand Cote NWR and the National Wildlife Refuge System, and meet public demand.

Areas that will support a fishing program include the Bayou Choctaw, Coulee des Grues, a proposed fishing lake in the existing crawfishing pond, and various refuge drainages. Areas open to fishing would depend on waterfowl use during the migration period. Resting and feeding areas may be set aside to protect waterfowl from disturbance during the winter months. These areas would be closed to fishing.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This regulation has been examined under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has been found to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities; however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition; however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Grand Cote NWR results in the following: 2,500 fishermen are expected to spend $102,500 annually while fishing on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge. The rulemaking would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action is not likely to adversely affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Mandalay National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest.

In accordance with the NWRSA and the RRA, the Secretary also has determined that this opening for hunting and sport fishing is compatible and consistent with the primary purposes for which the refuge was established and that sufficient funds are available to conduct the activity. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Mandalay National Wildlife Refuge

The Mandalay NWR is located 5 miles west of Houma, in south central Louisiana. It contains 4,618 acres of freshwater marshes, bordering swamps, upland ridges, oil field canals, and other bodies of water. The refuge is bisected by the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and bordered by private marshes on three sides. Swamps, bottom land hardwoods and agricultural (sugarcane) areas border the refuge to the north.

Parts of the project area are seasonally flooded by the Lower Atchafalaya River and water is impounded in the marshes because drainage is slow. High tides further complicate drainage. The area's poor interior drainage has caused some changes in the vegetation, but in general the existing plant communities remain essentially the same.

The refuge was established to preserve and protect freshwater marshes in the Western Terrebonne Parish. The refuge is a top priority wetland conservation project of the Gulf Coast Joint Venture of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. The refuge contains cypress-tupelo swamp and numerous canals that are used by the petroleum industry. It provides excellent habitat for water birds, other migratory birds, white-tailed deer, furbearers and many other wildlife species.

The primary purpose of the Mandalay NWR is to manage the area from an ecosystem perspective for the benefit of migratory birds and other wildlife. In order to meet specific refuge and other broader Service directives, the following objectives have been established for Mandalay NWR:

- To provide the highest quality migratory bird habitat possible;

- To provide for the needs of endangered plants and animals;
- To allow compatible public uses such as fishing, trapping, wildlife observation and photography;
- To promote research and restoration of wetland resources; and
- To provide opportunities for environmental education and interpretation when possible.

The proposed sport fishing program is designed to contribute to or be compatible with refuge objectives. It will provide high quality, wildlife-dependent recreation to the general public and the opportunity to utilize a renewable resource. It would also maintain fish populations at optimum levels.

The species represented include largemouth bass, bluegill, red-ear and other sunfishes, and channel catfish and are all capable of sustaining fishing pressure. Areas that will support the fisheries resources are limited to Lake Hatch, canals and ponds on the refuge.

Areas open to sport fishing would depend on migratory bird use during the migration period. Resting and feeding areas will be closed to fishing to protect migratory birds from disturbance during the winter months. Other areas may be open to sport fishing throughout the fishing season. An existing 1,972 acre private hunting and fishing lease surrounds Lake Hatch and will be closed to public use until May 15, 2000.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Service has examined this regulation under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has found it to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family-owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities, however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Mandalay NWR results in the following: 500 fishermen are expected to spend $20,500 annually in pursuit of their sport while on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

RIN 1018-AD81

Addition of Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge to the List of Open Areas for Sport Fishing in Mississippi

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for sport fishing in Mississippi along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges.

DATES: Comments may be submitted on or before July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Stephen R. Vehrs, at the address above; Telephone (703) 358-2397.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the fishing program. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest.

In accordance with the NWRSA and the RRA, the Secretary also has determined that this opening for sport fishing is compatible and consistent with the primary purposes for which the refuge was established and that sufficient funds are available to conduct the activity. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge

Tallahatchie National Wildlife Refuge is located in Grenada, Quitman, and Tallahatchie Counties in the central portion of the Mississippi Wetland Management District. Clarksdale is northwest of Black Bayou and Grenada is east of Bear Lake. Mathews Brake National Wildlife Refuge lies south of Bear Lake. Access to the property is by county-maintained gravel roads, field roads, and State Highway 8.

The Service proposes to acquire approximately 15,000 acres in two separate units. The northern unit, Black Bayou, is located in the southeast corner of Quitman County and adjacent Tallahatchie County. The southern unit, Bear Lake, lies along the Tallahatchie-Grenada county line.

The refuge is located in an area of the Lower Mississippi River Delta known as the Yazoo Basin, of which the Tallahatchie River Basin is a component. The entire area is subject to seasonal backwater flooding from the Tallahatchie River System.

This area is rich in biological diversity and is home for myriad wildlife species such as deer, squirrel, rabbit, raccoons, ducks, other small mammals and birds. The habitat consists of bottomland hardwoods, cleared lands in agricultural use, fallow fields, and a moist soil complex that contains eight separate catfish pond units with complete water management control.

The refuge will be managed primarily as stopover and wintering habitat for migrating waterfowl due to its importance for these waterfowl in the Mississippi Flyway.

The primary fishery resources are found in the backwater lakes and borrow pits. These lakes support populations of game fish including largemouth bass, white and black crappie, bluegill, and other sunfish species. These areas also contain several species of rough fish such as catfish, gar, gizzard shad, carp, buffalo, and freshwater drum.

The Service proposes that the refuge be opened to refuge-wide sport fishing for both game fish and rough fish. Sport fishing on the refuge will be controlled by field observations and limit checks, and by designating access points and vehicle limitations. Activities and methods would be regulated to provide the maximum allowable recreational opportunity without jeopardizing the fishery resource or refuge objectives. Zoning may be implemented, if necessary, to prevent conflict with other public use activities or management objectives.

Areas such as those throughout the Mississippi River Delta have been historically used for recreational and subsistence fishing. Large-scale farming and other commercial land use has led to the destruction or conversion of many wetland areas within the last two decades. This has significantly reduced the opportunity for public sport fishing in the area.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Service has examined this regulation under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has found it to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. Much of this land was open to hunting and/or fishing before it attained refuge status, however, many of the hunters and fishermen were guests of the previous landowner and from the local area. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family-owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities, however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy a rural lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition, however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Tallahatchie NWR results in the following: 500 fishermen are expected to spend $20,500 annually in pursuit of their sport on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Boyer Chute National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for sport fishing in Nebraska along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at a renewable natural resource area.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Boyer Chute National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Hunting and sport fishing plans are developed for each existing refuge prior to opening it to hunting or fishing. In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962 (Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Boyer Chute National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Boyer Chute National Wildlife Refuge

Boyer Chute National Wildlife Refuge, located in Washington County, Nebraska, comprises approximately 2,000 acres of bottomland forest, irrigated cropland, and wetland habitat. The majority of the refuge consists of an island between the Missouri River and the restored river chute, for which the refuge was named with additional land bordering the west bank of Boyer Chute. The Service established the refuge to provide the diversity associated with river floodplain, chutes and bottomlands; and with secondary goals to provide educational opportunities and compatible outdoor recreation. Refuge objectives are to:

- Provide resting, feeding, nesting, and migration habitat for waterfowl and other birds.

- Provide nesting, feeding, and resting habitat for the fisheries resources that make use of the chute and backwaters. The Missouri River floodplain serves as one of the more important migration corridors for waterfowl, shorebirds, birds of prey, and songbirds;

- Protect endangered and threatened species and their habitats. The bald eagle, a federally-listed threatened species, winters along the Missouri River. The lake and pallid sturgeon, known to exist at the mouth of the Platte River, could exist in Boyer Chute;

- Protect, restore, and manage wetlands, bottomland forests, and backwater chute habitat in support of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan and the National Wetlands Priority Conservation Plan.

Fishing opportunities primarily will focus on bank fishing along the Boyer Chute and near the inlet and outlet to the chute in the Missouri River. The Service will provide access to numerous locations via two canoe launch boat ramps and five additional fishing access points to distribute fishing pressure. Fishing, along the river or on the interior "island," will require foot travel over trails. Natural access limitations such as seasonal water levels, which could restrict use and limit walk-in access, will ensure that wildlife and habitat management goals are maintained. It is doubtful that the average angler will travel over a quarter-mile on foot to fish.

The Boyer Chute Refuge and the Missouri River support a naturally-occurring fishery resource. The Service will open the refuge year-round for fishing use, but may limit access seasonally. Low Missouri River water levels in the fall may limit fishing opportunities during the winter in the chute, and flooding may periodically occur.

Numbers and species of fish and wildlife allowed to be taken along with the permitted methods of taking, are the same as current State of Nebraska (State) regulations. Specific refuge regulations as delineated in this proposed opening will supplement State fishing regulations. The Service and the State will perform enforcement activities on the chute. The Service will regulate and monitor bank fishing activities during routine patrol of the refuge. The refuge manager also has discretion to close all or portions of the refuge for public safety or resource protection.

Paperwork Reduction Act

This regulation has been examined under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has been found to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located away from large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area consist primarily of small family owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities; however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing program on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million average. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Boyer Chute NWR results in the following: 500 fisherman are expected to spend $20,500 annually while fishing on the refuge. While many of these fishermen already made such expenditures prior to the refuge opening, minor amounts of these additional expenditures are directly due to the land now being open to the general public.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge. The rulemaking would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action is not likely to adversely affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

BILLING CODE 4310-55-P

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Fish and Wildlife Service

50 CFR Part 32

RIN 1018-AD88

Addition of Big Muddy National Wildlife Refuge to the List of Open Areas for Hunting and Sport Fishing in Missouri

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service) proposes to add Big Muddy National Wildlife Refuge to the list of areas open for hunting and sport fishing in Missouri along with pertinent refuge-specific regulations for such activities. The Service has determined that such use will be compatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established. The Service has further determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at a national wildlife refuge.

DATES: Comments may be submitted on or before July 22, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Stephen R. Vehrs, at the address above; Telephone (703) 358-2397.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: National wildlife refuges generally are closed to hunting and sport fishing until opened by rulemaking. The Secretary of the Interior (Secretary) may open refuge areas to hunting and/or fishing upon a determination that such uses are compatible with the purpose(s) for which the refuge was established. The action also must be in accordance with provisions of all laws applicable to the areas, must be consistent with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management, and otherwise must be in the public interest. The Service proposes to open Big Muddy National Wildlife Refuge to hunting migratory game birds, upland game, big game and sport fishing.

Request for Comments

Department of the Interior policy is, whenever practicable, to afford the public a meaningful opportunity to participate in the rulemaking process. A 30-day comment period is specified in order to facilitate public input. Accordingly, interested persons may submit written comments concerning this proposed rule to the person listed above under the heading ADDRESSES. All substantive comments will be reviewed and considered.

Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act (NWRSA) of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit the use of any area within the Refuge System for any purpose, including but not limited to, hunting, fishing and public recreation, accommodations and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the major purpose(s) for which the area was established.

The Refuge Recreation Act (RRA) authorizes the Secretary to administer areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purpose(s) for which the areas were established. The NWRSA and the RRA also authorize the Secretary to issue regulations to carry out the purposes of the Acts and regulate uses.

Hunting and sport fishing plans are developed for each existing refuge prior to opening it to hunting or fishing. In many cases, refuge-specific regulations are developed to ensure the compatibility of the programs with the purposes for which the refuge was established. Initial compliance with the NWRSA and the RRA has been ensured for hunting and sport fishing on newly acquired refuges through an interim determination of compatibility made at the time of acquisition. This has ensured that the determinations required by these acts have been made prior to the addition of refuges to the lists of areas open to hunting and fishing in 50 CFR part 32. Continued compliance is ensured by the development of long-term hunting and sport fishing plans and by annual review of hunting and sport fishing programs and regulations.

The Service has determined that this action is in accordance with the provisions of all applicable laws, is consistent with principles of sound fish and wildlife management, helps implement Executive Order 12962

(Recreational Fisheries), and is otherwise in the public interest by providing additional recreational opportunities at national wildlife refuges. Sufficient funds will be available within the refuge budget to operate the hunting and sport fishing programs as proposed.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the following documents are included in the refuge's "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office: a hunting and fishing management plan; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 evaluation or statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or critical habitat; a letter of concurrence from the affected State; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the hunting and fishing programs. Upon review of these documents, the Secretary has determined that the opening of the Big Muddy National Wildlife Refuge to hunting and sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound fish and wildlife management and otherwise will be in the public interest. A brief description of the refuge program follows.

Big Muddy National Wildlife Refuge.

The Big Muddy National Fish and Wildlife Refuge is located east of Kansas City, Missouri, to slightly down river from Jefferson City. The refuge was established on September 9, 1994, under the authority of the Fish and Wildlife Act of 1954, " * * * for the development, advancement, management, conservation, and protection of fish and wildlife resources * * *" and currently consists of seven units. It is intended to fill a public need to preserve and restore the Missouri River floodplain, manage fish and wildlife habitats, and provide for compatible public use. Approximately 60,000 acres of floodplain land may eventually be purchased or protected in some way. A refuge of this size will contribute to goals for river ecosystem conservation and restoration, threatened and endangered species recovery, neotropical migrant bird conservation, biological diversity, and fish and wildlife-dependent public recreation on a portion of the Missouri River floodplain.

The refuge also supports and complements the Missouri Department of Conservation's (MDC) 10-year fisheries strategic plan for the Missouri River and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' (Corps) Missouri River Fish and Wildlife Mitigation Project authorized by the Water Resources Development Act of 1986. The Service recognizes the task of restoring sections of the Missouri River's natural floodplain and its associated wildlife habitats and plant communities and the critically important role of conservation partnerships with other agencies, States, Tribes, organizations, and members of the general public. The Service action along this section of the Missouri River, in cooperation with other governmental entities, private groups, and individuals, will demonstrate the type of restoration that is possible on other stretches of the Missouri River. Hunting and fishing is intended to:

- Fulfill the Service's commitment to provide the public with opportunities for outdoor recreation;
- Provide valid fish and wildlife management techniques to influence the distribution and abundance of these animals and aid refuge habitat restoration and management activities; and
- Help keep healthy wildlife populations in balance with available habitat.

Hunting and fishing will be allowed on some or all of the areas acquired by the refuge after determining that:

- Such activity is consistent with other resource objectives; and
- Biological monitoring programs on the refuge and local MDC properties provide adequate assurances that target species support a harvestable surplus.

Hunting and fishing would be conducted in accordance with all applicable State and federal regulations. Coordination with MDC biologists will promote continuity and understanding of Service and State resource goals and objectives and will help assure that the decision-making process takes into account all interests. White-tailed deer, upland game and waterfowl will be the primary focus of most hunting activity, although a minor amount of incidental hunting for other species also will occur.

Fishing interests likely will concentrate on panfish and largemouth bass in isolated ponds, oxbows, scour holes and side channels, while catfish will make up the majority of the catch in the Missouri River. Considering the limited acreage currently acquired by the refuge, it is anticipated that hunters and anglers will record less than 500 use days the first year. This figure will increase in proportion and at a rate comparable to future refuge land acquisitions. Yearly updates will be made to the Hunting and Fishing Plan to incorporate these acquisitions.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The Service has examined this regulation under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 and has found it to contain no information collection requirements.

Economic Effect

Service review has revealed that this rulemaking will increase hunter and fishermen visitation to the surrounding area of the refuge before, during or after recreational uses, compared to the refuge being closed to these recreational uses. Much of this land was open to hunting and/or fishing before it attained refuge status, however, many of the hunters and fishermen were guests of the previous landowner and from the local area. When the Service acquired this land, all public use ceased under law until opened to the public in accordance with this rulemaking.

The refuge is located in proximity to large metropolitan areas. Businesses in the area, however, consist primarily of small family-owned stores, restaurants, gas stations and other small commercial enterprises. In addition, there are several small commercial and recreational fishing and hunting camps and marinas in the general area. This proposed rule would have a positive effect on such entities, however, the amount of revenue generated is not large.

Many area residents enjoy an urban lifestyle that includes frequent recreational use of the abundant natural resources of the area. A high percentage of the households enjoy hunting, fishing, and boating in area wetlands, rivers and lakes. Refuge lands were not generally available for general public use prior to government acquisition, however, they were fished and hunted upon by friends and relatives of the landowners, and some were under commercial hunting and fishing leases. Many nearby residents also participate in other forms of nonconsumptive outdoor recreation, such as biking, hiking, camping, birdwatching, canoeing, and other outdoor sports.

Economic impacts of refuge fishing and hunting programs on local communities are calculated from average expenditures in the "1995 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation". In 1995, 42 million U.S. residents 16 years old and older hunted and/or fished. More specifically, 37 million fished and 14.5 million hunted. Those who both fished and hunted account for the 9.5 million overage. Nationwide expenditures by sportsmen totaled $42 billion. Trip-related expenditures for food, lodging, and transportation were $16 billion or 37 percent of all fishing and hunting expenditures; equipment expenditures amounted to $19 billion, or 46 percent of the total; other expenditures such as those for magazines, membership dues, contributions, land leasing, ownership, licenses, stamps, tags, and permits accounted for $6.9 billion, or 16 percent of all expenditures. Overall, anglers spent an average of $41 per day. For each day of hunting, big game hunters averaged spending $40, small game hunters $20, and migratory bird hunters $33.

Applying these national averages to projected visitation at Big Muddy NWR results in the following: 300 fishermen are expected to spend $12,300 annually in pursuit of their sport, while an estimated 200 hunters will spend $6,600 annually hunting on the refuge.

This rulemaking was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866. A review under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) has revealed that although the rulemaking would increase visitation and expenditures in the surrounding area of the refuge, it would not have a significant effect on a substantial number of small entities in the area, such as businesses, organizations and governmental jurisdictions.

Environmental Considerations

Pursuant to the requirements of section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4332(2)(C)), an environmental assessment was prepared for this opening. Based upon the Environmental Assessment, the Service issued a Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the opening. A Section 7 evaluation pursuant to the Endangered Species Act was conducted. The Service determined that the proposed action will not affect any Federally listed or proposed for listing threatened or endangered species or their critical habitats. These documents are on file at the offices of the Service and may be reviewed by contacting the primary author noted below.

Unfunded Mandates

The Service has determined and certifies pursuant to the Unfunded Mandates Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State governments or private entities.

Notice and Request for Comments on Information Collection for Visitor Information Use Study

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Notice of intent; request for comments.

SUMMARY: In accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, the Forest Service announces its intent to establish a new information collection. The new collection is necessary to evaluate how agency information services, such as visitor centers, interpretive services, brochures, or informational flyers, are used by visitors to National Forest System lands geographically situated in close proximity to urban communities in southern California. The San Bernardino, Angeles, Los Padres, and Cleveland National Forests are the focus of this information collection. Information also will be collected to determine how people living near National Forest System lands in southern California urban areas get or receive information about the lands. The data will be used to evaluate the accessibility of information about the four forests in these urban communities, the usefulness of the information, the method or media by which the information was received, and the agency's effectiveness in disseminating National Forest System information to southern California urban communities.

DATES: Comments must be received in writing on or before August 20, 1996.

ADDRESSES: All comments should be addressed to: Forest Service, USDA, Visitor Information Project, Pacific Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, 4955 Canyon Crest Dr., Riverside, CA 92507.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. James Absher, Pacific Southwest Forest and Range Experiment Station, at (909) 680-1559.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Description of Information Collection

Title: Visitor Information Use Study.
OMB Number: New.

Expiration Date of Approval: New.

Type of Request: The following describes a new collection requirement and has not received approval by the Office of Management and Budget.

Abstract: The data collected will be analyzed to gain an understanding of how urban residents in southern California, living close to the San Bernardino, Angeles, Los Padres and Cleveland National Forest System lands, get or receive information about recreational opportunities on the lands; about rules governing the lands, such as permits or costs; if residents share the information with others in their communities; and how southern California urban residents utilize the informational dissemination services provided by the agency, such as National Forest System land visitor centers, interpretive services, brochures, or informational flyers.

The data also will be used to identify which agency informational services are utilized by southern California urban residents and sources by which residents get or receive information about National Forest System lands. The data will be evaluated to define agency information dissemination and urban communication patterns: for example, if southern California urban residents share the information they get or receive with other residents in their communities, what their informational source preferences are (newspapers, television, radio, visitor centers, brochures, or flyers), and if there are differences in informational source sharing among culturally diverse user groups.

Southern California urban visitors to National Forest System lands will be mailed a postage-paid survey, which the visitor may fill out and return. Data gathered in this information collection is not available from other sources.

Estimate of Burden: 20 minutes.

Type of Respondents: Individuals and groups visiting National Forest System lands in southern California.

Estimated Number of Respondents: 2,400.

Estimated Number of Responses per Respondent: 1.

Estimated Total Annual Burden on Respondents: 800 hours.

The agency invites comments on the following: (a) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including the use of automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

Use of Comments

All comments received in response to this notice will be summarized and included in the request for OMB approval. All comments will also become a matter of public record.

RESPONSIBLE OFFICIAL: The Regional Forester for the Southern Region located at 1720 Peachtree Road, NW, Atlanta, Georgia 30367, is the Responsible Official for this action, and is the deciding official.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:
Purpose and Need for Action

The purpose and need for this action begins with the requirements of the National Forest System Land and Resource Management Planning regulations at 36 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 219. According to 36 CFR 219.10(g), Forest Plans are ordinarily revised on a 10-15 year cycle. The existing Daniel Boone National Forest Plan was approved on September 27, 1985.

The decisions made in a forest plan include:

1. Establishment of the forest-wide multiple-use goals and objectives (36 CFR 219.11(b)).
2. Establishment of forest-wide management requirements (36 CFR 219.13 to 219.27).
3. Establishment of management areas and management area direction management area prescriptions for applying future activities in that management area (36 CFR 219.11(c)).
4. Determination of land that is suitable for the production of timber (16 U.S.C. 1604(k) and 36 CFR 219.14).
5. Establishment of allowable sale quantity for timber (36 CFR 219.16).
6. Establishment of monitoring and evaluation requirements (36 CFR 219.11(d)).

7. Recommendation of roadless areas as potential wilderness areas (36 CFR 219.17).

8. Designation of lands available for oil and gas lease and the leasing decision [36 CFR 228.102(d) and (e)].

During the five-year review of the Forest Plan, monitoring results were evaluated and public comments were reviewed to determine needed changes to the Forest Plan. This review identified several areas which needed attention during the Forest Plan revision. These issues, and other changes in the management situation were identified by the Forest Service and by the public, and form the basis of the preliminary plan decisions to be examined during the revision. These are not necessarily the sole issues which will be evaluated. The Forest Service will consider public comments received on this Notice and during our public involvement period to develop additional topics as needed.

Proposed Action

Initial analysis of the management situation focused on changes that have taken place during the current ten-year planning period. Those changes that seemed to warrant a revision in the Forest Plan were identified and form the basis for the proposed action. The Forest Plan decisions that are proposed to be revised are described as follows:

1. The commitment by the U.S. Forest Service to use an ecological approach to management of the National Forest System was initiated in 1992. The approach includes an added emphasis on the maintenance of ecosystem functions and processes. The current goals and objectives of the Forest Plan do not fully reflect some of the ecosystem functions, processes, and concerns about biological diversity that exist today.

2. Actions have been taken by the Daniel Boone National Forest to better protect sensitive forest resources. Some of these new actions have reduced the ability of the Forest to produce the timber volume yields that were predicted in the Forest Plan. As a result of these actions, timber harvesting has been deferred during some portion of the past planning period on approximately 26% of the land base classified as suitable for timber production. Volume-per-acre yields have also fallen short of previous estimates. Land allocations and timber yields estimates will be re-evaluated in a Forest Plan revision.

3. There is a continuing increase in public concern over the economics of timber management on the National Forests. In an effort to respond to this concern, the Daniel Boone has placed greater emphasis in its decision-making on cost efficiency, sometimes at the expense of meeting all silvicultural objectives. The goals and objectives of the Forest Plan will be revised to clarify the role of timber harvesting as a means of providing timber products and as tool that can be used to enhance or maintain particular ecosystems. Land allocations for timber management suitability will be revised, as necessary, to better reflect the desired cost efficiency of the timber management program.

4. Demand has increased significantly for non-timber special forest products such as ginseng, other medicinal herbs, moss, grapevines, and various shrubs. This increase in demand has potential economic, biological, and management impacts. The Forest Plan goals and objectives, and management area prescriptions will be revised, as necessary, to respond to this demand while maintaining the integrity of ecosystems and other forest resources.

5. Introduced pests and noxious (invasive) species are affecting, or have the potential to affect, the Daniel Boone National Forest. Pests which have had an increased impact during the current planning period include dogwood anthracnose and butternut canker; and pests which appear likely to have an increased impact in the near future include gypsy moth and hemlock wooly adelgid. Forest Plan goals and objectives, and management prescriptions will be revised to provide for management actions that respond to these threats.

6. Although overall recreation use on the Daniel Boone has increased, it has done so at a slower rate than predicted in the Forest Plan. Recreation areas have deteriorated over the past nine years due to changes in use patterns and funding below that needed for full Forest Plan implementation.

The types of recreation uses have changed, with faster growth in horse back riding and off-highway vehicle use, and slower increases in hiking and backpacking, as an example. These changes in recreation use patterns are significantly affecting the resources and the cost of carrying out the recreation program.

The Americans with Disabilities Act provides new standards for improved access to Forest Service facilities. The cost of meeting these standards in existing facilities can be significant, limiting the Forest's ability to complete other maintenance needs.

The goals and objectives, and forest-wide and management area prescriptions will be revised to reflect these changes in recreation demands and in the cost of meeting the various demands.

7. There is an increase in development, and a change in the type of development, adjacent to the Forest. These changes are affecting the management options available on lands immediately adjacent to the Forest boundary. Forest plan goals and objectives, and management prescriptions will be revised to better reflect the increasing pressures of the urban/rural interface.

8. The current Forest Plan includes standards that provide for the maintenance of water quality and thermal characteristics in flood plains and riparian areas. It does not adequately reflect the habitat characteristics of riparian areas. The Forest Plan will be revised to include standards and guidelines that help ensure the biological and ecological integrity of this resource feature.

9. With the introduction of ecosystem management principles and other changes in the management situation of the Daniel Boone National Forest, the monitoring needs have also changed. The cost of monitoring is also better appreciated by forest managers and planners than it was ten years ago. The Forest Plan monitoring requirements will be revised to address the questions arising from these changed conditions.

10. The Federal Onshore Oil and Gas Leasing Reform Act (FOOGLRA or the Reform Act of 1987) as an amendment to the Mineral Leasing Act of 1920, has instituted a different process for mineral leasing. The Secretary of Agriculture was directed to identify the National Forest System lands which would be available for lease and which would be leased. FOOGLRA also requires the Secretary of Agriculture to determine the appropriate stipulations to apply to a lease to protect the surface resources. The Secretary or his/her officers can now make decisions to lease specific lands subject to NEPA compliance and consistency with the Forest Plan. The revision will need to identify the National Forest System lands which may be offered for lease, and Plan standards and guidelines should include the appropriate stipulations to apply to leases to protect the surface resources, and give guidance for making leasing decisions.

Preliminary Issues

The Daniel Boone National Forest intends to reexamine the primary Forest Plan decisions as described above. Associated with the decision to be revised are the following preliminary issues:

1. What actions and land allocations are necessary to insure the biological diversity and sustainability of ecosystems, considering the plant, animal and human interactions?

2. What combination of land allocation, Forest regulations, facilities and services should the National Forest provide to assure public recreational opportunities that provide a minimum of conflict between users, and protect natural resources?

3. What road and trail system is needed on the forest and how should it be managed?

4. What should be the balance of specially designated areas, such as wilderness, zoological and botanical areas, which are needed to conserve unique forest characteristics.

5. Should the Daniel Boone make land allocations and take action to maintain or improve opportunities for hunting and fishing experiences and enjoyment of wildlife?

6. What role should timber harvesting play in ecosystem management, and in contributing to meet the demand for wood fiber by the American public? What economic considerations should be applied?

7. What additional management options, if any, should be used for the extraction of "miscellaneous forest products" such as moss, and other plant materials?

8. How should the Daniel Boone manage federally owned minerals?

Possible Alternative Themes

Based upon the above changes in the management situation and the preliminary issues, the following are examples of alternative management themes that could be developed into alternatives:

Theme A

Continue the management allocations, activities, and management direction of the current Forest Plan as amended. This is the "No Action" alternative and its consideration is required by the implementing regulations of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). It will serve as a benchmark against which the other alternatives can be compared to better assess their expected effects and how the alternatives address the significant issues.

Theme B

Ecological processes would be allowed to proceed with a minimum of direct human influence. Fluctuations in forest characteristics such as age-class distribution and species composition would be affected primarily by natural disturbance factors such as insects, disease, and fire.

Primitive recreation opportunities would be emphasized. Facilities and developed sites, such as trails, campgrounds, and boat ramps, would be reduced or eliminated. The Forest would be closed to all off-highway vehicles and most existing Forest Service roads would gradually be closed.

There would be no change in the number of legally designated areas such as Wilderness, but the size of some current areas could be increased and the trend would be towards the development of wilderness-like conditions across the Forest.

There would be no active management for game or non-game species or their habitat. Only primitive hunting and fishing facilities and opportunities would be retained.

No harvesting of timber would take place and no extraction of other forest products would be permitted.

Areas of federal minerals not currently under lease would be made unavailable for future leasing.

Theme C

A variety of outputs and opportunities would be provided by the Forest, while management for existing and potential ecosystems would be emphasized to reduce the potential of threatening ecological processes and the viability of plant and animal species.

Existing recreation facilities would be maintained or redesigned to meet changes in demand for specific recreational activities. Cooperators and concessionaires would be used to improve operating efficiencies.

Trails would be maintained to accommodate a mix of trail users and would be closed when necessary to protect other resource values. Forest Service roads would be managed to provide for a balance of public use, administrative access, and protection of natural resources.

There would be no change in the number of legally designated areas, such as Wilderness, but the size of some may increase. More areas would be designated through Forest Plan management direction to better conserve important ecological characteristics.

The existing level of habitat improvements would be maintained. Some adjustments to the design and location of those improvements would be made to increase overall hunting, fishing, and wildlife viewing opportunities.

Commercial timber harvesting would continue and be used to both provide wood products to the American people and as a tool to help ensure the maintenance of biodiversity and long-term sustainability of forest resources. The extraction of other forest products would continue as long as it does not threaten the long-term viability of the resource.

Federal minerals would be made unavailable for lease where unacceptable impacts to surface resources are a likely result.

Theme D

Management of the Forest would emphasize a variety of recreational opportunities to the extent possible, while still providing for the sustainability and diversity of forest ecosystems. Additional recreation facilities and opportunities would be provided to better meet anticipated demand.

Some trails would be modified, and others constructed and maintained, to specifically accommodate off-highway vehicles, horse riders, and mountain bicyclists. Recreation needs would play a greater role in road management decisions, such as road location and design, maintenance level, and whether the road is kept open or closed to public access.

There would be no change in the number of legally designated areas, such as Wilderness, but the size of some may be increased. More areas would be designated through Forest Plan management direction to better conserve important ecological characteristics and to maximize particular recreational opportunities.

The existing level of habitat improvements would be increased, and adjustments in design and location would be made to improvements to increase overall hunting, fishing, and wildlife viewing opportunities.

Timber harvesting would be used as a tool to enhance features and characteristics such as visual variety and habitat diversity which are tied to recreational opportunities on the Forest.

The extraction of other forest products would be managed so that it does not threaten the long-term viability of the resource.

Federal minerals would be unavailable for lease where recreational opportunities would be adversely impacted and where unacceptable impacts to surface resources are likely.

Theme E

Ecological processes would be directly influenced to optimize the development of various forest products. The viability of plant and animal species would be considered, only when it is compromised to the extent that the species would require listing as threatened, endangered, or sensitive.

A variety of dispersed and developed recreation opportunities would be provided for, but management would emphasize those uses that produce opportunities for the greatest number of people.

Forest Service roads and trails would be constructed, redesigned, or maintained to provide for the maximum opportunities to use the Forest.

The current legally designated areas, such as Wilderness, would remain unchanged. Current administratively designated areas would be reduced or eliminated to increase the options available for maximum utilization of the forest.

Management would provide for a diversity of ecosystems, but would seek to maximize habitat for game and other high demand species.

Management direction and land allocations would emphasize the production of timber and other forest products as much as is legally feasible.

All federally-owned minerals would be made available for lease with a minimum of constraints.

These themes are offered merely to illustrate the range of alternatives that could be considered in response to the issues associated with the proposed revision. The Forest Service is seeking comment not just on these particular themes but, more importantly, on the individual components of the various themes. The final range of alternatives considered will be based on the final identification of public issues, management concerns, and resource opportunities.

The Forest Service is seeking information, comments, and assistance from Federal, State and local agencies, and other individuals or organizations who may be interested in or affected by the proposed action. This input will be utilized in the preparation of the draft environmental impact statement. Public participation will be solicited by notifying in person and/or by mail, known interested and affected publics. News releases will be used to give the public general notice, and scoping meetings will be conducted.

Public participation will be especially important at several points during the project analysis process. The first point in the analysis is the scoping process (40 CFR 1501.7). The scoping process includes: (1) identifying potential issues (other than those previously described), (2) from these, identifying significant issues to be analyzed in depth, (3) eliminating from detailed study insignificant issues or those which have been covered by prior environmental review, (4) exploring additional alternatives, and (5) identifying potential environmental effects of the proposed action and alternative (i.e., direct, indirect, and cumulative effects).

As part of the first step in scoping, a series of public meetings are scheduled to explain the public input and planning process, and provide an opportunity for public input. These meetings will be held at the following locations, with each meeting scheduled from 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.:

Monday, July 15, 1996, Laurel County Courthouse, London, KY.

Wednesday, July 17, 1996, McKee City Hall, MeKee, KY.

Monday, July 22, 1996, Carl D. Perkins Community Center, Morehead, KY.

Tuesday, July 23, 1996, Natural Bridge State Resort Park, Slade, KY.

Wednesday, July 24, 1996, Big Creek Fire Department, Big Creek, KY.

Thursday, July 25, 1996, Whitley City Middle School, Whitley City, KY.

Friday, July 26, 1996, Rural Economic Development Center, Somerset, KY.

Tuesday, August 13, 1996, Fayette County Extension Service, Lexington, KY.

Thursday, August 15, 1996, Ellis Cooperative Extension Building, Burlington, KY.

These meetings will provide information on the purpose and intent of the Forest Plan revision, the Plan revision process and an opportunity for the public to provide input on the scope and need for change in the Forest plan.

The Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) is expected to be filed with the Environmental Protection Agency and to be available for public comment by January 1998. At that time, the Environmental Protection Agency will publish a notice of availability of the DEIS in the Federal Register. The comment period on the DEIS will be 3 months from the date the Environmental Protection Agency publishes the notices of availability in the Federal Register.

The Forest Service believes, at this early stage, it is important to give reviewers notice of several court rulings related to public participation in the environmental review process. First, reviewers of DEIS must structure their participation in the environmental review of the proposal so that it is meaningful and alerts an agency to the reviewer's position and contentions. Vermont Yankee Nuclear Power Corp. v. NRDC, 435 U.S. 519, 553(1978). Also, environmental objections that could be raised at the DEIS stage but that are not raised until after completion of the Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) may be waived or dismissed by the courts. City of Angoon v. Hodel, 803 F.2d 1016, 1022 (9th Cir. 1986) and Wisconsin Heritages, Inc. v. Harris, 490 F.Supp. 1334, 1338 (E.D.Wis.1980). Because of these court rulings, it is very important that those interested in this proposed action participate by the close of the 3 month comment period so that substantive comments and objections are made available to the Forest Service at a time when it can meaningfully consider them and respond to them in the FEIS.

To assist the Forest Service in identifying and considering issues and concerns on the proposed action, comments on the DEIS should be as specific as possible. It is also helpful if comments refer to specific pages or chapters of the draft statement. Comments may also address the adequacy of the DEIS or the merits of the alternatives formulated and discussed in the statement. Reviewers may wish to refer to the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations for implementing the procedural provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act at 40 CFR 1503.3 in addressing these points.

After the comment period ends on the DEIS, the comments will be analyzed, considered, and responded to by the Forest Service in preparing the FEIS. The FEIS is scheduled to be completed in June 1998. The Responsible Official will consider the comments, responses, environmental consequences discussed in the FEIS, and applicable laws, regulations, and policies in making a decision regarding this revision. The Responsible Official will document the decision and reasons for the decision in the Record of Decision. That decision will be subject to appeal in accordance with 36 CFR 217.

The Responsible Official is the Regional Forester, Southern Region, 1720 Peachtree Road, NW, Atlanta, Georgia 30367.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Notice of Intent To Withdraw Federal Assistance

A determination has been made by Paul Johnson, Chief, Natural Resources Conservation Service that because of the lack of available land rights for dam sites 15, 16 and 17; and because of an inadequate benefit cost ratio; and the lack of plans to complete the project in a timely manner by the local sponsors, Federal funding will be withdrawn from this project. Designation of Assassination Records

On June 4, 1996, by unanimous vote, the Review Board designated the following United States Secret Service documents as assassination records pursuant to section 7(i)(2)(A) and 9(c)(1)(A) of the JFK Act and § 1400.1 and § 1400.8 of the Guidance for Interpretation and Implementation of the JFK Act, 36 CFR Part 1400 (1995): USSS correspondence with members of the Warren Commission (1964); selected documents from the "protective research" file (1962-1964); and the document "Briefing Book: Director's Appearance Before the House Select Committee on Assassinations, December 1978." In not designating some records from the "protective research" file as assassination records, the Review Board relied upon the advice of its staff, which conducted a thorough review of materials in the above listed categories.

Certain Hot-Rolled Carbon Steel Flat Products, Certain Cold-Rolled Carbon Steel Flat Products, Certain Corrosion-Resistant Carbon Steel Flat Products, and Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate from France; Notice of Court Decision and Continuation of Suspension of Liquidation AGENCY: International Trade Administration, Import Administration, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On May 28, 1996, in Usinor Sacilor v. United States, Consol. Court No. 93-09-00592-AD ("Usinor Sacilor"), a lawsuit challenging the Department of Commerce's (the "Department") final determinations of sales at less than fair value in the captioned investigations, the U.S. Court of International Trade ("CIT") affirmed the Department's second redeterminations on remand. As a result, the final dumping margins for Usinor Sacilor and for the "All Others" rate are as follows:

	Percent
Certain Hot-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	25.80
Certain Cold-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	44.52
Certain Corrosion-Resistant Carbon Steel Products	29.41
Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate	52.76

Consistent with the decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit ("CAFC") in Timken Co. v. United States, 893 F.2d 237 (Fed. Cir. 1990) ("Timken"), the Department will direct the U.S. Customs Service to change the cash deposit rates being used in connection with the suspension of liquidation of the subject merchandise once there is a "conclusive" decision in Usinor Sacilor.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 7, 1996.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Edward Easton or John Brinkmann, Office of Antidumping Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-1777 or (202) 482-5288, respectively.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

On July 9, 1993, the Department published notice of its final determinations of sales at less than fair value in its investigations of these carbon steel products from France. Final Determinations of Sales at Less than Fair Value: Certain Hot-Rolled Carbon Steel Flat Products, Certain Cold-Rolled Carbon Steel Flat Products, Certain Corrosion-Resistant Carbon Steel Flat Products, and Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate from France, 58 FR 37125. The Department subsequently amended these determinations and issued an antidumping order instructing the Customs Service to collect cash deposit, at the rates set forth in the amended final determinations, on entries of merchandise entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after that publication dated, 58 FR 44169 (August 19, 1993). The amended final determinations set forth the following dumping margins for respondent Usinor Sacilor and for the "All Others" rate:

	Percent
Certain Hot-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	80.56
Certain Cold-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	78.68
Certain Corrosion-Resistant Carbon Steel Products	39.40
Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate	52.76

Following publication of the Department's amended final determinations and antidumping order, Usinor Sacilor filed lawsuits with the CIT challenging the Department's final determinations. Thereafter, the CIT issued Slip Opinion 94-197, dated December 19, 1994, in Usinor Sacilor, remanding the Department's amended final determinations on certain issues. In that opinion, the CIT found that the Department had improperly rejected Usinor Sacilor's revised and corrected product concordance and then restored the "best information available" ("BIA"). The court directed the Department to accept the concordance. The court also found that the Department had improperly used BIA to remedy Usinor Sacilor's having improperly coded a particular grade of hot-rolled carbon steel. The court directed the Department either to use the relevant sales as coded or to allow Usinor Sacilor to reclassify them.

In addition, the court rejected the Department's selection of the highest non-aberrant margin as BIA for the downstream sales of Usinor Sacilor's majority-owned steel service centers. The court instructed the Department to use, instead, the "weighted-average calculated margin." Finally, with regard to the downstream sales of minority-owned steel service centers, the court instructed the Department to determine whether Usinor Sacilor controlled these service centers. If the Department were to find that Usinor Sacilor did control them, we were to select the highest non-aberrant margin as BIA in a manner consistent with the CIT's ruling in National Steel Corp. v. United States, Slip op. 94-194 (December 13, 1994). On the other hand, if the Department were to determine that Usinor Sacilor did not control the steel service centers in which it had minority ownership, we were to apply the "weighted-average calculated margin" as BIA.

On remand, after finding that Usinor Sacilor lacked operational control over the minority-owned service centers, the Department used the weighted-average calculated margin as BIA for the downstream sales of both the majority-and minority-owned service centers. This weighted-average calculated margin BIA consisted of individual price-to-price margins, price-to-constructed value margins and unchallenged BIA margins. The Department also accepted Usinor Sacilor's revised and corrected concordance and permitted the company to correct the coding of the miscoded grade of steel. On February 17, 1995, the Department filed its required remand results with the CIT.

On November 9, 1995, the CIT issued a second remand opinion, in which it explained that it had intended that the Department would use a weighted-average calculated margin consisting only of price-to-price and price-to-constructed value margins, not including unchallenged margins based on BIA. The Department submitted the following recalculated weighted-average margins to the CIT on December 12, 1995:

	Percent
Certain Hot-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	25.80
Certain Cold-Rolled Carbon Steel Products	44.52
Certain Corrosion-Resistant Carbon Steel Products	29.41
Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate	52.76

On May 28, 1996, the CIT affirmed these recalculated margins.

Suspension of Liquidation

In its decision in Timken, the CAFC held that the Department must publish notice of a decision of the CIT or the CAFC which is not "in harmony" with the Department's final determination. Publication of this notice fulfills this obligation. Inasmuch as entries of the subject merchandise already are being suspended pursuant to the antidumping order in effect, the Department need not order the Customs Service to suspend liquidation. Consistent with Timken, the Department will order the Customs Service to change the relevant cash deposit rates in the event that the CIT's ruling is not appealed or the CAFC issues a final decision affirming the CIT's ruling.

8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.—Convene to receive public testimony on Mackerel Total Allowable Catch (TAC)/Quotas/Bag Limits for the 1996-1997 season and Draft Reef Fish Amendment 14 (NOTE: Testimony cards must be turned in to staff before the start of public testimony.) Draft Reef Fish Amendment 14 principally proposes alternatives to regulate the fish trap fishery. The amendment contains several alternatives related to the current moratorium on the issuance of fish trap permits. The Council's proposed action is to create a license limitation system with transferrable permits. Other alternatives to the proposed action include extending the moratorium for four more years, limiting permits to current participants and phasing out the trap fishery after ten years, and evaluating the effectiveness of enforcement of trap rules over two years before taking further action.

Draft Reef Amendment 14 also has several alternatives related to area prohibitions on use of fish traps. The Council's proposed action is to prohibit the use of traps south of 24°54', north latitude (i.e. off Dry Tortugas, Florida). Alternatives to the proposed action include also prohibiting use of traps in the Gulf of Mexico west of Cape San Blas, Florida (Appalachicola area), prohibiting use of traps on Riley's Hump (a 20 square mile spawning aggregation site, south of Dry Tortugas), and prohibiting all fishing on Riley's Hump year round, making it a marine sanctuary. It modifies the provisions for tending traps and sets forth compliance conditions for the trap permit. Authority is provided to the Regional Director of National Marine Fisheries Service to open and close commercial reef fish fisheries operating under quotas. Transfer provisions for reef fish vessel permits are modified to allow transfer to qualifying vessel operators and owners. The amendment also proposes to prohibit harvest of Nassau grouper in the Gulf. Copies of the amendment can be requested from the Council office (see addresses).

Agency Information Collection Activities; Proposed Collection

AGENCY: Energy Information Administration, Department of Energy.
ACTION: Agency information collection activities: Proposed collection; comment request.

SUMMARY: The Energy Information Administration (EIA) is soliciting comments concerning the proposed extension to the "Recordkeeping Requirements of DOE's General Allocation and Price Rules," ERA-766R.

DATES: Written comments must be submitted by August 20, 1996. If you anticipate that you will be submitting comments, but find it difficult to do so within the period of time allowed by this notice, you should advise the contact listed below of your intention to do so as soon as possible.

ADDRESS: Send comments to Dan Bullington, General Counsel, GC-90, U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave., SW., Washington, DC 20585-0103. Telephone (202) 586-7364, FAX (202) 586-0422.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION: Requests for additional information should be directed to Dan Bullington at the address listed above.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

- I. Background
- II. Current Actions
- III. Request for Comments

I. Background

In order to fulfill its responsibilities under the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (Pub. L. No. 93-275) and the Department of Energy Organization Act (Pub. L. No. 95-91), the Energy Information Administration is obliged to carry out a central, comprehensive, and unified energy data and information program. As part of this program, EIA collects, evaluates, assembles, analyzes, and disseminates data and information related to energy resource reserves, production, demand, and technology, and related economic and statistical information relevant to the adequacy of energy resources to meet demands in the near and longer term future for the Nation's economic and social needs.

The Energy Information Administration, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden (required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. 104-13)), conducts a presurvey consultation program to provide the general public and other Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing requirements. This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden is minimized, reporting forms are clearly understood, and the impact of collection or recordkeeping requirements on respondents can be properly assessed.

The recordkeeping requirements are authorized by section 203(a)(1) of the Economic Stabilization Act (ESA) of 1970, as amended (Pub. L. 92-210, 85 State. 743) and by section 13(g) of the Federal Energy Administration Act (FEAA) of 1974, as amended (Pub. L. 93-275).

The Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) proposes to extend for three years the limited recordkeeping requirements presently contained in 10 CFR 210.1. The antecedent regulation was narrowed by amendment in January 1985.

The record retention requirements of 10 CFR 210.1 do not mandate the creation or retention of any new records. Instead, they require firms to preserve only historical records relating to compliance with the petroleum regulations.

The proposed extension of 10 CFR 210.1 will enable the ERA to continue its efforts to complete the enforcement program with respect to prior petroleum price and allocation regulations.

II. Current Actions

This is an extension with no change of the existing requirements. The requirements are proposed to be extended for a period of three years, from October 31, 1996 to October 31, 1999.

III. Request for Comments

Prospective respondents and other interested parties should comment on the actions discussed in item II. The following guidelines are provided to assist in the preparation of responses.

General Issues

EIA is interested in receiving comments from persons regarding whether the proposed recordkeeping requirements are necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency.

As a Potential Respondent

A. Are the instructions regarding the recordkeeping requirements clear and sufficient? If not, which instructions require clarification?

B. Can data be maintained as specified in the recordkeeping requirements?

C. Public reporting burden for the recordkeeping requirements are estimated to average 4 hours per respondent. Burden includes the total time, effort, or financial resources expended to generate, maintain, retain, or disclose or provide the information including: (1) Reviewing instructions; (2) developing, acquiring, installing, and utilizing technology and systems for the purposes of collecting, validating, verifying, processing, maintaining, disclosing and providing information; (3) adjusting the existing ways to comply with any previously applicable instructions and requirements; (4) training personnel; (5) searching data sources; (6) completing and reviewing the information; and (7) transmitting, or otherwise disclosing the information.

Please comment on (1) the accuracy of our estimate and (2) how the agency could minimize the burden of this requirement, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

D. What are the estimated (1) total dollar amount annualized for capital and start-up costs, and (2) recurring annual dollar amount of operation and maintenance and purchase of services costs associated with this requirement? The estimates should take into account the costs associated with generating, maintaining, and disclosing or providing the information.

Estimates should not include purchases of equipment or services made as part of customary and usual business practices, or the cost of any burden hours. EIA estimates that there are no additional costs other than those that the respondent incurs in keeping the information for its own uses.

Comments submitted in response to this notice will be summarized and/or included in the request for OMB approval of the form. They also will become a matter of public record.

Statutory Authority: Section 3506 (c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (Pub. L. No. 104-13).

Issued in Washington, DC., June 13, 1996.

[Docket No. CP96-566-000]

Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation; Notice of Request Under Blanket Authorization

June 17, 1996.

Take notice that on June 11, 1996, Columbia Gas Transmission Corporation (Columbia), 1700 McCorkle Avenue, S.E., Charleston, West Virginia 25314-1599, filed in Docket No. CP96-566-000 a request pursuant to Sections 157.205 and 157.212 of the Commission's Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205, 157.212) for authorization to establish a new delivery point to accommodate deliveries of gas transported on a firm basis for Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Inc. (CPA), in Adams County, Pennsylvania, under Columbia's blanket certificate issued in Docket No. CP83-76-000, pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, all as more fully set forth in the request that is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Columbia proposes to construct and operate a 2-inch tap, approximately 25 feet of 2-inch pipeline and a filter separator in order to deliver up to 85 dt equivalent of natural gas per day to CPA at a delivery point to be known as the Pheasant Meadows delivery point. Columbia states that it would transport the gas for CPA under its blanket certificate issued in Docket No. CP86-240-000 and pursuant to the terms of its Rate Schedule SST. It is asserted that Columbia would reduce the Maximum Daily Delivery Obligation at its Abbottstown delivery point by 85 dt equivalent of natural gas per day in order to accommodate the deliveries at the Pheasant Meadows point without increasing CPA's daily entitlement. It is stated that the end use of the gas would be residential, for the Pheasant Meadows subdivision. It is estimated that the cost of facilities for the proposed delivery point would be $25,000, for which Columbia would be reimbursed 100 percent by CPA. It is asserted that the proposed deliveries would not have any impact on Columbia's peak day obligations.

Any person or the Commission's staff may, within 45 days after issuance of the instant notice by the Commission, file pursuant to Rule 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.214) a motion to intervene or notice of intervention and pursuant to Section 157.205 of the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.205) a protest to the request. If no protest is filed within the time allowed therefor, the proposed activity shall be deemed to be authorized effective the day after the time allowed for filing a protest. If a protest is filed and not withdrawn within 30 days after the time allowed for filing a protest, the instant request shall be treated as an application for authorization pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act.

Secretary.

[Docket No. CP96-552-000]

Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America; Notice of Application

June 17, 1996.

Take notice that on May 31, 1996, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (Natural), 701 East 22nd Street, Lombard, Illinois 60148, filed in Docket No. CP96-552-000 an application pursuant to Section 7(b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon a sale, exchange and transportation of natural gas involving Colorado Interstate Gas Company (CIG), all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Natural proposes to abandon the services which were carried out under agreements on file with the Commission as Natural's Rate Schedules X-56, X-83, and X-111 and authorized by the Commission in Docket Nos. CP75-183, CP77-190 and CP79-204, as amended, respectively. It is stated that under Rate Schedule X-56 Natural was receiving from CIG up to 10,000 Mcf of gas per day on a firm basis (plus additional volumes on a best efforts basis, if available) from CIG's reserves in Lea County, New Mexico, and delivering equivalent volumes to CIG at interconnections in Texas and Oklahoma. It is further stated that Natural had the option to purchase 25 percent of the volumes from CIG. It is stated that under Rate Schedule X-83 CIG was receiving up to 2,000 Mcf of gas per day from Natural and delivering equivalent volumes to Natural at interconnections in Beaver County, Oklahoma. It is stated that under Rate Schedule X-111 CIG and Natural were transporting and exchanging gas on a system-wide basis. It is asserted that CIG and Natural have recently reached agreement resulting in the resolution of imbalances. Natural states that it will cancel the 3 rate schedules on receipt of abandonment authorization. Natural explains that no facilities will be abandoned, and no customers will lose service as a result of the proposed abandonments.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 8, 1996, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.214 or 385.211) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this application if no motion to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a motion for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Natural to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Secretary.

Take notice that on June 10, 1996, NorAm Gas Transmission Company (NGT), P.O. Box 21734, Shreveport, Louisiana 71151, filed an application with the Commission in Docket No. CP96-562-000 pursuant to Sections 7(b) and 7(c) of the National Gas Act (NGA) for permission and approval to abandon and move compression facilities and appurtenances thereto, located in Yell County, Arkansas, and the authority to construct and operate a new mainline compressor station in Conway County, Arkansas, all as more fully set forth in the application which is open to the public for inspection.

NGT proposes to abandon the Chambers Compressor Station which consists of one 4,000 H.P. engine located on NGT's Line BT-1 in Yell County and to reclaim the compressor and associated equipment which would then be used in the construction of a new 4,000 H.P. compressor station (the Round Mountain Compressor Station), to be located on NGT's Line J in Conway County. NGT estimates that it would cost $2,377,252 to abandon and remove the Chambers Compressor Station and to construct and operate the Round Mountain Compressor Station. NorAm states that no service to any of its existing customers would be affected by this proposal.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 8, 1996, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.214 or 385.211) and the Regulations under the NGA (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the NGA and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this application if no motion to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a motion for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for NGT to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Lois D. Cashell,

Secretary.

Environmental Laboratory Advisory Board; Meeting Date and Agenda

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice of open meeting.

SUMMARY: The Environmental Laboratory Advisory Board (ELAB) will convene an open meeting on Sunday, July 21, 1996, from noon to 5:00 p.m. The meeting immediately precedes the National Environmental Laboratory Accreditation Conference (NELAC), and will be held in the same location: the Washington Hilton and Towers, 1919 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20009; Telephone 202/797-5820.

One item on the agenda will be a report from the subcommittee charged with reviewing the issues surrounding Good Laboratory Practices (GLP), a program operated under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) and the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). The committee is identifying the unique characteristics of the GLP program and evaluating the relationship with NELAC.

A second agenda item is a deliberation on the status of the NELAC General Members Committee. A report on the authorized functions and the legal limitations of the General Members Committee and the role of ELAB will precede the discussion.

A third potential agenda item is the scope of accreditation, with specific attention given to non-commercial environmental laboratories. The regulated industries have expressed concern regarding requirements to inspect "in-house" laboratories which generate data to demonstrate compliance with EPA regulations.

The fourth agenda item, which shall constitute the majority of the discussion, will be on proficiency testing (PT) samples, otherwise known as performance evaluation (PE) samples. Changes in EPA's current system of manufacturing and distributing PT samples are under consideration. Included in the options are operation by the private sector, another government body, the states, and/or non-profit organizations. The discussion will be directed towards national consistency and quality of the samples, overall costs, impact on the state accrediting authorities, and the time needed to implement any change. Advice and comments will be solicited from ELAB regarding the potential consequences to the proposed NELAC structure and operation.

The public is welcome to attend. Time will be allotted for public comment. Written comments are encouraged and should be directed to Ms. Jeanne Mourrain, Designated Federal Official; USEPA, NERL (MD-75); Research Triangle Park, NC 27711. If questions arise, please contact Ms. Mourrain at 919/541-1120, fax 919/541-4101, or E-mail "MOURRAIN.JEANNE@EPAMAIL.EPA.GOV".

No person shall be subject to any penalty for failing to comply with a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) that does not display a valid control number. Comments are requested concerning (a) whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Commission, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the Commissions burden estimates; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on the respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

OMB Approval Number: 3060-0705.

Title: Procedures for Filing Petitions for Declaratory Rulings or Waivers of Section 25.104—Preemption of Local Zoning Regulation of Satellite Earth Stations, Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

Form No.: N/A.

Type of Review: Revision of existing collection.

Respondents: Individuals or households; Not-for-profit institutions; Business or other for-profit; Small businesses and organizations; farms; State, local or Tribal Government.

Number of Respondents: 60.

Estimated time per response: 3 hours to prepare petitions for Declaratory Rulings and 5 hours per respondent to prepare Petitions for Waiver.

Total Annual Burden: 172 hours.

Total Annualized Cost per respondent: $450 per respondent filing for Declaratory Rulings and $750 per respondent for filing a Petition for Waiver. These are the estimated costs if respondents hire an attorney to compile the information.

Needs and Uses: On April 17, 1996, the Commission issued a Public Notice, Report No. SPB-41, setting forth procedures to be followed when submitting petitions for declaratory ruling or waiver, under Section 25.104 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR 25.104, of governmental restrictions on the installation of satellite earth stations. Emergency OMB approval for this information collection was granted by OMB through June 30, 1996 (OMB Approval Number 3060-0705). The Commission is seeking comments to maintain the collection and on proposed changes. This information collection permits persons to petition the Commission to declare nonfederal, governmental zoning regulations to be preempted pursuant to Section 25.104 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR 25.104. It further allows nonfederal, governmental entities to petition for a waiver of any or all of Section 25.104 in order to permit them to enforce noncompliant zoning regulations. See Report and Order in Preemption of Local Zoning Regulation of Satellite Earth Stations, 61 FR 10896 (March 17, 1996). In addition, the Commission has proposed to extend the preemption rule to non-governmental restrictions, such as, covenants and home owner association rules, satellite earth stations less than one meter in diameter. See Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in Preemption of Local Zoning Regulation of Satellite Earth Stations, 61 FR 10710 (March 15, 1996). The Commission is requesting OMB approval of this voluntary collection to allow enforcement of Section 25.104 of the rules.

The information collected will be used by the Commission to determine, in the cases of Petitions for Declaratory Ruling, whether a nonfederal, governmental and zoning regulation is preempted under Section 25.104 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR 25.104; or, in cases of Petitions for Waiver, whether preemption under Section 25.104 may be waived for a given regulation. The collection is being revised to include collections that may be submitted to the Commission for a determination of whether a nongovernmental regulation, i.e., a deed covenant, is preempted under Section 25.104. The information will be submitted voluntarily by all respondents.

Federal Communications Commission.

Acting Secretary.

Once the application has been accepted for processing, it will also be available for inspection at the offices of the Board of Governors. Interested persons may express their views in writing on the standards enumerated in the BHC Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)). If the proposal also involves the acquisition of a nonbanking company, the review also includes whether the acquisition of the nonbanking company complies with the standards in section 4 of the BHC Act, including whether the acquisition of the nonbanking company can "reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices" (12 U.S.C. 1843). Any request for a hearing must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute, summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing, and indicating how the party commenting would be aggrieved by approval of the proposal. Unless otherwise noted, nonbanking activities will be conducted throughout the United States.

Unless otherwise noted, comments regarding each of these applications must be received at the Reserve Bank indicated or the offices of the Board of Governors not later than July 15, 1996.

BILLING CODE 6210-01-F

Notice to Engage in Nonbanking Activities

Waterhouse Investor Services, Inc., New York, New York ("Notificant"), has given notice pursuant to section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) ("BHC Act") and § 225.23(a)(3) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.23(a)(3)), to engage de novo through its subsidiary Waterhouse Securities, Inc., New York, New York ("Company"), in the purchase and sale of all types of securities on the order of customers as riskless principal.

Notificant proposes to engage in the proposed activities nationwide.

Section 4(c)(8) of the BHC Act provides that a bank holding company may, with Board approval, engage in any activity "which the Board after due notice and opportunity for hearing has determined (by order or regulation) to be so closely related to banking or managing or controlling banks as to be a proper incident thereto." 12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8). The Board previously has determined, by order, that the proposed riskless principal activities are "so closely related to banking or managing or controlling banks as to be proper incident thereto." See Order Revising the Limitations Applicable to Riskless Principal Activities, 82 Fed. Res. Bull. _____ (Order dated June 10, 1996). See also J.P. Morgan & Co. Incorporated, 76 Fed. Res. Bull. 26 (1990); Bankers Trust New York Corporation, 75 Fed. Res. Bull. 829 (1989). Except as discussed below, Notificant has stated that Company will conduct the proposed activities using the same methods and subject to the prudential limitations established by the Board in its previous orders.

In authorizing bank holding companies to engage in riskless principal activities under section 4(c)(8) of the BHC Act, the Board has relied on a commitment that the bank holding company not act as a riskless principal for registered investment company securities or for any securities of investment companies that are advised by the bank holding company or any of its affiliates. Notificant has requested that Company be permitted to act as riskless principal in transactions involving securities of all registered investment companies, other than investment companies that are advised by Notificant or any of its affiliates.

Notificant states that it seeks relief from this restriction in order to be able to compete effectively with other providers of these services. Notificant maintains, in particular, that Company would be at a competitive disadvantage with respect to the execution of customer orders for the purchase and sale of open-end mutual funds with a sales load where, in accordance with industry practice, most broker/dealers execute and confirm such transactions on a principal basis.

In publishing the proposal for comment, the Board does not take a position on issues raised by the proposal. Notice of the proposal is published solely in order to seek the views of interested persons on the issues presented by the notice, and does not represent a determination by the Board that the proposal meets or is likely to meet the standards of the BHC Act.

Any comments or requests for hearing should be submitted in writing and received by William W. Wiles, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, not later than July 11, 1996. Any request for a hearing on this proposal must, as required by section 262.3(e) of the Board's Rules of Procedure (12 C.F.R. 262.3(e)), be accompanied by a statement of the reasons why a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute, summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing, and indicating how the party commenting would be aggrieved by approval of the proposal. The notice may be inspected at the offices of the Board of Governors or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, June 17, 1996.

Deputy Secretary of the Board.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

[30 DAY-14]

Agency Forms Undergoing Paperwork Reduction Act Review

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) publishes a list of information collection requests under review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in compliance with the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. Chapter 35). To request more information on these projects or to obtain a copy of the data collection plans and instruments, call the CDC Reports Clearance Officer at (404) 639-7090. Send written comments to Wilma Johnson, CDC Reports Clearance Officer, 1600 Clifton Road, MS-D24, Atlanta, GA 30333. Written comments should be received within 30 days of this notice.

The following requests have been submitted for review since the last publication date on May 29, 1996.

Proposed Projects

1. Importation and Shipment of Etiologic Agents—(0920-0199)—Revision—The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-132) authorizes the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to regulate the transfer of certain infectious agents harmful to humans. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is the agency within the Department responsible for promulgating regulations. CDC is proposing a rule designed to ensure that select infectious agents are not shipped to parties not equipped to handle them appropriately, or who do not have legitimate reasons to use them and to implement a system whereby scientists and researchers involved in legitimate research may continue transferring and receiving these agents without undue burdens. Respondents include laboratory facilities such as those operated by government agencies, universities, research institutions, and commercial entities.

Those facilities requesting select infectious agents listed in the regulation must register with the Secretary of HHS, or with registering entities authorized by the Secretary, as capable and equipped to handle the select infectious agents in accordance with guidelines developed by CDC, the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the Department of Defense.

Once registered, facilities must complete a federally-developed form, CDC Form EA-101, for each transfer of the agent. Information on this form will include the name of the requestor and requesting facility, the name of the transferor and transferring facility, the name of the responsible facility official for the transferor and requestor, the requesting facility's registration number, the transferring facility's registration number, the name of the agent(s) being shipped, and the proposed use of the agent. The package is being revised to include burden for laboratories to register with the Secretary.

Application for Permit	1,000	1	20/60
72.6(a)	1,000	1	15/60
72.6(d)	1,000	3	1.05
72.6(e)	120	21	10/60
72.6(f)	1,000	3	6/60

The total annual burden is 4,453. Send comments to Desk officer, CDC; Human Resources and Housing Branch, New Executive Office Building, Room 10235; Washington, DC 20503.

2. Tuberculosis in Children—New—The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, National Center for HIV,

STD, and TB Prevention, Division of Tuberculosis Elimination, Surveillance Epidemiologic Investigations Branch will be conducting a study for the purpose of performing research concerning the epidemiology of TB in children, including children co-infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). The study will involve the following modules: (1) The epidemiology, magnitude and risk factors for TB in children, including HIV-infected children; (2) studies of the diagnosis of TB in children, and (3) reducing the risk of nosocomial transmission of TB in pediatric settings.

Respondents	No. of respondents	No. of Responses/re-spondent	Avg. burden/response (in hrs.)
Positive Tuberculin Skin Testing Form	100	1	0.33
Negative Tuberculin Skin Testing Form	200	1	0.33
Parental Questionnaire	150	1	0.33

The total annual burden is 150. Send comments to Desk officer, CDC; Human Resources and Housing Branch, New Executive Office Building, Room 10235; Washington, DC 20503.

3. HIV Prevention Programs in National/Regional Minority and Other Community Based Organization Project Reports—(0920-0249)—Reinstatement—CDC is responsible for monitoring and evaluating HIV prevention activities conducted under cooperative agreements with National/Regional Minority and Other Community Based Organizations.

Enhancing and assuring quality programming requires that CDC have current information regarding the progress of activities and services supported through these cooperative agreements. In some instances, these cooperative agreements have been awarded to organizations that have not previously been awarded Federal funds, or provided HIV prevention services. Additionally, many have limited infrastructure, requiring greater oversight and technical assistance. Technical assistance site visits and telephone communications do provide some of the required information; yet, site visits have been dramatically reduced and specific contents of phone conversations can be easily forgotten, especially when several awards are administered by one individual. Therefore, thorough quarterly project reports are considered a critical component of the monitoring/evaluation process. Because this program encompasses at least 23 N/RMOs and 90 CBOs awards, there is a need for a standardized system for reporting the progress of each organization's activities.

National/Regional	23	4	4
CBO	90	4	4

The total annual burden is 1808. Send comments to Desk officer, CDC; Human Resources and Housing Branch, New Executive Office Building, Room 10235; Washington, DC 20503.

Dated: June 17, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This Notice informs the public that the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has submitted to OMB, for emergency processing, a proposed Notice of Fund Availability (NOFA) for the Self-Help Housing Opportunity Program. HUD seeks to implement this by June 28, 1996.

Under the Self-Help Housing Opportunity Program, HUD will provide up to $15 million to encourage innovative homeownership opportunities through the provision of self-help housing where the homeowner contributes a significant amount of sweat equity toward construction of the dwellings. The eligible expenses for program funds are land acquisition (including financing and closing costs) and infrastructure improvement (installing extending, constructing, rehabilitating, or otherwise improving utilities and other infrastructure). Eligible applicants are nonprofit national or regional organizations or consortia with experience in managing self-help and volunteer labor homeownership programs.

The information collection is essential so that HUD staff may determine the eligibility, qualifications and capability of applicants to carry out self-help and volunteer labor homeownership programs. HUD will review the information provided by the applicants against the selection criteria contained in the NOFA in order to rate and rank the applications and select the best and most qualified individual applications for funding. The selection criteria are: (1) Operational capability and experience; (2) financial capability and experience; (3) quality of program design; (4) leveraging of public/private resources; and (5) Empowerment Zone/Enterprise Community support.

Disaster Unemployment Assistance (DUA), Disaster Payment Activities Under the "Stafford Disaster Relief Act"

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Labor, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden conducts a preclearance consultation program to provide the general public and State agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing collections of information in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA95) [44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)]. This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden (time and financial resources) is minimized, collection instruments are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements on respondents can be properly assessed. Currently, the Employment and Training Administration (ETA) is soliciting comments concerning the proposed one year extension of previous approval by OMB of the attached ETA Form 90-2, Disaster Payment Activities Under the "Stafford Disaster Relief Act." A copy of the proposed information collection request (ICR) can be obtained by contacting the office listed below in the addressee section of this notice.

DATES: Written comments must be submitted to the office listed in the addressee section below on or before August 20, 1996.

The Department of Labor is particularly interested in comments which:

- evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
 - evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
 - enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
 - minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submissions of responses.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The monthly report on Disaster Payment Activities under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (the "act") provides vital information on the nature and scope of activities performed in administering provisions of sections 410 and 423 of the act. Its workload items and final disaster reports are also used with fiscal reports to estimate the cost of administering the act. (Previously cleared for use thru OMB by ETA under OMB No. 1205-0234.)

The President is directed by the act to provide Disaster Unemployment Assistance through agreements with States, which in his judgement, have an adequate system for administering such assistance through existing State agencies. Without the data obtained from the report, the Employment and Training Administration would have no grasp on the program, as its is administered by the States.

II. Current Actions

The data obtained from the reports are used by at least three organizational units within the Employment and Training Administration (ETA). The Unemployment Insurance Service uses the data for evaluation of State agency performance on making payments and providing claimant services and for making required reports. The Employment Services uses the data to project funding needs in the areas of counseling, referrals to suitable work opportunities and suitable training. The Office of Financial and Administrative Management (OFAM) uses the data in accounting for the financial management of the program funds and fund transfers. In addition, the data are also used by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), to whom the President has delegated the responsibility by Executive Order No. 12148, for administering the act. As previously indicated, without the data obtained from the report, the Department would have no grasp on the program, as it is administered by the States.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Section 303(a)(4) of the Social Security Act (SSA) and Section 3304(a)(3) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) require that all money received in the unemployment fund of a State be paid immediately to the Secretary of Treasury to the credit of the Unemployment Trust Fund (UTF). This is the "immediate deposit" standard.

Section 303(a)(5) of the SSA and Section 3304(a)(4) of the FUTA require that all money withdrawn from the UTF be used solely for the payment of unemployment compensation, exclusive of the expenses of administration. This is the "limited withdrawal" standard.

Federal law (section 303(a)(6) of the SSA) gives the Secretary of Labor the authority to require the reporting of information deemed necessary to assure State compliance with the provisions of the SSA.

Under this authority, the Secretary of Labor requires the following reports to monitor State compliance with the immediate deposit and limited withdrawal standards:

ETA 2112: UI Financial Transactions

Summary, Unemployment Fund

ETA 8401: Monthly Analysis of Benefit Payment Account

ETA 8405: Monthly Analysis of Clearing Account

ETA 8413: Income—Expense Analysis

UC Fund, Benefit Payment Account

ETA 8414: Income—Expense Analysis

UC Fund, Clearing Account

ETA 8403: Reed Act

These reports are submitted to the Unemployment Insurance Service (UIS) which uses them for the following purposes:

- Monitoring cash flows into and out of the UTF to determine State compliance with the immediate deposit and limited withdrawal standards.
- Proper accounting for unemployment funds. This is an integral part of the Department's consolidated financial statements. The UTF is the single largest asset on the Department's balance sheet.

- Reconciliation with U.S. Treasury records.

- Development of UI research and actuarial reports.

These reports have been submitted monthly by States for the past several years, recently in an electronic format which has reduced mail and storage costs. There is a viable system for the preparation and electronic delivery of the reports. Since the reports are essential to the Department's financial and program operations and are consonant with the Secretary of Labor's oversight responsibilities, the Department intends to seek OMB approval for a three year extension of them, to September 30, 1999.

II. Current Actions

This action is requested because of the need for continuing the existing collection of information. This information is needed to enable the Secretary of Labor to exercise oversight responsibilities and to assure the security, solvency, and integrity of the unemployment fund. Furthermore, the Department requires this information to compile annual consolidated financial statements and to prepare UIS statistical reports.

The information is not captured from any other source. Because the reporting system has been operational for several years and is automated on-line, burden on States is negligible.

Employment Standards Administration

Proposed Collection; Comment Request

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Department of Labor, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork and respondent burden, conducts a preclearance consultation program to provide the general public and Federal agencies with an opportunity to comment on proposed and/or continuing collections of information in accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA95) (44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(2)(A)). This program helps to ensure that requested data can be provided in the desired format, reporting burden (time and financial resources) is minimized, collection instruments are clearly understood, and the impact of collection requirements on respondents can be properly assessed. Currently, the Employment Standards Administration is soliciting comments concerning the proposed revision collection of Form WH-514, Vehicle Mechanical Inspection Report for Transportation Subject to Department of Transportation Requirements; and Form 514a, Vehicle Mechanical Inspection Report for Transportation Subject to Department of Labor Safety Standards.

A copy of the proposed information collection request can be obtained by contacting the office listed below in the addressee section of this notice.

DATES: Written comments must be submitted to the office listed in the addressee section below on or before August 23, 1996. The Department of Labor is particularly interested in comments which:

- Evaluate whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the agency, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- Evaluate the accuracy of the agency's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;

- Enhance the quality, utility and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- Minimize the burden of the collection of information on those who are to respond, including through the use of appropriate automated, electronic, mechanical, or other technological collection techniques or other forms of information technology, e.g., permitting electronic submissions of responses.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Section 401 of the Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Worker Protection Act (MSPA) requires that Farm Labor Contractors (FLCs), Agricultural Employers (AGERS) or Agricultural Associations (AGASs) which use, or cause to be used any vehicle to transport a migrant or seasonal farm worker ensure that such vehicle conforms to vehicle safety standards which must be met to be able to transport migrant and seasonal agricultural workers. Form WH-514 is used to verify that Department of Labor (DOL) vehicle safety standards are met for any passenger automobile or station wagon used, or caused to be used by any FLC, AGER, or AGAS to transport any migrant or seasonal agricultural worker. Form WH-514a is used to verify that Department of Transportation (DOT) safety standards are met for any vehicle, other than a passenger automobile or station wagon, used, or caused to be used, to transport any migrant or seasonal agricultural worker. These forms were previously cleared under OMB 1215-0036. The current clearance does not expire until December 31, 1997. However, Pub. L. 104-9, in part, amended the MSPA regulatory process for setting minimum transportation liability insurance requirements for migrant workers. Final rules published on May 16, 1996, 61 FR 24858, revised paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 500.121, Coverage and level of insurance required, 29 CFR part 500. Accordingly, it was necessary to revise Forms WH-514 and WH-514a, to require the respondent to provide information regarding the number of seats in the vehicle being inspected. Other minor revisions to these forms include: (a) The entry for "Date" has been removed from the top of the form since it duplicates "Date of Inspection" on the bottom of each form; (b) a check block for "van" has been added to each form, since vans frequently transport workers; and, (c) entries for the address and telephone number of the respondent (mechanic) have been added to allow DOL to verify, if necessary, information provided on the form.

II. Current Actions

The Department of Labor seeks revision approval to collect this information to carry out its responsibility to specifically identify the vehicles for which authorization to transport migrant and seasonal agricultural workers is requested and to note the applicable safety standards met by each vehicle. Without this information, it would be impossible for the Wage and Hour Division to verify that vehicles used to transport migrant and seasonal agricultural workers meet the safety standards required by MSPA.

Bill Ussery Motors, Inc. Fourth Amended and Restated Profit Sharing Plan and Trust (the Plan), Located in Coral Gables, Florida

[Application No. D-10146]

Proposed Exemption

The Department is considering granting an exemption under the authority of section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code and in accordance with the procedures set forth in 29 CFR Part 2570, Subpart B (55 FR 32836, 32847, August 10, 1990). If the exemption is granted the restrictions of sections 406(a) and 406 (b)(1) and (b)(2) of the Act and the sanctions resulting from the application of section 4975 of the Code, by reason of section 4975(c)(1) (A) through (E) of the Code shall not apply to the proposed cash sale (the Sale) of certain real property (the Property) by the Plan to Bill Ussery Motors, Inc. (the Employer), the sponsoring employer and a party in interest with respect to the Plan; provided that (1) the Sale is a one-time transaction for cash; (2) the Plan does not experience any loss nor incur any expenses from the proposed transaction; and (3) the Plan receives as consideration from the Sale the greater of either (a) the fair market value of the Property as determined by a qualified, independent appraiser on the date of the Sale, or (b) an amount equal to the appraised fair market value as determined on December 31, 1994.

Summary of Facts and Representations

1. The Employer, a Florida corporation formed in 1959 and located in Coral Gables, Florida, is in the business of selling new and used Mercedes-Benz vehicles under a dealership franchise issued by Mercedes-Benz. The Employer also services Mercedes-Benz vehicles and sells new replacement or spare parts for the vehicles. The principals of the Employer are Mr. John C. Brockway, who is the sole shareholder of the Employer and its Chief Executive Officer, and his son, Robert W. Brockway, who is the President of the Employer.

2. The Plan is a defined contribution plan that was established by the Employer on December 1, 1969, and was intended to satisfy the requirements of sections 401(a) and 401(k) of the Code. The total assets of the Plan were approximately $5,733,666.64, as of December 31, 1995, and the total participants and beneficiaries were approximately 119.

All investment decisions for the Plan are made by Mr. John C. Brockway, as Plan Administrator, upon recommendations of Mr. Fred W. Newcomb, a Plan Trustee, and with the concurrence of Mr. Robert Brockway, a Plan Trustee. Mr. Newcomb was an employee of the Employer from 1972 until December 1994 in the capacity of general manager from 1977 through 1991 and president from 1991 until his resignation in December 1994. Mr. Newcomb is presently employed by the Employer as a consultant as well as serving as a Trustee of the Plan.

3. The Property is 27.66 acres of land located on Lots 10 and 11 Section 14, Township 5 South Range 24 East, Clay County, Florida with an address given by the applicant as Southeast corner of S.R. 21 and C.R. 218, Middleburg, Clay County, Florida, and represented by the applicant as unimproved and zoned as Intermediate Business District and Agricultural. The applicant represents that the Property was purchased below the market value at a price considered to be a prudent investment in four transactions that involved no prohibited transactions under the Act. The first transaction occurred on June 17, 1985, in which 6.6 acres was acquired for $241,814, and another purchase of 4 acres, not contiguous to the 6.6 acres, was made on November 12, 1985, for $15,009. On August 24, 1989, another 17.06 acres, contiguous to the other two purchased parcels, was acquired for $100,000; and, at the same time, rights were purchased to certain proceeds from the sale of the 6.6 acres for $290,000.¹ Thus, the total purchase price to the Plan of the 27.66 acres was $646,823.²

The applicant represents that the additional 4 acres and 17 acres were acquired in order to enhance the value of the Property. Because portions of the 4 acres and the 17 acres were designated as wetland areas by governmental authority, the Plan was required to obtain approval to fill a portion of the wetland areas. This approval enabled 8.7 acres of the Property to have frontage on two state highways and become suitable for commercial development.

The applicant represents that the Plan expended $208,337 for improvements to the property during the years from 1990 through 1994,³ and the property taxes on the Property totalled $71,115 for the years 1985 through 1995. Thus, the applicant represents that the Plan expended a total of $926,275 from 1985 through 1995 in acquiring and holding the Property.

On December 27, 1991, the Property was appraised by Mr. John W. Veasey, MAI, of Weigel-Veasey Appraisers, Inc. located in Middleburg, Florida, who determined that the fair market value of the Property was $1,004,380. On December 31, 1994, in an update to the original appraisal, Mr. Veasey determined that the fair market value of the Property had increased to $1,100,880. The original 1991 appraisal represented, inter alia, that a portion of the Property was located within jurisdictional wetlands, and that a portion of the commercial tract of the Property would require a change in its zoning and also would require fill.

Mr. John R. Seivert, Broker/Salesperson, with Coldwell Banker, Walter Williams Realty, Inc. located in Jacksonville, Florida (the Realtor), represented in a letter, dated December 1, 1995, that his company began marketing portions of the Property in 1987 and continued offering the additional portions as acquired through 1995. The marketing involved placing from time to time different signs on the Property and advertising continuously in the Florida Times Union, a newspaper published in Jacksonville, Florida. In addition, beginning in August 1995, the Realtor began placing additional advertisements in the Real Estate Buyers Guide, that was to provide 10 publications per year with a distribution of over 200,000 copies per year at over 150 locations in various stores and restaurants. Also, the Realtor has distributed brochures regarding the Property to other commercial brokers, and since 1987 the Property has been in the Multiple Listing Service of the Jacksonville Association of Realtors.

The Realtor also represented that the Property had some problems with some areas that were low and needed fill, plus having a drainage fault. The Realtor represented that there were also problems requiring zoning changes from residential to business. The road construction and general depressed economic conditions in the area of the Property was represented by the Realtor as having a detrimental effect on marketing the Property.

4. The applicant proposes that the Plan sell the Property to the Employer for the greater of either the fair market value of the Property as determined by a qualified, independent appraiser on the date of the Sale, or for an amount equal to the appraised fair market value determined on December 31, 1994. The purpose of the proposed transaction is to enable the Plan to avoid the continuing additional expenses of improving and maintaining the Property. In addition, the Plan will be able to invest in liquid assets that generate yields and incur a minimum of expenses. The applicant represents that the Plan will incur no expenses or losses from the proposed Sale.

The applicant further represents that the proposed transaction is in the best interests of the Plan and its participants and beneficiaries because of (a) the difficulty experienced in attempting to sell the Property, (b) the expenses incurred from maintaining and improving the Property, and (c) only 8.7 acres of the Property is usable for commercial purposes with the remainder acreage either protected wetlands, or portions with no road frontage, and surface contours sloping deeply towards a creek that frequently floods the area.

5. In summary, the applicant represents that the proposed transaction will satisfy the criteria of section 408(a) of the Act because (a) the Sale of the Property involves a one-time transaction for cash; (b) the Plan will not incur any expenses from the Sale; (c) the Plan will receive as consideration from the Sale the greater of either the fair market value of the Property as determined by a qualified, independent appraiser on the date of the Sale, or an amount equal to the appraised fair market value as determined on December 31, 1994; (d) the Sale will permit the Plan to reinvest illiquid and non-yielding assets into income producing, and liquid assets; and (e) the Plan will avoid the expenses and risks involved in maintaining and developing the Property.

[Application No. D-10203]

Proposed Exemption

The Department is considering granting an exemption under the authority of section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code and in accordance with the procedures set forth in 29 CFR Part 2570, Subpart B (55 FR 32836, 32847, August 10, 1990). If the exemption is granted, the restrictions of sections 406(a), 406(b)(1) and (b)(2) of the Act and the sanctions resulting from the application of section 4975 of the Code, by reason of section 4975(c)(1)(A) through (E) of the Code, shall not apply to the proposed cash sale by the Plan of Group Annuity Contract No. 5000008 (the GAC) issued by Anchor National Life Insurance Company (Anchor National), located in Los Angeles, California, to Hach Company (the Employer), a party in interest with respect to the Plan.

This proposed exemption is subject to the following conditions:

(a) The sale is a one-time transaction for cash.

(b) The Plan does not experience any losses or incur any expenses in connection with the transaction.

(c) The Plan receives as consideration an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the GAC as of the date of the sale.

(d) The trustees (the Trustees) of the Plan have determined that the proposed transaction is appropriate for the Plan and in the best interests of the Plan's participants and beneficiaries.

Summary of Facts and Representations

1. The Plan is a profit sharing plan with a deferred compensation feature allowing participants to self-direct investments. As of April 30, 1995, the Plan had 857 participants and net assets of $24,850,046. The Trustees of the Plan are Gary Dreher, Randy Petersen and

¹ The original sales agreement provided that the seller was to receive 49% of the net proceeds in excess of $330,000 upon the sale of the 6.6 acres by the Plan.

² In this proposed exemption, the Department expresses no opinion as to whether the acquisition and holding of the Property violated any provision of Part 4 of Title I of the Act.

³ The improvements were represented by the applicant to involve an environmental assessment, preparation of conceptual land use, continuation and permits, finalization of plans, drainage, and driveways, maintenance land clearing, and additional fill.

Loel Sirovy. The Trustees make investment decisions for the Plan with respect to investment options and contributions.

2. The Employer sponsoring the Plan is a Delaware corporation maintaining its principal place of business at 5600 Lindbergh Drive, Loveland, Colorado. The Employer is engaged in the manufacture of products that are used in the analysis and testing of chemicals.

3. Among the assets of all of the participant accounts in the Plan is the GAC investment. The GAC was issued by Anchor National, an unrelated party, on February 20, 1987. It was purchased by the Plan for $685,832 through Boettcher & Company, also an unrelated party, on the issuance date. The GAC represents approximately 9 percent of the Plan's assets and consists of mutual fund investments that are managed under the Anchor National American Pathway Fund, an open-end investment management company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The mutual fund investments include five variable accounts and one fixed income account.⁴ The GAC has no stated maturity date and it can be discontinued unilaterally by either the Plan or Anchor National at any time. Since November 1990 which is the date of the earliest deposit, the interest rates earned by the GAC have ranged from 4.5 percent to 6.0 percent, with the GAC providing for a minimum guaranteed interest rate of 4 percent. These interest earnings have all been attributed to the fixed income account investments. Contrarily, the variable accounts do not earn any interest. Instead, each fund experiences increases or decreases in value.

4. The GAC may require that the Plan pay a 3 percent surrender fee on money that is withdrawn from the GAC during the five year period following deposit. The surrender fee is ongoing, meaning that the five year period commences with the date of each deposit. The surrender fee is paid to Anchor National only if the Plan withdraws an amount that is in excess of 5 percent of the value of the GAC.⁵

The GAC also provides for annual risk charges of 1.15 percent of the total amount of deposits under the GAC. These risk charges are similar to a management fee. The risk charges are deducted against earnings or interest on the mutual funds and are made automatically.

5. Since it has owned the GAC, it is represented that the Plan has paid no surrender fees. However, the Plan has incurred aggregate risk charges of $48,179 and made withdrawals for disbursement to participants totaling $4,715,313. Including the acquisition price of $685,832, the Plan has also made deposits totaling $4,189,449, received aggregate interest payments of $558,172 and realized appreciation totaling $1,359,752. Thus, the Plan's net investment in the GAC is $1,343,881.⁶ As of April 24, 1996, the GAC had a current balance of $2,164,324.

6. The GAC is valued on a daily basis by Anchor National which calculates the fair market values of all securities held in the variable and fixed income accounts. Market values for the variable accounts comprising the GAC are also published periodically in Barron's. As of April 24, 1996, Anchor National placed the aggregate fair market value of the GAC at $2,164,324. This amount was also equivalent to the outstanding balance of the GAC as discussed in Representation 5.

7. To make available cash proceeds to the Plan in order that it may invest in alternative investments which have no continuing surrender fees, the Trustees request an administrative exemption from the Department which would permit the Plan to sell the GAC to the Employer. The sales price for the GAC will be based upon its fair market value as of the date of the sale. Specifically, on the date of the transaction, the Employer will obtain an updated valuation of the GAC from Anchor National. In addition, the Plan will not pay any transaction fees, commissions or other expenses in connection with the proposed sale.

8. The Trustees have reviewed the proposed transaction and represent that it is in the best interests of the Plan and its participants and beneficiaries. The Trustees also represent that the proposed purchase price for the GAC is at least equal to fair market value.

9. In summary, it is represented that the proposed transaction will satisfy the statutory criteria for an exemption under section 408(a) of the Act because: (a) the Plan will receive as consideration an amount that is equal to the fair market value of the GAC as of the date of the sale; (b) the transaction will enable the Plan to invest in other investment vehicles which have no surrender fees; (c) the Plan will incur no expenses with respect to the proposed sale; and (d) the Trustees have determined that the sale is in the best interests of the Plan and its participants and beneficiaries.

Notice to Interested Persons

Notice of the proposed exemption will be provided to interested persons within 10 days of the publication of the notice of proposed exemption in the Federal Register. The notice will include a copy of the proposed exemption as published in the Federal Register as well as a supplemental statement, as required pursuant to 29 CFR 2570.43(b)(2), which shall inform interested persons of their right to comment on and/or to request a hearing. Notice will be provided to interested persons by posting copies of the proposed exemption and supplemental statement on the Employer's bulletin boards or other employee advisory sites. Any participant who is not employed by the Employer and any participant's beneficiary will receive notice of the proposed exemption by certified mail at such person's last known address. Written comments and hearing requests with respect to the notice of proposed exemption will be due within 40 days of the publication of the proposed exemption in the Federal Register.

Proposed Exemption

The Department is considering granting an exemption under the authority of section 408(a) of the Act and section 4975(c)(2) of the Code and in accordance with the procedures set forth in 29 CFR Part 2570, Subpart B (55 FR 32836, 32847, August 10, 1990). If the exemption is granted, the restrictions of sections 406(a), 406 (b)(1) and (b)(2) of the Act and the sanctions resulting from the application of section 4975 of the Code, by reason of section 4975(c)(1) (A) through (E) of the Code, shall not apply to the continuing guarantee by Hoechst Marion Roussel, Inc. ⁴Specifically, the five variable accounts constituting the GAC are the Growth Separate Account, the Growth & Income Separate Account, the Government Securities Account, the Cash Management Separate Account and the Asset Allocation Separate Account. The fixed income account comprising the GAC is the Fixed Annuity General Account.

⁵It is represented that the surrender fee does not apply where a participant takes a withdrawal in the form of an annuity, in the case of death benefits or where less than 5 percent of the value of the GAC is withdrawn in any year.

⁶The Plan's net investment in the GAC has been calculated as follows: $4,189,449 (deposits) + $558,172 (interest) + $1,359,752 (appreciation) = $6,107,373 (gross investment) - $4,715,313 (withdrawals) - $48,179 (risk charges) = $1,343,881.

currently known as the Plan), provided the following conditions are satisfied: a) the transaction is a continuation of a guarantee that was statutorily exempt at the time it was entered into; and b) the transaction requires an exemption because of an independent transaction involving the Plan's sponsor as a corporate entity.

EFFECTIVE DATES: If the proposed exemption is granted, the exemption will be effective from July 18, 1995 to August 2, 2005.

Summary of Facts and Representations

1. Effective July 31, 1990, the Corporation [then known as Marion Merrell Dow, Inc. (MMD)] established the Plan (then known as the ASOP), a plan designed to qualify under sections 401(a) and 4975(e)(7) of the Code as a leveraged employee stock ownership plan. The Corporation is engaged in the development, manufacture and sale of pharmaceutical and other products for hospital use. As of December 31, 1995, the Plan had approximately $69 million credited to a suspense account and approximately $40 million allocated to participants' accounts. For the Plan year ending on December 31, 1995, the Plan covered 5,447 participants and beneficiaries.

2. On or about July 31, 1990, the Plan borrowed approximately $104 million from a consortium of lenders (the Loan), the proceeds of which were used by the Plan to purchase Series A ASOP Convertible Preferred Stock (ASOP Shares) from MMD. MMD guaranteed the Loan and became obligated to make contributions to the Plan which, in conjunction with the use of cash dividends paid on the ASOP Shares (Dividends), would be sufficient for the Plan to make payments on the Loan. In 1991, the Loan was refinanced through an offering of public debt by the Plan (the Refinanced Loan). The Refinanced Loan is also guaranteed by the Corporation and requires the Corporation to make contributions to the Plan which, in conjunction with the use of Dividends, would be sufficient for the Plan to make payments on the Refinanced Loan. The Refinanced Loan was not collateralized by the unallocated ASOP shares and is not prepayable absent the consent of all bondholders.⁷

3. At all times prior to July 18, 1995, the Plan was operated as an employee stock ownership plan, and the applicant represents that the Corporation's guarantee of the Loan and the Refinanced Loan met all the requirements of the exemption set forth in section 408(b)(3) of the Act and section 4975(d)(3) of the Code.⁸ On July 18, 1995, H Pharma Acquisition Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Hoechst Corporation, was merged with and into the Corporation (the Merger). Hoechst Corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of Hoechst AG, a German corporation (the Parent). The Corporation thereby became an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the Parent. As required by the applicable certificate of designation⁹ pertaining to the ASOP Shares, upon the Merger the ASOP Shares were redeemed for the cash sum of $37.41 per ASOP Share, plus accrued dividends. As a result of such redemption, the Plan received approximately $80 million in cash with respect to unallocated ASOP Shares (the Proceeds) and approximately $25 million with respect to allocated ASOP Shares. Upon such redemption, the Plan ceased to hold any "employer securities" as defined in section 407(d)(1) of the Act and section 409(l) of the Code.

4. As of the date of the Merger, the principal amount of the Refinanced Loan was approximately $90 million. Since that time, the principal amount has been reduced to approximately $83 million through additional contributions by the Corporation to the Plan. The Plan remains the primary obligor on the Refinanced Loan, and the Refinanced Loan is still guaranteed by the Corporation. The remaining term of the Refinanced Loan extends through August 1, 2005.

5. The Parent is a German corporation whose shares are publicly traded on the Frankfurt exchange. However, no shares of Parent stock or American Depository Receipts (ADRs), and no stock or ADRs of any of the Parent's subsidiaries or affiliates, are traded on any United States securities exchange, or on the market established by the National Association of Securities Dealers. The applicant represents that although it is technically possible for the Plan to acquire shares of stock of the Parent on the Frankfurt exchange and to hold such shares overseas in a manner consistent with 29 CFR section 2550.404b-1 of the regulations, there are a number of legal, business and administrative obstacles to doing so:

(a) German companies do not maintain stock plans since, under German law, companies are not legally permitted to purchase their own stock. The Parent does not wish to permit equity ownership for its United States employees where such ownership is not permitted for its German employees.

(b) It is the view of the Parent and the Corporation that it would be inappropriate (and would not achieve the employee incentives underlying ESOPs generally) to make Parent stock available to the Plan—the linkage between the performance of the Corporation and the performance of Parent stock would be attenuated at best.

(c) Use of Parent stock would add significant complexity to the Plan's administration, particularly with respect to communications with Plan participants.

(d) Rules regarding ESOPs require that participants be given the option to receive their distributions in kind. If Parent stock were to be acquired for the Plan, and if participants elected to receive their distributions in Parent stock, such distributions would be effected in the United States, thus subjecting the Parent to reporting and registration requirements under United States securities laws.

Accordingly, "employer securities" as defined in the Act and the Code are not effectively available for purchase by the Plan with the Proceeds. As a result, the applicant represents that there is substantial uncertainty as to whether the Plan's trustee can cause the Plan to use the Proceeds to repay the Refinanced Loan (even if the bondholders consent to prepayment) or to defease the Refinanced Loan.¹⁰

6. Accordingly, the Corporation is proposing that the Plan be operated in the following manner:

(a) Proceeds (including earnings thereon) would continue to be held in a suspense account maintained under the Plan. Such Proceeds would be invested in a diversified investment portfolio and would be allocated to participants' accounts as described in c), below;

(b) The Corporation would continue to make contributions to the Plan (which has been converted to a profit

¹⁰ The applicant notes that the Department took the position in Advisory Opinion 93-35A that where stock does not serve as collateral for an employee stock ownership plan loan, it may be a violation of the Act to apply the proceeds of the sale of the stock to repay the loan.

sharing plan), and, to the extent directed by the Plan Administrator,¹¹ such contributions would be used by the Plan to make principal and interest payments on the Refinanced Loan;¹²

(c) To the extent the Plan applies employer contributions toward the repayment of the Refinanced Loan, a portion of the Proceeds would be allocated from the suspense account to participants' accounts in an amount equal to the amount of employer contributions so used. Any amounts contributed to the Plan in excess of the amounts used by the Plan to make principal and interest payments on the Refinanced Loan would be allocated directly to participants' accounts; and

(d) The Corporation would continue to guarantee the Refinanced Loan as it did prior to the Merger.

7. As the Plan no longer holds any "employer security" as that term is defined in section 407(d)(1) of the Act and section 409(l) of the Code (see Reps. 3 and 5, above), the applicant has requested the exemption proposed herein to permit the continuing guarantee by the Corporation of the Refinanced Loan. The applicant represents that the Corporation has received assurance from the Internal Revenue Service that the operation of the Plan in the manner described in Rep. 6, above, will not adversely affect its qualified status.

8. In summary, the applicant represents that the subject transaction satisfies the criteria contained in section 408(a) of the Act for the following reasons: (a) The transaction is a continuation of a guarantee that was statutorily exempt at the time it was entered into; and (b) the transaction requires an exemption because of a corporate transaction, the Merger, which upon consummation caused "employer securities" to become unavailable to the Plan while the obligations of the Corporation with respect to the Refinanced Loan remain unaffected.

¹¹ If the administrator of the Plan does not direct that the contributions be used to make principal and interest payments on the Refinanced Loan, such contributions would be allocated directly to participant's accounts in accordance with provisions of the Plan. Such contributions would not be subject to the rules regarding "release" from the ASOP suspense account.

¹² The amortization schedule accompanying the trust indenture requires that payments on the Refinanced Loan be made in accordance with the amounts set forth therein. It is also possible that, in some circumstances, the Corporation may make certain payments on the Refinanced Loan directly (i.e., outside of the Plan) pursuant to its guarantee.

General Information

The attention of interested persons is directed to the following:

(1) The fact that a transaction is the subject of an exemption under section 408(a) of the Act and/or section 4975(c)(2) of the Code does not relieve a fiduciary or other party in interest of disqualified person from certain other provisions of the Act and/or the Code, including any prohibited transaction provisions to which the exemption does not apply and the general fiduciary responsibility provisions of section 404 of the Act, which among other things require a fiduciary to discharge his duties respecting the plan solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the plan and in a prudent fashion in accordance with section 404(a)(1)(b) of the act; nor does it affect the requirement of section 401(a) of the Code that the plan must operate for the exclusive benefit of the employees of the employer maintaining the plan and their beneficiaries;

(2) Before an exemption may be granted under section 408(a) of the Act and/or section 4975(c)(2) of the Code, the Department must find that the exemption is administratively feasible, in the interests of the plan and of its participants and beneficiaries and protective of the rights of participants and beneficiaries of the plan;

(3) The proposed exemptions, if granted, will be supplemental to, and not in derogation of, any other provisions of the Act and/or the Code, including statutory or administrative exemptions and transitional rules. Furthermore, the fact that a transaction is subject to an administrative or statutory exemption is not dispositive of whether the transaction is in fact a prohibited transaction; and

(4) The proposed exemptions, if granted, will be subject to the express condition that the material facts and representations contained in each application are true and complete, and that each application accurately describes all material terms of the transaction which is the subject of the exemption.

[Prohibited Transaction Exemption 96-46;
Exemption Application No. D-09844, et al.]

Grant of Individual Exemptions; Jacor Communications Inc.

AGENCY: Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration, Labor.

ACTION: Grant of individual exemptions.

SUMMARY: This document contains exemptions issued by the Department of Labor (the Department) from certain of the prohibited transaction restrictions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (the Act) and/or the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the Code).

Notices were published in the Federal Register of the pendency before the Department of proposals to grant such exemptions. The notices set forth a summary of facts and representations contained in each application for exemption and referred interested persons to the respective applications for a complete statement of the facts and representations. The applications have been available for public inspection at the Department in Washington, D.C. The notices also invited interested persons to submit comments on the requested exemptions to the Department. In addition the notices stated that any interested person might submit a written request that a public hearing be held (where appropriate). The applicants have represented that they have complied with the requirements of the notification to interested persons. No public comments and no requests for a hearing, unless otherwise stated, were received by the Department.

The notices of proposed exemption were issued and the exemptions are being granted solely by the Department because, effective December 31, 1978, section 102 of Reorganization Plan No. 4 of 1978 (43 FR 47713, October 17, 1978) transferred the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue exemptions of the type proposed to the Secretary of Labor.

Statutory Findings

In accordance with section 408(a) of the Act and/or section 4975(c)(2) of the Code and the procedures set forth in 29 CFR Part 2570, Subpart B (55 FR 32836, 32847, August 10, 1990) and based upon the entire record, the Department makes the following findings:

(a) The exemptions are administratively feasible;

(b) They are in the interests of the plans and their participants and beneficiaries; and

(c) They are protective of the rights of the participants and beneficiaries of the plans.

Exemption

Section I. Exemption for the In-Kind Transfer of Assets

The restrictions of sections 406(a) and 406(b) of the Act and the sanctions resulting from the application of section 4975 of the Code, by reason of section 4975(c)(1) (A) through (F) of the Code, shall not apply, as of December 29, 1995, to the in-kind transfer of assets of employee benefit plans that are participant-directed account plans intended to satisfy section 404(c) of the Act and as to which EAI serves as a fiduciary (the Client Plans), including a plan established by EAI (the EAI Plan), as well as two plans that are sponsored by affiliates of EAI, namely, the Harding Service Corporation et al. Profit Sharing Plan and Trust (the Harding Plan) and the Stockwood VII, Inc. 401(k) Plan (the Stockwood Plan),* that are held in the Small Managers Equity Fund Trust (SMEF) maintained by EAI in exchange for shares of the EAI Select Managers Equity Fund (the Fund), an open-end investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the '40 Act) for which Evaluation Associates Capital Markets, Inc. (EACM), a wholly owned subsidiary of EAI, acts as investment adviser, in connection with the partial termination of SMEF.

This exemption is subject to the following conditions:

(a) No sales commissions or other fees, including any fees payable pursuant to Rule 12b-1 of the '40 Act, are paid by a Plan in connection with the purchase of Fund shares through the in-kind transfer of SMEF assets.

(b) All of the assets of a Plan that are held in SMEF are contributed by such Plan in-kind to the Fund in exchange for shares of such Fund. A Plan not electing to invest in the Fund receives a distribution of its allocable share of the assets of SMEF either in cash or in-kind.

(c) Each Plan receives shares of the Fund which have a total net asset value that is equal in value to such Plan's allocable share of the assets of SMEF as determined in a single valuation performed in the same manner at the close of the same business day, using independent sources in accordance with the procedures set forth in Rule 17a-7(b) (Rule 17a-7) under the '40 Act, as amended, and the procedures established by the Fund pursuant to Rule 17a-7 for the valuation of such assets. Such procedures must require that all securities for which a current market price cannot be obtained by reference to the last sale price for transactions reported on a recognized securities exchange or NASDAQ be valued based on an average of the highest current independent bid and lowest current independent offer, as of the close of business on the Friday preceding the weekend of the in-kind contribution of SMEF assets to the Fund, determined on the basis of reasonable inquiry from at least three sources that are broker-dealers or pricing services independent of EAI.

(d) On behalf of each Plan, a second fiduciary who is independent of and unrelated to EAI (the Second Fiduciary) receives advance written notice of the in-kind transfer of assets of SMEF to the Fund and full written disclosure, which includes, but is not limited to, the following information concerning the Fund:

(1) A current prospectus for the Fund in which a Plan is considering investing.

(2) A statement describing the fees for investment advisory or similar services that are to be paid by the Fund to EACM; the fees retained by EACM for secondary services (the Secondary Services), as defined in paragraph g of Section II below; and all other fees to be charged to or paid by the Plan and by such Fund to EAI, EACM or to unrelated parties, including the nature and extent of any differential between the rates of the fees.

(3) The reasons why EAI considers such investment to be appropriate for the Plan.

(4) Upon request of the Second Fiduciary, copies of the proposed and final exemptions relating to the transaction described herein.

(e) On the basis of the foregoing information, the Second Fiduciary authorizes in writing the in-kind transfer of a Plan's assets invested in SMEF to the Fund, in exchange for shares of the Fund, and the fees received by EACM in connection with its investment advisory services to the Fund. Such authorization by the Second Fiduciary will be consistent with the responsibilities, obligations and duties imposed on fiduciaries under Part 4 of Title I of the Act.

*The Client Plans, the EAI Plan, the Harding Plan and the Stockwood Plan are collectively referred to herein as the Plans. In addition, the EAI Plan, the Harding Plan and the Stockwood Plan are collectively referred to herein as the Related Plans.

(f) EAI sends by regular mail to the Second Fiduciary of each affected Plan, the following information:

(1) Not later than 30 days after the completion of the in-kind transfer transaction, a written confirmation which contains—

(A) The identity of each security that was valued for purposes of the transaction in accordance with Rule 17a-7(b)(4) of the '40 Act;

(B) The price of each such security involved in the transaction; and

(C) The identity of each pricing service or market maker consulted in determining the value of such securities.

(2) Within 90 days after the completion of each transfer, a written confirmation which contains—

(A) The number of SMEF units held by the Plan immediately before the transfer, the related per unit value and the total dollar amount of such SMEF units; and

(B) The number of shares in the Fund that are held by the Plan following the transfer, the related per share net asset value and the total dollar amount of such shares.

(g) On an ongoing basis, EAI provides a Plan investing in the Fund with—

(1) A copy of an updated prospectus of such Fund, at least annually; and

(2) Upon request, a report or statement (which may take the form of the most recent financial report, the current statement of additional information, or some other written statement) containing a description of all fees paid by the Fund to EAI and its affiliates.

(h) As to each Plan, the combined total of all fees received by EAI and/or its affiliates for the provision of services to the Plan, and in connection with the provision of services to the Fund in which the Plan invests, is not in excess of "reasonable compensation" within the meaning of section 408(b)(2) of the Act.

(i) All dealings between a Plan and the Fund are on a basis no less favorable to the Plan than dealings between the Fund and other shareholders.

(j) EAI maintains for a period of six years the records necessary to enable the persons described below in paragraph (k) to determine whether the conditions of this exemption have been met, except that (1) a prohibited transaction will not be considered to have occurred if, due to circumstances beyond the control of EAI, the records are lost or destroyed

prior to the end of the six year period, and (2) no party in interest other than EAI, shall be subject to the civil penalty that may be assessed under section 502(i) of the Act or to the taxes imposed by section 4975(a) and (b) of the Code if the records are not maintained or are not available for examination as required by paragraph (k) of this Section II; and

(k)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (k)(2) and notwithstanding any provisions of section 504(a)(2) and (b) of the Act, the records referred to in paragraph (j) are unconditionally available at their customary location for examination during normal business hours by—

(A) Any duly authorized employee or representative of the Department, the Internal Revenue Service or the Securities and Exchange Commission;

(B) Any fiduciary of a Plan who has authority to acquire or dispose of shares of the Fund owned by such Plan, or any duly authorized employee or representative of such fiduciary;

(C) Any contributing employer to any participating Plan or any duly authorized employee representative of such employer; and

(D) Any participant or beneficiary of any participating Plan, or any duly authorized representative of such participant or beneficiary.

(2) None of the persons described in paragraph (k)(1)(B)–(D) shall be authorized to examine trade secrets of EAI, or commercial or financial information which is privileged or confidential.

Section II. Definitions

For purposes of this exemption:

(a) The term "EAI" means EAI Partners, L.P. and the term "EACM" refers to Evaluation Associates Capital Markets, Inc.

(b) An "affiliate" of EAI includes—

(1) Any person directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controlling, controlled by, or under common control with EAI. (For purposes of this paragraph, the term "control" means the power to exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies of a person other than an individual.)

(2) Any officer, director, employee, relative or partner in such person, and

(3) Any corporation or partnership of which such person is an officer, director, partner or employee.

(c) The term "Fund" refers to the EAI Select Managers Investment Fund, a diversified open-end investment company registered under the '40 Act for which EACM serves as an investment adviser and may also provide some other "Secondary Service" (as defined below in paragraph (g) of this Section II) which has been approved by the Fund.

(d) The term "net asset value" means the amount for purposes of pricing all purchases and redemptions of Fund shares, calculated by dividing the value of all securities, determined by a method as set forth in a Fund's prospectus and statement of additional information, and other assets belonging to the Fund, less the liabilities chargeable to the portfolio, by the number of outstanding shares.

(e) The term "relative" means a "relative" as that term is defined in section 3(15) of the Act (or member of the "family" as that term is defined in section 4975(e)(6) of the Code), or a brother, a sister, or a spouse of a brother or a sister.

(f) The term "Second Fiduciary" means a fiduciary of a plan who is independent of and unrelated to EAI. For purposes of this exemption, the Second Fiduciary will not be deemed to be independent of and unrelated to EAI if—

(1) Such Second Fiduciary directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with EAI;

(2) Such Second Fiduciary, or any officer, director, partner, employee, or relative of such Second Fiduciary is an officer, director, partner or employee of EAI (or is a relative of such persons);

(3) Such Second Fiduciary directly or indirectly receives any compensation or other consideration for his or her own personal account in connection with any transaction described in this proposed exemption. However, with respect to the Related Plans (i.e., the EAI Plan, the Harding Plan and the Stockwood Plan), the Second Fiduciary may receive compensation from EAI in connection with the transaction contemplated herein, but the amount or payment of such compensation may not be contingent upon or be in any way affected by the Second Fiduciary's ultimate decision regarding whether the Related Plans may participate in such transaction.

With the exception of the Related Plans, if an officer, director, partner or employee of EAI (or relative of such persons), is a director of such Second Fiduciary, and if he or she abstains from participation in the choice of a Client Plan's investment adviser, the approval of any such purchase or sale between a Client Plan and the Fund, and the approval of any change of fees charged to or paid by the Client Plan, the transaction described in Section I above, then paragraph (f)(2) of this Section II, shall not apply.

(g) The term "Secondary Service" means a service, other than investment advisory or similar service which is provided by EACM to the Fund. However, the term "Secondary Service" does not include any brokerage services provided by EAI Securities Inc. to the Fund.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This exemption will be effective December 29, 1995.

Wage and Hour Division; Minimum Wages for Federal and Federally Assisted Construction; General Wage Determination Decisions

General wage determination decisions of the Secretary of Labor are issued in accordance with applicable law and are based on the information obtained by the Department of Labor from its study of local wage conditions and data made available from other sources. They specify the basic hourly wage rates and fringe benefits which are determined to be prevailing for the described classes of laborers and mechanics employed on construction projects of a similar character and in the localities specified therein.

The determinations in these decisions of prevailing rates and fringe benefits have been made in accordance with 29 CFR Part 1, by authority of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act of March 3, 1931, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended, 40 U.S.C. 276a) and of other Federal statutes referred to in 29 CFR Part 1, Appendix, as well as such additional statutes as may from time to time be enacted containing provisions for the payment of wages determined to be prevailing by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act. The prevailing rates and fringe benefits determined in these decisions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing statutes, constitute the minimum wages payable on Federal and federally assisted construction projects to laborers and mechanics of the specified classes engaged on contract work of the character and in the localities described therein.

Good cause is hereby found for not utilizing notice and public comment procedure thereon prior to the issuance of these determinations as prescribed in 5 U.S.C. 553 and not providing for delay in the effective date as prescribed in that section, because the necessity to issue current construction industry wage determinations frequently and in large volume causes procedures to be impractical and contrary to the public interest.

General wage determination decisions, and modifications and supersedeas decisions thereto, contain no expiration dates and are effective from their date of notice in the Federal Register, or on the date written notice is received by the agency, whichever is earlier. These decisions are to be used in accordance with the provisions of 29 CFR Parts 1 and 5. Accordingly, the applicable decision, together with any modifications issued, must be made a part of every contract for performance of the described work within the geographic area indicated as required by an applicable Federal prevailing wage law and 29 CFR Part 5. The wage rates and fringe benefits, notice of which is published herein, and which are contained in the Government Printing Office (GPO) document entitled "General Wage Determinations Issued Under The Davis-Bacon And Related Acts," shall be the minimum paid by contractors and subcontractors to laborers and mechanics.

Any person, organization, or governmental agency having an interest in the rates determined as prevailing is encouraged to submit wage rate and fringe benefit information for consideration by the Department. Further information and self-explanatory forms for the purpose of submitting this data may be obtained by writing to the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration, Wage and Hour Division, Division of Wage Determinations, 200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Room S-3014, Washington, DC 20210.

NATIONAL INDIAN GAMING COMMISSION

Notice of Approval of Class III Tribal Gaming Ordinances

AGENCY: National Indian Gaming Commission.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of class III gaming ordinances approved by the Chairman of the National Indian Gaming Commission.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The NIGC at (202) 632-7003, or by facsimile at (202) 632-7066 (not toll-free numbers).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (IGRA) 25 U.S.C. § 2701 et seq., was signed into law on October 17, 1988. The IGRA established the National Indian Gaming Commission (the Commission). Section 2710 of the IGRA authorizes the Commission to approve class II and class III tribal gaming ordinances. Section 2710(d)(2)(B) of the IGRA as implemented by CFR § 522.8 (58 FR 5811 (January 22, 1993)), requires the Commission to publish, in the Federal Register, approved class III gaming ordinances.

The IGRA requires all tribal gaming ordinances to contain the same requirements concerning ownership of the gaming activity, use of net revenues, annual audits, health and safety, background investigations and licensing of key employees. The Commission, therefore, believes that publication of each ordinance in the Federal Register would be redundant and result in unnecessary cost to the Commission. The Commission believes that publishing a notice of approval of each class III gaming ordinance is sufficient to meet the requirements of 25 U.S.C. § 2710(d)(2)(B). Also, the Commission will make copies of approved class III ordinances available to the public upon request. Requests can be made in writing to: National Indian Gaming Commission, 1441 L Street, N.W., 9th Floor, Washington, D.C. 20005.

The Chairman has approved tribal gaming ordinances authorizing class III gaming for the following Indian tribes: Assiniboine & Sioux Tribes of the Fort Peck Reservation
Big Pine Paiute Tribe of the Owens Valley
Bishop Paiute Tribe
Citizen Band Potawatomi Indians of Oklahoma
Comanche Indian Tribe

[Docket No. 50-219-OLA; ASLBP No. 96-717-02-OLA]

General Public Utility Nuclear Corp.; Establishment of Atomic Safety and Licensing Board

Pursuant to delegation by the Commission dated December 29, 1972, published in the Federal Register, 37 FR 28710 (1972), and Sections 2.105, 2.700, 2.702, 2.714, 2.714a, 2.717, 2.721 of the Commission's Regulations, all as amended, an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board is being established to preside over the following proceeding.

General Public Utility Nuclear Corporation
Oyster Creek Nuclear Generating Station

This Board is being established pursuant to a notice published by the Commission on May 8, 1996, in the Federal Register (61 FR 20842). The notice reports a proposed determination by the Staff that the issuance of a license amendment to the General Public Utility Nuclear Corporation for the Oyster Creek Nuclear Generating Station would involve no significant hazards consideration. The amendment would revise the technical specifications to allow the handling of loads greater than the weight of one fuel assembly over the irradiated fuel in the spent fuel storage facility. The petitioners, Nuclear Information and Resource Service, Oyster Creek Nuclear Watch and Citizens Awareness Network, seek to intervene and request a hearing on the grounds that the change would present a significant increase in the risk probability of an accident.

The Board is comprised of the following administrative judges:

G. Paul Bollwerk, Chairman, Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555

Charles N. Kelber, Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555

Peter S. Lam, Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, DC 20555

All correspondence, documents and other materials shall be filed with the Judges in accordance with 10 CFR § 2.701.

Issued at Rockville, MD, this 14th day of June 1996.

B. Paul Cotter, Jr.

Chief Administrative Judge, Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel.

[Docket Nos. 50-029, 50-312, 50-344, 50-206; License Nos. DPR-3, DPR-54, NPF-1, DPR-13]

Yankee Atomic Electric Co., Sacramento Municipal Utility District, Portland General Electric Co., and Southern California Edison Co.; Receipt of a Petition for, and Issuance of, a Director's Decision under 10 CFR 2.206

Notice is hereby given that by a letter dated April 1, 1996, Citizens Awareness Network, Nuclear Information and Resource Service, and nine other organizations¹ (Petitioners) requested action pursuant to 10 CFR 2.206 to modify the possession-only licenses of the Yankee Nuclear Power Station (or Yankee Rowe), Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station, Trojan Nuclear Plant, and San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, Unit 1, licensed respectively to the Yankee Atomic Electric Company (YAEC), Sacramento Municipal Utility District, Portland General Electric Company, and Southern California Edison Company (Licensees). The Petitioners request that the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) take emergency action to require a collaborative effort by the licensees of the four nuclear power plants to document and research radiation embrittlement of reactor pressure vessels (RPVs) as an age-related deterioration phenomenon. Specifically, Petitioners request that the NRC: (1) Suspend the current plan by Yankee Atomic Electric Company (YAEC) for the removal, transport, and burial of the Yankee Rowe RPV; (2) require the licensees of the four permanently closed reactors, who are now developing plans to remove, transport, and bury their respective RPVs, to suspend such operations; and (3) require the owners of the four nuclear power plants to present substantial metal and weld specimens from their respective RPVs to the NRC for analysis in order to study and materially archive the radiation embrittlement phenomenon.

As bases for their requests, Petitioners state that: (1) The four permanently closed reactors constitute a valuable asset for evaluating RPV embrittlement, (2) "boat" or scoop samples from the RPV could be retrieved with minimal occupational radiation exposure, (3) data from boat samples could be used to verify the veracity of simulated embrittlement in research reactors, and (4) boat samples could be subjected to annealing or reheating processes to analyze the results for restoring ductility of the material and for determining the durability of an annealing process.

Notice is also hereby given that by a Director's Decision (DD 96-07) dated June 14, 1996, the Director, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation, has denied the petition. The NRC staff has concluded that sufficient information is already and will be available to the staff to satisfactorily and timely address such radiation embrittlement phenomenon in a manner which protects public health and safety, as explained in the "Director's Decision Pursuant to 10 CFR 2.206" (DD 96-07), the complete text of which follows this notice and is available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, DC, and at the local public document room located at the Greenfield Community College Library, 1 College Drive, Greenfield, Massachusetts; the Central Library, Government Documents, 828 I Street, Sacramento, California; the Branford Price Millar Library, Portland State University, Portland, Oregon; the Science Library, University of California, Irving, California.

Dated at Rockville, MD, this 14th day of June 1996.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.
Frank J. Miraglia,
Acting Director, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation

In the Matter of: Yankee Atomic Electric Company (Yankee Nuclear Power Station), Docket No. 50-029, License No. DPR-3; Sacramento Municipal Utility District (Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station), Docket No. 50-312, License No. DPR-54; Portland General Electric Company (Trojan Nuclear Plant), Docket No. 50-344, License No. NPF-1; Southern California Edison Company (San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, Unit 1), Docket No. 50-206, License No. DPR-13.

I. Introduction

Citizens Awareness Network, Nuclear Information and Resource Service and nine other organizations¹ (Petitioners) submitted a Petition dated April 1, 1996, pursuant to § 2.206 of Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations (10 CFR), requesting that the U.S.

¹ Don't Waste Oregon Council, Greenpeace, Environmental Coalition on Nuclear Power, Friends of the Coast Opposing Nuclear Pollution, New England Coalition Against Nuclear Pollution, Ohio Citizens for Responsible Energy, Physicians for Social Responsibility, the Redwood Alliance, and the Westchester People's Action Coalition.

Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) take action with regard to the Yankee Nuclear Power Station (or Yankee Rowe, licensed to the Yankee Atomic Electric Company), Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station (licensed to the Sacramento Municipal Utility District), Trojan Nuclear Plant (licensed to the Portland General Electric Company), and San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, Unit 1 (licensed to the Southern California Edison Company). These four power reactors have permanently ceased operation and are in various stages of decommissioning.

Petitioners request that the NRC take emergency action to require a collaborative effort by the licensees of the four power reactors to document and research radiation embrittlement of reactor pressure vessels (RPVs) as an age-related deterioration phenomenon because an archive is essential in understanding the issues surrounding embrittlement of reactor vessels. Specifically, the petitioners request that the NRC (1) suspend the current plan by Yankee Atomic Electric Corporation (YAEC) for the removal, transport, and burial of the Yankee Rowe RPV; (2) require licensees of the four permanently closed reactors, who are now developing plans to remove, transport, and bury their respective RPVs to suspend such operations; and (3) require the owners of the four nuclear power plants to present substantial metal and weld specimens from their respective RPVs to the NRC for analysis in order to study and materially archive the radiation embrittlement phenomena.

As bases for their requests, Petitioners state that (1) the four permanently closed reactors constitute a valuable asset for evaluating RPV embrittlement, (2) "boat" or scoop samples from the RPV could be retrieved with minimal occupational radiation exposure, (3) data from boat samples could be used to verify the veracity of simulated embrittlement in research reactors, and (4) boat samples could be subjected to annealing or reheating processes to analyze the results for restoring ductility of the material and for determining the durability of an annealing process.

II

Irradiation of the reactor pressure vessel materials adjacent to the reactor core (the beltline materials), by neutrons escaping from the reactor core leads to embrittlement of those materials. This embrittlement phenomena causes the reactor pressure vessel to be more susceptible to fracture when subjected to operational or accident transients that cause overcooling (thermal shock) concurrent with or followed by significant pressure in the reactor vessel. Concern over this phenomenon has resulted in the NRC developing regulations to closely monitor embrittlement of reactor vessels. Additionally, to better understand and qualify the embrittlement process, the NRC Office of Research has a reactor pressure vessel safety research program that addresses the embrittlement phenomenon on a broad basis.

III

The NRC staff has concluded that sufficient information already is and will be available to the staff in order to address radiation embrittlement phenomena in a manner which protects public health and safety, without ordering any of the four licensees to suspend decommissioning plans or decommissioning activities to supply metal and weld RPV samples for study. In addition to studying monitoring data which all licensees are required to supply, the staff has tested and will continue to test material from several sources as part of its confirmatory research program. Samples obtained from decommissioned reactor pressure vessels already do and will continue to supplement other embrittlement data.

Licensees are required by 10 CFR 50.61 and appendix H, "Reactor Vessel Material Surveillance Program Requirements," to monitor RPV embrittlement. Appendix H specifies requirements for material surveillance programs to monitor changes in the fracture toughness of ferritic materials in the RPV beltline region from exposure of these materials to neutron radiation. This regulation requires each licensee to monitor neutron irradiation embrittlement by placing weld and/or base materials (either plate or forging) that are representative of its beltline materials in capsules that are placed inside the RPV. Most plants have plant-specific surveillance programs under which the capsules are irradiated in the licensee's RPV. Some licensees are participating in integrated surveillance programs under which the capsules are irradiated in a vessel that has an irradiation and thermal environment equivalent to that of the licensee's RPV. The capsules are periodically withdrawn from the RPV and the materials tested to monitor the effect of neutron radiation on the fracture toughness of the vessel beltline materials. These programs have been reviewed by the staff and are sufficient for monitoring the effect of neutron radiation at all operating light water reactors.

In addition to licensee programs, the NRC is sponsoring a number of other programs. NRC confirmatory research programs in which materials are irradiated in test reactors, and the effect of neutron radiation on the fracture toughness of beltline materials is analyzed, are the Heavy Section Steel Irradiation Program, the Radiation Embrittlement and Prediction Program, the Improved Radiation Embrittlement Correlation Program, and the Embrittlement Database and Dosimetry Evaluation Program. In the Improved Radiation Embrittlement Correlation and the Embrittlement Database and Dosimetry Evaluation Programs, the staff accumulates and evaluates data from power reactor licensee and test reactor programs and determines the effect of neutron radiation on the fracture toughness of beltline welds, forgings, and plates. In connection with these issues, the staff has documented in Regulatory Guide 1.99, Revision 2, "Radiation Embrittlement of Reactor Vessel Materials," a methodology for determining the effect of neutron radiation on reactor vessel welds, forgings, and plates. The methodology in Regulatory Guide 1.99 includes a margin term to account for the uncertainties in the material properties and the radiation environment. As the NRC staff accumulates more surveillance data from licensees, it periodically evaluates the data to determine whether the Regulatory Guide 1.99 methodology needs revision. The licensee surveillance database consists of data from several hundred licensee capsules.

The Heavy Section Steel Irradiation Program provides experimental evaluation of the effects of chemistry and radiation environment on the irradiation embrittlement of reactor pressure vessel steels, including the effects of thermal aging, recovery of fracture toughness by thermal annealing, and reembrittlement trends on annealed reactor vessel materials. This program, in conjunction with the Radiation Embrittlement and Prediction Program, is developing improved methods for predicting irradiation embrittlement. Both programs are evaluating, experimentally and analytically, the mechanisms that control irradiation embrittlement to justify extrapolation of the empirical model to predict plant-specific irradiation embrittlement. These programs are validating the analytical and empirical models through the testing of service degraded reactor vessel materials.

The NRC staff's recommended methodology for determining the effect of thermal annealing on RPV embrittlement is documented in Regulatory Guide 1.162, "Format and Content of Report for Thermal Annealing of Reactor Pressure Vessels." NUREG/CR-6327, "Models for Embrittlement Recovery due to Annealing of Reactor Pressure Vessel Steels," contains the data and evaluation that form the bases for the percent recovery of radiation embrittlement from thermal annealing that is documented in Regulatory Guide 1.162. The thermal annealing rule, 10 CFR 50.66, requires that each licensee performing a thermal anneal must monitor the post-anneal reembrittlement trend using a surveillance program that conforms with the intent of appendix H. The effect of thermal annealing on RPV embrittlement is adequately addressed by requiring licensees to monitor the post-anneal reembrittlement trend through a surveillance program and by use of the Regulatory Guide 1.162 methodology.

Based on analysis performed by licensees and the NRC, the staff has concluded that the overall integrity analyses, including the various margins, are conservative and that they provide reasonable assurance that the vessels can withstand normal operation and accident conditions. Furthermore, each licensee must bear the burden of demonstration of the adequacy of its pressure vessel to withstand the effects of a transient causing overcooling concurrent with or followed by significant pressure when the methodology of Regulatory Guide 1.99, Revision 2, does not predict an acceptable result. Should a licensee not be able to demonstrate, or be unwilling to expend the resources to demonstrate, the adequacy of its pressure vessel (which may include actual samples of base material), the plant must be shutdown as was the case for Yankee Rowe.

Test material from the Yankee Rowe pressure vessel would not be of value in estimating the level of embrittlement, thermal annealing recovery, and reembrittlement after annealing at currently operating U.S. facilities. The Yankee Rowe reactor operated at a lower temperature than typical of operating plants, making any data on embrittlement from Yankee Rowe difficult to correlate with other light water reactor designs in the U.S.

Samples from the Rancho Seco vessel would not provide useful information since equivalent weld material and vessel wall samples are available from the Babcock and Wilcox Owners Group and from the canceled Midland Nuclear Plant. These samples are currently being evaluated in a program that irradiates the samples in test reactors. These components and samples, taken from power reactors and irradiated in test reactors, will provide data that could be correlated to other sample research programs that utilize research reactors.

The licensee for the San Onofre 1 reactor has submitted a decommissioning plan to the NRC that proposes SAFSTOR, or long-term storage of the facility, until the licenses for San Onofre Units 2 and 3 expire, sometime after 2013. Therefore, the Unit 1 vessel will remain onsite and in a condition that would allow samples of test material to be obtained for a substantial period of time, should it be determined that such samples would be useful for study.

The Trojan Nuclear Plant is currently undergoing active dismantlement. Portland General Electric, the licensee, is planning to remove the reactor vessel and dispose of it at the Hanford, Washington low-level burial site no earlier than 1998. The staff currently is pursuing the possibility of obtaining samples from the reactor vessel once the reactor vessel reaches the burial site.

For the above reasons, the staff concludes that sufficient information is already and will be available to appropriately and timely address the radiation embrittlement phenomenon.

IV. Conclusion

The Petitioners have not provided sufficient bases to warrant the suspension of decommissioning plans or activities at the four nuclear power plants in order to take specimens of reactor vessels for the purpose of studying nuclear power reactor pressure vessels radiation embrittlement phenomena. Moreover, as explained above, sufficient information is available to the staff to address such radiation embrittlement phenomena in a manner which protects public health and safety without the issuance of an order. Accordingly, for the reasons discussed above, the Petition, including the request to take emergency actions is denied.

A copy of this Director's Decision will be filed with the Office of the Secretary for the Commission to review in accordance with 10 CFR 2.206(c). As provided by § 2.206(c), this decision will constitute the final action of the Commission 25 days after issuance, unless the Commission, on its own motion, institutes a review of the decision within that time.

Dated at Rockville, MD, this 14th day of June 1996.

Frank J. Miraglia,
Acting Director, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

POSTAL RATE COMMISSION

[Docket No. MC96-3; Order No. 1115]

Special Services Fees and Classifications; Notice of Request for Changes in Domestic Mail Classification Schedule Provisions and Rates for Special Services and Order Instituting Proceedings [Issued June 12, 1996].

Before Commissioners: Edward J. Gleiman, Chairman; W.H. "Trey" LeBlanc III, Vice-Chairman; George W. Haley; and H. Edward Quick, Jr.

Notice is hereby given that on June 7, 1996, the United States Postal Service filed a request with the Postal Rate Commission pursuant to section 3623 of the Postal Reorganization Act [39 USC § 3623] for a recommended decision on proposed changes in provisions of the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule (DMCS) and rates that affect selected special services. See Request of the United States Postal Service for a Recommended Decision on Special Service Changes (June 7, 1996) (referred to herein as "Request").

Contents of the filing. The Service's Request proposes changes to the terms of service and rates for post office boxes (including caller service), certified mail, return receipt, insurance, and registry service. It proposes to treat the production of postal cards as a new special service distinct from the postage that such cards require, and to rename postal cards "stamped cards." It also proposes to eliminate special delivery service. The Postal Service's Request does not encompass any changes to the rates for the classes and subclasses of mail, nor the fees for other special services not specifically addressed by its proposals. Request at 3. The changes proposed may be summarized as follows:

Post Office Boxes

- Increase basic Group I fees by an average of 24 percent.
- (Group I fees apply at city delivery offices).
- Increase basic Group II fees by 100 percent.
- (Group II fees apply at non-city delivery offices).
- Eliminate basic fees for offices with no carrier delivery.
- Institute an annual $36 non-resident fee.
- Refine definitions of the fee categories.

Certified Mail/Return Receipts

- Increase certified mail fee by 40 cents.
- Replace the two basic return receipt options with one option.
- Replace the two return receipts for merchandise options with one option.
- Clarify the categories of mail eligible to use return receipt for merchandise service.

Insurance

- Raise the indemnity limit from $600 to $5000.
- Raise the indemnity limit for Express Mail merchandise from $500 to $5000.

- Reduce the limit for Express Mail document reconstruction from $50,000 to $500.

Registry

- Simplify fee schedule by eliminating uninsured registry service over $100.

Postal Cards

- "Postal cards," which are sold to customers by the Postal Service, renamed "stamped cards".
- Institute a 2-cent fee (above postage) for stamped cards.

Special Delivery

- Eliminate special delivery service. See Direct Testimony of W. Ashley Lyons on Behalf of United States Postal Service (hereafter "USPS-T-1") at 4-5.
- Effect on net revenue.* Unlike the Postal Service's other recent classification reform proposals, its proposal in this docket is not intended to have a neutral effect on its overall net revenue. The Postal Service estimates that if its proposals in this docket had been in effect throughout FY 1996, they would have increased system revenues by $339.9 million while increasing system costs by only $0.5 million, for a net increase in system revenue of $339.4 million. USPS-T-1 at 8-9.
- A request that would increase system net revenue so substantially is normally considered in an omnibus rate proceeding.¹ In this request the Postal Service proposes to obtain the additional net revenue by increasing the contribution to institutional costs only from certain special services. The Postal Service explains that this is intended to serve its financial goals by enabling it to rebuild its equity or to extend the period between omnibus rate increases. USPS-T-1 at 6, 9-11. It observes that increasing its overall net revenue by raising markups on services that are less sensitive to price increases, as it proposes here, reflects a general policy to make demand pricing a greater factor in its rate and classification proposals. It states that seeking infusions of net revenue through requests for new classifications or new products filed between omnibus rate proceedings reflects a management strategy that it may continue to follow in the future. USPS-T-1 at 6-7.²

Cost and roll-forward methodologies. In the past, interim Postal Service filings used the same base year and test year that were used in the most recent omnibus rate proceeding. This provided a consistent basis for comparing the cost and revenue effects of proposed interim changes with the cost and revenue effects of the general rate and classification schedules in place. In this interim filing, the Postal Service has complicated the evaluation of its proposed changes by using a base year (FY 1995) and a test year (FY 1996) that were not used to evaluate the rate and classification schedules in place. In another departure from recent practice, its filing develops base year costs solely by the methods that the Postal Service uses in its own Cost and Revenue Analysis Report (CRA). It does not follow the Commission's approved costing methods as far as practical, as the Postal Service's filing did in Docket No. MC95-1, nor describe and explain its departures from them, as the Postal Service's filings did in Docket Nos. R94-1 and MC93-1. Direct Testimony of Richard Patelunas on Behalf of the United States Postal Service (hereafter "USPS-T-5") at 5-7.³

The Postal Service describes changes that it has made to its cost model between FY 1994 and FY 1995 that have not previously been discussed in interest of avoiding unnecessary expense, we will not order such a change.

²During the course of the proceeding, the justification for these policies and their selective application may be explored.

³Examples of cost attribution methods that were used by the Commission in the most recent omnibus rate proceeding but appear to be omitted from this filing are attributing coverage-related delivery costs according to single subclass stop analysis, and attributing some fixed costs associated with Special Delivery Messengers to the various services that use them.

testimony. These include aligning accounts in its CRA Report with those in its Revenue and Expense Report, reweighting IOCS tallies for mail processing and customer service functions in CAG B offices, reassigning some IOCS tallies for small parcels to services other than parcel post, revising the rules for assigning certain mixed mail tallies to mail classes, reassigning certain Special Delivery Messenger costs, redistributing certain RBCS clerk and mailhandler costs, and updating the factors used to develop space-related costs. USPS-T-5 at 8-11.

Proposed DMCS provisions. In their Decision of March 4, 1996, in Docket No. MC95-1 (Classification Reform I), the Governors of the Postal Service adopted extensive revisions to the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule (DMCS). These revisions are scheduled to take effect on July 1, 1996. The Governors further revised the DMCS in their Decision approving the Recommended Decision of the Commission on Experimental First-Class and Priority Mail Small Parcel Automation Rate Category, Docket No. MC96-1, implemented by resolution of the Governors on April 28, 1996. In Attachment A to its Request, the Postal Service displays changes that it proposes in this filing to a version of the DMCS that reflects these recent revisions. These proposed revisions accompany this Notice as Attachment A.

Proposed special service rate and fee schedules. The special service schedules were last amended in part by the Decision of the Governors in Classification Reform I. Rate schedules amended in connection with that decision, along with fee schedules for all special services, were published for informational purposes in the Federal Register on March 12, 1996 (61 FR 10,220). In Attachment B to its Request, the Postal Service displays changes that it proposes to the special service schedules corresponding to the revisions that it proposes in the DMCS. Its proposed changes to the special service schedules accompany this Notice as Attachment B.

Intervention. Participation in Commission proceedings generally takes the form of either full intervention or limited participation. See Commission rules 20 and 20a [39 CFR § 3001.20 and .20a]. For those wishing to express their views informally, without incurring the obligations that attach to the other two forms of participation, commenter status is available. See Commission rule 20b [39 CFR § 3001.20b]. Those wishing to be heard in this matter as either a full intervenor or limited participant are directed to file a written notice of intervention in conformance with rule 20(b) or 20a(a) identifying the status they intend to assume and affirmatively stating how actively they expect to participate. In addition, intervenors are requested to provide a telephone number and facsimile number, and for each person designated to receive service of documents who is willing to receive service electronically, the appropriate e-mail address. (See proposed Special Rule 3A, infra.)

Notices of intervention should be sent to the attention of Margaret P. Crenshaw, Secretary of the Commission, 1333 H Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20268-0001, and are to be filed on or before July 9, 1996. Commenter status does not require a notice of intervention.

Representation of the general public. In conformance with section 3624(a) of title 39, the Commission designates W. Gail Willette, Director of the Office of the Consumer Advocate (OCA), to represent the interests of the general public in this proceeding. Pursuant to this designation, Ms. Willette will direct the activities of Commission personnel assigned to assist her and, when requested, will supply their names for the record. Neither Ms. Willette nor any of the assigned personnel will participate in or provide advice on any Commission decision in this proceeding. If a participant elects procedure (1) service, as defined by the proposed special rules of practice, it shall serve the OCA separately with three copies of all filings, in addition to and contemporaneously with, service on the Commission of the 24 copies required by section 10(c) of the rules of practice [39 CFR § 3001.10(c)], except as provided by Special Rule 3B.

Special rules of practice. The Commission proposes conducting this proceeding pursuant to the special rules of practice set forth in Attachment C. These rules reflect the special rules implemented in Docket No. MC96-2, including a revision of Special Rule 3 to allow for voluntary, alternative service of documents by electronic filing. See P.O. Ruling MC96-2/9. The alternative system will allow participants to receive service either electronically or via traditional hard copy means. Participants are encouraged to carefully review the terms of all the rules and suggest any changes they believe would be beneficial. The use of electronic forms of filing and electronic database structures makes it especially important that titles of filed documents effectively describe their contents.

Initial prehearing conference: date, location, and agenda. The Commission will convene a prehearing conference at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, July 12, 1996, in the Commission's hearing room at 1333 H Street, N.W., Suite 300, Washington, D.C. The Commission asks that persons attending the conference be prepared to discuss procedural and scheduling matters pertinent to the Service's filing.

Participants are to file a notice of issues they would like to raise for consideration at the prehearing conference. Suggestions need not be limited to procedural matters, but may include substantive issues to the extent that considering them at this stage might expedite the proceeding. An agenda incorporating participants' suggestions will be distributed at the beginning of the prehearing conference.

Docket Room operations. Documents may be filed with the Commission's docket section Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Questions about docket room operations should be directed to Ms. Peggie Brown (at 202-789-6847) or Ms. Joyce Taylor (at 202-789-6846). Questions concerning any technical difficulties in electronic filing should be directed to the Commission's computer room at 202-789-6873.

It is ordered:

1. The Commission will sit en banc in this proceeding.

2. Notices of intervention shall be filed no later than July 9, 1996.

3. A prehearing conference will be held Friday, July 12, 1996 at 9:30 a.m. in the Commission's hearing room.

4. Participants are to file notices of issues they intend to raise at the prehearing conference by July 9, 1996.

5. Comments on the proposed special rules of practice set out in Attachment C should be filed by July 9, 1996.

6. W. Gail Willette, Director of the Commission's Office of the Consumer Advocate, is designated to represent the interest of the general public in this proceeding.

7. The Secretary shall cause this Notice and Order to be published in the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

Cyril J. Pittack,
Acting Secretary.

Attachment A—Special Services Reform Requested Changes in the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule

In this Request, the Postal Service asks the Commission to recommend certain changes in the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule (DMCS). The changes requested herein alter the DMCS recommended by the Commission on November 29, 1978, adopted by decision of the Governors and implemented by resolution of the Board of Governors on April 3, 1979, effective April 15, 1979, and as amended from time-to-time, most recently by the decisions of the Governors approving the Recommended Decision of the Commission on Experimental First-Class and Priority Mail Small Parcel Automation Rate Category, Docket No. MC96-1, as implemented by resolution of the Board of Governors adopted on April 1, 1996, effective April 28, 1996, and the Decision of the Governors approving in part the Recommended Decision of the Commission on Classification Reform I, Docket No. MC95-1, as implemented by resolution of the Board of Governors adopted on March 4, 1996, effective July 1, 1996. The current DMCS (which is published in part at 39 CFR Part 3001, subpart C, appendix A, in part as attachment A to the Decision of the Governors of the United States Postal Service on the Recommended Decision of the Postal Rate Commission on Classification Reform I, Docket No. MC95-1 (61 FR 10,220), and in part as attachment A to the Decision of the Governors of the United States Postal Service on the Recommended Decision of the Postal Rate Commission on the Experimental First-Class and Priority Mail Small Parcel Automation Rate Category, Docket No. MC96-1 (61 FR 17,210)), is incorporated by reference in this Request.

Proposed additions to text of the classification schedule are underlined; proposed deletions are in brackets. The changes in the DMCS requested by the Postal Service are as follows:

Requested Changes in the Special Service Schedules

In conjunction with the requested changes in the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule (DMCS) set forth in Attachment A, the Postal Service also is requesting that the Commission recommend corresponding changes in the attendant special service schedules and the title of Rate Schedule 222.

The special service schedules were last amended in part by the Decision of the Governors Approving in part the Recommended Decision of the Postal Rate Commission on Classification Reform I. Rate Schedules amended in connection with that decision, along with fee schedules for all special services, which were published for informational purposes in the Federal Register on March 12, 1996 (61 Fed. Reg. 10,220), are incorporated by reference in this Request.

Proposed additions to the text of the schedules are underlined; proposed deletions are in brackets. The requested changes in the schedules are as follows:

Attachment C—Special Services Fees and Classifications

Special Rules of Practice

1. Evidence

A. Case-in-chief. A participant's case-in-chief shall be in writing and shall include the participant's direct case and rebuttal, if any, to the United States Postal Service's case-in-chief. It may be accompanied by a trial brief or legal memoranda. There will be a stage providing an opportunity to rebut presentations of other participants and for the Postal Service to present surrebuttal evidence.

B. Exhibits. Exhibits should be self-explanatory. They should contain appropriate footnotes or narrative explaining the source of each item of information used and the methods employed in statistical compilations. The principal title of each exhibit should state what it contains or represents. The title may also contain a statement of the purpose for which the exhibit is offered; however, this statement will not be considered part of the evidentiary record. Where one part of a multi-part exhibit is based on another part or on another exhibit, appropriate cross-references should be made. Relevant exposition should be included in the exhibits or provided in accompanying testimony.

C. Motions to Strike. Motions to strike are requests for extraordinary relief and are not substitutes for briefs or rebuttal evidence. All motions to strike testimony or exhibit materials are to be submitted in writing at least 14 days before the scheduled appearance of the witness. Responses to motions to strike are due within seven days.

D. Designation of Evidence from other Commission Dockets. Participants may request that evidence received in other Commission proceedings be entered into the record of this proceeding. These requests should be made by motion, should explain the purpose of the designation, and should identify material by page and line or paragraph number. Absent extraordinary justification, these requests must be made at least 28 days before the date for filing the participant's direct case. If requests for designations and counter-designations are granted, the moving participant must submit two copies of the approved material to the Secretary of the Commission for inclusion in the record.

Oppositions to motions for designation and/or requests for counter-designations shall be filed within 14 days.

2. Discovery

A. General. Rules 25, 26 and 27 apply during the discovery stage of this proceeding except when specifically overtaken by these special rules.

Questions from each participant should be numbered sequentially, by witness.

The discovery procedures set forth in the rules are not exclusive. Parties are encouraged to engage in informal discovery whenever possible to clarify exhibits and testimony. The results of these efforts may be introduced into the record by stipulation, by supplementary testimony or exhibit, by presenting selected written interrogatories and answers for adoption by a witness at the hearing, or by other appropriate means.

In the interest of reducing motion practice, parties also are encouraged to use informal means to clarify questions and to identify portions of discovery requests considered overbroad or burdensome.

B. Objections and Motions to Compel Responses to Discovery. Upon motion of any participant in the proceeding, the Commission or the presiding officer may compel an answer to an interrogatory or request for admissions if the objection is overruled. Motions to compel should be filed within 14 days of an objection to the discovery request.

Parties who have objected to interrogatories or requests for production of documents or items which are the subject of a motion to compel shall have seven days to answer. Answers will be considered supplements to the arguments presented in the initial objection.

C. Answers to Interrogatories. Answers to discovery are to be filed within 14 days of the service of the discovery request. Answers to discovery requests shall be prepared so that they can be incorporated as written cross-examination. Each answer shall begin on a separate page, identify the individual responding, the participant who asked the question, and the number and text of the question.

Participants are expected to serve supplemental answers to update or to correct responses whenever necessary, up until the date that answers are accepted into evidence as written cross-examination. Participants filing supplemental answers shall indicate whether the answer merely supplements the previous answer to make it current or whether it is a complete replacement for the previous answer.

Participants may submit responses with a declaration of accuracy from the respondent in lieu of a sworn affidavit.

D. Follow-up Interrogatories. Follow-up interrogatories to clarify or elaborate on the answer to an earlier discovery request may be filed after the initial discovery period ends. They must be served within seven days of receipt of the answer to the previous interrogatory unless extraordinary circumstances are shown.

E. Discovery to Obtain Information Available Only from the Postal Service. Rules 25 through 27 allow discovery reasonably calculated to lead to admissible evidence during a noticed proceeding with no time limitations. Generally, through actions by the presiding officer, discovery against a participant is scheduled to end prior to the receipt into evidence of that participant's direct case. An exception to this procedure shall operate when a participant needs to obtain information (such as operating procedures or data) available only from the Postal Service. Discovery requests of this nature are permissible up to 20 days prior to the filing date for final rebuttal testimony.

3. Service

A. Receipt of Documents. The Service List shall contain the name and address of up to two individuals entitled to receive copies of documents for each participant. If possible that entry will also include a telephone number and facsimile number. Individuals on the service list willing to receive documents electronically will provide their e-mail address which shall appear on the Service List. Service on those individuals should be made electronically if possible. Otherwise service should be effected as provided in Rule of Practice 12.

B. Service of Documents. Service of documents may be effected using one of three procedures. Procedure (1): participants will file documents and effect service as provided in Rules of Practice 9–12. Procedure (2): participants will provide the Commission with a diskette containing the text of each filing simultaneously with the filing of an original and one hard copy. Procedure (2) participants will serve all individuals on the service list not identified as willing to receive electronic service as provided by Rule of Practice 12. The Commission will provide service via e-mail to the remainder of the service list. Procedure (3): participants will provide the Commission with an original, one hard copy, and an electronic copy sent by e-mail to PRC-DOCKETS@PRC.GOV. Procedure (3) participants will provide service electronically via e-mail to those individuals identified on the service list as willing to receive electronic service and will serve the remainder as required by Rule of Practice 12.

Certificates of service should identify the procedure used to effect service.

C. Exceptions to general service requirements for certain documents. Designations of written cross-examination, notices of intent to conduct oral cross-examination, and notices of intent to participate in oral argument need to be served only on the Commission, the OCA, the Postal Service, and the complementary party (as applicable), as well as on participants filing a special request for service.

Discovery requests, objections and answers thereto need to be served on the Commission, the OCA, on the complementary party, and on any other participant so requesting, as provided in rules 25–27. Special requests relating to discovery must be served individually upon the party conducting discovery and state the witness who is the subject of the special request.

D. Document titles. Parties should include titles that effectively describe the basic content of any filed documents. Where applicable, titles should identify the issue addressed and the relief requested. Transmittal documents should identify the answers or other materials being provided.

4. Cross-examination

A. Written cross-examination. Written cross-examination will be utilized as a substitute for oral cross-examination whenever possible, particularly to introduce factual or statistical evidence.

Designations of written cross-examination should be served no later than three working days before the scheduled appearance of a witness. Designations shall identify every item to be offered as evidence, listing the participant who initially posed the discovery request, the witness and/or party to whom the question was addressed (if different from the witness answering), the number of the request and, if more than one answer is provided, the dates of all answers to be included in the record. (For example, "OCA-T1-17 to USPS witness Jones, answered by USPS witness Smith (July 1, 1996) as updated (July 21, 1996).") When a participant designates written cross-examination, two copies of the documents to be included shall simultaneously be submitted to the Secretary of the Commission.

The Secretary of the Commission shall prepare for the record a packet containing all materials designated for written cross-examination in a format that facilitates review by the witness and counsel. The witness will verify the answers and materials in the packet, and they will be entered into the transcript by the presiding officer. Counsel for a witness may object to written cross-examination at that time, and any designated answers or materials ruled objectionable will be stricken from the record.

B. Oral cross-examination. Oral cross-examination will be permitted for clarifying written cross-examination and for testing assumptions, conclusions or other opinion evidence. Requests for permission to conduct oral cross-examination should be served three or more working days before the announced appearance of a witness and should include (1) specific references to the subject matter to be examined and (2) page references to the relevant direct testimony and exhibits.

Participants intending to use complex numerical hypotheticals or to question using intricate or extensive cross-references, shall provide adequately documented cross-examination exhibits for the record. Copies of these exhibits should be provided to counsel for the witness at least two calendar days (including one working day) before the witness's scheduled appearance.

5. General

Argument will not be received in evidence. It is the province of the lawyer, not the witness. It should be presented in brief or memoranda. Legal memoranda on matters at issue will be welcome at any stage of the proceeding.

New affirmative matter (not in reply to another party's direct case) should not be included in rebuttal testimony or exhibits.

Cross-examination will be limited to testimony adverse to the participant conducting the cross-examination.

Library references may be submitted when documentation or materials are too voluminous reasonably to be distributed. Each party should sequentially number items submitted as library references and provide each item with an informative title. Parties are to file and serve a separate Notice of Filing of Library Reference(s). Library material is not evidence unless and until it is designated and sponsored by a witness.

Applicants' Representations

1. ABN AMRO is a Netherlands banking organization. ABN AMRO Holding N.V. ("Holding") is the parent company of ABN AMRO. Holding and ABN AMRO are regulated in The Netherlands by De Nederlandsche Bank N.V., the Dutch Central Bank ("DNB"), on behalf of The Netherlands Minister of Finance. As of December 31, 1995, Holding held approximately 100% of the share capital of ABN AMRO, and ABN AMRO accounted for approximately 100% of the total assets of Holding. ABN AMRO provides a variety of commercial banking and securities services on an international basis. At December 31, 1995, Holding had consolidated total assets of approximately U.S. $341 billion and shareholders' equity of approximately U.S. $12.6 billion.

2. AAGC is a legal entity incorporated by ABN AMRO pursuant to a system for the administration and safekeeping of bearer securities held outside the Netherlands and registered securities held inside and outside The Netherlands. AAGC does not engage in any activity other than the safekeeping of securities for the benefit of ABN AMRO's clients and for ABN AMRO itself, effectively serving only as a "vault" for the safekeeping of such securities. ABN AMRO provides its clients with all custody-related services with respect to these securities.

3. ABN AMRO (Moscow) is a direct subsidiary of ABN AMRO. ABN AMRO (Moscow) was incorporated in Russia in October 1993, and operates under General License No. 2549 of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation. ABN AMRO (Moscow) is authorized to engage in the business of commercial banking, and is supervised by the Central Bank of the Russian Federation under the Law on Banks and Banking Activity of 1991, as amended in 1991, 1992, and 1996. ABN AMRO (Moscow) offers customers a wide range of retail and wholesale banking services, including traditional corporate services and trade finance products. It also operates a custody department to support local and foreign investors (and their custodians).

4. Applicants were granted an order on April 23, 1996 (the "Order") which permitted U.S. investment companies and their custodians or subcustodians to maintain securities and other assets in the custody of ABN AMRO

Effectenbewaarbedrijf N.V. and AAGC, through ABN AMRO Bank N.V., and MeesPierson N.V., MeesPierson Effectenbewaarbedrijf N.V. and MeesPierson Global Custody Services N.V., through MeesPierson N.V., in the Netherlands.

5. Applicants request an order exempting: (a) themselves, (b) any U.S. Investment Company, and (c) any custodian or subcustodian for a U.S. Investment Company, from the provisions of section 17(f) of the Act to the extent necessary to permit such entities to maintain securities and other assets ("Securities") in the custody of ABN AMRO (Moscow).¹

Applicants' Legal Analysis

1. Section 17(f) provides that a registered investment company may maintain securities and similar assets in the custody of a bank meeting the requirements of section 26(a) of the Act, a member firm of a national securities exchange, the investment company itself, or a system for the central handling of securities established by a national securities exchange. Section 2(a)(5) of the Act defines "bank" to include banking institutions organized under the laws of the United States, member banks of the Federal Reserve System, and certain banking institutions or trust companies doing business under the laws of any state or of the United States.

2. Rule 17f-5 under the Act permits certain entities located outside the U.S. to serve as custodians for investment company assets. Rule 17f-5 defines the term "Eligible Foreign Custodian" to include a banking institution or trust company, incorporated or organized under the laws of a country other than the United States, that is regulated as such by that country's government or an agency thereof, and that has shareholders' equity in excess of U.S. $200 million.

3. ABN AMRO is a banking institution organized under the laws of The Netherlands and is regulated as such by DNB, the Dutch Central Bank, on behalf of the Netherlands Minister of Finance. At December 31, 1995, ABN AMRO had shareholders' equity in excess of the $200,000,000 minimum required by rule 17f-5. Accordingly, ABN AMRO qualifies as an "Eligible Foreign Custodian." ABN AMRO (Moscow), however, does not qualify as an "Eligible Foreign Custodian" because, although it is a banking institution organized under the laws of Russia and is regulated as such by the Central Bank of Russia, it does not have shareholders' equity in excess of $200 million. Thus, absent exemptive relief, ABN AMRO (Moscow) may not serve as custodian for the Securities of U.S. Investment Companies.

4. Applicants believe that the requested order is necessary and appropriate in the public interest because it would permit U.S. Investment Companies and their custodians and subcustodians to have access to the custody services of ABN AMRO in (Moscow). Applicants represent that the protection afforded the Securities of U.S. Investment Companies held by ABN AMRO (Moscow) would not be diminished from the protection afforded by rule 17f-5 since ABN AMRO will remain liable for the performance of the custody services by ABN AMRO (Moscow).

Applicants' Conditions

Applicants agree that any order granting the requested relief shall be subject to the following conditions:

1. The foreign custody arrangements involving ABN AMRO (Moscow) will satisfy the requirements of rule 17f-5 in all respects other than ABN AMRO (Moscow)'s level of shareholders' equity.

2. A U.S. Investment Company or a custodian or subcustodian for a U.S. Investment Company will deposit Securities directly with ABN AMRO (Moscow) only in accordance with a three-party contractual agreement that will remain in effect at all times during which ABN AMRO (Moscow) fails to satisfy the requirement of rule 17f-5 relating to minimum shareholders' equity. Each such agreement will be a three-party agreement among: (a) ABN AMRO, (b) ABN AMRO (Moscow), and (c) a U.S. Investment Company or custodian or subcustodian of the Securities of the U.S. Investment Company. Under the agreement, ABN AMRO (Moscow) will undertake to provide specified custodial or subcustodial services. The agreement will further provide that ABN AMRO will be liable for any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, or claim arising out of or in connection with the performance by ABN AMRO (Moscow) of its responsibilities under the agreement to the same extent as if ABN AMRO had been required to provide custody services under such agreement.

3. ABN AMRO and AAGC, when providing custody or subcustody services to a U.S. Investment Company, will deposit Securities with ABN AMRO (Moscow) only in accordance with one of the following contractual arrangements, which arrangement will remain in effect at all times during which ABN AMRO (Moscow) fails to satisfy the requirement of the rule relating to minimum shareholders' equity:

(a) The Four-Party Agreement Arrangement. Under this arrangement, the agreement will be a four-party agreement among ABN AMRO, AAGC, ABN AMRO (Moscow), and a U.S. Investment Company or the custodian or subcustodian for a U.S. Investment Company pursuant to which ABN AMRO and AAGC will undertake to provide specified custody or subcustody services, and will delegate to ABN AMRO (Moscow) such of the duties and obligations of ABN AMRO and AAGC as will be necessary to permit ABN AMRO (Moscow) to hold in custody the Securities of the U.S. Investment Company. The agreement will further provide that ABN AMRO will be liable for any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, or claim arising out of or in connection with the performance by ABN AMRO (Moscow) of its responsibilities under the agreement to the same extent as if ABN AMRO had itself been required to provide custody services under such agreement. This agreement will be governed either by the law of the State of New York or The Netherlands.

(b) The Custody Agreement/ Subcustody Agreement Arrangement. Under this arrangement, Securities will be deposited with ABN AMRO (Moscow) in accordance with a three-party custody agreement and a three-party subcustody agreement described below:

(i) The three-party custody agreement will be among ABN AMRO, AAGC, and a U.S. Investment Company or any custodian or subcustodian for a U.S. Investment Company. In that agreement, ABN AMRO and AAGC will undertake to provide specified custody or subcustody services, and the U.S. Investment Company (or its custodian or subcustodian) will authorize ABN AMRO and AAGC to delegate to ABN AMRO (Moscow) such of ABN AMRO and AAGC's duties and obligations as will be necessary to permit ABN AMRO (Moscow) to hold in custody the Securities of the U.S. Investment Company. The agreement will further provide that ABN AMRO will be liable for any loss, damage, cost, expense, liability, or claim arising out of or in connection with the performance by ABN AMRO (Moscow) of its responsibilities under the agreement to the same extent as if ABN AMRO had itself been required to provide custody services under such agreement.

(ii) A three-party subcustody agreement will be executed by ABN AMRO, AAGC, and ABN AMRO (Moscow). Pursuant to this agreement, ABN AMRO and AAGC will delegate to ABN AMRO (Moscow) such of ABN AMRO and AAGC's duties and obligations as will be necessary to permit ABN AMRO (Moscow) to hold Securities in custody in Russia. The subcustody agreement will explicitly provide that: (x) ABN AMRO (Moscow) is acting as a foreign custodian for Securities that belong to a U.S. Investment Company pursuant to the terms of an exemptive order issued by the SEC, and (y) the U.S. Investment Company or its custodian or subcustodian that has entered into a custody agreement will be entitled to enforce the terms of the subcustody agreement and can seek relief directly against ABN AMRO (Moscow). Further, the subcustody agreement will be governed either by the law of the State of New York or The Netherlands. If the subcustody agreement is governed by the laws of The Netherlands, ABM AMRO shall obtain an opinion of counsel in The Netherlands, opining as to the enforceability of the rights of a third party beneficiary under the laws of The Netherlands.

4. Under any of the agreements described in conditions 2 or 3 of this Application, neither ABM AMRO (Moscow), ABM AMRO, nor AAGC would be liable for any losses that result from: (i) political risk (e.g., exchange control restrictions, confiscation, expropriation, nationalization, insurrection, civil strife or armed hostilities, and (ii) other risks of loss (excluding the bankruptcy or insolvency of ABM AMRO (Moscow)) for which ABM AMRO (Moscow) would not be liable under the rule (e.g., despite the exercise of reasonable care, loss due to acts of God, nuclear incident and the like).

5. ABM AMRO currently satisfies, and will continue to satisfy, the minimum shareholders' equity requirement set forth in subsection rule 17f-5(c)(2)(i).

6. At all times during which a custody arrangement described in condition 3 shall be in effect, AAGC shall be the subject of the Order, which permits any U.S. Investment Company and any custodian or subcustodian for a U.S. Investment Company to maintain Securities in the custody of AAGC.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Jonathan G. Katz,
Secretary.

BILLING CODE 8010-01-M

[Rel. No. IC-22020/812-9248]

FIRST FUNDS and First Tennessee Bank National Association; Notice of Application

June 17, 1996.

AGENCY: Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").

ACTION: Notice of Application for Exemption under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act").

APPLICANTS: FIRST FUNDS (the "Trust") and First Tennessee Bank National Association (the "Bank").

RELEVANT ACT SECTIONS: Exemption requested under sections 6(c), 10(f) and 17(b) from sections 10(f) and 17(a) of the Act.

SUMMARY OF APPLICATION: Applicants request an order to permit certain portfolios of the Trust to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from the Bond Division of the Bank (the "Bond Division") when such securities are underwritten solely by the Bond Division or when the Bond Division is a member of an underwriting syndicate, and from a syndicate manager when such securities are designated as group sales. The order also would permit the portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member in amounts up to the greater of 10% or $1,000,000, but in no event more than 15%, of a class of an issue, and without limiting the consideration paid by a portfolio in any one offering.

FILING DATES: The application was filed on September 19, 1994 and amended on April 5, 1995, July 19, 1995, March 8, 1996, and May 17, 1996.

HEARING OR NOTIFICATION OF HEARING: An order granting the application will be issued unless the SEC orders a hearing. Interested persons may request a hearing by writing to the SEC's Secretary and serving applicants with a copy of the request, personally or by mail. Hearing requests should be received by the SEC by 5:30 p.m. on July 12, 1996, and should be accompanied by proof of service on applicants, in the form of an affidavit or, for lawyers, a certificate of service. Hearing requests should state the nature of the writer's interest, the reason for the request, and the issues contested. Persons who wish to be notified of a hearing may request notification by writing to the SEC's Secretary.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The following is a summary of the application. The complete application may be obtained for a fee at the SEC's Public Reference Branch.

Applicants' Representations

1. The Trust is a Massachusetts business trust registered as an open-end, diversified, management investment company that currently offers shares in seven series, one of which is the Tennessee Tax-Free Portfolio (the "Portfolio"). The Portfolio invests in Tennessee tax-exempt securities, which are debt securities of the State of Tennessee, its political sub-divisions, authorities, agencies, instrumentalities, and corporations the interest on which is exempt from federal and Tennessee personal income tax.

2. The Bank is a national banking association wholly owned by First Tennessee National Corporation. The Trust Division of the Bank acts as an investment adviser ("Investment Adviser") to the existing portfolios of the Trust and expects to serve as investment adviser to future portfolios (together with the Portfolio, the "Portfolios") established by the Trust.

3. The Bond Division participates in a substantial number of public offerings of Tennessee tax-exempt securities and is the leading underwriter of most types of Tennessee tax-exempt securities based on both dollar volume and number of new issues. From 1991 through 1995, the Bond Division served as underwriter of approximately 29% of the total dollar amount, and approximately 30% of the total number, of new issues of Tennessee tax-exempt securities during those years. Applicants state that, over the past five years, the Bond Division has underwritten as senior manager more than 3.3 times the number of issues underwritten by its nearest competitor. Applicants contend that because the Bond Division participates in new issues of Tennessee tax-exempt securities more consistently than its competitors, the Bond Division ranked first, over a five-year period, among senior underwriters for Tennessee tax-exempt securities by a wide margin. Applicants also state that the Bond Division is the largest competitive retail dealer in the secondary market for Tennessee tax-exempt securities.

4. Applicants request relief from: (a) section 17(a) to permit the Portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from the Bond Division when such securities are underwritten solely by the Bond Division; (b) sections 10(f) and 17(a) to permit the Portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from the Bond Division when the Bond Division is a member of an underwriting syndicate; (c) sections 10(f) and 17(a) to permit the Portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member when such sales are designated as "group sales;" (d) section 10(f) to permit the Portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities in reliance on rule 10f-3 in amounts up to the greater of 10% or $1,000,000, but in no event more than 15%, of a class of an issue (or such other amounts as may be set forth in rule 10f-3(d), as it may be amended and/or redesignated in accordance with the proposed amendments to rule 10f-3 released for public comment by the SEC on March 21, 1996 (the "Proposed Amendments"));¹ and (e) section 10(f) to permit the Portfolios to purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member without limiting the consideration paid by a Portfolio in any one offering to 3% of the Portfolio's total assets, provided that if the SEC determines to retain paragraph 10f-3(e) when the Proposed Amendments are adopted, applicants will comply with the requirements of rule 10f-3(e) as it may be retained, amended and/or redesignated.

5. Applicants request that the proposed relief apply to all current and future portfolios of the Trust or any other investment company or series thereof organized in the future that are advised by the Bank or a person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Bank and that invest or will invest in Tennessee tax-exempt securities. The requested order would not permit principal transactions between the Bond Division and the Portfolios in other securities or for Tennessee tax-exempt securities sold in the secondary market.

6. Applicants assert that while the national demand for tax-exempt securities has experienced substantial growth, the supply of tax-exempt securities has decreased, and Tennessee has experienced an even greater decline in supply of tax-exempt securities than the nation as a whole. Moreover, the quantity and quality of Tennessee tax-exempt securities offered for sale in the secondary market tends to fluctuate daily. Applicants assert that, as the Portfolios increase in size the combined effect of the lack of access to the Bond Division and the lack of securities in the secondary market may prevent the Portfolios reliably from meeting their investment needs by making purchases in the secondary market. Applicants contend that, in that case, the inability to effect transactions with the Bond Division also may increase to the Portfolios the cost of securities in the secondary market both because dealers other than the Bond Division may not be in a position to offer competitive prices generally, and because those dealers do not have to compete with the Bond Division in effecting transactions involving the Portfolios. Consequently, applicants have an increased need to acquire Tennessee tax-exempt securities in underwritten offerings.

7. Applicants assert that due to the shortage of Tennessee tax-exempt securities, a significant number of new issues are oversubscribed. In the event that an issue is oversubscribed, orders designated as "group orders" are filled before "member orders." Consequently, obtaining Tennessee tax-exempt securities in an oversubscribed offering often requires that a purchaser have the ability to place group orders, since there are not sufficient securities to fill all member orders.

8. A group sale results from a "group order." A group order is an order submitted to an underwriting syndicate which benefits all members of the syndicate according to their percentage participation in the syndicate. A group order may be distinguished from a "designated order," in which the investor designates two or more members of the syndicate to retain that portion of the commission not retained by the syndicate managers, and from a "member order," in which an investor places an order directly with a member of the syndicate who retains that portion of the commission not retained by the syndicate managers.

9. Applicants believe that the current restrictions of rule 10f-3(d) unnecessarily impair the Portfolio's access to the new issue market. Most offerings of Tennessee tax-exempt securities are not sufficiently large to permit the Portfolios to purchase blocks of securities in reliance on rule 10f-3 in amounts exceeding $500,000.

Applicants believe that the Proposed Amendments recognize that the percentage limitations in rule 10f-3(d) may be outdated as a result of the increase in the size of investment companies and concentration in the underwriting industry. Applicants assert that over the last fifteen years, inflation similarly has rendered the $500,000 limit under paragraph (d) obsolete. Applicants assert that the market for odd lots is significantly less liquid than the market for round lots, and the dealer spread for purchasing odd lots is significantly higher. Applicants' proposal would lower the size of a class of an offering necessary to allow the Portfolios to purchase blocks large enough to resell as round lots.

10. All of the transactions conducted under the requested order will comply with the provisions of rule 10f-3, other than paragraphs (d), (e), and (f). The Portfolios, together with all other entities for which the Bank and persons controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Bank have investment discretion ("Related Purchasers") will not in the aggregate purchase a majority of any class of an issue of Tennessee tax-exempt securities when the Portfolios purchase such securities directly from the Bond Division or when the Portfolios purchase securities designated as "group sales" from a syndicate manager of an underlying syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member. This ensures that a majority of the securities of an underwriting may not be purchased by entities controlled by the Bank. Applicants assert that the existence of an independent market for securities purchased by the Portfolios in reliance on the requested order will eliminate any possible incentive to the Bank to misprice securities intentionally in hoped of selling to a captive market. Applicants also state that, unlike other types of debt instruments and equity securities, municipal bonds are primarily sold on the basis of yield. The yield on a particular municipal bond is determined by reference to a number of relatively objective factors, including the credit of the issuer, the maturity of the issue, the general level of interest rates, and the value of any tax-exemption to investors. Because issuers, underwriters, and purchasers can look to these objective factors in determining an appropriate price for an issue of municipal securities, applicants believe that the likelihood that an issue of high quality municipal securities would be unmarketable is minimal.

Applicants' Legal Analysis

1. Section 2(a)(3) defines the term "affiliated person" of another person to include "any person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by or under common control with, such other person," and "if such other person is an investment company, any investment adviser thereof." Under that definition, the Bank is an affiliated person of the Portfolios because the Bank serves (through the Trust Division) as the Portfolios' investment adviser.

2. Section 10(f) generally prohibits an investment company from purchasing securities from an underwriting syndicate in which the investment company's investment adviser or an affiliate thereof is a member. Section 10(f) therefore prohibits the Portfolios from purchasing any securities from an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member. Section 10(f) also authorizes the SEC to exempt any transaction or class of transactions from the prohibitions of section 10(f) if the exemption is consistent with the protection of investors.

3. Rule 10f-3 permits purchases otherwise prohibited by section 10(f) upon compliance with certain conditions, including: paragraph (d), which provides that an investment company, or two or more investment companies with the same investment adviser, relying on rule 10f-3 cannot purchase more than the greater of 4% or $500,000, but in no event more than 10%, of any class of an issue; paragraph (e), which prohibits an investment company from paying consideration greater than 3% of the investment company's assets for the securities being offered; and paragraph (f), which provides that the investment company cannot purchase the securities being offered directly from its affiliated persons, and that it cannot purchase municipal securities from a syndicate manager if the purchase is designated as a group sale or otherwise allocated to the account of an affiliated person.

4. Section 17(a) provides, in relevant part, that it is unlawful for any affiliated person of a registered investment company, or any affiliated person of such person, acting as principal, knowingly to sell any security or other property to such registered investment company. As a result, the Bond Division is prohibited from selling securities to the Portfolios.

5. Under section 17(b), the SEC may, upon application, exempt a transaction from the prohibition of section 17(a) if evidence establishes that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration to be paid, are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned, and that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of the registered investment company and with the general purposes of the Act. Because section 17(b) exempts only a specific transaction, applicants request relief under sections 6(c) and 17(b) to engage in a series of future transactions.

6. Section 6(c) authorizes the SEC to exempt any person or transaction from any provisions of the Act or any rule or regulation thereunder if the exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

7. The SEC has proposed amendments to rule 10f-3 that would, among other things, raise the percentage limitation in rule 10f-3(d) to the greater of 10% of an offering or $1,000,000 (subject to a maximum limitation of 15% of the offering), eliminate the limitation on the amount of an investment company's assets that may be used to make purchases under the rule, and permit investment companies to purchase municipal securities in group sales. Applicants contend that the Proposed Amendments recognize the fact that (a) rule 10f-3(d) may be too restrictive given the increased size of investment companies relative to the size of underwritten offerings since the rule was last amended, (b) the limitation on the amount of an investment company's assets used to make purchases in a specific offering may be unnecessary in light of the other provisions of rule 10f-3 and the diversification provisions of the Investment Company Act, and (c) permitting group sales may be necessary to ensure that investment companies that purchase municipal bonds are able to purchase securities in oversubscribed offerings in which group orders receive priority. Thus, applicants believe that the Proposed Amendments generally support their request for relief.

8. Given the role of the Bond Division in the new issue market for Tennessee tax-exempt securities, applicants believe that as the Portfolios increase in size they will be disadvantaged in their attempt to obtain a sufficient quantity of Tennessee tax-exempt securities suitable for investment by the Portfolios. Applicants believe that the requested order will benefit the shareholders of the Portfolios by providing the Portfolios access to the new issue market for Tennessee Tax-exempt securities needed to insure the availability of suitable portfolio securities. Applicants' request is based upon the requirements of the Portfolios with respect to portfolio transactions; anticipated shortages of Tennessee tax-exempt securities; the significant role the Bond Division plays in the market for Tennessee tax-exempt securities; and the advantages to the Portfolios in being able to purchase slightly larger blocks of an underwritten issue than currently is permitting by the limitations of rule 10f-3(d), effect transactions with the Bond Division as principal in the new issue market, and purchase securities in group sales from the manager of underwriting syndicates of which the Bond Division is a member.

9. Applicants believes that the procedures to be followed with respect to the proposed transactions are structured in such a way as to insure that such transactions will be reasonable and fair and will not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned and that the requested relief is appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Applicants' Conditions

Applicants agree that the following conditions may be imposed in any order of the SEC granting the requested relief:

1. Transactions effected pursuant to the order will be effected in accordance with all of the provisions of rule 10f-3 (other than paragraphs (d), (e), and (f)). A Portfolio, or two or more Portfolios and/or other investment companies with the same investment adviser as the Portfolios, will not in the aggregate purchase more than the greater of 10% or $1,000,000, but in no event more than 15% of any class of an issue of Tennessee tax-exempt securities when the Portfolios purchase such securities directly from the Bond Division, when the Portfolios purchase such securities in "group sales" from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member, or when the Portfolios and/or the other investment companies purchase such securities otherwise in reliance on rule 10f-3. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the aggregate amount of securities that may be purchased and the amount of the Portfolio's assets that may be used will be limited to the percentage restrictions set forth in rule 10f-3, as it may be amended if the Proposed Amendments are adopted, to the extent such percentage restrictions vary from those provided in this condition. In no event will the Portfolios purchase any such securities from the Bond Division or from the syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member in "group sales" in an underwriting where the Related Purchasers in the aggregate purchase a majority or more of any class of an issue of such securities.

2. Purchases of Tennessee tax-exempt securities directly from the Bond Division or from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member when the purchases are designated as "group sales" be effected only in Tennessee tax-exempt securities which at the time of purchase have one of the following investment grade ratings from at least one nationally recognized rating agency: (a) one of the two highest investment grade ratings in the case of securities with remaining maturities of one year or less; and (b) one of the top three investment grade ratings in the case of securities with remaining maturities greater than one year.

3. Purchases of Tennessee tax-exempt securities directly from the Bond Division or from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member when the purchases are designated as "group sales" will be limited so that no such transaction will be effected if, as a result, the aggregate value of securities held by a Portfolio acquired pursuant to such transactions would exceed 50% of the total net assets of the Portfolio.

4. Purchases of Tennessee tax-exempt securities directly from the Bond Division or from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member when the purchases are designated as "group sales" will be effected only when the Tennessee tax-exempt securities acquired are otherwise unavailable for purchase. If the Bond Division is the sole underwriter of the securities, this condition is automatically fulfilled because there is no other potential seller. When the Bond Division is a member of an underwriting syndicate, the Investment Adviser will observe the following procedures to determine when the securities are unavailable from other members of the syndicate. Initially, the Investment Adviser will determine the aggregate number of securities which the Portfolios wish to acquire. Next, the Investment Adviser will attempt to purchase as much of this number as possible from members of the syndicate other than the Bond Division. After acquiring as many securities as possible from such other members, the Investment Adviser will attempt to purchase from the Bond Division the number of securities which the Portfolios wish to acquire and have been unable to obtain from such other members. The securities acquired from such other members will be allocated first to the Portfolios to the extent of the number of securities it is entitled to acquire, based upon the relative needs of the Related Purchasers and the total number of securities purchased from such other members and from the Bond Division, whichever is less.

5. When the Portfolios purchase Tennessee tax-exempt securities from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member, the Portfolios will not: (a) Submit designated orders to a syndicate manager which are allocated to the Bond Division; (b) submit group orders to a syndicate manager which designate the Bond Division to receive any portion of the commission; or (c) otherwise allocate orders to the Bond Division.

6. The exemption will be valid only so long as the Investment Adviser and the Bond Division operate as separate and independent profit centers within the framework of First Tennessee Bank National Association (or become separate subsidiaries or affiliates thereof). The Investment Adviser will maintain offices physically separate from those of the Bond Division. Personnel assigned to the Investment Adviser will be devoted exclusively to the business and affairs of the Investment Adviser and will not receive compensation based on the volume or nature of transactions effected for the Portfolios with the Bond Division or an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member, except to the extent that such transactions may affect the profits and losses of the Bank. The Bond Division will not share with the Investment Adviser any of its profits or losses on transactions effected by the Portfolios with the Bond Division or an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member, provided that general compensation to the officers and employees of the Bank, including the Investment Adviser and the Bond Division, will not be affected by this undertaking. Personnel assigned to the Bond Division will not participate in or otherwise seek to influence the Investment Adviser other than in the normal course of sales activities of the same nature that are being carried out simultaneously with respect to unaffiliated institutional clients of the Bond Division. Senior executives of the Bank and/or First Tennessee National Corporation with responsibility for overseeing the operations of various divisions and subsidiaries are not precluded from exercising those functions over the Investment Adviser because they oversee the Bond Division as well, provided that such persons shall not have any involvement with respect to transactions effected pursuant to the exemption and will not attempt to influence or control the purchase of securities by the Portfolios from the Bond Division or an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member.

7. The Bond Division and the Investment Adviser will adopt a set of guidelines for their respective personnel to make certain that transactions conducted pursuant to the order comply with the conditions set forth in the application and that the parties generally maintain arm's length relationships. Compliance officer(s) in conjunction with the Bank's audit division periodically will monitor the activities of the Bond Division and the Investment Adviser to make certain that they adhere to such guidelines and the conditions set forth in the application.

8. The trustees, including a majority of the independent trustees of the Trust who are not "interested persons" of the Trust and have no direct or indirect financial interest in the transaction, will review no less frequently than quarterly each purchase of Tennessee tax-exempt securities directly from the Bond Division or from a syndicate manager of an underwriting syndicate of which the Bond Division is a member when the purchases are designated as "group sales" since the last review and will determine that the terms of such transactions were reasonable and fair to the shareholders of the Portfolios and did not involve overreaching of the Portfolios or their shareholders on the part of any person concerned. In considering whether the price paid for the security was reasonable and fair, the price of the security will be analyzed with respect to comparable transactions involving similar securities being purchased or sold during a comparable period of time.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Jonathan G. Katz,
Secretary.

Applicant's Representations

1. The Partnership was formed for the benefit of certain officers who are experienced professionals in the investment banking, merchant banking or securities business, or in administrative, financial, accounting, or operations activities related thereto ("Eligible Officers") of George K. Baum Holdings Inc. ("GKB Holdings"), a Delaware corporation, and its affiliates (as defined in rule 12b-2 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act")) (GKB Holdings and its affiliates are referred to herein as the "Baum Entities"). The Partnership is intended to be a means of rewarding and retaining key professionals of the Baum Entities by enabling them to pool their investment resources to invest in opportunities which come to the attention of the Partnership. The pooling of resources permits diversification and participation in investments that usually would not be offered to individual investors. The preeminent purpose of the Partnership is to reward and retain key officers of the Baum Entities and to attract other qualified professionals to the Baum Entities.

2. George K. Baum & Company ("Baum"), a Missouri corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of GKB Holdings, is a full-line investment banking firm with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri. Baum is the broker-dealer affiliate of the Baum Entities and is registered as a broker-dealer under the Exchange Act and is a registered investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the "Advisers Act").

3. The Partnership will operate as a closed-end management investment company. The sole investment option of the Partnership will be to co-invest with George K. Baum Capital Partners, L.P. (the "Investor Fund"), a limited partnership to be formed under the laws of Delaware. The Investor Fund will seek to achieve long-term capital growth through investments in leveraged buyout and recapitalization transactions primarily involving manufacturing companies with revenues of between $25 and $100 million. Oversight required by the Investor Fund partnership agreement in connection with the Investor Fund's investments, potential conflicts of interest, and other matters will be provided by an advisory board consisting of at least three independent representatives of limited partners of the Investor Fund ("Investor Fund Advisory Board"). The Investor Fund will be exempt from registration under the Act by reason of the exemption afforded by section 3(c)(1) of the Act. The Investor Fund and the Partnership will be separate legal entities and will be administered separately. No person will be permitted to invest as a limited partner in both the Investor Fund and the Partnership.

4. The general partner of the Partnership is GKB Equity, Inc., a Missouri corporation (the "General Partner"), and a wholly-owned subsidiary of GKB Holdings. George K. Baum Merchant Banc, L.L.C., a Missouri limited liability company and an affiliate of GKB Holdings, will be the investment adviser (the "Adviser") to both the Investor Fund and the Partnership. The Adviser has filed an application to become registered as an investment adviser under the Advisers Act.

5. Interests in the Partnership will be offered without registration under a claim of exemption pursuant to section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act").¹ Interests will be offered and sold only to Eligible Officers of the Baum Entities or trusts established by such Eligible Officers for their benefit or the benefit of their immediate families.

6. To be an Eligible Officer an individual must be (at the time of his or her subscription for and admission to the Partnership) an officer at the level of vice president or above of one or more of the Baum Entities and must satisfy the requirements to be either an "Accredited Officer" or a "Non-Accredited Officer." To be an Accredited Officer, an individual must be (at the time of his or subscription for and admission to the Partnership) an "accredited investor" meeting the standards set forth in rule 501(a)(6) of Regulation D under the Securities Act. To be a Non-Accredited Officer, an individual must have had an individual income in excess of $100,000 in each of the two most recent years, or joint income with that person's spouse in excess of $150,000 in each of those years, and in both cases must have a reasonable expectation of reaching the same income level in the current year. In addition, Non-Accredited Officers will be limited to officers who meet one of the following criteria: (a) he or she is in charge of a principal business function of one of the Baum Entities and directly reports to either the CEO of Baum or the executive directors of the Adviser, or (b) he or she is an experienced vice president in Baum's corporate finance group who regularly works with clients in mergers and acquisitions and financings in the public and private equity markets and who has direct access to the managers of the Adviser on a regular basis.

7. The Eligible Officers are experienced professionals in the investment banking, merchant banking or securities business, or in the administrative, financial accounting, or operational activities related thereto. Each Non-Accredited Officer will have such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters that he or she is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of an investment in the Partnership, or the Partnership reasonably believes immediately prior to making any sale that such person comes within this description. The limitations on the class of persons who may acquire interests ("Limited Partners"), in conjunction with the other characteristics of the Partnership, will result in the Partnership meeting the definition of an "employees' securities company" under section 2(a)(13) of the Act. No Eligible Officer will be required to invest in the Partnership.

8. Each Limited Partner will make a commitment to invest in the Partnership (a "Commitment"). An Accredited Officer's Commitment will expire on the sixth anniversary of the initial closing of the Investor Fund (the "Commitment Period"). During the 30 day period at the beginning of each fiscal year (the "Adjustment Period"), Accredited Officers may increase, but not decrease, the amount of their Commitment. Non-Accredited Officers may only make Commitments for up to 10% of his or her W-2 income derived from the Baum Entities in the prior fiscal year. On each anniversary date, Non-Accredited Officers may increase (subject to the 10% income maximum) or decrease the amount of their Commitment. If a Non-Accredited Officer qualifies as an Accredited Officer at any time during the Commitment Period, he or she must make a Commitment during the next Adjustment Period for the balance of the Commitment Period in accordance with the terms applicable to Accredited Officers or may choose not to make any further investment in the Partnership.

9. The General Partner will determine in its sole discretion the amount and timing of capital contributions to be made by the Limited and General Partners to the Partnership. Capital contributions will fund Partnership investments and the payment of Partnership expenses. The maximum amount of capital contributions that a Limited Partner may be required to make during the life of the Partnership will be limited to the Limited Partner's Commitment. The minimum Commitment of each Accredited Officer will be $10,000, subject to waiver by the General Partner in its sole discretion. There will be no assurance of the precise timing or amount of capital calls but the General Partner expects that investments by the Partnership will be made over a four to six-year period and the Partners' Commitments will be called over this period.

10. The management and control of the Partnership, including all investment decisions, will be vested in the General Partner. The management and control of the General Partner will, in turn, be vested in the board of directors of the General Partner, all of whom are Eligible Officers. The General Partner will enter into a management agreement (the "Management Agreement") with the Adviser. The Adviser will make all investment decisions on behalf of the Investor Fund and the Partnership, as well as provide personnel, office space and business facilities to the Investor Fund and the Partnership.

11. Until the end of the Commitment Period, the Partnership will pay the Adviser a management fee, payable quarterly in advance, equal to 3% per year of the aggregate amount of the Commitments, and thereafter the management fee will be equal to 3% per year of the aggregate amount of the cost basis of securities owned by the Partnership. The management fee will comply with all provisions of the Investment Adviser's Act of 1940. To the extent not otherwise reimbursed, the Adviser will have the right to be reimbursed by the Investor Fund and the Partnership for its out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the transactions proposed on behalf of the Investor Fund and the Partnership. These expenses will be shared between the Investor Fund and the Partnership pro rata according to the aggregated capital commitments of each.

12. Prior to selling interests to Eligible Officers, the Partnership will distribute to Eligible Officers a copy of offering memorandum for the Investor Fund, memorandum containing a summary description of the terms of the Partnership, and a copy of the Partnership Agreement. In addition, each Eligible Officer will be provided a copy of the application for the requested exemptive relief and will be given the opportunity to ask questions of the Partnership and the Adviser.

13. Except for short-term cash investments, the Partnership will co-invest its capital in investments in which the Investor Fund invests. The amount of the Partnership co-investment will bear the same proportion to the aggregate investments of the Investor Fund and the Partnership as the aggregate capital commitments of the Partnership bear to the aggregate capital commitments of the Investor Fund and the Partnership. (Any entity in which the Partnership and the Investor Fund invests is a "Portfolio Company".) It is expected that the economic terms applicable to the Partnership's investments will be identical to the corresponding investments by the Investor Fund; however, investments of the Investor Fund may have more favorable non-economic terms (e.g., the right to representation on the board of directors of a Portfolio Company) if required for the Investor Fund to qualify as a venture capital operating company under the Employees' Retirement Income Securities Act or for other regulatory reasons.

14. The Partnership and the Investor Funds will not be permitted, except with the consent of the Investor Fund Advisory Board, to make an investment in any company in which a member of the Baum Entities previously has made an investment, or in which a member is a director or officer. The Partnership and the Investor Fund also will not be permitted, except with the consent of the Investor Fund Advisory Board, to make a follow-on investment in a Portfolio Company previously participated in by a member of the Baum Entities if, in such round, the member of the Baum Entities is acquiring more or less than its pro rata position from the previous round.

15. Subject to the limitations described above, the Partnership will be permitted to enter into transactions involving (a) a member of the Baum Entities (including without limitation the Investor Fund), (b) a Portfolio Company, (c) any partner of the Investor Fund that is not a member of the Baum Entities (together with the affiliates of such partner, a "Non-Baum Investor Fund Partner"), or (d) the General Partner or any Limited Partner (collectively the "Partners") or person or entity related to any Partner. Any such transaction, however, must be on terms no less favorable to the Partnership than are generally afforded to unrelated third parties in comparable transactions. Such transactions include, without limitation, the purchase or sale by the Partnership of an investment, or an interest therein, from or to any member of the Baum Entities acting as principal. With respect to any investment purchased by the Partnership from a member of the Baum Entities acting as principal, the Partnership will acquire the investment for no more than the fair value at the time of purchase, plus customary fees and expenses. The fair value at the time of such purchase may be more or less than the price paid by the member of the Baum Entities, depending on the appreciation or depreciation in the particular investment.

16. Distributions of cash and securities will be made at the discretion of the General Partner. All distributions will be made to the Partners in proportion to their respective capital contributions. When distributing cash or securities or both to the Partners, the General Partner will be required to distribute the cash and securities to all Partners in the same proportions. At the end of each fiscal year, the General Partner will make a valuation or have a valuation made of all of the assets of the Partnership and a copy of the valuation will be delivered to each of the Partners.

17. The Partnership will not be permitted to incur indebtedness for borrowed money in an amount in excess of 10% of the sum of the cost basis of the Partnership's investments plus the sum of the remaining Commitments. The Partnership will not make loans to the Investor Fund or any other member of the Baum Entities, or any employee, officer, director, or advisory director of one of the Baum Entities.

18. A Limited Partner may not withdraw from the Partnership prior to the dissolution of the Partnership, except under certain limited circumstances. The General Partner may require a Limited Partner to withdraw if (a) the Limited Partner is a Defaulting Partner (as defined below), (b) the Limited Partner violates the restrictions on transfer described below, or (c) if the General Partner determines in its reasonable discretion that continued membership of the Limited Partner in the Partnership would subject the Partnership to material onerous legal or other regulatory requirements that cannot reasonably be avoided. In addition, a Limited Partner will cease to be a Limited Partner upon termination of employment with any of the Baum Entities, other than due to death, retirement, or permanent disability. If a Limited Partner terminates his or her employment with any of the Baum Entities for any reason, no further capital contributions will be made pursuant to the remaining uncalled Commitment and the holder of such interest will not participate in subsequent Partnership investments or pay subsequent management fees.

19. If a Limited Partner dies, retires after age 60, or becomes permanently disabled, the Partnership Agreement will provide that the Limited Partner (or his or her estate in the case of death) will continue to hold his or her interest. Upon termination of a Limited Partner's interest resulting from a termination of employment with the Baum Entities for any reason other than death, retirement, or permanent disability, the Partnership Agreement will provide that the Partnership may redeem, in its discretion, that Limited the Partner's interest for cash and/or a promissory note. The amount payable to terminated Limited Partner will be the lower of (a) such Limited Partner's capital account balance on the date of termination or (b) the then fair value (as determined by the General Partner) of the interest.

20. Interests in the Partnership will be non-transferable except with the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be withheld in its sole discretion, and in any event, will not be transferable to persons other than (a) other Partners or Eligible Officers, (b) trusts established by the transferor Limited Partner primarily for the benefit of such Limited Partner or such Limited Partner's immediate family, or (c) by succession or testamentary disposition upon the death of the transferor Limited Partners.

21. During the existence of the Partnership, books of account will be kept, in which the General Partner will enter, or cause to be entered, all business transacted by the Partnership and all moneys and other things received, advanced, paid out, or delivered on behalf of the Partnership, the results of the Partnership's operations, and each partner's capital. Such books will at all times be accessible to all Partners at the Partnership's principal place of business during normal working hours.

Applicant's Legal Analysis

1. The Partnership requests an exemption under section 6(b) and 6(e) of the Act from all provisions of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder except section 9, certain provisions of section 17 and 30, and sections 36 through 53.

2. Section 6(b) of the Act provides that the SEC shall exempt employees' securities companies from the provisions of the Act to the extent that such exemption is consistent with the protection of investors. Section 2(a)(13) of the Act defines an employee's security company, among other things, as any investment company all of the outstanding securities of which are beneficially owned by the employees or persons on retainer of a single employer or affiliated employers or by former employees of such employers; or by members of the immediate family of such employers, persons on retainer, or former employees.

3. Section 6(e) of the Act provides that in connection with any order exempting an investment company from any provision of section 7, certain specified provisions of the Act shall be applicable to such company, and to other persons in their transactions and relations with such company, as though such company were registered under the Act, if the SEC deems it necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

4. Section 17(a) of the Act provides, in relevant part, that it is unlawful for any affiliated person of a registered investment company acting as principal, knowingly to sell any security or other property to such registered investment company or to purchase from such registered investment company any security or other property. The Partnership requests an exemption from section 17(a) to the extent necessary to: (a) permit a member of the Baum Entities, acting as principal, to engage in any transaction with the Partnership or any company controlled by the Partnership; (b) permit the Partnership to invest in or engage in any transaction with any entity, acting as principal, (i) in which the Partnership, any company controlled by the Partnership or any member of the Baum Entities has invested or will invest or (ii) with which the Partnership, any company controlled by the Partnership or any member of the Baum Entities is or will become otherwise affiliated; and (c) permit a Non-Baum Investor Fund Partner, acting as principal, to engage in any transaction with the Partnership or any company controlled by the Partnership. The transaction in which the Partnership is a party will be effected only after a determination by the Adviser and the General Partner that the requirements of condition 1 below have been satisfied.

5. The principal reason for the requested exemption is to ensure that the Partnership will be able to invest in companies, properties, or vehicles in which a member of the Baum Entities or the Baum Entities' individual employees, officers, directors or advisory directors, or the partners of the Investor Fund may make or have already made an investment. In addition, relief is requested to permit the Partnership the flexibility to deal with the Portfolio Companies in the manner the General Partner deems most advantageous to all Partners or as required by the Investor Fund or the Partnership's other co-investors.

6. The Partners will have been fully informed of the possible extent of the Partnership's dealings with the Investor Fund, another member of the Baum Entities, or with a Non-Baum Investor Fund Partner and, as successful professionals employed in the securities business, will be able to understand and evaluate the attendant risks. The Partnership believes that the community of interest among the Partners, on the one hand, and the Investor Fund or another member of the Baum Entities or the Non-Baum Investor Fund Partners, on the other hand, is the best insurance against any risk of abuse in this regard.

7. Section 17(d) of the Act makes it unlawful for any affiliated person of a registered investment company, acting as principal, to effect any transaction in which the company is a joint or joint and several participant with the affiliated person in contravention of such rules and regulations as the SEC may prescribe for the purpose of limiting or preventing participation by such companies. Rule 17d-1 under section 17(d) prohibits most joint transactions unless approved by order of the SEC.

8. The Partnership requests an exemption from section 17(d) and rule 17d-1 to the extent necessary to permit affiliated persons of the Partnership (including without limitation the General Partner, the Investor Fund, and other members of the Baum Entities) or affiliated persons of any of these persons (including without limitation of the Non-Investor Fund Partners) to participate in, or effect any transaction in connection with, any joint enterprise or other joint arrangement or profit-sharing plan in which the Partnership or a company controlled by the Partnership is a participant. The exemption requested would permit, among other things, co-investments by individual partners or employees, officers, directors, or advisory directors of the Baum Entities with the Partnership.

9. Compliance with section 17(d) would prevent the Partnership from achieving its only investment purpose. Because of the number and sophistication of the potential Partners and persons affiliated with such Partners, compliance with section 17(d) would cause the partnership to forego investment opportunities simply because a Partner or other affiliated person of the Partnership (or any affiliate of such a person) also had, or contemplated making, a similar investment. In addition, the Partnership asserts that it is the existence of the Investor Fund and the Baum Entities' experience in structuring transactions which will result in the Partnership having the opportunity to make attractive investments. As a result, the only way in which the Partnership will be able to participate in such opportunities will be to co-invest with its affiliates.

10. The flexibility to structure co-investments and joint investments in the manner described above will not involve abuses of the type section 17(d) and rule 17d-1 were designed to prevent. The concern that permitting co-investments or joint investments by the Investor Fund or another member of the Baum Entities or by the Non-Baum Investor Fund Partners on the other, might lead to less advantageous treatment of the Partnership should be mitigated by the fact that: (a) the Baum Entities, in addition to their interest through the General Partner, the Investor Fund's general partner, the Investor Fund, and the Partnership, will be acutely concerned with their relationship with the personnel who invest in the Partnership; and (b) senior officers and directors of the Baum Entities will be investing in the Partnership.

11. Section 17(f) of the Act provides that the securities and similar investments of a registered management investment company must be placed in the custody of a bank, a member of a national securities exchange, or the company itself in accordance with SEC rules. The Partnership requests an exemption from section 17(f) and rule 17f-1 to the extent necessary to permit a member of the Baum Entities to act as custodian without a written contract. Because there is such a close association between the Partnership and the Baum Entities, requiring a detailed, written contract would expose the Partnership to unnecessary burden and expense. Further, any securities of the Partnership which will be held by the Baum Entities will have the protection of fidelity bonds. An exemption is requested from the terms of rule 17f-1(b) (4), as the partnership does not believe that the expense of retaining an independent accountant to conduct periodic verifications is warranted given the community of interest of all the parties involved and the existing requirement for an independent annual audit.

12. Section 17(g) of the Act and rule 17g-1 generally require the bonding of officers and employees of a registered investment company who have access to securities or funds of the company. The Partnership requests an exemption from section 17(g) and rule 17g-1 to the extent necessary to permit the Partnership to comply with rule 17g-1 without the necessity of having a majority of the managers of the General Partner who are not "interested persons" take such actions and make such approvals as are set forth in rule 17g-1. Because all of the managers of the General Partner will be affiliated persons, without the requested relief, the Partnership could not comply with rule 17g-1. The Partnership will except for the requirements of such approvals by "not interested" persons, otherwise comply with rule 17g-1.

13. Section 17(j) of the Act and rule 17j-1 make it unlawful for certain enumerated persons to engage in fraudulent, deceitful, or manipulative practices in connection with the purchase or sale of a security held or to be acquired by an investment company. Rule 17j-1 also requires every registered investment company, its adviser, and its principal underwriter to adopt a written code of ethics with provisions reasonably designed to prevent fraudulent activities, and to institute procedures to prevent violations of the code. The Partnership requests an exemption from section 17(j) and rule 17j-1 (except rule 17j-1(a)) because the requirements contained therein are burdensome and unnecessary. Requiring the Partnership to adopt a written code of ethics and requiring access persons to report each of their securities transactions would be time consuming and expensive, and would serve little purpose in light of, among other things, the community of interest among the Partners by virtue of their common association in the Baum Entities and the substantial and largely overlapping protections afforded by the conditions with which the Partnership has agreed to comply. Accordingly, the Partnership believes that the requested exemption is consistent with the purposes of the Act because the dangers against which section 17(j) and rule 17j-1 are intended to guard will not be present.

14. Sections 30(a), (b), and (d), and the rules under these sections, generally require that registered investment companies prepare and file with the SEC and mail to their shareholders certain periodic reports and financial statements. The Partnership asserts that the forms prescribed by the SEC for periodic reports have little relevance to the Partnership and would entail administrative and legal costs that outweigh any benefit to the Limited Partners. Exemptive relief is requested to the extent necessary to permit the Partnership to report quarterly and annually in the manner referred to above. An exemption also is requested from section 30(f) to exempt the General Partner, Adviser, employees and managers of the General Partner and the Adviser, and any other persons who may be deemed members of an advisory board of the Partnership from filing forms 3, 4, and 5 under section 16 of the Exchange Act with respect to their ownership of interests in the Partnership.

15. The Partnership believes that the exemptions requested are consistent with the protection of investors in view of the substantial community of interest among all the parties and the fact that the Partnership will be an "employees' securities company" as that term is defined in section 2(a)(13).

16. The Partnership states that each Eligible Officer will be equipped by experience and education to understand and evaluate the structure, management, and plan of the Partnership as compared to other investment opportunities, to understand and evaluate the risks of investing in the Partnership, and to understand that the Partnership is being offered without registration under the Act and the Securities Act and the protections afforded thereby.

Applicant's Conditions

The Partnership agrees to comply with the following as conditions if the requested order is granted:

1. Each proposed transaction otherwise prohibited by section 17(a) or section 17(d) and rule 17d-1 to which the Partnership is a party (the "Section 17 Transactions") will be effected only if the General Partner determines that: (a) the terms of the transaction, including the consideration to be paid or received, are fair and reasonable to the Partners and do not involve overreaching of the Partnership or its Partners on the part of any person concerned; and (b) the transaction is consistent with the interests of the Partners, the Partnership's organizational documents, and the Partnership's reports to its Partners. In addition, the General Partner will record and preserve a description of such affiliated transactions, their findings, the information or materials upon which their findings are based and the basis therefor. All such records will be maintained for the life of the Partnership, and at least two years thereafter, and will be subject to examination by the SEC and its staff.²

2. In connection with the Section 17 Transactions, the General Partner, will adopt and periodically review and update, procedures designed to ensure that reasonable inquiry is made, prior to the consummation of any such transaction, with respect to the possible involvement in the transaction of any affiliated person or promoter or principal underwriter for the Partnership, or any affiliated person of such a person, promoter or principal underwriter.

² The Partnership will preserve the accounts, books, and other documents required to be maintained in an easily accessible place for the first two years.

3. The General Partner will not invest the funds of the Partnership in any investment in which a "Co-Investor" has or proposes to acquire the same class of securities of the same issuer, where the investment involves a joint enterprise or other joint arrangement within the meaning of rule 17d-1 in which the Partnership and the Co-Investor are participants, unless any such Co-Investor, prior to disposing of all or part of its investment, (a) gives the General Partner sufficient, but not less than one day's notice of its intent to dispose of its investment, and (b) refrains from disposing of its investment unless the Partnership has the opportunity to dispose of the Partnership's investment prior to or concurrently with, and on the same terms as, and pro rata with the Co-Investor. The term "Co-Investor" means any person who is: (a) an "affiliated person" (as such term is defined in the Act) of the Partnership; (b) a member of the Baum Entities; (c) an officer or director of one or more of the Baum Entities; or (d) a company in the General Partner or Adviser acts as a general partner or has a similar capacity to control the sale or other disposition of the company's securities (including without limitation other Investor Fund). In addition, within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Partnership or as soon as practicable thereafter, the General Partner shall send a report to each person who was a Partner at any time during the fiscal year then ended, setting forth such tax information as shall be necessary for the preparation by the Partner of his, her, or its federal and state income tax returns and a report of the investment activities of the Partnership during such year.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Depository Trust Company; Order Granting Accelerated Approval of a Proposed Rule Change To Establish a Custody Service for Certain Non-Depository Eligible Securities

June 14, 1996.

On April 2, 1996, The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") a proposed rule change (File No. SR-DTC-96-08) pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities

³ The Partnership will preserve the accounts, books, and other documents required to be maintained in an easily accessible place for the first two years.

Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")¹ to establish a custody service for certain non-depository eligible securities. Notice of the proposal was published in the Federal Register on June 7, 1996.² No comment letters were received. For the reasons discussed below, the Commission is granting accelerated approval of the proposed rule change.

I. Description

The rule change will establish a method by which the securities industry can centralize the safe-keeping of certificates which are not currently deposited at DTC because either the DTC participant desires that the certificate be held in customer or firm name or the issue is not eligible for full depository services (e.g., securities with certain transfer restrictions). The Custody Service will permit DTC participants to deposit such securities at DTC for safe-keeping and other limited depository services.³ Certificates deposited through the Custody Service will be held by DTC in customer or firm name and will not be transferred into DTC's nominee name. Therefore, a security issue deposited through the Custody Service ("Custody Issue") will not be eligible for all DTC book-entry services unless a depositing participant directs DTC to transfer the position originally credited to the participant's custody free account to the participant's general free account.⁴

The Custody Service will be implemented in three phases. This order approves implementation of the first two phases.⁵ As each phase is introduced, additional services will be offered to DTC participants. During Phase I, DTC will accept deposits, process withdrawals, and transfer eligible Custody Issues into a participant's general free account. DTC will designate two segregated ("seg") accounts of the participant's DTC general account for Custody Service use. One seg account will be utilized to reflect securities on deposit with DTC that are stored in DTC's vault ("custody free account"). The second seg account will be utilized to reflect previously deposited securities placed in-transit ("custody transfer account").⁶

DTC participants will access the Custody Service through a new participant terminal system (i.e., DTC's PTS System) application that will interface with the custody certificate database⁷ in a real time manner and will provide separate Custody Service inquiry and processing options. The inquiry options will enable participants to retrieve and view certificate level detail of Custody Service deposits stored in the custody certificate database. In addition to the PTS function, participants will be able to submit Custody Service transactions through existing DTC outputs including computer-to-computer, main frame dual host, and the distributed program link.

Phase II of the Custody Service will add redemption and reorganization services. When a custody position becomes the subject of a reorganization or redemption, DTC generally will report the event to its participants using existing services.⁸ In addition, DTC participants will be able to utilize DTC's Reorg Deposit Service⁹ to present eligible Custody Issues for mandatory reorganizations, full and partial calls, maturities, name changes, reverse splits, mergers, and other similar activities. Participants will be able to submit negotiable and transferrable Custody Issues for voluntary reorganizations through existing, modified services. DTC also will collect and distribute the proceeds derived from the presentment of custody deposits.

In Phase III of the Custody Service, DTC will implement the capability to collect and distribute dividend and interest payments for Custody Issues. DTC intends only to implement Phase I at this time with the other phases to follow in accordance with the experience and needs of DTC participants.¹⁰

DTC believes that the Custody Service will provide brokers and dealers with appropriate control over Custody Issues for purposes of Rule 15c3-3(b)¹¹ under the Act. In accordance with the requirements for the satisfactory control of securities set forth in Rule 15c3-3(c)(5),¹² DTC believes (i) it is a "bank" within the meaning of Section 3(a)(6) of the Act because it is a member bank of the Federal Reserve System, (ii) the delivery of Custody Issues to brokers and dealers will not require the payment of money or value, and (iii) the Custody Issues in DTC's custody or control will not be subject to any right, charge, security interest, lien, or claim of any kind in favor of DTC or any person claiming through DTC.

II. Discussion

Section 17A(b)(3)(F)¹³ of the Act requires that the rules of a clearing agency be designed to promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions and to assure the safeguarding of securities and funds which are in the custody or control of the clearing agency or for which it is responsible. The Commission believes DTC's proposed

⁵ Phase I will be implemented immediately and Phase II will be implemented in several months. DTC will be required to notify the Commission in writing thirty days prior to the scheduled implementation of Phase II of the Custody Service or sooner, if known. If there are deviations in the manner of implementation or in the operation of Phase II from those that are described in the proposed rule change (File No. SR-DTC-96-08), DTC will be required to file a proposed rule change in accordance with Section 19(b)(1) of the Act prior to commencement of operation of Phase II. In addition, DTC will be required to file a proposed rule change pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) prior to implementation of Phase III because Phase III operations will require additional development to accommodate the processing of stock dividends.

⁶ For example, a participant having previously deposited into the Custody Service a certificate ("certificate No. 1") representing 1,000 shares of a Custody Issue registered in the name of ABC submits a withdrawal-by-transfer ("WT") instruction to register 100 shares of such stock in the name of XYZ with the balance to remain registered in the name of ABC. Upon receipt of the WT request, DTC will (i) decrease the participant's custody free account by 1,000 shares, (ii) increase the participant's custody transfer account by 1000 shares, and (iii) delete certificate No. 1 from the custody certificate database (described infra note 7). Certificate No. 1 and the WT instructions then will be forwarded to the transfer agent. When DTC receives the newly issued certificates from the transfer agent, DTC will (i) decrease the participant's custody transfer account by 1000 shares, (ii) deliver the certificate representing 100 shares to ABC as prescribed by the WT instructions, (iii) increase the participant's custody free account by 900 shares, and (iv) add the certificate representing 900 shares to the custody certificate database.

⁷ The custody certificate database will reflect the certificate number, denomination, issuance date, registration, and other pertinent details of each certificate deposited into the Custody Service.

rule change is consistent with DTC's obligations under Section 17A of the Act because the rule change will allow DTC participants to remove certificates representing Custody Issues from their vaults and to deposit them into the Custody Service at DTC. Depositing certificates into the Custody Service along with the correspondent eligibility of Custody Issues for certain DTC securities processing services should help to reduce the costs, inefficiencies, and risks associated with the physical safekeeping of these securities outside of DTC and thereby should promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of transactions in and the safeguarding of these types of securities. Moreover, the Commission believes the proposal is consistent with DTC's obligations to safeguard securities and funds under its control because Custody Issues on deposit at DTC will not be subject to any right, charge, security interest, lien, or claim of any kind in favor of DTC or any person claiming through DTC.

DTC has requested that the Commission find good cause for approving the proposed rule change prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of notice of the filing. The Commission finds good cause for so approving the proposed rule change because accelerated approval will permit DTC participants to begin immediately the process of transferring Custody Issues to DTC in order that they may utilize the Custody Service as soon as possible. Furthermore, the Commission has not received any comment letters and does not expect to receive any comment letters on the proposal.

III. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and in particular Section 17A of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change (File No. SR-DTC-96-08) be and hereby is approved on an accelerated basis.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.¹⁴

SUMMARY: This document announces Department of Transportation ("Department") policy on the fees charged by Federally-assisted airports to air carriers and other aeronautical users. The statement of policy ("Final Policy") was required by the Federal Aviation Administration Authorization Act of 1994, Public Law 103-305 (August 23, 1994). This statement of policy replaces in its entirety the statement of policy published in the Federal Register on February 3, 1995 ("Interim Policy"). This statement of policy incorporates a substantial modification in the approach of the Interim Policy to determining the reasonableness of fees for facilities other than the airfield and public use roadways. In other respects, the approaches of the two policies are similar. The Department proposed the referenced modification in a notice published in the Federal Register on September 8, 1995 ("Supplemental Proposed Policy"). The Final Policy is not significantly revised from that proposed in the September 8 notice.

DATES: This policy is effective June 19, 1996. This agency action is a statement of policy that relaxes restrictions imposed on airport proprietors by the Interim Policy. The Final Policy does not itself impose additional burdens on airlines and other airport users and does not require airport proprietors to impose such burdens.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Summary of Policy Statement

The Final Policy requires that fees for the use of the airfield and public-use roadways be established on the basis of costs, and it provides detailed guidance on how costs are to be determined and applied to establish fees. Airfield assets must be valued at their historic cost to the original airport proprietor ("HCA value"). The cost-of-service approach is comparable to common practice in setting fees for regulated public utilities. This approach also reflects the nearly universal practice of establishing fees for the use of the airfield at commercial service airports. Even when airfield fees are set by agreement, the agreement usually reflects a cost-of-service approach. The terms of such agreements generally govern how costs will be calculated.

In formulating the Final Policy, the Department has considered and recognized as reasonable practices that have generally been accepted by industry participants as producing reasonable results. The Final Policy does not seek to disturb those practices. In the case of the airfield and public use roadways, industry practice—HCA-based fees—is the approach supported by aeronautical users as most beneficial to them. For other facilities and services, the Final Policy adopts a different approach.

For those other aeronautical facilities, the Final Policy permits fees to be set by any reasonable method. Fees for such facilities and services are generally established through direct negotiations with individual users. In these negotiations, cost, as defined for reasonable airfield fees, is usually but one of a number of considerations affecting the fees. In the Department's experience, this negotiating process has in almost all cases produced reasonable and non-controversial results. The Department expects that these negotiations will continue to produce reasonable results in all but exceptional situations. The Department has, therefore, adopted a more flexible approach to nonairfield fees to preserve the discretion of airport proprietors and aeronautical users to negotiate the terms for using nonairfield facilities.

The Final Policy also reflects the Department's preference for direct negotiation of fee issues between airport proprietors and airport users. Accordingly, the first of the five fundamental principles listed in the Final Policy states the Department's preference for direct negotiation and resolution. In addition, most of the detailed guidance on establishment of airfield fees need not be followed if airfield users have agreed to a different practice.

The Final Policy retains the structure of the Supplemental Proposed Policy and the Interim Policy. The Final Policy begins with a statement of applicability, and is then organized into five general principles with supporting guidance for each.

As noted above, the first principle states the Department's preference for direct local negotiation between airport proprietors and aeronautical users.

The second principle restates the legal requirement that rates, fees and charges to aeronautical users must be fair and reasonable, with more detailed guidance on the practices and restrictions that define "fair and reasonable." The detailed guidance applies for the most part to fees charged to aeronautical users for airfield facilities and public-use roadways. For other aeronautical facilities, the policy permits fees to be established using any reasonable methodology. Department oversight of these fees focuses on monitoring for progressive accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenue. For the airfield and public-use roadways, the policy incorporates, among other things, the following: flexibility to deviate from the policy guidance based on agreement with airfield users; recognition that both compensatory and residual pricing approaches are legitimate; standards for the valuation of airfield property; prescription of the kinds of costs that can be reflected in the airfield rate base; and guidance on subsidization of other airports. The Final Policy makes certain distinctions in the reasonable accommodation of air carriers versus other aeronautical users. The Final Policy does not establish standards for fees paid by nonaeronautical users or limit the amount of revenues generated by nonaeronautical fees.

The third principle restates the legal prohibition on unjustly discriminatory rates and charges. Guidance identifies some practices that are required to avoid unjust discrimination and some practices that not considered to be unjustly discriminatory.

The fourth principle restates the legal obligation to maintain a fee and rental structure that makes the airport as self-sustaining as possible under the circumstances existing at the airport. Supplemental guidance encourages the sponsor of an airport that is not currently self-sustaining to establish long-term goals and targets to make the airport financially self-sustaining. The self-sustainability requirement must be included in each sponsor's grant assurances pursuant to statute and is subject to enforcement by the FAA in accordance with its grant compliance procedures. However, the Department will not consider on the merits a complaint as to the reasonableness of an airport fee based solely on alleged non-compliance with the self-sustainability requirement. A complaint about compliance with the self-sustainability requirement would be considered by the FAA under its administrative complaint procedures.

The guidance under this principle provides that the Department may investigate the reasonableness of aeronautical fees in a case of progressive accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenue.

The fifth principle restates the basic legal requirements for the application and use of airport revenues. Supplemental guidance has been proposed in the Notice of Proposed Policy and Procedures Concerning the Use of Airport Revenue published at 61 FR 7134 (February 26, 1995).

Finally, the Department is willing to consider arguments that specific provisions of the policy should not apply to a particular airport fee due to unusual circumstances in the context of a proceeding to review that fee. See Los Angeles International Rates Proceeding ("LAX I"), Order 95-6-36, at 16 (June 30, 1995); Second Los Angeles International Airport Rates Proceeding ("LAX II"), Order 95-12-33, at 15 (December 22, 1995).

Background

Two federal statutes have long imposed a reasonableness requirement on the fees charged aeronautical users by airports. When an airport accepts Federal grant money for an airport improvement, it must give certain assurances, including the assurance that the airport will be available for public use on fair and reasonable terms without unjust discrimination. Section 511 of the Airports and Airways Improvement Act of 1982, ("AAIA"), recodified as 49 USC § 47107. This assurance includes an obligation to charge aeronautical users of the airport only reasonable fees. Similarly, section 113(b) of the Federal Aviation Act, the Anti-Head Tax Act, recodified as 49 USC § 40116, allows a publicly-owned airport authority to collect only reasonable landing fees and charges from airlines using airport facilities. See Northwest Airlines v. County of Kent ("Kent County"), 114 S.Ct. 855 (1994). These statutes, however, do not authorize the Department to regulate the reasonableness of fees charged non-aeronautical users.

Airport fees and revenues are subject to other legal requirements as well. Section 511 of the AAIA also bars airports, except for certain grandfathered airports, from diverting airport revenue to nonairport purposes. 49 USC § 47107(b). Section 511 also requires each airport to provide assurances that the airport will maintain a fee schedule that will make the airport as self-sustaining as possible under the circumstances existing at the airport. 49 USC § 47107(a)(13). In addition, the Chicago Convention and many of the United States' bilateral air services agreements obligate the United States to ensure that airports charge foreign airlines the same fees as the U.S. airlines that operate similar services.

On June 9, 1994, the Office of the Secretary of Transportation ("OST") and the Federal Aviation Administration ("FAA") issued two related notices on the subject of Federal requirements for airport rates and charges. The Department took this action largely in order to better implement its responsibility to enforce the reasonable fee requirements. A notice of proposed policy entitled "Proposed Policy Regarding Airport Rates and Charges" listed and explained the principles that the Department believes define Federal policy on the rates and fees that an airport proprietor can charge to aeronautical users of the airport. Docket No. 27782 (59 FR 29874, June 9, 1994). Notice 94-18, a notice of proposed rulemaking entitled "Rules of Practice for Federally Assisted Airports," proposed detailed procedures for the filing, investigation, and adjudication of complaints against airports for alleged violation of Federal requirements involving fees and other airport-related requirements. Docket No. 27783 (59 FR 29880, June 9, 1994).

The FAA Authorization Act of 1994, Public Law 103-305 ("1994 Authorization Act") was signed into law on August 23, 1994. Section 113 of that legislation, 49 U.S.C. § 47129, specifically addresses airport fees. Section 47129 directs the Secretary of Transportation ("Secretary") to determine whether an airport fee imposed on an air carrier is reasonable, upon written request by the airport proprietor or upon complaint filed by an affected carrier within 60 days after the carrier receives written notice of the establishment or increase of the fee. 49 USC § 47129(a)(1). An airport fee subject to section 47129 "may be calculated pursuant to either a compensatory or residual fee methodology" or a combination thereof. 49 U.S.C. § 47129(a)(2). Further, in determining the reasonableness of a fee, the Department "may only determine whether the fee is reasonable or unreasonable and shall not set the level of the fee." 49 USC § 47129(a)(3).

Section 47129 also directs the Secretary to publish in the Federal Register final regulations, policy statements or guidelines establishing (1) procedures for acting on written requests or complaints; and (2) "the standards or guidelines that shall be used * * * in determining under [section 47129] whether an airport fee is reasonable." 49 USC § 47129(b)(1), (2).

Pursuant to 49 USC 47129(e), the section does not apply to: (1) a fee imposed pursuant to a written agreement with air carriers; (2) a fee imposed "pursuant to a financing agreement or covenant entered into prior to the date of enactment of [section 47129];" or (3) any other existing fee not in dispute on the date of enactment. In addition, nothing in section 47129 shall adversely affect: (1) the rights of any party under an existing written agreement between an air carrier and the airport proprietor; or (2) the ability of the airport to meet its obligations under a financing agreement, or covenant that is in force on the date of enactment. 49 USC § 47129(f).

In response to provisions in the 1994 Authorization Act, the Department issued a supplemental notice of proposed policy with revisions to reflect relevant provisions of that legislation. Docket No. 27782 (59 FR 51835, October 12, 1994).

After reviewing all comments received in response to the notices, the OST and the FAA, on January 30, 1995, issued a "Policy Regarding Airport Rates and Charges," the Interim Policy, and requested further public comment. Docket No. 27782 (60 FR 6906, February 3, 1995). Two airport owners are seeking judicial review of the Interim Policy. City of Los Angeles et al. v. U.S. Department of Transportation et al., D.C. Cir. Nos. 95-1188 and 95-1190 (argued March 4, 1996).

After reviewing the comments received in response to the February 3 request for comments, the OST and the FAA published on September 8, 1995 a supplemental notice of proposed policy, the Supplemental Proposed Policy. Docket No. 27782 (60 FR 47012).

The procedural rules required by section 47129(b)(1) were published in the Federal Register on the same date as the Interim Policy. Docket No. 49830 (60 FR 6919, February 3, 1995). The 1994 Authorization Act also required that the Secretary issue a statement of policies and procedures for the enforcement of Federal restrictions on the use of airport revenue. On February 20, 1996, the FAA issued a Notice of Proposed Policy and Procedures Concerning the Use of Airport Revenue. Docket No. 28472 (61 FR 7134, February 26, 1996).

Comments on the Supplemental Proposed Policy

The Department received more than 50 comments on the Supplemental Proposed Policy. Comments were received from almost all segments of the aviation community, including: airport operators and representative organizations; associations representing U.S. and foreign air carriers and commuter airlines; representatives of other aeronautical businesses at airports; general aviation representatives; a representative of airport concessionaires; individuals with experience in airport operations; and a law firm. In addition, the Department held two public meetings to solicit public input on the Supplemental Proposed Policy. Verbatim transcripts of the meetings have been included in the docket of this proceeding.

The two major US representative organizations for airport operators—Airport Operators Council International/North America (“ACI”) and American Association of Airport Executives (“AAAE”)—filed joint comments. Many individual airport operators endorsed the joint comments of their representative organizations, but some larger airport operators commented independently. Many airport operators’ comments were similar, and all of the comments tended to focus on a common group of issues.

On the airline side, the Air Transport Association of America (“ATA”) and Regional Airline Association (“RAA”) filed joint comments. These comments and those of the International Air Transport Association (“IATA”) also tended to focus on the same issues and generally took the same position.

Accordingly, the following discussion of comments is organized by issue, not by commenter. Issues are discussed in the order they arise in the Final Policy. Airport proprietors and their representatives who took the same position on an issue are collectively referred to as “airport proprietors.” ATA/RAA and IATA are referred to as “carriers” when the organizations took common positions. The summary of comments is intended to represent the general divergence or correspondence in industry views on various issues. It is not intended to be an exhaustive restatement of the comments received. All comments received were considered by the Department, even if not specifically identified in this summary.

After the comment period closed, ACI/AAAE filed reply comments to the comments filed by ATA/RAA. ATA/RAA in turn objected to the reply comments. ATA/RAA requested that the Department reopen the comment period to allow for the filing of reply comments generally, if we accepted the ACI/AAAE reply. The Department has accepted the reply comments for the record. However, we determined that reopening the comment period was not necessary because ACI/AAAE’s reply comments were largely repetitions of arguments presented in earlier comments. In no case are the reply comments the sole basis for any decision.

In addition to specific changes noted in the discussion of the issues, the Department has made editorial changes throughout the Final Policy to enhance readability and clarity.

The Department’s Authority to Regulate Aeronautical Fees

As noted above, airports have been required by two Federal statutes—the AAIA and the Anti-Head Tax Act—to charge only reasonable fees to aeronautical users. The Department has the responsibility for enforcing these requirements, and the courts have held that a Department decision on the reasonableness of an airport fee is entitled to substantial deference. Kent County, 114 S.Ct. at 864, n. 14; New England Legal Foundation v. Massachusetts Port Authority, 883 F.2d 157, 169 (1st Cir. 1989). Section 113 of the 1994 Reauthorization Act, codified as 49 USC § 47129, requires the Department to resolve significant disputes over the reasonableness of new or increased airport fees on an expedited basis. In that statute Congress also required the Secretary to establish standards for determining the reasonableness of an airport fee. Congress did not limit the Secretary’s discretion in any way, except by stating that the Department may not actually set an airport fee.

Given the statutory authority vested in the Secretary, we find that we are empowered both to adopt the guidelines contained in this Final Policy and, in cases heard under section 47129, to examine the fee methodology used by an airport. See LAX I, Order 95–6–36 at 14–15.

ACI/AAAE argue that we must give an airport’s fee judgments a presumption of validity, since the decisions of state and local governments are normally entitled to such a presumption. The Final Policy, however, gives airport proprietors substantial discretion in establishing a fee structure. In addition, the airlines challenging an airport fee have the burden of proof. LAX I, Order 95–6–36 at 17–18. We do not agree that we should include an additional presumption in favor of airport judgments on fees in the final Policy. There is a substantial Federal interest in ensuring that aeronautical users pay only reasonable fees, as shown by Congress’ directive that we determine on an expedited basis whether such fees are reasonable when carriers file complaints against new or increased airport fees that meet the jurisdictional requirements of section 47129. Congress’ requirements that we publish guidelines for determining the reasonableness of airport fees further indicates that we should carefully examine an airport’s fee methodology without presuming that the airport’s judgment is likely to be correct.

We also note that we did not use such a presumption in the two LAX cases or in our earlier investigation of fees charged by the Massachusetts Port Authority (“Massport”) under its PACE program. Investigation into Massport’s Landing Fees, FAA Docket 13–88–2, Opinion and Order (December 22, 1988) (“Massport Order”), aff’d New England Legal Foundation v. Massachusetts Port Authority, 883 F.2d 157 (1st Cir. 1989).

1. Applicability to General Aviation and Foreign Air Carriers

The Supplemental Proposed Policy would apply to aeronautical uses of any airport, including a general aviation airport. However, the Department proposed to take into account differences in methodologies and mechanisms that airport proprietors may use to charge for different facilities and for different category of users. Proposed Applicability of Policy, section A. The Department also proposed that, at airports where fees high enough to achieve self-sustainability would be too high to permit viable commercial operations, the Department would not object to lower fees to assure that the public had access to commercial aeronautical services. Proposed para. 4.1.2. In the explanatory statement, the Department proposed to add language clarifying that in situations not covered by section 47129, the FAA would apply the policy in its role as administrator of grants under the Airport Improvement Program (“AIP”), assuring that an AIP grant applicant is in compliance with its grant assurances. The FAA would not provide a forum for resolving private disputes.

Airport proprietors: Airport proprietors generally oppose application of the policy to general aviation airports and to general aviation facilities. ACI/AAAE consider the Supplemental Proposed Policy to be an improvement over the interim policy. However, a policy is not needed for general aviation airports and facilities because section 47129 was enacted to respond to airline concerns. If the Department disagrees, ACI/AAAE prefer a separate policy.

Some individual airport proprietors argue that the terms of section 47129 preclude adoption of a policy applicable to any fees except those charged to air carriers and not otherwise excluded by the terms of section 47129. The provisions of section 47129 indicate a belief by Congress that, to minimize the adverse effects of Departmental involvement, certain aeronautical fees should be completely exempt from challenge. Others argue only that such an extension is unwise, based on the differences between commercial service and general aviation airports.

In addition, some airport proprietors object to the application of the policy and the expedited procedures to complaints brought by foreign air carriers on the same grounds.

General aviation: The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association ("AOPA") explicitly objects to exclusion of general aviation airports from the scope of the policy, and the National Air Transportation Association ("NATA") supports applying at least some elements of the policy to general aviation airports.

Other commenters: One individual commenter observed that at many compensatory airports, general aviation pays less than its allocated costs and is subsidized by airlines and their passengers, who suffer congestion caused by these below-cost fees.

The Final Policy: The Final Policy statement applies to general aviation airports and fees charged to general aviation users. However, in response to the comments, we have exercised our discretion to further limit the circumstances in which we will consider a complaint about the reasonableness of fees imposed at a general aviation airport. In addition, the Department reaffirms its earlier decision that foreign air carriers have the same rights as U.S. air carriers under section 47129.

As noted in the preamble to the Supplemental Proposed Policy, the Department has ample authority under other provisions of the Airport and Airway Improvement Act of 1982, as amended ("AAIA")—49 USC §§ 47107(a), 47122—to adopt policies and guidance defining reasonable fees to be charged by general aviation airports and for general aviation use of commercial service airports. We find nothing in the statute that exempts fees imposed for general aviation uses of any airport from the requirement that airport proprietors charge all aeronautical users reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory fees. The commenters have not provided any other persuasive reason for using one set of standards to judge the reasonableness of landing fees charged to air carriers and a different set of standards to judge the reasonableness of landing fees charged to other users.

However, as noted previously, the Department recognizes that airport proprietors, especially proprietors of general aviation airports, may use different methods for setting fees for general aviation users than those commonly used for setting fees paid by airlines. The Department reiterates its commitment to apply the policy flexibly in evaluating general aviation fees. The narrowing of the detailed guidance on establishing fees to the airfield and public-use roadways should itself provide increased flexibility to general aviation airports over the Interim Policy.

Even as to the airfield, the Department does not anticipate that application of the policy will be unduly burdensome. The Department understands that many general aviation airports operate at a loss, calculated according to generally accepted accounting principles. By definition, such airports are not generating excessive surpluses. The Department would not expect such airports to increase their losses by paying for sophisticated cost allocation and accounting systems to prove that they are losing money. Similarly, the Department understands that many airport proprietors apply a single charge, e.g., a fuel flowage fee, to general aviation users for their use of all aeronautical facilities. The Department does not intend to disturb this practice. Further, a charge that covers the cost of providing nonairfield facilities would be evaluated under paragraph 2.6 of the Final Policy, as discussed below.

The Department notes the concern that general aviation users are being subsidized by other users at many airports. The Department emphasizes that an airport proprietor generally may not charge any aeronautical user or user group more than its allocated costs based on a reasonable, transparent and not unjustly discriminatory cost allocation methodology. Our general approach in this policy is to refrain from disturbing common and non-controversial industry practice. Therefore, the Department will not object when an airport proprietor charges particular user groups less than their allocated costs, if other aeronautical users are not required to finance the shortfall. The applicable Federal requirements do not compel airport proprietors to set fees so high that they become a financial bar to the use of the airport.

The Department is making three modifications to the Final Policy in response to concerns raised in the comments. First, we will strengthen the language of the applicability section that distinguishes the FAA's role in processing complaints about general aviation fees from the Department's role in processing complaints under section 47129. Second, because the threat of unreasonably high fees is remote at most general aviation airports, the Final Policy provides that the FAA will not ordinarily undertake an investigation of the reasonableness of a general aviation airport's fees absent evidence of a progressive accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenues. The general aviation airport segment of the industry should not be burdened with the cost of developing sophisticated accounting systems to address a problem that will occur, rarely, if at all. An allegation of unjust discrimination would be considered by the FAA in accordance with the Final Policy. Third, proposed par. 3.4.1 would require common costs to be allocated "according to a reasonable, transparent and not unjustly discriminatory cost allocation formula" that meets the conditions specified in that paragraph. Because many smaller airports cannot afford to develop sophisticated cost allocation formulae, the reference to "cost allocation methodology." If the airport proprietor elects to develop a cost allocation formula, the formula must meet the conditions specified in that paragraph.

As to the application of the policy to foreign airlines, the relevant statutes make it clear that the policy must apply equally to U.S. and foreign airlines. First, we are adopting the Final Policy primarily because Congress directed us in 49 USC § 47129 to establish guidelines or standards for determining the reasonableness of a new or increased airport fee in cases heard under that statute. The Department analyzed the statute's applicability and determined in LAX I that 49 USC § 47129 must be read as giving foreign airlines the same right as U.S. airlines to file complaints and obtain relief. Order 95-6-36 at 53-56. We reaffirmed that determination in LAX II. Order 95-12-33 at 52. Since section 47129 is the principal basis for the adoption of the Final Policy, the Final Policy must apply to foreign airlines.

Even if Section 47129 did not cover foreign airlines, the Final Policy would have to govern the assessment of the reasonableness of fees charged to foreign airlines. The airport grant statute specifically requires the Department to obtain assurances from each airport sponsor obtaining federal funds that the airport will not unjustly discriminate against any aeronautical user. 49 USC § 47107(a)(1). This provision requires an airport to charge foreign airlines the same fees as similarly situated U.S. airlines. In addition, the United States' obligation under many international agreements to ensure that foreign airlines are treated the same as U.S. airlines would require us to adopt the same standards for determining the reasonableness of airport fees, whether the fees are paid by U.S. airlines or foreign airlines, even if Congress had not enacted 49 USC § 47129.

Several airport parties now object to the Department's adoption of procedural rules allowing foreign airlines to obtain an expedited investigation under section 47129. However, only the City of Los Angeles objected to the inclusion of foreign airlines during the rulemaking proceeding that led to adoption of the Rules of Practice for airport rates and charges cases. 59 FR 53380, 53383 (October 24, 1994); 60 FR 6919 (February 3, 1995). At that time, the Department determined as a matter of discretion that foreign airlines should have the ability to request an expedited investigation, even though it assumed that they did not have such rights under section 47129. The Department's later decision that foreign airlines are covered by 49 USC § 47129 means that foreign airlines by statute have the same procedural rights as U.S. airlines.

2. Applicability to Fees Set by Agreement

Section 47129(e), 49 USC § 47129(e), provides that the section does not apply, inter alia, to fees imposed pursuant to a written agreement with air carriers. Section 47129(f), 49 USC § 47129(f), provides, inter alia, that the section shall not adversely affect the rights of parties to an existing agreement between an air carrier and airport proprietor.

In the applicability section of the Supplemental Proposed Policy, the Department stated that section 47129 did not repeal or narrow the scope of the reasonableness requirement for airport fees. The Department proposed to apply the policy in the case of a dispute over the reasonableness of any aeronautical fee. However, disputes over matters described in sections 47129 (e) and (f) would not be processed under the procedures mandated by section 47129. In the explanatory statement, the Department proposed to take into account the existence of any agreement between U.S. and foreign air carriers and the airport proprietor in making its determination of reasonableness.

The comments: Airport proprietors generally argue that the policy should not apply to fees set by agreements with carriers. ACI/AAAE argue that application of the policy to such fees would frustrate the direction given by Congress and would adversely affect airports that rely on agreements that produce steady and predictable revenue flows. ACI/AAAE and individual airport commenters also argue that the Department is legally barred from applying the policy to fees set by agreement because sections 47129(e) and (f) limit the application of all section 47129, not just the provisions governing the expedited procedures. ACI/AAAE refer to numerous court decisions overturning agency actions that have not properly adhered to statutory exceptions.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Final Policy applies to fees set by agreement, to the extent discussed below. We do not interpret section 47129 to preclude an investigation of fees set by agreement or the application of the policy in such an investigation. However, in keeping with our policy of encouraging direct negotiation of fees, the Department does not expect to investigate routinely fees set by agreement. Moreover, the Department has decided not to consider complaints about the reasonableness of fees set by agreement if filed by parties to the agreement. The Final Policy is modified to reflect this decision.

However, we do not believe that Congress intended to deprive non-party carriers of the opportunity to have their airport fees reviewed by the FAA, solely because the fees are included in an agreement between the airport proprietor and other airlines. While section 47129 directed the Secretary to establish a policy on reasonable fees, the Secretary already had authority to publish such a policy. Section 47129 did not repeal this authority or the underlying requirement of reasonableness. The existence of an agreement may be a critical factor in evaluating the reasonableness of a fee, but section 47129 does not, by its terms, exempt fees set by agreement from the requirement of reasonableness.

However, the Department agrees that section 47129(e) was enacted to preclude carriers from improving on their bargain by bringing an administrative complaint after they have reached agreement with an airport proprietor. That outcome would be unfair to airport proprietors who bargain in good faith. The threat of a complaint could discourage airport proprietors from putting forward their best offers in negotiations. The Department is reluctant to interpret section 47129(e) in a way that would discourage effective negotiations.

Complaints about fees charged to non-parties to the agreement brought by non-parties to the agreement would be considered under provisions of the policy applicable to non-signatory carriers, if significant, as discussed below under the heading "Charges to Non-Signatory Carriers." By giving notice that non-parties may challenge fees imposed on them by agreement, the Department expects that airport proprietors and airport users will be able to achieve reasonable results in their negotiations and obviate a full investigation and determination of reasonableness by the Department.

3. Applicability to Fees Imposed Pursuant to Financing Agreements

Section 47129(e)(2), 49 USC § 47129(e)(2), provides that the section does not apply to fees imposed pursuant to a financing agreement or covenant entered into before the date of enactment of the statute (August 23, 1994). Section 47129(f)(2), 49 USC § 47129(f)(2), provides that the section shall not adversely affect the ability of an airport proprietor to meet its obligations under a financing agreement or covenant in effect on August 23, 1994.

In the applicability section of the Supplemental Proposed Policy, the Department stated that section 47129 did not repeal or narrow the scope of the reasonableness requirement for airport fees. The Department proposed to apply the policy in the case of a dispute over the reasonableness of any aeronautical fee. However, disputes over matters described in sections 47129 (e) and (f) would not be processed under the procedures mandated by section 47129. The treatment of financing agreements was not otherwise discussed in the Supplemental Proposed Policy.

However, in its order setting for hearing under section 47129, carrier complaints against fees imposed by the Puerto Rico Port Authority, the Department further interpreted the financing agreement exceptions. Puerto Rico Ports Authority Rates Proceeding, Order 95-4-6 (April 3, 1995). The Department stated that:

[I]n order to successfully invoke the exception in subsection (e)(2), the airport must show more than generalized language in a financing agreement as the source of the imposition of the fee upon the air carrier. The airport must demonstrate that the agreement specifically required the airport to increase directly the fees to air carriers or that it so circumscribed other alternatives that the airport had to impose a new fee or to increase an existing fee. Order 95-4-6 at 13.

The Department explained that this interpretation of section 47129(e)(2) was necessary so that the provision would not make the statute a nullity. Id. at 12.

The comments: Airport proprietors urge the Department to revise its interpretation of section 47129(e) to recognize generalized rate covenant language. The airport proprietors argue that Congress was well aware of the broad terms of typical rate covenants and drafted section 47129(e)(2) to cover the typical situation. They further argue that the legislative history makes clear that section 47129(e)(2) was enacted to avoid disrupting existing financing agreements.

The airport proprietors also argue that their preferred interpretation will not render section 47129 a nullity. They assert that airport proprietors do not routinely invoke a rate covenant as a justification for a fee increase. Doing so would signal dire financial circumstances. Further, if an airport proprietor must raise fees to comply with a rate covenant, it will not single out airlines or other aeronautical users, but will raise the fees for all airport users.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department will not modify the interpretation of the financing agreement exceptions. As noted in Order 95-4-6, the airport proprietors' preferred interpretation could turn section 47129(e)(2) into the proverbial exception that swallows the rule.

Moreover, the Department's interpretation does not threaten to disrupt existing financing agreements. Under the Final Policy, debt-service expenses, including reasonable amounts for debt-service coverage, may be included in the rate-base. In an investigation into the reasonableness of a fee, the airport proprietor is free to show that a challenged fee is needed to meet debt-service expenses associated with a general rate covenant. However, the airport proprietor may not rely on a general rate covenant to invoke section 47129(f)(2) as a procedural bar to an investigation of the reasonableness of the disputed fee. See, Order 95-4-6 at 13.

4. Definition of Exclusive/Nonexclusive use Aprons for HCA Valuation

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that airfield assets would be valued using the HCA valuation methodology. Proposed par. 2.5.1. Airfield assets would include ramps or aprons not leased on an exclusive use basis and associated land. Proposed Applicability, Section D.

The comments: The State of Alaska, which operates most public airports in Alaska, expressed concern that the HCA valuation requirement for aprons might adversely affect its charging practices. The State's lease lots typically abut the side of a public-use apron and include a portion of the apron for exclusive aircraft parking. Treating the lease lots as a non-exclusively leased apron subject to the HCA valuation requirement would devastate the airport system's revenue situation.

The Department did not receive any other comments on this issue.

The Final Policy: No modification to the Supplemental Proposed Policy is required to address the concerns of the commenter. As described in the comments, the portion of the apron included in each lease lot is available for exclusive use. Accordingly, this portion of the apron and the remainder of the lease lot would be considered exclusively leased, even though the remainder of the apron is a public-use facility.

The Department has, however, decided to modify the definition to avoid potential confusion. We are modifying the provision to exclude from the definition of airfield assets an apron or ramp which is the subject of a preferential, as well as an exclusive lease or use agreement.

Aprons or ramps that are treated as airfield assets are subject to the general HCA valuation requirement. In contrast, the airport proprietor may use any reasonable method to establish the fee for any other apron or ramp. The Department originally proposed this disparate treatment because exclusively leased facilities have more in common with terminals and other aeronautical facilities than with runways and taxiways. In particular, their use and the fees for their use are ordinarily the subject of individual negotiations.

On further consideration of the issue, the Department has concluded that the preferential use agreements are as likely as exclusive use agreements to be the result of individual negotiations and to give rise to the characteristics that make a ramp or apron more like a terminal than a runway. Many lease and use agreements may provide for only preferential use. The Department is therefore modifying the Final Policy to exclude from the definition of airfield assets, aprons and ramps that are subject to a preferential or exclusive lease or use agreement.

5. Cross Crediting Aeronautical Users With Nonaeronautical Revenues

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that aeronautical users be entitled to a cross-credit of nonaeronautical revenues only if the airport proprietor agrees, and that the airport proprietor could agree to a cross-credit even if aeronautical users do not agree to cover nonaeronautical losses. Proposed para. 2.1.1. The Supplemental Proposed Policy also proposed that the airport proprietor could not require aeronautical users to cover nonaeronautical losses, except by agreement. Id.

Airport proprietors: Airport proprietors did not address this issue.

Carriers: IATA argues that cross-crediting should be required based on the policy on airport fees set forth by the International Civil Aviation Organization ("ICAO"), laid down in the Statements by the Council to Contracting States on Charges for Airports and Air Navigation Services (ICAO Doc. 9082/4). IATA argues that cross-crediting satisfies the ICAO principle of cost-relatedness, because airport users bring customers to the airport through their operations.

General aviation: AOPA supports mandatory cross-crediting because nonaeronautical businesses thrive due to the ready-made market for their services. AOPA also argues that the Supreme Court's decision in Kent County does not preclude the Department from requiring cross-crediting.

Other commenters: One law firm involved in public finance objects to the proposed requirement that aeronautical users agree to cover nonaeronautical losses. This commenter argues that the proposal is inconsistent with the airport proprietor's right to set fees unilaterally by ordinance or regulation established elsewhere in the policy. The proposal is also inconsistent with the airport proprietor's unconditional right to employ a residual methodology established by 49 USC § 47129(a)(2), according to this commenter.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting Paragraph 2.1.1, as proposed.

The Department will not require cross crediting of nonaeronautical revenues to aeronautical users, because section 47129 does not permit us to do so. Section 47129(a)(2) preserves the discretion of airport proprietors to use the compensatory methodology. The essence of the compensatory methodology is that fees to aeronautical users reflect the costs of serving them with no cross-crediting of nonaeronautical profits or losses.

Moreover, it would be unfair to require airport proprietors to share nonaeronautical profits with aeronautical users, if we did not also require aeronautical users to share nonaeronautical losses with airport proprietors. The aeronautical users requesting cross-crediting have not indicated that they are willing to accept such a requirement. More importantly, they have not identified a legal basis for imposing cross-crediting.

By authorizing the residual methodology, section 47129(a)(2) does not authorize unilateral increases in aeronautical charges to cover nonaeronautical losses. The Department is not aware of any airport proprietor who, at the time of enactment, charged aeronautical users to cover aeronautical losses without the aeronautical users' agreement to do so. No airport proprietor has asserted a unilateral right to do so in this proceeding docket.

Moreover, one of the fundamental concepts of reasonableness is that users should not, without their consent, be burdened with paying for facilities they do not benefit from or use. The law firm's proposal clearly conflicts with this concept.

6. Rate of Return

The Supplemental Proposed Policy did not propose a separate rate of return to be earned by public entities for airfield facilities and public-use roadways. However, the Department recognized that permitting airport proprietors to use any reasonable methodology to determine the fees for other facilities (proposed para 2.6) might allow an airport proprietor to earn a reasonable rate of return for those facilities. The Department also proposed to allow private equity owners of airports to earn a reasonable return on investment in airfield facilities and public-use roadways. Proposed para. 2.4.

Airport proprietors: Airport proprietors argue that they are entitled to earn a rate of return on investment in all facilities, including the airfield. ACI/AAAE point out that public utilities are compensated for forgoing the opportunity to charge market prices by including a rate of return in their rates. The City of Los Angeles and the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey ("PANYNJ") argue that the denial of a rate of return amounts to an unconstitutional taking of property. The PANYNJ also argues that a rate of return is needed to provide for accumulation of cash reserves for investment, to compensate for the risks of those investments, and to meet cash-flow tests of bond indentures.

Carriers: ATA/RAA did not specifically address this issue. IATA prefers allowing airport proprietors a reasonable return on investment, in lieu of an allowance for imputed interest and reasonable reserves.

General aviation: General aviation commenters did not address this issue.

Other commenters: One individual argues that imputed interest is the functional equivalent of a return on investment. This commenter asks the Department to clarify whether a privately-owned airport may include both imputed interest and a return on investment in the airfield rate base.

The Final Policy: The Final Policy does not authorize a separate rate of return for public airport owners. In addition, a new paragraph 2.4.1(a), prohibiting a private equity owner of an airport from charging for both imputed interest and a rate of return on its equity investment in the airfield, is added to the Final Policy.

The Final Policy allows public airport proprietors to include an imputed interest charge in fees for the airfield and public-use roadways. Therefore, a separate return on investment is not justified, and would run counter to traditional concepts of reasonableness. As discussed below under "Application of HCA Requirement to Airfield and Public Use Roadways," the imputed interest charge compensates the airport proprietor for the opportunity costs of its investment in the airfield. The imputed interest charge, therefore, serves the function of a return on investment. In addition, as discussed below, a state or municipal airport proprietor does not have the same entitlement to a return on investment under the Constitution as a private investor.

The Final Policy follows the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy for publicly-owned airports. Proprietors of publicly-owned airports may charge imputed interest on their airfield investments in accordance with the Final Policy. However, allowing an airport proprietor to include an imputed interest charge and a return on investment in its rates could allow for a double recovery of the airport proprietor's capital costs. Therefore, proprietors of publicly-owned airports may not charge an additional rate of return on investment.

Private equity owners may include a reasonable return on equity investment.

Para 2.4. However, under new paragraph 2.4.1, they may not include an imputed interest charge on this investment as well. This new provision is intended to avoid possible double recovery of capital costs by a private equity owner.

In light of other provisions in the Final Policy, the Department does not agree with the PANYNJ's claim that a separate allowance for a return on investment is needed to provide for accumulation of reserves to fund capital projects or to meet cash-flow requirements in financing agreements. The imputed interest charge will provide cash flow for these purposes, and the Final Policy allows the airport proprietor to impose reasonable charges to meet cash-flow requirements in financing agreements. Para. 2.4.4.

7. Imputed Interest

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed to allow the airport proprietor to charge imputed interest, at a reasonable rate, on funds invested in the airfield, with two exceptions. First, imputed interest could not be charged on funds obtained by debt-financing, if the debt-service costs are included in the rate base. Second, imputed interest could not be charged on funds generated by fees charged for the use of airfield assets and airfield services. The Supplemental Proposed Policy did not propose a specific imputed interest rate. Proposed para. 2.4.1.

Airport proprietors: With one exception, airport proprietors argued that imputed interest should be allowed on all internally generated funds invested in the airfield, including funds derived from airfield revenues. ACI/AAAE and many individual airports argue that the proposed limitation will encourage airport proprietors to borrow funds for airfield investment, rather than use internally generated funds. Borrowing may be the most expensive way to obtain financing. One airport proprietor asserts that the Supplemental Proposed Policy is inconsistent with its own long-standing practice, and it argues that the distinction is arbitrary.

In addition, one airport proprietor noted that the Department's approach could be troublesome due to the difficulty of tracing the source of internal funds invested in the airfield. This airport proprietor noted that requiring airport proprietors to trace the source of funds would make them unable, as a practical matter, to charge imputed interest whenever funds could not be traced.

Carriers: Carrier commenters generally object to allowing airport proprietors to charge imputed interest on any investment made with surplus aeronautical revenues. ATA/RAA argue that the imputed interest allowance serves only to permit the accumulation of excess revenues. According to ATA/RAA and USAir, the Supplemental Proposed Policy would allow airport proprietors to force carriers to first invest in the airport (by paying fees in excess of costs) and then to pay interest on that forced investment through the imputed interest charge. ATA/RAA argue that the U.S. Government strenuously objected to this practice when it was attempted at Heathrow Airport. ATA/RAA further argue that public airport operators (state or city governments or authorities) do not have the same profit motives as private businesses. Therefore, they do not need the financial incentive of imputed interest to trigger investments in the airfield.

IATA also argues that an imputed interest charge serves only to generate surplus aeronautical revenues. Elsewhere in its comments, however, IATA supports allowing airport proprietors to earn a reasonable rate of return on investment.

ATA/RAA and IATA also argue that if imputed interest is allowed, the Department should provide guidelines for the computation of interest. ATA supports use of an airport's bond interest investment rate based on the following reasoning. Interest rates are in part determined by the risk of the investment, and investments that are riskier than airport capital projects might generate higher interest rates. However, by law, public airport proprietors must apply airport revenue to the capital or operating costs of the airport. Given this legal limit on the airport proprietor's investment options, the airport proprietor should not be able to claim a higher imputed interest rate base on alternative investments that are theoretically available.

General aviation: General aviation commenters did not address this issue.

Other commenters: One individual commenter suggests that imputed interest is in practical terms the same as a profit or payment for lost income. The commenter argues that lost income is not a cost. This commenter also suggests that the imputed interest charge is a device for airports to circumvent the prohibition on charging depreciation for Federally-financed assets.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy, as proposed. The Department's approach strikes a reasonable balance between legitimate concerns of airport users, on the one hand, and airport proprietors, on the other.

Airport proprietors do have discretion to choose where on the airport to invest surpluses generated by aeronautical fees, as well as nonaeronautical fees. In choosing between two investment options, airport proprietors have an incentive to select the option that provides more revenue for reinvestment in the airport. Barring an imputed interest charge on all funds invested in the airfield would encourage airport proprietors to invest elsewhere on the airport, and would thereby defeat the Department's long-range objective of assuring adequate investment in airport airfield capacity.

However, the carriers' concerns have some justification. Under the Final Policy, airfield fees potentially could generate revenues in excess of an airport proprietor's cash needs. This excess may arise from various sources: imputed interest charges; allowances for various reserves; debt-service coverage charges; or simply financial performance that exceeds the projections on which airfield fees are based. There is merit to the carrier position that charging imputed interest on funds derived from airfield revenues could require airfield users to finance airfield investment twice: once in the form of the excess revenue that their otherwise reasonable fees generate and once in the form of the imputed interest charge on the investments made with that revenue. For this reason, the policy does not permit airport proprietors to charge imputed interest on funds that are attributable to airfield operations.

However, the carriers' argument that airport proprietors may not charge imputed interest on any investment in the airfield goes too far. This argument would deny the airport proprietor any compensation for the opportunity costs of its investment in the airfield.

The Department recognizes that disallowing imputed interest on sums attributable to airfield fees may encourage airport proprietors to invest elsewhere on the airport. However, the impact on choice of investments should be less pronounced than disallowing all imputed interest. The limit on imputed interest could also encourage bond financing for airfield investment, but the limit would apply only in the absence of an agreement to the contrary. If an airport proprietor can persuade airfield users that charging imputed interest is less costly than borrowing to finance airfield improvements, the airport proprietor is free to impose an imputed interest charge by agreement.

The Department's approach to imputed interest is consistent with the position taken by the U.S. government regarding airport fees at Heathrow. In that dispute, the U.S. government did not object to landing fees set to provide a reasonable rate of return on investment, or to the application of that return to new capital projects. Rather, the U.S. government objected to financing new capital development at the London airports by: (1) directly including the full capital costs of projects under construction in the rate base and (2) charging a rate of return for those projects before they came on-line.

The Department will not provide further guidance on a reasonable rate for assessing imputed interest at this time. In many cases, a rate based on the airport proprietor's own interest rate on borrowed funds may be reasonable. However, the airport proprietor's borrowed-fund rate may be but one of a number of relevant factors in determining a reasonable rate of interest. A policy that defines the borrowing rate as the only reasonable rate would not allow for consideration of these factors. In the event of a complaint, the Department would expect the airport proprietor to justify the reasonableness of its imputed interest rate. The Department would not accept an imputed interest rate that is justified solely as a device to recover a depreciation charge for the Federal share of grant-funded facilities.

As we noted in the explanatory statement to the Supplemental Proposed Policy (60 FR 47013), under the Administrative Procedure Act, a carrier complaining about charging imputed interest on funds generated by airfield fees would bear the burden of proving the source of funds. The airport proprietor need not trace the funds in order to claim imputed interest. However, if the airport proprietor has data available that would enable a complainant to trace the funds, that data should be disclosed during the fee negotiations or during a proceeding to resolve a fee dispute.

8. Limitation of Airfield Rates to Land and Facilities Currently in Use

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that, absent agreement, airport proprietors may include in the rate base all capital costs associated with the provision of airfield facilities and services currently in use and current costs of planning future aeronautical facilities and services. Proposed para. 2.4. The Supplemental Proposed Policy further proposed that the costs of facilities not yet built and operating could not be included in the rate base. However, debt service and carrying costs of an asset under construction could be capitalized and amortized when the asset is put in service. In addition the airport proprietor could include in the rate base the costs of land that facilitates current operations of the airport. Proposed para. 2.5.3.

Airport proprietors: Airport proprietors consider these provisions unduly restrictive and inconsistent with the public interest. ACI/AAAE comment that the prohibition on expensing interest payments during construction is inconsistent with current practice of some airports. In addition, ACI/AAAE and individual airport commenters argue that applying the in-use provision to acquisition of land for future runway development will encourage airport proprietors to delay land acquisition as long as possible. This delay could drive up the cost and reduce the availability of land as development encroaches on the airport.

The City of Chicago points out that land for future development may be funded with AIP grants under circumstances outlined in the FAA's Airport Improvement Program (AIP) Handbook, FAA Order 5100.38A, Para. 603 (October, 1989). According to Chicago, Paragraph 603 demonstrates that land acquisition for future development is appropriate in certain circumstances.

The Port of Portland suggests that the currently-in-use language may not reflect current industry practice for another reason. Portland notes that at the request of the carriers, it is amortizing a terminal upgrade at Portland International Airport for longer than the useful life of the project to lessen the cost impact on carriers. Portland requests that the policy permit this approach at the discretion of the airport proprietor. This commenter also requests clarification on how the term "currently" would be applied in different situations.

Airport Users: Airport users did not address this issue.

Other commenters: A law firm specializing in public debt-financing asserts that many public airport proprietors are precluded by local law from capitalizing interest during construction. Such entities would be effectively precluded from financing new facilities, because the policy would not permit the expensing of construction financing and interest. This commenter recommends that the policy allow interest during construction and the cost of land for future development to be included in the rate base.

The Final Policy: The Department is modifying the Final Policy to permit an airport proprietor to show, on an individual basis, that it is reasonable to allow the costs of land acquired for future airfield development to be included in the rate-base, if the conditions of FAA Order 5100.38A are met, and if the airfield development is included in the airport proprietor's currently effective five-year capital improvement plan. The circumstances listed in FAA Order 5100.38A include rising land costs, encroachment on available land by incompatible uses, and the probable unavailability of land for airport use in the future. The provision on construction interest is adopted without modification. In addition, the Final Policy does not allow an airport proprietor unilaterally to depreciate an asset for longer than its projected useful life.

In addressing this subject, the Department must strike a balance between conflicting concerns. On the one hand, when fees are based on cost, it is generally unreasonable to charge users for facilities they do not benefit from or use. Based on this principle, current users generally should not be charged, as a cost item, the capital costs of projects not yet in operation. Of course, this principle does not preclude assessment of reasonable imputed interest charges just because the proceeds of those charges might fund future capital projects. On the other hand, the policy should not work a financial hardship on airport proprietors or unduly interfere with cost-effective airport expansion by precluding timely acquisition of property needed for future airport development.

In addition, the restriction on charging for facilities not yet in use is effectively limited to airfield facilities. Moreover, the restriction does not apply in the case of agreements with airfield users. If the airport proprietor can persuade airfield users that it is less expensive in the long run to deviate from the Final Policy, the airport proprietor is free to do so by agreement. Likewise if users request a depreciation period that is longer than an asset's useful life, the airport proprietor may agree to it. In these circumstances, an additional modification to the policy is not warranted.

The comments on charging for future facilities address two distinct issues. The first is the treatment of construction interest. As to interest paid during construction, the Department is not modifying the approach proposed in the Supplemental Proposed Policy. This approach is commonly used in determining the reasonableness of rates, and permits the airport proprietor to fully recover all construction interest costs, once the facility is in use.

The comments have not persuaded us that this approach will cause a substantial hardship in the industry. ACI/AAAE have not alleged that the practice of expensing interest is widespread. Moreover, landing fees at most airports are set by agreement. Under the terms of Paragraph 2.4 of the Final Policy, construction interest may be expensed if users have agreed. Similarly, the law firm comment regarding legal restrictions on capitalizing interest does not state that such local restrictions are wide-spread, and does not explain the basis for them. It is not clear that local laws that prohibit the capitalization of interest would permit the direct expensing of interest, because direct expensing would be more burdensome to users. Moreover, airport proprietors themselves have not raised legal restrictions to capitalizing interest as a serious concern.

The second issue is the treatment of land acquired for future development. On this issue, some modification to the Supplemental Proposed Policy is in order. As the FAA has recognized in administering the AIP program, when the factors specified in paragraph 603 of Order 5100.38A are present, it may be prudent to acquire and hold land for future development. Moreover, there may be circumstances in which such a land acquisition cannot be carried out if the costs are not included in the current airfield rate-base. However, based on the standard of reasonableness, the Department must be careful not to burden unduly present users with the costs of land acquired for future development. Therefore, the Department is modifying the final policy to permit an airport proprietor to show that the inclusion of the costs of land needed for future airfield development is reasonable, if the factors specified in FAA Order 5100.38A are present, and if the airfield development is included in the airport's currently effective five-year capital investment program. The latter condition is intended to assure that the land being acquired will actually be used for airfield development. This condition should also increase the likelihood that the airport users paying for the land will actually benefit from its purchase. The Department would decide the reasonableness of charging for the cost of land for future development on an individual basis. In reviewing the reasonableness, the Department would consider, among other factors, the feasibility and costs of alternative means of financing the land acquisition.

The Department will not permit airport proprietors to depreciate an airfield asset for longer than its useful life, absent user agreement. Such a policy would force airfield users who never used or benefited from the asset in question to pay for a share of its costs. As noted, however, the airport proprietor may provide for a longer amortization period by agreement with airfield users.

In addition, the Department does not consider further guidance on the meaning of "currently in use" to be necessary at this time. The meaning of the term should in ordinary circumstances be self-evident—in use during the period when the charge is in effect. See, LAX II, Order 95–12–33 at 50–51. There may be circumstances in which the application of the phrase is not straight-forward, and the Department will address those situations if they arise.

9. Allowance For Environmental Costs

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that an airport proprietor could include the costs of environmental mitigation and remediation to the extent it incurs a corresponding actual expense. Proposed para. 2.4.2. The Supplemental Proposed Policy also proposed that the airport proprietor could charge for the costs of insuring against future liability for environmental contamination. However, the costs of self-insurance could be included in the rate-base only if incurred pursuant to a self-insurance program that conforms to applicable standards for self-insurance practices. Proposed para. 2.4.2(d).

The comments: One airport proprietor has requested that the Department provide additional flexibility to charge for environmental cleanup costs. It suggests that if an activity is expected to generate predictable environmental cleanup costs, e.g., operation of a fuel tank farm, today's airport users may be reasonably charged for those costs, even if the cleanup occurs in the future.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department will not modify the provisions on allowable environmental costs. The commenter's concern is already addressed by the provision of the Final Policy governing reasonable reserves.

If the use of the airfield today generates predictable environmental remediation expenses in the future, the principle of cost causation would allow, if not encourage, the airport proprietor to charge today's users for those expenses. The policy need not be modified to permit this result.

The policy already permits the airport proprietor to include in the airfield rate base amounts needed to fund debt service and other reserves and to fund reasonable cash reserves to protect against other contingencies. Para. 2.4.4. This provision is sufficiently broad to permit the funding of reserves for predictable costs of environmental remediation caused by current operations. However, if an airport proprietor establishes a reserve for this purpose, the Department would expect the reserve to be separately identified. In reviewing the reasonableness of the reserve, the Department would consider, inter alia, whether the reserve applies to activities that industry experience has shown generate future environmental remediation costs; and whether the reserve reflects industry experience in costs of remediation. Arbitrary reserves or reserves to fund unknown future potential liability would not be acceptable. The latter would be subject to the provision on self-insurance.

10. Debt-Service Coverage

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that the airport proprietor could include in the rate base, inter alia, amounts "needed to fund debt service and other reserves and to meet cash flow requirements as specified in financing agreements or covenants (for facilities in use), including, but not limited to, debt-service coverage." Proposed para. 2.4.4.

In the LAX II proceeding, the parties disputed the meaning of the term "needed" as it appeared in the Interim Policy. Airport parties argued that the coverage was "needed" if financing agreements included a debt-service coverage requirement and if the airport was seeking to recover a share of coverage reflecting the airfield's pro rata share of outstanding debt. Carriers argued that no coverage charge would be "needed" if the airport's net cash revenues from nonairfield sources were large enough to satisfy the airport's coverage obligation. Comments on the Supplemental Proposed Policy were due before the Department addressed this issue in the final decision in the LAX II proceeding. Order 95–12–33 (December 22, 1995).

The comments: In this proceeding, several airport proprietors, but no airlines, filed comments on the issue. The Massachusetts Port Authority ("Massport") argues that debt-service coverage should be permitted in the rate base in proportion to the allowable debt service for the airfield, regardless of whether an agreement governing airfield fees exists. Massport has adopted compensatory rates by resolution, not by agreement. Massport, Los Angeles and the City of San Francisco argue that the carrier position in LAX II—that coverage is not a cost and therefore cannot be included in the rate base absent agreement—is inconsistent with the terms of proposed paragraph 2.4.4 and with the Department's explanatory statement. Massport argues that the Department clearly signaled its intention that debt-service coverage could be included in the rate base even though it is not a cost in the traditional accounting sense.

Massport, Los Angeles and San Francisco also dispute the carrier position that debt-service coverage is needed only if revenues from other sources are insufficient to meet coverage requirements. These commenters argue that this approach amounts to mandatory residual treatment of debt-service coverage; therefore this approach is inconsistent with the airport proprietor's right to adopt a compensatory fee methodology. Massport argues that by using the term "needed," the Department sought to tie the amount of debt-service coverage allowed in the rate base to the terms of applicable bond documents.

Massport further argues that compensatory airports should not be compelled to give a refund or credit to carriers for debt-service coverage, but should be permitted to use the coverage for any lawful purpose. Massport argues that under the terms of its Trust Agreement, Massport devotes the debt-service coverage charge to its Improvement and Extension fund, which finances the costs of airfield improvements.

Los Angeles also argues that many airports that include debt-service coverage in the rate base retain the coverage funds for discretionary purposes.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department is modifying paragraph 2.4.4 so that it allows airport proprietors to include amounts reasonably needed to meet debt-service coverage requirements. We are not changing the proposed policy on debt-related charges insofar as it allows airports to include charges for debt-service expense.

We are modifying the provision on debt-service coverage charges to address the ambiguity created by the provision of the Interim Policy (which was not resolved in the Supplemental Proposed Policy) and to clarify the Department's position on such charges. When the Department considers charges for debt-service coverage, the Department will not limit its inquiry to determining whether the charge is limited to the airfield's pro rata share of the airport's overall debt-service coverage requirement. The Department instead will consider a number of factors.

Debt-service coverage is different from debt-service expense, an airport capital cost. Debt-service expense refers to the payment of interest and financing charges and the repayment of principal. Debt-service coverage, in contrast, is a cash flow requirement, not an expense.

Airport bonds typically require that the airport's net cash receipts exceed its debt-service expense by 25 to 50 percent, at a minimum. Many airports include charges for debt-service coverage in their landing fee calculations. However, as shown by the record in LAX II, their use of funds generated by debt-service coverage is almost always subject to substantial restrictions. Typically the airport must refund (or roll over) the funds obtained under the coverage charge if they were not needed during the year for which they were paid, or the airport proprietor must use the funds for capital projects benefiting the airlines. See, LAX II, Order 95-12-33 at 45. Not all airports impose such a charge. For example, the landing fees charged at LAX from July 1993 through June 1995 included no debt-service coverage charge. See Order 95-12-33 at 42.

Airlines have not objected to charges for debt-service expense, but the airline complainants in LAX II objected to Los Angeles' charge for debt-service coverage, as outlined above.

We are modifying the provision on debt-service coverage charges to permit reasonable amounts needed to meet debt-service coverage requirements, with due regard to the characteristic of a bond coverage requirement as a minimum requirement that must be met or exceeded at all times. In future airport fee cases involving a charge for debt-service coverage, we will determine whether the charge is permissible on the basis of the facts in the case. In considering the reasonableness of such a charge, the Department may consider a number of factors. For example, in LAX II, the Department found that Los Angeles' debt-service coverage charge was unreasonable since the record showed that the airfield's net cash revenues greatly exceeded the airfield's share of the airport's debt-service coverage obligation. Given that evidence, the Department did not have to address the airlines' claim that the charge was unreasonable because the airport's overall net cash revenues would satisfy the airport's coverage obligation without the inclusion of an additional charge in the landing fee rate base.

Another factor likely to be considered will be whether carriers using the airport receive any benefit from a debt-service coverage charge. For example, the airport may show that the inclusion of the charge improves the airport's credit rating and therefore reduces the airport's overall debt expense. The airport proprietor might show, instead, that the restrictions on the airport's use of the funds may ensure that the funds are used only for projects benefiting the airlines. An airport proprietor's commitment to refund or roll over unneeded funds in the year following payment also would be relevant to determining the reasonableness of the charge.

We are unwilling in this proceeding to adopt more specific standards for determining the reasonableness of a debt-service coverage charge, in part because the comments do not give us an adequate basis for resolving the issue. The Department will therefore resolve the airports' ability to impose a debt-service coverage charge on a case by case basis. The decision will be governed by whether the particular charge challenged is reasonable.

11. Allowance For Reasonable Reserves, Definition of Reasonable

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that the airport proprietor may include in the rate base "reasonable cash reserves" to protect against contingencies other than those listed in the policy. Proposed para. 2.4.4. The Department did not propose to further define reasonable reserves.

The comments: ATA/RAA do not object to reasonable reserves for short term fluctuation in revenues or for other emergencies. They are concerned that, without more detailed guidance, airport proprietors will be able to establish reserves well in excess of actual needs. ATA/RAA suggest that the policy allow reserves of no more than one month's average revenue, unless the users agree to a higher reserve or the airport proprietor shows that special circumstances justify one.

IATA opposes the allowance of a reserve as a separate cost item. It urges the Department to limit fees to the airport's total costs plus "a reasonable return on assets (before tax and interest charges) to contribute toward necessary capital improvements," based on ICAO Doc. 9082/4, pp. 3-4.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without modification.

The Department is not persuaded that a more specific definition for reasonable reserves is needed or appropriate for national application. The requirement that reserves be reasonable is intended to prevent arbitrary requirements. The Department would expect the airport proprietor to be able to justify its decision on reserve requirements if a dispute arose.

However, defining a reasonable reserve requirement for any particular airport depends largely on the financial and operating circumstances of the airport at the time the airport proprietor establishes the reserve. A uniform definition for reasonable reserves would unduly limit both the airport proprietor's flexibility to tailor its reserve requirements to meet those circumstances and the Department's flexibility to consider those circumstances in reviewing a fee.

12. Allocation of Shared Costs

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that capital costs of facilities used by aeronautical and nonaeronautical users could be allocated to those aeronautical users who use the shared facility in a proportion that reflects the aeronautical purpose and proportionate aeronautical use. Proposed para. 2.4.5(b). Roadways would also be subject to the HCA valuation requirement. Proposed Para. 2.5.1(b).

Airport Proprietors: ACI/AAAE request clarification that notwithstanding the valuation requirement for public-use roadways, the Department is not mandating a particular cost allocation formula for determining the aeronautical portion of roadway costs.

The City of Chicago expresses concern that an allocation based strictly on use could be difficult to implement for some airports and could be burdensome. The City of Chicago urges the Department to modify the policy to explicitly provide more flexibility in cost allocation or to at least interpret the existing provisions of the policy as flexibly as we did in the LAX I decision.

Airport users: Airport users did not address this issue.

Other commenters: One individual suggested that, to minimize the risk that airports are improperly allocating costs to the airfield cost center, the Department should establish criteria for defining cost centers. This commenter suggests that the Final Policy require that any facility that generates revenue be defined as a cost center. In addition, the policy should require that if the facilities generate substantial revenue by direct charges, the full costs should be covered by those charges. Under this approach, roadway costs would be assigned to a landside access cost center apart from the terminal. Further, the costs in this cost center would be recovered entirely from parking garages and lots, rental car companies and commercial limousine, van and taxi operators.

The Final Policy: The Department is not modifying the provisions of the Supplemental Proposed Policy in response to the comments. However, consistent with the decision in LAX II, the Department is modifying the provision to apply to allocation of costs of shared services as well as shared facilities.

The Supplemental Proposed Policy did not propose allocation of shared capital costs based strictly on use. Rather, it proposed consideration of both purpose and proportionate use of the shared facility. This provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy is being adopted as proposed. The Department determined in LAX II that the possible difficulty of quantifying purpose is not a reason to allocate shared costs based solely on use. LAX II, Order 95-12-33 at 24. Accordingly, no change in the Final Policy is needed to accommodate Chicago's concern.

In reviewing the reasonableness of an allocation, the Department would consider, among other things, whether the allocation had a rational basis and was supported by factual evidence in the record. In addition, the Department would not preclude an airport proprietor from using a reasonable method of allocation just because another method might produce a more precise result. Id. at 33.

We will not adopt the suggestion of the commenter that airport proprietors be required to adopt a separate landside access cost center, which is not funded at all by charges to the aeronautical users. The airport proprietor has discretion in defining cost centers other than the airfield, so long as its cost allocations are reasonable, transparent and not unjustly discriminatory.

Furthermore, the Department specifically determined, in LAX I, that an airport proprietor may allocate a portion of access road costs to the airfield. Order 95-6-36 at 31. As the Department found in LAX I, carriers, other aeronautical businesses and their customers use (or benefit from) terminal area access roadways. Id. Airport proprietors may reasonably allocate a share of roadway costs to the carriers and other aeronautical users. The commenter's proposal would not assure that all passengers who use the roadways are charged for that use—directly or through the charges they pay to commercial enterprises. Many passengers are dropped off by private vehicles that pay no charge for the using the roadways.

In addition, given the Department's reliance on local decisionmaking, the Department is not prepared to dictate how shared roadway costs are allocated to the carriers, so long as the basic requirements of the policy are met. The share allocated to aeronautical use must reflect the purpose and proportionate use of the facility, and the allocation methodology must be reasonable, transparent and not unjustly discriminatory.

Finally, the Supplemental Proposed Policy was silent on the treatment of the costs of shared services. As a result of the deliberations in LAX II, the Department has concluded that there is no reason to treat these costs differently than the costs of shared facilities. Therefore, the applicable provisions of the Final Policy are being modified to apply to services and facilities.

13. Asset Valuation, Limiting HCA Valuation to Airfield and Eliminating the Aeronautical HCA Cost Cap

The Interim Policy required that airport assets included in the aeronautical rate base be valued at historic cost to the original owner ("HCA value"), absent agreement to the contrary. Para. 2.4.1. However, the Interim Policy further provided that, for facilities other than airfield and all airport land employed in providing aeronautical use, other reasonable valuation methods could be used, so long as total aeronautical revenues do not exceed total aeronautical costs, based on HCA accounting. Para. 2.4.1(a).

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed to limit the HCA requirement to airfield assets and public use roadways, and to eliminate the HCA cost cap for total aeronautical revenues. Proposed para. 2.5.1. For other aeronautical assets, the Supplemental Proposed Policy would permit the airport proprietor to use any reasonable methodology to establish fees, so long as the methodology is applied on a consistent basis to comparable facilities and is justified. Proposed para. 2.6.1. However, the Department proposed that the progressive accumulation of substantial amounts of surplus aeronautical revenue may warrant an FAA inquiry into whether aeronautical fees are consistent with the airport proprietor's obligations to make the airport available on fair and reasonable terms. Proposed para. 4.2.1.

Airport proprietors: Airport proprietors support the proposed modifications. Among other reasons, these commenters assert that the change would eliminate concerns regarding valuation of tenant-built facilities that revert to the airport proprietor. Further, this proposed modification will address a number of additional concerns of ACI/AAAE, including the following: inconsistency between HCA valuation of nonairfield facilities, on the one hand, and industry practices and local laws and regulations, on the other; potential windfalls for airport tenants that sublease aeronautical facilities; higher landing fees paid by signatory airlines at some residual airports; and inconsistency of the HCA cost cap with the requirement that airports be as self-sustaining as possible, as interpreted by the Office of Inspector General ("OIG").

Airport proprietors further assert that application of the HCA cap to general aviation airports would be particularly burdensome, as those airports as a class have limited nonaeronautical revenue streams.

Airport commenters dispute the carrier claims that terminal facilities should be treated like the airfield because airport proprietors possess market power. ACI/AAAE note that they accepted HCA valuation for airfield facilities reluctantly because the policy would not disrupt existing practices. Airport proprietors point out that terminal facilities are typically leased on preferential or exclusive use basis. They argue that the facilities are, therefore, more analogous to hangars and cargo facilities than to public use airfields. They further argue that airports compete with each other for designation as international gateways and as airline hub locations and for origin and destination ("O&D") traffic. The airport proprietors note that initiation of low-fare service at a given airport can draw O&D passengers from other airports in the region.

ACI/AAAE assert that recent increases in airport charges to carriers do not show airport market power and do not show that airport proprietors lack incentives to manage airports efficiently. Factors contributing to increases include the following: compliance with federal mandates and noise mitigation projects; expansion necessitated by increases in passenger activity and airline hubs; replacement of passenger terminals constructed 30-45 years ago; and construction and financing by airport proprietors of airport facilities that had been financed previously by the airlines directly. As evidence that airports face real-world pressures to reduce airline costs, one airport proprietor points to its decision to refinance airport revenue bonds to reduce debt-service expense and thereby reduce airline rates and charges.

Another airport proprietor argues that elimination of the HCA cap will facilitate using price to allocate scarce resources efficiently.

Finally, one airport proprietor suggests that, if the HCA valuation requirement is limited to the airfield and public use roadways, references in paragraphs 2.3, 2.4.1, 2.4.2, 2.4.4, 2.4.5, 2.5, 2.5.1, 2.5.3 and 2.7 should be changed to "airfield/public use roadway rate base."

Carriers: Carriers argue that the Interim Policy's provisions governing asset valuation are needed to protect against the exploitation of locational monopoly power by airport proprietors in pricing "essential facilities." Essential facilities are not limited to the airfield and include facilities for baggage, cargo and passenger handling. ATA/RAA contend that airport proprietors exercise monopoly power in pricing airport facilities in addition to the airfield, because of the airports' locational advantages and the barriers to entry of new competitive airports. In addition, ATA/RAA contend that carriers' investments in airport facilities often preclude them from relocating when an airport proprietor imposes excessive fees. ATA/RAA point to dramatic increases in fees at Los Angeles, Orlando, El Paso and Allentown as evidence of the existing monopoly power of airports.

Carriers argue that, without clear guidelines providing a foundation for negotiations, the policy will not promote direct resolution of disputes. In addition, it will be difficult for airport users to justify the burden of analyzing the airport's cost and revenue calculation to prepare a legal challenge to nonairfield fees.

The past absence of complaints over fees does not provide a basis for relying on effective competition, according to ATA/RAA. They argue that, in the past, negotiations were successful because there was a balance of power between airport proprietors and airport users. Airport proprietors needed airport user support for their financial bond issues. Airport users needed airport proprietors' cooperation to develop needed airport facilities. That balance has been disturbed at many airports, which can successfully issue bonds without carrier support. In addition, the claimed airport monopoly power was constrained by a number of other factors, including: common use of HCA valuation and residual agreements; and the expectations of airlines and airports that fee disputes would be resolved in Federal court.

The carriers argue that the threat of investigation of sustained accumulation of aeronautical surpluses will not curtail abuse of monopoly power. Rather, the policy would encourage airports to overallocate costs to aeronautical cost centers other than the airfield so as to show break-even in accounting terms. This problem is compounded by the lack of record-keeping requirements. ATA/RAA are particularly concerned that airport proprietors will overallocate the costs of municipal services provided to the airport. IATA argues that the Department's decision to retain authority to investigate an accumulation of aeronautical surpluses is an implicit admission that reliance on negotiation and effective competition is doomed to fail.

The carriers also argue that the Interim Policy properly balances the interests of airport users and airport proprietors. The carriers assert that the overall cap on aeronautical revenues based on HCA costs protects carriers from abuse of monopoly power. Within the overall cap, the Interim Policy provides ample flexibility to airport proprietors to price individual facilities.

ATA/RAA also argue that the concerns expressed by ACI/AAAE in their earlier comments on the Interim Policy are misplaced. ATA/RAA argue that, if the HCA requirement is inconsistent with a state or local law, the state or local law is preempted. USAir asserts that airports may prevent airport tenants from earning windfalls by exercising their rights to approve subleases. USAir is also prepared to assume the risk, as a signatory carrier, that, under a residual system, it would be required to pay higher fees under the Interim Policy than non-signatories.

ATA/RAA also assert that the Supplemental Proposed Policy will permit airport proprietors to generate surplus revenues from aeronautical activities. To the extent that the surpluses are used for capital investment, current users would be required to pay for future capital assets, in contravention of the policy and the position of the U.S. government in the dispute with the United Kingdom over Heathrow airport user fees. The carriers also argue that the prohibition on diversion of airport revenue is not sufficient to prevent unjustified accumulation of surplus airport revenues. ATA/RAA point to the findings of a Congressional investigation that airport revenue diversion is widespread and that airport proprietors increasingly view financially successful airports as a potential source of funds to alleviate general budgetary shortfalls.

IATA also argues that the Supplemental Proposed Policy would be inconsistent with the ICAO policy that all airport charges are to be set in relation to the costs of facilities and services provided, citing ICAO Doc. 9082/4. As IATA points out, the ICAO guidelines permit the airport proprietor to earn a reasonable return. IATA argues that the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy to pricing of nonairfield assets will permit airport owners to establish fees according to arbitrary and unreasonable standards.

General Aviation: While the NATA does not recommend that the Department establish accepted charging practices for facilities leased by aviation businesses, the NATA disagrees with the Department's assertion that disputes over charges for nonairfield assets focus on unjust discrimination. For the NATA members negotiating leases, the level of their fees, rather than unjust discrimination, is the area of disagreement. Therefore, the NATA recommends that proposed paragraph 2.6 be expanded to outline areas for consideration in establishing fees. The NATA acknowledges that each negotiation presents unique circumstances. However, the NATA suggests that the Final Policy identify as relevant the following considerations: physical variables of the airport and leasehold; functional variables of the airport and leasehold; and economic variables of the area served by the airport.

The AOPA asserts that the Interim Policy balanced the needs of airport operators and users. It argues that the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy could lead to unreasonable fees. The AOPA is not persuaded that effective competition exists for nonairfield aeronautical assets. Further, neither possible investigation of accumulation of aeronautical surpluses, nor the limitations on use of airport revenue adequately protect against excessive fees.

Other commenters: Two individual commenters object to limiting the HCA requirement to the airfield. They argue that doing so will allow airports to generate substantial surpluses.

The Final Policy: The Department is following the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy on this issue. However, we are adding a provision specifying that, if an airport proprietor bases nonairfield fees on cost, the airport proprietor must follow the policy guidance on allocation of shared costs (Paragraph 2.4.5). This addition will assure that, when a cost-based methodology is employed, shared costs will be treated consistently across all cost centers. In addition, we are modifying proposed paragraph 3.1.1 governing allocation of costs among users and user groups to conform to the Final Policy's approach to nonairfield fees.

The approach of the Final Policy is justified by differences between airfield assets and public-use roadways, on the one hand, and other aeronautical assets, including passenger terminals, on the other. The airfield and the public-use roadways are common use facilities, and their use is more or less fungible. Generally speaking no single user derives more or less benefit from a particular use. To the extent that this general principal does not hold true during peak times at congested airports, the Final Policy allows for reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory peak-pricing systems. Otherwise, a detailed, cost-based definition of reasonableness is appropriate for such fungible assets and would not disturb industry practices or prevent airport proprietors from allocating resources efficiently.

In contrast, other facilities are generally leased on an exclusive or preferential use basis. In addition, such facilities, including terminals, are much less fungible. For example, carriers typically take responsibility for outfitting their passenger terminal areas and can reasonably be expected to view that responsibility as an opportunity for promotion. The value of gates to carriers may depend in part on their location in the terminal or the intensity of their use. Other non-terminal facilities may be perceived by users to have different values based on a variety of factors, including the following: proximity to runways and taxiways; source of construction financing; ownership of improvements at the end of lease terms; and expected use of facilities, including rights to exclusive or preferential use. A requirement that revenues from these facilities not exceed an amount determined by a cost-based formula could prevent these differences from being fully recognized in establishing fees. A policy that gives preeminence to the free play of negotiation and exchange of benefits to assure that fees for nonairfield facilities are reasonable would permit these differences to be fully recognized and would continue current industry practices. Accordingly, the latter approach is preferable.

The record contains numerous examples of nonairfield fees set on a basis other than HCA valuation. For example, in the public meeting on the Supplemental Proposed Policy held in Washington, DC, all of the airport proprietors testified that they use methods other than HCA valuation for at least some nonairfield facilities. Supplemental Proposed Policy Regarding Airport Rates and Charges, Public Meeting (October 17, 1995), ("October 17 Public Meeting") Transcript pp. 31-33, 36-37, 39, 79-80, 81. Further, in their comments on the Interim Policy, ACI/AAAE reported that some airports establish fees for leased property by competitive bid or solicitation, often by operation of state law. Comments of ACI and AAEE in response to the Policy Regarding Airport Rates and Charges, Docket No. 27782 ("ACI/AAAE May 4 Comments") at 6 (May 4, 1995). Their comments also provided other examples of nonairfield facilities that are priced on some other basis than HCA valuation. Id. 12-13. The limited evidence to the contrary offered by the carriers is insufficient to overcome that offered by the airport proprietors. See, October 17 Public Meeting Tr., pp. 77-78. Thus the record demonstrates that requiring HCA valuation for all aeronautical facilities would substantially disrupt current practices that have not been the subject of complaints.

The Interim Policy was intended to preserve that flexibility for establishing rates for nonairfield facilities. Our experience under the Interim Policy, however suggests that the Interim Policy had altered the status quo. For example, in their comments on the Interim Policy, ACI/AAAE reported instances in which airlines informed an airport proprietor that the maximum rental payments it could require must be based on historic costs. ACI/AAAE May 4 Comments at 24-25. In one case, a carrier had agreed to a new hangar lease at rates exceeding HCA rates but then refused to execute the agreement following publication of the Interim Policy. An airport proprietor also testified to concerns that HCA valuation would be used as the starting point for all negotiations under the Interim Policy. Supplemental Proposed Policy Regarding Airport Rates and Charges, Public Meeting (September 20 1995), ("September 20 Public Meeting") Docket No. 27782, Transcript at 23-25.

The carriers' claims that airport proprietors exercise monopoly power in pricing essential aeronautical facilities are not supported by the Department's experience. Many U.S. carriers have benefited from airports' competition with each other to be the location of aeronautical facilities, including facilities for passenger and cargo hubs. Moreover, as ATA/RAA themselves argue, in their objections to the treatment of imputed interest, publicly-owned airports do not operate under the same profit motive as private investors. Public airports are operated, for the most part, as public facilities to serve the public good by enhancing local access to the national air transportation system. Airport proprietors generally seek to improve air services for their communities. This objective would be frustrated by charging exorbitant fees for aeronautical facilities. There may be isolated exceptions to this general rule. However, the Department is not prepared to require the vast majority of airports to change their methods of doing business to address the extraordinary situation. In the extraordinary situation, the Department would consider airline complaints concerning significant disputes through an expedited administrative procedure (14 CFR Part 302). Other cases would be processed under the FAA's investigative and enforcement procedures (14 CFR Part 13).

The Supplemental Proposed Policy did not propose to permit every method for establishing fees for nonairfield assets, but only any reasonable method. Users are still free to demonstrate that in the circumstances of a particular airport, a particular method is unreasonable. For example, users may demonstrate that the method is not justified in the circumstances or applied on a consistent basis.

As we noted in publishing the Supplemental Proposed Policy, our decision to take a flexible approach to the pricing of nonairfield facilities is based in part on the relative lack of disputes between carriers and airport proprietors over the reasonableness of fees for such facilities, even those deemed essential by the carriers. The widespread acceptance of these industry practices indicates their reasonableness and general fairness. By relying on industry practices in formulating our policy, the Department is fulfilling the Supreme Court's expectation that the Department would in large measure base its standards for reasonable airport fees on the relevant facts and circumstances of the industry. Kent County, 114 S.Ct. at 863, 864 n. 14. We are not persuaded by carriers' arguments that this experience is unreliable.

First, while residual agreements have been common in the industry, so were compensatory agreements. A 1984 Congressional Budget Office study reported that 42 percent of large hub airports (10 out of 24) and 42 percent of medium hub airports employed a compensatory approach to rate-setting. Financing U.S. Airports in the 1980s, Congressional Budget Office (April 1984). The Kent County litigation stemmed in part from the airport proprietor's decision to continue its historic compensatory approach to landing fees.

Second, based on the comments and testimony in this docket, airport proprietors commonly use methods other than HCA valuation to establish fees for passenger terminal, cargo handling and other "essential" nonairfield facilities, as discussed above.

Third, the examples of airport bond financing cited by the carriers do not show that airport proprietors are readily able to obtain debt-financing for nonairfield facilities without carrier agreement. Denver International Airport involved construction of an entire airport in conjunction with the closure of Denver's then existing air carrier airport. Moreover, Denver was unable to maintain investment grade status for the bonds. The Grand Rapids experience involved bond financing for a new runway. Under the Final Policy, runways must be priced based on HCA valuation, absent agreement by the users.

Likewise, the examples of airports that have dramatically raised fees cited by the carriers (Los Angeles, El Paso and Allentown) do not support the claim that airport proprietors exercise market power in establishing fees for nonairfield facilities. First, all three examples involved landing fees, which remain subject to the HCA valuation requirement and detailed guidance of the policy. Second, the conversion from residual to compensatory methodology accounts for much of the increase at two of the airports (Los Angeles and El Paso). ATA/RAA's other example, Orlando, has not yet established new fees. ATA/RAA relies on a projection of what Orlando might do when existing agreements lapse. Moreover, it assumes that the airport will convert from a residual to a compensatory methodology. October 17 Public Meeting Transcript at 38. The selection of either methodology has been deemed reasonable by Congress through enactment of section 47129(a)(2).

Finally, the Department is not convinced that the threat of judicial review of fees for nonairfield facilities was a significant factor in preventing excessive charges. Relatively few airline/airport disputes over airport fees have been resolved by litigation. Of those few, only one or two did not involve charges for use of the airfield. In these circumstances, it is doubtful that the threat of litigation would have proved a significant deterrent to abuse of monopoly power, assuming that power existed.

We have also concluded that, on balance, the approach of the Interim Policy could have additional undesirable results outlined by ACI/AAAE in their joint comments. For example, if market-based rates exceed HCA-based rates, the Interim Policy would have allowed airlines through their subleasing to enjoy the additional revenue, but would have effectively precluded airport proprietors from earning that additional revenue. Thus, that additional revenue would have been unavailable for investment in the national airport system. At a time when Federal resources for airport infrastructure investment are severely strained, we are loathe to restrict unduly the ability of airport proprietors to generate funds for such investment.

The Department agrees that the threat of a Department investigation of accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenue by itself may not be a perfect check against unreasonably high fees for nonairfield facilities. However, we are not relying solely, or even primarily, on this threat. Rather, in our experience, the market generally functions to prevent excessive charges, and airport proprietors have not routinely imposed unreasonably high fees for nonairfield, aeronautical facilities. Moreover, the limitations on the use of airport revenue, including the actions mandated by section 112 of the Reauthorization Act, diminish one possible incentive to generate excessive surplus aeronautical revenue—use of the surplus to fund general governmental activities. At this time, we are not prepared to impose rigid industry-wide pricing criteria for nonairfield facilities to address speculative concerns about a few airports. In explicitly reserving our right to investigate, the Department is signaling its intention to act in those rare situations where intervention would be appropriate. Further, we are signaling our intent to consider the reasonableness of nonairfield fees over the long term and not on the basis of a single year's results. We are, of course, prepared to revisit this issue if experience shows that our approach is not effective in preventing contention, controversy, and unreasonable practices in the pricing of nonairfield aeronautical facilities.

For these reasons, we expect that pricing of nonairfield aeronautical facilities and services under the Final Policy will produce results consistent with the policy guidance that aeronautical charges should not produce unreasonable returns.

The Final Policy merely allows airport proprietors to continue current pricing practices that have not resulted in excessive charges.

Our policy on this issue is consistent with the position of the U.S. government in the dispute over landing fees at Heathrow. In that case, the U.S. government did not argue that the British Airports Authority and (later) BAA plc were not entitled to earn any surplus. Rather, the objections stemmed from circumstances that are unlikely to arise in the United States.

The BAA establishes fees each year following consultation with the users, but without their agreement. The BAA imposed separate landing fees, aircraft parking charges and passenger terminal charges. During the period in dispute, BAA had unilaterally increased its airport user charges at Heathrow to finance on a pay-as-you-go basis substantial new capital improvements at London's Heathrow and Gatwick airports. The BAA had also sought to earn a rate of return on the funds invested in the new projects during construction. Nothing in the Final Policy precludes the Department from determining that an airport proprietor that is financing on a pay-as-you-go basis significant new capital development through unilaterally imposed terminal rents is charging unreasonably high terminal fees. Rather, we are relying on the market mechanism and negotiating process to prevent such an occurrence in the first instance. Nothing in our experience with the US airport industry indicates that a U.S. airport would be able to duplicate the BAA's approach to charging for terminal facilities.

Likewise, the results of our approach to nonairfield assets is consistent with ICAO guidelines. First, the Final Policy does not permit fees to be established for these facilities by any method. Rather, the method must be reasonable. In addition, we rely on market discipline to assure that these fees, which are largely negotiated, are reasonable, and do not result in the generation of excessive profits (or rate of return). As IATA acknowledges elsewhere in its comments, the ICAO guidelines permit an airport proprietor to earn a reasonable return on its investment.

We do not agree with carrier arguments that our approach to enforcing the prohibition on airport revenue diversion will provide incentives to airport proprietors to charge excessive fees for nonairfield facilities and services to obtain additional funds for general municipal purposes. Our approach to nonairfield assets will not undermine enforcement of the requirements on the use of airport revenues. The Department is committed to ensuring that airport revenues are used for airport purposes, as required by law under 49 USC § 47107(b). Moreover, in section 112 of the FAA Authorization Act of 1994, codified at 49 U.S.C. § 47107(l), Congress added new requirements relating to both legal and illegal diversion of airport revenue in response to carrier concerns, as well as new sanctions for violations of the revenue diversion prohibition. On February 20, 1996, the FAA issued a Proposed Policy and Procedures Concerning the Use of Airport Revenues, Docket 28472 (61, FR 71344, February 26, 1996). In addition, on March 18, 1996, the FAA published formats for the preparation and filing of two reports by airport sponsors. One report would list amounts paid and services provided by the airport to other units of government, as well as explanations for claims of lawful diversion. The other report would detail the total revenue and expenditures at each commercial airport, including revenue surplus. These reports were required by section 111 of the 1994 Reauthorization Act.

In addition, the statute prohibiting revenue diversion excludes from the prohibitions certain arrangements that were in place when the statute was enacted. Many instances of airport revenue diversion identified in the Congressional Report cited by the carriers involved "legal diversion" under this statutory exception.

To date, our experience does not indicate that the statutory provisions and FAA's actions in implementing them are ineffective in assuring that airport revenue is used for lawful purposes. At this time, concerns about airport revenue diversion do not justify curtailing airport proprietors' customary flexibility to establish fees for non airfield facilities.

We are not adopting the NATA's suggestion that additional guidance be given for lease negotiations. As the NATA acknowledges, each lease negotiation will involve unique considerations and circumstances. A factor that is important in one negotiation may have no relevance in a second. Moreover, the Department is committed to applying the Final Policy to general aviation fees in a flexible way. By delineating criteria to be considered in negotiating leases, the policy would decrease, not increase, flexibility.

Finally, the Department has reviewed the detailed guidance under Principle 2 and modified the provisions as appropriate to reflect the narrowing of the requirement for HCA-based fees. Not all of the paragraphs suggested by the commenter have been modified. In some cases the unrevised paragraphs implement statutory requirements in addition to the reasonable fee requirement.

14. Application of HCA Requirement to Airfield and Public Use Roadways

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that airfield facilities, airfield land and public-use roadways, be valued according to their historic cost to the original airport proprietor, except by agreement with users. Proposed para. 2.5.1. In addition, in proposed Paragraph 2.5.1(a), the Department proposed methods for charging for land dedicated to the airfield and public use roadways ("airfield/roadway land"). This provision is discussed separately below. The Department also proposed to allow airport proprietors to charge more than a pro rata share of airfield costs to particular users to encourage efficient use of the airfield. Proposed Para. 2.5.1(b). This provision is also discussed separately below.

Airport Proprietors: ACI/AAAE point out that their earlier acceptance of HCA valuation for airfields was not based on analogy to other industries, but based on their conclusion that vast majority of members would not be greatly disadvantaged. ACI/AAAE do not accept the carrier position that airports possess market power with respect to any airport facilities. ACI/AAAE urge the Department to implement the HCA valuation requirement flexibly, to permit direct resolution of disputes. ACI/AAAE also argue that, to be effective, peak-pricing systems must incorporate landing fees that are high enough to balance supply and demand, regardless of the airfield's historic cost. ACI/AAAE request the Department to clarify that an airport using an otherwise acceptable peak-hour pricing system may charge landing fees that are not based on historic cost.

Massport asserts that in some cases, the HCA valuation requirement for the airfield is inconsistent with sound economic theory and efficient allocation of scarce airport resources. Massport suggests that the policy should define HCA valuation for the airfield as presumptively reasonable, but permit an airport proprietor to show that other valuation methods are reasonable.

Los Angeles and San Francisco request that the HCA requirement for the airfield and public-use roadways be eliminated. Los Angeles argues that market-based rents are inherently reasonable, as the Department itself recognized in proposing to narrow the HCA requirement. Market-based rates also reflect economic reality better. Los Angeles further argues that the reasonableness of market-based pricing has been sustained in judicial decisions, including Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 892-95 (1984); Harmon City, Inc. v. United States, 733 F.2d 1381-1382-84 (10th Cir. 1984); and Telesat Cablevision, Inc. v. City of Riviera Beach, 773 F.Supp. 383, 407 (S.D. FL 1991).

Los Angeles and the City of San Francisco argue that market-based pricing for the airfield is most consistent with the requirement that airport proprietors establish a fee and rental structure that will make the airport as self-sustaining as possible. Both airport proprietors rely on the determination of the OIG that airports must receive no less than fair market value for aeronautical land and improvements in order to meet this mandate. Los Angeles also argues that its proposed method of determining FMV, based on the land's next best use, avoids any risk that the FMV determination will reflect the exercise of market power.

Los Angeles further argues that even though the Supplemental Proposed Policy would allow the airport proprietor to amortize the costs of acquired land, the HCA requirement would not allow the airport proprietor to compensate itself for the opportunity costs of maintaining its investment in the airfield rather than using the property for other purposes. Los Angeles asserts that the courts now recognize opportunity costs as a real cost, citing among other decisions, Afram Export Corp. v. Metallurgiki Halyps, S.A., 772 F.2d 1358, 1369 (7th Cir. 1985); Duff v. Marathon Petroleum Co., 985 F.2d 339, 340 (7th Cir. 1993). Los Angeles also complains that the HCA valuation requirement fails to compensate the airport proprietor for the costs of inflation. At a minimum, the policy should be modified to permit adjustments to HCA valuation to reflect general inflation.

Los Angeles also argues that the HCA valuation requirement results in an unconstitutional taking of the airport proprietor's property, because it precludes the airport proprietor from earning a fair return on investment. Los Angeles argues that, under Duquesne Light Co. v. Barasch, 488 U.S. 299, 307, 310 (1989), a rate set at a level that is confiscatory is unconstitutional. A rate that does not allow for a rate of return is per se confiscatory, according to Los Angeles, and therefore, unconstitutional. Los Angeles also suggests that the fair return must be based on the present value of the assets, citing Smyth v. Ames, 169 U.S. 466, 547; Denver Union Stockyard Co. v. United States, 304 U.S. 470, 473 (1938).

Los Angeles also argues (in its comments on the Interim Policy) that the property of public as well as private entities is protected by the takings clause of the Constitution, citing United States v. 50 Acres of Land, 469 U.S. 24, 31 (1984).

Los Angeles further argues that requiring HCA valuation for airfield land subsidizes air carriers needlessly by transferring the value of the airfield assets to the carriers.

In addition, Los Angeles argues that the HCA valuation requirement would make the charge for airfield land in the rate-base a function of happenstance—whether land is owned or leased. If land is leased, the airport proprietor would be able to charge its full rental payments—reflecting fair market value—to the airfield users.

Finally, the Metropolitan Airport Commission (“MAC”) requests the Department to modify the policy to permit any reasonable method for valuing public-use roadways. MAC asserts that off-airport commercial enterprises may attempt to use the provision to pay no more than the roadways’ historic costs, even though these enterprises are not aeronautical users. MAC operates the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport.

Carriers: Carriers support retaining the HCA valuation requirement for the airfield and public-use roadways consistent with their arguments against elimination of the HCA cost cap for total aeronautical revenues.

General aviation: AOPA expressed general support for HCA valuation of airfield assets.

Other commenters: The American Car Rental Association (“ACRA”) considers the HCA valuation requirement to be inconsistent with fees based on cost recovery. The HCA valuation requirement would, in ACRA’s view, perpetuate a subsidy to airfield assets from other parts of the airport.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provisions of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without substantive change. After reviewing all comments, the Department has determined that the HCA valuation requirement for the airfield and public-use roadways should be retained. The requirement reflects nearly universal industry practice. See LAX I, Order 95–6–36 at 21. It is acceptable to the overwhelming majority of airport commenters who addressed the issue and has the unanimous support of aeronautical users. While we are willing to allow airports to use other reasonable methods for establishing fees for non-airfield facilities, the rationale for that decision does not apply to fees for airfield assets, as outlined in the previous section. Among other things, airfield fees have resulted in several major controversies.

Moreover, HCA valuation is recognized as an acceptable method of valuing assets when determining reasonableness, even if it is not the only one. In this regard it is simpler than other methods, especially market valuation techniques. HCA valuation can generally be determined from accounting records. FMV methodologies would invite disputes over appraisals for the value of airfield land. Unlike typical commercial real estate, there is no generally acceptable methodology for identifying and valuing comparable uses for land dedicated to an airfield. Permitting FMV valuation for the airfield would turn landing fee disputes into debates between real estate appraisal experts with the Department in the role of referee. The Supreme Court has noted that the difficulties of calculating FMV caused regulatory agencies to abandon the use of FMV for valuing capital investments by public utilities. Duquesne Light, supra, 488 U.S. at 308–309.

In addition, the HCA valuation requirement allows airport proprietors to fully recover their out-of-pocket costs of providing airfield facilities and services. The policy allows the airport proprietor to fully recover all of its capital expenditures—through depreciation and, for land, through amortization or imputed interest charges. For debt-financed expenditures, the airport proprietor may fully charge airfield users with the costs of paying principal and interest. Other provisions of the policy permit recovery of opportunity costs, and the costs of inflation, to the extent that an airport proprietor is entitled to such recovery, as discussed below. Thus, the HCA valuation requirement for the airfield is not inconsistent with the statutory requirement on self-sustainability. For these same reasons, the HCA requirement is consistent with the principle of cost recovery urged by ACRA and does not result in a subsidy to airfield users.

The Department notes that the Inspector General (in numerous audits of the FAA’s monitoring of airport revenue) has recommended that aeronautical leases must be set at fair market value to comply with the self-sustainability requirement. This recommendation is not, as Los Angeles asserts, a basis for eliminating the HCA requirement for the airfield. The Secretary of Transportation, not the Inspector General, is responsible for establishing policy and interpreting the requirements of the AAIA. In promulgating this policy, the Secretary of Transportation has determined that the requirement of self-sustainability does not mandate FMV-based valuation of airfield assets and of other aeronautical assets. The pricing of these assets is also subject to the standard of reasonableness.

The standard of reasonableness and the standard of self-sustainability are not identical in application. The requirement of a fee and rental structure that will make the airport as self-sustaining as possible does not apply to the setting of a particular fee. Rather, the requirement applies to managing the airport’s revenues and establishing a schedule of fees that generates sufficient earnings to meet current expenditures, to offset future deficits, and avoid the necessity of reliance on taxation. See, e.g., Clifton v. Passaic Valley Water Commission, 557 A.2d 299 (N.J. 1989).

Even if we interpreted the self-sustainability requirement to apply to individual fees, that requirement does not override the requirement of reasonableness. A fee set to maximize revenue (as the OIG assumes FMV-based fees do) may be consistent with the requirement of self-sustainability. However, if the fees resulted in surpluses, those fees might be unreasonable. Congress has declared as a matter of policy that airport proprietors should not seek to create revenue surpluses that exceed the amounts to be used for system purposes and other lawful purposes. 49 USC § 47101(13).

The Department has carefully considered the other objections to the HCA valuation requirement, particularly those expressed by Los Angeles. However, Los Angeles has failed to show that the Department’s approach is wrong. While the FMV technique has been sustained in judicial decisions as meeting the standard of reasonableness, Los Angeles has cited no authority establishing that the FMV technique is the only reasonable method for determining rates. Indeed, as Los Angeles acknowledges, the Supreme Court in Federal Power Commission v. Hope Natural Gas Co., 320 U.S. 591, 605 (1944), held that HCA valuation is also a valid basis for determining reasonableness. In that case, the Court abandoned its earlier preference for present valuation of assets expressed in the Smyth v. Ames and Denver Union Stock Yard cases cited by Los Angeles. The courts have recognized that regulatory agencies normally use historic costs for rate cases. Duquesne Light, supra, 488 U.S. at 309–310; Jersey Central Power & Light Co. v. FERC, 810

F.2d 1168, 1175 (D.C. Cir. 1987) (en banc).

The Department likewise is not persuaded that FMV-based landing fees are required to compensate airport proprietors for the opportunity costs of airfield investments. Los Angeles' claim for opportunity costs assumes that airport proprietors are free to disinvest in the airfield and put their capital to other uses. Most airport proprietors subject to this policy, including Los Angeles, are not. These airport proprietors have accepted Federal financial assistance or free Federal land for airport development. Los Angeles has accepted both. In exchange for this Federal assistance, they have committed to continue to operate their airports as airports. Los Angeles' compensation for devoting the LAX airfield for use as an airfield was the Federal financial assistance and donated Federal land.

In any event, to the extent that the airport proprietor is entitled to recover any opportunity costs in the airfield rate base, these costs may be recovered through the imputed interest charge under the Final Policy. The imputed interest charge is intended to compensate the airport proprietor for the use of internally generated funds invested in the airfield and not elsewhere on the airport.

Similarly, an airport proprietor may look to the imputed interest allowance to be compensated for inflation. The Final Policy permits an airport proprietor to charge imputed interest at a reasonable rate. The airport proprietor's adoption of an appropriate and reasonable market-based rate should compensate the airport for inflation. Investors in capital markets expect to be compensated for inflation, as well as the opportunity cost of investment. Therefore, market-based imputed interest rates ordinarily reflect investors' expectations on the future rate of inflation.

The HCA valuation requirement will not violate the Constitutional rights of airport proprietors by denying their right to earn a return on their investment or by taking their property without just compensation.

The requirement does not deny airports—whether privately or publicly-owned—their Constitutional right to a rate of return on their investment. The Supreme Court, after all, has held that a regulatory agency's use of HCA valuation in rate-making cases does not violate the Constitutional principle that regulated firms must be allowed the opportunity to earn a return on their investment. See, Duquesne Light, supra, 488 U.S. at 308–310.

In addition, paragraph 2.4 of the Final Policy explicitly allows private owners of airports to earn a rate of return. Assuming that state and local government agencies operating airports were entitled to earn a rate of return, the Final Policy does not deny them that right. The Final Policy allows an airport proprietor to charge imputed interest on its investment in the airfield, except to the extent those investments were made with funds derived from fees paid for the use of the airfield. This imputed interest represents compensation for the airport proprietor's capital invested in the airport, as would a return on investment.

The HCA valuation requirement thus does not violate the takings clause of the Constitution. The Supreme Court considers three factors in determining whether government action constitutes a taking: the action's character, its economic impact, and the extent to which the action interferes with investment-backed expectations. See Connolly v. Pension Benefit Guaranty Corp., 475 U.S. 211, 224–225 (1986); Concrete Pipe & Products v. Construction Laborers Pension Trust, 508 U.S. 602; 113 S.Ct. 2264, 2291 (1993). The Final Policy's limits on airfield fees cannot constitute a taking under these standards.

First, the HCA valuation requirement causes no physical invasion or permanent appropriation of an airport's property. Instead, as is typical of many regulatory programs, the HCA valuation requirement adjusts the benefits and burdens of economic life in order to promote the common good. That type of regulation is not normally deemed a taking of property.

Second, the economic impact on airports is not severe. As admitted by Los Angeles' expert witness in LAX I, every airport in the United States except LAX has valued airfield land at historic cost in setting fees. Order 95–6–36 at 21. Even LAX used HCA valuation before 1993, when it implemented the FMV-based fees found unreasonable, in part, by the Department in LAX I. Moreover, the HCA valuation requirement enables airports to recover the actual costs of their investment in airfield facilities, and airports may also obtain imputed interest on their investment, unless the invested funds were derived from airfield fees.

Third, requiring HCA valuation cannot interfere with any airport's investment expectations, as demonstrated by the Court's analysis in Connolly, 475 U.S. 226–227. The HCA requirement merely ratifies the airports' existing practices for pricing airfield assets. In addition, as both ATA/RAA and ACI/AAAE point out, state and local governments invest in airports in order to further the well-being and general welfare of their citizens, not in order to make a profit. Furthermore, federal statutes have limited airport aeronautical fees for many years and imposed other restrictions on the use of airport funds and property by airport owners.

Los Angeles' concern about anomalous treatment between leased and owned airfield land does not justify abandoning the HCA valuation requirement for the airfield. First, the situation in which an airport proprietor leases an airfield from an independent entity, rather than owns it, is extremely rare. The Department is aware of only two airport proprietors that lease their airfields—the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey and the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority. In both cases the airport proprietor is leasing from other governmental entities. Second, even as between two airport proprietors that own their airfields, the Final Policy may well require one airport to charge lower fees than the other, because the former has lower costs. Two airports could have different costs for a number of reasons, including the following: differences in land costs at the time of acquisition; differences in the acreage of the respective airfields; differences in the interest rates payable on bonds used to finance the airfield; and even differences in the salary and benefit structure of the two airport proprietors. Moreover, even with airfield assets valued at FMV, airfield rates could be determined by a factor that could be deemed “happenstance”—the market conditions at the time each airport's fees are established. However, the Department would consider each airport proprietor's costs in determining the reasonableness of its airfield fees because each airport's costs vary. This variation is not a reason to ignore those costs, or to avoid using HCA valuation.

The Department will not adopt the suggestion that the HCA valuation requirement be adopted as a rebuttable presumption. The practice of using HCA valuation for the airfield is wide-spread and long-standing. Therefore, the Department does not see a need to allow airport proprietors to argue routinely that a different valuation methodology is reasonable. Such arguments could greatly add to the burden of processing complaints under section 47129. However, the Department, on a case-by-case basis, has allowed airport proprietors to argue that the HCA valuation requirement should not be applied to them because of unusual circumstances. See, e.g., LAX I, Order 95-6-33 at 15-17. We would continue to do so.

In addition, the Department is retaining the HCA valuation requirement for the public-use roadways. Public-use roadways are more like the airfield than like terminals. Roadways are common use facilities, like the airfield. An aeronautical user cannot derive commercial or competitive benefit vis-à-vis competitors through the use of the roadways, and aeronautical users do not separately bargain for the use of the roadways.

MAC acknowledges that the provisions of the Final Policy governing reasonable fees do not apply to fees paid by nonaeronautical users. Therefore, nonaeronautical users may not rely on the Final Policy to claim a right to roadway access charges based on HCA valuation.

Airport proprietor concerns about the relationship between the HCA valuation requirement and peak pricing are addressed in the disposition of comments on peak pricing.

15. Airfield Revenue Cap Based on HCA Valuation

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that airfield revenues may not exceed airfield costs (proposed para. 2.2) and included detailed guidance on how airfield costs may be determined. Among other things, airfield assets must be valued based on their historic cost to the original airport proprietor. Proposed para. 2.5.1. Together, these provisions would create a cap on total airfield revenue based on HCA valuation of airfield assets.

The comments: Los Angeles and San Francisco oppose the cap on airfield revenues based on HCA costs. Both airport proprietors assert that the cap provision violates section 47129(a)(3), which directs that the Secretary "shall not set the level of the fee." Los Angeles argues that the cap deprives the airport proprietor of substantial latitude to set fees. Los Angeles further argues that the cap is inconsistent with the airport proprietor's right to use fair market values for airfield land. In addition, the cap would serve no purpose but to encourage airport proprietors to tinker with fees to keep them in sync with costs. San Francisco also argues that the cap amounts to a subsidy to airfield users.

Carriers and general aviation commenters generally support the HCA cap for the airfield.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provisions of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without modification.

The contention that the HCA cap requirement illegally "sets" the fee for airfield use within the meaning of section 47129(a)(3) is wrong. The Final Policy provides detailed guidance on the total costs that may be recovered through airfield fees, but it does not establish a single, comprehensive formula for determining the amount of total airfield revenues. For example, the policy does not establish a single methodology to allocate common costs between the airfield and other cost centers, or to allocate indirect costs. Likewise, the policy does not establish a single permissible time-frame over which to depreciate and amortize airfield assets or a single permissible rate for the imputed interest charge. Each of these decisions is left to the discretion of the airport proprietor and will affect the total amount of revenue that the airfield may generate.

Moreover, the Final Policy does not establish a mandatory formula for charging individual airfield users. Rather, the airport proprietor also has some latitude in setting individual fees to recover total airfield revenue. The airport proprietor has some discretion to allocate costs among airfield users and to establish the basis of the charge. Airport proprietors can and do establish weight-based charges, operations-based charges, or charges based on a combination. Each of these decisions will affect the level of fee that an individual user pays.

In these circumstances, the HCA revenue cap cannot be said to "set" the level of an airfield fee. Furthermore, Congress has directed the Department to develop reasonableness guidelines. Since the Department has determined that airfield fees must be based on costs to assure that fees are reasonable, the required guidelines must set forth cost standards for those fees.

The Department has concluded that airport proprietors do not have a right to value airfield land at fair market value. Therefore, the HCA revenue cap cannot violate that purported right. Assuming, for the sake of argument, that an airport proprietor has a right to be compensated for the opportunity costs of its investment in the airfield, the Final Policy permits an imputed interest charge to be included in the rate-base. Moreover, as discussed above, the HCA cap does not provide a subsidy to airfield users, because it permits the airport proprietor to fully recover the costs of providing airfield services and facilities.

The airfield cost cap merely implements the Department's approach to pricing the airfield. As noted previously, the fundamental requirement of reasonableness for airfield fees is that the fees reflect the costs of providing services and facilities for users. The Department has chosen to impose a specific requirement to achieve that result and provide detailed guidance on acceptable methods for determining costs. The HCA cap follows logically from this approach.

The HCA cap on airfield revenue does not require a constant tinkering with fees to assure that fees never exceed costs in any charging period. The Department expects airport proprietors to set fees prospectively based on their reasonable projections of traffic and of costs determined in accordance with the policy. The Department also expects that airport proprietors will periodically review their fees and adjust them, on a prospective basis, based on projected changes in costs and traffic. This expectation is based on the standard of reasonableness; it is reflected in a separate provision of the Final Policy (paragraph 2.3), which is independent of the HCA cost cap. Moreover, Los Angeles has chosen to set fees on an interim basis and to make periodic adjustments based on actual results. This approach renders its concerns about tinkering moot.

16. Amortization of HCA Value of Airfield Land

The Supplemental Proposed Policy included provisions describing how the airport proprietor might recover the cost of airfield land through airfield fees. The Department proposed that, if land was acquired with debt financing, the airport proprietor may include a charge for all related debt-service costs, including principal, interest and debt service coverage. For land acquired with internally generated airport funds or donated by the sponsor, the Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that the airport proprietor could amortize the land. The Department further proposed that upon completion of the amortization or retirement of the debt, the land may no longer be included in the rate base. Proposed para. 2.5.1(a). The Department did not propose to allow any other treatment.

Airport proprietors: Two individual airport proprietors specifically endorse the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy on this issue. Other airport proprietors did not comment. In addition, one airport proprietor argues that the amortization provisions should apply to facilities as well as land.

Carriers: Carriers object to the amortization of the cost of land acquired by means other than bond financing, because land is not a wasting asset. Therefore, amortization of land is not permitted by accounting or tax rules, and there is no reasonable basis for determining an amortization schedule for land. The carriers argue that if the Department permits amortization of land, the Department should set forth clear guidelines for the period of amortization. ATA/RAA argue that this period should be considerably longer than 39 years, which is the minimum depreciation period for commercial buildings under the Internal Revenue Code.

General aviation: Other aeronautical users did not comment on this issue.

Other commenters: One individual commenter requests the Department to limit the meaning of the term amortization to recovery of expenditures for land. This commenter points out that some airport proprietors define amortization as recovering the costs of land plus imputed interest.

The Final Policy: The Final Policy adopts the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy on recovering the cost of debt-financed land without modification. The Final Policy is being modified to permit an airport proprietor to choose one of two options for recovering the airport sponsor's cost of other land used for the airfield and public-use roadways. First, the airport proprietor may impose a reasonable amortization charge based on the HCA valuation of the land, and remove the land from the rate base upon completion of the amortization. Second, the airport proprietor may retain the original HCA value of the land in the rate-base indefinitely and charge imputed interest, to the extent permitted by this policy. To avoid overcompensation for this land, the airport proprietor may not alternate between methodologies. Amortization is being permitted, in part, because it is used by some airport proprietors and appears to be a reasonable alternative, as discussed below.

The ATA/RAA position on land that was not acquired with debt financing is unreasonable, because ATA/RAA would not permit the airport proprietor to charge either amortization or imputed interest on amounts invested in such land. Thus, ATA/RAA would deny any form of compensation to airport proprietors for their investment in airfield/roadway land.

However, as the carriers argue, land is not a wasting asset. Utility regulators do not generally permit a regulated entity to amortize the cost of land, but permit the regulated industry to include the value of land in the investment base on which it earns a rate of return.

For this reason, the Department has concluded that the Policy should not mandate amortization as the sole means of cost recovery. However, the Department is not persuaded that amortization should be precluded.

While objecting to the practice, ATA/RAA did not argue that the practice is uncommon. Amortization is used at some airports in the United States and has not generated significant controversy at individual airports.

Further, over the long run, it is not clear that the two approaches would produce substantially different results. During the amortization period, amortization would produce higher annual charges. However, eventually, the land would be removed from the rate base and charges would be reduced. In contrast, if the full HCA value of land is retained in the rate base, airfield fees would include an imputed interest charge indefinitely. Over the long run, the imputed interest charges imposed indefinitely may balance out the higher charges imposed for a fixed period under amortization.

In addition, while the Final Policy may contain some provisions that favor debt-financing over internal financing, the Department seeks to avoid providing unnecessary incentives for debt-financing. The Department is concerned that prohibiting the amortization of airfield land that is not financed with debt could bias some airport proprietors toward using debt-financing for land acquisition.

Finally, the Final Policy precludes charging imputed interest on funds generated by airfield fees that are invested in the airfield. If funds attributable to airfield fees were invested in airfield land and the airport proprietor could not amortize the value of that investment, the airport proprietor would have no means of being compensated for its investment in the land.

Based on these considerations, the Final Policy permits either methodology. The airport proprietor may include a reasonable amortization charge, provided that the land is removed from the rate base upon completion of the amortization period. Alternatively, the airport proprietor may retain the HCA value of the land in the rate base and impose a reasonable imputed interest charge, to the extent permitted by the Final Policy. The Final Policy also prohibits an airport proprietor from alternating between methodologies, to obtain undue compensation.

The Final Policy requires that when an airport proprietor elects to amortize its investment the charge must be reasonable. One factor in determining reasonableness is the amortization period. The Final Policy does not specify a particular period because what is reasonable will depend on the individual circumstances of a case. In reviewing the reasonableness of an amortization period, the Department will consider, among other things, whether the airport proprietor has selected a period that gives appropriate recognition to land's character as a non-wasting asset.

The Department will neither permit, nor prohibit, in this policy, the inclusion of an imputed interest element in the amortization charge. The Department would consider an airport proprietor's decision to include an imputed interest element as part of its review of the reasonableness of the amortization charge.

The Department is not adopting the suggestion to expand the provision on amortization to capital assets other than land. Other capital assets are subject to depreciation under generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), and no specific provision in the Final Policy is required to permit depreciation charges. The Final Policy addresses land specifically because land is treated differently than other capital assets under GAAP.

17. Costs of Airport Systems

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that the rate base of one airport could include the costs of a second airport currently in use only if the airport proprietor owns both airports; the second airport is currently in use; and the costs of the second airport to be included in the rate base are reasonably related to the benefits that the second airport provides to the aeronautical users of the first airport. Proposed Para. 2.5.4. The Department also proposed that the latter element would be presumed satisfied if the second airport has been designated as a reliever airport for the first airport by the FAA. Proposed para. 2.5.4(a).

Airport proprietors: The PANYNJ objects to the common ownership requirement. The PANYNJ argues that the owner of a commercial service airport should be able to contribute to the costs of an airport that serves a critical reliever function, even if the reliever is under separate ownership. The PANYNJ would make benefits the sole criterion.

The State of Alaska argues that by limiting the multiple airport system rate base to airports that have a direct traffic relationship, the approach of the supplemental notice is more restrictive than the airport system approach provided in the FAA's grant assurances, and is excessively restrictive for the operator of a large system, like Alaska. The State operates 253 airports and seaplane bases.

Carriers: IATA opposes the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy. IATA argues that pricing must be airport specific to promote transparency and that carriers should not be required to pay for airport facilities that they do not or could not use.

General aviation: General aviation users did not comment on this issue.

Other commenters: One commenter—a law firm involved in bond financing—argues that the Department's approach does not give adequate consideration to the obligation of owners of airport systems to operate their systems in a financially self-sufficient way, as reflected in 49 USC § 47107(a)(13). This commenter stated that some airport proprietors may operate systems that are financially linked, but that are operationally distinct.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without substantive modification. However, we are making editorial revisions to clarify that the provisions apply to systems of more than two airports. In addition, the Department will permit an airport proprietor to show that its existing practice of subsidizing an airport from another airport's airfield fees is reasonable, even if all of the criteria required by the Final Policy are not met. The Department does not wish to disrupt existing practices that have not generated controversy.

The approach of the Final Policy is based on the requirement of reasonableness. Generally speaking, the standard of reasonableness permits an airport proprietor to charge only for the facilities that it provides that are used by the rate-payer or that benefit the rate-payer. If an airport proprietor does not own the other airport, it cannot be providing those facilities. If the other airport is not currently in use, airfield users cannot be using the other airport or benefiting from it. For these reasons, the common ownership and currently-in-use requirements are retained. The requirement of benefit will be retained as well. It can be reasonable to charge a rate-payer for the costs of a facility from which it benefits, even if the rate payer does not directly use that facility.

This principle may be especially true in the case of a commercial airport/reliever airport system. The reliever airport's function is to draw general aviation traffic away from the commercial service airport. If the airport proprietor had to charge the full cost of the reliever airport to general aviation users, the increased price might cause those users to elect the commercial service airport—increasing congestion and the carriers' costs of operating there.

However, the requirement of benefit does not mean that a direct traffic relationship is required in all cases. An airport's status as a designated reliever creates a presumption of benefit. However, an airport proprietor is free to show a benefit exists even when the subsidized airport is not a designated reliever.

The State of Alaska's argument regarding the treatment of airport systems appears to refer to the grant assurance on the use of airport revenue. The assurance permits airport revenue from any source to be used for any airport in a local airport system. However, charges to aeronautical users are subject to a separate and more stringent standard of reasonableness. Similarly, the comment about airport financial systems overlooks the reasonableness requirement. Financial self-sufficiency is also a Federal grant obligation. However, the Final Policy is clear that this obligation does not justify charging the users of the airfield more than the costs of operating the airfield to cover the losses incurred elsewhere at an airport. It follows that this standard does not independently justify charging the users of the airfield more than its costs to cover losses incurred at a separate airport. Moreover, section 47107(a)(13) in fact refers to charges that will make the airport, not the airport system, self sufficient.

In response to the State of Alaska's concerns about its approach to financing its airport system, the Department is modifying the Final Policy to provide for consideration, on a case-by-case basis, of the reasonableness of an existing practice that does not satisfy all three criteria listed in the Final Policy. This modification also furthers another Department goal: minimizing disruption of existing, non-controversial practices.

In addition, the policy on this issue does not preclude an airport proprietor from supporting another airport when the conditions specified in the policy are not met. It only precludes adding the cost of that support to the airfield rate base. Even this limitation can be waived by agreement with airfield users. Thus, the airport proprietor has the opportunity to persuade airfield users that the benefits of the second airport justify including some of its costs in the landing fee.

The Department's approach to airport systems is not inconsistent with our policy favoring transparency. An airport proprietor seeking to charge the users of one airport for the costs of another must justify the charge. The Department expects that as part of that justification, the costs of the other airport will be separately identified and the basis for the cost allocation explained.

18. Charging For Closed Airports

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that, if an airport proprietor closes an airport as part of an approved plan for the construction and opening of a new airport, reasonable costs of disposition of the closed airport could be included in the rate base of the new airport, to the extent that the costs of disposition exceed the proceeds. Proposed para. 2.5.4(b).

Airport proprietors: The City of Chicago requests the Department to clarify that, if an airport is closed and its costs could be included in the rate-base of another airport, then the environmental remediation costs of the closed airport can be included in the rate-base. The City and County of Denver supports the approach of the Supplemental Proposed Policy, because that approach recognizes that an airport proprietor cannot dispose of an airport overnight.

The PANYNJ suggests that the policy should not be limited to airports closed as part of a plan to open a new airport. Rather, the charges also should be permitted if the FAA decides that continued operations at the airport being closed interfere with operations at an existing airport.

Carriers: ATA/RAA urge the Department to delete proposed paragraph 2.5.4(b) from the final policy. ATA/RAA argue that the provision is inconsistent with the fundamental principle that charges be just and reasonable and the requirement in proposed paragraph 2.5 that costs be limited to the capital and operating costs directly and indirectly associated with facilities currently in use. ATA/RAA also argue that by permitting airports to fund facilities not in use (the old airport), the provision is inconsistent with the principle underlying the prohibition of prefunding facilities not yet built. ATA/RAA also argue that the Supplemental Proposed Policy would provide a disincentive to airport proprietors to dispose of airports swiftly and efficiently.

General aviation: General aviation commenters did not address this issue.

Other commenters: Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy with one modification. The Final Policy would permit an airport proprietor to add to the rate base of the new airport the reasonable costs of maintenance of the old airport while disposition is pending, so long as proceeds of disposition are applied first to credit or refund fees previously paid. This provision would not, however, apply if the terms of the Department's approved plan or user agreement provide otherwise.

The Department has determined that where an airport closure is part of an approved plan for a new airport, reasonable disposition costs, in excess of proceeds, may be included in the rate base of the new airport.

While ATA/RAA argue that the Department's approach requires airport users to pay for the costs of a facility they do not use, the Department considers its approach to be analogous to a situation in which structures must be acquired and demolished to make way for construction of new airfield improvements at an operating airport. The costs of acquiring those structures and demolishing them could be included in the airfield rate base, once the new facilities are in use, even though the demolished structures are never used by the carriers. Where the FAA has determined that an existing airport must be closed in connection with the opening of a new airport, the FAA has determined that the new airport, and hence its users, will benefit from that closure. Because the new airport users will benefit, it is reasonable to include in the rate base reasonable disposition costs, to the extent that they exceed the proceeds from disposition.

The requirement of reasonableness is intended to encourage swift and efficient disposition. While not defining reasonableness in detail, the Department states that it would not ordinarily consider redevelopment costs to be reasonable. The Department would also consider the diligence with which the airport proprietor pursues disposal.

After reviewing the comments, the Department has determined that additional clarification is appropriate. The Department recognizes that in some circumstances disposition expenses may be incurred before an airport's disposition. A new provision is added to the Final Policy permitting an airport proprietor to charge reasonable maintenance costs to airfield users before disposition, only if those costs are credited or refunded to the users upon receipt of the proceeds from a whole or partial disposition. In reviewing the reasonableness of a charge in this circumstance, the Department would also consider the reasonableness of the airport proprietor's disposal efforts. The Department would ordinarily consider it unreasonable to continue charging for maintenance of the closed airport beyond the time the airport proprietor could have reasonably disposed of that airport. The Department's approach assures that the airport proprietor is not burdened with the costs of maintaining the old airport until the completion of a long disposition process, while also assuring that the users of the new airport are not burdened with the costs of disposition, when disposition proceeds ultimately exceed the airport proprietor's disposition costs.

The Department will not adopt the suggestion that environmental remediation costs of disposed airports be singled out for special treatment. The Department confirms that environmental remediation may qualify as a disposition cost, as discussed above under Issue 9, "Allowance For Environmental Costs." However, the commenter has not offered any explanation for treating environmental remediation differently than any other disposition cost.

The PANYNJ suggests that the policy should permit the disposition costs of a closed airport to be added to the rate-base of an existing airport when the FAA determines that the closure is required to accommodate the operations of the existing airport. The Department is not adopting this suggestion. The PANYNJ's proposed modification would be a solution in search of a problem. The PANYNJ has not offered any examples of this problem arising in the past, and the Department is unaware of any instance in which operations at existing airports have necessitated the closing of nearby airports. Should the situation arise in the future, the Department will address the issue in the context of that specific situation.

19. Charges to Non-Signatory Carriers

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that the prohibition on unjust discrimination would not prevent an airport proprietor from establishing reasonable classifications of carriers, such as signatory and non-signatory carriers, and charging higher fees based on these distinctions. Proposed para. 3.1.1.

The comments: The City of Chicago argues that the historic cost requirement for the airfield could lead to some anomalies as applied to existing arrangements. Some rate agreements provide for signatory carriers to pay, under a residual system, for facilities in addition to the airfield. Thus, they are paying more than the HCA-based rates for the airfield. Non-signatory carriers are required to pay even higher rates. Chicago argues that non-signatory carriers may claim that they are entitled to a compensatory HCA-based rate that is lower than the signatory rate. The City of Chicago requests that the Department clarify that an airport proprietor may impose a surcharge on non-signatory carriers, even if the signatory rates exceed HCA-based compensatory rates.

Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department will adopt the provision of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without modification.

The Department agrees that the Final Policy should not make non-signatory status more attractive to carriers than signatory status. Such a result would conflict with the first principle of the Final Policy, reliance on direct negotiation and agreement to establish reasonable fees. In addition, it is accepted industry practice to charge non-signatory carriers higher rates than signatory carriers, based on the decision of the former not to assume all of the obligations associated with signatory status. The Airport and Airway Improvement Act expressly permits the establishment of classifications based on status as a signatory carrier. See, 49 U.S.C. § 47107(a)(2)(B)(ii).

The Department has concluded that the provisions of the Supplemental Proposed Policy on signatory/non-signatory fees provide adequate flexibility to airport proprietors to charge reasonable surcharges to non-signatory carriers. No modifications are necessary to address Chicago's concerns.

The costs of serving a non-signatory carrier would ordinarily be higher than a compensatory rate reflecting the costs of serving exclusively signatory carriers. For example, non-signatory carriers may increase an airport proprietor's risk of revenue fluctuation. The increased risk in turn would justify higher reserves. In addition, the administrative costs of dealing with non-signatory carriers would ordinarily be higher. Further, an airport proprietor might be able to argue that due to their irregularity, or relative infrequency, operations by non-signatory carriers cost more to serve than a corresponding number of operations performed on a regular basis by signatory carriers. Each of these considerations would provide a justification for imposing a surcharge, in some amount, on non-signatory carriers.

In addition, signatory carriers usually assume obligations or responsibilities that non-signatory carriers do not undertake. Airport proprietors receive intangible benefits from having carriers at the airport undertake these additional responsibilities. A surcharge for non-signatory carriers may be justifiable, in part, as compensation to the airport proprietor for the reduction in these intangible benefits when a carrier elects non-signatory status.

The Department is not prepared at this time to modify the Final Policy to permit on a routine basis non-signatory charges that cause total airfield revenues to exceed airfield costs. However, we will review the reasonableness of such non-signatory charges on a case-by-case basis in light of the considerations outlined above.

20. Peak Period Charges

The Supplemental Proposed Policy proposed that under certain conditions, a properly structured peak pricing system would not be considered unjustly discriminatory. Proposed para. 3.2. The Supplemental Proposed Policy did not list prerequisites for peak pricing and did not propose a method for determining peak charges or peak/off peak differentials.

In addition, the Department proposed to permit airport proprietors to charge some segments of airfield users more than their pro rata share of accounting costs based on HCA valuation, to enhance efficient use of the airfield, if the airport proprietor uses a reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory methodology. Proposed para. 2.5.1(b).

Airport proprietors: ACI/AAAE and the PANYNJ argue that, to be effective, peak prices must be set without regard to HCA valuation. ACI/AAAE request the Department to clarify the meaning of proposed par. 2.5.1 and specify that an otherwise acceptable peak-pricing system may charge landing fees that are not based on HCA valuation.

Carriers: ATA/RAA argue that the subject of peak-period pricing is too complicated and potentially injurious to users to be addressed as one element in the larger policy on airport fees. ATA/RAA urge the Department to delete all references to peak pricing.

IATA argues that peak pricing cannot enhance the efficient utilization of airports, especially for international East-West operations.

General aviation: AOPA expresses concerns that the standard proposed—enhancing the efficient utilization of the airport—may provide sufficient latitude to invite abuse. AOPA doubts that many airports are sufficiently congested to justify peak pricing. AOPA suggests that the Supplemental Proposed Policy could serve as an excuse for unreasonable ratesetting.

Other Commenters: Other commenters did not address this issue.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provisions of the Supplemental Proposed Policy without substantive modification.

The Department's policy regarding peak pricing was established in its decision in the Massport PACE fee case. Massport Order, supra. In that decision, the Department concluded that a properly structured peak pricing system could be found reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory. Massport Order at 8–9. The Department's purpose in referring to peak pricing in this policy is not to break new ground or expand on the Department's earlier decision. Rather, it is to confirm our support for that decision.

The Department understands the concerns of airport users regarding abuse. The Department does not intend the policy statement to function as a blanket authorization for peak pricing. In reviewing a peak pricing system, the Department would scrutinize it carefully to determine first whether the airport in fact suffers from congestion, and whether the peak-pricing system is an appropriate response.

Regarding the linkage between peak pricing and HCA valuation, Paragraphs 3.2 and 2.5.1(b) each address the allocation of costs among users or user groups. The purpose of these provisions is to make clear that if a properly structured and justified congestion pricing system is in place, the airport proprietors may, during periods of congestion, charge airfield users more than their allocated share of accounting costs determined using HCA valuation. These provisions do not exempt airport proprietors from the requirement that total airfield revenues not exceed total airfield costs as determined in accordance with the Final Policy. Of course, the peak charge may also reflect any additional accounting costs the airport proprietor incurs in serving traffic during peak periods.

21. Reservation of Authority to Investigate Progressive Accumulation of Aeronautical Surpluses

In connection with the proposal to eliminate the HCA cost cap for all aeronautical revenue, the Supplemental Proposed Policy included a new provision on accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenue. The Department proposed that the progressive accumulation of substantial surplus aeronautical revenue may warrant an FAA inquiry into whether aeronautical fees are consistent with the airport proprietor's obligation to make the airport available on fair and reasonable terms. Proposed para. 4.2.1. In discussing the treatment of nonairfield fees, we explained that the Department expects nonairfield aeronautical fees, over, time, to reflect aeronautical costs, including the airport's capital investment needs. 60 FR 47013.

Airport proprietors: Some individual airport proprietors objected to this provision. They are concerned that this provision combined with the referenced explanatory statement means that the Department may be introducing an implicit aeronautical cost cap.

Carriers: Carriers argue that tying the investigation of the reasonableness of aeronautical fees to the sustained accumulation of surpluses does not provide adequate protection against the exercise of market power in pricing nonairfield facilities. The carriers argue that without clear accounting and cost allocation guidelines, the policy will encourage airports to overallocate costs to aeronautical users to mask aeronautical profits. In addition, they contend that the policy will not provide an adequate mechanism to monitor the accumulation of surplus revenues. ATA/RAA also object that a Department investigation would be triggered only after years of surplus accumulation.

General aviation: AOPA also suggests that the protection will be ineffectual because the investigation would only be triggered after a long period of accumulation.

Other commenters: ACRA requests the Department to clarify that it will investigate the disposition of all airport revenues, not just aeronautical revenues, and that an investigation would be triggered by the accumulation of surplus airport revenues.

The Final Policy: The Department is adopting the provision of Supplemental Proposed Policy without modification.

As discussed above, in the Department's experience, the setting of fees for the use of aeronautical facilities other than the airfield—whether by negotiation or otherwise—has generally produced reasonable results. Further, we do not accept the carriers' argument that those reasonable results were a function of circumstances that are no longer present. Given the low risk of unreasonable results, the Department considers its approach to involve an appropriate level of intervention.

We reiterate that the decision to eliminate the HCA cap for all aeronautical revenue is based in part on our determination that a rigid HCA cap is not necessary to assure that fees for nonairfield aeronautical facilities and services are reasonable.

Furthermore, the Department has recently made available standard financial reporting formats for airports. Notice of Availability and Request for Comments on Airport Financial Reports, Docket No. 28495 (61 FR 11077, March 18, 1996). These formats, once in use, should assist in monitoring nonairfield aeronautical revenues. In addition, to further enhance the consultation process envisioned by Paragraphs 1.1.1 and 1.1.2, Appendix 1 of the Final Policy is modified to include the Airport Financial Reports with the information the Department expects airport proprietors to make available in user-charge consultations.

As to the concerns of airport proprietors, the Department has recognized that a reasonable charge for nonairfield facilities may include a reasonable rate of return on the airport proprietor's invested capital. An airport proprietor would not be entitled to more under the common understanding of the standard of reasonableness and the limits imposed by international obligations, regardless of whether the Department had promulgated a policy statement. In stating the expectation that, over time, aeronautical revenues would not exceed reasonable aeronautical costs, including reasonable capital costs, the Department is not foreclosing the generation of returns—at reasonable levels.

In addition, the Department emphasizes that an inquiry would be focused on the progressive accumulation of surpluses. The Department would not consider a single year's surplus in isolation. Thus, an airport proprietor need not fear that, over time, losses generated by nonairfield assets in some years cannot be balanced out against profits earned in other years.

Further, if the Department determined that nonairfield fees were unreasonably high, and that airfield fees were reasonable, the Department would not ordinarily specify corrective action involving airfield fees. In addition, the corrective action would ordinarily be prospective in nature.

Finally, with respect to the comment by ACRA, progressive accumulation of surplus airport revenue from all sources is governed by Paragraph 5.2 of the Final Policy. In an inquiry conducted pursuant to Paragraph 5.2, the FAA would not be investigating the reasonableness of fees charged to nonaeronautical users.

Policy Statement Regarding Airport Fees

For the reasons discussed above, the Department adopts the following statement of policy for airport fees charged to aeronautical users:

Policy Regarding the Establishment of Airport Rates and Charges

Introduction

It is the fundamental position of the Department that the issue of rates and charges is best addressed at the local level by agreement between users and airports. The Department is adopting this Policy Statement on the standards applicable to airport fees imposed for aeronautical use of the airport to provide guidance to airport proprietors and aeronautical users, to encourage direct negotiation between these parties, to minimize the need for direct Federal intervention to resolve differences over airport fees and to establish the standards which the Department will apply in addressing airport fee disputes under 49 USC § 47129 and in addressing questions of airport proprietors' compliance with Federal requirements governing airport fees.

Applicability of the Policy

A. Scope of Policy

Under the terms of grant agreements administered by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for airport improvement, all aeronautical users are entitled to airport access on fair and reasonable terms without unjust discrimination. Therefore, the Department considers that the principles and guidance set forth in this policy statement apply to all aeronautical uses of the airport. The Department recognizes, however, that airport proprietors may use different mechanisms and methodologies to establish fees for different facilities, e.g., for the airfield and terminal area, and for different aeronautical users, e.g., air carriers and fixed-base operators. Various elements of the policy reflect these differences. In addition, the Department will take these differences into account if we are called upon to resolve a dispute over aeronautical fees or otherwise consider whether an airport sponsor is in compliance with its obligation to provide access on fair and reasonable terms without unjust discrimination.

B. Aeronautical Use and Users

The Department considers the aeronautical use of an airport to be any activity that involves, makes possible, is required for the safety of, or is otherwise directly related to, the operation of aircraft. Aeronautical use includes services provided by air carriers related directly and substantially to the movement of passengers, baggage, mail and cargo on the airport. Persons, whether individuals or businesses, engaged in aeronautical uses involving the operation of aircraft, or providing flight support directly related to the operation of aircraft, are considered to be aeronautical users.

Conversely, the Department considers that the operation by U.S. or foreign air carriers of facilities such as a reservations center, headquarters office, or flight kitchen on an airport does not constitute an aeronautical use subject to the principles and guidance contained in this policy statement with respect to reasonableness and unjust discrimination. Such facilities need not be located on an airport. A carrier's decision to locate such facilities is based on the negotiation of a lease or sale of property. Accordingly, the Department relies on the normal forces of competition for nonaeronautical commercial or industrial property to assure that fees for such property are not excessive.

C. Applicability of § 113 of the FAA Authorization Act of 1994

Section 113 of the Federal Aviation Authorization Act of 1994 ("Authorization Act"), 49 U.S.C. § 47129, directs the Secretary of Transportation to issue a determination on the reasonableness of certain fees imposed on air carriers in response to carrier complaints or a request for determination by an airport proprietor. Section 47129 further directs the Secretary to publish final regulations, policy statements, or guidelines establishing procedures for deciding cases under § 47129 and the standards to be used by the Secretary in determining whether a fee is reasonable. Section 47129 also provides for the issuance of credits or refunds in the event that the Secretary determines a fee is unreasonable after a complaint is filed. Section 47129(e) excludes from the applicability of § 47129 a fee imposed pursuant to a written agreement with air carriers, a fee imposed pursuant to a financing agreement or covenant entered into before the date of enactment of the statute (August 23, 1994), and an existing fee not in dispute on August 23, 1994. Section 47129(f) further provides that § 47129 shall not adversely affect the rights of any party under existing air carrier/airport agreements or the ability of an airport to meet its obligations under a financing agreement or covenant that is in effect on August 23, 1994.

The Department interprets § 47129 to apply to fees imposed on foreign as well as U.S. air carriers.

In addition, the Department does not interpret § 47129 to repeal or narrow the scope of the basic requirement that fees imposed on all aeronautical users be reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory or to narrow the obligation on the Secretary to receive satisfactory assurances that, inter alia, airport sponsors will provide access on reasonable terms before approving Airport Improvement Program ("AIP") grants. Moreover, the Department does not interpret sections 47129(e) and (f) to preclude the Department from adopting policy guidance to carry out the Department's statutory obligation to assure that aeronautical fees are being imposed at AIP-funded airports in a manner that is consistent with the obligation to provide airport access on reasonable terms.

Therefore, the Department will apply the policy guidance in all cases in which we are called upon to determine if an airport sponsor is carrying out its obligation to make the airport available on reasonable terms. However, a dispute that is not subject to processing under the expedited procedures mandated by § 47129, including a dispute over matters described by §§ 47129 (e) and (f), will be processed by the FAA under procedures applicable to airport compliance matters in general. In considering such a dispute, the FAA's role is to determine whether the airport proprietor is in compliance with its grant obligations and statutory obligations relating to airport fees. The FAA proceeding is not intended to provide a mechanism for adjudicating the respective rights of the parties to a fee dispute.

In addition, the Department will not entertain a complaint about the reasonableness of a fee set by agreement filed by a party to the agreement setting the disputed fee. In the case of a complaint about the reasonableness of a fee set by agreement filed by an aeronautical user who is not a party to the agreement, the Department may take into account the existence of an agreement between air carriers and the airport proprietor, in making a determination on the complaint.

Further, the FAA will not ordinarily investigate the reasonableness of a general aviation airport's fees absent evidence of a progressive accumulation of surplus aeronautical revenues.

D. Components of Airfield

The Department considers the airfield assets to consist of ramps or aprons not subject to preferential or exclusive lease or use agreements, runways, taxiways, and land associated with these facilities. The Department also considers the airfield to include land acquired for the purpose of assuring land-use compatibility with the airfield, if the land is included in the rate base associated with the airfield under the provisions of this policy.

Principles Applicable to Airport Rates and Charges

1. In general, the Department relies upon airport proprietors, aeronautical users, and the market and institutional arrangements within which they operate, to ensure compliance with applicable legal requirements. Direct Federal intervention will be available, however, where needed.

2. Rates, fees, rentals, landing fees, and other service charges ("fees") imposed on aeronautical users for aeronautical use of airport facilities ("aeronautical fees") must be fair and reasonable.

3. Aeronautical fees may not unjustly discriminate against aeronautical users or user groups.

4. Airport proprietors must maintain a fee and rental structure that in the circumstances of the airport makes the airport as financially self-sustaining as possible.

5. In accordance with relevant Federal statutory provisions governing the use of airport revenue, airport proprietors may expend revenue generated by the airport only for statutorily allowable purposes.

Local Negotiation and Resolution

1. In general, the Department relies upon airport proprietors, aeronautical users, and the market and institutional arrangements within which they operate, to ensure compliance with applicable legal requirements. Direct Federal intervention will be available, however, where needed.

1.1 The Department encourages direct resolution of differences at the local level between aeronautical users and the airport proprietor. Such resolution is best achieved through adequate and timely consultation between the airport proprietor and the aeronautical users about airport fees.

1.1.1 Airport proprietors should consult with aeronautical users well in advance, if practical, of introducing significant changes in charging systems and procedures or in the level of charges. The proprietor should provide adequate information to permit aeronautical users to evaluate the airport proprietor's justification for the change and to assess the reasonableness of the proposal. For consultations to be effective, airport proprietors should give due regard to the views of aeronautical users and to the effect upon them of changes in fees. Likewise, aeronautical users should give due regard to the views of the airport proprietor and the financial needs of the airport.

1.1.2 To further the goal of effective consultation, Appendix 1 of this policy statement contains a description of information that the Department considers would be useful to the U.S. and foreign air carriers and other aeronautical users to permit meaningful consultation and evaluation of a proposal to modify fees.

1.1.3 Airport proprietors should consider the public interest in establishing airport fees, and aeronautical users should consider the public interest in consulting with airports on setting such fees.

1.1.4 Airport proprietors and aeronautical users should consult and make a good-faith effort to reach agreement. Absent agreement, airport proprietors are free to act in accordance with their proposals, subject to review by the Secretary or the Administrator on complaint by the user or, in the case of fees subject to 49 U.S.C. § 47129, upon request by the airport operator, or, in unusual circumstances, on the Department's initiative.

1.1.5 To facilitate local resolution and reduce the need for direct Federal intervention to resolve differences over aeronautical fees, the Department encourages airport proprietors and aeronautical users to include alternative dispute resolution procedures in their lease and use agreements.

1.1.6 Any newly established fee or fee increase that is the subject of a complaint under 49 U.S.C. § 47129 that is not dismissed by the Secretary must be paid to the airport proprietor under protest by the complainant. Unless the airport proprietor and complainant agree otherwise, the airport proprietor will obtain a letter of credit, or surety bond, or other suitable credit instrument in accordance with the provisions of 49 U.S.C. § 47129(d). Pending issuance of a final order determining reasonableness, an airport proprietor may not deny a complainant currently providing air service at the airport reasonable access to airport facilities or services, or otherwise interfere with that complainant's prices, routes, or services, as a means of enforcing the fee, if the complainant has complied with the requirements for payment under protest.

1.2 Where airport proprietors and aeronautical users have been unable, despite all reasonable efforts, to resolve disputes between them, the Department will act to resolve the issues raised in the dispute.

1.2.1 In the case of a fee imposed on one or more U.S. air carriers or foreign air carriers, the Department will issue a determination on the reasonableness of the fee upon the filing of a written request for a determination by the airport proprietor or, if the Department determines that a significant dispute exists, upon the filing of a complaint by one or more U.S. air carriers or foreign air carriers, in accordance with 49 U.S.C. § 47129 and implementing regulations. Pursuant to the provisions of 49 U.S.C. § 47129, the Department may only determine whether a fee is reasonable or unreasonable, and may not set the level of the fee.

1.2.2 The Department will first offer its good offices to help parties reach a mutually satisfactory outcome in a timely manner. Prompt resolution of these disputes is always desirable since extensive delay can lead to uncertainty for the public and a hardening of the parties' positions. U.S. air carriers and foreign air carriers may request the assistance of the Department in advance of or in lieu of the formal complaint procedure described in 1.2.1.; however, the 60-day period for filing a complaint under § 47129 shall not be extended or tolled by such a request.

1.2.3 In the case of fees imposed on other aeronautical users, where negotiations between the parties are unsuccessful and a complaint is filed alleging that airport fees violate an airport proprietor's federal grant obligations, the Department will, where warranted, exercise the agency's broad statutory authority to review the legality of those fees and to issue such determinations and take such actions as are appropriate based on that review. Other aeronautical users may also request the assistance of the Department in advance of, or in lieu of, the filing of a formal complaint with the FAA.

1.3 Airport proprietors must retain the ability to respond to local conditions with flexibility and innovation. An airport proprietor is encouraged to achieve consensus and agreement with its aeronautical users before implementing a practice that would represent a major departure from this guidance. However, the requirements of any law, including the requirements for the use of airport revenue, may not be waived, even by agreement with the aeronautical users.

Fair and Reasonable Fees

2.1 Federal law does not require a single approach to airport rate-setting. Fees may be set according to a "residual" or "compensatory" rate-setting methodology, or any combination of the two, or according to another rate-setting methodology, as long as the methodology used is applied consistently to similarly situated aeronautical users and conforms with the requirements of this policy. Airport proprietors may set fees for aeronautical use of airport facilities by ordinance, statute or resolution, regulation, or agreement.

2.1.1 Aeronautical users may receive a cross-credit of nonaeronautical revenues only if the airport proprietor agrees. Agreements providing for such cross-crediting are commonly referred to as "residual agreements" and generally provide a sharing of nonaeronautical revenues with aeronautical users. The aeronautical users may in turn agree to assume part or all of the liability for non-aeronautical costs. An airport proprietor may cross-credit nonaeronautical revenues to aeronautical users even in the absence of such an agreement, but an airport proprietor may not require aeronautical users to cover losses generated by nonaeronautical facilities except by agreement.

2.1.2 In other situations, an airport proprietor assumes all liability for airport costs and retains all airport revenues for its own use in accordance with Federal requirements. This approach to airport rate-setting is generally referred to as the compensatory approach.

2.1.3 Airports frequently adopt rate-setting systems that employ elements of both approaches.

2.2 Revenues from fees imposed for use of the airfield ("airfield revenues") may not exceed the costs to the airport proprietor of providing airfield services and airfield assets currently in aeronautical use unless otherwise agreed to by the affected aeronautical users.

2.3 The "rate base" is the total of all costs of providing airfield facilities and services to aeronautical users (which may include a share of public-use roadway costs allocated to the airfield in accordance with this policy) that may be recovered from aeronautical users through fees charged for providing airfield aeronautical services and facilities ("airfield fees"). Airport proprietors must employ a reasonable, consistent, and "transparent" (i.e., clear and fully justified) method of establishing the rate base and adjusting the rate base on a timely and predictable schedule.

2.4 Except as provided in paragraph 2.5.3(a) below or by agreement with aeronautical users, costs properly included in the rate base are limited to all operating and maintenance expenses directly and indirectly associated with the provision of airfield aeronautical facilities and services, including environmental costs, as set forth below, (and may include a share of public-use roadway costs allocated to the airfield in accordance with this policy); all capital costs associated with the provision of airfield aeronautical facilities and services currently in use, as set forth below; and current costs of planning future aeronautical airfield facilities and services. In addition, a private equity owner of an airport can include a reasonable return on investment in the airfield.

2.4.1 The airport proprietor may include in the rate base, at a reasonable rate, imputed interest on funds used to finance airfield capital investments for aeronautical use or lands acquired for airfield use, as provided below, except to the extent that the funds are generated by airfield fees. However, the airport proprietor may not include in the rate base imputed interest on funds obtained by debt-financing if the debt-service costs of those funds are also included in the rate base.

(a) A private equity owner of an airport who has included a reasonable rate of return element in the rate base may not include an imputed interest charge as well.

2.4.2 Airport proprietors may include reasonable environmental costs in the rate base to the extent that the airport proprietor incurs a corresponding actual expense. All revenues received based on the inclusion of these costs in the rate base are subject to Federal requirements on the use of airport revenue. Reasonable environmental costs include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

(a) the costs of investigating and remediating environmental contamination caused by airfield operations at the airport at least to the extent that such investigation or remediation is required by or consistent with local, state or federal environmental law, and to the extent such requirements are applied to other similarly situated enterprises.

(b) the cost of mitigating the environmental impact of an airport development project (if the development project is one for which costs may be included in the rate base), at least to the extent that these costs are incurred in order to secure necessary approvals for such projects, including but not limited to approvals under the National Environmental Policy Act and similar state statutes;

(c) the costs of aircraft noise abatement and mitigation measures, both on and off the airport, including but not limited to land acquisition and acoustical insulation expenses, to the extent that such measures are undertaken as part of a comprehensive and publicly-disclosed airport noise compatibility program; and

(d) the costs of insuring against future liability for environmental contamination caused by current airfield activities. Under this provision, the costs of self-insurance may be included in the rate base only to the extent that they are incurred pursuant to a self-insurance program that conforms to applicable standards for self-insurance practices.

2.4.3 Airport proprietors are encouraged to establish fees with due regard for economy and efficiency.

2.4.4 The airport proprietor may include in the rate base amounts needed to fund debt service and other reserves and to meet cash flow requirements as specified in financing agreements or covenants (for facilities in use), including, but not limited to, reasonable amounts to meet debt-service coverage requirements; to fund cash reserves to protect against the risks of cash-flow fluctuations associated with normal airfield operations; and to fund reasonable cash reserves to protect against other contingencies.

2.4.5 Unless otherwise agreed by aeronautical users, the airport proprietor must allocate capital and operating costs among cost centers in accordance with the following guidance, which is based on the principle of cost causation:

(a) Costs of airfield facilities and services directly used by the aeronautical users may be fully included in the rate base, in a manner consistent with this policy. For example, the capital cost of a runway may be included in the rate base used to establish landing fees.

(b) Costs of airport facilities and services used for both aeronautical and non-aeronautical uses (shared costs) may be included in the rate base if the facility or service in question supports the airfield activity reflected in that rate base. The portion of shared costs allocated to aeronautical users and among aeronautical uses should not exceed an amount that reflects the respective aeronautical purposes and proportionate aeronautical uses of the facility in relation to each other and in relation to the nonaeronautical use of the facility, and must be allocated by a reasonable, "transparent" and not unjustly discriminatory methodology. Aeronautical users may not be allocated all costs of facilities or services that are used by both aeronautical and nonaeronautical users unless they agree to that allocation. Likewise, the airfield may not be allocated all of the aeronautical share of commonly-used facilities or services, unless the airfield is the only aeronautical use the facility or service supports.

2.5 Airport proprietors must comply with the following practices in establishing the rate base, provided, however, that one or more aeronautical users may agree to a rate base that deviates from these practices in the establishment of those users' fees.

2.5.1 In determining the total costs that may be recovered from fees for the use of airfield assets and public-use roadways in the rate base, the airport proprietor must value them according to their historic cost to the original airport proprietor (HCA). Subsequent airport proprietors generally shall acquire the cost basis of such assets at the original airport proprietor's historic cost, adjusted for subsequent improvements.

(a) Where the land associated with airfield facilities and public use roadways was acquired with debt-financing, the airport proprietor may include such land in the rate base by charging all debt service expenditures incurred by the airport proprietor, including principal, interest and reasonable amounts to meet debt-service coverage requirements.

(b) If such land was acquired with internally generated funds or donated by the airport sponsor (the entity that executes grant agreements with the FAA for airport improvements), the airport proprietor may elect to either include a reasonable amortization charge in the rate base or to retain the full value of the land in the rate base and charge imputed interest in accordance with this policy. The Department considers it unreasonable to alternate between methodologies to obtain undue compensation.

(c) In determining whether an amortization charge is reasonable under paragraph (b), the Department will consider, among other factors, whether the airport proprietor selected an amortization period that gives appropriate recognition to the non-wasting nature of land.

(d) Upon retirement of the debt or completion of the amortization (when the airport proprietor has elected amortization), the land may no longer be included in the rate base.

(e) The airport proprietor may use a reasonable and not unjustly discriminatory methodology to allocate the total airfield costs among individual components of the airfield to enhance the efficient use of the airfield, even if that methodology results in fees charged for a particular segment that exceed that segment's pro rata share of costs based on HCA valuation.

2.5.2 When assets in the rate-base have different costs, the airport proprietor may combine the costs of comparable assets to develop a single cost basis for those assets.

2.5.3 Except as provided below or as otherwise agreed by airfield users, the costs of facilities not yet built and operating may not be included in the rate base. However, the debt-service and other carrying costs incurred by the airport proprietor during construction may be capitalized and amortized once the facility is put in service. The airport proprietor may include in the rate base the cost of land that facilitates the current operations of the airfield.

(a) The Department will consider an airport proprietor's claim that inclusion of the costs of land acquired for future airport development is reasonable if (i) costs of land surrounding the airport are rising;

(ii) incompatible uses and development are encroaching on available land;

(iii) land probably will not be available for airport use in the future; and

(iv) the development for which the land is being acquired is contained in the airport proprietor's currently effective five-year capital improvement plan for the airport.

2.5.4 The rate base of an airport may include costs associated with another airport currently in use only if: (1) The proprietor of the first airport is also the proprietor of the other airport; (2) the other airport is currently in use; and (3) the costs of the other airport to be included in the first airport's rate base are reasonably related to the aviation benefits that the other airport provides or is expected to provide to the aeronautical users of the first airport.

(a) Element no. 3 above will be presumed to be satisfied if the other airport is designated as a reliever airport for the first airport in the FAA's National Plan of Integrated Airport Systems ("NPIAS").

(b) In the case of a methodology of charging for a system of airports that is in place on the effective date of this policy, the Department will consider an airport proprietor's claim that the methodology is reasonable, even if all three elements are not satisfied.

(c) If an airport proprietor closes an operating airport as part of an approved plan for the construction and opening of a new airport, reasonable costs of disposition of the closed airport facility may be included in the rate base of the new airport, to the extent that such costs exceed the proceeds from the disposition. The Department would not ordinarily consider redevelopment costs to be a reasonable cost of disposition.

(d) Pending reasonable disposition of the closed airport, the airport proprietor may charge airfield users at the new airport for reasonable maintenance costs of the old airport, provided that those costs are refunded or credited-back to those users upon the receipt of the proceeds from a whole or partial disposition.

2.6 For other facilities and land not covered by Paragraph 2.2, the airport proprietor may use any reasonable methodology to determine fees, so long as the methodology is justified and applied on a consistent basis to comparable facilities, subject to the provisions of paragraphs 2.7 and 4.2.1 below.

2.6.1 Reasonable methodologies may include, but are not limited to, historic cost valuation, direct negotiation with aeronautical users, or objective determinations of fair market value.

2.6.2 If an airport proprietor determines fees for such other facilities on the basis of HCA costs, the airport proprietor must follow the guidance set forth in paragraph 2.4.5 for the allocation of shared costs.

2.7 At all times, airport proprietors must comply with the following practices:

2.7.1 Indirect costs may not be included in the fees charged for aeronautical use of the airport unless they are based on a reasonable, "transparent" cost allocation formula calculated consistently for other units or cost centers within the control of the airport sponsor.

2.7.2 The costs of airport development or planning projects paid for with federal government grants and contributions or passenger facility charges (PFCs) may not be included in the fees charged for aeronautical use of the airport.

(a) In the case of a PFC-funded project for terminal development, for gates and related areas, or for a facility that is occupied by one or more carriers on an exclusive or preferential use basis, the fees paid to use those facilities shall be no less than the fees charged for similar facilities that were not financed with PFC revenue.

Prohibition on Unjust Discrimination

3. Aeronautical fees may not unjustly discriminate against aeronautical users or user groups.

3.1 The airport proprietor must apply a consistent methodology in establishing fees for comparable aeronautical users of the airport. When the airport proprietor uses a cost-based methodology, aeronautical fees imposed on any aeronautical user or group of aeronautical users may not exceed the costs allocated to that user or user group under a cost allocation methodology adopted by the airport proprietor that is consistent with this guidance, unless aeronautical users otherwise agree.

3.1.1 The prohibition on unjust discrimination does not prevent an airport proprietor from making reasonable distinctions among aeronautical users (such as signatory and non-signatory carriers) and assessing higher fees on certain categories of aeronautical users based on those distinctions (such as higher fees for non-signatory carriers, as compared to signatory carriers).

3.2 A properly structured peak pricing system that allocates limited resources using price during periods of congestion will not be considered to be unjustly discriminatory. An airport proprietor may, consistent with the policies expressed in this policy statement, establish fees that enhance the efficient utilization of the airport.

3.3 Relevant provisions of the Convention on International Civil Aviation (Chicago Convention) and many bilateral aviation agreements specify, inter alia, that charges imposed on foreign airlines must not be unjustly discriminatory, must not be higher than those imposed on domestic airlines engaged in similar international air services and must be equitably apportioned among categories of users. Charges to foreign air carriers for aeronautical use that are inconsistent with these principles will be considered unjustly discriminatory or unfair and unreasonable.

3.4 Allowable costs—costs properly included in the rate base—must be allocated to aeronautical users by a transparent, reasonable, and not unjustly discriminatory rate-setting methodology. The methodology must be applied consistently and cost differences must be determined quantitatively, when practical.

3.4.1 Common costs (costs not directly attributable to a specific user group or cost center) must be allocated according to a reasonable, transparent and not unjustly discriminatory cost allocation methodology that is applied consistently, and does not require any aeronautical user or user group to pay costs properly allocable to other users or user groups.

Requirement To Be Financially Self-Sustaining

4. Airport proprietors must maintain a fee and rental structure that in the circumstances of the airport makes the airport as financially self-sustaining as possible.

4.1 If market conditions or demand for air service do not permit the airport to be financially self-sustaining, the airport proprietor should establish long-term goals and targets to make the airport as financially self-sustaining as possible.

4.1.1 Airport proprietors are encouraged, when entering into new or revised agreements or otherwise establishing rates, charges, and fees, to undertake reasonable efforts to make their particular airports as self-sustaining as possible in the circumstances existing at such airports.

(a) Absent agreement with aeronautical users, the obligation to make the airport as self-sustaining as possible does not permit the airport proprietor to establish fees for the use of the airfield that exceed the airport proprietor's airfield costs.

(b) For those facilities for which this policy permits the use of fair market value, the Department does not construe the obligation on self-sustainability to compel the use of fair market value to establish fees.

4.1.2 At some airports, market conditions may not permit an airport proprietor to establish fees that are sufficiently high to recover aeronautical costs and sufficiently low to attract and retain commercial aeronautical services. In such circumstances, an airport proprietor's decision to charge rates that are below those needed to achieve self-sustainability in order to assure that services are provided to the public is not inherently inconsistent with the obligation to make the airport as self-sustaining as possible in the circumstances.

4.2 In establishing new fees, and generating revenues from all sources, airport owners and operators should not seek to create revenue surpluses that exceed the amounts to be used for airport system purposes and for other purposes for which airport revenues may be spent under 49 U.S.C. § 47107(b)(1), including reasonable reserves and other funds to facilitate financing and to cover contingencies. While fees charged to nonaeronautical users may exceed the costs of service to those users, the surplus funds accumulated from those fees must be used in accordance with § 47107(b).

4.2.1 The Department assumes that the limitation on the use of airport revenue and effective market discipline for aeronautical services and facilities other than the airfield will be effective in holding aeronautical revenues, over time, to the airport proprietor's costs of providing aeronautical services and facilities, including reasonable capital costs. However, the progressive accumulation of substantial amounts of surplus aeronautical revenue may warrant an FAA inquiry into whether aeronautical fees are consistent with the airport proprietor's obligations to make the airport available on fair and reasonable terms.

Requirements Governing Revenue Application and Use

5. In accordance with relevant Federal statutory provisions governing the use of airport revenue, airport proprietors may expend revenue generated by the airport only for statutorily allowable purposes.

5.1 Additional information on the statutorily allowed uses of airport revenue is contained in separate guidance published by the FAA pursuant to § 112 of the FAA Authorization Act of 1994, which is codified at 49 U.S.C. § 47107(l).

5.2. The progressive accumulation of substantial amounts of airport revenues may warrant an FAA inquiry into the airport proprietor's application of revenues to the local airport system.

Issued in Washington, DC, on June 14, 1996.

Federico Peña,
Secretary of Transportation.

David R. Hinson,
Administrator, Federal Aviation Administration.

Appendix 1—Information for Aeronautical User Charges Consultations

The Department of Transportation ordinarily expects the following information to be available to aeronautical users in connection with consultations over changes in airport rates and charges:

1. Historic Financial Information covering two fiscal years prior to the current year including, at minimum, a profit and loss statement, balance sheet and cash flow statement for the airport implementing the charges, and any financial reports prepared by the airport proprietor to satisfy the provisions of 49 USC §§ 47107(a)(19) and 47107(k).

2. Justification, Economic, financial and/or legal justification for changes in the charging methodology or in the level of aeronautical rates and charges at the airport. Airports should provide information on the aeronautical costs they are including in the rate base.

3. Traffic Information. Annual numbers of terminal passengers and aircraft movements for each of the two preceding years.

4. Planning and Forecasting Information.
(a) To the extent applicable to current or proposed fees, the long-term airport strategy setting out long-term financial and traffic forecasts, major capital projects and capital expenditure, and particular areas requiring strategic action. This material should include any material provided for public or government reviews of major airport developments, including analyses of demand and capacity and expenditure estimates.

(b) Accurate, complete information specific to the airport for the current and the forecast year, including the current and proposed budgets, forecasts of airport charges revenue, the projected number of landings and passengers, expected operating and capital expenditures, debt service payments, contributions to restricted funds, or other required accounts or reserves.

(c) To the extent the airport uses a residual or hybrid charging methodology, a description of key factors expected to affect commercial or other nonaeronautical revenues and operating costs in the current and following years.

[STB Finance Docket No. 32976]

The Indiana & Ohio Rail Passenger Corporation; Acquisition by Trackage Rights and Operation Exemption; Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., and Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc.

The Indiana & Ohio Rail Passenger Corporation (IORP), a noncarrier, has filed a verified notice of exemption, as clarified and corrected by letter dated June 12, 1996, from Counsel for IORP, under 49 CFR 1150.31² to acquire, and operate over, local and overhead trackage rights from Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., the Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, the Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., and the Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc. all Class III rail carriers. The trackage over which IORP's operations will be conducted are: (1) Over Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., from MP 0.4 in Cincinnati, OH, to MP 16.4 at Evendale, OH, for a total of 16 miles; (2) over Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, from MP 17.75 at Valley Junction, OH, to MP 43.90 at Brookville, IN, for a total of approximately 26.2 miles; (3) over Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., from (a) MP 5.9 near Monroe, OH, to MP 12.0 near Hageman, OH, (b) MP 31.1 near Hageman, OH, to MP 36.9 at South Mason, OH, (c) MP 26.7 at Lebanon, OH, to MP 31.1 near Hageman, OH, and (d) MP 39.76 at Brecon, OH, to MP 50.5 at Norwood, OH, for a total of approximately 26 miles; and (4) over Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc., from (a) MP 44.96 at Midland City, OH, to MP 74.45 near Thrifton, OH, (b) MP 9.1 near Columbus, OH, to MP 52.56 near Logan, ² A notice of exemption for a similar transaction was served and published previously in The Indiana & Ohio Rail Passenger Corporation; Acquisition by Trackage Rights and Operation Exemption; Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., and Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc., STB Finance Docket No. 32893 (STB served Apr. 30, 1996) (61 FR 19112). Contrary to an erroneous, but harmless, assertion in that proceeding, IORP was, until June 4, 1996, a wholly owned noncarrier subsidiary of the Indiana & Ohio Rail Corp. (IORC), the noncarrier parent holding company for the four Class III carriers from which IORP is obtaining trackage rights in the present proceeding. IORP, in fact, was a wholly owned, noncarrier subsidiary of the IORC. Because IORP did not act on the exemption authorized in STB Finance Docket No. 32893 (nor on the exemption authorized in The Indiana & Ohio Rail Passenger Corporation; Trackage Rights Exemption; Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., and Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc., STB Finance Docket No. 32894 (STB served Apr. 30, 1996) (61 FR 19112), it did not become a carrier until June 4, 1996. On that date, the stock of IORC was sold to RailTex, Inc., pursuant to a notice of exemption filed on May 28, 1996, and effective on June 4, 1996, in RailTex, Inc.; Control Exemption; Indiana & Ohio Rail Corp., STB Finance Docket No. 32975 (STB served June 21, 1996). With the sale of IORC's stock, the control of all four carrier subsidiaries of IORC passed to RailTex, but the ownership and control of IORP, under the sale agreement, was retained by Thomas B. McOwen, one of the prior owners of IORC. IORP is thus not presently affiliated with any other rail carrier, and it was never a carrier while it was affiliated with the other rail carriers. Thus, at no time did IORC, Mr. McOwen, or RailTex, require Board approval or exemption to control IORP while in control of rail carriers.

OH, (c) MP 200.57 at Springfield, OH, to MP 228.83 at Fayne, OH, (d) MP 129.4 near Bell, OH, to MP 130.1 near Springfield, OH, (e) MP 0.0 near Bell, OH, to MP 17.2, near Mechanicsburg, OH, (f) MP 98.8 at Bellfontaine, OH, to MP 129.4 at Bell, OH; and (g) MP 124.5 at Glen Echo, to Cold Springs. The total mileage for all segments is approximately 215.8.

The exemption became effective, and, according to Counsel for IORP, the transaction was consummated, on June 4, 1996.

If the notice contains false or misleading information, the exemption is void ab initio. Petitions to revoke the exemption under 49 U.S.C. 10502(d) may be filed at any time. The filing of a petition to revoke does not automatically stay the transaction.

An original and 10 copies of all pleadings, referring to STB Finance Docket No. 32976, must be filed with the Surface Transportation Board, Office of the Secretary, Case Control Branch, 1201 Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20423. In addition, a copy of each pleading must be served on: Robert L. Calhoun, Sullivan & Worcester, LLP, 1025 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20036.

Decided: June 14, 1996.

This notice relates to functions that are subject to Board jurisdiction pursuant to 49 U.S.C. 11323-24.

exemption to acquire control through stock ownership of Indiana & Ohio Rail Corp. (I&O), a noncarrier holding company.² I&O controls four separate Class III railroads as follows: Cincinnati Terminal Railway Company; Indiana and Ohio Railroad, Inc.; Indiana & Ohio Railway Company; and Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad, Inc. These four I&O rail carrier subsidiaries are separate corporate entities comprising a single rail system operating in the States of Indiana and Ohio as the Indiana & Ohio Rail System (I&O Rail System).

The exemption became effective, and it was reported in a letter filed in The Indiana & Ohio Rail Passenger Corporation—Acquisition by Trackage Rights and Operation Exemption—Cincinnati Terminal Railway Corp., Indiana and Ohio Railroad Company, Indiana & Ohio Railway Company, Inc., and Indiana & Ohio Central Railroad Company, Inc., STB Finance Docket No. 32976 (STB served June 21, 1996), that the transaction was consummated, on June 4, 1996.

RailTex controls 16 existing Class III railroad subsidiaries: San Diego & Imperial Valley Railroad Company, Inc., operating in California; North Carolina & Virginia Railroad Company, Inc. (including Virginia Southern Division), operating in North Carolina and Virginia; South Carolina Central Railroad Company, Inc. (including Carolina Piedmont Division), operating in South Carolina; Mid-Michigan Railroad, Inc. (including Northeast Kansas & Missouri Division and Texas Northeastern Division) operating in Texas, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan. Chesapeake & Albemarle Railroad Company, Inc., operating in Virginia and North Carolina; Michigan Shore Railroad Company, Inc., operating in Michigan; New Orleans Lower Coast Railroad Company, Inc., operating in Louisiana; Dallas, Garland & Northeastern Railroad, Inc., operating in Texas; Indiana Southern Railroad, Inc., operating in Indiana;³ Missouri & Northern Arkansas Railroad Company, Inc., operating in Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas; Salt Lake City Southern Railroad Company, Inc., operating in Utah; Grand Rapids Eastern Railroad, Inc., operating in Michigan; Central Oregon & Pacific Railroad, Inc., ² RailTex is acquiring all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of I&O.

³ The Indiana Southern Railroad, Inc. operates in the State of Indiana but does not connect with the I&O Rail System.

operating in Oregon and California; New England Central Railroad, Inc., operating in Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Connecticut; Georgia Southwestern Railroad, Inc. (including Georgia & Alabama Division and Georgia Southwestern Division), operating in Alabama and Georgia; and Austin & Northwestern Railroad Company, Inc. (including Texas-New Mexico Division), operating in Texas and New Mexico.

RailTex states that: (i) the I&O Rail System will not connect with any railroad in the RailTex corporate family; (ii) the acquisition of control is not part of a series of anticipated transactions that would connect the I&O Rail System with any railroad in the RailTex corporate family; and (iii) the transaction does not involve a Class I carrier. Therefore, the transaction is exempt from the prior approval requirements of 49 U.S.C. 11323. See 49 CFR 1180.2(d)(2).

Under 49 U.S.C. 10502(g), the Board may not use its exemption authority to relieve a rail carrier of its statutory obligation to protect the interests of its employees. Section 11326(c), however, does not provide for labor protection for transactions under sections 11324 and 11325 that involve only Class III rail carriers. Because this transaction involves Class III rail carriers only, the Board, under the statute, may not impose labor protective conditions for this transaction.

If the notice contains false or misleading information, the exemption is void ab initio. Petitions to revoke the exemption under 49 U.S.C. 10502(d) may be filed at any time. The filing of a petition to revoke will not automatically stay the transaction.

An original and 10 copies of all pleadings, referring to STB Finance Docket No. 32975, must be filed with the Surface Transportation Board, Office of the Secretary, Case Control Branch, 1201 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20423. In addition, a copy of each pleading must be served on Karl Morell, Ball, Janik & Novack, 1455 F Street, N.W., Suite 225, Washington, DC 20005.

Decided: June 14, 1996.

Hotel and Motel Fire Safety Act National Master List, 1996

AGENCY: United States Fire Administration, FEMA.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA or Agency) gives notice of the national master list of places of public accommodations that meet the fire prevention and control guidelines under the Hotel and Motel Fire Safety Act. This updated list incorporates all changes made to the national master list since it was first published in 1992, and is current to May 22, 1996.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 22, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Comments on the master list are invited and may be addressed to the Rules Docket Clerk, Office of the General Counsel, Federal Emergency Management Agency, 500 C Street SW., room 840, Washington, DC 20472, (facsimile) (202) 646-4536. To be added to the National Master List, or to make a change to the list, please see Supplementary Information below.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John Ottoson, Fire Management Programs

Branch, United States Fire Administration, Federal Emergency Management Agency, National Emergency Training Center, 16825 South Seton Avenue, Emmitsburg, MD 21727, (301) 447-1272.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Acting under the Hotel and Motel Fire Safety Act of 1990, 15 U.S.C. 2201 note, the United States Fire Administration has worked with each State to compile a national master list of all of the places of public accommodation affecting commerce located in each State that meet the requirements of the guidelines under the Act. FEMA last published the national master list in the Federal Register on Friday, December 2, 1994, 59 FR 61932, and published changes approximately monthly since then, except during the first half of fiscal year 1996.

This is the third annual publication of the complete, updated national master list, current as of May 26, 1996. FEMA will continue to publish changes to the national master list on an approximately monthly basis.

Parties wishing to be added to the national master list, or to make any other change, should contact the State office or official responsible for compiling listings of properties that comply with the Hotel and Motel Fire Safety Act. A list of State contacts was published in 58 FR 17020 on March 31, 1993, 59 FR 50132 on September 30, 1994, and 59 FR 62174 on December 2, 1994. The most recent list of State contacts is published as a separate part with this issue of the Federal Register. If the published list is unavailable to you, your State Fire Marshal's office can direct you to the appropriate office. Periodically FEMA will update and redistribute the national master list to incorporate additions and corrections/changes to the list, and deletions from the list, that are received from the State offices.

Copies of the national master list and its updates may be obtained by writing to the Government Printing Office, Superintendent of Documents, Washington, DC 20402-9325. When requesting copies please refer to stock number 069-001-00049-1, and ask for the May 1996 national master list dated June 21, 1996, and any subsequent updates.

Dated: May 29, 1996.
John P. Carey,
General Counsel.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICEBureau of Prisons*28 CFR Part 513*[BOP-1015-P]*RIN 1120-AA06*Release of Information*AGENCY: Bureau of Prisons, Justice.ACTION: Proposed rule and withdrawal of prior proposed rule.

SUMMARY: In this document, the Bureau of Prisons ("Bureau") is withdrawing a prior proposed rule and publishing a new proposed rule on release of information. The rule is intended to consolidate procedures for the release of requested records in the possession of the Bureau. The rule has been developed to help ensure the Bureau is in compliance with the statutory requirements of the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552) and the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a), and to supplement Department of Justice regulations implementing those statutes (28 CFR part 16).

DATES: Comments must be submitted by August 20, 1996.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to the Office of General Counsel, Bureau of Prisons, Room 754, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D. C. 20534. Comments received by the closing date will be available for examination by interested persons at the above address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Roy M. Nanovic, Office of General Counsel, Bureau of Prisons, Telephone (202) 514-6655.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to the rulemaking authority vested in the Attorney General in 5 U.S.C. 552(a) and delegated to the Director of the Bureau of Prisons in 28 CFR 0.96(p), notice is given that the Bureau of Prisons intends to publish in the Federal Register its proposed rule on Release of Information. A proposed rule on this subject was published in the Federal Register on March 17, 1989 (at 54 FR 11326). That proposed rule is withdrawn and comments received in response to that rulemaking will not be considered when finalizing this new proposed rule.

Interested persons may participate in this proposed rulemaking by submitting data, views, or arguments in writing to the Bureau of Prisons, Room 754, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20534. Comments received during the comment period will be considered before final action is taken. The proposed rule may be changed in light of the comments received. No oral hearings are contemplated.

The Bureau of Prisons has determined that this rule is not a significant regulatory action for the purpose of Executive Order 12866 and accordingly, this rule was not reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget. After review of the law and regulations, the Director of the Bureau of Prisons has certified that this rule, for the purpose of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), does not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Subpart D—Release of InformationGeneral Provisions and Procedures*§ 513.30 Purpose and scope.

This subpart establishes procedures for the release of requested records in possession of the Federal Bureau of Prisons ("Bureau"). It is intended to implement provisions of the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), 5 U.S.C. 552, and the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a, and to supplement Department of Justice (DOJ) regulations concerning the production or disclosure of records or information, 28 CFR part 16.

§ 513.31 Limitations.

(a) Social Security Numbers. As of September 27, 1975, Social Security Numbers may not be used in their entirety as a method of identification for any Bureau record system, unless such use is authorized by statute or by regulation adopted prior to January 1, 1975.

(b) Employee records. Access and amendment of employee personnel records under the Privacy Act are governed by Office of Personnel Management regulations published in 5 CFR part 297 and by Department of Justice regulations published in 28 CFR part 16.

§ 513.32 Guidelines for disclosure.

§ 513.33 Production of records in court.

Bureau records are often sought by subpoena, court order, or other court demand, in connection with court proceedings. The Attorney General has directed that these records may not be produced in court without the approval of the Attorney General or his or her designee. The guidelines are set forth in 28 CFR part 16, subpart B.

§ 513.34 Protection of individual privacy—disclosure of records to third parties.

(a) Information that concerns an individual and is contained in a system of records maintained by the Bureau shall not be disclosed to any person, or to another agency except under the provisions of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a, or the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

(b) Lists of Bureau inmates shall not be disclosed.

§ 513.35 Accounting/nonaccounting of disclosures to third parties.

Accounting/nonaccounting of disclosures to third parties shall be made in accordance with Department of Justice regulations contained in 28 CFR 16.52.

§ 513.36 Government contractors.

(a) No Bureau component may contract for the operation of a record system by or on behalf of the Bureau without the express written approval of the Director or the Director's designee.

(b) Any contract which is approved shall contain the standard contract requirements promulgated by the General Services Administration (GSA) to ensure compliance with the requirements imposed by the Privacy Act. The contracting component shall have the responsibility to ensure that the contractor complies with the contract requirements relating to privacy.

Inmate Requests to Institution for Information

§ 513.40 Inmate access to Inmate Central File.

Inmates are encouraged to use the simple access procedures described in this section to review disclosable records maintained in his or her Inmate Central File, rather than the FOIA procedures described in §§ 513.60 through 513.68. Disclosable records in the Inmate Central File include, but are not limited to, documents relating to the inmate's sentence, detainer, participation in Bureau programs such as the Inmate Financial Responsibility Program, classification data, parole information, mail, visits, property, conduct, work, release processing, and general correspondence. This information is available without filing a FOIA request. If any information is withheld from the inmate, staff will provide the inmate with a general description of that information and also will notify the inmate that he or she may file a formal FOIA request.

(a) Inmate review of his or her Inmate Central File. An inmate may at any time request to review all disclosable portions of his or her Inmate Central File by submitting a request to a staff member designated by the Warden. Staff are to acknowledge the request and schedule the inmate, as promptly as is practical, for a review of the file at a time which will not disrupt institution operations.

(b) Procedures for inmate review of his or her Inmate Central File. (1) Prior to the inmate's review of the file, staff are to remove the Inmate Privacy Folder which contains documents withheld from disclosure pursuant to § 513.32.

(2) During the file review, the inmate is to be under direct and constant supervision by staff. The staff member monitoring the review shall enter the date of the inmate's file review on the Inmate Activity Record and initial the entry. Staff shall also ask the inmate to initial the entry, and if the inmate refuses to do so, shall enter a notation to that effect.

(3) Staff shall advise the inmate if there are documents withheld from disclosure and, if so, shall advise the inmate of the inmate's right under the provisions of § 513.61 to make a FOIA request for the withheld documents.

§ 513.41 Inmate access to Inmate Central File in connection with parole hearings.

A parole-eligible inmate (an inmate who is currently serving a sentence for an offense committed prior to November 1, 1987) may review disclosable portions of the Inmate Central File prior to the inmate's parole hearing, under the general procedures set forth in § 513.40. In addition, the following guidelines apply:

(a) A parole-eligible inmate may request to review his or her Inmate Central File by submitting the appropriate Parole Commission form. This form shall ordinarily be available to each eligible inmate within five work days after a list of eligible inmates is prepared.

(b) Bureau staff ordinarily shall schedule an eligible inmate for a requested Inmate Central File review within seven work days of the request after the inmate has been scheduled for a parole hearing. A reasonable extension of time is permitted for documents which have been provided (prior to the inmate's request) to originating agencies for clearance, or which are otherwise not available at the institution.

(c) A report received from another agency which is determined to be nondisclosable (see § 513.40 (b)) will be summarized by that agency, in accordance with Parole Commission regulations. Bureau staff shall place the summary in the appropriate disclosable section of the Inmate Central File. The original report (or portion which is summarized in another document) will be placed in the portion of the Inmate Privacy File for Joint Use by the Bureau and the Parole Commission.

(d) Bureau documents which are determined to be nondisclosable to the inmate will be summarized for the inmate's use. A copy of the summary will be placed in the disclosable section of the Inmate Central File. The document from which the summary is taken will be placed in the Joint Use Section of the Inmate Privacy Folder. Nondisclosable documents not summarized for the inmate's use are not available to the Parole Commission and are placed in a nondisclosable section of the Inmate Central File.

(e) When no response regarding disclosure has been received from an originating agency in time for inmate review prior to the parole hearing, Bureau staff are to inform the Parole Commission Hearing Examiner.

§ 513.42 Inmate access to medical records.

(a) Except for the limitations of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, an inmate may review records from his or her medical file (including dental records) by submitting a request to a staff member designated by the Warden.

(b) Laboratory Reports which contain only scientific testing results and which contain no staff evaluation or opinion (such as Standard Form 514A, Urinalysis) are ordinarily disclosable. Lab results of HIV testing may be reviewed by the inmate. However, an inmate may not retain a copy of his or her test results while the inmate is confined in a Bureau facility or a Community Corrections Center. A copy of an inmate's HIV test results may be forwarded to a third party outside the institution and chosen by the inmate, provided that the inmate gives written authorization for the disclosure.

(c) Medical records containing subjective evaluations and opinions of medical staff relating to the inmate's care and treatment will be provided to the inmate only after the staff review required by paragraph (d) of this section. These records include, but are not limited to, outpatient notes, consultation reports, narrative summaries or reports by a specialist, operative reports by the physician, summaries by specialists as the result of laboratory analysis, or in-patient progress reports.

(d) Prior to release to the inmate, records described in paragraph (c) of this section shall be reviewed by staff to determine if the release of this information would present a harm to either the inmate or other individuals. Any records determined not to present a harm will be released to the inmate at the conclusion of the review by staff. If any records are determined by staff not to be releasable based upon the presence of harm, the inmate will be so advised in writing and provided the address of the agency component to which the inmate may address a formal request for the withheld records. An accounting of any medical records will be maintained in the inmate's medical file.

§ 513.43 Fees for copies of Inmate Central File and medical records.

Within a reasonable time after a request, Bureau staff are to provide an inmate personal copies of requested disclosable documents maintained in the Inmate Central File and Medical Record. Fees for the copies are to be calculated in accordance with 28 CFR 16.10.

Privacy Act Requests for Information

§ 513.50 Privacy Act requests by inmates.

Because inmate records are exempt from disclosure under the Privacy Act, (see 28 CFR 16.97) inmate requests for records under the Privacy Act will be processed in accordance with the FOIA. See §§ 513.61 through 513.68.

Freedom of Information Act Requests for Information

§ 513.60 Freedom of Information Act requests.

Requests for any Bureau record (including Program Statements and Operations Memoranda) ordinarily shall be processed pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552. Such a request must be made in writing and addressed to the Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20534. The requester shall clearly mark on the face of the letter and the envelope "FREEDOM OF INFORMATION REQUEST," and shall clearly describe the records sought. See §§ 513.61 through 513.63 for additional requirements.

§ 513.61 Freedom of Information Act requests by inmates.

(a) Inmates are encouraged to use the simple access procedures described in § 513.40 to review disclosable records maintained in his or her Inmate Central File.

(b) An inmate may make a request for access to documents in his or her Inmate Central File or Medical File (including documents which have been withheld from disclosure during the inmate's review of his or her Inmate Central File pursuant to § 513.40) and/or other documents concerning the inmate which are not contained in the Inmate Central File or Medical File. Staff shall process such a request pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

(c) The inmate requester shall clearly mark on the face of the letter and on the envelope "FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUEST", and shall clearly describe the records sought, including the approximate dates covered by the record. An inmate making such a request must provide his or her full name, current address, date and place of birth. In addition, if the inmate requests documents to be sent to a third party, the inmate must provide with the request an example of his or her signature, which must be verified and dated within three (3) months of the date of the request.

Former federal inmates may request copies of their Bureau records by writing to the Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons, 320 First Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20534. Such requests shall be processed pursuant to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. The request must be clearly marked on the face of the letter and on the envelope "FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT REQUEST", and must describe the record sought, including the approximate dates covered by the record. A former inmate making such a request must provide his or her full name, current address, date and place of birth. In addition, the requester must provide with the request an example of his or her signature, which must be either notarized or sworn under penalty of perjury, and dated within three (3) months of the date of the request.

§ 513.63 Freedom of Information requests on behalf of an inmate or former inmate.

A request for records concerning an inmate or former inmate made by an authorized representative of that inmate or former inmate will be treated as in § 513.61, on receipt of the inmate's or former inmate's written authorization. This authorization must be dated within three (3) months of the date of the request letter. Identification data, as listed in 28 CFR 16.41, must be provided.

§ 513.64 Acknowledgement of Freedom of Information Act requests.

(a) All requests for records under the Freedom of Information Act received by the FOI/PA Administrator, Office of General Counsel, will be reviewed and may be forwarded to the appropriate Regional Office for proper handling. Requests for records located at a Bureau facility other than the Central Office or Regional Office may be referred to the appropriate staff at that facility for proper handling.

(b) The requester shall be notified of the status of his or her request by the office with final responsibility for processing the request.

§ 513.65 Review of documents for Freedom of Information Act requests.

If a document is deemed to contain information exempt from disclosure, any reasonably segregable portion of the record shall be provided to the requester after deletion of the exempt portions. If documents, or portions of documents, in an Inmate Central File have been determined to be nondisclosable by institution staff but are later released by Regional or Central Office staff pursuant to a request under this section, appropriate instructions will be given to the institution to move those documents, or portions, from the Inmate Privacy Folder into the disclosable section of the Inmate Central File.

§ 513.66 Denials and appeals of Freedom of Information Act requests.

If a request made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act is denied in whole or in part, a denial letter must be issued and signed by the Director or his or her designee, and shall state the basis for denial under § 513.32. The requester who has been denied such access shall be advised that he or she may appeal that decision to the Office of Information and Privacy, U.S. Department of Justice, Suite 570, Flag Building, Washington, D.C. 20530. Both the envelope and the letter of appeal itself should be clearly marked: "Freedom of Information Act Appeal."

§ 513.67 Fees for Freedom of Information Act requests.

Fees for copies of records disclosed under the FOIA, including fees for a requester's own records, may be charged in accordance with Department of Justice regulations contained in 28 CFR 16.10.

§ 513.68 Time limits for responses to Freedom of Information Act requests.

Consistent with sound administrative practice and the provisions of 28 CFR 16.1, the Bureau strives to comply with the time limits set forth in the Freedom of Information Act. These time limits begin when the request is received at the Central Office.

Sale of HUD-Held Multifamily Mortgages;
Final Rule

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT24 CFR Part 290

[Docket No. FR-3970-F-02]

RIN 2502-AG59

Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing-Federal Housing Commissioner; Sale of HUD-Held Multifamily MortgagesAGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing-Federal Housing Commissioner, HUD.ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the Department's regulations governing the sale of multifamily mortgages. It adds a provision protecting leases of residential tenants in the event of foreclosure of certain mortgages after they have been sold by HUD. This rule continues the protections already provided to tenants that are receiving project-based federal rental assistance or Section 8 tenant-based rental assistance. This rule also clarifies a requirement added by the earlier interim rule which continued, after the mortgage was sold by HUD, the prohibition on project owners against discrimination in admitting tenants based on their holding Section 8 certificates or vouchers. This rule clarifies that this requirement continues until the mortgage debt is satisfied. These amendments are intended to further the Department's efforts to return its inventory of HUD-held multifamily mortgages to the private sector in a manner that is beneficial to HUD and the residents of these projects.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 22, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

On February 6, 1996, the Department published an interim rule (61 FR 4850) which added two sections to 24 CFR part 290 that provided certain tenant protections when HUD sold multifamily mortgages. On March 21, 1996, as part of its effort to reinvent and streamline all of its regulations, the Department published a final rule that contained a complete revision of 24 CFR part 290. That final rule contained the pertinent sections and indicated that HUD would republish the sections in a final rule after considering public comment.

Section 290.112 of the interim rule (now § 290.37) provided that, in the sale of delinquent mortgages on subsidized projects and partially-assisted unsubsidized, HUD will require project purchasers, including foreclosure purchasers, to assume federal rental subsidy contracts. In addition, mortgage purchasers may not foreclose in a manner that would terminate such assisted tenants' leases.

The interim rule preamble discussion of the then § 290.112 also sought comment on adding a requirement that existing leases of unassisted tenants in such projects must be maintained after foreclosure for a period equal to the remaining term of the lease or one year, whichever period is shorter, if the leases could otherwise be extinguished under state foreclosure law. The Department did not actually effectuate this provision in the interim rule because it did not believe it had a basis to forego prior public comment.

Section 290.114 of the interim rule (now § 290.39) provided that owners of subsidized projects and partially-assisted unsubsidized projects will continue to be subject to a prohibition against discriminating against certificate and voucher holders after a mortgage sale without insurance. In addition, for all mortgages that are delinquent when sold by HUD, owners both of subsidized projects and unsubsidized projects must agree to record a covenant running with the land to continue this obligation through the maturity date of the mortgage as part of the consideration of a loan restructuring or compromise of the mortgage indebtedness with the mortgage purchaser. Alternatively, if the mortgage purchaser forecloses, this nondiscrimination obligation would apply to the project purchaser at foreclosure.

The preamble to the interim rule (61 FR 4581) also provided additional guidance on how HUD intends to implement the then § 290.110(b) (now § 290.35(b)).

The Department received one public comment on the interim rule, which supported the changes made by the interim rule. The commenter did not directly respond to the issue, raised in the preamble, of safeguarding the possessory rights of unassisted tenants after foreclosure.

Changes Effectuated by This Final Rule

This final rule amends § 290.37(b) to adopt the change proposed in the preamble to the interim rule. Namely, it requires a mortgagee (and its successors and assigns) that purchases from HUD a delinquent mortgage on a subsidized project or a partially-assisted unsubsidized project and subsequently forecloses the mortgage to ensure that the purchaser at foreclosure takes possession subject to the rights of residential tenants who are not receiving federal project-based or Section 8 tenant-based rental assistance. This tenant protection lasts for the remaining term of the lease or for one year, whichever period is shorter.

The scope and duration of this tenant protection is similar to that which would apply under section 369E of the Multifamily Mortgage Foreclosure Act of 1981, as amended, (12 U.S.C. 3713(c), see also 24 CFR 27.45(b)) when HUD forecloses on a mortgage that it holds.

The amendment does not affect residential tenants who receive rental assistance. They are protected by existing requirements now in § 290.37(b)(1) (§ 290.112(b) in the interim rule). Under that section, the mortgage purchaser and its successors and assigns, if they foreclose, must foreclose in a manner that does not interfere with any lease related to federal project-based assistance or any lease related to tenant-based, Section 8 housing assistance payments.

This final rule makes one additional change to clarify the duration of the nondiscrimination against certificate and voucher holders requirement in current § 290.39. Section 290.39 (§ 290.114 of the interim rule) prohibits a project owner from unreasonably refusing to lease a unit because the tenant is a certificate or voucher holder. The prohibition applies to owners of subsidized projects or partially-assisted unsubsidized projects. Section 290.39(c)(2) of the current rule provides that "This requirement shall continue until the mortgage is paid in full, including by a mortgage prepayment, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section." The intent of this provision was to continue the nondiscrimination requirement for as long as the project was subject to the mortgage debt. (See the preamble discussion of § 290.114 in the interim rule at 61 FR 4583.) The above-quoted rule text, however, is unclear as to the effect of a satisfaction of the mortgage with less than a full payment. This rule amends § 290.39 to state explicitly that the nondiscrimination requirement continues in effect until the mortgage debt is satisfied.

Other Matters

Environmental Impact

In accordance with 40 CFR 1508.4 of the regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality and 24 CFR 50.20(k) of the HUD regulations, the policies and procedures contained in this rule relate only to HUD administrative procedures and, therefore, are categorically excluded from the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act.

Executive Order 12612, Federalism

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under section 6(a) of Executive Order 12612, Federalism, has determined that the policies contained in this rule will not have substantial direct effects on States or their political subdivisions, or on the relationship between the federal government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. As a result, the rule is not subject to review under the Order. Specifically, the requirements of this rule are directed to HUD administrative procedures, and do not impinge upon the relationship between Federal government and State and local governments.

Executive Order 12606, the Family

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under Executive order 12606, The Family, has determined that this rule does not have potential for significant impact on family formation, maintenance, and general well-being, and, thus, is not subject to review under the order. No significant change in existing HUD policies or programs will result from promulgation of this rule, as those policies and programs relate to family concerns.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary, in accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), has reviewed this rule before publication and by approving it certifies that this rule does not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule will not affect the ability of small entities, relative to larger entities, to bid for and acquire HUD-held mortgages that HUD decides to sell.

Multifamily Mortgages

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing-Federal Housing Commissioner, HUD.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule amends the Department's regulations governing the sale of multifamily mortgages. It adds a provision protecting leases of residential tenants in the event of foreclosure of certain mortgages after they have been sold by HUD. This rule continues the protections already provided to tenants that are receiving project-based federal rental assistance or Section 8 tenant-based rental assistance. This rule also clarifies a requirement added by the earlier interim rule which continued, after the mortgage was sold by HUD, the prohibition on project owners against discrimination in admitting tenants based on their holding Section 8 certificates or vouchers. This rule clarifies that this requirement continues until the mortgage debt is satisfied. These amendments are intended to further the Department's efforts to return its inventory of HUD-held multifamily mortgages to the private sector in a manner that is beneficial to HUD and the residents of these projects.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 22, 1996.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On February 6, 1996, the Department published an interim rule (61 FR 4850) which added two sections to 24 CFR part 290 that provided certain tenant protections when HUD sold multifamily mortgages. On March 21, 1996, as part of its effort to reinvent and streamline all of its regulations, the Department published a final rule that contained a complete revision of 24 CFR part 290. That final rule contained the pertinent sections and indicated that HUD would republish the sections in a final rule after considering public comment.

Section 290.112 of the interim rule (now § 290.37) provided that, in the sale of delinquent mortgages on subsidized projects and partially-assisted unsubsidized, HUD will require project purchasers, including foreclosure purchasers, to assume federal rental subsidy contracts. In addition, mortgage purchasers may not foreclose in a manner that would terminate such assisted tenants' leases.

The interim rule preamble discussion of the then § 290.112 also sought comment on adding a requirement that existing leases of unassisted tenants in such projects must be maintained after foreclosure for a period equal to the remaining term of the lease or one year, whichever period is shorter, if the leases could otherwise be extinguished under state foreclosure law. The Department did not actually effectuate this provision in the interim rule because it did not believe it had a basis to forego prior public comment.

Section 290.114 of the interim rule (now § 290.39) provided that owners of subsidized projects and partially-assisted unsubsidized projects will continue to be subject to a prohibition against discriminating against certificate and voucher holders after a mortgage sale without insurance. In addition, for all mortgages that are delinquent when sold by HUD, owners both of subsidized projects and unsubsidized projects must agree to record a covenant running with the land to continue this obligation through the maturity date of the mortgage as part of the consideration of a loan restructuring or compromise of the mortgage indebtedness with the mortgage purchaser. Alternatively, if the mortgage purchaser forecloses, this nondiscrimination obligation would apply to the project purchaser at foreclosure.

The preamble to the interim rule (61 FR 4581) also provided additional guidance on how HUD intends to implement the then § 290.110(b) (now § 290.35(b)).

The Department received one public comment on the interim rule, which supported the changes made by the interim rule. The commenter did not directly respond to the issue, raised in the preamble, of safeguarding the possessory rights of unassisted tenants after foreclosure.

Changes Effectuated by This Final Rule

This final rule amends § 290.37(b) to adopt the change proposed in the preamble to the interim rule. Namely, it requires a mortgagee (and its successors and assigns) that purchases from HUD a delinquent mortgage on a subsidized project or a partially-assisted unsubsidized project and subsequently forecloses the mortgage to ensure that the purchaser at foreclosure takes possession subject to the rights of residential tenants who are not receiving federal project-based or Section 8 tenant-based rental assistance. This tenant protection lasts for the remaining term of the lease or for one year, whichever period is shorter.

The scope and duration of this tenant protection is similar to that which would apply under section 369E of the Multifamily Mortgage Foreclosure Act of 1981, as amended, (12 U.S.C. 3713(c), see also 24 CFR 27.45(b)) when HUD forecloses on a mortgage that it holds.

The amendment does not affect residential tenants who receive rental assistance. They are protected by existing requirements now in § 290.37(b)(1) (§ 290.112(b) in the interim rule). Under that section, the mortgage purchaser and its successors and assigns, if they foreclose, must foreclose in a manner that does not interfere with any lease related to federal project-based assistance or any lease related to tenant-based, Section 8 housing assistance payments.

This final rule makes one additional change to clarify the duration of the nondiscrimination against certificate and voucher holders requirement in current § 290.39. Section 290.39 (§ 290.114 of the interim rule) prohibits a project owner from unreasonably refusing to lease a unit because the tenant is a certificate or voucher holder. The prohibition applies to owners of subsidized projects or partially-assisted unsubsidized projects. Section 290.39(c)(2) of the current rule provides that "This requirement shall continue until the mortgage is paid in full, including by a mortgage prepayment, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section." The intent of this provision was to continue the nondiscrimination requirement for as long as the project was subject to the mortgage debt. (See the preamble discussion of § 290.114 in the interim rule at 61 FR 4583.) The above-quoted rule text, however, is unclear as to the effect of a satisfaction of the mortgage with less than a full payment. This rule amends § 290.39 to state explicitly that the nondiscrimination requirement continues in effect until the mortgage debt is satisfied.

Other Matters

Environmental Impact

In accordance with 40 CFR 1508.4 of the regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality and 24 CFR 50.20(k) of the HUD regulations, the policies and procedures contained in this rule relate only to HUD administrative procedures and, therefore, are categorically excluded from the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act.

Executive Order 12612, Federalism

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under section 6(a) of Executive Order 12612, Federalism, has determined that the policies contained in this rule will not have substantial direct effects on States or their political subdivisions, or on the relationship between the federal government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. As a result, the rule is not subject to review under the Order. Specifically, the requirements of this rule are directed to HUD administrative procedures, and do not impinge upon the relationship between Federal government and State and local governments.

Executive Order 12606, the Family

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under Executive order 12606, The Family, has determined that this rule does not have potential for significant impact on family formation, maintenance, and general well-being, and, thus, is not subject to review under the order. No significant change in existing HUD policies or programs will result from promulgation of this rule, as those policies and programs relate to family concerns.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary, in accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), has reviewed this rule before publication and by approving it certifies that this rule does not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule will not affect the ability of small entities, relative to larger entities, to bid for and acquire HUD-held mortgages that HUD decides to sell.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIORBureau of Indian Affairs*25 CFR Part 63

Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention

AGENCY: Bureau of Indian Affairs, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) is establishing regulations as mandated by the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act that prescribe minimum standards of character and suitability of employment for individuals whose duties and responsibilities allow them regular contact with or control over Indian children, and establish the method for distribution of funds appropriated for Indian child protection and family violence prevention programs, including appropriate caseload standards and staffing requirements for these tribally operated programs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These regulations take effect on July 22, 1996. However, affected parties do not have to comply with the information collection requirements in §§ 63.15, 63.33 and 63.34 until the Bureau of Indian Affairs publishes in the Federal Register the control numbers assigned by the Office of Management and Budget to these information collection requirements. Publication of the control number notifies the public that OMB has approved these information requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The authority to issue rules and regulations is vested in the Secretary of the Interior by 5 U.S.C. 301 and sections 463 and 465 of the Revised Statutes, 25 U.S.C. 2 and 9.

Background

In enacting the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act (Act), Pub. L. 101-630, 104 Stat. 4544, 25 U.S.C. 3201-3211, the Congress recognized there is no resource more vital to the continued existence and integrity of Indian tribes than their children and that the United States has a direct interest, as trustee, in protecting Indian children who are members of, or are eligible for membership in, an Indian tribe.

The purpose of this rule is:

- To establish minimum standards of character and suitability for employment for individuals whose duties and responsibilities allow them regular contact with or control over Indian children as required by Title IV, Section 408 of the Act, 25 U.S.C. 3207.

- To establish the method for distribution of funds to support tribally operated programs to protect Indian children and reduce the incidents of family violence in Indian country as authorized by Title IV, Section 411 of the Act, 25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(3).

- To establish appropriate caseload standards and staffing requirements for Indian child protection and family violence prevention programs as required by Title IV, Section 411 of the Act, 25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(2).

This rule was developed in consultation with tribes. A working group of tribal and BIA representatives developed a draft of each section which was then presented to participants at a national tribal consultation meeting in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, August 31 through September 1, 1994. Participants accepted a two part formula in which 49% of appropriated funds are distributed equally to all tribes and 49% is distributed on a per capita basis according to the population of children residing in the service area (25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(3) (A)-(B)), with a two percent set aside for special circumstances (25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(3)(D)). In any year appropriations do not exceed fifty percent of the authorization, funds will be equitably distributed (25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(5)), with a two percent set aside for special circumstances (25 U.S.C. 3210(f)(3)(D)).

The formula does not include projected number of cases per month because many tribes have not developed statistics. The formula serves as an interim formula until baseline data using the standard assessment methodology developed for the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) program has been developed. Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Program grants may be combined with ICWA grants to avoid duplication of effort and paperwork. The caseload standards included in this rule do not reflect the variety of activities contemplated by the Act, e.g., prevention and public education. These are merely benchmarks that may indicate whether funding is sufficient to support a child protection and family violence prevention program, and are not intended to dictate program design and staffing requirements at the local level.

It is with appreciation to the many tribal representatives who gave of their time and experience that this rule is published.

Review of Public CommentsSection 63.3 Definitions

Pursuant to comments received, the definition of Family violence has been amended to include persons with whom such person has, or had, intimate or continuous social contact and household access.

Several comments requested a clarification of the term crimes against persons as it is used in §§ 63.12, 63.15 and 63.19. Section 63.3, Definitions, has been amended to include Crimes against persons. 25 U.S.C. 3207(b) requires that the minimum standards of character prescribed under this rule ensure that no individual appointed to a position which involves regular contact with or control over Indian children has been found guilty of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, any offense under Federal, State, or tribal law involving crimes of violence; sexual assault, molestation, exploitation, contact, or prostitution; or crimes against persons.

Section 63.17 How does an employer determine suitability for employment and efficiency of service?

Section 63.17(e) was corrected to read "adjudicating official" rather than background investigation.

Section 63.17(f)(7), the degree of public trust and the possibility the public would be placed at risk if the individual is appointed to the position, has been deleted to conform with proposed changes to United States Office of Personnel Management (OPM) rules on personnel suitability and investigations, 5 CFR 731.202.

Section 63.18 Are the requirements for Bureau of Indian Affairs adjudication different from the requirements for Indian tribes and tribal organizations?

Pursuant to comments, § 63.18 has been amended to clarify that the BIA background investigation must include the OPM National Agency Check and Inquiries which includes a search of the OPM Security/Suitability Investigations Index (SII) and the Defense Clearance and Investigations Index (DCII), and any additional standards which may be established by the BIA.

Both credit checks and searches by state human services agencies have been deleted because these are BIA, not OPM, requirements and do not constitute minimum standards for this rule. Subsection (c) has been added to clarify that the requirements for BIA are not mandatory for the tribes. Tribes and tribal organizations are only required to certify minimum standards of character (§ 63.12) and this is accomplished through the adjudication process described in § 63.17. In addition, the BIA requires that all employees who have regular contact with or control over Indian children be reinvestigated every five years.

Section 63.19 When should an employer deny employment or dismiss an employee?

One comment correctly indicated that subsections (a) and (b) are similar.

Section 63.19(a) reflects the requirements of Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act, 25 U.S.C. 3207(b).

Section 63.19(b) has been amended to more clearly reflect the requirements of the Crime Control Act of 1990, Pub. L. 101-647, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 13041. Subtitle E, Child Care Worker Employee Background Checks, requires that Federal agencies and facilities operated under contract with the Federal Government which employ individuals to provide child care services to children under the age of 18 must assure that all existing and newly-hired employees undergo criminal history background checks. Any conviction for a sex crime, an offense involving a child victim, or a drug felony, may be a reason for denying employment or for dismissal of an employee. Conviction of a crime other than a sex crime may be considered if it bears on an individual's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of children. 42 U.S.C. 13041(c).

The Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act applies specifically to Indian tribes and tribal organizations and requires that they conduct background investigations for all persons employed in positions which involve regular contact with or control over Indian children. The Crime Control Act of 1990 applies to Federal contractors, including Indian tribes and tribal organizations. The Crime Control Act includes conviction for a drug felony as a reason to deny employment and only requires a fingerprint check, rather than the full background investigation. Because both laws may apply to an Indian tribe or tribal organization, they are included in this section.

Section 63.21 Are there other factors that may disqualify an applicant, volunteer or employee from placement in a position which involves regular contact with or control over Indian children?

One comment requested a definition of public trust, sensitive and non-sensitive positions. Public trust positions are designated by the employer. "Sensitive" and "non-sensitive" positions are terms used by the OPM and refer to the national security positions. The Bureau of Indian Affairs no longer uses sensitive and non-sensitive designations for positions involving regular contact with or control over Indian children; therefore § 63.21(c) has been deleted.

Pursuant to this comment, § 63.21 has been amended. The term "non-sensitive position" has been deleted and the terms "public trust position" and "sensitive position" have been replaced in the final rule by "positions which involve regular contact with or control over Indian children".

Section 63.22 Can an employer certify an individual with a prior conviction or substantiated misconduct as suitable for employment?

Comments also requested a section be added that addresses the suitability of individuals in alcohol or drug recovery for employment in positions which involve regular contact with or control over Indian children.

Individuals convicted for a drug felony. The Crime Control Act of 1990 addresses convictions for a drug felony. Subtitle E, Child Care Worker Employee Background Checks, provides that conviction of a crime other than a sex crime may be considered in denying employment to an individual or dismissing an employee, if it bears on the individual's fitness to have responsibility for the safety and well-being of children, 42 U.S.C. 13041(c). Note that any conviction for a sex crime, an offense involving a child victim, or a drug felony, may be a reason for denying employment or for dismissal of an employee, 42 U.S.C. 13041(c). Section 63.19(b) has been amended to include drug felonies.

The Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act does not enumerate drug felonies among the offenses which would preclude the BIA from hiring or continuing the employment of an individual in a position which involves regular contact with or control over Indian children. We note that the Crime Control Act of 1990 is applicable to any Federal agency, every facility operated by the Federal Government, and every facility operated under contract with the Federal Government that hires individuals involved with the provision of child care services, 42 U.S.C. 12041(a)(1). The Crime Control Act of 1990 defines child care services as child protective services (including the investigation of child abuse and neglect reports), social services, health and mental health care, child (day) care, education (whether or not directly involved in teaching), foster care, residential care, recreational or rehabilitative programs, and detention, correctional, or treatment services, 42 U.S.C. 13041(a)(2).

Individuals convicted for an alcohol-related offense. The Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act, 25 U.S.C. 3207(b), mandates that the BIA cannot hire or continue the employment of an individual who has been found guilty of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to any offense under Federal, State, or tribal law involving crimes of violence; sexual assault, sexual molestation, sexual exploitation, sexual contact or prostitution; or crimes against persons. The purpose of the minimum standards of character is to ensure that individuals who have been found guilty of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty of these offenses are not hired or retained in positions which involve regular contact with or control over Indian children. It is not the abuse of alcohol, but the criminal behavior that is addressed by the Act.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs may hire or continue the employment of an individual who has been found guilty of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to these offenses in a position that does not involve regular contact with or control over Indian children. The adjudicating officer must determine that the individual's prior conduct will not interfere with the performance of duties and will not create a potential for risk to the safety and well-being of Indian children. Section 63.22(a) has been modified to reflect this standard.

Indian tribes and tribal organizations must identify those positions which permit contact with or control over Indian children and establish standards to determine suitability for employment. Section 63.17(f) addresses the relevance of prior conduct, including an individual's commitment to rehabilitation and a change in behavior. An adjudicating officer may determine prior conduct such as alcohol abuse is not relevant if the applicant or employee demonstrates a change in behavior. Section 63.22 has been amended to clarify that although a person may be found unsuitable for employment in a position which involves regular contact with or control over Indian children, that person may be employed in a position that does not involve contact with or control over Indian children. The proposed § 63.22 is now § 63.23, and the proposed § 63.23 is now § 63.24.

Section 63.34 How are Indian child protection and family violence prevention program funds distributed?

Section 63.34(a)(3)(ii) has been amended to clarify that when the BIA redistributes the unallocated special circumstances funds the BIA will not retain a second 2% percent set aside; all unallocated special circumstances funds will be distributed in the fourth quarter of each fiscal year.

Evaluation and Certification

Executive Order 12778

The Department has certified to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) that this final rule meets the applicable standards provided in sections 2(a) and 2(b)(2) of Executive Order 12778.

Executive Order 12866

The Office of Management and Budget has determined this final rule is a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

Depending upon the number of positions for which determinations of suitability for employment are required, the cost of background investigations (including the cost of each Federal Bureau of Investigation fingerprint check) may have an economic effect on each tribal government and tribal organization under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and require additional outlays by tribal governments, tribal organizations, and the Federal Government. However, these costs are not projected to exceed $100,000 and are minimal when compared to the long-term societal and economic impact on families and communities when children are the victims of crimes of violence, sexual assault, sexual molestation, sexual exploitation, sexual contact or prostitution.

Executive Order 12630

In accordance with Executive Order 12630, the Department has determined that this final rule does not have significant "takings" implications. The final rule does not pertain to "taking" of private property interests, nor does it impact private property.

Executive Order 12612

The Department has determined that this final rule does not have significant federalism effects under Executive Order 12612 and will not interfere with the roles, rights and responsibilities of states.

National Environmental Policy Act

The Department has determined that this final rule does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and that no detailed statement is required pursuant to the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Unfunded Mandates Act of 1995

This rule imposes no unfunded mandates on any governmental or private entity and is in compliance with the provisions of the Unfunded Mandates Act of 1995.

Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995

Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information contained in §§ 63.15, 63.33 and 63.34 until the Office of Management and Budget has approved the information requirements and issued control numbers. The information collection requirements contained in this final rule will be approved by the Office of Management and Budget as required by 44 U.S.C. 1320 et seq.

Subpart A—Purpose, Policy, and Definitions

§ 63.1 Purpose.

The purpose of these regulations is to prescribe minimum standards of character and suitability for employment for individuals whose duties and responsibilities allow them regular contact with or control over Indian children, and to establish the method for distribution of funds to support tribally operated programs to protect Indian children and reduce the incidents of family violence in Indian country as authorized by the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act of 1990, Pub. L. 101-630, 104 Stat. 4544, 25 U.S.C. 3201-3211.

§ 63.2 Policy.

In enacting the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act, the Congress recognized there is no resource more vital to the continued existence and integrity of Indian tribes than their children and that the United States has a direct interest, as trustee, in protecting Indian children who are members of, or are eligible for membership in, an Indian tribe. The minimum standards of character and suitability of employment for individuals ensure that Indian children are protected, and the Indian child protection and family violence prevention programs will emphasize the unique values of Indian culture and community involvement in the prevention and treatment of child abuse, child neglect and family violence.

§ 63.3 Definitions.

§§ 63.5–63.9 [Reserved]Subpart B—Minimum Standards of Character and Suitability for Employment*§ 63.10 Purpose.

The purpose of this part is to establish:

(a) Procedures for determining suitability for employment and efficiency of service as mandated by the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act; and

(b) Minimum standards of character to ensure that individuals having regular contact with or control over Indian children have not been convicted of certain types of crimes or acted in a manner that placed others at risk or raised questions about their trustworthiness.

§ 63.11 What is a determination of suitability for employment and efficiency of service?

(a) Determinations of suitability measure the fitness or eligibility of an applicant, volunteer, or employee for a particular position. Suitability for employment does not evaluate an applicant's education, skills, knowledge, experience, etc. Rather, it requires that the employer investigate the background of each applicant, volunteer, and employee to:

(1) Determine the degree of risk the applicant, volunteer, or employee brings to the position; and

(2) Certify that the applicant's, volunteer's, or employee's past conduct would not interfere with his/her performance of duties, nor would it create an immediate or long-term risk for any Indian child.

(b) Efficiency of service is the employer's verification that the applicant or employee is able to perform the duties and responsibilities of the position, and his/her presence on the job will not inhibit other employees or the agency from performing their functions.

§ 63.12 What are minimum standards of character?

Minimum standards of character are established by an employer and refer to identifiable character traits and past conduct. An employer may use character traits and past conduct to determine whether an applicant, volunteer, or employee can effectively perform the duties of a particular position without risk of harm to others. Minimum standards of character ensure that no applicant, volunteer, or employee will be placed in a position with regular contact with or control over Indian children if he/she has been found guilty of or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to any offense under Federal, state, or tribal law involving crimes of violence, sexual assault, sexual molestation, sexual exploitation, sexual contact or prostitution, or crimes against persons.

§ 63.13 What does the Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Act require of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and Indian tribes or tribal organizations receiving funds under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act or the Tribally Controlled Schools Act?

(a) The Bureau of Indian Affairs must compile a list of all authorized positions which involve regular contact with or control over Indian children; investigate the character of each individual who is employed, or is being considered for employment; and, prescribe minimum standards of character which each individual must meet to be appointed to such positions.

(b) All Indian tribes or tribal organizations receiving funds under the authority of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act or the Tribally Controlled Schools Act of 1988 must conduct a background investigation for individuals whose duties and responsibilities would allow them regular contact with or control over Indian children, and employ only individuals who meet standards of character that are no less stringent than those prescribed for the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

§ 63.14 What positions require a background investigation and determination of suitability for employment or retention?

All positions that allow an applicant, employee, or volunteer regular contact with or control over Indian children are subject to a background investigation and determination of suitability for employment.

§ 63.15 What questions should an employer ask?

Employment applications must:

(a) Ask whether the applicant, volunteer, or employee has been arrested or convicted of a crime involving a child, violence, sexual assault, sexual molestation, sexual exploitation, sexual contact or prostitution, or crimes against persons;

(b) Ask the disposition of the arrest or charge;

(c) Require that an applicant, volunteer or employee sign, under penalty of perjury, a statement verifying the truth of all information provided in the employment application; and

(d) Inform the applicant, volunteer or employee that a criminal history record check is a condition of employment and require the applicant, volunteer or employee to consent, in writing, to a record check.

§ 63.16 Who conducts the background investigation and prepares the determination of suitability for employment?

(a) The Bureau of Indian Affairs must use the United States Office of Personnel Management (OPM) to conduct background investigations for Federal employees. The BIA must designate qualified security personnel to adjudicate the results of background investigations.

(b) Indian tribes and tribal organizations may conduct their own background investigations, contract with private firms, or request the OPM to conduct an investigation. The investigation should cover the past five years of the individual's employment, education, etc.

§ 63.17 How does an employer determine suitability for employment and efficiency of service?

(a) Adjudication is the process employers use to determine suitability for employment and efficiency of service. The adjudication process protects the interests of the employer and the rights of applicants and employees. Adjudication requires uniform evaluation to ensure fair and consistent judgment.

(b) Each case is judged on its own merits. All available information, both favorable and unfavorable, must be considered and assessed in terms of accuracy, completeness, relevance, seriousness, overall significance, and how similar cases have been handled in the past.

(c) An adjudicating official conducts the adjudication. Each Federal agency, Indian tribe, or tribal organization must appoint an adjudicating official, who must first have been the subject of a favorable background investigation.

(1) Indian tribes and tribal organizations must ensure that persons charged with the responsibility for adjudicating employee background investigations are well-qualified and trained.

(2) Indian tribes and tribal organizations should also ensure that individuals who are not trained to adjudicate these types of investigations are supervised by someone who is experienced and receive the training necessary to perform the task.

(d) Each adjudicating official must be thoroughly familiar with all laws, regulations, and criteria involved in making a determination for suitability.

(e) The adjudicating official must review the background investigation to determine the character, reputation, and trustworthiness of the individual. At a minimum, the adjudicating official must:

(1) Review each security investigation form and employment application and compare the information provided;

(2) Review the results of written record searches requested from local law enforcement agencies, former employers, former supervisors, employment references, and schools; and

(3) Review the results of the fingerprint charts maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation or other law enforcement information maintained by other agencies.

(f) Relevancy is a key objective in evaluating investigative data. The adjudicating official must consider prior conduct in light of:

(1) The nature and seriousness of the conduct in question;

(2) The recency and circumstances surrounding the conduct in question;

(3) The age of the individual at the time of the incident;

(4) Societal conditions that may have contributed to the nature of the conduct;

(5) The probability that the individual will continue the type of behavior in question; and,

(6) The individual's commitment to rehabilitation and a change in the behavior in question.

§ 63.18 Are the requirements for Bureau of Indian Affairs adjudication different from the requirements for Indian tribes and tribal organizations?

Yes.

(a) In addition to the minimum requirements for background investigations found in § 63.12, Bureau of Indian Affairs' adjudicating officials must review the OPM National Agency Check and Inquiries which includes a search of the OPM Security/Suitability Investigations Index (SII) and the Defense Clearance and Investigations Index (DCII), and any additional standards which may be established by the BIA.

(b) All Bureau of Indian Affairs employees who have regular contact with or control over Indian children must be reinvestigated every five years during their employment in that or any other position which allows regular contact with or control over Indian children.

(c) Indian tribes and tribal organizations may adopt these additional requirements but are not mandated to do so by law.

§ 63.19 When should an employer deny employment or dismiss an employee?

(a) An employer may deny employment or dismiss an employee when an individual has been found guilty of or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to any Federal, state or tribal offense involving a crime of violence, sexual assault, sexual molestation, child exploitation, sexual contact, prostitution, or crimes against persons.

(b) An employer may deny employment or dismiss an employee when an individual has been convicted of an offense involving a child victim, a sex crime, or a drug felony.

§ 63.20 What should an employer do if an individual has been charged with an offense but the charge is pending or no disposition has been made by a court?

(a) The employer may deny the applicant employment until the charge has been resolved.

(b) The employer may deny the employee any on-the-job contact with children until the charge is resolved.

(c) The employer may detail or reassign the employee to other duties that do not involve contact with children.

(d) The employer may place the employee on administrative leave until the court has disposed of the charge.

§ 63.21 Are there other factors that may disqualify an applicant, volunteer or employee from placement in a position which involves regular contact with or control over Indian children?

Yes.

(a) An applicant, volunteer, or employee may be disqualified from consideration or continuing employment if it is found that:

(1) The individual's misconduct or negligence interfered with or affected a current or prior employer's performance of duties and responsibilities.

(2) The individual's criminal or dishonest conduct affected the individual's performance or the performance of others.

(3) The individual made an intentional false statement, deception or fraud on an examination or in obtaining employment.

(4) The individual has refused to furnish testimony or cooperate with an investigation.

(5) The individual's alcohol or substance abuse is of a nature and duration that suggests the individual could not perform the duties of the position or would directly threaten the property or safety of others.

(6) The individual has illegally used narcotics, drugs, or other controlled substances without evidence of substantial rehabilitation.

(7) The individual knowingly and willfully engaged in an act or activities designed to disrupt government programs.

(b) An individual must be disqualified for Federal employment if any statutory or regulatory provision would prevent his/her lawful employment.

§ 63.22 Can an employer certify an individual with a prior conviction or substantiated misconduct as suitable for employment?

(a) The Bureau of Indian Affairs must use Federal adjudicative standards which allow the BIA to certify that an individual is suitable for employment in a position that does not involve regular contact with or control over Indian children. The adjudicating officer must determine that the individual's prior conduct will not interfere with the performance of duties and will not create a potential for risk to the safety and well-being of Indian children.

(b) Indian tribes and tribal organizations must identify those positions which permit contact with or control over Indian children and establish standards to determine suitability for employment. Those standards should then be used to determine whether an individual is suitable for employment in a position that permits contact with or control over Indian children. If not, the individual may only be placed in a position that does not permit contact with or control over Indian children.

§ 63.23 What rights does an applicant, volunteer or employee have during this process?

(a) The applicant, volunteer, or employee must be provided an opportunity to explain, deny, or refute unfavorable and incorrect information gathered in an investigation, before the adjudication is final. The applicant, volunteer, or employee should receive a written summary of all derogatory information and be informed of the process for explaining, denying, or refuting unfavorable information.

(b) Employers and adjudicating officials must not release the actual background investigative report to an applicant, volunteer, or employee. However, they may issue a written summary of the derogatory information.

(c) The applicant, volunteer, or employee who is the subject of a background investigation may obtain a copy of the reports from the originating (Federal, state, or other tribal) agency and challenge the accuracy and completeness of any information maintained by that agency.

(d) The results of an investigation cannot be used for any purpose other than to determine suitability for employment in a position that involves regular contact with or control over Indian children.

(e) Investigative reports contain information of a highly personal nature and should be maintained confidentially and secured in locked files. Investigative reports should be seen only by those officials who in performing their official duties need to know the information contained in the report.

§ 63.24 What protections must employers provide to applicants, volunteers and employees?

(a) Indian tribes and tribal organizations must comply with the privacy requirements of any Federal, state, or other tribal agency providing background investigations. Indian tribes and tribal organizations must establish and comply with personnel policies that safeguard information derived from background investigations.

(b) The Bureau of Indian Affairs must comply with all policies, procedures, criteria, and guidance contained in the Bureau of Indian Affairs Manual or other appropriate guidelines.

(c) Federal agencies exercising authority under this part by delegation from OPM must comply with OPM policies, procedures, criteria, and guidance.

§§ 63.25–63.29 [Reserved]

Subpart C—Indian Child Protection and Family Violence Prevention Program

§ 63.30 What is the purpose of the Indian child protection and family violence prevention program?

The purpose of this program is to develop tribally-operated programs to protect Indian children and reduce the incidence of family violence on Indian reservations.

§ 63.31 Can both the Bureau of Indian Affairs and tribes operate Indian child protection and family violence prevention programs?

Determination and Education Assistance Act, as amended, 25 U.S.C. 450 et seq., for the development and establishment of Indian child protection and family violence prevention programs. This includes compacting with tribes under the Self-Governance program procedures.

§ 63.33 What must an application for Indian child protection and family violence prevention program funds include?

In addition to the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act, as amended, 25 U.S.C. 450 et seq., contracting requirements, each application must provide the following information:

(a) The name and address of the agency or official to be responsible for the investigation of reported cases of child abuse and child neglect, the treatment and prevention of incidents of family violence, and the provision of immediate shelter and related assistance for victims of family violence and their dependents;

§ 63.34 How are Indian child protection and family violence prevention program funds distributed?

(a) Funds will be distributed, subject to the availability of appropriations, and:

(1) In any fiscal year that the appropriation exceeds 50 percent of the level of funding authorized for this purpose by the Act, 49 percent must be distributed equally to all tribes and tribal organizations and 49 percent must be distributed on a per capita basis according to the population of children residing in the service area. Two percent of the annual appropriation will be set aside for distribution to tribes demonstrating special circumstances.

(2) In any fiscal year that the appropriation does not exceed 50 percent of the level of funding authorized for this purpose by the Act, funding must be distributed in equal amounts to all tribes. (ii) Special circumstances funds will remain available through the third quarter of each fiscal year. In the fourth quarter, unallocated special circumstances funds will be redistributed as set forth in paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) of this section, except that there will be no additional set aside for special circumstances.

(b) Any tribe not wishing to receive Indian child protection and family violence prevention funds must inform its respective area office in writing within 90 days after receiving notice of the allocation from the area office. Each area office may reallocate unused Indian child protection and family violence prevention program funds as provided in this section.

(c) Funds may be used as matching shares for other federally funded programs which contribute to and promote prevention of child abuse, child neglect, and family violence on Indian reservations, but may not be used to supplant funds available for the same general purposes.

Program Description(a) Purpose

Proposals are requested for the purpose of awarding competitive grants for fiscal year (FY) 1996 under the Agricultural Telecommunications Program (Program). Grants will be awarded to eligible institutions to assist in development and utilization of an agricultural communications network to facilitate and to strengthen agricultural extension, resident education and research, and domestic and international marketing of United States commodities and products through a partnership between eligible institutions and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The network will employ satellite and other telecommunications technology to disseminate and to share academic instruction, cooperative extension programming, agricultural research, and marketing information. The authority for this program is contained in Section 1673 of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990, Pub. L. No. 101-624 (7 U.S.C. 5926). The program is administered by the Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service (CSREES) of USDA.

(b) Available Funding

For fiscal year 1996, $1,106,760 is available for the program. Grants under this program may provide funds for no more than 50 percent (50%) of the cost of a proposed project, unless otherwise determined by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 1673(g) of Pub. L. No. 101-624 (7 U.S.C. 5926(g)). For the purpose of determining the non-Federal share of such costs, consideration will be given to contributions in cash and in-kind, fairly evaluated, including, but not limited to premises, equipment and services. Project funds will be awarded for one fiscal year. Applicants may re compete for additional funding, but projects will not be renewed.

(c) Eligibility

Proposals are invited from accredited institutions of higher education. Applicants must demonstrate that they participate in a network that distributes programs consistent with the following objectives: (1) Make optimal use of available resources for agricultural extension, resident education, and research by sharing resources between participating institutions; (2) improve the competitive position of United States agriculture in international markets by disseminating information to producers, processors, and researchers; (3) train students for careers in agriculture and food industries; (4) facilitate interaction among leading agricultural scientists; (5) enhance the ability of United States agriculture to respond to environmental and food safety concerns; and; (6) identify new uses for farm commodities and to increase the demand for United States agricultural products in both domestic and foreign markets.

Pursuant to Sec. 1673(e) of Pub. L. No. 101-624 (7 U.S.C. 5926(e)), preferential consideration will be given to applications that—

(i) are submitted by institutions affiliated with an established agricultural telecommunications network that distributes programs to a wide geographical area; or

(ii) demonstrate the need for such assistance, taking into consideration the relative needs of all applicants and the financial ability of the applicants to otherwise secure or create the telecommunications system.

These preferences will be factored into the evaluation of the Partnerships and Collaboration and Project Need Criteria, respectively.

In addition to the above, an applicant must qualify as a responsible applicant in order to be eligible for a grant under the program. To qualify as responsible, an applicant must meet the following standards:

(1) Adequate financial resources for performance, the necessary experience, organizational and technical qualifications, and facilities, or a firm commitment, arrangement, or ability to obtain the same (including any to be obtained through sub-agreement(s)/contract(s));

(2) Ability to comply with the proposed or required completion schedule for the project;

(3) Adequate financial management system and audit procedures that provide efficient and effective accountability and control of all funds, property, and other assets;

(4) Satisfactory record of integrity, judgment, and performance, including, in particular, any prior performance under grants and contracts from the Federal Government;

(5) Otherwise be qualified and eligible to receive Federal assistance under the applicable laws and regulations; and

(d) Definitions

For the purpose of awarding funding under this program, the following definitions are applicable:

(e) Application Categories

Applicants may submit proposals in any of the following program areas as specified in the authorization: (1) Program Delivery, (2) Innovative Program Development/Production, and (3) Capacity Building.

(1) Program Delivery

(A) Description

Applicants may submit a proposal in the Program Delivery Category requesting funding to operate an agricultural communications network, employing satellite and other telecommunications technology, to deliver Cooperative Extension programming, academic instruction, agricultural research and marketing information through partnership(s) between eligible institutions and the Department of Agriculture. The project goal(s) and objective(s) must be clearly stated in the proposal. Proposals in this category must clearly target a systematic approach to building an infrastructure to deliver programming at a distance.

Each proposal will be evaluated based on three broad principles: (1) Is there a real need for the project, (2) will the strategy identified meet the need, and (3) is the project sustainable.

Each proposal must document the need for the project, based on literature review, case studies, audience analysis and/or needs assessment.

The project strategy should reflect an integrated approach to instructional design including subject-matter content, educational methodology and compatible production and delivery techniques. The approach as described must meet the need.

Evidence must be given that the project will be supported by the institution or by other groups or institutions who may wish to continue the project.

(B) Proposal Narrative

The narrative portion of the proposal must describe how the project meets the three broad principles identified above. It must not exceed 14 pages in length and no additional material or appendix will be considered. The narrative should contain the following sections:

(i) Principle One-Need

Project Need

Describe the background and situation leading to the need for the project. The project must be based on a need articulated by an audience or on a needs assessment. Describe the targeted audience(s) for whom the project will be designed including pertinent history identified in need, demographics, and expected impact on audience. If appropriate, describe the methodology and results of the needs assessment. Demonstrate the need for assistance under this program, including financial ability or inability to otherwise pursue the proposed program.

(ii) Principle Two-Strategy

(a) Partnerships and Collaboration

Describe partnerships and collaborations fostered through this project including expected impact and benefit to those involved such as learner, institution, agency, state, and nation. Partners are defined as all those who will collaborate on the Project. Submit evidence that partnerships are in place, and that those partners have a substantial role and interest in the project. Examples of role and interest might include joint risk-taking and shared benefits. Include information about any current affiliations with established agricultural telecommunications networks that distribute programs to a wide geographical area.

(b) Alternative Distance Learning Technologies

Describe alternative distance learning technologies including, but not limited to, internet, multimedia, audio/visual, and other telecommunications technologies to be developed or employed in this project.

(c) Infrastructure

Describe a framework representing both the technological and human infrastructure for this project including, but not limited to, technical troubleshooting, scheduling and operation management, and learner and program support. Evidence of learner support includes, but is not limited to, facilitation of access, accommodation for diversity in special needs and learning styles, and recognition of need for alternative modes of program design and delivery.

(d) Innovation

Describe the innovative application of distance education/learning delivery identified in the project. Examples of innovation may include, but are not limited to, approaches in reaching audiences, methods of connectivity and/or interaction, use of existing resources with innovations in the teaching/learning transaction, and entrepreneurial approaches to distance education delivery.

(f) Evaluation Plan

Describe both formative and summative design for evaluating specific aspects of the project. These designs may include methods for evaluating the overall effectiveness of program in terms of teaching and learning, behavior change/problem-solving, immediate application, meeting learner needs, and/or potential for replication.

(iii) Principle Three-Sustainability

(a) Project Sustainability

Include strong evidence of the project's ability to continue and grow after receiving the funding. Examples may include replication by others; continued funding other than from this program, or opportunities for sale of products; and/or use of ideas and results of project by others.

(b) Cost/Benefit

(2) Innovative Program Development/Production

(A) Description

Applicants submitting a proposal in the Innovative Program Development/Production Category must demonstrate an innovation to distance education programming. The innovation might be a new approach or a new approach to a traditional model of distance education. The project should contribute some aspect to the body of knowledge of distance education. Examples might include innovative approaches to entrepreneurship, evaluation, and the teaching/learning transaction.

Each proposal will be evaluated based on three broad principles: (1) Is there a real need for the project, (2) will the strategy identified meet the need, and (3) is the project sustainable.

Each proposal must document the need for the project, based on literature review, case studies, audience analysis and/or needs assessment.

The project strategy should reflect an integrated approach to instructional design including subject-matter content, educational methodology and compatible production and delivery techniques. The approach must meet the identified need.

Evidence must be given that the project will be supported by the institution or by other groups or institutions who may wish to continue the project.

How to Obtain Application Materials

Copies of this solicitation and the Application Submission Package, which contains required forms, certifications, and instructions for preparing and submitting project applications, may be obtained by contacting: Proposal Services Unit, Grants Management Branch, Office of Extramural Programs, Cooperative State Research, Education, and Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Ag Box 2245, Washington, DC 20250-2245, Telephone: (202) 401-5048.

Application materials may also be requested via Internet by sending a message with your name, mailing address (not e-mail) and telephone number to psb@reeusda.gov that states that you wish to receive a copy of the application materials for the FY 1996 Agricultural Telecommunications Program. The materials will then be mailed to you (not e-mailed) as quickly as possible.

Proposal Format

Members of the review committees and the staff expect each project description to be complete in itself and should address the described criteria. Proposals should adhere to the following format:

(a) Project Application (Form CFD-2101). All full proposals submitted by eligible applicants should contain a Project Application, Form CFD-2101, which must be signed by the proposed project director and endorsed by the cognizant Authorized Organizational Representative who possesses the necessary authority to commit the applicant's time and other relevant resources. The title of the proposal must be brief (80-character maximum), yet represent the major emphasis of the project. Because this title will be used to provide information to those who may not be familiar with the proposed project, highly technical words or phraseology should be avoided where possible.

(b) Project Description. Each proposal must contain a clear and concise overview (abstract) of the project. The overview should describe the situation, targeted audience, purpose of project, program goal, methodology, and expected outcomes of the project. The abstract should not exceed 200 words.

(c) Application Category: Each proposal must state the category under which funds are requested and contain the required information described under section (e) of the Program Description Application Categories.

(d) Staffing Pattern and Procedure. Each proposal must describe the staff needed for project administration, instructional design/curriculum development, production, evaluation, and marketing/promotion. Narrative should demonstrate that the staffing and implementation procedure will result in an integrated approach involving content specialists, instructional designers, and quality production resources, and that the individual staff members proposed are qualified to perform these roles.

(e) Personnel Support. To assist peer reviewers in assessing the competence and experience of the proposed project staff, key personnel who will be involved in the proposed project must be identified clearly. For each project director involved, and for all senior associates and other professional personnel who expect to work on the project, whether or not funds are sought for their support, the following should be included:

(1) An estimate of the time commitments necessary;

(2) Curriculum vitae. The curriculum vitae should be limited to a presentation of academic and research credentials, e.g., educational, employment and professional history, and honors and awards. Unless pertinent to the project, to personal status, or the status of the organization—meetings attended, seminars given, or personal data such as birth date, marital status, or community activities should not be included. The vitae shall be no more than two pages each in length, excluding the publication lists. The Department reserves the option of not forwarding for further consideration a proposal in which each vitae exceeds the two-page limit; and

(3) Publication List(s). A chronological list of the most representative publications during the past five years, including those in press, must be provided for each professional project member for whom a curriculum vitae is provided. Authors should be listed in the same order as they appear on each paper cited, along with the title and complete reference as these items usually appear in journals.

(f) Budget. A detailed budget is required. A copy of the form which must be used for this purpose, Form CFD-2102, along with instructions for completion, is included in the Application Submission Package and may be reproduced as needed by applicants. Funds may be requested under any of the categories listed, provided that the item or service for which support is requested may be identified as necessary for successful conduct of the proposed project, is allowable under applicable Federal cost principles, and is not prohibited under any applicable Federal statute. While some funds are available for the acquisition and installation of telecommunications transmission facilities, applicants are cautioned that no more than 10 percent (10%) of the funds available may be awarded for that purpose. As stated under section (b) of the Program Description Available Funding, for each grant the Federal funds provided may be for no more than 50 percent of the cost of the proposed project unless otherwise determined by the Secretary.

Applicants' budgets shall specify the total cost of the proposed program, the amount of assistance requested for the proposed program, and other sources of funding that will be used for the proposed program. Each applicant also must attach to its budget an analysis of the costs and benefits of purchasing (or leasing) different types of facilities, equipment, components, hardware and software, and other items.

(g) Current and Pending Support. All proposals must list any other current public or private research support (including in-house support) to which key personnel identified in the proposal have committed portions of their time, whether or not salary support for person(s) involved is included in the budget. Analogous information must be provided for any pending proposals that are being considered by, or that will be submitted in the near future to, other possible sponsors, including other USDA programs or agencies. Concurrent submission of identical or similar proposals to the possible sponsors will not prejudice proposal review or evaluation by the Administrator for this purpose. However, a proposal that duplicates or overlaps substantially with a proposal already reviewed and funded (or that will be funded) by another organization or agency will not be funded under this program. The application material includes Form CSREES-663 which is suitable for listing current and pending support.

(h) Organizational Management Information. Specific management information relating to an applicant shall be submitted on a one-time basis prior to the award of a grant for this Program if such information has not been provided previously under this or another program for which the sponsoring agency is responsible. The Department will contact an applicant to request organizational management information once a proposal has been recommended for funding.

Compliance With the National Environment Policy Act (NEPA)

As outlined in 7 CFR Part 3407 (the CSREES regulations implementing NEPA), environmental data or documentation for any proposed project is to be provided to CSREES in order to assist CSREES in carrying out its responsibilities under NEPA. In some cases, however, the preparation of environmental data or documentation may not be required. Certain categories of actions are excluded from the requirements of NEPA. The applicant shall review the following categorical exclusions and determine if the proposed project may fall within one or more of the exclusions.

(1) Department of Agriculture Categorical Exclusions (7 CFR 1b.3).

(i) Policy development, planning and implementation which are related to routine activities such as personnel, organizational changes, or similar administrative functions;

(ii) Activities which deal solely with the funding of programs, such as program budget proposals, disbursements, and transfer or reprogramming of funds;

(iii) Inventories, research activities, and studies, such as resource inventories and routine data collection when such actions are clearly limited in context and intensity;

(iv) Educational and informational programs and activities;

(v) Civil and criminal law enforcement and investigative activities;

(vi) Activities which are advisory and consultative to other agencies and public private entities; and

(vii) Activities related to trade representation and market development activities abroad.

(2) CSREES Categorical Exclusions (7 CFR 3407.6).

Based on previous experience, the following categories of CSREES actions are excluded because they have been found to have limited scope and intensity and to have no significant individual or cumulative impacts on the quality of human environment:

(i) The following categories of research programs or projects limited in size and magnitude with only short-term effects on the environment:

(A) Research conducted within any laboratory, greenhouse, or other contained facility where research practices and safeguards prevent environmental impacts;

(B) Surveys, inventories, and similar studies that have limited context and minimal intensity in terms of changes in the environment; and

(C) Testing outside of the laboratory, such as in small isolated field plots, which involves the routine use of familiar chemicals or biological materials.

(ii) Routine renovation, rehabilitation, or revitalization of physical facilities, including the acquisition and installation of equipment, where such activity is limited in scope and intensity.

In order for CSREES to determine whether any further action is needed with respect to NEPA (e.g., preparation of an environmental assessment (EA) or environmental impact statement (EIS)), pertinent information regarding the possible environmental impacts of a proposed project is necessary; therefore, the National Environmental Policy Act Exclusions Form (Form CSREES-1234) provided with the application materials must be included in the proposal indicating whether the applicant is of the opinion that the project falls within one or more of the categorical exclusions listed above.

Even though a project may fall within the categorical exclusions, CSREES may determine that an EA or an EIS is necessary for a proposed project should substantial controversy on environmental grounds exist or if other extraordinary conditions or circumstances are present that may cause a project to have a significant environmental effect.

Proposal Disposition

When the peer review panel has completed its deliberations, the USDA program coordinator, based on the recommendations of the peer review panel, will recommend to the awarding official that the project be (a) approved for support from currently available funds or (b) declined due to insufficient funds or unfavorable review.

USDA reserves the right to negotiate with the Project Director and/or the submitting entity regarding project revisions (e.g., reductions in scope of work), funding level, or period of support prior to recommending any project for funding.

A proposal may be withdrawn at any time before a final funding decision is made. One copy of each proposal that is not selected for funding (including those that are withdrawn) will be retained by USDA for one year and remaining copies will be destroyed.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Paperwork Burden

The information collection requirements contained in §§ 954.106, 954.505, 954.506, 954.507 of this interim rule have been approved by the Office of Management and Budget in accordance with the Paperwork

Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501-3520), and assigned OMB control number 2577-0191. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless the collection displays a valid control number.

II. Background

The HOME Investment Partnerships Act (the HOME Act)(Title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act) was signed into law on November 28, 1990 (Pub. L. 101-625), and created the HOME Investment Partnerships (or HOME) Program that provides funds to the Indian HOME program to expand the supply of affordable housing for very low-income and low-income persons. Interim regulations for the HOME Investment Partnerships Program were published on December 16, 1991 (56 FR 65313) and are codified at 24 CFR part 92. The requirements of 24 CFR part 92, subpart A and subpart M (§§ 92.600-92.652) apply specifically to the Indian HOME program.

The HOME Act was amended October 28, 1992 by title II of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992 (HCDA 1992) (P.L. 102-550, approved October 28, 1992). The Multifamily Housing Property Disposition Reform Act of 1994 (MHPDRA) (Pub. L. 103-233, approved April 11, 1994) included an additional number of amendments to the HOME Act. Amendments to the HOME rule at 24 CFR part 92 were published on December 11, 1992 (57 FR 58862); December 22, 1992 (57 FR 60960); June 23, 1993 (58 FR 34130); April 19, 1994 (59 FR 18626); August 26, 1994 (59 FR 44258); March 10, 1995 (60 FR 13348); July 12, 1995 (60 FR 36020); January 23, 1996 (61 FR 1824); and March 6, 1996 (61 FR 9036).

In accordance with section 217(a)(2) of the HOME Act, each Fiscal Year (FY) HUD shall provide funds for the Indian HOME program totaling one percent (or such other percentage or amount as authorized by Congress) of the amount appropriated for the HOME program to expand the supply of affordable housing.

The initial regulatory requirements for the Indian HOME program were similar to the rule for the HOME program for State and local governments. During the years since the publication of the December 16, 1991, interim rule in the Federal Register, there have been four complete funding cycles (FY 92, FY 93, FY 94 and FY 95) of the Indian HOME program. The Indian HOME program has gradually developed its own particular characteristics to serve its constituency, and the Office of Indian Housing has become the Office of Native American Programs (ONAP), receiving Community Planning and Development field office staff and administering both the Indian Community Development Block Grant (ICDBG) program and the Indian HOME program.

This interim rule includes clarifications and simplifications intended to eliminate confusion and facilitate the use of the rule by interested parties, increases similarity with the Indian Community Development Block Grant (ICDBG) program, and simplifies administration of Native American Tribal Programs. In addition, the regulation is relocated from part 92 to part 954 of title 24. The Department is consolidating all of its Native American programs in the 950 series of title 24.

III. Regulatory Reinvention

Consistent with Executive Order 12866 and President Clinton's memorandum of March 4, 1995 to all Federal Departments and Agencies on regulatory reinvention, HUD has reviewed all its regulations to determine whether certain regulations can be eliminated, streamlined, or consolidated with other regulations. The changes in the Indian HOME Program are a part of this regulatory reinvention effort. The Department is inviting comments on these changes and any other provision in part 954. HUD intends to issue a final rule taking into account comments on this interim rule and comments received by HUD on part 92—the HOME program for State and local governments. The following discussion of sections in the new 24 CFR part 954 describes the changes made to the part 92 provisions as part of the move to part 954:

Subpart A—General Provisions

Section 954.1 Overview and Purpose

Section 954.1, based upon § 92.1, is edited so that it applies to only the Indian HOME program. References to participants in the HOME program for State and local governments are deleted.

Section 954.2 Definitions

Section 954.2, based upon § 92.2, is edited so that it applies to only the Indian HOME program. Definitions for and references to participants in the HOME program for State and local governments are deleted.

Section 954.4 Other Federal Requirements

Indian preference

To increase similarity between tribal assistance programs, § 92.631 (now § 954.4) is revised to conform with the Indian preference as described in 24 CFR part 953. The language of this section has been revised to: correct inaccuracies in certain referenced definitions; include a definition of "Indian" as this word is defined in the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450e(b)); delete subsection (e), Additional Indian preference requirements (this subsection is being deleted since its provisions have never been used and, upon analysis, did not appear to be meaningful); and, to add a subsection, Complaint procedures, in which the specific process to be followed is clarified and in which the grantee is identified as the final arbiter.

Environmental Review

Section 92.633 is relocated to § 954.4. Displacement, relocation, and acquisition.

Section 92.634, now included in § 954.4, is revised to conform to 24 CFR 953.602 for the ICDBG program.

Labor

Section 92.635, now in § 954.4, is revised to conform to § 92.354, the regulation for the HOME program for State and local governments which was revised in the April 19, 1994 and August 26, 1994 rules. Also, the regulation includes information about force account and Davis-Bacon; the grantee is responsible for compliance rather than requiring prior HUD approval.

Lead-based paint

ONAP considered replacing the text at § 92.636 (now § 954.4) with the text from the CDBG program at § 570.608. However, HUD is in the process of revising the lead-based paint requirements for all HUD programs in accordance with recent statutory amendments to the lead-based paint statute, and no change is made here.

Debarment and Suspension

ONAP considered similar sections on debarment and suspension (HOME § 92.638; CDBG § 570.609) for both the Indian HOME and ICDBG programs. The HOME regulation refers to part 24, which prohibits awards to ineligible entities. ICDBG, too, prohibits awards to ineligible entities. Section 92.638 has not been revised in its move to § 954.4.

Subpart B—Applying for Assistance

Section 954.100 General

Section 92.600, now § 954.100, is edited to reflect the Department's change in nomenclature from Field Offices to Area Offices of Native American Programs.

Section 954.101 Allocation of Funds

Section 92.601 (now § 954.101), Regional allocation of funds, was changed to Allocation of funds and amended in the process. No formula for the distribution of funds to the regions is included. The decision whether to hold a regional competition or a national competition will be announced in NOFAs for the Indian HOME Program.

Section 954.102 Eligible Applicants

This section reflects § 92.602, except that paragraph (e), which dealt with administrative capacity, has been deleted because it is already covered in § 954.104(b) as a factor for selection.

Section 954.106 Announcement of Competition

Section 92.605 (now § 954.106), Deadline and other information, is changed to Announcement of competition. Section 92.606, Certifications, is eliminated. This requirement will be in the NOFA.

Section 954.107 Project Amendment

Section 954.107 is added to provide for an amendment to a project.

Subpart C—Eligible Activities and Affordability

Section 954.300 Eligible Activities

Section 92.611, Eligible activities, is now § 954.300, except § 92.611(c), Termination before completion, which is placed in § 954.500, Repayment of investment, and revised to clarify the account to which repaid HOME funds are to be deposited. Sections 92.614(e), and 92.615(c), which both dealt with manufactured housing, have also been moved to § 954.300.

Section 954.303 Eligible Project Costs

Section 92.612 (now § 954.303) is revised to expand eligible costs to include the cost to provide a security deposit in tenant-based rental assistance. The meaning of site improvements is clarified, as is the pro-rata development cost of facilities.

Impact fees on housing are eligible under the HOME program for State and local governments. See § 92.206(c)(7). There is no reason to treat grantees in the Native American program differently. Therefore, the payment of reasonable impact fees that are charged to all housing, not just HOME-assisted housing, is now eligible.

The clarification in § 954.303(a)(4) states unexpended funds in reserve must be reprogrammed or returned to HUD; previously, § 92.612(a)(4) only stated that the funds should be returned to the grantee's local HOME account.

The clarification in § 954.303(b) Acquisition costs expands the previous § 92.612(b) coverage from "Costs of acquiring improved or unimproved real property" to "Costs of acquiring improved or unimproved real property, including acquisition by homebuyers."

Section 954.304 Eligible Administrative Costs

A new § 954.304 is added to clarify program administrative costs, with reference to OMB Circular A-87.

Section 954.305 Tenant-based Rental Assistance

In § 954.305 (formerly § 92.613), the explanation of what a community-wide exception rent is has been relocated from paragraph (f)(3) (where it appeared in § 92.613) to the definitions section (§ 954.2). To facilitate flexibility, an alternative rent standard has been added in paragraph (f)(3), which permits the grantee's rent standard for a unit size to be based on local market conditions.

The provision in § 92.613(g), Housing Quality Standards, that allowed for variations has been dropped as not necessary. Grantees may always propose and request HUD approval of justifiable variations through waivers.

Section 954.307 Homeownership: Qualification as Affordable Housing

Section 954.307 discusses affordability restrictions, recapture of the HOME investment, and use of recaptured HOME funds.

Section 954.308 Prohibited Activities

Section 954.308 (formerly § 92.616) includes a prohibition related to the provision of assistance in connection with programs authorized under part 950 (Indian Housing Programs) of title 24. The HOME statute does not specifically prohibit the use of HOME funds for Indian housing, mutual help housing, new construction of public housing or related costs. However, the statutory affordability requirements of HOME present problems of compatibility with these programs. The HOME rent restrictions apply for the period of affordability specified in the regulation. The HOME affordability period for new construction is 20 years. The Indian Housing Programs under part 950 are large and separately funded; ONAP does not contemplate accepting applications for assistance which combine HOME with these other programs.

Subpart E—Program Administration

This subpart has been reorganized. Previously in part 92, it followed the Other Federal requirements section.

Section 954.500 Repayment of Investment

Section 954.500 (formerly § 92.643) has been changed to clarify existing terms.

Section 954.502 Applicability of Uniform Administrative Requirements

A new paragraph (c) has been added to § 954.502 (formerly § 92.645) to provide for alternatives to bond requirements.

Section 954.504 Closeout

Section 954.504 has revised § 92.647 to provide that—except for the special case of closeouts subject to audit—grant closeout may not occur until all the funds to be closed out have been audited, and, if the U.S. Department of Interior (DOI) review results in significant delays, the Area ONAP may request a signed copy of the audit prior to DOI review.

Section 954.505 Recordkeeping

To streamline the rule, the detailed list of records is deleted. It will appear in a program guide.

Section 954.506 Performance Reports

Section 954.506 (formerly § 92.649) has been amended to add a financial status report to the annual performance report requirement.

Section 954.507 Submission of Project Completion Reports

This new section provides for the submission of project completion reports.

Subpart F—Performance Reviews and Sanctions

Section 954.601 Corrective and Remedial Actions

Section 954.601 (formerly § 92.651) has been expanded to include immediate temporary lockout of the grantee from the grant funds.

In addition, the treatment of the following sections in part 92 has been changed as discussed below:

Section 92.625 Elder cottage housing opportunity (ECHO) units—This subject need not be dealt with separately in the regulation.

Section 92.632 Methods of procurement—This subject is generic (see 24 CFR Part 85) and need not be repeated in this program regulation.

Section 92.640 HOME account—Reference to a grantee local HOME account has been dropped.

Section 92.641 HOME Investment Partnership—There is no discussion of this concept in the regulation.

Section 92.642 Cash Management Information System: disbursement of HOME funds—This system is no longer used.

IV. Other Matters

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Secretary, in accordance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)), has reviewed this interim rule before publication and by approving it certifies that this interim rule does not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The interim rule provides revisions to the existing Indian HOME program under which Indian tribes receive grant assistance from HUD to increase the number of housing opportunities for low-income and very low-income people. HUD does not anticipate a significant economic impact on small entities since Indian tribes will continue to carry out their Indian HOME program activities as they now do.

Executive Order 12606—Impact on the Family

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under Executive Order 12606, The Family, has determined that this interim rule does not have potential for significant impact on family formation, maintenance, and general well-being, and, thus, is not subject to review under the order. No significant change in existing HUD policies or programs will result from promulgation of this interim rule, as those policies and programs relate to family concerns. To the extent there is an impact on families, it will be beneficial in that additional affordable housing will be available. The interim rule does not have the potential for significant impact on family formation, maintenance, or general well-being, since its effect is limited to revising program procedures for Indian tribes applying for Indian HOME program grants.

Executive Order 12612—Federalism

The General Counsel, as the Designated Official under section 6(a) of Executive Order 12612, Federalism, has determined that the policies contained in this interim rule will not have substantial direct effects on states or their political subdivisions, or the relationship between the federal government and the states, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. As a result, the rule is not subject to review under the order. The rule is limited to providing funds to Indian tribes in accordance with a program to expand the supply of affordable housing.

Environmental Review

A Finding of No Significant Impact with respect to the environment has been made in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR part 50 that implement section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (NEPA). The Finding of No Significant Impact is available for public inspection between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. weekdays in the Office of the Rules Docket Clerk at the above address.

Justification for Interim Rulemaking

HUD generally publishes a rule for public comment before issuing a rule for effect, in accordance with its own regulations on rulemaking in 24 CFR part 10. However, part 10 provides for exceptions to the general rule if the agency finds good cause to omit advance notice and public participation. The good cause requirement is satisfied when prior public procedure is “impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest” (24 CFR 10.1). HUD finds that good cause exists to publish this interim rule for effect without first soliciting public comment. This interim rule merely moves the Indian HOME rule to a new part 954 in title 24, and removes unnecessary regulatory provisions but does not establish or affect substantive policy. Therefore, prior public comment is unnecessary.

The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance Number for the HOME Program is 14.239.

This part implements the Indian HOME Investment Partnerships Program. In general, under the Indian HOME Investment Partnerships Program, HUD awards funds competitively to eligible applicants to provide more affordable housing. Grantees may use HOME funds to carry out projects through acquisition, rehabilitation, and new construction of housing, and tenant-based rental assistance. Grantees are able to provide assistance in a number of eligible forms, including loans, advances, equity investments, interest subsidies and other forms of investment that HUD approves.

§ 954.2 Definitions.

Adjusted income. See 24 CFR part 950.

Annual income. See 24 CFR part 950.

Area Office of Native American Programs (ONAP). See 24 CFR part 950.

Certification means a written assertion, based on supporting evidence, which must be kept available for inspection by HUD, the Inspector General and the public, which assertion is deemed to be accurate for purposes of this part, unless HUD determines otherwise after inspecting the evidence and providing due notice and opportunity for comment.

Community-wide exception rents are maximum gross rents approved by HUD for the Rental Certificate program under § 882.106(a)(3) of this title for a designated municipality, county, or similar locality, which apply to the whole IHA jurisdiction.

Family. See 24 CFR part 950.

HOME funds means funds made available under this part through grants, plus all repayments and interest or other return on the investment of these funds.

Homeownership means ownership in fee simple title or a leasehold interest of not less than 50 years (including 25 years, automatically renewable for an additional term of 25 years) in a one-to-four unit dwelling or in a condominium unit, ownership or membership in a cooperative, or equivalent form of ownership approved by HUD. The ownership interest may be subject only to the restrictions on resale required under § 954.307(a); mortgages, deeds of trust, or other liens or instruments securing debt on the property as approved by the tribe; or any other restrictions or encumbrances that do not impair the good and marketable nature of title to the ownership interest.

Household means one or more persons occupying a housing unit.

Housing includes site constructed, modular, manufactured housing and housing lots.

HUD. See 24 CFR part 950.

Indian housing authority (IHA). See 24 CFR part 950.

Project completion means that all necessary title transfer requirements and construction work have been performed and the project complies with the requirements of this part (including the property standards adopted under § 954.401); the final drawdown has been disbursed for the project; a Project Completion Report has been submitted and a final accounting of project expenses is provided by the grantee as prescribed by HUD. For tenant-based rental assistance, it also means the final drawdown has been disbursed for the project and the final payment certification has been submitted and processed as prescribed by HUD.

Secretary means the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Single room occupancy (SRO) housing means housing consisting of single room dwelling units that is the primary residence of its occupant or occupants. The unit may contain either food preparation facilities or sanitary facilities, or both. Alternatively, sanitary facilities may be located outside the unit and be shared by tenants in the project. SRO does not include facilities for students.

Subgrantee means a public agency or nonprofit organization retained by the grantee under a written agreement to administer all or a portion of the grantee's program for its HOME grant. A public agency or nonprofit organization that receives HOME funds solely as a developer or owner of housing is not a subgrantee. The grantee's selection of a subgrantee is not subject to the procurement procedures and requirements.

Tenant-based rental assistance is a form of rental assistance in which the assisted tenant may move from a dwelling unit with a right to continued assistance.

Transitional housing means housing that—

(1) Is designed to provide housing and supportive services to persons, including (but not limited to) deinstitutionalized individuals with disabilities, homeless individuals with disabilities, and homeless families with children; and

In addition, HOME funds must be made available in accordance with the prohibitions against discrimination on the basis of age under the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (42 U.S.C. 6101-6107) and implementing regulations at 24 CFR part 146, and the prohibitions against discrimination against handicapped individuals under section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794) and implementing regulations at 24 CFR part 8.

Indian tribes and tribal organizations applying on behalf of Indian tribes that do not exercise recognized powers of self-government must make HOME funds available in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Fair Housing Act, and Executive Order 11063.

(b) Indian Civil Rights Act. The Indian Civil Rights Act (title II of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, 25 U.S.C. 1301-1303) provides, among other things, that "no Indian tribe in exercising powers of self-government shall. . . deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of its laws or deprive any person of liberty or property without due process of law." The Indian Civil Rights Act (ICRA) applies to any tribe, band, or other group of Indians subject to the jurisdiction of the United States in the exercise of recognized powers of self-government.

(c) Indian preference requirements. (1) Applicability. HUD has determined that grants under this part are subject to Section 7(b) of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450e(b)). Section 7(b) provides that any contract, subcontract, grant or subgrant pursuant to an act authorizing grants to Indian organizations or for the benefit of Indians shall require that, to the greatest extent feasible:

(i) Preference and opportunities for training and employment shall be given to Indians; and

(ii) Preference in the award of contracts and subcontracts shall be given to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises as defined in section 3 of the Indian Financing Act of 1974 (25 U.S.C. 1452).

(2) Definitions. (i) The Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450e(b)) defines "Indian" to mean a person who is a member of an Indian tribe and defines "Indian tribe" to mean any Indian tribe, band, nation, or other organized group or community including any Alaska native village or regional or village corporation as defined or established pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act, which is recognized as eligible for the special programs and services provided by the United States to Indians because of their status as Indians.

(ii) In section 3 of the Indian Financing Act of 1974 (25 U.S.C. 1452) "economic enterprise" is defined as any Indian-owned commercial, industrial, or business activity established or organized for the purpose of profit, except that Indian ownership must constitute not less than 51 percent of the enterprise. This act defines "Indian organization" to mean the governing body of any Indian tribe or entity established or recognized by such governing body.

(3) Preference in administration of grant. To the greatest extent feasible, preference and opportunities for training and employment in connection with the administration of grants awarded under this part shall be given to Indians.

(4) Preference in contracting. To the greatest extent feasible, grantees shall give preference in the award of contracts for projects funded under this part to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(i) Each grantee shall:

(A) Advertise for bids or proposals limited to qualified Indian organizations and Indian-owned enterprises; or

(B) Use a two-stage preference procedure, as follows:

(1) Stage 1. Invite or otherwise solicit Indian-owned economic enterprises to submit a statement of intent to respond to a bid or proposal announcement limited to Indian-owned firms.

(2) Stage 2. If responses are received from more than one Indian enterprise found to be qualified, advertise for bids or proposals limited to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises; or

(C) Develop, subject to area ONAP one-time approval, the grantee's own method of providing preference.

(ii) If the grantee selects a method of providing preference that results in fewer than two responsible qualified organizations or enterprises submitting a statement of intent, a bid or a proposal to perform the contract at a reasonable cost, then the grantee shall:

(A) Re-bid the contract, using any of the methods described in paragraph (d)(1) of this section; or

(B) Re-bid the contract without limiting the advertisement for bids or proposals to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises; or

(C) If one approvable bid is received, request area ONAP review and approval of the proposed contract and related procurement documents, in accordance with 24 CFR 85.36, in order to award the contract to the single bidder.

(iii) Procurements that are within the dollar limitations established for small purchases under 24 CFR 85.36 need not follow the formal bid procedures of paragraph (d) of this section, since these procurements are governed by the small purchase procedures of 24 CFR 85.36. However, a grantee's small purchase procurement shall, to the greatest extent feasible, provide Indian preference in the award of contracts.

(iv) All preferences shall be publicly announced in the advertisement and bidding or proposal solicitation and the bidding or proposal documents.

(v) A grantee, at its discretion, may require information of prospective contractors seeking to qualify as Indian organizations or Indian-owned economic enterprises. Grantees may require prospective contractors to include the following information prior to submitting a bid or proposal, or at the time of submission:

(A) Evidence showing fully the extent of Indian ownership and interest;

(B) Evidence of structure, management and financing affecting the Indian character of the enterprise, including major subcontracts and purchase agreements; materials or equipment supply arrangements; and management salary or profit-sharing arrangements; and evidence showing the effect of these on the extent of Indian ownership and interest; and

(C) Evidence sufficient to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the grantee that the prospective contractor has the technical, administrative, and financial capability to perform contract work of the size and type involved.

(vi) The grantee shall incorporate the following clause (referred to as the Section 7(b) clause) in each contract awarded in connection with a project funded under this part:

(A) The work to be performed under this contract is on a project subject to Section 7(b) of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450e(b)) (Indian Act). Section 7(b) requires that to the greatest extent feasible preferences and opportunities for training and employment shall be given to Indians, and preferences in the award of contracts and subcontracts shall be given to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises.

(B) The parties to this contract shall comply with the provisions of Section 7(b) of the Indian Act.

(C) In connection with this contract, the contractor shall, to the greatest extent feasible, give preference in the award of any subcontracts to Indian organizations and Indian-owned economic enterprises, and preferences and opportunities for training and employment to Indians.

(D) The contractor shall include this Section 7(b) clause in every subcontract in connection with the project, and shall, at the direction of the grantee, take appropriate action pursuant to the subcontract upon a finding by the grantee or HUD that the subcontractor has violated the Section 7(b) clause of the Indian Act.

(5) Complaint procedures. The following complaint procedures are applicable to complaints arising out of any of the methods of providing for Indian preference contained in this part, including alternate methods enacted and approved in a manner described in this section.

(i) Each complaint shall be in writing, signed, and filed with the grantee.

(ii) A complaint must be filed with the grantee no later than 20 calendar days from the date of the action (or omission) upon which the complaint is based.

(iii) Upon receipt of a complaint, the grantee shall promptly stamp the date and time of receipt upon the complaint, and immediately acknowledge its receipt.

(iv) Within 20 calendar days of receipt of a complaint, the grantee shall either meet, or communicate by mail or telephone, with the complainant in an effort to resolve the matter. The grantee shall make a determination on a complaint and notify the complainant, in writing, within 30 calendar days of the submittal of the complaint to the grantee. The decision of the grantee shall constitute final administrative action on the complaint.

(d) Environmental review. The Indian tribe must assume responsibility for environmental review, decisionmaking, and action for each activity that it carries out with HOME funds, in accordance with the requirements imposed on a recipient under 24 CFR part 58. The grantee shall also be responsible for compliance with flood insurance, coastal barrier resource and airport clear zone requirements under 24 CFR 58.6.

(e) Displacement, relocation, and acquisition. (1) Minimizing displacement. Consistent with the other goals and objectives of this part, the grantee must ensure that it has taken all reasonable steps to minimize the displacement of persons (families, individuals, businesses, nonprofit organizations, and farms) as a result of a project assisted with HOME funds. To the extent feasible, residential tenants must be provided a reasonable opportunity to lease and occupy a suitable, decent, safe, sanitary, and affordable dwelling unit in the building/complex upon completion of the project.

(2) Temporary relocation. The following policies cover residential tenants who will not be required to move permanently but who must relocate temporarily for the project. Such tenants must be provided:

(i) Reimbursement for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the temporary relocation, including the cost of moving to and from the temporarily occupied housing and any increase in monthly rent/utility costs.

(ii) Appropriate advisory services, including reasonable advance written notice of—

(A) The date and approximate duration of the temporary relocation;

(B) The location of the suitable, decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling to be made available for the temporary period;

(C) The terms and conditions under which the tenant may lease and occupy a suitable, decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling in the building/complex upon completion of the project; and

(D) The provisions of paragraph (e)(2)(i) of this section.

(3) Relocation assistance for displaced persons. (i) General. A displaced person (defined in paragraph (e)(3)(ii) of this section) must be provided relocation assistance at the levels described in, and in accordance with the requirements of, the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970 (URA) (42 U.S.C. 4201–4655) and 49 CFR part 24.

(ii) Displaced Person. (A) For purposes of paragraph (c) of this section, the term displaced person means a person (family individual, business, private nonprofit organization, or farm, including any corporation, partnership or association) that moves from real property or moves personal property from real property, permanently, as a direct result of acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition for a project assisted with HOME funds. This includes any permanent, involuntary move for an assisted project, including any permanent move from the real property that is made:

(1) After notice by the owner to move permanently from the property, if the move occurs on or after:

(i) The date of the submission of an application to the grantee or HUD, if the applicant has site control and the application is later approved; or

(ii) The date the grantee approves the applicable site, if the applicant does not have site control at the time of the application; or

(2) Before the date described in paragraph (e)(3)(ii)(A)(1) of this section, if the grantee or HUD determines that the displacement resulted directly from acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition for the project; or

(3) By a tenant-occupant of a dwelling unit, if any one of the following three situations occurs:

(i) The tenant moves after execution of the agreement covering the acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition and the move occurs before the tenant is provided written notice offering the tenant the opportunity to lease and occupy a suitable, decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling in the same building/complex upon completion of the project under reasonable terms and conditions. Such reasonable terms and conditions must include a term of at least one year at a monthly rent and estimated average monthly utility costs that do not exceed the greater of: the tenant's monthly rent before such agreement and estimated average monthly utility costs; or the total tenant payment, as determined under 24 CFR part 5, if the tenant is low-income, or 30 percent of gross household income, if the tenant is not low-income; or

(ii) The tenant is required to relocate temporarily, does not return to the building/complex, and either: the tenant is not offered payment for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the temporary relocation; or other conditions of the temporary relocation are not reasonable; or

(iii) The tenant is required to move to another dwelling unit in the same building/complex but is not offered reimbursement for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the move, or other conditions of the move are not reasonable.

(B) Notwithstanding paragraph (e)(3)(ii)(A) of this section, a person does not qualify as a displaced person if:

(1) The person has been evicted for cause based upon a serious or repeated violation of the terms and conditions of the lease or occupancy agreement, violation of applicable Federal or tribal law (or state law, which may apply if the grantee is not exercising recognized powers of self-government), or other good cause, and the grantee determines that the eviction was not undertaken for the purpose of evading the obligation to provide relocation assistance. The effective date of any termination or refusal to renew must be preceded by at least 30 days advance written notice to the tenant specifying the grounds for the action.

(2) The person moved into the property after the submission of the application but, before signing a lease and commencing occupancy, was provided written notice of the project, its possible impact on the person (e.g., the person may be displaced, temporarily relocated, incur a rent increase), and the fact that the person would not qualify as a "displaced person" (or for any assistance under this section) as a result of the project;

(3) The person is ineligible under 49 CFR 24.2(g)(2); or

(4) HUD determines that the person was not displaced as a direct result of acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition for the project.

(C) The grantee may, at any time, ask HUD to determine whether a displacement is or would be covered by this part.

(iii) Initiation of negotiations. For purposes of determining the formula for computing replacement housing assistance to be provided under paragraph (e)(3) of this section to a tenant displaced from a dwelling as a direct result of private-owner rehabilitation, demolition or acquisition of the real property, the term initiation of negotiations means the execution of the agreement covering the acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition.

(4) Optional relocation assistance. The grantee may provide relocation payments and other relocation assistance to families, individuals, businesses, nonprofit organizations, and farms displaced by a project assisted with HOME funds where the displacement is not subject to paragraph (e)(3) of this section. The grantee may also provide relocation assistance to persons covered under paragraph (e)(3) of this section beyond that required. For any such assistance that is not required by tribal law (or state law, which may apply if the grantee is not exercising recognized powers of self-government), the grantee must adopt a written policy available to the public that describes the optional relocation assistance that it has elected to furnish and provides for equal relocation assistance within each class of displaced persons.

(5) Real property acquisition requirements. The acquisition of real property for a project is subject to the URA and the requirements of 49 CFR part 24, subpart B.

(6) Appeals. A person who disagrees with the grantee's determination concerning whether the person qualifies as a displaced person, or the amount of relocation assistance for which the person may be eligible, may file a written appeal of that determination with the grantee.

(7) Responsibility of grantee. (i) The grantee must certify that it will comply with the URA, the regulations at 49 CFR part 24, and the requirements of this section, and must ensure such compliance notwithstanding any third party's contractual obligation to the grantee to comply.

(ii) The cost of required relocation assistance is an eligible project cost. This cost also may be paid from tribal funds, or funds available from other sources.

(f) Labor. (1) General. (i) Every contract for the construction (rehabilitation or new construction) of housing that includes 12 or more units assisted with HOME funds must contain a provision requiring the payment of not less than the wages prevailing in the locality, as predetermined by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the Davis-Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 276a-276a-5), to all laborers and mechanics employed in the development of any part of the housing. Such contracts must also be subject to the overtime provisions, as applicable, of the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act (42 CFR 327-332).

(ii) The contract for construction must contain these wage provisions if HOME funds are used for any project costs (as defined in subpart C of this part), including construction or non-construction costs, of housing with 12 or more HOME-assisted units. When HOME funds are only used to assist homebuyers to acquire single-family housing, and not for any other project costs, the wage provisions apply to the construction of the housing if there is a written agreement with the owner or developer of the housing that HOME funds will be used to assist homebuyers to buy the housing and the construction contract covers 12 or more housing units to be purchased with HOME assistance. The wage provisions apply to any construction contract that includes a total of 12 or more HOME-assisted units, whether one or more than one project phase is covered by the construction contract. Once they are determined to be applicable, the wage provisions must be contained in the construction contract so as to cover all laborers and mechanics employed in the development of the entire project, including portions other than the assisted units. Arranging multiple construction contracts within a single project for the purpose of avoiding the wage provisions is not permitted.

(iii) Grantees, contractors, subcontractors, and other participants must comply with regulations issued under these Acts and with other Federal laws and regulations pertaining to labor standards and HUD Handbook 1344.1 (Federal Labor Standards Compliance in Housing and Community Development programs), as applicable. Grantees must require certification as to compliance with the provisions of this section before making any payment under such contract.

(2) Volunteers. The prevailing wage provisions of paragraph (f)(1) of this section do not apply to an individual who receives no compensation or is paid expenses, reasonable benefits, or a nominal fee to perform the services for which the individual volunteered and who is not otherwise employed at any time in the construction work. See 24 CFR part 70.

(3) Sweat equity. The prevailing wage provisions of paragraph (f)(1) of this section do not apply to members of an eligible family who provide labor in exchange for acquisition of a property for homeownership or provide labor in lieu of, or as a supplement to, rent payments.

(4) Force account. (i) The grantee is responsible for compliance with regulatory requirements in the use of grantee work forces for construction or renovation activities performed as part of the activities funded under this part. The grantee must provide for its files the following:

(A) Documentation to indicate that it has carried out or can carry out successfully a project of the size and scope of the proposal;

(B) Documentation to indicate that it has obtained or can obtain adequate supervision for the workers to be used;

(C) Information showing that the workers to be used are, or will be, listed on the grantee payroll and are employed directly by the grantee.

(ii) Any and all excess funds derived from the force account construction or renovation activities shall accrue to the grantee and shall be reprogrammed for other activities eligible under this part or returned to HUD promptly.

(iii) Insurance coverage for force account workers and activities shall, where applicable, include worker's compensation, public liability, property damage, builder's risk, and vehicular liability.

(iv) The grantee shall specify and apply reasonable labor performance, construction, or renovation standards to work performed under the force account.

(v) The contracting and procurement standards set forth in 24 CFR 85.36 apply to material, equipment, and supply procurement from outside vendors under this section.

(vi) In force account there is no contract. If the grantee which has received the HOME grant to construct the housing units performs the construction work using force account, i.e., with its own employees, the work is not covered by Davis-Bacon and related Acts. If the grantee contracts out the work or part of the work, that work is covered.

(g) Lead-based paint. Housing assisted with HOME funds constitutes HUD-associated housing for the purpose of the Lead-Based Paint Poisoning Prevention Act (42 U.S.C. 4821, et seq.) and is, therefore, subject to 24 CFR part 35. Grantees are responsible for testing and abatement activities.

(h) Conflict of interest. (1) Applicability. (i) The conflict of interest provisions in 24 CFR part 84 and 24 CFR 85.36 apply to the procurement of supplies, equipment, construction, and services by grantees and their subgrantees.

(ii) The provisions of this section apply to all cases not governed by 24 CFR part 84 and 24 CFR 85.36. These cases include the acquisition and disposition of real property and the provision of assistance by the grantee, by subgrantees, or to individuals, housing developers, and other private entities under eligible activities which authorize such assistance (e.g., rehabilitation of housing).

(2) Conflicts prohibited. The general rule is that no persons described in paragraph (h)(3) of this section who have or had any functions or responsibilities with respect to activities assisted under this part, or who are in a position to participate in a decision, or gain inside information about such activities, may obtain a financial interest or benefit from these activities. Further, these persons may not have an interest in any contract, subcontract, or agreement concerning such activities; and these persons may not, during their employment or tenure in office and for one year thereafter, have an interest in the proceeds from these activities, either for themselves or for those with whom they have family or business ties. This paragraph does not apply to approved eligible administrative or personnel costs.

(3) Persons covered. The conflict of interest provisions of paragraph (h)(2) of this section apply to any person who is an employee, agent, consultant, officer, or elected or appointed official of the grantee or subgrantee receiving HOME funds.

(4) Exceptions requiring HUD approval. (i) Threshold requirements. Upon the written request of a grantee, HUD may grant an exception to the provisions of paragraph (h)(2) of this section on a case-by-case basis, when it determines that such an exception will serve to further the purposes of the HOME program and the effective and efficient administration of the grantee's project. An exception may be considered only after the grantee has provided the following:

(A) A disclosure of the nature of the possible conflict, accompanied by an assurance that there has been public disclosure of the conflict and a description of how the public disclosure was made; and

(B) An opinion of the grantee's attorney that the interest for which the exception is sought would not violate tribal laws on conflict of interest (or State law on conflict of interest, which may apply if the grantee is not exercising recognized powers of self-government).

(ii) Factors to be considered for exceptions. In determining whether to grant a requested exception after the grantee has satisfactorily met the requirements of paragraph (h)(4)(i) of this section, HUD shall consider the cumulative effect of the following factors, where applicable:

(A) Whether the exception would provide a significant cost benefit or essential expert knowledge to the project which would otherwise not be available;

(B) Whether the affected person has withdrawn from his or her functions or responsibilities, or from the decision-making process, with reference to the specific assisted activity in question;

(C) Whether the interest or benefit was present before the affected person was in a position as described in paragraph (h)(2) of this section;

(D) Whether undue hardship will result, either to the grantee or to the person affected, when weighed against the public interest served by avoiding the prohibited conflict; and

(E) Any other relevant considerations.

(5) Circumstances under which the conflict prohibition does not apply. (i) In instances where a person who might otherwise be deemed to be included under the conflict prohibition is a member of a group or class of beneficiaries of the assisted activity and receives generally the same interest or benefits as are being made available or provided to the group or class, the prohibition does not apply, except that if, by not applying the prohibition against conflict of interest, a violation of tribal (or State) laws on conflict of interest would result, the prohibition does apply.

(ii) A public disclosure of the nature of the grant assistance to be provided and the specific basis for the selection of the proposed beneficiaries must be made prior to the submission of an application to HUD. Evidence of this disclosure must be provided as a component of the application.

(i) Debarment and suspension. As required by 24 CFR part 24, each grantee must require participants in lower tier covered transactions (e.g., sub-contractors) to include the certification in appendix B of 24 CFR part 24 (that neither it nor its principals is presently debarred, suspended, proposed for debarment, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation from the covered transaction) in any proposal submitted in connection with the lower tier transactions. A grantee may rely on the certification, unless it knows the certification is erroneous.

Subpart B—Applying for Assistance

§ 954.100 General.

For each fiscal year, HUD will provide funds for the Indian HOME program, totaling one percent (or such other percentage or amount as authorized by Congress) of the amount appropriated for the HOME program to expand the supply of affordable housing. The funds will be awarded competitively and will be made available pursuant to a NOFA published in the Federal Register, in accordance with the requirements of this part.

§ 954.101 Allocation of funds.

Unless HUD determines for administrative convenience based on the amount of HOME funds available to hold a nationwide competition, HOME funds will be allocated to the HUD Area ONAPs responsible for the Indian HOME program competition based upon relative need for housing as measured by the most recent and reliable data available.

§ 954.102 Eligible applicants.

(a) Eligible applicants for HOME funds for Indian tribes are any Indian Tribe, band, group, or nation, including Alaskan Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos, and any Alaska native village of the United States which is considered an eligible recipient under Title I of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450). Eligible recipients under the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act are determined by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

(b) Tribal organizations which are eligible under Title I of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act may apply for funds on behalf of any Indian Tribe, band, group, nation, or Alaska native village eligible under that Act when one or more of these entities have authorized the tribal organization to do so through concurring resolutions. Such resolutions must accompany the application for funding. Eligible tribal organizations under Title I of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act will be determined by the Bureau of Indian Affairs or Indian Health Service, as appropriate.

(c) Only eligible applicants shall receive grants. However, eligible applicants may contract or otherwise agree with non-eligible entities such as States, cities, counties, or other organizations to assist in the preparation of applications and to help implement assisted activities.

(d) To apply for funding in a given fiscal year, an applicant must be eligible as an Indian Tribe or Alaska native village, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, or as a tribal organization, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, by the application submission date.

§ 954.103 Housing strategy.

Grantees are not required to submit a housing strategy to receive HOME funds. However, the application must demonstrate how the proposed project(s) will contribute to a comprehensive approach for expanding the supply of affordable housing for members of the Indian tribe.

§ 954.104 Performance thresholds.

Applicants must have the administrative capacity to undertake the project proposed, including systems of internal control necessary to administer these projects effectively. In addition, an applicant that has participated in the HOME program must have performed adequately. In cases of previously documented deficient performance, the applicant must have taken appropriate corrective action to improve its performance prior to submitting a HOME application to HUD. The Area ONAP will determine whether or not a grantee is eligible to participate in a particular funding round. Examples of deficient performance may include unresolved serious audit findings and failure to initiate a previous grant.

§ 954.105 Criteria for selection.

There are four categories of projects that may be funded under the HOME Indian program: housing rehabilitation; acquisition of housing; new housing construction; and tenant-based rental assistance. Each project must be evaluated using the following three criteria:

(a) Project need and design. The degree to which the proposed project addresses the housing need(s) of the grantee as identified in the application, and the degree to which the proposed project is feasible while maximizing benefits to low-income families.

(b) Planning and implementation. The degree to which the financial, administrative, and legal actions necessary to undertake the proposed project have been considered and addressed in the application, and the degree to which the grantee has the administrative staff to carry out the project successfully.

(c) Leveraging. The degree to which other sources of assistance, including mortgage insurance, State funds, other Federal grants, and private contributions, are used in conjunction with HOME funds to carry out the proposed project.

§ 954.106 Announcement of competition.

A NOFA will describe the maximum points for each of the selection criteria and any special factors to be evaluated in awarding points under the selection factors. The NOFA will also state the deadline for the submission of applications, the total funding available for the competition and any maximum amount of individual awards.

[Approved by the Office of Management and Budget under OMB control number 2577-0191]

§ 954.107 Grant conditions.

HUD may impose reasonable conditions on grant awards.

§ 954.108 Project amendment.

(a) Grantees shall request prior HUD approval for all project amendments.

(b) HUD can approve an amendment to a project if:

(1) The amendment is due to factors beyond the control of the grantee; and

(2) The request for approval for a project amendment which involves $100,000 or more includes all application components required by the NOFA published for the last application cycle (not necessarily the year in which the project was rated and ranked) and the modified project scores high enough to have been funded in the competition for the last application cycle. A rating equal to or greater than the lowest rating received by a funded project during the last rating cycle must be attained by the modified project. The request for approval of an amendment for a project which involves less than $100,000 does not have to include the components which address the selection criteria. It does require a description of and the reason for the modification.

(c) Approval of an amendment request is subject to the following:

(1) Demonstration by the grantee of the capacity to promptly complete the modified or new project.

(2) The preparation of an amended or new environmental review in accordance with Part 58 of this title, if there is a significant change in the scope or location of approved project.

(d) If a project amendment fails to be approved and the original project is no longer feasible, the grant funds proposed for amendment shall be deobligated by HUD and recaptured.

Subpart C—Eligible Activities and Affordability

§ 954.300 Eligible activities.

(a) Eligible activities. (1) General. HOME funds may be used by a grantee to provide incentives to develop and support affordable rental housing and homeownership affordability and to provide payment of reasonable administrative and planning costs. The housing must be permanent or transitional housing, and includes permanent housing for disabled homeless persons, and single-room occupancy housing. The specific eligible costs for these activities are set forth in § 954.303 and § 954.304.

(2) Acquisition of vacant land or demolition must be undertaken only as an integral part of a particular HOME new construction project.

(3) Manufactured housing. Purchase and/or rehabilitation of a manufactured housing unit qualifies as affordable housing only if, at the time of project completion, the unit:

(i) Is situated on a permanent foundation (except—for rehabilitation not involving purchase—when assisting existing unit owners who rent the lot on which their unit sits);

(ii) Is connected to permanent utility hook-ups;

(iii) Is located on land that is held in fee-simple title, land-trust, or long-term ground lease with a term at least equal to that of the appropriate affordability period;

(iv) Meets the construction standards established under 24 CFR part 3280 if produced after June 15, 1976. If the unit was produced prior to June 16, 1976, it must comply with applicable tribal, State or local codes; and

(v) In cases where the owner of a manufactured housing unit does not hold fee-simple title to the land on which the unit is located, the owner may be assisted in purchasing the land under provisions governing rehabilitation not involving purchase.

(b) Forms of assistance. A grantee may invest HOME funds as equity investments, interest-bearing loans or advances, noninterest-bearing loans or advances, interest subsidies consistent with the purposes of this part, deferred payment loans, grants, or other forms of assistance that HUD determines to be consistent with the purposes of this part. Each grantee has the right to establish the terms of assistance, subject to the requirements of this part.

§ 954.301 Religious organizations.

HOME funds may not be provided to primarily religious organizations, such as churches, for any activity including secular activities. In addition, HOME funds may not be used to rehabilitate or construct housing owned by primarily religious organizations or to assist primarily religious organizations in acquiring housing. However, HOME funds may be used by a secular entity to acquire housing from a primarily religious organization, and a primarily religious entity may transfer title to property to a wholly secular entity and the entity may participate in the HOME program in accordance with the requirements of this part. The entity may be an existing or newly established entity (which may be an entity established, but not controlled, by the religious organization). The completed housing project must be used exclusively by the owner entity for secular purposes, available to all persons regardless of religion. In particular, there must be no religious or membership criteria for tenants of the property.

§ 954.302 Income determinations.

Whenever a grantee makes a determination under this part based on family income or adjusted family income, it must use the definitions of annual income, adjusted income, monthly income, and monthly adjusted income, as those terms are defined in 24 CFR part 950, except when determining the income of a homeowner for an owner-occupied rehabilitation project, the equity in the homeowner's principal residence is excluded from "Net Family Assets."

§ 954.303 Eligible project costs.

HOME funds may be used to pay the following eligible costs:

(a) Development hard costs. The actual cost of constructing or rehabilitating housing. These costs include the following:

(1) For new construction, costs to meet the applicable new construction standards of the grantee and the Model Energy Code referred to in § 954.401;

(2) For rehabilitation, costs:

(i) To meet the applicable rehabilitation standards of the grantee or correcting substandard conditions (minimally, the housing quality standards at § 882.109 of this title), to make essential improvements including energy-related repairs or improvements, improvements necessary to permit the use by handicapped persons, and the abatement of lead-based paint hazards, as required by § 954.4, and to repair or replace major housing systems in danger of failure; and

(ii) To refinance existing debt secured by a single-family owner-occupied unit when loaning HOME funds to rehabilitate the unit, if the overall housing costs of the borrower will be reduced and made more affordable.

(3) For both new construction and rehabilitation, costs to demolish existing structures and for improvements to the project site that are in keeping with improvements of surrounding, standard projects, and costs to make utility connections. The "site" of the improvements may include property adjacent to or near the immediate site of the housing if this property and the housing are owned by the same entity (e.g., the housing is owned—at least until sold to homebuyers—by the grantee and the housing and the improvements are located on a reservation). If the site improvements will benefit other housing (existing or future) in addition to housing assisted with the particular Indian HOME grant, only a pro-rated share of the site improvements may be charged against the HOME grant. Site improvements include roads, streets, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, and connections to utilities, such as storm and sanitary sewers, water supply, gas, and electricity, and the pro rata development cost of facilities for water supply and sewerage collection utilities.

(4) For new construction or substantial rehabilitation (an expenditure of $25,000 or more per home) the cost of funding an initial operating deficit reserve, which is a reserve to meet any shortfall in project income during the period of project rent-up (not to exceed 18 months) and which may only be used to pay operating expenses, reserve for replacement payments, and debt service. Any HOME funds placed in an operating deficit reserve that remain unexpended when the reserve terminates must be returned to the grantee's account and shall be reprogrammed for other activities eligible under this part or returned to HUD promptly.

(b) Acquisition costs. Costs of acquiring improved or unimproved real property, including acquisition by homebuyers.

(c) Related soft costs. Other reasonable and necessary costs incurred by the owner and associated with the financing, or development (or both) of new construction, rehabilitation or acquisition of housing assisted with HOME funds. These costs include, but are not limited to:

(1) Architectural, engineering or related professional services required to prepare plans, drawings, specifications, or work write-ups;

(2) Costs to process and settle the financing for a project, such as private lender origination fees, credit reports, fees for title evidence, fees for recordation and filing of legal documents, building permits, attorneys' fees, private appraisal fees and fees for an independent cost estimate, builder and developer fees;

(3) Costs of a project audit that the grantee may require with respect to the development of a specific project; and

(4) Costs to pay impact fees that are charged to all housing.

(d) Relocation costs. Costs of relocation payments and other relocation assistance for permanently and temporarily relocated individuals, families, businesses, private nonprofit organizations, and farm operations where assistance is required under § 954.4 or determined by the grantee to be appropriate under § 954.4.

(e) Costs related to tenant-based rental assistance. Eligible costs are the rental assistance and security deposit payments made to provide tenant-based rental assistance for a family.

§ 954.304 Eligible administrative costs.

Eligible administrative costs means reasonable and necessary costs, as described in OMB Circular A-87, (available from the Executive Office of the President, Publication Service, 725 17th Street, N.W., Suite G-2200, Washington, DC 20503; Telephone, (202) 395-7332) incurred by the grantee and related to the planning and execution of HOME activities assisted in whole or in part with funds provided under this part. The grantee may use up to 15 percent of the HOME funds for the payment of eligible administrative costs.

§ 954.305 Tenant-based rental assistance.

(a) General. A grantee may use HOME funds for tenant-based rental assistance only if the grantee selects families in accordance with written tenant selection policies and criteria that are consistent with the purpose of providing housing to very low- and low-income families and are reasonably related to preference rules established under section 6(c)(4)(A) of the U.S. Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437d). The grantee may select eligible families currently residing in units that are designated for rehabilitation or acquisition under the grantee's HOME program without requiring that the family meet the written tenant selection policies and written criteria. Families so selected may use the tenant-based assistance in the rehabilitated or acquired unit or in other qualified housing.

(b) Program operation. The grantee may operate the program, or may contract with another entity with the capacity to operate a rental assistance program. The tenant-based rental assistance may be provided through an assistance contract to an owner that leases a unit to an assisted family or directly to the family.

(c) Term of rental assistance contract. The term of the rental assistance contract providing assistance with HOME funds may not exceed 24 months, but may be renewed, subject to the availability of HOME funds. The term of the rental assistance contract must begin on the first day of the term of the lease. For a rental assistance contract between a grantee and an owner, the term of the contract must terminate on termination of the lease. For a rental assistance contract between a grantee and a family, the term of the contract need not end on termination of the lease, but no payments may be made after termination of the lease until a family enters into a new lease.

(d) Rent reasonableness. The grantee must disapprove a lease if the rent is not reasonable, based on rents that are charged for comparable unassisted rental units.

(e) Lease requirements. The lease must comply with the requirements in § 954.402 of this part.

(f) Maximum subsidy. (1) The amount of the monthly assistance that a grantee may pay to, or on behalf of, a family may not exceed the difference between a rent standard for the unit size established by the grantee and 30 percent of the family's monthly adjusted income.

(2) The grantee must establish a minimum dollar amount tenant contribution to rent.

(3) The grantee's rent standard for a unit size may not be less than 80 percent of the published section 8 existing housing fair market rent (in effect when the payment standard amount is adopted) for the unit size, nor more than the section 8 fair market rent or HUD-approved community-wide exception rent (in effect when the grantee adopts its rent standard amount) for the unit size. Alternatively, the grantee's rent standard for a unit size may be based on local market conditions. Further, a grantee may approve on a unit-by-unit basis a subsidy based on a rent standard that exceeds the applicable section 8 fair market rent by up to 10 percent for 20 percent of units assisted.

(g) Housing quality standards. Housing occupied by a family receiving tenant-based assistance under this section must meet the performance requirements and acceptability criteria set forth in § 882.109 of this title.

(h) Use of section 8 assistance. In any case where assistance under section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 becomes available to a grantee, recipients of tenant-based rental assistance under this part will qualify for tenant selection preferences to the same extent as when they received the tenant-based rental assistance under this part.

(i) Security deposits. (1) A grantee may use HOME funds provided for tenant-based rental assistance to provide loans or grants to very low- and low-income families for security deposits for rental of dwelling units whether or not the grantee provides any other tenant-based rental assistance under this section.

(2) The relevant tribe, State or local definition of "security deposit" in the jurisdiction where the unit is located is applicable for the purposes of this part, except that the amount of HOME funds that may be provided for a security deposit may not exceed the equivalent of two month's rent for the unit.

(3) Only the prospective tenant may apply for HOME security deposit assistance, although the grantee may pay the funds directly to the tenant or to the landlord.

(4) The lease between a tenant and an owner of rental housing for which HOME security deposit assistance is provided must comply with the requirements of § 954.402.

(5) HOME funds for security deposits may be provided as a grant or a loan. If they are provided as a loan, the provisions at § 954.501 for repayment of HOME investments apply.

§ 954.306 Rental housing: qualification as affordable housing and income targeting.

(a) Rent limitation. A rental housing project (including the non-owner-occupied units in housing purchased with HOME funds in accordance with § 954.306) qualifies as affordable housing under this part only if the project:

(1) Bears rents not greater than the lesser of—

(i) The section 8 fair market rent for existing housing for comparable units in the area as established by HUD under § 888.111 of this title, less the monthly allowance for the utilities and services (excluding telephone and cable TV) to be paid by the tenant; or

(ii) A rent that does not exceed 30 percent of the adjusted income of a family whose gross income equals 65 percent of the median income for the area, as determined by HUD, with adjustment for number of bedrooms in the unit, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 65 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD's findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or section 8 fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes. In determining the maximum monthly rent that may be charged for a unit that is subject to this limitation, the owner or grantee must subtract a monthly allowance for any utilities and services (excluding telephone and cable TV) to be paid by the tenant. HUD will provide average occupancy costs per unit and adjusted income assumptions to be used in calculating the maximum rent allowed under this paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of this section;

(2) Has, in the case of projects with three or more rental units, not less than 20 percent of the units—

(i) Occupied by very low-income families who pay a contribution toward rent (excluding any Federal, State, or tribal rental subsidy provided on behalf of the family) not more than 30 percent of the family's monthly adjusted income as determined by HUD. To obtain the maximum monthly rent that may be charged for a unit that is subject to this limitation, the owner or grantee multiplies the annual adjusted income of the tenant family by 30 percent and divides by 12 and, if applicable, subtracts a monthly allowance for the utilities and services (excluding telephone and cable TV) to be paid by the tenant; or

(ii) Occupied by very low-income families and bearing rents not greater than 30 percent of the gross income of a family whose income equals 50 percent of the median income for the area, as determined by HUD, with adjustment for smaller and larger families, except that HUD may establish income ceilings higher or lower than 50 percent of the median for the area on the basis of HUD's findings that such variations are necessary because of prevailing levels of construction costs or section 8 fair market rents, or unusually high or low family incomes. In determining the maximum monthly rent that may be charged for a unit that is subject to this limitation, the owner or grantee must subtract a monthly allowance for any utilities and services (excluding telephone and cable TV) to be paid by the tenant. HUD will provide average occupancy per unit assumptions to be used in calculating the maximum rent allowed under paragraph (a)(2)(ii) of this section;

(3) Is occupied only by households that qualify as low-income families;

(4) Is not refused for leasing to a holder of a certificate of family participation under 24 CFR part 882 (rental certificate program) or a rental voucher under 24 CFR part 887 (rental voucher program) or to the holder of a comparable document evidencing participation in a HOME tenant-based assistance program because of the status of the prospective tenant as a holder of such certificate of family participation, rental voucher, or comparable HOME tenant-based assistance document; and

(5) Will remain affordable without regard to the term of any mortgage or the transfer of ownership, pursuant to deed restrictions, covenants running with the land, or other mechanisms approved by HUD, for not less than the appropriate period, beginning after project completion, as specified in the following table, except that the affordability restrictions may terminate upon foreclosure or transfer in lieu of foreclosure. The tribe may use purchase options, rights of first refusal or other preemptive rights to purchase the housing before foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure to preserve affordability. The affordability restrictions shall be revived according to the original terms if, during the affordability period, the owner of record before the foreclosure, or deed in lieu of foreclosure, or any entity that includes the former owner or those with whom the former owner has or had family of business ties, obtains an ownership interest in the project or property.

Activity	Minimum period of affordability in years
Rehabilitation or acquisition of existing housing per unit amount of HOME funds: Under $15,000	5
$15,000 to $40,000	10
Over $40,000	15
New construction or acquisition of newly constructed housing	20

(b) Rent schedule and utility allowances. The grantee must review and approve rents proposed by the owner for units with "flat rents," i.e., units subject to the maximum rent limitations in paragraphs (a)(1)(i), (a)(1)(ii), or (a)(2)(ii) of this section, and, if applicable, must review and approve, for all units subject to the maximum rent limitations paragraph (a) of this section, the monthly allowances, proposed by the owner, for utilities and services to be paid by the tenant. The owner must reexamine the income of each tenant household living in lower income units at least annually. The maximum monthly rent must be recalculated by the owner and reviewed and approved by the grantee annually, and may change as changes in the applicable gross rent amounts, the income adjustments, or the monthly allowance for utilities and services warrant. Any increase in rents for low-income units is subject to the provisions of outstanding leases; in any event, the owner must provide tenants of those units not less than 30 days prior written notice before implementing any increase in rents.

(c) Increases in tenant income. Rental housing qualifies as affordable housing despite a temporary noncompliance with paragraphs (a)(2) or (a)(3) of this section, if the noncompliance is caused by increases in the incomes of existing tenants and if actions satisfactory to HUD are being taken to ensure that all vacancies are filled in accordance with this section until the noncompliance is corrected. Tenants who no longer qualify as low-income families must pay as rent the lesser of the amount payable by the tenant under tribal, State or local law or 30 percent of the family's adjusted monthly income, as recertified annually. The preceding sentence shall not apply with respect to funds made available under this part for units that have been allocated a low-income housing tax credit by a housing credit agency pursuant to section 42 of the Internal Revenue Code 1986 (26 U.S.C. 7805).

(d) Adjustment of qualifying rent. HUD may adjust the qualifying rent established for a project under paragraph (a)(1) of this section, only if HUD finds that an adjustment is necessary to support the continued financial viability of the project and only by an amount that HUD determines is necessary to maintain continued financial viability of the project. HUD expects that this authority will be used sparingly. Adjustments in section 8 fair market rents and in median income over time should help maintain the financial viability of a project within the qualifying rent standard in paragraph (a)(1) of this section. Regardless of changes in fair market rents and in median income over time, the qualifying rents are not required to be lower than the HOME rent for the project in effect at the time of project commitment.

§ 954.307 Homeownership: qualification as affordable housing.

(a) Purchase with or without rehabilitation. Housing that is for purchase by a family qualifies as affordable housing only if the housing:

(1)(i) Has an initial purchase price that does not exceed 95% of the median purchase price for the type of single family housing (1- to 4-family residence, condominium unit, cooperative unit, combination manufactured home and lot, or manufactured home lot) for the area as determined by HUD, and which may be appealed in accordance with 24 CFR 203.18b; and

(ii) Has an estimated appraised value at acquisition, if standard, or after any repair needed to meet property standards in § 954.401, that does not exceed the limit described in paragraph (a)(1)(i) of this section.

(2) Is the principal residence of an owner whose family qualifies as a low-income family at the time of purchase; and

(3) Is subject—for minimum periods of: 5 years where the per unit amount of HOME funds provided is less than $15,000; 10 years where the per unit amount of HOME funds provided is $15,000 to $40,000; and 15 years where the per unit amount of HOME funds provided is greater than $40,000—to resale restrictions, as described in paragraph (a)(3)(i) of this section, or recapture provisions, as described in paragraph (a)(3)(ii) of this section, that are established by the grantee and determined by HUD to be appropriate.

(i) Resale restrictions must make the housing available for subsequent purchase only to a low income family that will use the property as its principal residence; and

(A) Provide the owner with a fair return on investment, including any improvements; and

(B) Ensure that the housing will remain affordable, pursuant to deed restrictions, covenants running with the land, or other similar mechanisms to ensure affordability, to a reasonable range of low-income homebuyers. The affordability restrictions must terminate upon occurrence of any of the following termination events: foreclosure, transfer in lieu of foreclosure or assignment of an FHA insured mortgage to HUD. The grantee may use purchase options, rights of first refusal or other preemptive rights to purchase the housing before foreclosure to preserve affordability. The affordability restrictions shall be revived according to the original terms if, during the original affordability period, the owner of record before the termination event reacquires title to the property.

(ii) A grantee's recapture provisions must provide for the recapture of the full HOME investment out of net proceeds, except as provided in paragraph (a)(3)(ii)(B) of this section.

(A) Net proceeds means the sales price minus loan repayment and closing costs.

(B) If the net proceeds are not sufficient to recapture the full HOME investment plus enable the homeowner to recover the amount of the homeowner's downpayment, principal payments, and any capital improvement investment, the grantee's recapture provisions may allow the HOME investment amount that must be recaptured to be reduced. The HOME investment amount may be reduced pro rata based on the time the homeowner has owned and occupied the unit measured against the required affordability period; except that the grantee's recapture provisions may not allow the homeowner to recover more than the amount of the homeowner's downpayment, principal payments, and any capital improvement investment.

(C) The HOME investment that is subject to recapture is the HOME assistance that enabled the first homebuyer to buy the dwelling unit. This includes any HOME assistance, whether a direct subsidy to the homebuyer or a construction or development subsidy, that reduced the purchase price from fair market value to an affordable price. The recaptured funds must be used to carry out HOME-eligible activities. If no HOME funds will be subject to recapture, the provisions at § 954.306(a)(3)(i) apply.

(D) Upon recapture of the HOME funds used in a single-family, homebuyer project with two to four units, the affordability period on rental units may be terminated at the discretion of the tribe.

(b) Rehabilitation not involving purchase. Housing that is currently owned by a family qualifies as affordable housing only if—

(1) The value of the property, after rehabilitation, does not exceed 95% of the median purchase price for the type of single family housing (1- to 4-family residence, condominium unit, combination manufactured home and lot, or manufactured home lot) for the area as determined by HUD, and which may be appealed in accordance with 24 CFR 203.18b; and

(2) The housing is the principal residence of an owner whose family qualifies as a low-income family at the time HOME funds are committed to the housing.

§ 954.308 Prohibited activities.

(a) HOME funds may not be used to—

(1) Provide a project reserve account for replacements, a project reserve account for unanticipated increases in operating costs, or operating subsidies; except as authorized under § 954.302;

(2) Provide nonfederal matching contributions required under any other Federal program;

(3) Provide assistance in connection with programs authorized under part 950 (Indian Housing Programs) of this title;

(4) Provide assistance to eligible low-income housing under part 248 (Prepayment of Low Income Housing Mortgages) of this title; or

(5) Provide assistance (other than tenant-based rental assistance or assistance to a homebuyer to acquire housing previously assisted with HOME funds) to a project previously assisted with HOME funds during the period of affordability established by the grantee under § 954.306 or § 954.307. However, additional HOME funds may be committed to a project up to one year after project completion (see § 954.500), but the amount of HOME funds in the project may not exceed the maximum per-unit subsidy amount established under § 954.400.

(b) Grantees may not charge monitoring, servicing and origination fees in HOME-assisted projects. However, grantees may charge nominal application fees (although these fees are not an eligible HOME cost) to project owners to discourage frivolous applications.

Subpart D—Project Requirements

§ 954.400 Maximum per-unit subsidy amount.

The amount of HOME funds that a grantee may invest on a per-unit basis in affordable housing may not exceed the total development cost standard for the area, as issued by HUD under 24 CFR 950.220. These total development cost standards are available from HUD Area ONAPs.

§ 954.401 Property standards.

(a) Housing that is assisted with HOME funds, at a minimum, must meet the housing quality standards in § 882.109 of this title. In addition, housing that is newly constructed or substantially rehabilitated with HOME funds must meet all applicable local codes, rehabilitation standards, ordinances, and zoning ordinances. The grantee must have written standards for rehabilitation. Newly constructed housing must meet the current edition of the Model Energy Code published by the Council of American Building Officials.

(b) The following requirements apply to housing for homeownership that is to be rehabilitated after transfer of the ownership interest:

(1) Before the transfer of the ownership interest, the grantee must:

(i) Inspect the housing for any defects that pose a danger to health; and

(ii) Notify the prospective purchaser of the work needed to cure the defects and the time by which defects must be cured and applicable property standards met.

(2) The housing must be free from all noted health and safety defects before occupancy and not later than 6 months after the transfer for completion of the transitional housing tenancy period.

(3) The housing must meet the applicable property standards (at a minimum, the housing quality standards in § 882.109 of this title) not later than 2 years after transfer of the ownership interest.

§ 954.402 Tenant and participant protections.

(a) Lease. The lease between a tenant and an owner of rental housing assisted with HOME funds must be for not less than one year, unless by mutual agreement between the tenant and the owner.

(b) Prohibited lease terms. The lease may not contain any of the following provisions:

(1) Agreement to be sued. Agreement by the tenant to be sued, to admit guilt, or to a judgment in favor of the owner in a lawsuit brought in connection with the lease;

(2) Treatment of property. Agreement by the tenant that the owner may take, hold, or sell personal property of household members without notice to the tenant and a court decision on the rights of the parties. This prohibition, however, does not apply to an agreement by the tenant concerning disposition of personal property remaining in the housing unit after the tenant has moved out of the unit. The owner may dispose of this personal property in accordance with tribal law (or State law, which may apply if the Indian tribe is not exercising recognized powers of self-government);

(3) Excusing owner from responsibility. Agreement by the tenant not to hold the owner or the owner's agents legally responsible for any action or failure to act, whether intentional or negligent;

(4) Waiver of notice. Agreement of the tenant that the owner may institute a lawsuit without notice to the tenant;

(5) Waiver of legal proceedings. Agreement by the tenant that the owner may evict the tenant or household members without instituting a civil court proceeding in which the tenant has the opportunity to present a defense, or before a court decision on the rights of the parties;

(6) Waiver of a jury trial. Agreement by the tenant to waive any right to a trial by jury;

(7) Waiver of right to appeal court decision. Agreement by the tenant to waive the tenant's right to appeal, or to otherwise challenge in court, a court decision in connection with the lease; and

(8) Tenant chargeable with cost of legal actions regardless of outcome. Agreement by the tenant to pay attorney's fees or other legal costs even if the tenant wins in a court proceeding by the owner against the tenant. The tenant, however, may be obligated to pay costs if the tenant loses.

(c) Termination of tenancy. An owner may not terminate the tenancy or refuse to renew the lease of a tenant of rental housing assisted with HOME funds except for serious or repeated violation of the terms and conditions of the lease; for violation of applicable Federal, or tribal law (or State law, which may apply if the grantee is not exercising recognized powers of self-government); or for other good cause. Any termination or refusal to renew must be preceded by not less than 30 days by the owner's service upon the tenant of a written notice specifying the grounds for the action.

(d) Maintenance and replacement. An owner of rental housing assisted with HOME funds must maintain the premises in compliance with all applicable housing quality standards and local code requirements.

(e) Tenant selection. An owner of rental housing assisted with HOME funds must adopt written tenant selection policies and criteria that—

(1) Are consistent with the purpose of providing housing for very low-income and low-income families;

(2) Are reasonably related to program eligibility and the applicant's ability to perform the obligations of the lease;

(3) Give reasonable consideration to the housing needs of families that would have a preference under section

6(c)(4)(A) of the U.S. Housing Act of 1937 (Federal selection preferences for admission to public housing); and

(4) Provide for—

(i) The selection of tenants from a written waiting list in the chronological order of their application, insofar as is practicable; and

(ii) The prompt written notification to any rejected applicant of the grounds for any rejection.

Subpart E—Program Administration

§ 954.500 Repayment of investment.

(a) HOME funds will be made available pursuant to a HOME Investment Partnership Agreement. The agreement ensures that HOME funds invested in affordable housing are repayable if the housing ceases to qualify as affordable housing before the period of affordability expires. The amount of HOME funds expended on housing assisted with HOME funds that does not meet the affordability requirements for the period specified in § 954.306 or § 954.307, as applicable, must be repaid in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Any repayment of HOME funds (including repayment required if the housing no longer qualifies as affordable housing), and any payment of interest or other return on the investment of HOME funds, that is made before grant close out must be deposited in the grantee's account and used in accordance with the requirements of this part. A grantee may retain repayments, interest, and other return on investment of HOME funds that are made after grant closeout if the grantee agrees to use the funds for eligible activities.

(c) HUD will recapture HOME funds that are not expended within five years after the last day of the month in which it obligated the funds.

(d) Termination before completion. If a project is terminated before its completion, whether voluntarily by the grantee or otherwise, an amount equal to the HOME funds disbursed for the project must be paid by the grantee to its HOME account. If the HOME funds were disbursed by HUD, the amount must be paid to HUD; if the HOME funds were disbursed from the grantee's account, the amount must be paid to the grantee's account. If the amount is not repaid, the grantee will be subject to actions under § 954.600 Performance reviews, § 954.601 Corrective and remedial actions, and § 954.602 Notice and opportunity for hearing; sanctions.

§ 954.501 Grantee responsibilities; written agreements; monitoring.

(a) Responsibilities. The grantee is responsible for ensuring that HOME funds are used in accordance with all program requirements. The use of subgrantees and contractors does not relieve the grantee of this responsibility.

(b) Executing a written agreement.

Before disbursing any HOME funds to any entity (e.g., for-profit housing developer, nonprofit organization, homeowner, or IHA) the grantee must enter into a written agreement with the entity ensuring compliance with the requirements of this part. A subgrantee and a contractor must also enter into a written agreement before it disburses funds to any entity. The agreement remains in effect during the period for affordability under § 954.306 or § 954.307, as applicable, or if the entity is a subgrantee, during any period that the entity has control over HOME funds.

(c) Provisions in written agreement. At a minimum, the written agreement must include applicable provisions concerning the following items:

(1) Use of the HOME funds. The agreement must describe the use of the HOME funds, including the tasks to be performed, a schedule for completing the tasks, and a budget. These items must be in sufficient detail to provide a sound basis for the grantee effectively to monitor performance under the agreement.

(2) Affordability. The agreement must require housing assisted with HOME funds to meet the affordability requirements of § 954.306 or § 954.307, as applicable, and must require repayment of the funds if the housing does not meet the affordability requirements for the specified time period.

(3) Repayments. If the entity is a subgrantee, the agreement must state if repayment, interest, and other return on the investment of HOME funds are to be remitted to the grantee or are to be retained for additional eligible activities by the entity.

(4) Uniform administrative requirements. If the entity is a subgrantee, the agreement must require the entity to comply with applicable uniform administrative requirements, as described in § 954.502.

(5) Project requirements. The agreement must require compliance with project requirements in § 954.400 through § 954.402 of this part, as applicable in accordance with the type of project assisted.

(6) Housing quality standard. The agreement must require owners of rental housing assisted with HOME funds to maintain the housing in compliance with applicable Housing Quality Standards and local housing code requirements for the duration of the agreement.

(7) Other program requirements. The agreement must require the entity to carry out each activity in compliance with all Federal laws and regulations described in § 954.4.

(8) Conditions for religious organizations. Where applicable, the agreement must include the conditions prescribed in § 954.301 for the use of HOME funds by religious organizations.

(9) Requests for disbursements of funds. The agreement must specify that the entity may not request disbursement of funds under the agreement until the funds are needed for payment of eligible costs. The amount of each request must be limited to the amount needed.

(10) Reversion of assets. If the entity is a subgrantee, the agreement must specify that upon expiration of the agreement, the entity must transfer to the grantee any HOME funds on hand at the time of expiration and any accounts receivable attributable to the use of HOME funds.

(11) Records and reports. The agreement must specify the particular records that must be maintained and any information or reports that must be submitted in order to assist the grantee in meeting its recordkeeping and reporting requirements.

(12) Enforcement of the agreement. The agreement must provide for a means of enforcement by the grantee or the intended beneficiaries. In addition, the agreement must specify remedies for breach of the provisions of the agreement. If the entity is a subgrantee, the agreement must specify that, in accordance with 24 CFR 85.43, suspension or termination may occur if the entity materially fails to comply with any term of the agreement, and that the agreement may be terminated for convenience in accordance with 24 CFR 85.44.

(13) Duration of the agreement. The agreement must specify that the agreement is in effect for the period of affordability required by the grantee under § 954.306 or § 954.307.

(d) Monitoring. The grantee is responsible for managing the day-to-day operations of its HOME program, for monitoring the performance of all entities receiving HOME funds from the grantee to assure compliance with the requirements of this part, and for taking appropriate action when performance problems arise.

(1) Not less than annually, the grantee must review the activities of owners of rental housing assisted with HOME funds to assess compliance with the requirement of this part, as set forth in the written agreement under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. For multifamily housing, each review must include on-site inspection to determine compliance with housing codes and the requirements of this part. For rental housing containing one- to four-dwelling units, an on-site review must be made once within each two-year period. The results of each review must be included in the grantee's performance report.

(2) Not less than annually, the grantee must review the performance of each contractor and subgrantee.

§ 954.502 Applicability of uniform administrative requirements.

(a) Governmental entities. The requirements of OMB Circular No. A-87 and the following requirements of 24 CFR part 85 apply to the grantee and any governmental subgrantee receiving HOME funds: §§ 85.6, 85.12, 85.20, 85.21, 85.22, 85.26, 85.32, 85.33, 85.35, 85.36, 85.43, 85.44, 85.51, and 85.52.

(b) Non-profit organizations. The requirements of OMB Circular No. A-122 (available from the Executive Office of the President, Publication Service, 725 17th Street, N.W., Suite G-2200, Washington, DC 20503; Telephone, (202) 395-7332) and the following requirements of 24 CFR part 84 apply to subgrantees receiving HOME funds that are private nonprofit organizations: §§ 84.12, 84.22, 84.23, 84.25, 84.51, 84.52, and 84.71.

(c) Alternatives to bonding. For construction contracts that exceed the amount for small purchase under 24 CFR 85.36, each contractor shall be required to provide bid guarantees and adequate assurance of performance and payment acceptable to HUD in accordance with 24 CFR 85.36(h). Performance and payment bonds for 100 percent of the total contract price are acceptable to HUD. There may be circumstances under which the bonding requirements of § 85.36(h) are inconsistent with other responsibilities and obligations of the grantee. Alternative methods to provide performance and payment assurance may include:

(1) Deposit with the grantee of a cash escrow of not less than 20 percent of the total contract price, subject to reduction during the warranty period, commensurate with potential risk;

(2) Letter of credit for 25 percent of the total contract price, unconditionally payable upon demand of the grantee, subject to reduction during the warranty period commensurate with potential risk.

§ 954.503 Audit.

Audits of the grantee and subgrantees must be conducted in accordance with 24 CFR parts 44 and 45, as applicable.

§ 954.504 Closeout.

(A) A grant will be closed out when all the following criteria have been met:

(1) All funds to be closed out have been drawn down and expended for completed project costs, or funds not drawn down and expended have been deobligated by HUD;

(2) Project Completion Reports for all projects using funds to be closed out have been submitted. HUD will use data contained in the project completion reports in the preparation of the Closeout Reports;

(3) The grantee has been reviewed and audited and HUD has determined that all requirements, including affordability (for which also see paragraph (b)(2) of this section), are met or all monitoring and audit findings have been resolved.

(i) A signed copy of the grantee's most recent audit report—covering all funds to be closed out—must be received by HUD. If the audit review by the Department of Interior (DOI) results in significant delays, the Area ONAP may request a signed copy of the audit prior to DOI review and use it as the document needed prior to closeout. If the audit does not cover all funds to be closed out, the closeout may proceed, provided the grantee agrees in the Closeout Report that any costs paid with the funds that were not audited must be subject to the grantee's next single audit and that the grantee may be required to repay to HUD any disallowed costs based on the results of the audit.

(ii) The on-site monitoring of the grantee by the Area ONAP must include verification of data reflected in the Closeout Report and reconciliation of any discrepancies which may exist between HUD data and grantee records.

(b) The Closeout Report contains the final data on the funds and must be signed by the grantee and HUD. In addition, the report must contain:

(1) A provision regarding unaudited funds ("closeout subject to audit"), required by paragraph (a)(3)(i) of this section; and

(2) A provision requiring the grantee to continue to meet the requirements applicable to housing projects for the period of affordability specified in § 954.306 or § 954.307, to keep records demonstrating that the requirements have been met and to repay the HOME funds, as required by § 954.500, if the housing fails to remain affordable for the required period.

§ 954.505 Recordkeeping.

(a) General. Each grantee must establish and maintain sufficient records to enable HUD to determine whether the grantee has met the requirements of this part. Records must be kept in a manner that identifies the source and use of funds for each project.

(b) Period of record retention. (1) Except as provided in paragraphs (b)(2), (b)(3), or (b)(4) of this section, records must be retained for three years after closeout of the funds.

(2) If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action has been started before the expiration of the regular period specified in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the records must be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular period, whichever is later.

(3) Records regarding project requirements (§ 954.400 to § 954.402) and other federal requirements (§ 954.4) that apply for the duration of the period of affordability, as well as the written agreement and inspection and monitoring reports must be retained for three years after the required period of affordability specified in § 954.306 or § 954.307, as applicable.

(4) Records covering displacements and acquisition must be retained for at least three years after the date by which all persons displaced from the property and all persons whose property is acquired for the project have received the final payment to which they are entitled in accordance with § 954.4(e).

(c) Access to records. (1) The grantee must provide citizens, public agencies, and other interested parties with reasonable access to records, consistent with applicable tribal laws (or State law, which may apply if the Indian tribe is not exercising recognized powers of self-government) regarding privacy and obligations of confidentiality.

(2) HUD and the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their representatives, have the right of access to any pertinent books, documents, papers or other records of the grantees and subgrantees, in order to make audits, examinations, excerpts, and transcripts.

[Approved by the Office of Management and Budget under OMB control number 2577-0191]

§ 954.506 Performance reports.

(a) Management reports. Each grantee must submit management reports on its HOME program in such format and at such time as HUD may prescribe. Each grantee must submit a "Financial Status Report," SF-269A, short form, at the same time it submits the Semi-Annual Performance Report, described below. A separate "Financial Status Report" is to be submitted for each Indian HOME program grant that the grantee has received.

(b) Semi-Annual performance report. (1) Submission. A grantee must submit a semi-annual performance report on its HOME activities to the responsible Area ONAP at such time as HUD may prescribe. Single copies of the report must be provided to the public upon request at no charge.

(2) Elements of the semi-annual performance report. The report must contain such information and be in such form as HUD may prescribe, and must include at least the following:

(i) A report on the proposed use of HOME funds from the grant application, consisting of the number of additional housing opportunities to be created for low-income and very low-income families, by project category (housing rehabilitation, acquisition of housing, new housing construction, and tenant-based rental assistance);

(ii) A report on the actual use of HOME funds, consisting of the number of additional housing opportunities created for low-income and very low-income families, by project category (housing rehabilitation, acquisition of housing, new housing construction, and tenant-based rental assistance). This includes a report on project income and includes data on the amount of repayments, interest, and other return on investment of HOME funds and the use of the funds for projects, including number of projects assisted, and characteristics of tenants and owners;

(iii) An assessment of the effectiveness of the efforts in providing the preferences and opportunities under section 7(b) of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (25 U.S.C. 450e(b)); and

(iv) Data on the total number of households (families and individuals) and business and nonprofit organizations displaced as a result of investments of HOME funds, including the cost of relocation payments (moving expenses and replacement housing), and the number and cost of real property acquisitions.

[Approved by the Office of Management and Budget under OMB control number 2577-0191]

§ 954.507 Submission of project completion reports.

A Project Completion Report must be submitted to HUD within 120 days of the final drawdown request for the project. If a satisfactory Project Completion Report is not submitted by the due date, HUD will suspend further HOME disbursements and grant approvals for the grantee. Disbursements and grant approvals will remain suspended until a satisfactory Project Completion Report is received.

Subpart F—Performance Reviews and Sanctions

§ 954.600 Performance reviews.

(a) General. HUD will review the performance of each grantee in carrying out its responsibilities under this part whenever determined necessary by HUD, but at least annually. In conducting performance reviews, HUD will rely primarily on information obtained from the grantee's records and reports, findings from on-site monitoring, audit reports, and information generated from fund requisition systems. Where applicable, HUD may also consider relevant information pertaining to a grantee's performance gained from other sources, including citizen comments, complaint determinations, and litigation. Reviews to determine compliance with specific requirements of this part will be conducted as necessary, with or without prior notice to the grantee. Comprehensive performance reviews under the standards in paragraph (b) of this section will be conducted after prior notice to the grantee.

(b) Standards for comprehensive performance review. A grantee's performance will be comprehensively reviewed periodically, as prescribed by HUD, to determine whether the grantee:

- (1) Has committed the HOME funds in the HUD account as required and expended the funds as required; and
- (2) Has met the requirements of the grant agreement and this part, particularly eligible activities and affordability.

§ 954.601 Corrective and remedial actions.

(a) General. HUD will use the procedures in this section in conducting the performance review as provided in § 954.600 and in taking corrective and remedial actions. However, HUD may temporarily suspend payments based upon HUD's preliminary determination that the grantee has failed to comply with the requirements of the Act, regulations, or grant agreement if suspension is necessary to preclude the further expenditure of funds for activities affected by the failure to comply.

(b) Performance review. (1) If HUD determines preliminarily that the grantee has not met a requirement of this part, the grantee will be given notice of this determination and an opportunity to demonstrate, within the time prescribed by HUD (not to exceed 30 days) and on the basis of substantial facts and data, that it has done so.

(2) If the grantee fails to demonstrate to HUD's satisfaction that it has met the requirement, HUD will take corrective or remedial action in accordance with this section or § 954.602.

(c) Corrective and remedial actions. Corrective or remedial actions for a performance deficiency (failure to meet a provision of this part) will be designed to prevent a continuation of the deficiency; mitigate, to the extent possible, its adverse effects or consequences; and prevent its recurrence.

(1) HUD may request the grantee to submit and comply with proposals for action to correct, mitigate and prevent a performance deficiency, including:

- (i) Preparing and following a schedule of actions for carrying out the affected activities, consisting of schedules, timetables, and milestones necessary to implement the affected activities;
- (ii) Establishing and following a management plan that assigns responsibilities for carrying out the remedial actions;
- (iii) Cancelling or revising activities likely to be affected by the performance deficiency, before expending HOME funds for the activities;
- (iv) Reprogramming HOME funds in the HUD account that have not yet been expended from affected activities to other eligible activities;
- (v) Reimbursing the HUD account in any amount not used in accordance with the requirements of this part; and
- (vi) Suspending disbursement of funds in the HUD account for affected activities.

(2) HUD may also—

- (i) Change the method of payment from an advance to reimbursement basis; and
- (ii) Take other remedies that may be legally available.

§ 954.602 Notice and opportunity for hearing; sanctions.

(a) If HUD finds after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing that a grantee has failed to comply with any provision of this part and until HUD is satisfied that there is no longer any such failure to comply:

(1) HUD shall reduce the funds in the HUD account by the amount of any expenditures that were not in accordance with the requirements of this part; and

(2) HUD may—

- (i) Prevent withdrawals from the HUD account for activities affected by the failure to comply; or
- (ii) Prohibit the grantee from competing for HOME funds under § 954.104; Provided, however, that HUD may on due notice suspend payments from the HUD account at any time after the issuance of a notice of opportunity for hearing pursuant to paragraph (b)(1) of this section, pending such hearing and a final decision, to the extent HUD determines such action necessary to preclude the further expenditure of funds for activities affected by the failure to comply.

(b) Proceedings. When HUD proposes to take action pursuant to this section, the respondent in the proceedings will be the grantee.

(1) Notice of opportunity for hearing.

HUD shall notify the respondent in writing of the proposed action and of the opportunity for a hearing. The notice shall be sent by first class mail. The notice shall specify:

- (i) In a manner which is adequate to allow the respondent to prepare its response, the basis upon which HUD determined that the respondent failed to comply with a provision of this part;
- (ii) That the hearing procedures are governed by these rules;
- (iii) That the respondent has 14 days from receipt of the notice within which to provide a written request for a hearing to the Chief Docket Clerk, Office of Administrative Law Judges, and the address and telephone number of the Chief Docket Clerk;
- (iv) The action HUD proposes to take and that the authority for this action is § 954.602; and
- (v) That if the respondent fails to request a hearing within the time specified, HUD's determination that the respondent failed to comply with a provision of this part shall be final and HUD may proceed to take the proposed action.

(2) Initiation of hearing. The respondent shall be allowed 14 days from receipt of the notice within which to notify the Chief Docket Clerk, Office of Administrative Law Judges, of its request for a hearing. If no request is received within the time specified, HUD's determination that the respondent failed to comply with a provision of this part shall be final and HUD may proceed to take the proposed action.

(3) Administrative Law Judge. Proceedings conducted under these rules shall be presided over by an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ), appointed as provided by section 11 of the Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. 3105). The case shall be referred to the ALJ at the time a hearing is requested. The ALJ shall promptly notify the parties of the time and place at which the hearing will be held. The ALJ shall conduct a fair and impartial hearing and take all action necessary to avoid delay in the disposition of proceedings and to maintain order. The ALJ shall have all powers necessary to those ends, including but not limited to the power to:

- (i) Administer oaths and affirmations;
- (ii) Issue subpoenas as authorized by law;
- (iii) Rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence;
- (iv) Order or limit discovery before the hearing as the interests of justice may require;
- (v) Regulate the course of the hearing and the conduct of the parties and their counsel;
- (vi) Hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties;
- (vii) Consider and rule upon all procedural and other motions appropriate in adjudicative proceedings; and
- (viii) Make and file initial determinations.

(4) Ex parte communications. An ex parte communication is any communication with an ALJ, direct or indirect, oral or written, concerning the merits or procedures of any pending proceeding which is made by a party in the absence of any other party. Ex parte communications are prohibited except where the purpose and content of the communication have been disclosed in advance or simultaneously to all parties, or the communication is a request for information concerning the status of the case. Any ALJ who receives an ex parte communication which the ALJ knows or has reason to believe is unauthorized shall promptly place the communication, or its substance, in all files and shall furnish copies to all parties. Unauthorized ex parte communications shall not be taken into consideration in deciding any matter in issue.

(5) The hearing. All parties shall have the right to be represented at the hearing by counsel. The ALJ shall conduct the proceedings in an expeditious manner while allowing the parties to present all oral and written evidence which tends to support their respective positions, but the ALJ shall exclude irrelevant, immaterial or unduly repetitious evidence. HUD has the burden of proof in showing by a preponderance of the evidence that the respondent failed to comply with a provision of this part. Each party shall be allowed to cross-examine adverse witnesses and to rebut and comment upon evidence presented by the other party. Hearings shall be open to the public. So far as the orderly conduct of the hearing permits, interested persons other than the parties may appear and participate in the hearing.

(6) Transcripts. Hearings shall be recorded and transcribed only by a reporter under the supervision of the ALJ. The original transcript shall be a part of the record and shall constitute the sole official transcript. Respondents and the public, at their own expense, may obtain copies of the transcript.

(7) The ALJ's decision. At the conclusion of the hearing, the ALJ shall give the parties a reasonable opportunity to submit proposed findings and conclusions and supporting reasons therefor. Generally within 60 days after the conclusion of the hearing, the ALJ shall prepare a written decision which includes a statement of findings and conclusions, and the reasons or basis therefor, on all the material issues of fact, law or discretion presented on the record and the appropriate sanction or denial thereof. The decision shall be based on consideration of the whole record or those parts thereof cited by a party and supported by and in accordance with the reliable, probative, and substantial evidence. A copy of the decision shall be furnished to the parties immediately by first class mail and shall include a notice that any requests for review by the Secretary must be made in writing to the Secretary within 30 days of the receipt of the decision.

(8) The record. The transcript of testimony and exhibits, together with the decision of the ALJ and all papers and requests filed in the proceeding, constitutes the exclusive record for decision and, on payment of its reasonable cost, shall be made available to the parties. After reaching the initial decision, the ALJ shall certify to the complete record and forward the record to the Secretary.

(9) Review by the Secretary. The decision by the ALJ shall constitute the final decision of the Secretary unless, within 30 days after the receipt of the decision, either the respondent or the Assistant Secretary files an exception and request for review by the Secretary. The excepting party must transmit simultaneously to the Secretary and the other party the request for review and the basis of the party's exceptions to the findings of the ALJ. The other party shall be allowed 30 days from receipt of the exception to provide the Secretary and the excepting party with a written reply. The Secretary shall then review the record of the case, including the exceptions and the reply. On the basis of such review, the Secretary shall issue a written determination, including a statement of the rationale therefor, affirming, modifying or revoking the decision of the ALJ. The Secretary's decision shall be made and transmitted to the parties within 60 days after the decision of the ALJ was furnished to the parties.

Federal Acquisition Regulation;
Inapplicability of Cost Accounting Standards to Contracts and Subcontracts for Commercial Items

AGENCIES: Department of Defense (DOD), General Services Administration (GSA), and National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulations Council are proposing to amend the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) Part 12 to implement Section 4205 of the fiscal year (FY) 96 National Defense Authorization Act. Section 4205 amends Section 26(f) of the Office of Federal Procurement Policy (OFPP) Act (41 U.S.C. 422(f)) by exempting contracts and subcontracts for commercial items from the application of Cost Accounting Standards (CAS) promulgated under 41 U.S.C. 422. This regulatory action was not subject to Office of Management and Budget review under Executive Order 12866, dated September 30, 1993. This is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

DATES: Comments should be submitted on or before August 20, 1996 to be considered in the formulation of a final rule.

ADDRESSES: Interested parties should submit written comments to: General Services Administration, FAR Secretariat (MVRS), 18th & F Streets, NW, Room 4037, Washington, DC 20405.

Please cite FAR case 96-310 in all correspondence related to this case.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Jeremy Olson at (202) 501-3221 in reference to this FAR case. For general information, contact the FAR Secretariat, Room 4037, GS Building, Washington, DC 20405 (202) 501-4755. Please cite FAR case 96-310.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

This proposed rule amends FAR part 12 to implement Section 4205 of the FY96 National Defense Authorization Act (Pub. L. 104-106). Section 4205 amends Section 26(f) of the OFPP Act (41 U.S.C. 422(f)), making the application of CAS to commercial items "nonmandatory." CAS requirements can still be invoked as a matter of policy by the CAS Board, pursuant to the authority provided in 41 U.S.C. 422. Any such guidance would be placed in 48 CFR Chapter 99. Therefore, the new coverage at FAR 12.214 indicates that CAS generally will not apply to commercial items unless so indicated at 48 CFR 9903.201. A cross-reference to FAR 12.214 is added at 12.503(c) and 12.504(c), to further clarify the effect of Section 4205.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

This proposed rule is not expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., because contracts and subcontracts with small businesses are exempt from CAS. An initial regulatory flexibility analysis has therefore not been performed. Comments are invited from small businesses and other interested parties. Comments from small entities concerning the affected FAR subparts will be considered in accordance with Section 610 of the Act. Such comments must be submitted separately and should cite 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. (FAR case 96-310), in correspondence.

C. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act does not apply because the proposed changes to the FAR do not impose recordkeeping or information collection requirements, or collections of information from offerors, contractors, or members of the public which require the approval of the Office of Management and Budget under 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq.

Dated: June 6, 1996.

Edward C. Loeb,

Director, Federal Acquisition Policy Division.

Therefore, it is proposed that 48 CFR Part 12 be amended as set forth below:

PART 12—ACQUISITION OF COMMERCIAL ITEMS

1. The authority citation for 48 CFR Part 12 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 40 U.S.C. 486(c); 10 U.S.C. chapter 137; and 42 U.S.C. 2473(c).

2. Section 12.214 is added to read as follows:

12.214 Cost Accounting Standards (CAS).

CAS generally will not apply to commercial items. If CAS does apply pursuant to 48 CFR 9903.201 (appendix B, FAR loose-leaf edition), the contracting officer shall insert the appropriate provisions and clauses as prescribed in that section.

3. Section 12.503(c)(3) is revised to read as follows:

12.503 Applicability of certain laws to Executive agency contracts for the acquisition of commercial items.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of the Fund for the Improvement of Education is to support nationally significant programs to improve the quality of education, assist all students to meet challenging State content and student performance standards, and contribute to the achievement of the National Education Goals.

The Omnibus Consolidated Rescissions and Appropriations Act of 1996 ("Act"), Pub. L. 104–134, requires the Secretary to use $3,000,000 of FIE funds for mathematics and science equipment projects. The report language accompanying the Act directs the Secretary to provide assistance, through State and local educational agencies, to carry out programs such as those authorized under Title III, Part E of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, as amended (20 U.S.C.

6971). Title III, Part E authorizes grant awards to local educational agencies (LEA) for the purpose of providing equipment and materials to public and private elementary schools to improve hands-on instruction in mathematics and science.

To carry out this Congressional directive, the Secretary establishes an absolute priority limiting the use of funds under this FIE competition to projects that provide equipment and materials to elementary schools for the purpose of improving mathematics and science education through hands-on instruction. In accordance with Title III, Part E, the Secretary gives priority to projects that assist schools which are seriously underequipped or serve large numbers or percentages of economically disadvantaged students. Furthermore, in accordance with the provisions of Title III, Part E, the Secretary limits the definition of "equipment" to prohibit the use of grant funds for the purchase of computers, computer peripherals, software, textbooks, staff development costs, or for capital improvements.

Eligibility for awards under this competition is limited to LEAs since LEAs have primary responsibility for purchasing equipment and supplies for elementary schools. However, to ensure that children in private schools have an equitable opportunity to benefit from projects funded under this competition, the Secretary makes sections 14503-14506 of the ESEA (20 U.S.C. 8893-8896) applicable to awards made to LEAs under this program. Section 14503 requires an LEA receiving grant funds under this program to provide private school children and teachers, on an equitable basis, special educational services or other program benefits under this program. The section further requires LEAs to consult with private school officials during the design and development of the proposed project. Each application should describe the ways in which the proposed project will address the needs of private school children and teachers.

Furthermore, the Secretary directs financial assistance under this competition to projects that benefit elementary schools located in areas that have been designated as Empowerment Zones or Enterprise Communities in accordance with Section 1391 of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), as amended by Title XIII of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA) of 1993.

Background on Empowerment Zone and Enterprise Community Program—(EZ/EC)

The Empowerment Zone and Enterprise Community program is a critical element of the Administration's community revitalization strategy. The program is the first step in rebuilding communities in America's poverty-stricken inner cities and rural heartlands. It is designed to empower people and communities by inspiring Americans to work together to create jobs and opportunity.

The Departments of Agriculture (USDA) and Housing and Urban Development (HUD) have designated empowerment zones and enterprise communities, which are communities located within the cities and counties listed in the appendix.

The Empowerment Zones and Enterprise Communities were designated based on locally-developed strategic plans that comprehensively address how the community will link economic development with education and training, as well as how community development, public safety, human services, and environmental initiatives together will support sustainable communities. Designated areas will receive Federal grant funds and substantial tax benefits and will have access to other Federal programs. (For additional information on the Urban EZ/EC program contact HUD at 1-800-998-9999 and for the rural EZ/EC program contact USDA at 1-800-645-4712.)

The Department of Education is supporting the Empowerment Zone and Enterprise Community initiative in a variety of ways. It is encouraging zones to use funds they already receive from Department of Education programs (including Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, the Adult Education Act, and the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Act) to support the comprehensive vision of their strategic plans. In addition, the Department of Education is giving preference to EZ/ECs in a number of discretionary programs that are well suited for inclusion in a comprehensive approach to economic and community development.

The Empowerment Zone initiative and the Elementary School Mathematics and Science Equipment Program share some common features. Both programs address the educational needs of students in communities and schools with limited resources. The Elementary School Mathematics and Science Equipment Program is specifically designed to assist schools which are most seriously lacking mathematics and science equipment, and which serve large numbers or percentages of economically disadvantaged students.

Note: This notice of final priority does not solicit applications. A notice inviting applications under this competition is published in a separate notice in this issue of the Federal Register.

Absolute Priority: Under 34 CFR 75.105(c)(3) the Secretary gives an absolute preference to applicants that meet the following priority. The Secretary funds under this competition only applications that meet this absolute priority:

Projects that serve schools in an Empowerment Zone or Enterprise Community and are designed to—

(1) Purchase and provide equipment for hands-on instruction in mathematics and science for elementary schools which—

(A) Are most seriously underequipped; or

(B) Serve large numbers or percentages of economically disadvantaged students, or underrepresented groups in mathematics and science, or both; and

(2) Demonstrate how instructional strategies that use hands-on mathematics and science equipment will assist students to work toward the achievement of challenging student performance standards.

Limitations on Use of Funds: Funds provided through grants under this competition shall be used to purchase science equipment, science materials, or mathematical manipulative materials for elementary schools and shall not be used for computers, computer peripherals, software, textbooks, staff development costs, or for capital improvements.

For the purpose of this competition, the word "equipment" includes supplies and materials that would not be considered equipment under the definitions in the Education Department General Administrative Regulations (EDGAR) at 34 CFR Sections 74.2, 74.34, 80.3, and 80.32. For example, equipment purchased under this competition could include low-cost manipulatives that students and teachers would use for hands-on instruction in mathematics and science.

However, if a grantee uses some of the funds received under this competition to purchase equipment as defined at 34 CFR Sections 74.2 or 80.3, that is, tangible, nonexpendable, personal property with a useful life of more than one year, and a cost of $5,000 or more per unit, the EDGAR regulations regarding equipment apply. Thus, the grantee would have to manage and dispose of the equipment consistent with the requirements at § 74.34 or § 80.32.

Waiver of Proposed Rulemaking: In accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 553), it is the practice of the Department of Education to offer interested parties the opportunity to comment on proposed priorities that are not taken directly from statute. Ordinarily, this practice would have applied to the priorities for this program. However, the Secretary waives rulemaking on these rules under section 553(b)(B) of the Administrative Procedure Act. This section provides that rulemaking is not required when the agency for good cause finds that notice and public procedure are impracticable, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest. Final Congressional action, directing the Secretary to use FY 1996 funds to carry out the activities specified in these rules, did not occur until April 26, 1996. The Secretary believes that, in order to make timely grant awards using Fiscal Year (FY) 1996 funds, public comment on these rules is impracticable.

Furthermore, these priorities, as well as the restrictions on the use of funds, are drawn in large part from the statute authorizing the Elementary Mathematics and Science Equipment Program (20 U.S.C. 6971). Congress, in its report accompanying the appropriation of funds for Fiscal Year 1996, directed the Department to use the appropriated funds for activities similar to those authorized under the Elementary Mathematics and Science Equipment Program.

Intergovernmental Review

This program is subject to the requirements of Executive Order 12372 and the regulations in 34 CFR Part 79. The objective of the Executive order is to foster an intergovernmental partnership and a strengthened federalism by relying on processes developed by State and local governments for coordination and review of proposed Federal financial assistance.

In accordance with the order, this document is intended to provide early notification of the Department's specific plans and actions for this program.

Program Authority: 20 U.S.C. 8001.

Dated: June 18, 1996.

Sharon P. Robinson,
Assistant Secretary for Research and Improvement.
