

programs in place at U.S. futures exchanges for monitoring broker associations, including, among other things, membership, registration and trading activity. The purpose of the review is to examine exchange broker association programs for compliance with Sections 4j(d) (1) and (2) and 5a(a)(13) of the Commodity Exchange Act, Commission Regulations 156.1 through 156.3 and exchange rules and procedures. During the information gathering phase of the review, Commission staff intends to interview exchange compliance staff and exchange members and will consider written comment from all interested persons.

Any person interested in submitting written data, views or arguments on the subject of broker associations should send such comments to Jean A. Webb, Secretary, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, Three Lafayette Centre, 1155 21st St., NW., Washington, DC 20581 by the specified date.

Issued in Washington, DC, on December 12, 1996 by the Commission.
Jean A. Webb,
Secretary of the Commission.

CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

Privacy Act of 1974, Announcement of System of Records

AGENCY: Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Announcement of system of records.

DATES: The system of records will become effective on January 28, 1997, unless comments are received which require a contrary determination.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to the Office of the Secretary,

Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Joseph F. Rosenthal, Office of the General Counsel, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, DC 20207, Telephone (301) 504-0980.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Consumer Product Safety Commission is publishing notice of a system of records for incident reports submitted to the Commission.

The Commission's statutory responsibilities include "to collect, investigate, analyze, and disseminate injury data, and information relating to the causes and prevention of death, injury, and illness associated with consumer products." (15 U.S.C. 2054(a)(1)). In carrying out these responsibilities, the Commission encourages the public to report injuries, deaths, and suspected hazards associated with consumer products and to make inquiries about such matters. Incident reports and queries are submitted to the Commission's Hotline by toll free telephone calls. Submitters are encouraged to supply their names, addresses, and telephone numbers and that of victims, if different, but need not do so. The Commission may use this personal information to contact the submitter or the victim to verify the information submitted, to request additional information about the reported incident, to help determine the cause of injuries and deaths associated with consumer products, or to respond to follow-up questions from submitters about Commission actions taken.

The volume of incident reports and their complexity makes it necessary to store these reports as a system of records in a computer database. Access to the database is limited to selected Commission staff with a need to know, and requires two separate passwords.

The Chairman of the Committee on Governmental Affairs of the Senate, the Chairman of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight of the House of Representatives, and the Office of Management and Budget have been notified of this system.

Dated: December 12, 1996.

Todd A. Stevenson,
Deputy Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission.
