The ICR describes the nature of the information collection and its expected burden and cost; where appropriate, it includes the actual data collection instrument.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Lead-Based Paint Abatement and Repair Maintenance Study in Baltimore (EPA ICR No. 1603.03, OMB Control No. 2070–0123) expiring 1/31/97. This is a request for an extension of a currently approved collection.

Abstract: The EPA is sponsoring a study of private households in Baltimore, Maryland to investigate lead-based paint abatement practices. Low-cost practical repair and maintenance approaches to the problem of lead-based paint and lead-contaminated dust in U.S. Housing will also be examined. From each study household EPA is periodically collecting both environmental and biological samples as well as questionnaire data over a three-year period. EPA is collecting samples of interior surface dust, exterior soil, and drinking water from study dwellings for lead analysis, as well as collecting blood for lead analysis from children living in such dwellings. A structured questionnaire is being used to collect relevant data on occupational, behavioral, and housing characteristics that can influence lead exposure.

EPA will use this study to evaluate low-cost lead abatement strategies. The study findings will be used by the Department of Housing and Urban Development’s (HUD) Low-Price Lead Abatement Program. The final report will be used directly by state and local agencies, private property owners, and managers of public and Indian housing agencies, private property owners, and managers of public and Indian housing to decide on cost-effective methods of addressing lead poisoning and lead abatement concerns.

An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.
