

(4) Significant components of other assets including claims on nonrelated parties, and other liabilities to nonrelated parties,

(5) And the number of full-time equivalent employees at each U.S. branch. These new items would conform with items proposed or previously added to the commercial bank Reports of Condition and Income (Call Report) (FFIEC 031-034; OMB No. 7100-0036). Other changes include revising the instructions for the reporting of "when-issued securities" and for "firm commitments to sell residential mortgage loans." Clarifications or other conforming changes would also be made to several other instructions. The Board did not receive any letters of comment in response to the notice published in the Federal Register requesting comment on the proposed revisions to the FFIEC 002 for 1997. However, the agencies did receive a comment letter in response to a proposed instructional change related to the reporting of "when-issued securities" commitments on the Call Report. The commenter observed that the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) defined the term "derivative financial instrument" in its June 1996 exposure draft of the proposed accounting standard "Accounting for Derivative and Similar Financial Instruments and for Hedging Activities" as a financial instrument that generally does not require the holder or writer of the instrument to own or deliver the underlying. This commenter felt it would be confusing to report when-issued securities as derivatives in Schedule RC-L if they are not reported as such for other financial reporting purposes. The Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council decided that institutions that do not include "when-issued securities" commitments as part of their disclosures about derivatives for other financial reporting purposes would be permitted to report commitments to sell "when-issued securities" as "other off-balance sheet assets" and commitments to purchase "when-issued securities" as "other off-balance sheet liabilities" in Schedule RC-L. For purposes of consistency, the agencies also will provide this option in the FFIEC 002 instructions.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, February 10, 1997.

William W. Wiles,

Secretary of the Board.
