Approval and Promulgation of Air Quality Implementation Plans; District of Columbia; Interim Final Determination for Approval of the District of Columbia New Source Review Submittal

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Interim final rule.

SUMMARY: Elsewhere in today's Federal Register, EPA has published a proposed rule to approve the District of Columbia submittal of its New Source Review program requirements into the State Implementation Plan (SIP). Based on the proposed approval, EPA is making an interim final determination by this action that the District has corrected the deficiencies for which a sanctions clock began on March 24, 1995. This action will stay the application of the offset sanction which was imposed October 24, 1996 and defer the application of the highway sanction to be imposed effective May 24, 1997. Although this action is effective upon publication, EPA will take comment on this interim final determination as well as EPA's proposed approval of the State's submittal. After consideration of comments received on EPA's proposed approval and this interim final action EPA will publish a final rulemaking notice.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:I. Background

On October 22, 1993, the District submitted a New Source Review regulation as a revision to the State Implementation Plan (SIP). The submittal did not meet the applicable statutory and regulatory requirements of the Clean Air Act, including sections 171, 172, 173, 182, 187, and 189. On March 24, 1995, EPA published a disapproval of the submittal in the Federal Register. Pursuant to section 179 of the Clean Air Act, this disapproval requires the imposition of sanctions in two phases unless and until deficiencies are corrected. Phase I sanctions require the imposition of 2:1 emission offsets for construction of new sources or major modification to existing sources, commencing 18 months after the effective date of disapproval. The emission offset sanctions were imposed on October 24, 1996. Phase II sanctions require the withholding of federal highway funds for all new highway projects in the District, commencing 24 months after the effective date of the disapproval. The required date for imposition of Phase II sanctions is May 24, 1997.

On May 2, 1997, the District submitted a complete SIP submittal which corrects the deficiencies of the New Source Review program. In the Proposed Rules section of today's Federal Register, EPA has proposed full approval of the District of Columbia's submittal of its New Source Review program.
