

revealed that a customer of the subject firm increased import purchases of rear wheel drive manual transmissions while purchases from the subject firm remained constant.

Conclusion

After careful consideration of the new facts obtained on reopening, it is concluded that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with rear drive manual transmissions produced by the subject firm contributed importantly to the decline in sales and to the total or partial separation of workers of the subject firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Act of 1974, I make the following revised determination:

All workers of Borg Warner Automotive, Muncie, Indiana who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 11, 1995, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 23rd day of May 1997.

Hasbro Manufacturing Services, Easley, South Carolina; Amended Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2273) the Department of Labor issued a Certification of Eligibility to Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance on March 11, 1997, applicable to all workers of Hasbro Manufacturing Services located in Easley, South Carolina. The notice was published in the Federal Register on March 31, 1997 (62 FR 15199).

At the request of the State agency, the Department reviewed the certification for workers of the subject firm. The workers were engaged in employment related to the production of toys, games, infant clothing and bibs. The workers producing toys and games at the Easley location had prior TAA eligibility under TA-W-30,676F, which expired January 31, 1997; the workers producing infant clothing and bibs were not covered. The current worker certification, to include all workers of Hasbro Manufacturing Services, Easley, South Carolina established an impact date of February 1, 1997. New information shows that worker separations of those producing infant clothing and bibs at the Easley production facility began prior to February 1, 1997. Therefore, the Department is amending the certification to change the impact date for the workers producing infant clothing and bibs to February 7, 1996, one year prior to the date of the petition for TA-W-33,194C.

The intent of the Department's certification is to include all workers of the subject firm who were adversely affected by increased imports.

The amended notice applicable to TA-W-33,194C is hereby issued as follows:

All workers of Hasbro Manufacturing Services, Easley, South Carolina, engaged in employment related to the production of toys and games, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after February 1, 1997; and all workers of Hasbro Manufacturing Services, Easley, South Carolina, engaged in employment related to the production of infant clothing and bibs, who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after February 7, 1996, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974.
