

Bernardino Mountains, San Bernardino County, California. Each species occurs on Federal, State, and private lands. Sidalcea pedata is a several stemmed perennial 2–4 decimeters tall and Thelypodium stenopetalum is a simple-stemmed biennial 3–8 decimeters tall. The plant species occur as components in moist to wet montane meadow habitat associated with swales, drainages and the shores of Big Bear and Baldwin Lakes. Although commercial and residential development is considered the primary threat to the two species, changes in surface hydrology, recreational activities and livestock grazing also threaten these species. Protection and management of the species' habitat are the primary goals of the recovery effort.

Public Comments Solicited

The Service solicits written comments on the recovery plan described. All significant comments received by the date specified above will be considered prior to the approval of the plan.

Authority

The authority for this action is section 4(f) of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1533(f)).
