FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

Notice of Public Information Collection(s) Submitted to OMB for Review and Approval

August 19, 1997.

SUMMARY: The Federal Communications Commission, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork burden invites the general public and other Federal agencies to take this opportunity to comment on the following information collection(s), as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, Pub. L. 104-13. An agency may not conduct or sponsor a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid control number. No person shall be subject to any penalty for failing to comply with a collection of information subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act (PRA) that does not display a valid control number. Comments are requested concerning (a) whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the functions of the Commission, including whether the information shall have practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the Commission's burden estimate; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on the respondents, including the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

OMB Approval Number: 3060-0544.

Title: Section 76.701, Commercial Leased Access Channels.

Type of Review: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Business or other for-profit.

Number of Respondents: 100.

Estimated Time Per Response: 8 hours per response (avg.).

Cost to Respondents: N/A.

Total Annual Burden: 800 hours.

Needs and Uses: On May 7, 1997, the Commission released Memorandum Opinion and Order (MO&O), FCC 97-156, in MM Docket No. 92-258, to conform the Commission's rules pertaining to indecency and obscenity on leased access and Public, Educational and Government (PEG) channels to the Supreme Court's decision in Denver Area Educational Telecommunications Consortium, Inc. v. FCC. In that decision, the Supreme Court found that the PEG access channel provision permitting the refusal to transmit indecency and the leased access channel provision requiring segregation and blocking were unconstitutional. The Commission's MO&O in this matter adopts rule changes responsive to the Supreme Court's decision.

Particularly, the rule changes adopted in the MO&O modify Sections 76.701 and 76.702 of the Commission's rules. The only information collection requirement remaining in these rule sections is contained in Section 76.701(a), which continues to state that a cable operator may adopt and enforce prospectively a written and published policy of prohibiting programming which, it reasonably believes, describes or depicts sexual or excretory activities or organs in a patently offensive manner as measured by contemporary community standards. Permitting cable operators to adopt policies regarding offensive programming gives operators alternatives to banning broadcasts; for example, by adopting policies to rearrange broadcast times so as to accommodate adult audiences while lessening the risks of harm to children.

Federal Communications Commission.

William F. Caton,

Acting Secretary.
