

provision of the Delaware General Corporation Law requiring disclosure of certain information where a governor, director, or officer has a financial interest in a contract or transaction entered into by the Phlx. Pursuant to this provision, if appropriate disclosure is made, the contract entered into by the Phlx is not void or voidable solely by reason of the financial interest. The Exchange also has amended its by-laws to clarify when governors must be disqualified from participation in Board actions. Whereas previously governors were prohibited from participating in the "adjudication" of any matters in which they were personally interested, the applicable by-law now uses the term "determination." The use of this term is intended to broaden the universe of matters from which a governor could potentially be disqualified. While these amendments represent a first step in the clarification of the Exchange's conflict of interest rules, the Commission expects that the Exchange will further amend its by-laws to add more specific provisions that contain clear and detailed recusal, disclosure, and conflict of interest procedures for Board and committee members.

The Commission understands that the Phlx is formulating various orientation and educational materials, as well as a code of conduct, in order to brief persons who serve the Exchange in any official capacity, including governors, committee members, officers, employees, agents, members, member organizations, and persons affiliated with a member or member organization. The code of conduct reiterates the principles of business conduct which the Phlx expects to be maintained and followed, with the core principles being that the Exchange should conduct every aspect of its business in a fair and lawful manner, and that the Exchange should maintain a climate which encourages the fair and lawful conduct of business. These principles include the conduct of business in accordance with the federal securities laws and other applicable rules and regulations, the proper use of confidential information, disclosure of information and recusal from decision making, where appropriate, and provision of information to the Exchange where such information is reasonably requested.

The Commission supports the Phlx's strengthening of orientation and education materials in order that these persons better understand their mission, duties, and appropriate standards of conduct. The Commission understands that the Phlx is considering amending its by-laws to include compliance with the code of conduct, which at this time is merely an Exchange policy. The Commission encourages the Phlx to submit such an amendment in order to formally reflect the important principles contained in the code of conduct, and looks forward to reviewing such an amendment.

Finally, The Commission approves the amendment of the by-laws and Certificate of Incorporation to include indemnification provisions, and supports the Exchange's goal of attracting qualified candidates for the Phlx Board of Governors through the inclusion of such provisions. The Commission also approves all non-substantive by-law changes made for the sake of organization and accuracy.

IV. Conclusion

It Is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act,²² that the proposed rule change (SR-PHLX-97-31) is approved.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.²³
