Endangered Species; Permits

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Receipt of applications for modifications to incidental take permits 901 and 902.

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given that the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife at Olympia, WA (WDFW) has applied in due form for modifications to permits that would provide authorization for incidental takes of an endangered anadromous fish species.

DATES: Written comments or requests for a public hearing on either of these applications must be received on or before November 14, 1997.

ADDRESSES: The applications and related documents are available for review in the following offices, by appointment:

Office of Protected Resources, F/PR3, NMFS, 1315 East-West Highway, Silver Spring, MD 20910-3226 (301-713-1401); and Protected Resources Division, F/NWO3, 525 NE Oregon Street, Suite 500, Portland, OR 97232-4169 (503-230-5400).

Written comments or requests for a public hearing should be submitted to the Chief, Protected Resources Division in Portland, OR.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: WDFW requests modifications to permits under the authority of section 10 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (ESA) (16 U.S.C. 1531-1543) and the NMFS regulations governing ESA-listed fish and wildlife permits (50 CFR parts 217-227).

Permits 901 and 902 authorize WDFW incidental takes of endangered Snake River sockeye salmon (Oncorhynchus nerka); threatened, naturally-produced and artificially-propagated, Snake River spring/summer chinook salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha); and threatened Snake River fall chinook salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha) associated with numerous non-listed fish hatchery complexes and educational projects throughout the state of WA. These artificial propagation projects may result in incidental takes of ESA-listed species from ecological and/or genetic interactions and from hatchery operations. Impacts on ESA-listed juvenile fish may include competition for food and habitat, disease transmission, predation by non-listed hatchery fish, and an increased vulnerability to predation by other predators. Non-listed, hatchery-produced fish may also impact the ESA-listed species through interbreeding, which could result in a loss of genetic variability in the ESA-listed fish populations.

The modifications of permits 901 and 902 are required to authorize the incidental takes of endangered upper Columbia River steelhead trout (Oncorhynchus mykiss) and threatened Snake River steelhead trout (Oncorhynchus mykiss) associated with: 1) the operation of non-listed fish hatchery facilities and educational programs in the Columbia River Basin, 2) the on-station releases or transfers of non-listed fish produced from those facilities, and 3) the operation of tributary smolt traps in the Columbia River Basin for non-listed fish hatchery program research and evaluation purposes. WDFW has submitted revised conservation plans in the permit modification applications that specify steps proposed to be taken to monitor, minimize, and mitigate impacts to ESA-listed fish. In the permit modification applications, WDFW included descriptions of incidental takes of lower Columbia River steelhead trout (Oncorhynchus mykiss) in anticipation of a possible listing determination of this Evolutionarily Significant Unit by NMFS in 1998. The modifications to permits 901 and 902 are requested to be valid for the duration of the permits. Permits 901 and 902 both expire on December 31, 1998.

Those individuals requesting a hearing (see ADDRESSES) should set out the specific reasons why a hearing on either of these applications would be appropriate. The holding of such hearing is at the discretion of the Assistant Administrator for Fisheries, NOAA. All statements and opinions contained in these application summaries are those of the applicant and do not necessarily reflect the views of NMFS.
