SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The present inventions generally relate to the field of artificial neural networks. More specifically, these patents and patent application describe a dynamically stable associative learning neural network. Included in their basic architectural units are, at least one each of a conditioned signal input, an unconditioned signal input, and an output. Interposed between input and output elements are "patches," or storage areas of the dynamic interaction between conditioned and unconditioned signals. These signals process information to achieve associative learning locally under rules designed for application-related goals of the system. Patches may be fixed or variable in size. The neural network is taught by successive application of training sets of input signals to the input terminals until dynamic equilibriums are reached. This technology is useful in pattern classification and completion, robotics, and control applications.
