

prescription or veterinary feed directive antimicrobial drugs.

The PFL concept has been a topic of discussion for many years. Recent workshops on PFL were held in April and December 1995 under the cosponsorship of the Center for Veterinary Medicine, the American Academy of Veterinary Pharmacology and Therapeutics, the Animal Health Institute, and the American Veterinary Medical Association.

A summary of the discussions and opinions expressed in the April, 1995 workshop were published in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association (JAVMA), October 1, 1995. At the conclusion of the December, 1995 workshop, a task force prepared a report on the PFL concept. The task force report, which included a model drug label, was published in the JAVMA on July 1, 1996.

This draft guidance is intended to describe how the PFL concept can be applied to prescription antimicrobial products to enable veterinary practitioners to apply their expertise to appropriately, effectively, and safely use antimicrobials for specific clinical cases. The draft document provides specific guidance for drug sponsors on the development of PFL labeling for therapeutic veterinary prescription antimicrobial drugs. Ultimately, the labeling of products such as described in this draft guidance will better accommodate the needs of veterinary practitioners in utilizing animal drugs to treat animals in the course of their professional practices.

Approaches to PFL may not be equally applicable to all classes of therapeutic prescription products (e.g., antimicrobials, antiparasitics, physiologics). Therefore, CVM intends to develop PFL guidances that are specific to the various classes of drugs. This draft guidance document specifically addresses the application of the PFL concept to prescription therapeutic antimicrobial products.

A sponsor may follow the guidance provided in this draft document, or a sponsor may choose to follow alternate procedures or practices. If a sponsor elects to use alternate procedures or practices, that sponsor may wish to discuss the matter a priori with the agency to prevent an expenditure of money and effort on activities that may later be determined to be unacceptable to FDA.

This draft document represents current FDA thinking on PFL for antimicrobial drugs. This draft guidance document does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public. An alternate approach may be used if such an approach satisfies the requirements of the applicable statute, regulations, or both. FDA may amend this draft guidance document based upon comments submitted by interested persons.

Request for Comments

Interested persons may, on or before April 22, 1998, submit to the Dockets Management Branch (address above) written comments on the draft guidance document. Two copies of any comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document, and with the full title of the guidance document.

The draft guidance and received comments may be seen in the office above between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. An electronic version of this guidance is available on the Internet at <http://www.fda.gov>. After review of these comments, FDA will finalize the guidance document with any appropriate changes. Thereafter, interested persons may submit written comment on the guidance document directly to the CVM Communications Staff (address above).

Dated: January 14, 1998.

William K. Hubbard,
Associate Commissioner for Policy
Coordination.

Agency Information Collection Activities: Proposed Collection; Comment Request

In compliance with the requirement of section 3506(c)(2)(A) of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), Department of Health and Human Services, is publishing the following summary of proposed collections for public comment. Interested persons are invited to send comments regarding the burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including any of the following subjects: (1) The necessity and utility of the proposed information collection for the proper performance of the agency's functions; (2) the accuracy of the estimated burden; (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (4) the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology to minimize the information collection burden.

Type of Information Collection Request: New Collection; Title of Information Collection: Evaluation of Medicare Choices Demonstration; Form No.: HCFA-R-226; Use: The objective of the evaluation of the Medicare Choices Demonstration is to determine whether the newer types of managed care delivery systems in the demonstration are effective at attracting and retaining Medicare enrollees and providing a high quality, cost-effective care. The key research questions HCFA will ask Medicare enrollees include: (A) Beneficiary choice, knowledge, and biased selection. Why do beneficiaries enroll (or not enroll) in plans? What proportion of enrollees disenroll, and why? What is the nature and extent of biased selection in the demonstration, and does it vary across plans? How well do enrollees understand their plans and the rules and procedures for obtaining care? (B) Effects on service use. What are the effects of the plans on the use of Medicare-covered services? Are some plans more effective at controlling service use than others? (C) Effects on Medicare costs. What are the effects of the various payment methods being tested in the demonstration on Medicare costs? (D) Effects on satisfaction, access, and quality. What are the effects of the plans on enrollee satisfaction, access to care, and quality of care? How does this vary across plans? Frequency: one time; Affected Public: Individuals or Households; Number of Respondents: 10,000; Total Annual Responses: 10,000; Total Annual Hours: 3,880.

To obtain copies of the supporting statement for the proposed paperwork collections referenced above, access HCFA's WEB SITE ADDRESS at <http://www.hcfa.gov/regs/prdact95.htm>, or to obtain the supporting statement and any related forms, E-mail your request, including your address and phone number, to Paperwork@hcfa.gov, or call the Reports Clearance Office on (410) 786-1326. Written comments and recommendations for the proposed information collections must be mailed within 60 days of this notice directly to the HCFA Paperwork Clearance Officer designated at the following address: HCFA, Office of Information Services, Information Technology Investment Management Group, Division of HCFA Enterprise Standards, Attention: John Rudolph, Room C2-26-17, 7500 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, Maryland 21244-1850.
