which was published in the Federal Register on January 13, 1998 (63 FR 1936). The comment period for the proposed rule expires on March 16, 1998. The proposed rule would clarify the responsibilities of oil and gas lessees for protecting Federal oil and gas resources from drainage by operations on nearby lands that would result in lower royalties to the Federal government. It would specify when the obligations of the lessee or operating rights owner to protect against drainage begin and end and specify what steps should be taken to determine if drainage is occurring. It also would clarify the obligation of the assignor and assignee for drainage obligations, well abandonment and environmental remediation when BLM approves an assignment of record title or operating rights. In response to requests from the public, BLM extends the comment period to May 15, 1998.

DATES: Submit comments by May 15, 1998.

ADDRESSES: You may submit your comments by any one of several methods. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Statutory Authority

These proposed regulatory changes are made under the authority granted to the Secretary by section 1102 of the Social Security Act (the Act). Section 1102 of the Act requires the Secretary to publish regulations that may be necessary for the efficient administration of the functions for which she is responsible under the Act. In accordance with the Presidential directive of March 4, 1995 to executive branch regulatory agencies to identify existing regulations that are redundant or obsolete, OCSE has examined Part 300 of Title 45, Code of Federal Regulations to evaluate those areas where regulations should be revised and/or removed. Accordingly, we are revising and removing existing regulations concerning criteria to close child support enforcement cases.

Background

The Child Support Enforcement program was established under Title IV-D by the Social Services Amendments of 1974, for the purpose of establishing paternity and child support obligations, and enforcing support owed by noncustodial parents. At the request of the States, OCSE originally promulgated regulations in 1989 which established criteria for States to follow in determining whether and how to close child support cases. In the final Program Standards regulations dated August 4, 1989, we gave examples of appropriate instances in which to close cases. In the Supplementary Information accompanying the final regulations, we stated that the goal of the case closure regulations was not to mandate that cases be closed, but rather to clarify conditions under which cases may be closed. The regulations allowed States to close cases that were not likely to result in any collection in the near future and to concentrate their efforts on the cases that presented a likelihood of collection.

In an effort to be responsive to the President's Memorandum of March 4, 1995 which announced a government-wide Regulatory Reinvention Initiative to reduce or eliminate burdens on States, other governmental agencies or the private sector, and in compliance with section 204 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995, Public Law 104-4, OCSE formed a regulation reinvention workgroup to exchange views, information and advice with respect to the review of existing regulations in order to eliminate or revise those regulations that are outdated, unduly burdensome, or unproductive. This group is made up of representatives of Federal, State and local government elected officials and their staffs.

As part of the regulation reinvention effort, § 303.11 on case closure criteria was reviewed to determine what
