

advance sales estimates 9 days after the end of the data month in a press release called "Advance Monthly Retail Sales Report." Without these early estimates, the next available measure of retail sales is the "preliminary" estimate released about 40 days after the data month.

The Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA), the Council of Economic Advisors, and other government agencies and businesses use the data to formulate economic policy and make decisions. These estimates have a high BEA priority because of their timeliness. Other users of the advance sales estimates include the Council of Economic Advisors, Bureau of Economic Analysis, Federal Reserve Board, other government agencies, and businesses.

We are increasing the sample size from 3,363 to 4,100 to improve the quality of the data.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

The Census Bureau plans to conduct the 1999 New York City Housing and Vacancy Survey (NYCHVS) under contract for the City of New York. The primary purpose of the survey is to measure the rental vacancy rate which is the primary factor in determining the continuation of rent control regulations. Other survey information is used by city and state agencies for planning purposes as well as the private sector for business decisions. The laws of New York require such a survey to be conducted every three years.

Information to be collected includes: Age, gender, race, hispanic origin, and relationship of all household members; employment status, education level, and income for persons aged 15 & above; owner/renter status (tenure) for all households, amount of rent paid, as well as kitchen and bathroom facilities availability, maintenance deficiencies, neighborhood suitability, and specific questions about each unit such as number of rooms and bedrooms. The survey also poses a number of items relating to handicapped accessibility. Finally, a shorter series of similar questions are asked for any units that are vacant. Note that all vacant units and approximately five percent of occupied units will be reinterviewed for quality assurance purposes.
