

Secretary's responsibility to assure receipt of fair market value, increases the post sale tract evaluation workload on MMS, precludes other companies from acquiring and possibly exploring the tract for many years, and fails to result in expeditious development.

Given this mix of policy concerns regarding deep water leasing issues, the ASLM believes that a workshop held with industry at the half-way point of the new lease provision is desirable. This workshop will review, among other factors, the state of knowledge about deep water exploration and production profitability today in comparison with what was anticipated at the time the suspension volumes were developed. In particular, industry and MMS will participate in a series of presentations addressing the following issues:

- General economic parameters (e.g., well rates, average finding and other costs, production times, rates of return) in the GOM; and
- Technological developments (e.g., seismic acquisition and processing, production facility design, subsea completions).

Moreover, through these presentations, the ASLM is seeking information that will allow him to answer the following questions:

- To what extent has section 304 of the DWRRA contributed to the increased bidding activity observed for the last five lease sales?
- What refinements, if any, should be made in lease terms and conditions for the remainder of the 5-year new lease provision?
- At the end of the five year authorization period for section 304, should MMS continue to offer leases with royalty suspensions and why—or why not? If yes, should the terms of the suspension (period, volume or value) or other financial terms be modified at that time?
- To what extent, if any, is option bidding occurring on deep water tracts?
- If some option bidding is occurring, is it having a beneficial or adverse impact on the Secretary's ability to assure a fair return to the public for its resources, on energy markets, and on the national economy?
- With respect to leasing in the deep water of the GOM, to what extent, if any, should MMS modify its lease terms to assure a fair return to the public for its resources and to lessen any adverse impacts that option bidding may be having on the economy?
- How does the deep water of the GOM currently compare in the global market to other areas, both offshore and onshore, with respect to its attractiveness for investment?

Additional Information

1. An agenda of scheduled workshop presentations and times will be available through the Minerals Management Service on the MMS homepage approximately 1 week before the workshop.

2. The next Western Gulf of Mexico sale, Lease Sale 171, scheduled for August 26, 1998, in New Orleans, will not be affected in any way by the workshop.

Dated: June 3, 1998.

Bob Armstrong,

Assistant Secretary, Land and Minerals Management.

BILLING CODE 4310-70-P

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Office of the Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights; Certification of the State of Florida Accessibility Code for Building Construction Under the Americans With Disabilities Act

AGENCY: Department of Justice.

ACTION: Notice of certification.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice has certified that the Florida Americans with Disabilities Accessibility Implementation Act, Florida Statutes §§ 553.501-553.514, as implemented by the Florida Accessibility Code for Building Construction, meets or exceeds the new construction and alterations requirements of title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). DATES: June 9, 1998.

ADDRESSES: Inquiries may be addressed to: John L. Wodatch, Chief, Disability Rights Section, Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice, P.O. Box 66738, Washington, DC 20035-6738.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John L. Wodatch, Chief, Disability Rights Section, Civil Rights Division,

U.S. Department of Justice, P.O. Box 66738, Washington, DC 20035-6738. Telephone number (800) 514-0301 (Voice) or (800) 514-0383 (TDD).

Copies of this notice are available in formats accessible to individuals with vision impairments and may be obtained by calling (800) 514-0301 (Voice) or (800) 514-0383 (TDD).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:Background

The ADA authorizes the Department of Justice, upon application by a State or local government, to certify that a State or local law that establishes accessibility requirements meets or exceeds the minimum requirements of title III of the ADA for new construction and alterations. 42 U.S.C.

§ 12188(b)(1)(A)(ii); 28 CFR 36.601 et seq. Certification constitutes rebuttable evidence, in any ADA enforcement action, that a building constructed or altered in accordance with the certified code complies with the new construction and alterations requirements of title III of the ADA.

By letter dated February 2, 1994, the Florida Department of Community Affairs requested that the Department of Justice (Department) certify that the Florida Americans with Disabilities Accessibility Implementation Act, Florida Statutes §§ 553.501-553.514, as implemented by the Florida Accessibility Code for Building Construction (together, the "Florida law"), meets or exceeds the new construction and alterations requirements of title III of the ADA.

The Department analyzed the Florida law, and made a preliminary determination that it meets or exceeds the new construction and alterations requirements of title III of the ADA. By letter dated September 30, 1997, the Department notified the Florida Department of Community Affairs of its preliminary determination of equivalency.

On October 23, 1997, the Department published notices in the Federal Register announcing its preliminary determination of equivalency and requesting public comments thereon. The period for submission of written comments ended on December 22, 1997. In addition, the Department held public hearings in Orlando, Florida on December 19, 1997, and in Washington, DC on December 22, 1997.

Ten individuals submitted comments. The commenters included government officials, disability rights advocates, design professionals, and other interested individuals. The Department has analyzed all of the submitted comments and has consulted with the
