

individuals who obtained their licenses through SMR application preparation companies similar to the Receivership Companies, but did not hire one of the four companies that were the subject of the Goodman/Chan proceeding. In order to be granted this limited relief, these licensees must have originally been granted an eight-month construction period and must have a valid extension request on file with the Commission. See Goodman/Chan Recon Order, ¶ 60, nn.212-213.

All such transfer and assignment requests must be filed with the Commission within ninety days after the Goodman/Chan Order is published in the Federal Register. The temporary waiver of § 90.609(b) of the Commission's rules granted by the 800 MHz SMR Second Report and Order expired on June 8, 1998. 800 Mhz SMR Second Report and Order, 12 FCC Rcd. at 19096-19098, ¶¶ 40-44. All requests filed after June 8, 1998, but prior to the publication of the Goodman/Chan Order in the Federal Register, will, therefore, be dismissed as untimely. Only Goodman/Chan Receivership licensees and similarly situated licensees are eligible for the temporary relief provided for in the Goodman/Chan Recon Order and, therefore, only they may file or refile for this relief within ninety days after the Goodman/Chan Order is published in the Federal Register.

All such transfer and assignment requests must be accompanied by a public interest statement, pursuant to § 90.153 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR 90.153; see also 47 U.S.C. § 310(d), which should include, at a minimum, the following information: (1) a certification from the assignor that the assignor is either a Goodman/Chan Receivership licensee or a similarly situated licensee, including a brief description of facts supporting the assignor's claimed status; (2) a certification from the assignee that it is satisfied, based on its due diligence, that the assignor is either a Goodman/Chan Receivership licensee or a similarly situated licensee; and (3) a demonstration as to how the grant will either facilitate the relocation of incumbent licensees from the upper 200 channels to the lower band 800 Mhz SMR channels or facilitate geographic licensing of the lower channels themselves. Failure to make this showing will constitute a defective application and will result in dismissal of the application pursuant to § 90.161(b)(6) of the Commission's rules. 47 CFR 90.161(b)(6).
